It is an old saying that Satan finds some mischief for idle hands to do. What better means could he ask to corrupt the men of the future, than that afforded him by turning boys out at night into the streets of the cities and villages? Some such provision should be made as that afforded by a Boys' Club, for the little fellows whom all know are spending their evenings amid the temptations of the streets.

A Boys' Club, if managed by the right man or woman, and in the right way, is a great and grand institution. It is a night kindergarten for the boys of the street, and may be made a means of successfully resisting the almost overwhelming influence for evil that surrounds many a boy's life on the streets, and of lifting him into a life both honorable to himself and useful to the State. It should be in no sense a religious club—although it has much religion in it—for if religious services, so called, were held in connection with the work, Roman Catholics and Jews would have cause for complaint.

It is in every sense a social club, and as it should not be expected to open or close a children's party with religious exercises, so it should not be forced upon the street boys in their club.

Manual training is the street boys salvation. The indirect social and economic benefits derived from turning the attention of boys toward mechanical pursuits, and from the fostering of a higher appreciation of the value and dignity of labor, are of great importance. How many boys of thirteen want to go to work at a trade? Let them go, however, not where a trade is taught, but where they are taught to use tools, and what have they learned? They have learned to like tools and to want to be machinists or carpenters, and when they enter these fields they will become skilled mechanics.

This club is not a charitable institution entirely, but a preventive and educational institution—a social factor. It should command the support of every intelligent member of this community. It is from our street boys that the criminals of the future are to be manufactured. The Boys' Club will help many such boys to avoid evil and strive after noble things. It is a wise investment, financially, for any community. One hour's work may save the State several hundred dollars. What folly to neglect the child, and then labor with ten-fold effort in after years to reclaim him when thoroughly grounded in evil. Truly, "a stitch in time saves not nine," but ninety-nine.

Another meeting to consider this work in this city will be held at the Unitarian church, Second place, on Thursday evening, January 30, at 8 o'clock. At this meeting a committee chosen from all the churches, will report a plan of action.

Seniors on a Spree.

At the home of one of their number, Thursday evening, the boys of the Class of '90 of Stillman High School, laid aside the dignity of Seniors and made things lively with the aid of an old-fashioned candy pull. The candy could scarcely be called a success, but the "pull" was a "howling" one.

Among the many features of the evening was the fine rendering of music by Monsieur Hallock of New York city. Supper was served at 11:30 by Herrmann. At a late hour the company departed, giving as they dispersed the class yell:

Rah! Rah! Rah!
Orcum ad ite!
Hurrah for the class of Eighteen-ninety!

The members of the P. H. S. Senior class are: Walter R. Darby, Edmund P. Nischwitz, Asa F. Randolph, Alfred P White, Edward C. Petrie, Edward J. Patterson, Herman Simmonds, Jr., and W.W. Coriell.

Beautiful Sunrises.

These clear, cool days which we are now experiencing, are ushered in by most beautiful sunrises. Each morning, about 7 o'clock, when Old Sol first shows his light, the Eastern horizon is bedecked with clouds of all colors and shapes, brilliant and glittering, and presenting a beautiful picture, which, if transferred to canvass, would make the fortune of the artist.

Another Bowling League.

A meeting for the purpose of forming a bowling league—teams to consist of five men—will be held at Gale's club house, Westfield next Tuesday night. The following clubs have been invited to join: Olympics and Crescents, of Plainfield; Mondays and Nameless, of Westfield; Somersets, of Somerville; Fanwoods, of Fanwood, and the Elizabeth Athletics.

Another Protest in the Borough.

Prominent citizens of the borough of North Plainfield, have secured able counsel and propose to use all legal means to prevent the granting of a license to sell intoxicating liquors on the premises now occupied by James K. Arnold, at the corner of Somerset and Chatham streets, which premises have been sold.

SOMERVILLE BEATEN AGAIN.

The Olympics Get the Highest Team Record and Collier the Highest Score, of the Season.

The "Somersets" of Somerville, bowled a return game with the "Olympics" on the Olympia alleys, this city, last evening. The visitors were beaten from the start but made a plucky fight throughout. Some of the Somerset's best bowlers had the worst luck—"Harkins" getting nine bad breaks and a score of only 93, while Davey, Pocock and Smith should have done better, but couldn't.

The "Olympics," however, were in great shape. Their total of 29 strikes and 29 spares, has not been equalled by a Plainfield team. Collier's score of 220 is the highest ever rolled in a match game in the vicinity in many months.

Mr. Charles B. VanWinkle of the Crescent League, acted as umpire. The score was as follows:

"A CITY OF HOMES."

What a Memphis Magazine Publishes About Plainfield.

The Hon. James E. Martine, who has lived in this Crescent City longer than the majority of THE PRESS readers have lived in all their lives, in one of those broad minded, universally benevolent men who aims to do good to all mankind. Every opportunity of doing the whole city, or anyone of its people, a good turn, that he sees he seizes. Following is an article from his pen, in The Great South, a periodical published at Memphis.

Plainfield is most happily situated in the Southwest corner of Union county in the best part of New Jersey, within easy reach of the sea coast, and but twenty-four miles distant and a forty-five minute ride from New York City, via. the Central Railroad of New Jersey which is excelled in equipment by no railway in America, and whose NewYork terminus, equals in extent and finish any in the country; the road is ballasted by stone hence entire freedom from dust; the passenger stations along its route are surrounded with literal lawns laid out in the most tasteful landscape manner. Trip tickets to and from New York are sold at yearly commutation; beginning at the rate of thirteen cents per trip or in book form as desired.

We sometimes think that the name Plainfield is a misnomer, for instead of being a plain field, it is a beautiful diversified tract of land lying between the Blue Ridge on the north and west and the beautiful and historical Short Hills on the east—its fortunate and beautiful surroundings serve more than a rich back ground to the charming landscape—protected from the winters blasts on the north by the Blue Ridge and sheltered on the east from the sea line effects of ocean and coast, it has been fitly styled the "Colorado of the East," inasmuch as it represents especial advantages to a large class of people afflicted with throat and lung troubles. Its tonic atmosphere serving to rapidly invigorate the ailing and cure the sick..

The soil underlying this tract is a light loam resting upon a strata of porous gravel which may be readily traced by reference to the elaborate maps prepared by the State Geologist; this strata or "glacial drift," secures to this beautiful city entire freedom at all times of standing pools of water—and at the same time gives absolute dry cellars. The water drawn from this sub-strata through means of artesian wells is sparkling and pure and far famed for its excellence.

These fortunate freaks, so to speak, of nature, tend to reduce the death rate to a minimum, the vital statistics, compiled by the state authorities place Plainfield at the lowest loss per thousand of any city in the State. As a result of these many advantages the city's progress is large and rapid. Beautiful macadamized avenues radiate in every direction, lined with elegant villas and cosey homes; a drive or walk through the streets will convince one that the advantages of city and country are here most pleasantly and happily blended on every side. Elegant churches of every denomination to the number of sixteen, and liberal schools of both public and private present advantages that will be appreciated by the head of every household.

The business streets present a metropolitan aspect, being lined with elegant stores, which supply the householders' every want at New York prices. The marketmen and grocers calling at your house for orders and delivering your goods without additional cost.

The city has a population of sixteen thousand, and as its healthfulness becomes better known, it is taking on rapid growth. It is a most beautiful little city and none who visit us go away without expressing a desire to return for a permanent residence, as it it is emphatically a city of homes.

Some Notes Anent Next Tuesday's Play.

The costumes of the "Corsair" are perfectly sumptous—though some may think them abbreviated.

The programme says there is no "argument" to the "Corsair." There is no argument about it; it is the best burlesque ever produced in America.

Even the common ordinary male sailors in the "Corsair," wear silk trousers.

Julia Senac has a most symmetrical figure, which is one of the beauties of the "Corsair" ensemble.

The "Corsair" is like a child's toy store—there are lots of pretty things in it.

There is a mule fling, a whimsical bit of nonsense in the "Corsair," which is in the habit of getting four and five encores nightly.

There are fair girls and dark girls; there are tall girls and short girls; there are plump, rosy, piquant girls; and there are lithe, languid, willowy girls in the "Corsair." As a whole, they are a bevy of beauties. Rice never has any other kind in his companies.

In the matter of brilliancy of color, magnificence of costumes and effective and artistic groupings, Mr. Ed. E. Rice has never in all his managerial career equalled the production of the "Corsair," which will be given at Music Hall, Tuesday evening.

Hamburg Figs for the Liver.

Habitual torpidity of the liver, etc., are functional derangements which should not be so long neglected as to generate actual disease. HAMBURG FIGS should be taken, and the deranged organs restored to health. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

Proper Bible Wine.

Alfred Speer, who has large vineyards near Passaic, N. J., is extensively engaged in preserving Unfermented Grape Juice from the Oporto Grapes and supplies it to many religious societies for Communion purposes. The following is from Dr. John Ellis, who has written several works on Bible wine: "The writer obtained from Mr. Speer a bottle of his Unfermented Wine and found it a very pleasant and nutritious wine. A chemist put a portion of this wine into a retort and distilled and condensed about one-third of the contents of the retort. The distilled had neither the smell nor the taste of alcohol, nor did chemical tests indicate any trace of alcohol."

With Charming Elsie Leslie as the Star.

The production of Mark Twain's "Prince and Pauper," with Elsie Leslie, at the Broadway Theatre, has proved to be one of the chief theatrical events of the city. On the first night Mark Twain stated in his witty speech to the audience that this presentation was a fifteen year dream realized. The play is unique in every way.

All those familiar with Mark Twain's story know that it treats of "Tom Canty" as a pauper and little Prince Edward, son of Henry VIII. The pauper and prince meet, exchange clothes, and the story portrays in vivid and picturesque dramatic form the adversities of each. The pauper, resembling the prince, is compelled to accept the responsibilities of court life. The prince in his ragged pauper's garb is forced from the palace and meets with many misadventures. In the mean time the old king dies and the young prince becomes the king but still remains in rags. Miles Hendon, an adventurer, rescues the little king and returns him to the palace, making everyone happy again. Mr Frohman's company is admirable and the scenery is superb.

Next Time They'll Have Their Names Published.

(From the Westfield Standard.)

Chief of Police Carey of Plainfield arrested two Westfielders last Sunday for disorderly conduct. They were afterwards taken before City Judge Codington and fined $5 apiece for their fun. We certainly hope that Chief Carey will repeat this dose every time he gets a chance, for if our young men want to "dance" they should pay the fiddler.

The Difference.

This is "the Winter of our discontent,"
So have all others been the fates have sent.
To censorship our tendencies are fixed,
No matter how the elements are mixed,
But whether Providence permits us blows
Of calms, or sunny intervals or snows—
At Collier's 'twill your certain pleasure be
To meet with only what you'd like to see.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the brain material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.

MARVELOUS!

Dr. Estebrooke today extracted 10 teeth for my mother that she has suffered a great deal from, and which she would not let me touch. She says she felt no pain and is highly delighted with Dr. Estebrooke's method. In my seventeen years experience as a dentist, I have never seen anything equal to it, and so I cannot help endorsing what I know to be a good thing. Everybody come while the Doctor is here, which will be for this week only.

DR. CHAS. R. THIERS.

Saturday a lady from No. 38 Chatham street, was sent to my office by Dr. Long with locked jaws, caused by inflamed teeth. I was about taking her to New York, when I met Dr. Estebrooke. The patient could not take gas, ether or chloroform, but there was no necessity for it, as Dr. Estebrooke removed her teeth beautifully, and she claims without pain. Her jaws were so set that she could not open her mouth but ¾ of an inch. This was a grand operation, with which I must have been satisfied at the hands of a New York expert. I endorse Estebrooke's method heartily, and hope my friends will all profit by it while he is here.

FIREBUGS AT SEA

Mutinous Sailors Try to Burn a Ship.

THEY ARE BEHIND PRISON BARS.

Given a Hearing at Philadelphia and Remanded for Further Examination.

Growling About the Food Furnished on the Vessel—The Captain Bound Each Man Hand and Foot—A Torrent of Rain Saves the Vessel from Burning—The Cargo Badly Damaged.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24.—There was placed in the steel cell in the United States Marshal's office here ten sailors who had been taken from the American bark Jennie Harkness, which was docked at the foot of Bainbridge street after an exciting voyage from the Philippine Islands.

The Jennie Harkness hails from Camden, Me. On her outward voyage she sailed from Boston to Melbourne, and was chartered on her return to bring a cargo of sugar from Manilla Island to this port. While at anchor in the harbor of Manilla she was discovered to be on fire, and when Capt. Amesbury, the master of the vessel, was aroused he found a sheet of flame passing out of the main hatch and leaping as high as the main yard, and the only thing that could be done was to plug up the scuppers and let water in through holes in the sides of the ship. It was fortunately raining in torrents at the time, and this, together with the captain's energy, saved the ship. She had 1,116 tons of sugar in her lower hold which had not been put into bags. This is damaged considerably.

After the fire was extinguished an investigation showed that it had been started by saturating some old sugar mats with fish oil and setting fire to them between decks and on the starboard side amidships.

Captain Amesbury had noticed that some of his crew were inclined to be mutinous, and when the fire started he was satisfied that it was of incendiary origin and that he knew the men who were responsible. He waited until the vessel was again under way and then had them called into his cabin one by one. As each man entered he was bound hand and foot, and when the last had been served in that manner all the prisoners were placed in the hold.

At Cebu, another port in the Philippine Islands, word was sent on that the men were prisoners, but that a warrant for only two was needed, the others having been allowed to return to work.

The vessel arrived at the Delaware Breakwater yesterday, and Deputy United States Marshals Marshal and Myers, armed with a warrant for the arrest of two men, took the tug Kensington and steamed down the river, and when she anchored off Kaighn's Point she was boarded and all the suspected men were taken into custody and brought to this city.

They were arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Edmunds. Captain Amesbury related the story of the fire as given above, and two sailor boys testified to having heard Holston growl about the food furnished them previous to the fire. Holston, they said, had also been heard to say at Manilla that he would rather set the vessel on fire than sail in her. The prisoners were each held for a further hearing.

A Demand from Turkey.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Daily News avers that the Turkish Minister at Washington has been instructed by the Porte to demand that the American Government suspend the publication of the Armenian paper, the Sowrhantag, because of its persistent agitations for the autonomy of Armenia. The offending paper is published by American missionaries.

Jubilee Juggins at Liberty.

NICE, Jan. 25.—The report that Ernest Benson, known in England as "Jubilee Juggins," had been arrested here for forgery is not strictly true. He was confronted with his crime and nominally taken into custody, but his family having undertaken to arrange the matter to the satisfaction of the injured parties he is free.

Boulanger and Universal Suffrage.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Gen. Boulanger has sent a telegram to M. Paul Deroulede and his colleagues in the Chamber of Deputies, who led the recent revolts in that body when M. Jofferin attempted to speak, congratulating them upon showing themselves to be the real defenders of universal suffrage.

A French Deputy Kicked and Cuffed.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—M. Martineau, of the Chamber of Deputies, who seceded from the Boulangist party, entered a meeting of the Boulangists last night. He was immediately attacked, kicked, cuffed and spat upon and compelled to sign a resignation of his seat in the Chamber.

England Denounced.

LISBON, Jan. 25.—A large meeting of citizens was held here at which a number of speeches were delivered bitterly denouncing England and lauding France and Spain.

Three thousand of the leading citizens of this city called at the French and Spanish legations and left their cards.

Accident to the Queen of Greece.

ATHENS, Jan. 25.—The Queen of Greece was driving through the streets in an open carriage when an electric wire broke and fell, a portion of it winding about the Queen. Several officers sprang to her aid and quickly extricated her. Within a minute after the wire was removed the current was turned on.

A Rumor About Dr. Peters.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 25.—It is reported that Dr. Peters has arrived at Subaki.

THE G. A. R. IN THE SOUTH.

Trouble Caused Over Admitting Representatives of Colored Posts.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 25.—At the Departmental Encampment, G. A. R., held here, Charleston, Savannah, Macon, Alanta and Tallapoosa posts were represented.

Colored delegates from Beaufort and Savannah claimed admission as representing colored posts. The majority of the committee on credentials reported against and the minority in favor of admitting them. The minority report was adopted, 13 to 4, whereupon J. D. Crawford, commander, H. Burns, adjutant, and Philip Hieding, teller, representing E. S. Jones Post, No. 5, of Macon, withdrew from the encampment, under instructions from their posts.

The Augusta post gave a banquet to the encampment, to which the colored delegates were not invited. The majority report submitted favored the formation of a separate encampment for colored posts.

MR. RIDDLEBERGER DEAD.

Virginia's Ex-Senator Succumbs to Three Weeks.

WINCHESTER, Va., Jan. 25.—Ex-Senator Riddleberger died at his home in Woodstock. He had been confined to his room since the holidays. He was unconscious for three weeks except at intervals. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 p. m. The interment will be in Edinburg.

Sketch of His Career.

Mr. Riddleberger was born at Edinburg, Shenandoah County, Va., October 4, 1844. He had a common school education, and then studied with a tutor at home for two years. He was 17 years old when the war began and was for three years in the Confederate army as lieutenant of infantry and captain of cavalry. After the war he studied law and was admitted to the bar, beginning his practice at Woodstock, where his home was. For two years he was commonwealth attorney for his county. He served four years in the House of Delegates and for a similar period in the State Senate. He was a member of the Democratic State Committee until 1875, a presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1876, and on the Readjuster ticket in 1880. In 1883 he entered the United States Senate as a Readjuster, and his term of service ended in 1889. In the meantime he had several contentions with his colleague, General Mahone, and during the last campaign he opposed Mahone. Since 1879 he has been editor of three papers "The Tenth Legion," "The Shenandoah Democrat" and the "Virginian."

A $6,000,000 Failure.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A $6,000,000 failure in Buenos Ayres is reported in this city. Nothing definite could be learned, as the merchants engaged in trade with that country refused to say anything for publication until definite information was received. At the London and Brazilian bank here the rumor was not denied, but the officials would not disclose the names of the firms in this city who were directly interested. It was learned at some of the commission houses that if the rumor were true it would seriously affect some of the shipping houses in this city.

A Combine to Advance Prices.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 25.—At a meeting of spring bed and wire manufacturers held here, about twelve concerns in the larger cities of the Union agreed to enter a combine, of which the purpose is, as soon as a permanent organization is effected, to make a general advance in prices. The manufacturers confidently expect to get every concern in the country into the pool. C. L. Hurd of Oneida, N. Y., was made President and Mr. Fisherling of Pittsburg, Secretary. Another meeting will be held in four weeks in Chicago.

A Gloomy Outlook for Farmers.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 25.—The situation still looks gloomy for the farmers below this city, as the officers of the steamer City of Clarksville report another rise in Green River, it having risen sixteen inches during the night at Woodbury. The rise out of Green River will have the effect of holding the water up in the Ohio River below this point.

A Tragic Death.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Jessie Dean Reynolds, the actress, familiarly known on the stage as "Jessie Dean"—"pretty Jess Dean" most theatregoers called her—shot herself through the heart. Before the footlight she played comedy parts; she chose for her exit a tragic role, and she leaves a husband well-nigh heartbroken and a family smitten by the bitterest grief.

Harbored Suspected Murderers.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 25.—The police here received from Tarentum, Pa., the description of three men who recently murdered Mrs. Paul Rudert at that place. The officers say that three men who answer the descriptions in every particular slept in the station house last night and departed this morning. Officers are now in search of the men.

Picked Up by the Crew.

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 25.—The schooner J. C. Craig has arrived here bringing the crew of the schooner Fairfield of Winterport, from Orland to Boston with brick, which sank last night nine miles off Small Point. The crew took to the boats and were picked up by the Craig.

The House Committee Will Listen to the Contestants Next Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—It has been agreed among the Republican members of the House Committee on Elections, to endeavor to bring up the Smith-Jackson contested election case for debate in the House on Tuesday next.

At the meeting of the Committee during the morning it was the intention to discuss the case of Atkinson versus Pendleton, but this intention was not carried out because some of the members had not finished the reading of the Record.

On Tuesday of next week the hearing in the case of Mudd against Compton from the Fifth Maryland District will take place, and on Friday the case of Threet against Clarke from the First Alabama District will be investigated.

We are just introducing a new brand of Good Linen Paper called the "Cambridge Linen," at the same popular price—20c. per box.

To those of our friends who like a rough paper, we recommend this as a Special Bargain, and one that we intend to keep for them at all times.

SEEKING A MOTIVE

What Caused Lounsbery to End His Life?

SOME SAY DOMESTIC AFFAIRS

A Story That His Wife Was Addicted to Intoxicants.

A Minister Who Knew Him Well Says That He Was Insane and Heartbroken Over Disappointment in Not Receiving Promotion in the Postoffice That Was Promised Him.

HACKENSACK, N.J., Jan. 27.—In seeking for an explanation of why Cashier Lounsbery ended his life the close friends of the Lounsberys were expected to give some clue. Some persons who knew George H. Lounsbery in Hackensack still cling to the belief that he is not a defaulter. They are of the opinion that when the private safe compartment at the New York Postoffice is opened to-day a portion, at least, of the missing funds will be found.

Some others believe, however, that there was a dark domestic cloud on the cashier's life. The story is that the wife had an uncontrollable appetite for strong drink, and that liquor was also the bane of the husband's life, and finally drove him to suicide. Still others believe that disappointed ambition preyed on his mind, and some of the cashier's acquaintances seen yesterday declared that jealousy was the cause of it all.

In following out these theories, some evidence was found for two of them, but none at all for the third one. It is true that Mrs. Lounsbery indulged too much at one time in drink. So great was her passion for intoxicants that it nearly ruined her health and put her husband in fear of being obliged to place her in an inebriate asylum. Lounsberry loved his wife, and her failing almost broke his heart.

Mrs. Lounsbery first became addicted to intoxicants when she was on the stage, when she would take an occasional glass of wine. Dr. St. John says he believed she was entirely cured of the habit, although he cannot say whether or not she drank to excess before the suicide of her husband. He believes she did not.

Mrs. St. John says that late one night about nine months ago Mrs. Lounsberry called at her house under the influence of liquor. Since that time she believes she has not indulged in strong drink in the least.

The Rev. Mr. Holly, rector of the Episcopalian Church, did not believe domestic troubles caused Cashier Lounsberry to end his life. He said that he knew that Mr. Lounsbery was broken-hearted over failure to secure promotion promised him in the postoffice, and he believed that was the cause of his rash act.

Continuing the Rev. Mr. Holly said: "Mr. Lounsbery had been a sufferer from rheumatism and he was attacked with la grippe. I called on him and he was very weak and dispondent. That was a little over 10 days ago. I feared he would do some injury to himself and so condoled with him. He was not a a church man.

"Religion was no consolation when trouble came, and he did not have the moral stamina to stand up against adversity. When it was rumored that he was short in his accounts, his partner, Mr. Hoffman, called on him while he was still ill. Mr. Hoffman told him about the rumored defalcation, and the knowledge that he was accused of wrongdoing was perhaps the death blow. He must have become partially deranged, and while in that condition killed himself. I am of the opinion that after his accounts are thoroughly examined it will be shown that the deficiency is really a very small affair."

Mrs. Holly, the rector's wife, has been attentive in her care of Mrs. Lounsbery. She says there is no truth to the story that it was domestic troubles that caused the cashier to kill himself.

"Mrs. Lounsbery is in a very critical condition," said Mrs. Holly. "She is unconscious from grief, and opiates are administered to induce sleep, and I fear she may not live."

Proprietor Kouknight of the Hackensack house, where the Lounsberys at one time resided, said the rumored story that Mr. Lounsbery drank to excess while there was not true so far as he knew.

Ex-Postmaster-General James viewed the body of his friend and old-time employe during the afternoon. He was greatly affected.

"It is a great mystery to me," said General James. "I do not believe that it was monetary trouble that caused my friend to end his life, and I cannot imagine what it was. I think his accounts will be straightened out after an investigation of the secret safe compartment to-day."

Mr. Hoffman, the dead man's business partner, was at the Lounsbery residence for several hours yesterday. He had little additional news to give. He is of the opinion that some of the funds will be traced to-day.

Death of Alvin Burt.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Alvin Burt, a lawyer well-known in New York and Buffalo, is dead at his sister's home here of nervous prostration, at the age of 51 years. He lost his sight two years ago, and has been gradually failing since. He was a member of Tammany Hall, and had a large law practice in New York before his health broke down.

An Oil Strike at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 27.—For several months past an effort has been made to find natural gas, by boring, near this village. Yesterday, at a depth of 915 feet, petroleum was found in such quantities that it filled the bore to a depth of 500 feet.

TERRIBLE STORM IN COLORADO.

Great Destruction of Property and Loss of Life Reported.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 27.—The terrible storm which raged in Eastern Colorado for forty-eight hours has done almost incalculable damage. Reports from the divide country show it to be the worst storm in years.

Trains on the Santa Fe, Rio Grande & Fort Worth were moved Saturday only by gangs of section men clearing the sand which fills the cuts from the rails.

The path of the heaviest storm was down the mountains through Monument, Colorado Springs and Manitou. A telephone message from Monument early Sunday morning said that many buildings had been destroyed and citizens were moving from their houses and taking refuge in the brush.

The gale reached a hurricane at Manitou. Buildings are reported wrecked, and sidewalks lifted bodily and hurled through the air.

To add to the terror of the situation, fire broke out in the mountains between that point and Pike's Peak.

Fires are also reported on the mountains east of Pikes Peak. It is reported that the wind is unusually severe on Pikes Peak, and that at a railway grading camp half way up the mountain several men were killed by being blown over a precipice.

North of Denver the storm has devastated the country for miles, and at Louisville, the center of the storm, many dwellings were wrecked.

At Fort Collins the new college building was demolished and all trains were compelled to stop in sheltered places to avoid the storm.

A BLIZZARD IN IDAHO.

Railroads Again Blocked—The Howard Athenæum Company Still Snowbound.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 27.—Reports from Idaho last night are that the worst snow storm of the season has been raging since 2 o'clock Friday afternoon all through the Territory.

The Utah and Northern Railroad is completely blocked again and all rolling stock and motive power has been ordered side-tracked until the storm is over. The Central Pacific is also in worse condition than ever.

It is reported that the fast mail sidetracked at Shady Run for the past 10 days, on which the Howard Athenæum Company is, had been gotten out and that the company were on their way to Omaha to pick up their thread of engagements. The unfortunate train is still stuck fast and is not likely to get out for several days. Nothing can be learned as to the company's health or condition, but they must be in very unpleasant shape.

SHOT AT THE MINISTER.

Strange Actions of a Young Man in a Philadelphia Church.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan., 27.—During confirmation services at St. John's Episcopal Church, corner of St. John and Brown streets last evening the congregation was startled at the actions of an apparently demented young man who rose from his seat in the church and fired a shot from a revolver at Bishop Whitaker, who was in the pulpit.

Immediately there was great confusion, but it was quickly seen that no harm had resulted from the shot.

The young man, who gave his name as David Alexander, of No. 1330 Parrish street, was taken into custody. He told a rambling story of a letter he had received which had induced him to make the attempt to kill the venerable Bishop.

He was locked up pending an investigation of the matter.

Wales Getting Gouty.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The clubs of this city will miss, for the balance of the winter, the presence of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. He will go to Cannes for the benefit of his health. Without apparently suffering from any serious complaint, he looks puffy and worn out, and the relief from laying corner stones and opening "institutes" of various kinds will be very welcome to him. Cannes is a dull and decent place, and those who know the Prince smiled at reading the official announcement that he will go to Nice to see the fete of the flowers there. It may be taken for granted that he will go there many times and incidentally find himself on the famous four o'clock train, by which the dwellers at Nice go to Monte Carlo to tempt fortune on the green cloth. It is infinitely more respectable to stay at Nice or Cannes than at Monaco, and almost equally convenient.

Mrs. Parnell Again in Distress.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Jan. 27.—The sum of money recently given to Mrs. Parnell, mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, by her friends in America to enable her to meet the demands made upon her by her creditors, was insufficient, it is stated, and now she is again penniless.

Relief expected from certain quarters was not forthcoming, and she is again in need of the actual necessaries of life, but will not make another appeal to the public, as she feels that she has already received all that she can reasonably expect from that source.

Peter Jackson Arrives.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Among the passengers on board the steamship Adriatic, which arrived at Quarantine last night, was Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist who has come over to fight John L. Sullivan. He is accompanied by his trainer, Sam Fitzpatrick, and W. W. Naughton, the sporting editor of the San Francisco "Chronicle."

The Hanley-Gilmore Glove Contest.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Al. Smith, of New York, has consented to act as referee in the Hanley-Gilmore glove contest, at the Erie County Athletic Club on Wednesday evening next.

HIS REMAINS FOUND

Banker Ditman's Body Taken From the Schuylkill.

SWOLLEN AND DECOMPOSED.

Discovered Floating on the Surface Under the Pennsylvania Bridge.

His Watch, Diamonds and Money Intact. Either a Case of Accidental Death or Suicide. A Note Found on His Person Giving Instructions in Case He Met With a Sudden Death.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—The decomposed and swollen body of Banker Joseph G. Ditman, who has been missing since Dec. 11, was found floating in the Schuylkill yesterday under the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, which crosses the river at Filbert street.

When the news spread throughout the city an enormous crowd of people gathered on the banks of the stream and gazed with curiosity at the body as it floated in the water moored to a wharf.

The body was taken on board a police tug and a search of the clothing settled the question of identity.

The gold watch and diamond ring worn by Mr. Ditman when last seen alive were found, a small amount of money, some papers and a card which requested, in the event of accidental death, that the finder of his body notify James Pitcher, Secretary of the Mutual Accident Association, 320 Broadway, New York. The card indicated that deceased was insured for $5,000 in that association.

The body was taken to an undertakers by direction of the family, and after an autopsy is held the funeral services will take place.

Mr. Ditman, on the afternoon of Dec. 11, started out for his daily drive in Fairmont Park, and about dusk his deserted carriage was found in the park with the reins broken and other apparent indications of a runaway accident. Marks of carriage wheels on the bank of the Schuylkill led to the belief that Mr. Ditman was thrown from his carriage into the river.

For several weeks a large number of men were engaged in dragging the river, but all efforts to raise the body proved unavailing.

There were no marks of violence on the body when found, and whether Mr. Ditman's death was due to accident or suicide will probably never be known.

At the time of his disappearance Mr. Ditman was president of the Quaker City National Bank and a large shareholder in the Shaw Music Publishing Company.

RIOTING POLES.

Trouble Again Breaks Out in St. Alberta's Parish, Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The trouble in St. Alberta's parish broke out again yesterday.

Father Pawler, who was assigned to the church by Bishop Ryan, attempted to preach in the school-house, being unable to get into the church. The Poles, who are incensed at the removal of Father Klawiter, and who want a Polish priest appointed, mobbed the school-house and drove out the few members of the congregation who had ventured to follow Father Pawler in.

Two men were roughly handled, and a window was broken.

Want Pay for Their Elevators.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Otis Brothers, elevator builders, of this city, have brought suit before the Tribunal de Commerce de la Seine, in Paris, against Gustav Eiffel, designer of the celebrated Eiffel Tower, to recover a balance of $14,700, alleged to be still owing on the $50,000 contract, under which they were to furnish and deliver on the grounds of the Paris Exposition two elevators, which were to be run from the ground up to the second platform of the tower. Otis Brothers aver that under the contract they were simply to deliver the elevators in working condition, and Mr. Eiffel was to put them up, but the defendant objected to this simple delivery, and refuses to pay the balance on the ground that the elevators were not up and running when the Exposition opened its doors to the public.

George Gould Buys a Summer Home.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Jan. 27.—George Gould has purchased from ex-Congressman Cornell, Furlough Lake, in the Catskills, for $6,000. The grounds and lake consist of 600 acres, 35 of which are under water. It is considered one of the best trout fishing places in the mountains. Mr. Gould will erect a handsome summer residence, and have a railroad and telegraph line built from Arkville, the nearest station on the Ulster & Delaware Railroad.

The Controversy Settled.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 27.—Manager Sullivan of the Lowell Baseball Club has received from Secretary Byrne of the Board of Arbitration a blank form with instructions to fill out the application of the New England League for admission to the National agreement. This, Mr. Sullivan thinks, settles the controversy between the New England and Atlantic League in favor of them. Detroit's claim to Day's services will be contested by Lowell.

Fall River Workmen Unite.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 27.—Delegates representing the labor unions of printers, moulders, spinners, painters, freight handlers, longshoremen, carpenters, weavers, Knights of Labor and the Athletic club met Sunday and formed the Fall River Trades Council. It is on the plan of the Central Labor Unions of New York and Boston. Senator Howard was elected President.

Sons of Temperance Speak in Reform Hall.

There was a well attended and very interesting meeting in Reform Hall last evening. President Harper presided, George M. Angleman offered prayer, and the choir, under the leadership of Mr. King, with Miss Alice Smith as organist, discoursed attractive music.

After a few preliminary remarks by the President, he introduced in succession the speakers of the evening, who were all members of the Sons of Temperance and as follows:—Brother Macksfield of Elizabeth, and Brothers Ayres, Scribner and Angleman of Plainfield. They each in turn clearly and practically advocated the cause of total abstinence from the liquor evil, pointed out the blessed results of taking and keeping the pledge, detailed the workings of the Order of Sons of Temperance which was an outcome of the first popular crusade against liquor drinking in this country, the great Washingtonian movement of over half a century ago, and heartily seconded the project of harmonious action among all kindred organizations, thanking the Reform Club for having set the laudable example. The speakers were all listened to with marked attention. The pledge was offered and three young men came forward and signed it.

The Grand Jury Will Sit on the Coachman.

Coachman Spratt was brought before Judge Codington, this morning, and arraigned for running over Erwin Waters' little boy. As the testimony showed the horses were on a walk, the complaint was discharged so far as the city is concerned, as the ordinance only provides a penalty for "fast driving."

Chief Carey, however, had Spratt held to await the action of the Grand Jury, on a charge of assault. The accused's employer, Mr. Thomas of Union avenue, furnished the required bail. He protests his entire belief in his coachman's innocence, and intends to fight the case in the courts.

The story is that Spratt was turning the corner of Park avenue and Front streets, on a walk, when young Waters suddenly stepped off the curb in front of the horses and was knocked down by the carriage pole. Spratt claims he was looking out for a big furniture van that was crowding into his carriage, and consequently did not see the boy. He drove on towards the station with Mrs. Thomas in the carriage to meet her husband. Chief Carey followed and arrested him.

THE THIRD ATTEMPT.

Incendiaries Again Set Fire to Linke's Property and the Family Narrowly Escape With Their Lives.

About 2:30 o'clock this morning, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Linke were awakened by their little child, and discovered they were all being smothered to death by the smoke that filled their rooms on the second floor of their home on Somerset street. Mr. Linke found he could not get down the stairway—the heat of a fire below was so intense, and the smoke so dense. He helped his wife and child through a window on a shed, and then succeeded in wakening his man below who got a ladder and rescued them.

One of the neighbors who was aroused, hurried to the engine house and rang the borough alarm bell so loud and long that Chief Doane of this city was aroused. Over the brook, however, only Hiram K. Voorhees, Frank Schuck and Andrew Love, Sr., of this city's department, turned out. They ran the borough engine out of its house but could not pull it alone. Then they left it and hurried to the scene of the fire.

They deserve great credit for their efforts and success in putting out the fire. One of the lower windows was found open through which it is supposed some one crawled and after saturating the interior with kerosene, set it afire. Voorhees with a scuttle full of water, would jump into the blazing room with his mouth tightly closed, dashed the water on the flames and jump out again. After the fire was somewhat quenched, and a door could be forced open, the blazing furniture was thrown into the yard and the fire put out entirely.

Love then went back to the borough engine house and found one member of the company there. The latter said he had been around trying to wake up the members of the company, and to get horses. Love had him come to the scene of the fire and assure himself that it was entirely out.

SAD CASE OF WILLIAM S. BENTON.

What is Said to be a Hereditary Taint, Develops Itself in Him.

The sad story has at last become public of the serious affection of the brain that has come upon Wm. S. Benton, a well-known business man of this city, who lives on the Rahway road just over Short Hills. The attendant physician believes that the unfortunate man will never be entirely sane again, and advises his confinement in one of the institutions specially provided for such patients.

It is said that the taint of insanity is in the victim's family. He imagines now that he has extended and intricate business accounts to straighten out, and is being so pushed that he can't accomplish the work. About the middle of last month, Benton sold his market at the corner of Park avenue and Second street, to J. B. Hatfield. It had been even then noticed by those connected in business with him, that he had developed strange ways and made many unusual mistakes.

It is said he had not slept for some two weeks or more. The other night he fell on the floor of the kitchen in convulsions so violent that he broke some of the furniture; and in his unconsciousness of his acts, he tore the beard from one side of his face. He now seems to recognize those who are admitted to see him, but his mind is undoubtedly shattered.

OBITUARY.

Elizabeth Stelle Marsh.

After a long but painless illness, and a wasting away from consumption, the death occurred on Saturday evening at seven o'clock of Elizabeth Stelle, the wife of Ex-Councilman Francis E. Marsh. At five o'clock realizing that her end was near, Mrs. Marsh gathered those in the house around her bed and requested them to sing "Jesus Lover of My Soul." The bereaved husband who has been very ill since the beginning of the year, was just able to leave his bed and walk into the room to bid his wife a last farewell.

Mrs. Marsh was born April 5, 1854, and is a daughter of Daniel R. Stelle, of Jerseyville, Ill., who originally owned the "Stelle Farm" in North Plainfield which included what is now known as Washington Park. She leaves two daughters with their father on Earth, while she joins her two sons in Heaven.

The funeral services were held at the house, 125 Madison avenue, this afternoon at three o'clock, the Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., officiating. Interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery, to-morrow, upon the arrival of Mrs. Marsh's father from Illinois.

A Charitable Act.

Mr. Andrew McCardell, one of the Pond Tool Works employes performed a charitable act, on Saturday, by taking up a collection among the employes in the foundry amounting to $110, for the benefit of the widow and children of Patrick McCoy, a brother employee, who died on Friday, and whose funeral took place today. Mr. McCardell personally delivered the money to Mrs. McCoy, on Saturday evening.

Thought the House Was Unprotected.

Burglars attempted to enter the residence of Mrs. Penfield, at the corner of Park avenue and Seventh street, last night, about 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Penfield was awakened by their attempts to unlock the back door, and aroused her father, Mr. George Smock. The latter asked who was there, and the burglars surprised to find there was a man in the house, left with much commotion.

PROGRESS AT LAST.

The Soldiers Monument Committee Take Some Decisive Action.

There was a large attendance Saturday evening at the meeting of the Soldiers Monument committee. New designs were considered, and upon the request of other builders for time to submit their plans and estimates, the committee adjourned for two weeks.

After the next meeting no more designs will be received, and a sub-committee consisting of Gen'l Negley, Col. Tyler, J. Evarts Tracy, Esq., and comrades Olssen of Post 109, and Stewart of Post 73, will proceed with full power to decide upon a design for the monument and enter into a contract for its erection.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. S. A. Haines, of Netherwood, spoke at Hope chapel, last evening.

Mrs. Baker, of Brooklyn, New Jersey, is visiting her sister, Mrs. P. M. Demarest, of Craig place.

Freeholder Andrew M. Vanderbeek is recovering slowly but surely from his recent dangerous illness.

Mr. Frank Newman is home for a week's vacation from the Boston Institute of Technology where he is taking a three-years' course in architecture.

Master Fred Armstrong, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Armstrong, of North Plainfield, is so much better that he is able to be up and round his room again.

The venerable Wm. C. Ayres, one of Plainfield's oldest inhabitants, is very ill at his home on West Second street, of prostration of the entire nervous system. No one is allowed to see him.

The Rev. Marvin R. Vincent, formerly of the Church of the Covenant in New York city, and now a Professor in the Union Theological Seminary, preached in the pulpit of the Crescent avenue church, yesterday.

Mr. A. M. Frazee, of this city, who has himself traveled more miles than would take him twenty times round the World, greeted Nellie Bly with a shake of the hand and a hearty welcome when she landed in New York, Saturday.

A telegraph despatch from Denver, in another column, states that the train in which is the Howard Athenæum company with Mr. and Mrs. George Thatcher of this city, is still fast in a snow blockade and no news of the condition of the passengers can be obtained.

On the fourth page of this issue is published in full the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's last sermon in the old world. It was preached yesterday in Queenstown where the steamer, in which he is on his way home, stopped for the mails and many passengers went ashore.

The marriage was celebrated very quietly in the Madson avenue Baptist church, New York, Saturday, of Miss Jennie Clarkson, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Clarkson of this city, to Mr. Nicolas Geoffroy. Mr. and Mrs. Geoffroy will be at home, Tuesday evening, February 18, from eight until ten o'clock, at The Hamilton, Fifth avenue and 42d street, New York.

Probably the most beautiful of the women in the Corsair company that appears in Music Hall, to-morrow evening, is Estelle Clinton, and she is a charming actress also who has a future before her. She was originally in the Casino company, New York, on a large salary, but when Edward Rice wants a handsome woman in his cast he does not hesitate about the price.

Yesterday at Westbury, L. I., occurred the death of Edmund P. Rushmore, the only brother of the father of Dr. Edward Rushmore of this city, which brother died only two weeks ago. Mr. Edmund Rushmore was a frequent visitor in Plainfield, which he esteemed highly as a health resort. He was much prostrated by the recent death of his brother, and never rallied from its effects.

The condition of Assessor Isaac Brokaw, of the Borough, was deemed to be so critical, yesterday that Dr. Janeway of New York was wired for consultation. It was midnight before a reply was received in which he said that it was impossible for him to come to Plainfield before 7:30 this evening. The patient though still dangerously ill, was, however, so much better this morning that a consultation is not immediately deemed necessary. Inflamation of the bowels and liver, is the main trouble.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Richards—whose sudden departure for the South because of the former's ill health, was first told of in The Press—are now at Hampton, Va., where Mr. Richards' has a sister who has been for some years bound heart and hand in the glorious work of educating the negro at the institute of that place. Today Mr. and Mrs. Richards' will enjoy the tenth anniversary of their wedding day. During their absence, Mr. Richards' mother and sister of Litchfield, Conn, are at the parsonage here.

Encourage the Boys To-morrow Night.

Miss Allen had appeared in this city previously and the good impression made on the occasion of her first appearance was increased last evening.

Her entertainment is interesting not only because she is a handsome and vivacious young woman but because she took her quadruple part wonderfully well, in fact so well that though she is the only person on the stage she satisfies her audience more than some whole stock companies.—Rochester Democrat & Chronicle.

Miss Allen will appear at Reform Hall to-morrow, Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock. Proceeds for the Y. M. C. A. building fund. Encourage the boys and help the building. Admission 25 cents.

"EVOLUTION."

If it Becomes a Fad, 'Twill Die.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The last number of a local weekly contains a curiously incoherent piece which it is pleased to term "M'Cosh Redivivius," and no man will deny that such a title is in all respects very nice and striking The article—which is signed, "W. H. Morse, M. D., Westfield"—leads off with a twenty-four line quotation which may or may not have been intended to furnish a clue to the meaning of what followed. If it were so intended it fell short of its purpose as its last clause is alone sufficient to prove.

This last clause has it that obligations should be imposed upon gospel ministers and lay agencies "to preach the gospel to every creature." It furthermore advocates a "federation of all the Evangelical churches," which project, as everyone knows, is attractive for no other reason than its impossibility. The rest of the essay so far from following up this lead is a tirade supporting Evolution! A couple of books by Prof. Huxley and others are recommended as good reading; although some of them are admitted to be "unreligious." Just where the Evolution doctrine connects with the churches and the gospel, I fail to observe.

Personally, I should find no solace in the Evolution belief; but, of course, there are those so constituted that it pleases them to feel that they are the living heirs and descendents of a race of prehistoric apes. The ape is an animal for which I have never entertained the least admiration, and whose charms, many and alluring as they may be to those who cherish him as an ancestor, have never been revealed to me. The Evolution theory at the present moment stands in deadly peril of a downfall. Society seems to like it, and the instant it may become a social fad, farewell to it, so far as the generality of good citizens are concerned. Observe how Browning is ridiculed—and for no reason other than that he was suffered to become a social craze. Then look at Buddhism and Theosophy, neither any less reasonable than Evolution, and see how the majority of people pass them by with disgust, because they have been social fads. Let the Evolutionists and the Positivists keep their theories to themselves, and get all the amusement they can out of them, for the great World is going to get along in the belief that we are what we appear to be, and will take the revealed Word of God on faith, long before it will embrace the eccentricities of Huxley or Darwin.

CRITIQUE.

AMONG THE BI'S.

The Fair Grows Until it Has Spread Over Another Day.

At a special meeting of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, held on Saturday evening last, the committes having charge of the various booths for the fair, made reports as to how they were progressing. As the prospects for a mammoth fair, the like of which has never before been held in Plainfield, are very apparent, it was decided to open on Thursday evening instead of Friday. The dates are February 20, 21, and 22.

Mr. T. S. Burr, of gymnasium fame, and editor in chief of the almanac programme to be issued in connection with the fair, is pushing things. The members are united in the work and are all in earnest.

A committee consisting of Messrs Townsend Bushmore, A. L. C. Marsh and F. L. C. Martin, was appointed to co-operate with the committee recently appointed by the Chief Consul of the N. J., Division, L. A. W., to formulate plans for the Division meeting to be held in this city, on May 30 and 31.

After the adjournment of the meeting the evening was devoted to general sport. The committee for the evening was Messrs J. E. Erickson and J. Frank Martin, and they provided the members with a bounteous repast which the Bi boys know so well how to do justice to.

Plainfield Saloon Keepers Are Anxious.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

There are fifteen of the saloonkeepers in Plainfield awaiting the renewal of licenses, and they are on the anxious seat until the committee decide what it is going to do about them. Thirteen of the applicants are old saloonkeepers who kept their stores through a year of idleness following the election of a non-license council. There is no doubt that the present council will grant them licenses. The committtee is in favor of licenses, but is non-ccmmittal about extra restrictions or a limitation of the number of saloons. This makes the liquor men anxious.

Two of the applicants are new men William Schorb wants to open a saloon under the post office, and his petition will be strenuously opposed by the temperance organizations. J. H. Force, J. E. Beerbower, and J. B. Miller are applicants for hotel licenses. John Goff wants a license for a saloon on the Boulevard and is likely to be opposed by the liquor men as well as temperance people.

They Will Ask No Help from Outsiders.

The following is the "Nameless" team of Westfield, which will bowl the deciding game for the championship of the County at Elizabeth, this evening. They are all members of the club and residents of Westfield or Cranford:

Young, Moore, Marsh, Jackson, Howe, Hanford, Everitt, Alpers, Foster, Mac Quoid.

—The Street Commissioner is actually taken some of the mud off of Park avenue between the railroad and Front street.

THE BUBBLE BURST.

Collapse of the Randolph West Virginia Boom Company.

A decree of sale was entered Friday in the United States Circuit Court at Parkersburg, West Virginia, to sell the property of the Randolph West Virginia Boom Company, organized under the laws of West Virginia, by New York and New Jersey parties, who own 40,000 acres of the finest timber and mineral lands in the State.

This company was organized by M. A. Shaw of Crescent avenue, who drew into the scheme Messrs L. A. Rheume, Wm. J. Buttfield, Frank Lock, John Cathcart and others of this city and the Borough. Shaw was arrested in Washington recently and taken to New York for trial on criminal charges connected with the issuance of a large amount of stock in the company to Eastern parties. Harris Hoyt, of New York, who was connected with the concern, was also arrested in New York on a charge of perjury in swearing falsely as to his pecuniary circumstances as one of the bondsmen of the receiver.

The Spring Garden National Bank of Philadelphia, is connected with the suit, having purchased nearly 2,000,000 feet of lumber from the President, as it is now alleged, after he had been deposed. The Central Trust Company of New York, is also said to be connected with the suit. The sale will take place May 1. The land is valued at $1,000,000, and Shaw's victims here will probably now get their money back.

Hope Chapel Gospel Temperance Boys Brigade.

On Tuesday evening next, in Hope Chapel, between the hours of eight and nine o'clock, Mr. W. G. Gray will be glad to enroll boys who are members of the Sunday School, and who are desirous of forming a "Hope Chapel Gospel Temperance Boys Brigade."

Such was the announcement made by Mr. Squires, the Superintendent of Hope Chapel, at the opening of the school yesterday, and as this is one of the many efforts now being put forth on behalf of the boys of this city for their good, and which is claiming the attention of all the christian people of Plainfield, it is to be hoped that this object will meet with that success, appreval and support which it justly deserves.

The Constitution of this Brigade will appear in full in the columns of THE PRESS during the week.

Notes of the Railroad.

Henry Stein, of Mauch Chunk, Pa., who had been employed by the Central Railroad of New Jersey for quite a long while as freight brakeman, fell under his train at Whitehouse early Thursday morning and was cut to pieces. He was regarded as a very capable and reliable man.

The Central Railroad last Summer promoted several baggage men to be conductors on account of an increase of business. Most of these men were put back in the baggage car when the rush was over. Since the grip began cutting such a swath through the ranks of humanity a number of the boys were promoted to fill the places made vacant by grip stricken conductors who are still off duty. The probability is that they will now remain conductors.

To Enforce the Game Laws.

An organized effort will be made by the sportsmen of Middlesex county to protect the fish in the ponds in this vicinity. Pike and black bass, owing to recent warm weather, have begun to swim near the surface, and several gill-nets have made their appearance. These nets have done incalculable injury to game fishing in this part of the State, and have all but destroyed the sport.

It is the purpose of the fishermen to enter complaints against those who use gill nets in running streams, and compel the Fish Warden to prosecute the offenders. The game laws are now a dead letter, as far as their observance is concerned, and a conviction will have a beneficial effect in protecting the little game left in the woodlands, hereabouts.

—The cornice and front ornaments on the new Hand building on West Second Street, were designed by Mr. Jacob Rounsaville.

Young Men Will Enjoy It.

Mr. Arthur Lucas of Jersey City, a young man of pleasing address and especially gifted for Evangelistic work will conduct the Young Mens meeting at the Y. M. C. A to-night.

Those who remember the warm, earnest words of Mr. Lucas at the Opera House some two years ago, will want to hear him again. Subject: "The Gospel of the Grace of God"—Acts xx: 24. Every man is invited to be present and to join heartily in the singing.

—Don't miss the entertainment at Reform Hall, to-morrow night.

To Protect Fish in Ponds.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 27.—An organized effort will be made by the sportsmen of Middlesex County to protect the fish in the ponds. Pike and black bass, owing to the recent warm weather, have begun to swim near the surface, and several gill-nets have made their appearance. These nets have done incalculable injury to game fishing in this part of the State, and have all but destroyed the sport.

DR. ESTEBROOKE'S TRIBUTE.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 23, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. B. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

ON HIS WAY HOME.

DR. TALMAGE'S LAST SERMON IN THE OLD WORLD.

Delivered at Queenstown, Ireland—"What Is in a Name?"—The Music of Two Syllables—The Word "Jesus" Fits the Tongue in Every Dialect.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 26.—While the steamer Aurania, from Liverpool, was lying in this harbor a few hours today waiting for the mails, many of the passengers went ashore. The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., was among the number, and took advantage of the opportunity to preach. His subject was "What Is in a Name?" and his text, Philippians ii, 9: "A name which is above every name." The eminent preacher said:

On my way from the Holy Land, and while I wait for the steamer to resume her voyage to America, I preach to you from this text, which was one of Paul's rapturous and enthusiastic descriptions of the name of Jesus. By common proverb we have come to believe that there is nothing in a name, and so parents sometimes present their children for baptism regardless of the title given them, and not thinking that that particular title will be either a hindrance or a help. Strange mistake. You have no right to give to your child a name that is lacking either in euphony or in moral meaning. It is a sin for you to call your child Jehoiakim or Tiglath-Pileser. Because you yourself may have an exasperating name is no reason why you should give it to those who come after you. But how often we have seen some name, filled with jargon, rattling down from generation to generation, simply because some one a long while ago happened to be afflicted with it. Institutions and enterprises have sometimes without sufficient deliberation taken their nomenclature. Mighty destinies have been decided by the significance of a name. There are men who all their life long toil and tussle to get over the influence of some unfortunate name. While we may, through right behavior and Christian demeanor, outlive the fact that we were baptized by the name of a despot, or an infidel, or a cheat, how much better it would have been if we all could have started life without any such incumbrance. When I find the apostle, in my text and in other parts of his writing, breaking out in ascriptions of admiration in regard to the name of Jesus, I want to inquire what are some of the characteristics of that appellation. And O that the Saviour himself, while I speak, might fill me with his own presence, for we never can tell to others that which we have not ourselves felt.

First, this name of Jesus is an easy name. Sometimes we are introduced to people whose name is so long and unpronounceable that we have sharply to listen, and to hear the name given to us two or three times, before we venture to speak it. But within the first two years the little child clasps its hands, and looks up, and says "Jesus." Can it be, amid all the families represented here today, there is one household where the little ones speak of "father," and "mother," and "brother," and "sister," and not of "the name which is above every name?" Sometimes we forget the titles of our very best friends, and we have to pause and think before we can recall the name. But can you imagine any freak of intellect in which you could forget the Saviour's designation? That word "Jesus" seems to fit the tongue in every dialect. When the voice in old age gets feeble and tremulous, and indistinct, still this regal word has potent utterance.

Jesus, I love Thy charming name,
'Tis music to my ear;
Fain would I sound it out so loud
That heaven and earth might hear.

Still further, I remark it is a beautiful name. You have noticed that it is impossible to dissociate a name from the person who has the name. So there are names that are to me repulsive—I do not want to hear them at all—while those very names are attractive to you. Why the difference? It is because I happen to know persons by those names who are cross, and sour, and snappish, and queer, while the persons you used to know by those names were pleasant and attractive. As we cannot dissociate a name from the person who holds the name, that consideration makes Christ's name so unspeakably beautiful. No sooner is it pronounced in your presence than you think of Bethlehem, and Gethsemane, and Golgotha, and you see the loving face, and hear the tender voice, and feel the gentle touch. You see Jesus, the one who, though banqueting with heavenly hierarchs, came down to breakfast on the fish that rough men had just hauled out of Genessaret; Jesus, the one who, though the clouds are the dust of his feet, walked footsore on to the road to Emmaus. Just as soon as that name is pronounced in your presence you think of how the shining one gave back the centurion's daughter, and how he helped the blind man to the sunlight, and how he made the cripple's crutches useless, and how he looked down into the babe's laughing eyes, and, as the little one struggled to go to him, flung out his arms around it and impressed a loving kiss on its brow, and said: "Of such is the kingdom of heaven." Beautiful name—Jesus! It stands for love, for patience, for kindness, for forbearance, for self sacrifice, for magnanimity. It is aromatic with all odors and accordant with all harmonies. Sometimes I see that name, and the letters seem to be made out of tears, and then again they look like gleaming crowns. Sometimes they seem to me as though twisted out of the straw on which he lay, and then as though built out of the thrones on which his people shall reign. Sometimes I sound that word "Jesus," and I hear coming through the two syllables the sigh of Gethsemane and the groan of Calvary; and again I sound it, and it is all a-ripple with gladness and a-ring with hosanna. Take all the glories of book bindery and put them around the page where that name is printed. On Christmas morning wreathe it on the wall.

Let it drip from harp's string and thunder out in organ's diapason. Sound it often, sound it well, until every star shall seem to shine it, and every flower shall seem to breathe it, and mountain and sea, and day and night, and earth and heaven acclaim in full chant: "Blessed be his glorious name forever. The name that is above every name."

Jesus, the name high over all,
In heaven and earth and sky.

To the repenting soul, to the exhausted invalid, to the Sunday school girl, to the snow white octogenarian, it is beautiful. The old man comes in from a long walk, and tremblingly opens the doors, and hangs his hat on the old nail, and sets his cane in the usual corner, and lies down on a couch, and says to his children and grandchildren: "My dears, I am going to leave you." They say: "Why, where are you going, grandfather?" "I am going to Jesus." And so the old man faints away into heaven. The little child comes in from play and throws herself on your lap, and says: "Mamma, I am so sick, I am so sick." And you put her to bed, and the fever is worse and worse, until in some midnight she looks up into your face and says: "Mamma, kiss me good-by, I am going away from you." And you say: "My dear, where are you going to?" And she says: "I am going to Jesus." And the red cheek which you thought was the mark of the fever, only turns out to be the carnation bloom of heaven! Oh, yes; it is a sweet name spoken by the lips of childhood, spoken by the old man.

Still further: it is a mighty name. Rothschild is a potent name in the commercial world, Cuvier in the scientific world, Irving a powerful name in the literary world, Washington an influential name in the political world, Wellington a mighty name in the military world; but tell me any name in all the earth so potent to awe, and lift, and thrill, and rouse, and agitate, and bless, as this name of Jesus. That one word unhorsed Saul, and flung Newton on his face on ship's deck, and today holds 400,000,000 of the race with omnipotent spell. That name in England today means more than Victoria; in Germany, means more than Emperor William; in France, means more than Carnot; in Italy, means more than Humbert of the present, or Garibaldi of the past. I have seen a man bound hand and foot in sin, satan his hard task master, in a bondage from which no human power could deliver him, and yet at the pronunciation of that one word he dashed down his chains and marched out forever free. I have seen a man overwhelmed with disaster, the last hope fled, the last light gone out; that name pronounced in his hearing, the sea dropped, the clouds scattered, and a sunburst of eternal gladness poured into his soul. I have seen a man hardened in infidelity, defiant of God, full of scoff and jeer, jocose of the judgment, reckless of an unending eternity, at the mere pronunciation of that name blanch, and cower, and quake, and pray, and sob, and groan, and believe, and rejoice. O it is a mighty name! At its utterance the last wall of sin will fall, the last temple of superstition crumble, the last juggernaut of cruelty crash to pieces. That name will first make all the earth tremble, and then it will make all the nations sing. It is to be the password at every gate of honor, the insignia on every flag, the battle shout in every conflict. All the millions of the earth are to know it. The red horse of carnage seen in apocalyptic vision, and the black horse of death, are to fall back on their haunches, and the white horse of victory will go forth, mounted by him who hath the moon under his feet, and the stars of heaven for his tiara. Other dominions seem to be giving out; this seems to be enlarging. Spain has had to give up much of its dominion. Austria has been wonderfully depleted in power. France had to surrender some of her favorite provinces. Most of the thrones of the world are being lowered, and most of the sceptres of the world are being shortened; but every Bible printed, every tract distributed, every Sunday school class taught, every school founded, every church established, is extending the power of Christ's name. That name has already been spoken under the Chinese wall, and in Siberian snow castle, in Brazilian grove and in eastern pagoda. That name is to swallow up all other names. That crown is to cover up all other crowns. That empire is to absorb all other dominations.

All crimes shall cease, and ancient frauds shall fail,
Returning justice lift aloft her scale;
Peace o'er the world her olive wand extend,
And white robed innocence from heaven descend.

Still further: it is an enduring name. You clamber over the fence of the graveyard and pull aside the weeds, and you see the faded inscription on the tombstone. That was the name of a man who once ruled all that town. The mightiest names of the world have either perished or are perishing. Gregory VI, Sancho of Spain, Conrad I of Germany, Richard I of England, Louis XVI of France, Catharine of Russia—mighty names once, that made the world tremble; but now, none so poor as to do them reverence, and to the great mass of the people they mean absolutely nothing; they never heard of them. But the name of Christ is to endure forever. It will be perpetuated in art, for there will be other Bellinis to depict the Madonna; there will be other Ghirlandjos to represent Christ's baptism; there will be other Bronzinos to show us Christ visiting the spirits in prison; other Giottos to appall our sight with the crucifixion. The name will be preserved in song, for there will be other Alexander Popes to write the "Messiah," other Dr. Youngs to portray his triumph, other Cowpers to sing his love. It will be preserved in costly and magnificent architecture, for Protestantism as well as Catholicism is yet to have its St. Marks and its St. Peters. That name will be preserved in the literature of the world, for already it is embalmed in the best books, and there will be other Dr. Paleys to write the "Evidences of Christianity," and other Richard Baxters to describe the Saviour's coming to judgment. But above all, and more than all, that name will be embalmed in the memory of all the good of earth and all the great ones of heaven. Will the delivered bondman of earth ever forget who freed him? Will the blind man of earth forget who gave him sight? Will the outcast of earth forget who brought him home? No! No!

To destroy the memory of that name of Christ, you would have to burn up all the Bibles and all the churches on earth, and then in a spirit of universal arson go through the gate of heaven, and put a torch to the temples and the towers and the palaces, and after all that city was wrapped in awful conflagration, and the citizens came out and gazed on the ruin—even then, they would hear that name in the thunder of falling tower and the crash of crumbling wall, and see it inwrought in the flying banners of flame, and the redeemed of the Lord on high would be happy yet and cry out: "Let the palaces and the temples burn, we have Jesus left!" "Blessed be his glorious name for ever and ever. The name that is above every name."

Have you ever made up your mind by what name you will call Christ when you meet him in heaven? You know he has many names. Will you call him Jesus, or the Annointed One, or the Messiah, or will you take some of the symbolical names which on earth you learned from your Bible?

Wandering some day in the garden of God on high, the place a-bloom with eternal springtide, infinite luxuriance of rose, and lily, and amaranth, you may look up into his face and say: "My Lord, thou art the rose of Sharon and the lily of the valley."

Some day, as a soul comes up from earth to takes its place in the firmament, and shine as a star for ever and ever, and the luster of a useful life shall beam forth tremulous and beautiful, you may look up into the face of Christ and say: "My Lord, thou art a brighter star—the morning star—a star forever."

Wandering some day amid the fountains of life that toss in the sunlight and fall in crash of pearl and amethyst in golden and crystaline urn, and you wander up the round banked river to where it first tingles its silver on the rock, and out of the chalices of love you drink to honor and everlasting joy, you may look up into the face of Christ and say: "My Lord, thou art the fountain of living water."

Some day, wandering amid the lambs and sheep in the heavenly pastures, feeding by the rock, rejoicing in the presence of him who brought you out of the wolfish wilderness to the sheepfold above, you may look up into his loving and watchful eye and say: "My Lord, thou art the shepherd of the everlasting hills."

But there is another name you may select. I will imagine that heaven is done. Every throne has its king. Every harp has its harper. Heaven has gathered up everything that is worth having. The treasures of the whole universe have poured into it. The song full. The ranks full. The mansions full. Heaven full. The sun shall set afire with splendor the domes of the temples, and burnish the golden streets into a blaze, and be reflected back from the solid pearl of the twelve gates, and it shall be noon in heaven, noon on the river, noon on the hills, noon in all the valleys—high noon. Then the soul may look up, gradually accustoming itself to the vision, shading the eyes as from the almost insufferable splendor of the noonday light, until the vision can endure it, then crying out: "Thou art the sun that never sets!"

At this point I am staggered with the thought that notwithstanding all the charm in the name of Jesus, and the fact that it is so easy a name, and so beautiful a name, and so potent a name, and so enduring a name, there are people who find no charm in those two syllables. O come this day and see whether there is anything in Jesus. I challenge those of you who are farther from God to come at the close of this service and test with me whether God is good, and Christ is gracious, and the Holy Spirit is omnipotent. I challenge you to come and kneel down with me at the altar of mercy. I will kneel on one side of the altar and you kneel on the other side of it, and neither of us will rise up until our sins are forgiven, and we ascribe, in the words of the text, all honor to the name of Jesus—you pronouncing it, I pronouncing it—the name that is above every name.

His worth if all the nations knew,
Sure the whole earth would love him too.

O that God today, by the power of his holy spirit, would roll over you a vision of that blessed Christ, and you would begin to weep and pray and believe and rejoice. You have heard of the warrior who went out to fight against Christ. He knew he was in the wrong, and while waging the war against the kingdom of Christ, an arrow struck him and he fell. It pierced him in the heart, and lying there, his face to the sun, his life blood running away, he caught a handful of the blood that was rushing out in his right hand, and held it up before the sun and cried out: "O Jesus, thou hast conquered!" And if today the arrow of God's spirit piercing your soul, you felt the truth of what I have been trying to proclaim, you would surrender now and forever to the Lord who bought you. Glorious name! I know not whether you will accept it or not; but I will tell you one thing here and now, in the presence of angels and men, I take him to be my Lord, my God, my pardon, my peace, my life, my joy, my salvation, my heaven! "Blessed be his glorious name forever. The name that is above every name." "Hallelujah! unto him that sitteth upon the throne and unto the lamb for ever and ever. Amen and amen and amen."

The Old Folks.

I am keeping a complete file of that department, and have done so ever since it commenced. Among others who are doing the same thing is a gentleman in London—Savel by name—who frequently writes for evidence to confirm or more correctly disprove the statements of your correspondents. He is responsible for an elaborate argument that the biblical limit of three score years and ten is seldom exceeded by more than twenty years, and that the centenarian is a myth. When Montefiore celebrated the centennial of his birth, Savel saved his theory by ringing in the old chestnut about exceptions proving rules, and every time he gets confirmation of an American centenarian he comforts himself and and his friends by criticising the American system of registering births.

But the English papers give particulars of a very remarkable case nearer his home. A Yorkshire lady named Bildershaw was reported to be 106 years old, and Savel lost no time in going to Yorkshire to "dispel the illusion." For two weeks he conscientiously hunted up local records and church registers of christenings. In his report he says: "There can be no doubt this venerable lady was born on oak apple day, 1783. I found her hale and hearty, but opposed to talking to me, because some one told her I was a doctor, and she expects to die from the effects of medicine. I found her only surviving son, who is over 80, several grandchildren nearly 50, great-grandchildren as old as 35, and at least three of her great-great-grandchildren are attending the village school." Such testimony from such a skeptic is very gratifying to old people like myself.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Just How to Cut a Justice's Gown.

The supreme court is a place of traditions and precedents, and even the cut and make of the gowns of the justices are so well defined by custom that there is but little scope left for the individual taste of the owner.

An authority on this subject says that the gown is made of wide straight widths. At the bottom it is three yards and a quarter wide, and it comes down to the ankles. The gown has a narrow hem around the bottom and a broad one straight down the front. At the top it is gauged to a yoke, which is short on the shoulders and forms a deep scallop at the back. This yoke has a silk lining between the outside and the inner one of silk. The sleeves are a yard and a quarter wide and reach to the hands. The lining of the sleeves is formed by doubling the material at the bottom, turning it up on the inside, and placing it about a quarter of a yard above the bottom to a narrower silk lining, which nicely fits the justice's arm. The arrangement makes the lower part of each sleeve appear to be a wide, loose puff. The sleeves are gauged to a yoke on the shoulders with many rows of gauging, but not so many as at the back of the gown, where it is a quarter of a yard deep.

One woman has made these gowns for the last forty years, and she gets $100 for every one of them. They are made alike, the only difference being in the material, the chief justice wearing black Chinese satin, while his associates are robed in black silk. The chief justice always wears a new gown when he swears in a president. The new gown is always subject to a good deal of criticism by the older justices, and its fit is closely scanned. —Boston Herald.

The Crazy Quilt Craze.

Paris is afflicted with the crazy quilt craze, from which this country suffered a few years ago. A Paris paper says: "All the world has set itself 'crazy.' Having emptied their drawers and cabinets, despoiled the linings of their old dresses and their used up hats, they have addressed themselves to the dressmaker and the modiste: 'As little as you please; the more it will be little the more you will send, and the more you will render me happy,' and letters being sent to the different furnishers of the Rue de la Paix, they receive some days afterward little post packages filled with clippings of the latest creations." The French women tire of such a fad sooner than the fair Americans, and the craze will not afflict Paris long.

Faultless Gloves.

Mrs. Morton, wife of the vice president, who has the credit of being always the most perfectly gloved woman of any assembly, wears the mousquetaire, and says she never wears them above the elbow, as no device can save them from untidiness if they end anywhere on the upper arm. They are supplied to her by a Paris firm, are suede and very light tan in color. Mrs. Morton considers the most glorious toilet ruined if the gloves are not faultless in tone and fit.

REPUBLICANS ANGRY

Lisbon's Element Advocating an Alliance With America.

AROUSED BY SAGASTA'S SPEECH

He Declared that Spain Did Not Desire to Offend England.

Honored by the Czar—The Prince of Wales and the Liberals—Queen Victoria Suffering from Rheumatism—An Urgent Call for the Conservatives—Thirty Sailors Washed Overboard and Drowned.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The correspondent of the Standard at Lisbon says that the Republican element is aroused to furious anger and is strongly advocating an alliance with America.

This feeling is due to the publication of a report that Senor Sagasta declared in the Spanish Cortes that Spain did not desire to offend England for the sake of Portugal.

Queen Victoria's Rheumatism.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—It is said that the rheumatism from which Queen Victoria suffers has been of late very troublesome, and that the variations of climate this winter has made it more acute, so that the projected journey to Hamburg is regarded by her Majesty's advisers with great satisfaction. Regret has been expressed in a high quarter that the Queen is not advised to try the effect of a visit to Buxton or Bath. At the latter place great improvements have been carried out, but it is said that at both places there is no residence suitable for the retirement desired by the Queen; and it is also remarked that her Majesty generally derives benefit from the thorough change of scene involved in a visit to the Continent.

A Call to the Conservatives.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Marquis of Salisbury and Mr. Smith, leader of the House of Commons, have jointly signed an urgent call to Conservative members to be in their places on Feb. 11, as business of grave importance will be immediately submitted to Parliament.

Seeking Liberal Influence.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The invitation by the Prince of Wales to Mr. Henry Fowler, M. P., to visit him at Sandringham, is viewed by politicians as an indication that His Royal Highness expects the early return of the Liberal party to power.

Thirty Sailors Drowned.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The British ship Loch Moidart, from Pisagua Nov. 2 for Hamburg, is ashore at Callantsoog, Holland. Thirty of her crew were washed overboard after she struck, and all were drowned.

Italians Occupy Adowa.

MASSOWAH, Jan. 28.—The Italian troops, accompanied by a body of native levies, have occupied Adowa. They were received with great enthusiasm.

Buffalo Bill at Naples.

NAPLES, Jan. 28.—Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show exhibited here yesterday. There was an enormous crowd present, and the performance was greeted with the wildest enthusiasm.

Honored by the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 28.—The Czar has conferred the Grand Cordon of the Order of St. Anne, the highest in the Empire, upon the French Minister of Finance.

JACKSON WILL FIGHT.

The Mill With Sullivan Must be Under the Queensberry Rules.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, champion of Australia, and so far undefeated in England or America, spent yesterday in this city. He will remain until to-morrow, when he will leave for Boston, where he will be given a testimonial.

Jackson told a reporter that he was ready to fight Sullivan under the Marquis of Queensbury rules at any time. He was not confident of whipping the big fellow, never having seen him spar or fight. "I'll do my best," he said, "and if he wins he'll have to do some hard work.

When asked about the purse, Jackson said that was a matter for the California Athletic club to settle, as he was under contract with it. He had supposed that everything was arranged. He was not willing to fight prize ring rules, as he had no desire to be shut up and punished by the authorities. He proposed to steer clear of the police, except in a fight under the protection of the proper police officials.

THE TRENTON MYSTERY.

George Nelson Anonymously Accused of Killing Mrs. Kniffin.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 28.—The Kniffin inquest was resumed last night. One witness was James Murphy, father of Mrs. Kniffin.

A sensation was produced by the presentation of a postal card sent to the coroner which anonymously accused George Nelson, a cousin of Dr Kniffin, of the crime.

Mr. Murphy said that he knew Nelson as a convict in the State's prison. He knew that when he was drunk he was a desperate man.

Gen. Boulanger Objects.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Gen. Boulanger has written to M. Laur, member of the Chamber of Deputies, and an active Boulangist, on the subject of the proposed affiliation of the Boulangist party with the anti-semitic agitation. The General totally disapproves of the association.

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

The World's Fair Bill Discussed at the Request of Congressmen

ALBANY, Jan. 28.—In the Senate the following bills were introduced: Providing for the lease of Adirondack State forest lands, not exceeding five acres to a person, for not more than five years. Amending in various details, in extenso, the law relative to the investment of funds and estates by trustees and guardians. Appropriating $50,000 for the Albany Armory; also a bill regulating the qualifications of Congregational Church voters at the annual meeting of their church elections. Creating the office of the Court of Appeals messenger, at $750 per year salary.

These bills were ordered to a third reading in Committee of the whole. Mr. Sloan's Adirondacks Land Purchase bill. Mr. Stadler's Special Ball License bill, allowing the sale of liquor until 3 a. m. Mr. Laughlin's relative to the claim of Corell and Thornton, stenographers. Mr. Hendrick's American Home Missionary bill.

In the Assembly, the following bills were introduced: Amending the code of criminal procedure relative to appeals by people in criminal cases. Apropriating $25,000 for a normal school at Fairfield, Herkimer County. Appropriating $15,000 for a vertical wall on the side of the Erie Canal at Ilion. Repealing charter 833, laws of 1875, with reference to the incorporation of Baptist and Congregational churches. Amending the revised statutes requiring a property qualification for grand jurors, the same as for petit jurors. Authorizing the Watervleit Turnpike and Railroad Company to run cars across the bridge between Troy and West Troy and in the city of Troy. Appropriating $15,000 for putting a lift bridge over the canal at Church street, Schenectady.

After prayer the annual report of the managers of the St. Lawrence Insane Asylum was presented.

A telegram from the New York Congressional Committee to Speaker Husted urging immediate action on the World's Fair bill was read. The bill then came up for discussion.

An amendment to section 4 was offered by Mr. De Peyster to the effect that no commissioner be interested in the land to be purchased or leased for the fair site.

Mr. Sheehan suggested that the amendment be laid on the table until the bill was read through. Mr. De Peyster acceded.

The motion to refer was voted down by acclamation, and Mr. Sherman's motion to order the bill to its third reading prevailed. The bill, however, did not meet with this kind of treatment in the Senate. After a discussion lasting some little time the Senate refused to consider the bill in Committee of the whole by a vote of 15 to 11.

NEW JERSEY LAWMAKERS.

A Joint Commission to Hold Public Hearings on Ballot Reform.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 28.—In the Assembly a resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a joint commission, composed of an equal number of Democratic and Republican Senators and Assemblymen to sit in public and hear all parties on the subject of ballot reform, and to prepare a bill at once.

In the Assembly Mr. Voorhees introduced a resolution, which was accepted, for the appointment of a commission to sit during the recess to hear the arguments of those interested in the taxation of property outside of railroads and canals.

Speaker Heppenheimer announced that he had appointed John S McMaster as private secretary.

A bill of particular interest to sporting men and agriculturists was introduced in the Assembly by Leonard Kalisch. It provides for the taxation of race-courses and that funds so raised shall be distributed among the incorporated agricultural societies of the State at the rate of five per cent on the gross receipts.

President Nevins announced Senators Martin, Cranmer and McDonald as the Soldiers' Home Committee. He had overlooked this committee in making the original list.

Senator Pfeiffer, of the Joint Committee on State Prison, presented the annual report, showing the receipts, etc., of the institution for the last year. The figures have been already given in the State Treasurer's report. They show that the prison was run at a loss last year owing to an idle spell occasioned by a small-pox scare.

A tax-exemption bill for widows of soldiers of the war of 1812 and several road and election bills for Bergen County were introduced by Senators Fowler and Winton respectively.

Senator Miller introduced a bill appropriating $40,000 for an addition to the industrial school for girls. Senator Martin put in one empowering aqueduct boards to use unexpended balances of money raised for bond purposes for the extension to their works.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 28.—The heirs of J. J. Albright presented to the city of Scranton, for public library purposes, a plot of land 110 by 167 feet, upon which a suitable building will be erected by the grantees. The structure will be known as the Albright Memorial Building, and, together with the value of the land, will be worth $100,000.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 28.—J. Edgar Powellson's baby, Helen, pulled a coal-oil lamp off the parlor table into her lap, last night, at 310 George street, and was severely burned. The carpet and curtains were destroyed. The fire was extinguished by Police Officers Kelley and Ackerman.

BURNED IN A WRECK

Frightful Accident on the Monon Railroad.

A PASSENGER TRAIN DITCHED.

Six Persons Killed and a Large Number Seriously Injured.

Spectators See Passengers Cremated. Thrilling Scenes During the Attempts at Rescue—One of the Victims a Son of Judge Gresham—A Private Dispatch Says Seventeen Lives Were Lost.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 28.—Several persons were killed in a railroad wreck near Carmel, 16 miles north of this city, on the Monon Line. The car stove did dealy work, and the scenes at the disaster were awful to witness. Crushed bodies were consumed by fire before the eyes of the spectators who were powerless to render aid.

The train wrecked was Passenger No. 1, from Chicago, over the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago road, and was due in the city at 8:30. It was running rapidly and approaching the long trestle across Wilkerson Creek when the tender of the engine jumped the track.

The engineer reversed his engine, but before the air brake could check the speed of the train, the locomotive and baggage car had cleared the trestle. The sleeper and smoking coach went over into the creek, both taking fire almost immediately and being consumed in a remarkably short time.

Buckets having been procured from the farm-houses near by the flames were soon subdued and prevented from communicating to the sleeper or other coaches. As soon as it was possible to do so a search was made for the dead. The body of a woman, identified as Mrs. Lizzie Fitzpatrick, of this city, was soon found. It was burned to a crisp. The oldest children were found side by side, the heavy stove lying across their bodies. Mr. J. W. Collins, of the Indianapolis Sentinel, who was on the train, furnishes the following accurate list of the dead and wounded:

KILLED.

J. N. Deming, Sheridan, Ind., crushed.
Mrs. Eubanks, Broad Ripple, crushed.
Unknown woman, burned.
Unknown woman, crushed.
Two children of D. S. Oldham, burned.

INJURED.

J. D. Pearson, Sheridan, Ind., right shoulder and arm crushed and injured internally.
H. C. Miller, New York city, commercial traveler, badly cut and bruised, right leg crushed; cannot live.
Louis Newman, internal injuries.
George Hunser, express agent, foot crushed and back badly hurt.
Charles G. Wirt, Frankfort, bruised, head and hips.
B. S. Whitsett, Indianapolis, head badly cut and back severely wrenched.
N. B. Ingersoll, of Detroit, commercial traveler, hip cut and cut on the head.
J. P. Altzier, bruised about back and head; serious.
G. W. Stingel, Rossville, legs cut, arms severely bruised and back injured.
Harry Angle, son of conductor, elbow cut off and cut back of head.

Those slighly injured are: Will Marker, Chicago; J. D. Baldwin, district passenger agent; Conductor A. Angle; Mat Fitzsimmons; Jackson, sleeping-car porter; W. S. Holliday, Boston; D. C. Justice, baggage master; Otto Gresham, Indianapolis; P. E. Calkins, Chicago.

Investigation reveals that the accident was due to the spread of rails about 260 feet of the trestle. Repairing of this section of the track was done on Saturday.

A private dispatch from Mt. Carmel states that it is believed that 17 lives were lost in the wreck on the Monon.

Improving Potts Colliery.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 28.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company are making extensive improvements, both inside and out, at the old Potts colliery, situated at Locust Dale. They have commenced to sink a new slope from the surface on the Primrose vein which, after the going to the depth of three lifts, will be connected with the Mammoth vein inside works by a tunnel. The tunnel will be about one hundred and fifty yards in length, seven and a half feet in depth and eleven feet wide. The Primrose coal will be taken through this tunnel to the foot of the Mammoth slope to be hoisted.

Strike on With Paralysis.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 28.—Freeholder-elect William H. Tragon lies at the point of death at his residence, No. 117 Union street. He was stricken with paralysis as he was descending the stairs from his room. He was found lying at the bottom of the stairway, his entire right side paralyzed. He grew worse, and last evening the attending physician told his family there was no hope for his recovery.

A Factory Closes.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 28.—The New Jersey Lamp and Bronze Works, a branch of the Consolidated Fruit Jar Company, of this city, has discharged its sixty-five hands and shut down indefinitely. Supt. Ralph Booth advised the employes to seek work elsewhere. The cause is dullness of trade and a want of orders.

Revision of the Confession.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—The Philadelphia Presbytery did not take a vote as was expected they would on the revision of the confession. Too many clergymen wanted to speak and the discussion did not end. It will be taken up next Monday and if the debate has come to an end the vote will then be taken.

Union County Wants Judge VanSyckel Reappointed.

Governor Abbett this morning gave a hearing to a large deputation from the cities and townships of Union county which was present in support of a unanimously signed petition urging the re-appointment of Judge VanSyckel as judge of the Supreme Court. At 10:30 the Hon. Fred. C. Marsh introduced the deputation of nearly 50 citizens to the Governor in the Executive Chamber. R. V. Lindabury next read the petitions signed by the entire bar of the county, except two, and by nearly all the public officers of the county, cities and townships, besides the officers and directors of all the banks and upwards of 350 of the business men of the county.

Craig A. Marsh, the Rev. Dr. Kempshall, Hon. Garret Berry, C. Ivens, ex-Speaker John T. Dunn and Judge P. H. Gilhooley, in the order named made earnest addresses to which the Governor listened with marked attention. At the conclusion, about twelve o'clock the Governor stated that he would take the papers and give the matter due consideration. Great enthusiasm prevailed and those present confidently believe that their efforts will be rewarded by Judge VanSyckel's re-appointment.

Woman's Relief Corps.

The Woman's Relief Corps as an auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, was formed in 1869 at Portland, Maine. There is a flourishing organization in this city. The society has at present a membership of 64,000 ladies and have expended for relief over $170 000.

The moneys expended for relief were either contributed directly to the relief fund of posts or were personally disbursed by individual members or by committees of the W. R. C., on visits to families of soldiers and sailors.

Large as is the amount thus expended for relief, it does not fully show the worth of this auxiliary to the G. A. R. The cheering visits to the homes of the afflicted, the consoling hours spent by the bedside of sick and dying veterans cannot be adequately measured by any money standard, nor can a full appreciation of their loving work on behalf of suffering humanity be properly expressed in words.

Last Night's Cock Fight.

A cock fight between Somerset and Union county birds, took place at a well-known resort in Somerset county, last evening, and the main was witnessed by about twenty-five sports, including several from this city. The purse went to Somerset county.

A well-known Plainfield handler had charge of the Union county birds.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

A Young Lad Dragged From the Icy Waters as He Rose for the Last Time.

The young son of the Rev. J. P. Taylor of Park avenue, was rescued from drowning in Green Brook, yesterday afternoon, by Mr. John King.

The lad was returning from a visit to Mayor Cooley's house on Westervelt avenue. In crossing the temporary bridge at Water street, he lost his balance and fell into the brook. Some young companions were with him but they were powerless to help, and the unfortunate boy sunk to the bottom.

Mr. John King happened to be passing and, calling another man to his assistance, succeeded in seizing the boy just as he rose to the surface for the second and last time. With some difficulty they pulled him out. The boy was so chilled he could hardly stand, and entirely deaf. He was taken back to Mayor Cooley's where he was dressed in dry clothing and subsequently sent home.

The Rev. Mr. Taylor and his wife request the publication of the following: "We desire through THE PRESS to return our devout thanks to the unknown rescuers of our son, Welles, from drowning at the Water street crossing, yesterday; also to Dr. and Mrs. Cooley to whose hospitable house he was taken, for their skillful treatment and kind nursing."

NOT THE MEMBERS FAULT.

They Charge the Borough Council With Crippling the Borough Fire Department.

Some explanation is due the members of the North Plainfield fire department for their apparent lack of interest and absence of service upon the occasion of the Linke fire of yesterday morning. The foreman of the Borough engine company is sick, but Assistant Foreman George H Fairchild was promptly on hand, rang the alarm and helped run the steamer out of the house.

Some of the members of the North Plainfield fire department say the Borough authorities have driven the horses out of the engine house and use the stalls for the confinement of tramps and disorderlies. Consequently when a fire breaks out, a team to draw the steamer must be hunted up. At two o'clock in the morning, horses all harnessed and a driver all dressed and ready to go, are not to be found at the nearest corner. Therefore the presence of the North Plainfield steamer should not be expected at many of the Borough fires.

Assistant Foreman Fairchild tells a PRESS reporter that out of 21 members of his company, 11 answered the roll call at the house after the fire was out, which is a very good percentage.

PLAINFIELD'S LONG DEFERRED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

The People of Grace Church Advised by Their Pastor to Begin it at Once.

The Rev. E. M. Rodman talked very plainly and emphatically to his people, Sunday morning, about the erection of the long talked of Grace church building on the fine site at the corner of Seventh and Sycamore streets.

He said that there was nearly $5,000 for the purpose in the bank, and $5,000 more already promised. A start should be made at once, he thought. If it is not a good time now, it will never be a good time.

A Sample of Every Day.

The following in addition to many other interesting local items, were published exclusively in yesterday's PRESS, Plainfield's only news paper:

The death and funeral of the wife of ex-Councilman Marsh;

The sad case of Wm. S. Benton;

The marriage of Miss Jennie Clarkson and Mr. Nicolas Geoffroy;

The attempted burglary at the home of Mrs. Dr. Penfield;

The progress at last made by the committee on Plainfield's soldiers monument;

The death of Dr. Edward Rushmore's uncle.

The alarm of fire in Mr. Louis Van Alstine's house;

The serious condition of Assessor Brokaw's health;

The individual records for the season of the Crescent League bowlers;

And a score of equally interesting bits of news published only in these columns.

Lots of Profit and Applause.

Quite a large audience, many of whom were in evening dress, enjoyed the concert last evening in Music Hall by the glee and banjo clubs of Columbia College, New York. The affair was under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Society and for the increase of the Grace church building fund. A satisfactory financial profit resulted, and the repeated encores to all the numbers on the programme, proved the musical gratification of most everybody present.

Councilman Smith's Large Contract.

Councilman S. G. Smith, of this city, yesterday secured the contract for trimming the scows of the New York Street Cleaning Department, for which privilege he pays $1,050 a week. Over 250 men will be employed in the work. Mr. Smith had the same contract two years ago, for which he paid at the rate of $350 a week.

"ANOTHER TALMAGE."

What the Southern Papers Say of a Young Minister Who Grew up in Plainfield.

During all the early years of his life, S. C. Kennedy lived in Plainfield. He is the brother of Mrs. T. A. Van Zant, of Crescent avenue, and is well-known and most pleasantly remembered by many of those now residents here. The following notices from prominent papers of the South will therefore be of interest:

The Journal of Sandford, Fla., says:

"Our honored friend Dr. A. J. French, the second Mayor of Sandford, has for a guest the Rev. S. C. Kennedy, of Brooklyn, New York, now pastor of the Congregational Church at New Smyrna, Florida.

"Though he has been ordained scarcely four years, no man today shows greater evidence of broadening and deepening power in the pulpit. He is freely compared to Talmage. Mr. Kennedy handles his theme with reference to the men and truth of today, with unsurpassed grace and beauty of language and imagery. He was sent to New Smyrna to endeavor to rebuild the church there on shattered foundations. In a few weeks he had not only done this, but had added five hundred per cent. to the membership. The beautiful new church building there was erected for him. He will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on the morning and night of Sunday, the 22d, and we predict large audiences for him."

Another paper says:

"Those who heard the discourses of the Rev. S. C. Kennedy, in the Presbyterian church here, on Sunday, December 22d, will fully endorse the eulogistic notices preceding them. In the combination of elements making the pulpit orator, Mr. Kennedy has few, if any, equals in the State. It will surprise no one, therefore, to learn that a movement is on foot, enthusiastically endorsed and forwarded by many of our leading citizens to organize a broad, liberal, undenominational church, to be known as "The Church of the People," of which Mr. Kennedy will be called to be pastor; provided the movement receives the needed financial support, of which there ought to be little doubt."

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Grace Phillips of Evona, spent yesterday with Miss Ida Lorton, of West Fifth street.

Mr. Edward Nelson was able to go out today for the first time and enjoy the bright sunshine and crisp air.

Mrs. Burrows, aged 82 years, a lady living on Washington avenue, fell down a flight of stairs, last evening, fracturing her right arm. Dr. O. L. Jenkins attended the unfortunate woman.

A reception to a number of the young society people of Plainfield, was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Simonds, last evening, at Broadway and Ninth street. There was dancing and supper.

In his lecture at the Crescent Avenue church on Friday night, Prof Harper will illustrate his method of studying one book of the Bible as a unit. He will take up the book of Joel. The young people's association invite all their friends to attend.

First Assistant Chief E. A. Laine, of the Plainfield Fire Department, was whittling a block of wood in his barber shop on North avenue, this forenoon, when the penknife slipped, cutting a deep gash in the palm of his left hand. Dr. Davis dressed the wound.

Mr. J. Fred MacDonald has leased his present home on East Second street, to the Rev. Mr. Schenck who will occupy it in the Spring. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald intend taking up their residence with Mr. MacDonald's mother in the old homestead at Front and Peace streets.

The death occurred in North Plainfield today, of Anna the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. King. The little one was just past three years of age. She died of membraneous croup. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 1:30 P. M. Interment at Bound Brook.

Mr. Ernest Marx of this city, who will exhibit fifty of his choicest studies in instantaneous photography at the Y. M. C. A., Thursday evening, has never before been persuaded to make a public display of his work except at the Paris Exposition of last year. There he was awarded a diploma of merit, made a member of the Legion of Honor, and offered a professorship in the French Academy of Fine Arts.

Owing to the illness of the Rev. C. L Goodrich, the Rev. M. E. Dwight supplied the pulpit of the Congregational church, last Sunday, and preached a very excellent sermon to the pleasure and profit of the hearers. Mr. Dwight was formerly pastor of the Congregational church in Fairfield, Iowa, but has retired from that active ministry for a time on account of ill health, and is now making his home on Rock View avenue, North Plainfield. He is a decided addition to the good people of this goodly city.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Francis E. Marsh, were held at her home on Madison avenue, during yesterday afternoon, as stated in these columns. The Rev. D. J. Yerkes, D. D., of this city, addressed the large gathering present, and the Rev. Mr. Brown, of Tunkhannock, Pa., a college mate of Mr. Marsh, made the closing prayer. Vocal music was given by Mrs. Myers, Miss Holmes, Mr. C. W. McCutchen and Mr. B. T. Barnes. The remains were interred in Evergreen Cemetery, this afternoon, the Rev. K. P. Ketcham offering a prayer at the grave.

ELIZABETH WINS.

The Deciding Game of The Union County League Tournament.

A big crowd of enthusiastic club men from all parts of Union County, and including many of Plainfield's crack bowlers, filled the alleys of the Elizabeth Athletic Club last night to witness the deciding game of the tournament for the championship of the Union County Bowling League, composed of the Crescent League of this city, the Elizabeths, and the Monday Nights, Pastimes and Nameless, of Westfield.

The leaders in the struggle were the Elizabeths and Nameless. The successful club gets two-thirds of the purse of $125 subscribed by the League and the second club gets the remainder. The game was very close and exciting, the Elizabeths leading on the first frame, when the Nameless went ahead and held the lead until the fourth frame, when the home club again went to the front and stayed there. The game was practically won by Turnbull, the last man, who made six consecutive strikes in the wind up. The score:

TRENTON LEGISLATION.

A Bill to Limit Horse Racing on Jersey Tracks to the Summer Season.

The New Jersey Legislature held a brief session last night. Mullone of Hudson, introduced a resolution, which was adopted, providing for the appointment of a joint committee of ten—six members of the House and four of the Senate—to whom shall be referred all bills in reference to ballot reform or amendments to the election laws, the committee to be composed equally of Republicans and Democrats.

Kalish of Essex, introduced a bill limiting horse racing in New Jersey to the period between June 1 and October 1, and confining the sport to thirty days duration on any track. Five per cent. of the gross receipts of the gate and pool privileges are to be paid by each association to the State, the money to be distributed by the State among the agricultural societies, which shall devote it to the encouragement of cattle breeding. The penalty for violation of this law is fixed at two years' imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Sweepstake Shooting at Elizabeth.

A large number of pigeon shooters gathered yesterday afternoon at the grounds of the Elizabeth Gun Club to witness a match, at fifteen live birds each, between Daniel Post of Elizabeth, and Wm. Smith of Scotch Plains, for $50 a side. Post, to the disgust of the spectators, failed to show up, and the $10 forfeit was paid over to Smith.

A sweepstakes match was shot, there being seven entries. Dan Terry of this city, won first money. Each man shot at five birds. Following is the score:

Terry	1	1	1	0	1
Wallace	1	1	0	1	0
Trautman	0	0	1	0	1

Another small sweepstakes was shot at four birds each, as follows:

Tucker	1	1	0	1

The last two shot off, Anthes winning.

The pigeons furnished were the gamest lot ever sprung from traps at the grounds. They all proved strong, erratic flyers, very difficult to kill. After the supply of pigeons was exhausted a number of sweepstakes with clay bats were shot. Then the day's contest closed.

—The waltz is becoming unpopular and is being superseded by square dances with the graceful minuet figures. If the waltz should be discarded entirely it would remove one of the greatest objections to dancing.

A QUARTETTE FOR ALL TASTES.

The Four Best Productions of Music, Drama, Burlesque and Variety, That New York Offers.

While "The Brigands" can draw to the Casino audiences of the proportions recently noticed there need be no serious thought of a change of programme; and then Lillian Russell has never been in better voice or livelier mood than at present, which is an added attraction of the revival. But "The Grand Duchess" is being carefully rehearsed just the same, and Manager Aronson will have it in readiness for an emergency.

"The Charity Ball's" success at the Lyceum experiences no faltering as week follows week. On the contrary, there are tokens that the charming play is strengthening its hold upon the best theatregoers of the city. No cast could be devised in contemporaneous drama which would develop more accurately balanced acting than is done in this piece by Kelcey, LeMoyne, Wheatcroft, Georgie Cayvan and Effie Shannon.

"The Seven Ages" will get as far as its 125th performance at the Standard by the close of this week. Still, Dixey's friends seem not to tire of it, and the comedian himself isn't slighting his work in the least. Bettina Paddelford of the cast denies that she is engaged for a "Gondoliers" troupe, but "The Seven Ages" will lose her after February 1. Probably Elvia Crox will fill her place with Dixey.

"Prince Lavender's Reception," the new thing at Koster & Bial's, continues to be the principal entertainment at that concert hall. The specialty programme employs the Braatz Brothers, musical acrobats; Arthur West, comedian; the Deveria Sisters, vocalists and dancers; Sherman and Morrissey, trapezists; Col. Upts, the midget comedian, and the Tissots in their singing cats. Next week a new musical burlesque, "The Chandeliers of Venice in New York," will have its first production. Bright costumes and some new dances are promised.

Western Shooters Win.

Every gun club in Ohio was represented at Dayton, in that State, yesterday to witness the opening trap shooting match in the series of championship contests between the East and West. The teams (five men each) shot at thirty single blue-rocks and five pairs to each man. Fifteen hundred people witnessed the shoot. Dimmick was referee, and McDonald and Pritchell judges. The Western team won by a score of 180 to 166, as follows:

Western Team.—Budd, 30 singles, 8 doubles; total, 38. Stice, 28 singles, 8 doubles; total, 36. Herkes, 27 singles, 7 doubles; total, 34. Gahoon, 26 singles, 7 doubles; total, 33. Rublo, 29 singles, 10 doubles; total, 39. Team total, 140 singles, 40 doubles. Grand total, 180.

Eastern Team.—McMurchy, 29 singles, 7 doubles; total, 36. Wolstencraft, 30 singles, 10 doubles; total, 40. W. E. Perry, 29 singles, 8 doubles; total, 37. Quinby, 13 singles, 6 doubles; total, 19. W. S. Perry, 26 singles, 8 doubles; total, 34. Team total, 127 singles, 39 doubles. Grand total, 166.

In a twenty-five live pigeon match between Herkes and McMurchy, Herkes killed 20 and McMurchy 18. The combination is following out a route planned by Mr. Thomas H. Keller, of this city.

The Show Tonight.

The long expected and much talked about 'Corsair' will be given at Music Hall tonight. It fills all expectations. The music is catchy, and pretty. The action brisk. The scenery such combinations of masterly stage pictures—that for three hours there is the very witchery of fun, rampant and elegant, on the stage. Most have seen and heard 'Adonis' and 'Evangeline,' and most will agree with Mr. Rice in his claim, that he has reached the acme of spectacular extravaganza in the 'Corsair.' A large number of seats are already sold.

That Culvert Case.

The case of the New Brooklyn, or East Plainfield, culvert was up again before Master in Chancery D. R. Boice at New Brunswick on Friday. Further testimony was offered on the part of the road authorities of Piscataway township, who claim that the culvert washed out was a part of the approach to a county bridge and should therefore be repaired by the Board of Freeholders. The Board have not yet offered any testimony on their side, but Solicitor H. B. Willis is prepared with a vigorous defense.

New Jersey Historical Society.

The annual meeting of the New Jersey Historical Society was held at the State House, Trenton, today, at 11 A. M. Memoirs were read of the late Rev. Samuel M. Hamill, President of the society; by the Rev. Samuel M. Studdiford, D. D.; of the late Hon. John T. Nixon, LL. D., First Vice-President of the society, by A. Q. Keasby, Esq.; and of the late Prof. George H. Cook, State Geologist. The annual election of officers also took place, and other business came up for consideration.

—Considerable difficulty is experienced in getting stone fast enough to complete the work on the county road between this city and Elizabeth.

THE WOMEN VOTE.

And $25,000 is Appropriated for the Mount Ararat School House.

A large and enthusiastic school meeting was held at Arcanum Hall, Westfield, last evening, for the purpose of voting on a proposed appropriation of $10,000, in addition to the $15,000 already authorized for the building of a new school house and the purchase of a site.

The total number of votes cast was, 347. For, 179; against, 168. Thus resulting in a majority of eleven in favor of the appropriation. A large number of women voted.

A Young Divine's Means and Methods.

Evangelist Mills has a very unselfish way of disposing of himself and making the people feel their individual importance in the conduct of revival services. A large part of every service is by the people—like a trial; they are the witnesses; prayer and exhortation and congregational hymns make up the service to his short and pointed sermon or address; and then the closing moments are again given to the people according to the advertised service—whether to strangers, visitors, young people, or other special work.

Thus all, whether old or young, are made to feel an interest and that they have an individual share in the work. Herein is the power of this young man who in a few hours has revolutionized the daily routine of New Brunswick, and turned the people of mansions, huts, hotels and the neighboring villages, to thoughts and convictions of deeper moment than the hording of the "treasures" of this vain World.

"I was rapidly becoming bald and gray; but after using two or three bottles of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair grew thick and glossy and the original color was restored."—Melvin Aldrich, Canaan Centre, N. H.

"Some time ago I lost all my hair in consequence of measles. After due waiting, no new growth appeared. I then used Ayer's Hair Vigor and my hair grew Thick and Strong.

It has apparently come to stay. The Vigor is evidently a great aid to nature."—J. B. Williams, Floresville, Texas.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for the past four or five years and find it a most satisfactory dressing for the hair. It is all I could desire, being harmless, causing the hair to retain its natural color, and requiring but a small quantity to render the hair easy to arrange."—Mrs. M. A. PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 25, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. H. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The British Legation Sorry the Treaty Was Published.

OPINION OF THE LONDON TIMES.

The "Thunderer" is Dissatisfied While John Boyle O'Reilly is Elated.

Senator Cameron Introduces the Bill for Erecting a Monster Bridge Over the Hudson—Congressmen Discuss the Rules. A Report to be Made To-Morrow—Preparing World's Fair Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan 28.—Considerable surprise and dissatisfaction was expressed at the British Legation over the publication of the extradition treaty. It is, of course, an unusual thing for so important a treaty to be made public before it has been discussed or ratified by the Senate.

The secretary of the legation said that he could not imagine how it had gotten out. He supposed if all the members of the Senate were provided with copies it would be a difficult matter to keep it away from the public, but it was a violation of custom and good faith to make such a matter public prematurely. They had no idea it would get out so soon, and regretted it exceedingly.

Irish Praise for the Treaty.

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—Mr. John Boyle O'Reilly says of the new Extradition treaty: "I think the Extradition treaty as a whole is a credit to our statesmen. The part referring to the extradition of political prisoners is carefully and admirably drafted, covering every point that might be raised. The treaty in this respect is incomparably better than that adopted by Mr. Bayard and urged by Minister Phelps in London. In this treaty Mr. Blaine has secured a diplomatic success of the highest order."

How it Strikes the London Times.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Times says the Extradition treaty in course of negotiation between England and America does not go an inch beyond the obvious necessity of political exclusion and leaves room for doubts whether the plotters and murderers of Lincoln and of Cavendish would not be safer under its provisions from the penalties for ordinary murderers.

A BIG SCHEME.

A Bill Introduced to Bridge the Hudson Between Jersey City and New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mr. Cameron, on behalf of his colleague, Mr. Quay, introduced in the Senate to-day a bill authorizing Jordan L. Mott, John King McLanahan, James Andrews, Thomas F. Ryan, Garrett A. Hobart, W. A. Roebling, Charles J. Canda, Edward F. C. Young, Henry Flad, Gustav Lindenthal, John H. Miller, Samuel Rea, Wm. F. Shunk, Philip E. Chapin and their associates, constituting the North River Bridge Company, to bridge the Hudson between New Jersey and the City of New York.

The bridge is to have not less than six railroad tracks, and is to be constructed with a single span between the established pier lines in either State and at an elevation to be determined by the Secretary of War, and it is to be completed within seven years after the passage of the act. The plans are to be approved by the Secretary of War.

The Inter-State Commission is authorized to require of the company a statement of cash expenditure for property acquired and for cost of construction, equipments, etc., to be made on completion of the work and before the bridge company shall collect tolls of the railroad companies. The rate of tolls to be approved by the commission is to be based on this statement and whenever the money derived from tolls after paying expenses and taxes, and deducting five per cent. of the gross earnings for the sinking fund, shall exceed 10 per cent. on this cash expenditure, the commission may order a reduction of tolls, but such a reduction shall not be ordered more than once in three years.

To parlez Vous's Fair Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The Sub-Committee of the House Committee on the World's Fair began the work of preparing a bill in accordance with the resolution adopted at the meeting on Saturday. The New York and Chicago bills were brought up, but no attempt was made to bring up the St. Louis and Washington bills. Fair progress was made on the new bill, the work consisting, as a member of the committee expressed it, of "clipping and pasting part of the New York and Chicago bill on the same sheet of paper."

The New Code of Rules.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Excellent progress was made on the new code of rules at a meeting of the House Committee on Rules in the morning. Mr. Carlisle was present. The members of the committee expect to finish their work in a day or two, and the chances are in favor of the submission of the new code to the House some time this week.

Salem's Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The President nominated Lambert L. Mulford for postmaster of Salem, New Jersey. This recommendation was made by Congressman Bergen a week ago.

Mr. Wanamaker for Senator.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—Regarding Mr. Wanamaker's reported aspirations to a United States Senatorship, a city official, who is probably his closest political friend, said yesterday that there was no doubt the Postmaster-General had thought seriously of the succession.

Opposed to Salary Shaving.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 28.—Mayor Bishop sent a message to the Common Council protesting against the system of salary shaving in vogue in the city departments and urging that the practice be stopped.

Bishop Whitaker's Assailant Insane.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—David Alexander, who shot at Bishop Whitaker, was pronounced insane by the physicians. He was committed for formal trial.

Several Charges Against the Plunger.

NICE, Jan. 28.—The public prosecutor has preferred several charges against Lenzon, the Jubilee plunger, who will probably be committed for trial.

Judgment Against the Corporation.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 28.—Last night a load of cinders was thrown into the Conemaugh River at a point where the Cambria Iron Company is building a dump and an explosion followed that startled the whole town. Hot cinders were thrown a great distance and several small fires resulted. Buildings were shaken, windows broken and several narrow escapes from death are reported, but no one was killed or injured.

Union Reform Party.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 28.—A convention of 40 or 50 Rhode Island citizens met in Blackstone Hall and organized a branch of the Union Reform party. They adopted resolutions consonant with the National party proclamations. They voted to have a State Central Committee and may be a factor in the next State election as the Law Enforcement Party was last spring, many of whose members are interested in this movement.

A Yale Student Killed by the Cars.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 28.—Yesterday Fletcher Ritzinger, aged 19 years, of Indianapolis, Ind., a sophomore at Yale, invited W. E. Walker, of Chicago, to a ride. While returning through Fair Haven and while crossing the tracks of the New Haven road the team was struck by an express train and was instantly killed. Walker jumped just in time to escape injury. The horses were killed and the wagon splintered.

Murderously Assaulted His Wife.

DANBURY, Conn., Jan. 28.—James Knapp murderously assaulted his wife yesterday because she had hidden his supply of liquor. He hurled a cuspidor at her head which inflicted four scalp wounds and probably fractured her skull. Knapp left the house, but returned twice to finish his murderous work. He was finally arrested and held to await the result of his wife's injuries.

The Gilmore-Hanley Fight.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—Harry Gilmore, who is booked to meet Hanley in Buffalo in a glove contest to-morrow night, is suffering from a bad attack of the grip and is not by any means in a fit condition for a battle. His friends are a little nervous that Harry will not be up to the mark to-morrow evening.

Death of Millionaire Wright.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—The death of John W. Wright, the millionaire, of this city, is announced to have taken place at Colorado Springs. He was well known in Camden, N. J., was one of the founders of the Cooper Hospital, and was the owner of a large estate in North Camden.

The Harkness' Sailors Discharged.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—The ten sailors charged with setting fire to the bark Jennie Harkness, in Manila, were discharged by the United States Commissioner, after a full hearing of the case.

Mistook Him for a Deer.

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 28.—George Ritchie, of Moose Hill, aged 15, was shot and killed by his cousin Bernard Ritchie who mistook him for a deer, while hunting in the woods.

WANAMAKER SMILES

He Would Accept the Office of United States Senator.

BUT IT MUST COME UNSOUGHT.

White House Reception to Members of Congress and Judiciary.

The President Will Visit New York Next Week—The Direct Tax Bill Passes the Senate—An Exciting Election Contest. National Bank Bill—New York and New Jersey Bridge.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The mention of Postmaster-General Wanamaker as a probable successor of Senator Cameron in the United States Senate is referred to by many who call upon Mr. Wanamaker at the Postoffice Department.

His manner of treating such references depends very much upon the source from which they come, but as a rule he smiles and looking the questioner fairly in the face says: "Somebody started that rumor, I guess, to find out what people would say about it." To personal acquaintances he adds that of course he is not a candidate.

To-day in conversation he endorsed what Postmaster Field of Philadelphia is reported to have said in an interview: "That if the office came to Mr. Wanamaker unsought he would accept it."

The President Will Visit New York.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—President Harrison has decided to go to New York next week to attend the Judicial Centenary to be celebrated there. He and the Attorney-General, Secretary Tracy and Secretary Noble will leave Washington at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon on board of a special train, reaching New York that evening. There will be a large number of Senators and Representatives on the same train, besides the members of the Supreme Court, who will go over in a body. The President will return on Tuesday night.

An Exciting Contested Election Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—There is considerable excitement over the Mudd-Compton election case now before the Elections Committee of the House. Both parties are represented by counsel and a large number of witnesses are present from Maryland. It is the most interesting of the 17 cases before the committee. The contestant, Sidney E. Mudd, charged that Mr. Compton, who has served several terms in the House, was elected by fraud and intimidation.

New National Bank Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Representative Dorsey, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, has prepared a National Bank bill which he will soon present to the House. It provides for the issue of $300,000,000 two per cent. bonds to run fifty years and to be used exclusively as a basis for National Bank circulation. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds are to be applied to the redemption of bonds now outstanding.

For a Ship Canal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A bill was introduced in Congress to-day appropriating $50,000 to survey a route for a ship canal connecting Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. LABOR LEADERS IN COUNCIL.

Proceedings of the New York Branch of the Federation of Labor.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The State branch of the American Federation of Labor is in session in this city. President Ogden in his address branded the five per cent. clause of the present prison law as a device to mislead people. He spoke of the urgent need of a weekly-pay bill, and favored the establishment of a State Printing Office. Ballot reform was endorsed and the Eight-hour law was urged as a boon to the workingmen.

The Legislative Committee reported that an attempt had been made to secure the repeal of the Half-Holiday bill, but had been unsuccessful; the action on anti-trust, anti-peddler, capitol appropriation, female factory inspections bills were also referred to. The report spoke of the Farmers' Alliance, which had been of benefit to all. A part of the address referring to charges against the Buffalo Central Union was referred to a special committee.

A mass meeting upon the eight-hour question was held last night and there were several addresses.

KILLED BY A BLAST.

Railroad Laborers Meet With a Terrible Accident in Pennsylvania.

SUNBURY, Pa., Jan. 29.—A gang of Italians, Poles and Hungarians, who were employed in mending the road bed of the Shamokin, Sunbury and Lewisburg Railroad set three blasts and then retired to await the explosion.

For some unexplained reason only two of the blasts exploded. The men did not know this, however, and had returned to their work when the third blast exploded, and they were hurled in all directions.

One of the men was instantly killed, four fatally injured and a dozen others more or less injured, the recovery of two of them being doubtful. Three Italians are said to be missing and are thought they are under the debris although it has been almost cleared away without revealing their bodies.

A REVOLTING CRIME

Canada Excited Over a Horrible Revelation.

THE CRIMINAL SENT TO JAIL.

The Details Cause a Sensation Among Members of Parliament.

The Government to Take the Matter Up and Make an Investigation—Many of the Victims of Tender Years—A Boom for the Purity Bill Which Provides for Flogging Guilty Persons.

OTTAWA, Jan. 29.—The Government has just been acquainted with one of the most revolting revelations ever brought to light in Canada. The matter was unearthed in connection with the proposed Women and Girls' Purity bill introduced this session by Sir John Thompson, Minister of Justice.

A prominent member of Parliament a few days ago received a letter from a Justice of the Peace in the Province of Ontario giving a detailed account of the occurrence. This letter was immediately handed to the Minister of Justice who brought the matter to the notice of the Government. The letter contained a sworn declaration to the following facts:

A Clerical Fiend.

A young Church of England clergyman in a populous parish in the western portion of the Province of Ontario was brought before the magistrate in question on five charges of debauching small boys. The evidence was of so revolting a character as to prevent it being published. In four cases, because the boys had not resisted the infamous proposals of the fiend, the charges were dismissed. In the last case he was found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail, this being the severest sentence the law allows.

The Church Vestry Desecrated.

From the statements made to the authorities in the course of the trial it appears that this fiend in the garb of a clergyman debauched not less than twenty young boys in that vicinity. The revolting offences were committed in the church vestry and the evidence went to show that many of the victims were of more tender years than those mentioned at the trial.

Sensation in Parliament.

The details of the horrible occurrence were whispered around among the Members of Parliament and created a profound sensation. It is understood the Government intends taking the matter up at once and appoint a commission to take all the evidence in every case with a view to inflicting a more severe punishment on the fiend.

Sir John Thompson admitted to a correspondent this morning that the particulars as given are correct. He was of the opinion that the knowledge of the facts of the case will ensure the passage of the Purity bill which provides for the flogging of persons found guilty of debauching young boys and girls.

EXPLOSION IN A SCHOOL.

The Professor's Eyes Blown Out and Several Scholars Injured.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 29.—Twenty persons were injured in the High school at Lexington, in this county, by a terrific explosion, which was heard all over the city.

While Professor Jess, surrounded by pupils and teachers, was conducting an experiment in chemistry in which oxygen was being generated in a retort composed wholly or in part of iron, with iron pipe connections, the retort suddenly flew to pieces and nearly thirty people were hurled in all directions, and twenty of them more or less mangled. To add to the horror of the scene a can of gasoline through which a piece of hot iron had been blown took fire, and for a few minutes it looked as though the building and some of the wounded victims might be consumed.

The burning gasoline spread rapidly over the floor and seats, and the flames were extinguished after a hard fight, in which several of the students were slightly scorched. Those most dangerously injured by the explosion are as follows:

Professor Jess, will probably lose his sight and may die; Bertie Farnel, compound fracture of the leg and artery cut, likely to die; Cora Kemp, compound fracture of the leg; Hattie Barnard, dangerously hurt; Russell Stevenson, terribly bruised; Will Dawson, badly cut and bruised; Will Hotsenpillard, badly mangled.

A dozen others were bruised, cut and scorched, but those named above are the severest sufferers. It is believed that the explosion was caused by impure chemicals.

An Aged Lady's Hold on Life.

READING, Pa., Jan. 29.—A 86 years of age Mrs. Elizabeth De Hart, of 1514 Mineral Spring road, is cutting her third set of teeth. She has also had the grip, followed with pneumonia, but is now improving. About eight weeks ago she fell down stairs and dislocated her right elbow and fractured her left arm. All of her wounds are healing nicely, but she is unable to use either of her arms.

Fifteen Indian Skeletons Found.

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J., Jan. 29.—Workmen engaged in digging and grading Edgewater avenue were startled in striking what is thought to be an old Indian burying ground. About fifteen skeletons were taken out, many of whom the workmen found in a sitting position. It is thought four of the number were chiefs, as they were found to be buried apart from the rest. One of the four had been buried with an extremely large sea turtle shell over his

She Didn't Stop Young Peterson, but Can Stop His Superiors.

The Editor of THE PRESS has been handed the following for publication, by the writer. It is in answer to a communication in these columns of last Thursday:

"Isaac Peterson, No. 35 Cottage place, if you can prove that I infest the streets I wish you would, and remember you will have it to prove. I want you to distinctly understand that I and the other girl didn't stop your son Thomas H. Peterson. I think more of myself than to stop and ask him any questions on the street, for it is immaterial to me whether I utter a word to him or not. I can stop your son's superiors if you only knew it. Before you publish anything else in the paper, always find out the author before you squeal. If we had stopped him we wouldn't have said anything, but we didn't and we will not have the blame on us under any circumstances at all. But it must be dropped immediately.

Everybody Thoroughly Entertained.

The entertainment in Reform Hall, last evening, was such a success in every way, that the audience was thoroughly satisfied and the Boys' Branch of the Y. M. C. A., will reap a financial profit towards the building fund.

Mr. John Lewis was chairman of the committee that arranged the affair. Mr. Harry H. Coward, the President, being unavoidably absent, Vice President William Crawford presided and with much good taste and dignity introduced Miss Charlotte Allen. That handsome young woman gave a monologue entertainment of much originality, interest and amusement, interspersed with music by Miss Dewey. Miss Allen is a graceful and talented elocutionist, and her entertainment is not equalled in its line.

But the Primrose Quartette Should be Shot Dead.

One of the largest audiences of the season filled Music Hall, last evening, when Rice & Dixey's road company gave "The Corsair." The show is perfect in every respect—cast, costumes and scenery. Martha Porteous cannot be excelled as a Conrad, and Messrs Udell and Hagan are great comedians, while all the girls are bright and pretty. Miss Estelle Clinton is the particular beauty of the company, and does her little part of Gulnare in the third act in a way that displays her sweet voice, pretty teeth, bright eyes and fine figure, to the additional gratification of the audience.

—Residents of Highland Park, a suburb of New Brunswick, have subscribed $10,000 for the erection of a new Reformed church building there.

A CITIZENS LEAGUE.

To Preserve Good Order With the Help of Public Opinion.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Permit the undersigned to report the following items to your readers. The question of organizing the citizens of Plainfield and North Plainfield, so as to unite and make effectual the public sentiment in favor of good order, and the general welfare of the city and borough, was discussed at a meeting of the Ministers Association, in October last.

At a subsequent meeting held with Dr. Yerkes—at which some citizens, not clergymen, were present—a committee was appointed to report a basis for organization. That committee reported last evening, and an organization was effected, for the purposes named above. Communications, written or verbal, were received from several gentlemen who could not be present, expressing interest and sympathy with the momement—including Aaron M. Powell, L. W. Serrell, General Negly, Charles Potter and D. E. Titsworth.

The city and borough are so related to each other that their interests are essentially one, and an organized public sentiment, wisely expressed, cannot fail to strengthen the hands of the officers of both governments; this the more because of the too common error on the part of good citizens of leaving "things to run themselves," and of supposing that a good police force and good executive officers insure success. On the contrary, the most efficient officers are weak, and sometimes powerless, for want of the support of that most potent factor in government—public opinion.

There was not time last evening to complete the details of the organization, and the meeting was adjourned to a future date.

Resolutions by the Consistory.

At a meeting of the Consistory of Trinity Reformed church, held January 22, 1890, the undersigned committee was appointed to prepare a paper of condolance expressive of their feelings and sympathy in the sudden death of Mrs. T. E. Hazell, which they respectfully submit:

WHEREAS: Our Heavenly Father in His inscrutable providence has permitted the Angel of death to enter the abode of our much beloved Brother, T. E. Hazell a member of the consistory, and suddenly taken therefrom his dearly beloved wife and mother of their four children so much needing a mother's care and love, therefore;

Resolved, That we bow humbly and submissively to the Divine will (however mysterious) in taking one of our number, who had but a few years since entered the Master's service, and whose bright Christian life and light was so full of helpfulness to us and all who knew her, as to render the providence almost inconsolable.

2d, That her earnest Christian life among us, and her testimony to the Master so clear and positive compels us to believe that our loss (although great) is her everlasting gain, and that Heaven is thus made nearer and dearer to us, by her abode there.

3d, That we tender to our dear bereaved brother our deepest heartfelt sympathies in his sad and sore experiences, and commend him and his motherless children to Him who has said, "I, even I, am He, that comforteth you."

4th, That these resolutions be entered on our church records and printed in the DAILY PRESS and a copy be given to the family bereaved.

ALBERT L. FORCE,

City Garbage Collectors Proposed.

The Plainfield Board of Heath held a meeting last evening, and decided upon making an effort to bring about one of the most important benefits this city needs. In another column the Board advertises for bids for the collecting of the city's garbage. Those offering to do the work should leave their statements in writing with George W. Rockfellow, President of the Board, at his office corner of Park and North avenues, by noon of Saturday next.

A New Market Man Injured.

Mr. A. L. Storms, an old man living at New Market, while attempting to board a Lehigh Valley train at Jersey City, on Monday evening, fell and was badly injured. He became unconscious and the railroad officials had him removed to a hospital. Afterward the injured man's identity became known, and yesterday afternoon he was taken to his home at New Market, where he is now under the care of a doctor.

There'll be no Bad Boys in Plainfield Soon.

The Y. M. C. A., has its "Boy's Branch," a number of philanthropic people are organizing a "Boy's Club," and the Woman's Aid Society are considering a plan for a "Boy's League."

That Big Carpet Purchase Again.

In a few days EDSALL will give full particulars of how he proposes to dispose of the immense stock of Carpets he has just purchased. Mr. Summers, the best natured expressman in the World, delivered two big loads to us yesterday, and they are all expected in by the first of February.

In the meantime we want to announce that our new Spring stock of Ladies' Muslin Underwear and Children's White Dresses have arrived from Green's factory, in Brooklyn. We are the sole agents for the sale of these goods here, and we are pleased to say that they fully sustain the high reputation they have enjoyed in the past. In fact they are just perfectly beautiful! Don't fail to examine them early.

Our New Wash Dress Fabrics will be in on MONDAY, JAN. 27, and the great variety of elegant styles in this line surpasses all of our past efforts.

STILL AN OPEN QUESTION.

THE PRESS and the People Are Yet Awaiting a Substantial Answer to Certain Seemingly Well Founded Charges.

Since the recent editorial in the Times criticising the contract entered into by the City with the Water Works Company of Plainfield, and a reply thereto by a "Tax Payer"—both of which articles have been published in THE PRESS—neither writer has contributed anything more in relation to the subject.

"Tax payer" may "lay the flatter unction to his soul" that he has answered the editorial; but he not only does not controvert the Times article, but he does not even attempt it. He admits that the bond is only a penal bond, and not a forfeiture bond of any sort. On the more important division of the Times article—the second, in which the power and privilege of the new Water Company to bankrupt itself by an excessive debt-issue is shown—"Tax payer" has not one word to answer!

Much more might be said than has been aid by students of this water contract (!) as to its one-sidedness. Whether it is worth while to say it, or whether it is true, is still an open question. Certainly, to accuse Ex-Mayor Randolph of firing the opening gun, is not very strong argument in favor of the contract.

An Anti-Saloon Organ for Revenue Only.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Why is it that a newspaper which claims that every other paper is a "saloon organ," should try to get up public sympathy in behalf of a rumseller who is charged under oath with violating the law habitually by selling rum on Sunday, and by the glass, under a so called bottler's license?

The Somerset street contemporary is so moved to compassion by the misfortunes of its advertiser Frank Linke, that its very type seems softened and unable to print without blurring.

While no right minded person will seek to uphold the firing of dwellings either as a means of revenge, or an attempt to drive out saloons, yet who can doubt that had the saloon fired been the one which was the subject of Chief Carey's famous remark—"It has ruined more young men than any saloon in the city"—the man on Somerset street would have attributed the origin of the blaze to the wrath of Heaven rather than to earthly enemies.

If Mr. Linke is the persecuted man he claims to be, why does he not demand a hearing before a Justice, where he may be confronted with the State's witnesses and have an opportunity to vindicate himself? The officer who served the warrant upon him on that occasion, was an unexpected visitor, and found certain citizens of the borough who will not be likely to prejudice themselves to shield Linke, drinking beer in his establishment. Does that indicate that the charges against him are groundless?

FAIR PLAY.

The New Bowling League.

A meeting was held in Westfield, last evening, for the purpose of forming a bowling league of teams of 5 men each. The following clubs were represented: The Crescent League and Olympics of Plainfield, Monday Nights and Nameless of Westfield, Elizabeth Athletic Club of Elizabeth, Fanwood Club of Fanwood, and the Somerset Bowling Club of Somerville.

Mr. Burnett of the Crescents was chosen President, and Mr. Young of the Nameless, Secretary.

It was decided to adopt the name of the Central Bowling League of New Jersey. A schedule of games will be issued at the next meeting, which will be held at the Crescent League club house.

Follow This up With the Arrest of All Violators.

Chief Carey yesterday served on the tobacco dealers of this city, the following printed notice:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, PLAINFIELD, N. J.
January 24th, 1890.

SIR:—Your attention is called to the law of this state which enacts—

SECTION 1.—That hereafter no person or persons in this State shall knowingly sell any cigarette or cigarettes or tobacco in any of its forms, to any minor under the age of sixteen years.

It is the purpose of the authorities to see that this law is strictly enforced in the City of Plainfield.

JOB MALE, Mayor.

Uncle Sam and His Agents.

Uncle Sam pays his 200,000 employees, including soldiers and sailors, an average salary of $825 apiece. The average earnings of the plain, every-day citizen, who gets pay in proportion to the work he does, are about half that much, probably. This state of affairs explains, perhaps, why about 26,000,000 male American citizens make a dead set for about 50,000 offices every four years.

The Monmouth Park Races.

The Monmouth Park Racing Association, has announced its programme for the coming season at its new race course, near Long Branch. The racing will begin on Friday, July 4, and continue on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, up to and including Thursday, August 28, thus covering the two best racing months in the year, as has been the custom of the association for years.

A Good Time for the Members.

A Y. M. C. A. members' reception will be held at the Association rooms, Thursday evening of this week, at 8 o'clock. The feature of the occasion will be the exhibition of photographs taken by members of the Camera Club. A choice programme and refreshments will add to the evening's enjoyment.

ORDER OF HIBERNIANS.

The State Convention Has an Enthusiastic Meeting in Trenton.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians held their State Convention in St. John's Hall, Trenton, on Sunday. About two hundred delegates were present from the counties in this State. The principal purpose for which the meeting was held was to elect delegates to the next National Convention of the Order, which will be held in Hartford, Conn., in May. The three State officers—John Hart, of Newark; John J Clancy, of Trenton, and Michael B. Holmes, of Jersey City—were the delegates chosen to represent the State.

A committee of one from each county was chosen to revise the State by-laws. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the next State Convention, which will probably be held in Jersey City.

Maurice F. Wilhere, of Philadelphia, made an address, in which he stated that the Order numbered over 100,000 members, and was continually increasing.

Charles Stewart Parnell was eulogized and resolutions adopted expressing to him and the people of Ireland the pleasure of the Order to learn of the determined manner in which they are battling for their rights against the brutal, coercive policy of the Tory Government and the Irish landlords who are trying to exterminate the patriotic tenant farmers in the south of Ireland, and thanking the gallant people of Tipperary for the noble stand they have taken against Smith Barry and his landlord associates in defense of the rack-rented tenantry of Ireland.

Engine 145 to be Experimented With.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Locomotive 145, which has been in use on the Central Railroad of New Jersey between Bound Brook and Jersey City for several years, under the engineership of Charles Houston of Dunellen, has been at the downtown shops for about six weeks, for the purpose of having the experiment tried as to whether a less amount of fuel can be dispensed with, and allow the engine to make as good time as heretofore. Mr. Houston is the originator of the idea, and has high hopes of seeing his plan carried into successful operation.

The engine has received a thorough overhauling, but exactly what is to be the nature of the change to bring about the sought for result, is not explained. The expense is being borne by the company, which is anxious to see how the experiment will succeed, as it will probably effect a revolution in the running of locomotives, and save a vast quantity of coal. Engineer Houston awaits the result of the trial trip, which will be made in a day or two, with considerable interest. If successful a patent will be applied for.

Bridges That Will be Seldom Used.

The New York Board of Street Openings Monday, granted permission to the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Pennsylvania Railroad to construct across West street two iron bridges for the use of foot passengers, upon giving bonds each to the amount of $25,000 to indemnify the city against any claims for damages that may arise. The work is to be done under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works.

The structures are to be sixteen feet above the street, shall cross in a clear span, and are at all times to be free to pedestrians.

It was stipulated that the vending of articles upon the bridges or the placing of advertising signs would not be allowed.

Activity Among Church People.

The Church Temperance Commission for New Jersey met in Trenton recently for purposes of counsel. The Presbyterian Synod, Newark Conference, New Jersey Conference and Methodist Protestant church were present by representatives, and the Congregational, Lutheran and Baptist were represented by letter.

It was resolved that the committee be instructed to prepare and submit to the Legislature of the State a county local option act, and to urge the passage of the same. That the Church Temperance Commission reaffirm the antagonism of the churches of New Jersey to the traffic in strong drinks, and urge the earnest prayers of Christian hearts for such legislation as may prohibit the evil.

A Sermon in a Play.

The Bridgeport Standard says of the play by Denman Thompson that is to be produced at Music Hall, next Monday evening:

"There never has been seen in this city a cleaner dramatic performance, nor one which conveys a more wholesome lesson to young men and women than that of 'The Two Sisters.' There is no effort to produce sensation of any kind in this piece, but simply to portray life as it is in a way that shall seem natural and realistic."

A Road Decision.

A recent decision in the courts maintains that if a man wants to go faster than another one ahead of him on the road he is going, he has a right to pass, and if he is prevented by the other and an accident should happen thereby, the man thus obstructing the road is responsible for the damage done. No man has the right to infringe upon the rights of others, however, in trying to pass.

—New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania now stand on a footing as regards the salary paid their governors, $10,000 a year.

Trouble Over a Non-Union Man.

EAST BRIDGEWATER, Mass., Jan. 29.—The shoe factory of Samuel Shaw & Co., at Elmwood village, has been shut down owing to trouble over the hiring of a non-union man. Mr. Shaw says he anticipated no trouble in filling the places of the men who are out.

"Everybody is Happy but Me."

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 29.—"Everybody is happy but me." As he uttered these words last night, William H. Griffith drew a revolver from his pocket, and, putting it to his head, pulled the trigger. The bullet entered his mouth and passed through the top of his head. He died in a few seconds. Many years ago he was a prosperous builder here, but he lost all his property in the panic of 1873. He quarreled with his wife about two years ago, and she left him, and with her six children went to live with her mother.

Murdered and Burned His Wife.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The residence of Frederick Johnson on Warden Hill was destroyed by fire. A search of the ruins revealed the body of Johnson's wife. The position of the body indicates that a butchery preceded the incineration, as the head and trunk were six feet apart. The police are of the opinion that Johnson murdered his wife, set fire to the house and then ran away. The couple lived a very unhappy life.

The Pope Blessing the World.

ROME, Jan. 29.—The marble copy of the monument representing the Pope blessing the world, which was ordered some time ago for the Catholic University at Washington, is finished and ready for shipping.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. R. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

CALLS IT A BLUNDER

Prof. Phelps Does Not Believe in Negro Suffrage.

SENATOR SUMNER CRITICISED.

His Act Legalizing the Vote Called Desperation and Not Statesmanship.

A Blow at the Face of Nature Which Will be Revenged—It May Cost More Blood Than the Civil War Did—What an Andover Professor Foresaw Fifty Years Ago.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 29.—Prof. Austin Phelps, of Andover, Mass., writes Editor Hemphill, of the Charleston News and Courier, thanking him for the courtesy and candor of his criticisms upon some remarks by Prof. Phelps in regard to Mr. Grady's Boston speech.

Prof. Phelps goes on to say that he never believed in negro suffrage. He says Senator Sumner never committed a graver blunder than in drawing the act which legalized it. It was not statesmanship, but desperation. It was a blow at the face of nature, and nature always revenges such blows.

"We are sure, in such an encounter," says Prof. Phelps, "to get the worst of it. We are suffering from it now, and will suffer more. It may cost more blood than the Civil War did. The thinking men of the South have the sympathy of every thinking man of the North. Fifty years ago Prof. Moses Stuart, of Andover Seminary, a personal friend of Calhoun, foresaw the present deadlock, and told me he saw no solution but the surrender of two or three States to exclusive possession of the colored race.

"But," concludes Prof. Phelps, "I have never been able to see that Christianity cannot make two colors in prolific races live peacefully together, as nature adjusts colors in the rainbow."

STRUCK THE LAWYER.

Oswego's Exciting Divorce Case Develops Another Sensation.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 29.—The case of Edward E. Frost, against his wife, Mate J. Frost, for divorce, which has brought forth many surprises here for a week past, developed another sensation.

John J. Lamoree, one of the counsel for the plaintiff, asked a witness several questions as to the character of a sister of Deputy Sheriff W. J. Dempsey. The latter on hearing this rushed into the court room and planted a heavy blow in the lawyer's face. Before the astonished attendants could recover their wits Dempsey walked out of the room and has not yet been arrested.

The case is being tried before Justice Churchill and a jury, and owing to the prominence of the parties, is attracting much attention. Detectives are searching for several missing witnesses.

A BROTHERHOOD BOOM.

The Old League Denied an Injunction in the Suit Against Ward.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Judge O'Brien, in Supreme Court Chambers, handed down his decision refusing to grant the temporary injunction asked by the New York League Baseball Club restraining Short Stop John M. Ward from playing with any other than the New York League Club. The decision is comprised in a seventeen-page typewritten document, lengthy and comprehensive.

While this decision does not, of course, decide the questions upon which the suit is founded, it is yet regarded as a marked victory for Ward and the Players' League, in that the injunction being refused, it leaves the issue to be settled as the defendant and his friends wished; it to be—in a fair and open trial, before a jury.

When the news of the decision got out Brotherhood men flocked to Tim Keefe's store in Broadway, and a regular jubilee meeting was held, everybody congratulating everybody else all at once.

Will Return to the Brotherhood.

Other bills were passed as follows: Fixing the fare for the trip on the Ticonderoga Railway at 25 cents. Discontinuing parts of certain streets in Buffalo. The following bills were introduced: Amending the act for the infliction of the death-penalty by allowing reporters to be present at executions by electricity. Empowering the Board of Claims to hear cases without special legislation from year to year. Relative to the compensation of jurors in certain cases.

THE POSTOFFICE STEAL.

Expert Accountants Find New York's Late Cashier Short Nearly $48,000.

NEW YORK, Jan 29.—The deficit in the accounts of George H. Lounsbery, the late cashier of the postoffice, is officially placed at $47,350.52, and it is claimed by the expert accountants who were engaged in going over the books, that this money was all taken between Jan. 1 and the day of Lounsbery's last appearance at his desk.

A rumor is current that the postoffice authorities have directed the eye of suspicion against some other employes of the department, as well as against one or more persons on the outside. No one will say a word about the case directly or indirectly.

An Old Man Found Murdered.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Jan. 29.—Andrew Weaver, 65 years of age, was found murdered in front of the house of his daughter-in-law, Fiette Weaver, about three miles from Coburn, this county. There was a large knife wound between the ribs and penetrating the heart. Fiette Weaver, Jones Auman and his mother, Mrs. Auman, were arrested and taken before Justice Garthoff, who committed Fiette as the murderess and the Aumans as accessories. They were brought to jail here. There had been quarreling between Weaver and his daughter-in-law at different times, and she had been heard to say that she would kill him if she got the chance.

Poles and Swedes Go to Punxsutawney.

PUNXTUTAWNEY, Pa., Jan. 29.—Over 90 men and six women, Poles and Swedes, arrived from the anthracite coal region to-day and were taken to Walston mine, where they are expected to go to work. The strikers collected in large numbers to look at the new arrivals and probably would have made trouble but for the presence of the Pinkerton guards, who dispersed them. There were five evictions, but many of the miners, however, voluntarily left their houses.

Husband and Wife Equally Guilty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—In the suit of Capt. Frank Harrison, of the 13th Regiment, N. G., S. N. Y., for divorce from his wife, Nellie DeGes Harrison, in which Mrs. Harrison interposed a cross-suit for divorce from the captain, each charging the other with adultery, the jury found both parties guilty of adultery. The case now goes to the special term for judgment on the findings of fact. It is possible that neither party will be granted a divorce, both being adjudged equally guilty.

Will Stop Injurious Competition.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 29.—There are 35 establishments in the country engaged in making cordage and binding twine, and they have formed an association to avoid any competition in the buying of fibers which heretofore has forced excessive prices to the injury not only of manufacturing interests but also at the expense of consumers of rope and twine.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Three Mill Hands Horribly Torn and Mangled.

THE SAW BROKEN TO PIECES.

One Workman's Throat Cut from Ear to Ear and Another's Skull Crushed.

The Mill and Machinery Demolished and a Man Blown One Hundred Feet Distant. Collision on the Erie Railroad—A Democratic Politician Killed and Four Persons Injured.

PITTSBERG, Jan. 30.—A special dispatch from Charleston, W. Va., says: "A horrible boiler explosion occurred at the saw-mill of A. B. Leech, on Falling Rock Creek, 25 miles from here, which killed three men. The mill had stopped to tighten a loose belt. Eight men were working in and near the mill, when a terrific explosion occurred, demolishing the mill and machinery.

Joseph Wright, aged 25 years, was filing a saw when the explosion occurred. The saw was broken to pieces, one piece of which cut Wright's throat from ear to ear. He leaves a widow and one child at Wolleston, Ohio.

Morgan Hoover was blown 100 yards distant, and driven feet foremost into a hollow log up to his waist, horribly torn and mangled and killed instantly. He leaves a widow and seven children.

Bud Mulling, aged 23 years, single, had his skull crushed and cut in abdomen, eyes and face scalded. He lived but a few hours.

The cause of the explosion is not known. The engineer says there was plenty of water in the boiler. The mill only started operations Monday after a shut down for repairs.

COLLISION ON THE ERIE.

A Democratic Politician Killed and Five Persons Injured.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 30.—At an early hour this morning the Wells-Fargo Express on the Erie Railroad, east-bound, dashed into the rear of passenger train No. 12, which was standing at the station at Owego. The rear sleeper of No. 12 was wrecked.

Patrick Moloney, a prominent Democratic politician of Owego, was putting his little girl on the train when the collision occurred. He was caught between two car and killed. Four others were injured.

Poor Year for Farmers.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 30.—The State Board of Agriculture is holding a three days' session here. The report of the Executive Committee showed that the past year has been a bad one for farmers, owing to unusual rains and discriminative freight rates. Governor Abbett appeared before the Board, and promised to aid them in righting their wrongs. He suggested the appointment of a committee to co-operate with the regular Legislative Committee.

Electric Light Company Censured.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The jury investigating the case of death of Thos. Dawson, the man who died from an electric shock, returned the following verdict: "That Thos. Dawson came to his death by a current of electricity passing through his body." The jury censures the Newburg Electric Light and Power Co., for neglect in not properly attending to the grounded wires when notified.

Killed by a Dynamite Explosion.

LANCASTER, Pa., Jan. 30.—William Messtenheffer, foreman of the stone quarries at Chickies, was killed by an explosion of dynamite. Workmen had prepared a blast and the charge failing to explode Messtenheffer went to examine it. An explosion occurred as he was standing over the spot. His head was torn off and his body otherwise mangled.

Trotting Circuit Meeting.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 30.—At a meeting of the members of the Central New York Trotting Circuit held in this city, F. H. Coggshall, of Waterville, was elected vice-president. The executive committee elected consists of F. G. Babcock, of Hornellsville; H. L. Leonard, of Syracuse; L. M. Cafferty, of Binghamton; C. A. Nichols, of Elmira, and J. M. Prendergast, of Phœnix.

Favors Bedloe's Island.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Collector Erhardt favors Bedloe's Island as the new site for the Federal immigrant landing bureau, and Secretary Windom will probably approve the choice. A boundary commission recently decided that the island is part of New Jersey, so that the New York Commissioners of Emigration will have no jurisdiction over it.

New York's Insane Asylums.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The Commissioners of Lunacy, in their report to the Legislature, say the State has expended so far $7,361,614.38 for buildings, etc. The aggregate population of the insane asylums, public and private, is 15,507 insane; 477 idiots, and 250 feeble minded women.

Buried Alive in a Well.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 30.—Joseph Murray, a well digger was buried alive while working in the bottom of a new well in West 27th street. He was first buried to the neck and while workmen were endeavoring to extricate him the embankment caved a second time, burying the unfortunate man under several tons of earth.

Second Call for Government Funds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A second call has been issued by Secretary Windom on National bank depositories for a surrender of 10 per cent. of Government funds held by them.

BITTER BASEBALL WAR.

The League Magnates Will Prosecute the Brotherhood in all the Cities.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—That the fight between the League and Brotherhood is going to be one of extermination was shown at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where delegates representing every professional club in the country outside the Brotherhood attended a League convention.

The Negotiating Committee reported that it had applications from players to the number of 100, and quite a number had been engaged by the League clubs.

The Law Committee made its report. It recommends thas they be authorized to direct the prosecution of not only the New York and Philadelphia suits to a final conclusion, but that suits in equity be instituted in every State and Federal court in the United States that may be necessary to obtain proper jurisdiction to restrain League players who are bound or reserved by contracts with League clubs for 1890 from giving their services to any other club or clubs. This report was accepted and adopted.

It was decided to enforce paragraph 4 of the amended articles of qualified admission to the National agreement, which refers to clubs playing against other clubs which employ ineligible players. In other words, any club which plays against a Players' League Club can never again play against a team under protection of the National Agreement. This includes even college and amateur teams.

The dispute of the Atlantic Association and the New England team proved a lively topic for discussion. Each League sent delegates and pleaders. The Board decided in favor of the New Englanders.

The decision admits the New England League to the protection of the National Agreement upon the tendering of their resignations to the Atlantic Association. The question of the admision of the Providence club to the New England League was held in abeyance, pending inquiry into the status of the Providence club, recently admitted into the Atlantic Association.

There is talk of admitting Detroit and Baltimore to the League and increasing the number of clubs to twelve.

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

The World's Fair Bill Passes the Senate With an Amendment.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The Senate passed the World's Fair bill appropriating $10,000,000 with an amendment which adds twenty-two new inspectors to the list.

Among the bills introduced in the Assembly was one from Mr. Hoag, putting the Dock Department of New York under the control of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

L'Hommedieu, of Orleans, introduced a uniform fire policy bill; Peck, of Cortland, a general bill for the election of school directors, and Kurth, of Kings, a measure annexing Flatbush to Brooklyn.

Democratic Senators in Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A caucus of Democratic Senators was held for over two hours last night to consider questions of party policy. Senator Gorman, of Maryland, presided. Several long speeches in favor of the adoption of suitable measures were made, but no action was taken beyond the adoption of a resolution for the appointment of a committee to consult with the House Congressional Committee for the purpose of selecting a Congressional Executive Committee to conduct the next campaign and to define questions of party policy. The Aber een affair was not alluded to in the conference.

Sullivan Sees Jackson Spar.

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—Peter Jackson and Jack Ashton sparred at an exhibition under the auspices of the Union Athletic club in Music Hall. They had four-three minute rounds, very tamely done. Sullivan was among the 2,500 spectators.

The Policy Board's Report.

A Rough Voyage.

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—The steamer Bavarian, which has arrived at this port from Liverpool, had terrific weather during the passage. The waves stove the starboard lifeboat, broke the ventilator and stove the steerage ports, letting considerable water into the hold.

THE AMERICAN PLAN

French Republicans Meet in Caucus for the First Time.

MORLEY'S TRIBUTE TO PARNELL

He Praises the High Order of Statesmanship Displayed by the Irish Leader.

Home Rulers Worthy of the Hate of the Present Government—Mr. Gladstone's Son Married To-Day—Dr. Peters Seen by a French Priest—Major Serpa Pinto Coming to America.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—There was held last night a grand caucus of the Republican party at which 200 Deputies were present. The caucus declared that the essential basis of the Republican programme was the maintainance of the military system that made every Frenchman a defender of the country, respect for the laws, the development of popular education, and the defence of the sovereignty of the people, which is the essence of the republic, against the schemes and projects of all pretenders and other conspirators who propose the restoration of monarcy or the empire or the rule of any dictator.

It was agreed that there should be monthly reunions of the Deputies of the party to consider from the party point of view all questions pending in the Chamber of Deputies and to decide party action in regard to the same. This is an initiation of a regular party organization and caucus system upon the American plan.

Mr. Gladstone's Son Married.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The marriage of Mr. Harry Neville Gladstone, third son of the ex-Premier, to Miss Maud Rendel, daughter of Mr. Stewart Rendel, Member of Parliament for Montgomeryshire, took place to-day. The list of presents to the bride is long, and includes many very costly gifts. Although it was intended that the ceremony should be chiefly distinguished for its absence of display, the large number of notable persons who were present characterize the event as one of the most brilliant of the many fashionable weddings that have taken place in London of late.

Morley's Tribute to Parnell.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 30.—Mr. John Morley addressed a crowded meeting last night. He paid an eloquent tribute to Mr. Parnell and dwelt at some length upon the high order of statesmanship uniformly displayed by that gentleman. Referring to Mr. Goschen's recent speech Mr. Morley said that if Mr. Goschen was content with his arguments on the Irish question, he (Morley) was certainly content until the bye elections. The Irish were at least worthy of the contempt, if not the hate of the present administration.

Emin Pasha and Dr. Peters.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 30.—Emin Bey, who is staying at a private house in Bagamoyo, is much improved in health and feels very cheerful. A party of French priests who have arrived at Malindi declare that they recently met Dr. Peters at Kokl. He was then in good health.

Russia Opposed to Germans.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30.—It is stated on semi-official authority that an Imperial Ukase will shortly issue prohibiting Germans from colonizing in southern Russia, where recently they have settled in considerable numbers.

Serpa Pinto Coming to America.

LISBON, Jan. 30.—It is reported here that Serpa Pinto is about to undertake a trip to America for the benefit of his health, which has become undermined by the excitement and worriment incident to his recent campaign in the Shire district.

TERRIBLE IF TRUE.

The Strange Story Told by a Young Man in a Kansas Town.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 30.—One of the most sensational cases that has been before the public for many years is now on trial in the District Court. Fannie Brown, a young girl, married Robert Burnside, who was old enough to be her grandfather.

They lived together in Highland Park happily, it is said, until Charles, the old man's son by a former wife, was pardoned and came home from the penitentiary. He was about Fannie's age, and an attachment followed. He confessed that they contrived to get the old man out of the way by giving him "rough on rats."

The body was buried, and months later the young people quarrelled. Fannie had Charles arrested for some trivial affair, and he became infuriated at her and told the story. Both were arrested. She claims to be innocent, but he confesses everything.

Acquitted of the Fraud.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 30.—The trial of Messrs. Hayter, Tenneson and Reed, charged with the robbery of the Sixth Ward ballot-box, has ended in their acquittal. The jury was out two hours.

No News from the Cunard Cashier.

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—No news has been received of Mr. Hurd, the missing cashier of the Cunard office. His accounts are all right, and his friends think that he has met with an accident.

Life Sentence for Wife Murder.

—An exchange says the present Winter somewhat resembles that of 1858. There was hardly a show of ice until about the middle of February, when severely cold weather set in and continued for more than a month, with plenty of ice for filling ice houses.

A Remarkable Escape.

Thomas Webster and wife, while driving across the Lehigh Valley Railroad tracks near their home at Roycefield, Somerset county, Monday evening, were struck by a Westbound passenger train. The horse was instantly killed, the carriage shattered to fragments and the occupants were thrown a distance of forty feet, landing upon a heap of stones. Aside from a severe shaking up they sustained no serious injuries. A basket full of glassware, which was in the carriage, was picked up intact fifty feet from the crossing.

Reckless Driving.

An exciting case of fast driving took place on Front street and Park avenue, this morning. Two men in a light wagon drove rapidly along Front street, and when turning into Park avenue the wagon swung around striking the curb with such force as to nearly upset the vehicle. The men drove along Park avenue in a zig zag fashion, but fortunately there were no other rigs in the way, and they escaped without a collision.

North Plainfield Taxes.

The taxpayers of the borough and township of North Plainfield should remember that unless their taxes are paid on or before to-morrow, January 31, their names will be recorded as delinquents with the County Clerk at Somerville, and the amount of tax remaining unpaid will become the first lien on their individual real estate.

The Y. M. C. A., Reception.

The Y. M. C. A., members—sustaining, active and associate—are privileged to attend the reception to-night. In addition to the pictures of the Camera club there will be a choice programme consisting of talent both local and professional. ANXIETY CONCERNING GEO. THATCHER.

For Fourteen Days He Has Been at Shady Run, Hemmed in by Mountains of Snow.

The great snow blockade of the Central Pacific Railroad is not over yet. Tales of sufferings and privations are coming in from all quarters, and passengers on the stalled trains are said to be in imminent danger from cold and starvation.

Three theatrical companies are buried in the Sierra Nevada drifts, and are reported to be undergoing terrible privations.

They have been locked up in their snowy prison for weeks, and many of the actors and actresses are having an experience that they will never forget.

The Howard Specialty Company with which Mr. and Mrs. George Thatcher of this city, are traveling has been locked up in one car for fourteen days at Shady Run, Cal. The drifts are piled about them in mountainous heaps, and the sufferings of the party are something terrible.

About a week ago the last of the food was eaten, and since then they have lived on salt meat, fish and crackers, which were only procured after adventurous trips to the railroad station.

Now the awful news comes that the fuel has given out. The cold is intense, and the members of the company huddle together in their efforts to keep warm.

Managers Rick and Harris had sent despatch after despatch to the Railroad Company, appealing to them for help.

Among the other companies snowed in is the Rowland Reed, "The Woman Hater," company of New York city, with which is prominently identified, Mrs. Mary Myers, sister of Mr. Ed. Marble, the distinguished minstrel, now a guest at Miller's Hotel, this city.

NOT MISS SWEENEY OF PLAINFIELD.

A Girl Found Dead With the Same Name, and From the Same Street.

On the first page of last Saturday's Press, appeared the following despatch:

Binghamton, N. Y., January 25.—A man calling at the laundry of Yee Lee and Sing Lee found both the Chinamen and a woman, named Mamie Sweeney dead on the floor. Physicians think death was caused by inhalation of chlorine gas generated in some way from washing materials. The woman was a dissipated character. It is said that Sing Lee's uncle is a merchant at 34 Pell street, New York.

It was at once rumored about the city that the unfortunate girl was Mamie Sweeney, whose parents live on East Third street. A Press reporter even found acquaintances of the Plainfield Sweeney girl who positively knew she was living at 34 Pell street, New York.

Advices received from Binghampton, however, prove that the girl mentioned in the despatch was from Scranton, where her parents and five sisters still live. She answers in no particular to the description of Mamie Sweeney of this city, except that the names are the same and the latter has been working in a Chinese laundry on Pell street.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Jennie VanWinkle of Madison avenue, is visiting at Albany, N. Y., and not at Asbury, N. J., as previously reported.

The Central Times says: "The New York Herald contained, on Sunday, an illustrated article on the Plainfield Bicycle Club. It was prepared by Nathan J. Laing, of the Daily Press."

At the Crescent League alleys, last evening, Master William L. McClure, the young son of Counselor Wm. K. McClure, rolled the remarkable score of 116 considering his youth and inexperience.

The many friends of Mr. Richard Merritt in this city, will be glad to learn that he is rapidly regaining his health at Tarrytown, N. Y., where he is undergoing a course of medical treatment.

Mr. Frank Talliant, of North Plainfield, and Vice President of the Oriental Social Club, was out yesterday for the first time after being confined to his home on Manning avenue, for the last four weeks with a serious attack of pneumonia.

The Alpine Social Club held another in the series of Winter sociables at the home of Mr. Edward Vail, at Evona, on Tuesday evening. The party consisted of about twenty-five couples, and the evening was passed in "tripping it lightly" to Prof. Frazee's inspiring strains. The next sociable in the series will take place on February 13.

Chicken Thieves at Somerville.

A brother of Dr. M. B. Long of this city, came down from Somerville, yesterday, looking for about thirty Wyandotte and Cochin chickens, which had been stoled from his hennery on Tuesday night, but he found no trace of the fowls.

This morning, however, two men drove up in front of Mr. Wm. VanSyckle's butcher shop on North avenue, and offered for sale twenty-two dressed chickens which resembled the stolen ones. Mr. VanSyckel purchased the fowls, and some of them were afterwards bought of him by Mr. Jacob Long for identification. Mr. Long, who is the father of the man whose coop had been robbed, also collected some specimens of corn from the crops of the other chickens in the lot sold to Mr. Van Syckle.

ASSUMING THE CORPORATION COUNSEL WROTE IT.

A Correspondent Asks Some Very Pointed Questions That Will Probably Receive Some Very Sharp Answers.

To the Editor of The Press:—I have been looking to see if a certain "Ex-Mayor" would have anything to say in reply to the article signed "tax payer" written in defense of the water contract, as many believe, by the Corporation Counsel. It is evident however, that the Ex-Mayor has a soul above personal controversy, especially with a man whom he appointed to office, and to whom he has, so far as known, shown nothing but favors, but who now attacks him with rudeness, remarking that the "Ex-Mayor" might have been in "better business than in" (what for sooth? why "than in") exposing the iniquities and absurdities of this water job.

The Corporation Counsel probably did not know who wrote the article in the Times, but whoever wrote it the Ex-Mayor's seniority and service might at least have saved him from this gratuitous affront. My impression is that the "Ex-Mayor" has at least been consistent in his opposition to this water job. Will the Corporation Counsel kindly tell us if his position has been as consistent? Is the zeal which from first to last this young lawyer has shown for this contract in strict keeping with his duty as paid Counsel to the City? Is he not the single individual now who, when one of our newspapers exposes the hollowness and one sidedness of this water works job, springs to the defense of the contract. What does all this mean and why does he show so much sensitiveness? What, if anything, has he had to do with the job, that makes him feel and act in this peculiar way? I pause for a reply to these questions. When I get the reply, I may wish to ask a few more.

One thing is certain—If this water works scheme in its present shape having been forced upon us, is carried into effect, those who have done it will never hear the last of it.

A Looker-on.

Plainfield, January 29, 1890.

[If the Corporatin Counsel wrote the article he probably considered it his duty to do so in defense of the Common Council's action in making the contract. F. E. Marsh, Esq., whose opposition to the Water Company has been marked, approved of the contract, as did also nearly every member of the Common Council. The Water Company's representatives have considered the City Attorney unreasonably obstructive from the beginning, and when such men as Henry B. Newhall, John B. Dumont, E. N. Erickson, F. E. Marsh, H. C. Squires, M. M. Dunham, A. T. Gallup, O. L. Jenkins, J. K. Myers, and we believe the President of the Council, endorse their attorney whose services were rendered under their supervision, there can be no doubt whatever of the disinterestness and fidelity of such services. If the contract was attacked, the Common Council had a right to have their own attorney defend it. The fact that an officer was first appointed to office by another should not in the slightest degree influence his official conduct. A man who would allow such a consideration to influence him would not be true to his oath of office to serve the City to the best of his ability.—Ed.]

A Precedent For Borough Commissioners.

In 1882 the Borough Commission of Dunellen ordered flag sidewalks laid. George W. Penwarden, cashier of the Standard Oil Company, refused to obey the order and the Commission sued. Mr. Penwarden certioraried the case to the Supreme Court, September team, 1882, and got a decision in his favor, Judge Reed holding that a Borough Commission in order to place a lien for borough improvements must act by ordinance and not by resoulution.

In the first case the commission passed a resolution when it already had an ordinance. H. B. Willis, counsel for the borough, then took proceedings in attachment in the Middlesex Circuit Court, and advertised Penwarden's property to be sold yesterday. Tuesday he paid the bill and costs in full. The case establishes a precedent for Borough Commissions.

The Grand Lodge Meeting.

The Grand Lodge of New Jersey, F. and A. M., began its annual session, at Masonic Temple, Trenton, yesterday. There was a large attendance of the prominent members of the Order present, including Messrs. C. A. Marsh, F. O. Herring, C. M. Goddard, and W. J. Ford, of Anchor Lodge, and Messrs. W. H. Sebring, H. Woodland and B. F. Coriell of Jerusalem Lodge, this city.

Grand Master Chartes H. Mann, of Handonfield, presided, and during the morning delivered his annual address. In the afternoon numerous committees reported and the routine business of the Order was attended to. In the evening the three first degrees of the Order were exemplified.

The session will continue today and officers will be elected.

Another Stormy Church Meeting.

There was another congregational meeting in Mt. Olive church, on Monday evening, and there was much disorder throughout the session. When the excitement was the greatest, it is reported, one of the colored "sisters" started for town to hunt up Chief Carey in order to have the "church" arrested. The discussion related to church matters.

—It is proposed to re-organize the boy's brigade in connection with Hope chapel.

CONTRACT, OR MUDDLE?

DANGEROUS FEATURES OF THE WATER WORKS FRANCHISE.

We May be Flooded With Bonds, if Never With Water—A Humorous Provision That the City May go to the Expense of Completing the Work "At the Expense of the Company."

Below in full is given a second article from the Central Times on the water contract, which calls attention again and more forcibly to those features of which the sole defender of the contract had nothing to say in his communication published in THE PRESS of last Friday.

Our remarks last week on the water scheme seem to have opened the eyes of a good many citizens to the actual contract sanctioned by the Common Council last year, and to have produced some disturbance among the promoters of the scheme. A reply has been published by a defender of the contract. Singularly enough the writer of it admitted the truth of one of the two points we made last week, and was wholly silent on the other. The first of these points was—that the bond given by the water company was a penal bond only, forfeiting nothing absolutely to the city, and therefore constituted a very limited and inadequate protection to the city. The second, and much more important, point made was, that the water company is at liberty to create a flood of bonds, whether it should ever turn on a flood of water or not. There is nothing in the contract which limits the amount, or kind, or interest rate, of the debts, or mortgages with which it may encumber the property. There is nothing, in other words, to prevent the company from selling any amount of bonds it may choose, or from thus bankrupting itself if it should so choose, so as to make itself an entirely irresponsible party for the city to deal with, either in the adjustment of any claims which the city might have against it, or as a vendor of the property, if the city should ever desire to avail of the so-called option to purchase.

Of course, if the water company desired to act in the best of faith, and really had the means to carry out their contract, they would do it on a stock basis, and without incurring bonded or other indebtedness. On the other hand, if the party was one without means, and disposed to avail of their contract and privilege in a merely speculative way, they would naturally float as many bonds as the outside public could be induced to buy of them, and thus make all the money, "cash in hand," that they could, leaving any sort of a deluge to follow, that might. If they were not residents or citizens of Plainfield, that fact might leave them without the local sentiment or pride which sometimes deters persons from being identified with disaster to a local institution.

Either this contract for water works is a prior lien on the works themselves, or it is not. If it is, then the bonds that the water works may issue would constitute a second mortgage. If it is not such a first lien—and that is the way it looks to us—then under the terms of this contract the city is liable to find itself a responsible party on the one side, and the water works company, overloaded perhaps with debt, and thus irresponsible, on the other side. One thing seems to be carefully provided for in the contract, and that is a considerably higher taxation for every property holder in the town, whether benefited or not by the water works. The continued solvency of the water company is not so carefully provided for.

It is rather diverting to a mind susceptible to humorous influences to read certain portions of this water works contract. For example, look at article 82 in said contract.

"In case the company fails to complete the works within the stipulated time, then the city may assume the charge of the work, carry it on to completion in the manner herein contracted by said company, and at the expense of said company."

But suppose that the company has been issuing, as it went along, a construction mortgage covering its plant so far and so fast as built, how is the city ever to recover any money thus laid out by it in completing the works? Here again we see no provision for forfeiture either of the company's corporate existence, or powers, or shares, or of its incomplete works to the city. The effect of this 82d article seems to be, that if, after the city has given away this water works franchise, and got into trouble about a failure of the company or its contract, it can find any investors or capitalists willing to lend it (the city) the money with which to complete the water works plant, then it may have the great boon and privilege of completing for the company its work and may then get back the sum so expended—if it can.

The stock exchange list shows plenty of wrecked water works concerns. One small town not far distant from us in New Jersey, is burdened with a debt of $1,000,000 for water works—a "reorganized" debt at that. There are many concerns who never get far enough to obtain a stock exchange quotation. We sincerely trust that no institution of ours will ever again come to grief. If we are spared such experiences, it may prove that the warning we have recently felt compelled to utter may have contributed to this immunity.

We are far from having any personal difference with any of the projectors of the water enterprise. Their object naturally is to make money and to get the best bargain out of the city that they can. If it were not for one or two circumstances and accidental points in connection with this business, which do not appear upon the surface, but which may yet affect legally the power of the company to enforce this peculiar contract against the city, we should say that the arrangement as it stands is much more in favor of the company than of the city. These points may yet serve in case of great need as a partial cover from injury in case of any attempt to take advantage of the city on technical grounds. What we fear is, that for all parties concerned we have on hand a water works agreement which is less of a contract than of a muddle.

SPARES DID IT AGAIN.

The West End Bowlers of Somerville, Defeated as Before by the Olympics.

At Somerville, last evening, was rolled a return match between the West End bowling team of that town, and the Olympics of this city. The first game was on the 14th inst., on the Olympia alleys, when the latter won by a score of 1411 to 1169. The former did better on their own alleys, last evening, yet they were defeated as the score below shows.

Again the Olympics bowling proved the judgment of those who manage the team, in its selection. A complete record is kept of each man's success in making possible spares, and the team is chosen in accordance. Despite the fact that by mistake Collier's ball had been turned down so small that it had not weight enough to accomplish anything, yet the team won because of their ability to make the spares.

The score was as follows:

That Grade Crossing Controversy.

The contest between the New Jersey Central and the Pennsylvania Railroads over the grade crossing of the new short line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Elizabeth branch of the Central Railroad on the Meadows, between Elizabeth and Newark, was before the Court of Chancery in Jersey City on Monday. The argument was on the demurrer of the Pennsylvania to the application of the Central for an injunction to restrain the Pennsylvania from making the crossing. The Chancellor reserved his decision.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 25, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. R. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

BRAZIL RECOGNIZED

The President Cordially Greets the New Envoys.

AWFUL UPROAR IN THE HOUSE.

The Minority Rebels Against a Decision of Speaker Reed.

Both Sides Use Harsh Language—Ex. Senator Bruce Appointed Recorder of the District of Columbia—Arguing for the Copyright Bill Democratic Senators Hold a Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The completion of the formal recognition of the United States of Brazil occurred at the Executive Mansion, when Dr. Valente, the new Minister accredited by the Provisional Government, and Mr. Mendonca, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary on a special mission to this country, called and presented their credentials to President Harrison.

Secretary Blaine accompanied the two representatives of the new Brazilian Government, and presented them to the President. The ceremonies took place in the Blue Room and were marked by great cordiality. Dr. Valente, upon presenting his credentials, spoke as follows:

"Mr. President: It is gratifying to me to have the honor of placing in your Excellency's hands the letter by which the Chief of the Provisional Government of the United States of Brazil, has been pleased to confirm me in the capacity of Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States of America. Giving full expression to the sentiments and the earnest wishes which animate the new Government of Brazil towards this great Republic, and following my own impulses as well, I beg to assure you, Mr. President, that I shall omit no effort of any kind to cultivate the friendly relations that have ever existed between our two countries. I feel very happy to have once more the occasion to express to your excellency the wishes of the Government and people of Brazil for the increasing prosperity of the American people."

President Harrison replied as follows: Mr. Minister: I receive you as the representative of a new Republic. It is always a grateful duty to the Government of the United States. The peaceful course of events that has transformed the Empire of Brazil into the United States of Brazil has been observed with deep interest by the Government and people of this country. It is a source of profound satisfaction to the American people that the Provisional Government of the Brazilian Republic came into power without bloodshed and without violence. I trust this circumstance may prove a happy augury of peace, progress and prosperity in the career which now opens to the United States of Brazil. Speaking for the people of this country, it will be my constant aim to cultivate the most friendly relations with your Government, to increase the personal intercourse and to enlarge the commercial exchanges between the two Republics.

TUMULT IN THE HOUSE.

A Decision of the Speaker Causes Great Excitement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—The wildest and most tumultuous scene since Reconstruction times, was enacted in the House over the motion to take up the Smith-Jackson West Virginia election case.

After removing the political disabilities of Mr. Morgan, of Texas, Mr. Dalzell called up the contested West Virginia case. Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, raised the question of consideration, and filibustering commenced immediately. The Democrats generally refused to vote and made the point of no quorum. Speaker Reed ordered the clerk to call the roll and counted as present the members refusing to vote. When he declared a quorum present the House was in a great turmoil, several members on both sides demanding to be recognized. Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, when his name was called, took the floor and denounced the action of the Speaker as "revolutionary." With this the Democrats stood up and cheered him, or shouted their protests by cries of "Oh!" which the Republicans characterized as the "Rebel yell." The scene at this moment on the floor of the House was one of tumult and riot.

When quiet was restored the Speaker made a long statement in justification of his course, citing the action of Governor Hill, of New York, while presiding officer of the New York State Senate, in deciding that three-fifths of the members present were a quorum—although some of them refrained from voting—as precisely similar to his decision.

Another process, he said, which every old member would recognize, where the opinion of the chair is accepted as incontestable evidence of the recognition of the right to record members present, as constituting part of a quorum, who did not vote, was seen in the every-day occurrence at certain stages of the sessions of the House when votes were announced by the chair, containing obviously and emphatically no quorum. Yet if the point was not made the bill was always declared passed, and that could only be on a very distinct basis, and that was that everybody present silently agreed to the fact that there was a quorum.

Appointed by the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The President appointed Blanche K. Bruce Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia. He also sent to the Senate the following nominations of Supervisors of the Census: NEW YORK—R. R. Odell, jr., 4th district; R. S. Robinson, 6th district; M. W. Van Auken, 8th district; Silas J. Douglass, 11th district. MAINE—James S. Wright, 1st district; Frank Gilman, 2nd district. MARYLAND—W. H Perkins, 3d district.

Trouble in Colombia.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—A report from Colombia says the San Blas Indians there, who are largely interested in American trade, have raised the United States flag, in defiance of the Colombian Government, owing to its interference with American trading vessels.

Printers Argue for the Copyright Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Representatives of typographical unions appeared before the Judiciary Committee of the House to-day and argued in favor of the passage of the International Copyright bill.

NEW JERSEY LAWMAKERS.

The Senate to Investigate Senator McDonald's Election—Bills Passed.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 30.—In the Senate a protest was presented by Mr. Gardner from the Presbyteries of Morris and Orange against the passage of Senate bill 30, which requires the approval of the sessions of Presbyterian churches to the election of trustees and letting of churches for other than religious purposes.

The Ballot Reform Committee was announced as follows: Martin, Carter, Werts and McDonald.

Mr. Gardner introduced a resolution to investigate the election contest of William S. Stuhr against Edward F McDonald. The resolution was immediately adopted.

In the House a resolution to extend the privileges of the floor of the Grand Lodge of Freemasons was adopted without debate.

Mr. Marsh's bill to make the terms of County Collectors two years instead of one, was taken up on third reading and would have passed but Mr. Potts asked to have it laid over till Monday night.

Mr. Kalisch's bill allowing defendants' counsel in criminal cases to take a general exception to the charges of the Court, was taken up on third reading. The bill passed, there being only one vote against it.

Mr. Kelly's bill giving Boards of Freeholders in Hudson and Essex Counties the power to fill vacancies until the next general election was debated. It was discovered that an amendment having this purport had been put in by the Municipal Corporations Committee, and the bill was thereupon put upon first passage. Messrs. Erwin, Potts and Jackson voted in the negative.

Mr. Marsh's bill for the benefit of Firemen's relief associations passed unanimously.

The following bills were introduced:

By Mr. Marsh—An act for the relief of Louisa R. Failer.

By Mr Williams—Provides that when any fire company shall disband the members in good standing at the time of disbandment shall be exempt from serving in the militia in time of peace or as a juror.

By Mr. Kalisch—A supplement to "An act respecting writs of errors" revision. Gives writs of error in cases where a motion for new trial is asked and refused.

By Mr. Stull—Provides that after Dec. 1 next, Boards of Freeholders in counties of the second class, shall consist of two Freeholders from each Assembly district, and a Director-at-Large shall be elected from the whole of such county, salary of Freeholders shall be $500 and that of Director $1,000.

SILCOTT IS FOUND

The Defaulter and Miss Thebault in Canada.

NOT AFRAID OF DETECTIVES.

He Has Consulted Good Legal Advice and Feels Safe in His Retreat.

Stopping at the Parental Residence of His Female Friend—Claims the Charges of Forgery Are Bosh—If He Had Taken Miss Thebault's Advice He Would Be in a Different Position.

TERREBONNE, Que., Jan. 31.—After a search lasting almost two months news is received from Craven Edward Silcott, the cashier of the Sergeant-at-Arms' office of the United States House of Representatives, who absconded from Washington on November 30 with about $95,000.

A newspaper representative discovered the defaulter with Louise Thebault, the frail beauty for whom it is said he went wrong, at the residence of her aged parents, who are typical samples of the Canadian rural gentry. They seem to be still unaware of their daughter's fall and apparently believe that she is the wife of the man whom she is said to have lured to his ruin.

The interview with the reporter who discovered Silcott was brief. He seemed to be ill at ease, and to wish himself miles away.

The Defaulter Ill at Ease.

"Now listen to me," said he, to the newspaper man. "This is neither the time or the place to speak of the defalcation, but the time will come when those who are now hardest against me will know I was not so much to blame, as to the charges of forgeries, that is all bosh. There is scarcely a member of the House to whom I did not advance his pay every month and received notes or receipts. When I left Washington for New York I had not the remotest idea of leaving the United States.

Miss Thebault Not to Blame.

"There is another thing I want stated, and that is that Miss Thebault, of who such hideous falsehoods are told, had nothing to do with my fall. Had I always taken her advice I would be in a different position to-day."

Not Afraid of Detectives.

"I do not care a cent for all the detectives in the United States and Canada," said Silcott. "I would face arrest, to-morrow, and that is all they could do, as they would be as far from that $5,000 reward as ever. I have obtained the best legal advice in Canada, and feel assured that I have committed no offence for which I could be extradited. The day will come when I will not appear as black as I am now painted. Good night." And thus the interview with Silcott was brought to a close.

FIGHTING IN COURT.

The Frost Divorce Case Winds up With Another Assault.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Jan. 31.—The sensational Frost divorce case developed another unlooked for incident last night. As Judge Churchill stepped off the bench after delivering his charge to the jury, W. J. Dempsey, who, on Tuesday, assaulted Lawyer Lawrence in open court for reflecting on the character of his sister, again made a savage attempt to assault the lawyer. Edgar E. Frost, the plaintiff, interfered, and a lively scuffle ensued.

Women screamed, the crowd pressed forward, and an ugly row seemed imminent until deputy sheriffs separated the belligerents and hustled Dempsey from the court room. Dempsey says he will chastise Lawrence on sight.

That Box of Securities.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 31.—John C. Patterson, who was robbed on Dec. 7, while standing at the Delaware Bank counter, of a box containing $11,500 in securities, got back the plunder last night through Philadelphia detectives. The plunder had been conveyed to Canada, and its recovery entailed intricate and delicate negotiations and the expenditure of $3,500.

A Rushing Coke Trade.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 31.—Nervous apprehension of a coke strike and cars in abuddance serve to make a rushing coke trade. Furnace men are sending orders beyond their need. There are 13,920 active and 621 idle ovens. The week's tonnage is 41,652 tons. The shipments reached the grand total of 7,710 cars. No change in price is probable.

Steamer Sold at Auction.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Sheriff Goodale sold the steamer W. W. Coit at public auction. The boat was bought in for $23,000, which is believed to be about $1,500 in excess of all claims.

POWDERLY'S DENIAL.

He Did Not Say He Was Not a Candidate for Governor.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 31.—General Master Workman Powderly publishes a letter denying the correctness of the interview in which he was reported to have sought the candidacy for Governor on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Powderly says he has not denied being a canditate, but he did not intend saying anything on the subject just yet.

High Prices at an Autograph Auction.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—At an autograph auction a page written by Dickens, containing a humorous agreement among three friends who were about to have a walking match, sold for $205. A letter from Byron to a friend fetched $55. A bit of Thackeray's manuscript went for $8, and the same price was paid for a letter from Washington to Madison.

WORKMEN IN COUNCIL.

Ballot Reform Discussed by the Federation of Labor.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—The delegates to the State Trades Federation devoted a great deal of attention to the committee report on ballot reform. It was asserted that the general public thought that the Saxton bill was the Australian bill, and so it would go out that they endorsed the Republican party. The matter was settled by endorsing the Massachusetts system and recommending it to the Legislature.

Resolutions recommended favorably and then adopted were: To amend the Mechanic's Lien law so that a lien cannot be bonded; to request more school facilities in New York city; to recommend New York city as the place for holding the World's Fair; to endorse the United Hatters' label; to request the Legislature to make it a penal offence to create trusts; to endorse the trade unionists of Syracuse; to prevent gambling in grain; to endorse the Mechanic's Lien law.

A resolution to ask for the employment of only union men on the Albany and other State armories was adopted.

The Fassett bill, and the Trades Assembly bill, increasing the number of factory inspectors, and adding women, were read and the Fassett measure with a few amendments was adopted. It was charged by a delegate from Brooklyn that Mr. Connelly, the present Factory Inspector, was incompetent, and the law was not carried out. The Fassett bill allows the Governor to appoint eight women factory inspectors.

THE TROY TRAGEDY.

Inventor Firth Still Alive and the Woman Who Shot Him Remanded for Trial.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—When arraigned in court for shooting Edwin Firth, the inventor, Minnie Warnicke, the prisoner, refused to make a statement, but through her counsel, John J. Halligan of New York, declined to plead. She was remanded to jail until next Thursday.

Thd prisoner is uncommunicative, although she said that it was her intention when she first came here to have Firth arrested. She applied for a warrant, but it was refused on the ground that the offence, if any was committed, was done in Chicago.

Then she determined that if Firth did not make reparation she would try to right the wrong herself.

She says that she did not care whether Firth lived with her or not, but she wanted a marriage ceremony so as to protect the name of her unborn child.

Firth says that the prisoner knew him to be a married man, but this assertion Mrs. Warnicke emphatically denies; that their intimacy was in the nature of a business transaction, and that he gave her money every time he saw her.

Firth is not by any means out of danger. Dr. Finder states there is a possibility of meningitis. The occipital bone is fractured and a drainage tube has been placed in the wound.

Serious Race Riot.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 31.—A race riot occurred at Morgan, Calhoun County, yesterday, during which one white man was fatally shot and three others seriously wounded. A number of negroes were also shot, but none killed. The row was caused by a drunken negro striking a white child and the subsequent attempts of officers to arrest him. The town was full of negroes who had come from all parts of the country to witness the execution of Polk Newton, a negro murderer.

Pugilist Jackson Will Go South.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The return of Pugilist Jackson from Boston has created a flutter among sporting men. Jackson regretted that he was not formally introduced to John. L. Sullivan and was sorry he failed to see him. The colored pugilist in company with Jack Ashton and Parson Davies will go through the South and Southwest, and according to his contract with the California Athletic Club will be prepared to meet and knock out all intruders, Sullivan included.

Burglars in the President's Home.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—President Harrison's house on North Delaware street, was entered by burglars, who carried away property to the value of $1,200. The house is occupied by Henry S. Fraser and family, but much of the President's property is still in the residence. Most of the loss will fall on the Frasers.

Public Works Appointment.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Superintendent of Public Works Hannan appointed Thomas Galvin, of Troy, a son of ex-Postmaster Galvin, chief clerk of the office of Public Works. Terrence I. Hardin, formerly a division superintendent, was appointed assistant superintendent in place of John E. Ashe, resigned.

BANKS IN A CRASH

Two Big Financial Surprises for New York City.

ARRESTING THE WRECKERS.

The Timely Warning of a Cashier Stops the Work of a Reckless Syndicate.

The Bank Examiner Recovers Part of the Steal—Big Price Paid for Bank Stock—The Safe Gutted to Raise the Money—Queer Financial Tricks of the Conspirators.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Two banks closed and the third in a shaky condition and broker George H. Pell arrested for alleged complicity in a deal that caused the trouble.

Such is the record of the last two days in New York following on the announcement of the managers in the Sixth National Bank, Broadway and Thirty-third street.

Bank Examiner Hepburn, yesterday brought to light an astounding state of affairs.

The new president of the bank, P. J. Classen, during his two days' term of office had endeavored to dispose of $633,000 worth of the bank's securities, consisting of bonds with a market value of $800,000.

These bonds were all sold with the exception of $250,000 worth, and no one can tell where the money has gone.

The syndicate which bought the controlling interest in the bank from Charles H. Leland, the former president, is represented by Mr. Classen, and the most mysterious part of the whole affair is the fact that that Mr. Leland sold his 1,035 shares of stock at $650, though they never brought more than $150 in the market before.

The Bank Ruined.

A week ago the Sixth National Bank was considered one of the soundest financial institutions of this city. It had a record of 25 years' standing, and its depositors were proud of the prudence and energy which the management was reputed to have so wisely combined. Its capital had been strengthened by a handsome reserve fund, while its stock was rated very high by judicious investors and commanded a handsome premium. Last evening the United States Bank Examiner, who had made a thorough investigation of the bank's affairs, was compelled to admit that the bank was ruined, and that it was "the most scandalous case of bank wrecking which had ever come within his jurisdiction."

Method in Their Madness.

The payment of $650 a share for bank stock which was quoted at $250 was not the piece of recklessness which it would at first appear.

Immediately upon the payment of the checks the keys of the vault were turned over to them. In the vaults of the bank were gilt edged securities valued at $692,000. These were taken and the greater part either sold or hypothecated. The proceeds were deposited in the banks on which the checks were drawn, so that they would not be protested. In other words, they used the assets of the bank to pay for the stock they had purchased. A very clever scheme, when it is remembered not a dollar was actually paid out of their own pockets.

Exposed by the Cashier.

They obtained control of the bank for nothing and at the same time succeeded in getting rid of a lot of worthless stock, certificates that were not even notable as specimens of the lithographer's art. The privilege which the bank possesses of raising the capital stock of the bank from $200,000 to $1,000,000 afforded such glorious opportunities for fleecing the public by watering the stock that it is fair to presume it would be taken advantage of had not the exposure occurred.

The cashier of the bank, A. E. Colson, first put into active shape the suspicions which had lain dormant in the minds of many. He became alarmed when he saw the new control making big loans on the stock of the Equitable and the Lenox Hill banks, two comparatively small concerns. He laid the facts before the Clearing House Committee, and the National Bank Examiner Hepburn was called in to make an investigation. This resulted in the closing of the doors of the banks.

The Scene at the Bank.

The scene at the door of the bank was an exciting one. Before it stood policemen, who good naturedly but firmly urged along even the most substantial looking of the depositors, who began to arrive at the Broadway entrance. Not only these, but citizens of all classes, men, women and children, were attracted by the unusual sight of a bank with closed doors, an ominous looking sign in plain script on its panels. The depositors received but little information, except that they were told by cashier A. Colson they would receive their deposits in full, whatever might be the extent to which the stockholders would be involved.

The Lenox Also Suspends.

The Lenox Bank, though the officers declared in the morning that there was no danger, had a run on it. It could not stand the strain and suspended payment. When Mr. Colson, cashier of the Sixth National, called and presented two certified checks for $50,000, Cashier Cornell, of the Lenox Bank, said that the bank had temporarily closed.

In the course of conversation between the two cashiers Mr. Colson said: "There are 50 more checks certified like these."

Pell Under Arrest.

George H. Pell, who is said to have had charge of the scheme for purchasing the bank was arrested at his residence on Fifty-fifth street by United States Commissioner Shields. He was taken to Ludlow Street Jail, where he refused to be seen by reporters.

Death of Miss Augusta Winckler.

At her home in North Plainfied between eleven and twelve o'clock of last evening, occurred the death of Augusta, daughter of Augustus J. and Margaret A. Winckler, aged nineteen years and three months.

She was taken sick to her bed on Thanksgiving day, and her illness developed into hasty consumption which resulted in her death. She was conscious until the last, and as the end was approaching she called each member of the family to the bedside and spoke consoling words to them. Her death was peaceful and happy.

Miss Winckler was a member of the Congregational church and was a regular attendant up to the time her illness begun.

The funeral will take place from the house, 32 Park place, on Sunday at one o'clock, P. M.

HOT SHOT FROM THE CORPORATION COUNSEL.

He Stamps the Communication of "A Looker-On" as a Criminal Libel Upon Himself and the Members of the Common Council, and Shows that it Would be Denounced by the Very Man in Whose Behalf it was Written.

Ex-Mayor L. V. F. Randolph has always been regarded in this community as a man eminently qualified to take care of himself. When, therefore, an anonymous letter from some over-zealous friend of his is published, eulogizing the ex-Mayor as one whose "soul is above personal controversy," etc., and making on his behalf a personal attack upon the supposed author of views opposing those of the ex-Mayor, which anonymous attack is both a civil and a criminal libel, for which the anonymous writer is liable to imprisonment not exceeding two years at hard labor, besides civil damages, a case is presented in which the ex-Mayor may well, "pray to be delivered from his friends." There are several considerations that will satisfy those who know Mr. Randolph that if he had been consulted by his volunteer champion, the former would have denounced the libel in unmeasured terms. Some of these considerations are as follows:

If the water contract is the "juggle" and "farce" the Times editorial asserts, it follows that the Common Council and the Corporation Counsel were the jugglers and actors in the faree, or else were so densely ignorant as not to perceive that they were being duped. Yet when an answer to the Times article appears, which is ascribed to the Corporation Counsel and in which the writer specifically points out the errors and delusions under which the writer of the Times article labored, and undertakes to prove that the Common Council and their attorney were neither knaves or fools in approving the contract, this pretended friend of Mr. Randolph makes a personal attack upon the Corporation Counsel (assuming him to be the writer of the article) for daring to defend the joint work of himself and the Common Council for whom he was acting as attorney, and imputes corrupt motives and venality.

Again this friend alludes to the fact of Mayor Randolph having appointed the Corporation Counsel to office and having shown him nothing but favors.

Mr. Randolph is as incapable of the littleness, not to say baseness, suggested in the use made of these facts, as he is of committing any other despicable act. He would never have appointed to high office and continued ever after to honor with his confidence and friendship a man of such contemptible character as he would possess who would allow such considerations to affect his conduct as Counsel. There are men, who, having bestowed such favors, would consider that the recipient was bound to obey their behests and advocate their views, right or wrong, forever after; but from personal experience, under the most trying circumstances, I believe that ex-Mayor Randolph is not that kind of a man, and I say that when this anonymous writer puts Mr. Randolph in the other light, as he does in the article in question, he libels Mr. Randolph as well as the Corporation Counsel.

Another reason that satisfies me that Mr. Randolph would condemn the over-zealous friend of his, who thinks that the former needs a defender, is that the libel in question imputes corruption to men, whom Mr. Randolph, in common with the rest of the community, regards as possessed of integrity unassailable.

Another thing satisfies my mind that the volunteer defender of Mr. Randolph and defamer of the Common Council and City Attorney has not the sanction of Mr. Randolph, is a comparison of the libel in question with the editorial appearing on the same day in the Central Times, with which newspaper Mr. Randolph is known to be connected. While the Times editorial is, in my judgment, wholly fallacious and based on errors which may be easily shown, yet it is dignified and high toned, and just such an editorial as we would expect from the gentleman referred to in opposing a contract of which he disapproved. But compare it with the anonymous libeller's effusion. Is it conceivable that Mr. Randolph would be respectable in his own paper and disreputable the same day, on the same subject in another newspaper? If he meant to use or sanction the expressions "water job" "iniquities of the contract," &c., and by necessary implication to charge venality and corruption upon Messrs. J. B. Dumont, H. B. Newhall, H. C. Squires, E. N. Erickson and F. E. Marsh, who composed the committee that negotiated the contract with the Water Company, and upon their attorney, the Corporation Counsel, and upon J. Herbert Johnston, Col. James Moore, Samuel Knox and their associates in the Water Company, he would hardly have been capable of the cowardice involved in leaving the attack out of his own newspaper, and publishing it, or sanctioning its publication under the pseudonym "Looker on" in another newspaper.

It is clear therefore that Mr. Randolph neither wrote nor inspired nor had anything whatever to do with the libelous article. I am glad to believe this and to express that belief publicly, for while I would not allow the friendship of the best friend on earth to deter me from the performance of what I conceive to be my duty, still, I should be sorry to lose so good a friend and at the same time to lose my respect for him whom I have always held in the highest esteem, and who has many times advanced my interests by unselfish personal efforts in my behalf for which I shall always entertain and express a profound sense of gratitude.

Well then, as to the charges that the contract was a "job," and that it was "iniquitous," and as to the innuendo that the Corporation Counsel had something "to do with the job," I scorn to reply. If the character for integrity of the Councilmen who had the matter in charge for the city, and of the attorney whom Mayor Randolph first nominated and ever after endorsed, and whom succeeding Mayors and Common Councils of all parties have retained in office for eight years thereafter, is not proof against the attacks of anonymous newspaper correspondents, then no man is safe against calumny.

An Evening's Entertainment at Warren Mission.

There were two hundred and fifty persons in attendance last evening, at the sociable held in the chapel under the auspieces of the Young People's Society of Warren Mission. The admission was limited to the members of the society and their friends who received complimentary tickets. Much credit is due the committee in charge for the excellent programme furnished for the occasion, which was as follows:

Piano Solo.....Mr. Wm. McClymont
Singing—"Behold the Fields are White,"..Choir
Recitation—"The Unnamed Hero,".Miss Marsh
Solo—"What Jack Will Say," Chas. Dencklau
Recitation.....Mr. Jack Carney
Piano Solo.....Mr. Wm. McClymont
Recitation—"Whistling in Heaven," Miss Marsh
Solo—"Panic did it all,".....Chas. Dencklau
Recitation.....Mr. Jack Carney
Duett—"It was spoken for the Master,"
Miss Lena Squires and Maggie Shepherd, with chorus.
Recitation—"Bachelor's Dream."..Miss Marsh

All the persons taking part were received with great applause. Special mention should be made of the recitations rendered by Miss Marsh of Westfield, and Mr. J. H. Carney of this city. Mr. Carney in his representation of "The German Serenade," and original description of "The World's Fair," was immense. The violin used in the serenade was manufactured expressly for the occasion. Refreshments were served and a general social time ensued.

Young People's Sociable.

The sociable given under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Trinity Reformed church, in the lecture room of the church last evening, was one of the most successful ever given by the Society, and the ladies who constituted the committee of arrangements are to be congratulated upon the result of the affair.

Among those who contributed to the pleasure of the entertainment were Master Herbert Schutt, a member of the boy's choir of Holy Cross church, who has a sweet soprano voice, and Master Johnnie Voehl, who recited "The Music Stool" pleasingly, and the "The Dutchman and the Telephone," and "The Boy and The Pin," in response to encores. All were heartily applauded.

The balance of the programme consisted of violin solos by Mr. Andrew Carpenter; the Art Gallery shown by Mr. E. E. Anthony, and a dialogue, "The Art Critic," by "Aunt Nancy and her neice Isabel." The characters were taken by Mrs. J. C. VanDyke and Miss Ella Dunn. There was a large attendance present.

The committee who had charge of the affair, consisted of Miss Emma Gillam, chairman, Mrs. W. Oliver, Miss Ella Conkey, Miss Ella Gardner, Miss Grace Nevius, Miss Ella Krymer. Chocolate and wafers were served in abundance.

$125 Worth of Tools Stolen.

Some time during last night a thief or thieves carried away from the bridge now in course of erection over Stony brook on Rockview avenue, North Plainfield, a box of tools belonging to the Wrought Iron Bridge Company of Canton, Ohio, valued at about $125. This company has the contract for building the bridge, and was necessarily obliged to use a large number of tools, some of which cost ten dollars apiece. No clew was left whereby the identity of the perpetrators of the crime might be established.

The company has of late been missing lumber from the new bridge, and this morning Mr. John W. Reeves, the company's agent, went before Justice Hardy in North Plainfield, and swore out a complaint against Chas. Trotter, charging him with confiscating lumber valued at upwards of $10. Constable Bauersachs apprehended the accused, and he gave bail to appear for a hearing, probably to-morrow.

Important Change in Time.

Mr. Wm. D. Murray will conduct the Young Men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms next Sunday afternoon. The meeting will begin promptly at 4:15 and close at 5:15 o'clock. Sharp, spirited singing and live talks may be expected. All young men, whether members of the Association or not, are urged to be present.

No One Should Miss It.

The exhibition of photograph work by the members of the Plainfield Camera Club, is now open to the public every afternoon and evening at the Y. M. C. A., rooms. The display is particularly fine and thoroughly entertaining. One must needs go more than once to enjoy all that is in it.

ATTRACTIONS OF A MEMBER'S RECEPTION.

A Fine Display of Local Photography, Vocal and Instrumental Music, Humorous Recitations, An Address by President Murray and Refreshments, at the Y. M. C. A. Rooms.

There was "standing room only" in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., last evening, and even when the main hall was opened for the musical and literary entertainment, there were not enough seats for the large gathering of men and boys who were present by invitation. President W. D. Murray, Secretary J. H. Manning, and Messrs. J. W. Gavett and G. M. Griffen cordially welcomed each comer and made all feel at home immediately.

The principal attraction of the occasion—which was one of the regular "members' receptions"—was the display of their own work by members of the Plainfield Camera Club. One room was entirely devoted to the photographs which filled all available space on the walls and easels. There were fifteen exhibitors represented—Messrs. W. H. Lyon, Jr, A. W. Day, F. R. Stevens, G. Harry Squires, J. Greensmith, W. B. Post, C. H. Davis, L. W. Serrell, Jr., G. W. Morrison, J. Hervey Doane, H. Serrill, A. J. Gavett, J. E. Stewart, E. Marx and M. Faber.

The decorating of the room and the arranging of the exhibit, is very creditable to Mr. J. Hervey Doane who had entire charge of that matter. The display includes much that would be creditable to the most expert professionals. The work of Mr. W. B. Post, finished by himself, deserves especial mention. He has presented his exhibit to the Y. M. C. A., and it will remain permanently on the walls of the Association. The reception committee of the club consisted of Messrs W. H. Lyon, Jr., A. J. Gavett and G. W. Morrison. Mr. A. W. Day took a flash light photograph of those present, in the evening.

In the main hall a programme of entertainment was given that was fully enjoyed and repeatedly encored. Miss Jessie Utter and Miss Alice Holmes played a galop by Schulhoff, an overture by Kalliwoda, and as an encore piece, a selection of Moszkowski's. Master Teddy Freeman sang "Baby's Dreams," and, in response to loud recalls, "Two Marionettes." He also rendered in the same effective way, "Where did you come from, Baby dear?" Mr. F. D. Maltby, of Brooklyn, a clever story teller, interspersed the programme with humorous recitations showing a pleasing variety of dialect and facial expression. President Wm. D. Murray told in an address the purposes of the Association and the attractions and benefits it offered.

Refreshments were served by the following members of the "Ladies 9"—Mrs. J. W. Gavett, Miss Murray, Miss Gavett, Miss Holmes, Miss Dunn and the Misses Demarest.

The Rev. Dr. J. C. Bliss took Part in the Debate.

The debates of the New York Presbytery over the revision of the Confession of Faith again drew a large audience to the Scotch Presbyterian church in New York on Wednesday. The Rev. John F. Forbes started the debate. He did not believe that infants were lost because of not being elected. He favored the revision and thought the time would come when the Church would require a new creed.

Among the other distinguished clergymen who took part in the debate, was the Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, formerly pastor of the Crescent Avenue church in this city. Dr. Bliss expressed himself in favor of the revision.

He gave some samples of substitutes for the sections of the third chapter, which the Revision Committee proposes to omit. While his substitutes breathed infinite love they were mindful of Young's dictum, "A God all mercy is a God unjust."

Oh, Move That Freight House!

[From the New York World.]

The Central New Jersey, it is rumored, will make extensive changes around Plainfield station with the approach of Spring. Commuters living in the eastern and southern parts of the city have been urging the Company for several years to remove its freight-house from its present location, opposite the passenger-station, and convert the land into a park. Wide detours now have to be made by Peace street and Park avenue to reach the station from the other side of the tracks, the only short cut being dirt roads; up a hill, and over the tracks from Sixth street and Park avenue. The switch-yards are grouped around the freight-house, and make the crossing of the tracks at the station a dangerous feat at times. The Central has finished a roadway through the depot park on the station side, and is now engaged in replacing the old fence, supported by wood posts, with a new and handsome fence of iron set in stone bases.

A New Company Organized.

The French Fastener Company recorded articles of incorporation in the County Clerk's office at Newark, yesterday. The incorporators are: Nathaniel P. T. Finch, of Plainfield; Charles R. Treat and Alvah S. French, of New York, and Frank Crawford, of Newark. The capital is 10,000. The company will manufacture boots and shoes, and fasteners for shoes.

Special to Boys.

Boys who received cards from Major D. W. Whittle during his visit here several years ago, are requested to present them at the Y. M. C. A., rooms at once and to receive in return a card forwarded them from London.

NEWS VIA. NEWARK

A VISIONARY DREAM OF WEALTH.

North Plainfield Property Owners Will Become Immensely Rich by the Alleged Finding of Copper and Silver on the Mountains Back of the City.

Some time, presumably back in the forties, copper was discovered on the Watchung or First Mountain, about a mile Northwest from this city near what is known as the "Notch." Mines were opened, and the ore taken from them yielded a considerable amount over and above the running expenses.

But about the time the California gold fever broke out in '49, the mines had given up their wealth, and the owners picked up their traps and joined the tide of emigration to the far West, in search of hidden treasures. Years elapsed, and meanwhile the mines on the mountain near here were deserted, except that on rare occasions the members of picnic parties would venture a few feet into the passage ways leading to the mines, simply for diversion.

About ten years ago, however, three of the well-known business men of this city, imagined that they saw millions in the "deserted mines." At that time it was said that gold had been discovered in or near the mines, and for a time the mining industry of the country was prostrated. An effort was soon made to form a company for the purpose of re-opening the mines. Several of our wealthy and influential citizens signified their willingness to subscribe liberally for stock, and in due course of time an office was opened on North avenue, in a little room nearly opposite THE PRESS office. An assayer was engaged from New York, and samples of quartz, alleged to have been obtained at the new discovery, but thought by some to have been sent on from the West, were analyzed and appraised.

Those most interested in the scheme saw an unlimited fortune before them, and a feeble attempt was made to get it. The work of pumping out the mines was fairly under way, when the bottom fell out of the project and went down with McGinty.

An effort is now being made by the Newark Evening News, after a period of ten or a dozen years has elapsed to resurrect the subject and rescue McGinty from oblivion, by publishing the following story in its columns of yesterday:

PLAINFIELD, Jan. 30.—Visions of wealth have been unfolded before the eyes of those holding property among the mountains back of North Plainfield, because of the discovery of copper and silver ores there. Engineers have for some time been at work making boring in the earth in various parts of the suburbs in search for the best locality for the supply of Plainfield's coming water works, and prospectors while rambling about in "the notch," as a gap in First Mountain is called, are said to have unearthed traces of valuable metals. It is also reported that sufficient investigation has been made to warrant the assertion that underlying the outer layers of traprock and red sandstone in the mountain are mines from which fortunes may be developed.

The most extended and promising opening hitherto made upon the copper-bearing rocks of the Watchung Mountains has been at the Bridgewater Mine, near Somerville, but experienced engineers are quoted as saying that the yield from the North Plainfield section would be far superior to that at Bridgewater. The Bridgewater Mine is now the property of A. H. Howey, who, after discovering a fine show of ore yielding fifteen per cent. of metallic copper, has had explorations made by driving a tunnel directly in under the traprock of the mountain a distance of 228 feet, and cutting side drifts off from the main one to the extent of 240 feet, so that these gallaries together have a linear extent of 468 feet. In all of these the bed of sandstone next to the traprock, for a thickness of several feet, was rich in copper. The gallaries are about five feet wide, and the ore which has been taken from them is roughly estimated at 250 tons. A sample of the ore, made up of pieces taken from the ends of the galleries opened, has been assayed, and is found to contain nineteen per cent. of copper and six ounces of silver to the ton of ore.

Prominent local capitalists are said to be negotiating for the control of the mines. They believe that rich deposits extend all along the mountain from the gap to Chimney Rock and on to Somerville. One gentleman, deeply interested in the geology of the State, says that the numerous and unsuccessful attempts that have been made to mine and work these copper ores have led to a distrust of their value.

"But," he adds, "the fine exposure of ore in this new locality; the better understanding of the geological origin and structure of the rocks bearing the ore; the improved methods used in smelting, and the enormous amount of such ores which may now be obtained, all give encouragement to renew the efforts to mine and work them profitably. It seems probable, from the nature of the new discoveries, that the beds of ore continue between the beds of sandstone the whole length and breadth of the mountain, and perhaps further, even underneath the sandstone of Washington Valley and Second Mountain.

"The copper mines at Belleville, Flemington, Griggstown and New Brunswick have all shown fine specimens of copper ore, but they are not now worked. With the accumulation of capital, the greater skill in mining and metalurgy, the better understanding of the geological associations of the ores, and the unequalled location of the mines for labor, fuel and markets, attention may fairly be called to their claims."

The Night School.

The attendance at the night school for men seems to be on the decline. Last night there were but 35 in attendance, and unless the number of pupils increase, the Board of Education will be obliged to discontinue the night sessions. Last night it was announced that the school would remain open for another week, and unless there is a satisfactory increase in the number of pupils the school will close

Plainfield Lost the Main.

The main made two months ago between New York and New Jersey was fought early yesterday morning in a cock-pit near Elizabeth. There was considerable betting on the result by the two hundred or more who were present

DR. ESTEBROOKE'S TRIBUTE.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 25, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. R. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

THE FIGHT GOES ON

Tumult and Uproar Continues in the House.

NO CHANGE IN THE RULING.

The Speaker Bitterly Attacked by Bland and Breckenridge.

McKinley's Leadership Severely Tested. Springer Makes a Play on the Rules. McCreary Brings Peace Out of Chaos. Another Man Appointed Solicitor-General. Census Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—"I denounce that decision as usurpatory, revolutionary and corrupt," exclaimed William C. P. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, in the House, as he leaped down the aisle and shook his fist in the face of Speaker Reed.

The Clerk reading the journal omitted the names of those not voting on the question of consideration. Mr. Breckenridge demanded that the names of those not voting should be recorded, in accordance with the custom.

The Speaker assented to the request and the correction was made.

On the completion of the reading of the journal several members were on their feet shouting "Mr. Speaker." The Speaker recognized Mr. McKinley, who moved that the journal be approved, and demanded the previous question.

The yeas and nays were ordered on the demand of Mr. McKinley. The roll call disclosed a strictly party vote, and the motion was defeated by 160 nays against 142 yeas.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, one of the Democratic leaders, managed to make himself heard before the Speaker made his decision on the vote. He said that he moved that the House adjourn before McKinley's motion was put, and the Speaker was obliged to put the question of adjournment to the House.

Mr. Bland, calling "Mr. Speaker! Mr. Speaker!" in stentorian tones, demanded recognition. A dozen other Democrats were shouting for the same privilege. Finding that he was not recognized, Mr. Bland cried out that he wished to make a correction in the Journal, a right that every Representative has.

Mr. Bland's Remarks.

The Speaker's further refusal to recognize Mr. Bland called forth shouts loud and long from the Democrats, and Mr. Bland, shaking his fist in the direction of the Speaker's desk, made unintelligible remarks at the top of his voice that were clearly uncomplimentary to Mr. Reed. It is understood that what Mr. Bland said was: "You are the meanest tyrant that ever presided over a legislative body, and I denounce you."

After the confusion had become less intense the Speaker put Mr. Springer's motion for adjournment. Mr. McKinley demanded the yeas and nays and they were ordered. The roll call disclosed a strict party vote, and the motion was defeated by 160 nays against 142 yeas.

When the roll-call was finished it was evident that a quorum had not voted. The Speaker then followed his proceedings of the previous day by reading a list of names of Democrats present who had not voted, and declared that a quorum was in the House, and that the previous question was sustained. Jeers and groans came from the Democrats, cheers and hand-clapping from the Republicans.

At the conclusion of the roll-call the Speaker announced that quite a number of Democrats were in their seats, giving their names, and declared a quorum present. The yeas he announced as 163, the nays 1. He declared the journal adopted.

Springer's Sally.

"I appeal from the decision," cried Mr. Springer. The Speaker refused to recognize him, and Mr. McKinley arose and proceeded to speak. Without minding Mr. McKinley, Mr. Springer continued to speak at the top of his voice.

"The gentleman from Illinois is not in order," said the Speaker.

"I am in order," cried Mr. Springer.

"The gentleman will take his seat," said the Speaker.

"I will not take my seat," said Mr. Springer. "There are no rules to make me take my seat."

Shout after shout greeted this sally, and a scene that rivalled any of those enacted the previous day.

Order Out of Chaos.

When things began to quiet down Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, demanded recognition and made order of chaos by explaining how matters stood and asking that Mr. Springer be recognized. This request the Speaker granted and Mr. Springer demanded a correction of the record holding that it was the privilege of every member to see that he was correctly recorded in it. The Speaker sustained Mr. Springer and he sat down without further interference.

Finally, after several speeches pro and con, the appeal was laid upon the table by a vote of 162 to 1, the Democrats, except Mr. Buckalew, refusing to vote.

Appropriation for Farm Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The Senate Census bill appropriating $1,000,000 to enable the Superintendent of Census to prepare statistics of farm owners, renters, mortgages, interests, rents, etc., was passed after some discussion by a vote of 47 to 4. Mr. Sherman opposed the bill, characterized the required statistics as of no value, and said the money would be only wasted.

A New Solicitor General Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—William H. Taft, of Ohio, has been appointed Solicitor-General by the President, who also sent to the Senate the nomination of Robert-Adams, Jr., of Pennsylvania, now accredited Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Empire of Brazil, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States of Brazil.

The Gettysburg Battle Line.

WITHOUT FOOD 22 DAYS.

Doctors Tried to Keep a Man Alive Who Had Cut His Throat.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 31.—Perry Reichelderfer, of Trappe, who cut his throat on January 9, with suicidal intent, died at three o'clock in the morning, after a remarkable struggle, living 22 days without food or water.

Reichelderfer, who was 71 years of age, was for many years a sufferer from Bright's disease. His condition became worse, and losing patience he cut his throat, hoping to terminate his misery in death. He slashed his neck from ear to ear in a shocking manner, twice drawing the sharp blade of a razor across it, succeeding in severing the larynx and œsophagus, but not the jugular vein.

The wounds though were of such a nature that no tube could be inserted for the transmission of food and water and it was apparent from the first that his injuries must prove fatal. The physician attempted to insert a tube into the stomach and pass the food direct, but soon ascertained that food thus received would produce nauseau and cause vomiting, which, in the patient's necessarily feeble condition, would result in death at once. Reichelderfer breathed through the wound in his throat but had not taken a particle of nourishment or water since the day he used the razor with such ghastly effect.

His case has attracted the notice of physicians not from the patient's tenacity of life but from unusual accompanying features. Within a week after his attempt at self-destruction the pain incident to his malady left him and he would have rested easily but for the fact that his limbs became swollen to almost twice their natural size. Gradually, however, the swelling passed away and they resumed their normal condition. Reichelderfer's next affliction was tooth-ache, which gave him so much trouble that last week he had to have the offending molar extracted.

DYNAMITE FOR A PRIEST.

Excitement Over an Attempt to Blow Up a Clergyman's Residence.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 31.—Shortly after midnight an attempt was made to blow up the residence of Rev. Joseph Fleckinger, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Mansfield, this county, with dynamite. A cartridge had been deposited in the cellar with a fuse leading to the outside of the building. The report of the explosion was heard two miles away, and all the windows in the pastor's residence broken besides the furniture in the parlor being badly wrecked.

The killing of Father Fleckinger is supposed to have been the object of the dynamiters, but there is no clue to the perpetrators. Father Fleckinger believes them to be Anarchists. There is great excitement in the town.

She became interested in the lepers through the work of Father Damien, who sacrificed his life in ministering to these most unfortunate people.

THE CLASH IN NEW YORK.

The Senate and Assembly in Conference on the World's Fair Bill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—The World's Fair bill, as amended by the Senate, came up in the Assembly and after a long debate the amendment, adding 22 names to the list of commissioners, was stricken out, by a vote of 68 to 46. The bill was then passed.

The bill was immediately sent over to the Senate, and was at once taken up by that body. The Democrats favored its immediate passage as it stood, but the Republicans insisted on the amendment being again added and the appointment of a conference committee.

The Assembly appointed a Conference Committee, and held a conference last night and again this morning. It is expected that an agreement will be reached to-day.

Work of the Legislature.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 31.—The Senate devoted nearly all its time in debate on the World's Fair bill and no other business was transacted.

It was resolved that Friday morning sessions shall begin at 10 o'clock hereafter.

The following bills were reported favorably: From the Commerce and Navigation Committee: In regard to Hell Gate pilotage. Ways and Means Committee: For a House of Refuge for women. For the appointment of two additional State assessors, one to be from New York. Committee on Agriculture: Giving the Seneca County Agricultural Society power to borrow money to pay its debts.

The following bills were passed:—Appropriating $15,000 for deepening the outlet of Chautauqua Lake. Amending the law establishing a forest commission by accepting certain lands.

The following bills were introduced: Providing for the distribution of dead bodies to incorporated medical schools, under certain conditions. Providing that when horseflesh is used in the manufacture of sausage, or sold as meat for consumption, the fact must be announced on a conspicuous sign. Appropriating $5,000 for the expenses of a commission of five to revise and codify the game laws.

Weavers May Yet Strike.
Trouble Among the Weavers.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb 1.—The trouble at the King Philip Mills, which was supposed to have been amicably settled by Treasurer Chace's concessions, is again attracting attention. The weavers maintain that where their pay has been advanced 3 cents per cut the cuts have advanced some yards in length. Cambrics for which 92 cents were paid have been removed to other looms where only 78 cents is paid. The weavers will take action on this matter.

Jas. C. Townsend Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—James C. Townsend, who was so murderously assaulted on the night of Jan 7, 1884, by the negro murderer, Charles Rugg, is dead at his home in Oyster Bay, aged 86 years. He leaves a valuable estate.

A Recruit Commits Seicide.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1. — At 10:15 o'clock last night Recruit Thomas Mulrooney, of the depot detachment, deliberately committed suicide at the barracks by shooting himself through the heart. He had been at the garrison only about three months, was employed as a clerk at headquarters, where his genial and gentle manners caused him to be respected by his associates. The cause of his taking his own life is ascribed by his comrades to have been a morbid feeling that he had made a mistake in enlisting in the United States Army, and had thereby become dissatisfied with his surroundings. He enlisted at Milwaukee, at the same time that Edward J. Drexel, the nephew of the Philadelphia banker, enlisted, but he chose the infantry, whereas Drexel joined the calvary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Another bank gone up, President Claassen, of the Sixth National, arrested and Broker Pell held in $25,000 bail for trial form the chief developments in the bank sensations of the past few days.

Bank Examiner Hepburn has found affairs at the Sixth National Bank even worse than he supposed. It was discovered that heavy loans aggregating nearly $2,00,000 had been made by the bank on worthless stock of the Lenox Hill and Equitable banks.

Claassen in Custody.

President Claassen walked into the office of United States Commissioner Shields in company with Mr. Ashley W. Cole, manager of Kiernan's News Agency, Gen. Benjamin B. Foster and Deputy United States Marshals Bernhard and Holmes.

Commissioner Shields and Marshal Jacobus were expecting the arrival of the party.

Claassen said that he wanted to make a statement, and said that if there was a warrant out for him he would surrender himself. He desired to be spared the humiliation of being arrested.

He asked Mr. Cole what amount of bail would be required, and Mr. Cole told him that he thought $25,000; the same as in the Pell case.

Claassen said: "I do not want to surrender myself until I have my bondsmen at hand. I don't want to be locked up as Pell has been."

Claassen then dictated a statement to Mr. Cole, which he afterward signed.

In the statement Mr. Claassen says he is not a member of the syndicate that purchased the controlling interest in the Sixth National Bank and that he did not make any loan in the bank. He says he checked on his other personal bank accounts and has deposited to his credit in the Sixth National Bank and has not checked one cent against it.

It is reported that warrants have been issued for the arrest of James A. Simmons and other associates of Wrecker-in-Chief Claassen. Certain other persons were reported to have left the city on account of the disclosures that are being made in connection with the bank wrecking investigation.

The Clearing House Association met and adopted a resolution expelling the Sixth National Bank from membership.

Every hour it grows more apparent that the syndicate entered upon a deliberate plot to wreck the Sixth National Bank, and that they first obtained control of the Equitable and Lenox Hill banks with that definite purpose in view.

The Equitable Closes Its Doors.

Early in the morning a small card was placed on the front door of the Equitable Bank bearing the announcement: "This bank is temporarily closed." It was reluctantly placed there by Cashier Courtou, who had been hoping against hope all the morning that the bank could remain open for business.

Depositors Will Be Paid in Full.

There is every indication that the depositors of the Sixth National, the Lenox Hill and the Equitable Banks will receive in full the money due them. Bank Examiner Hepburn would not be interviewed about the affairs of the Sixth National. His representative said Mr. Hepburn was hard at work preparing the detailed statement which he will forward to the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington. He corroborated the report that Mr. Charles H. Leland, the late president of the bank, had given a guarantee to Mr. Hepburn that he would see that the depositors were all paid in full.

Poor Outlook for the Lenox.

The president and directors of the Lenox Hill Bank are keeping away from the institution and the only person there to give any information was Cashier Van Zandt. He said "A few days after I assumed control as cashier I was taken sick with pneumonia and have only been back four days. I have had no chance to examine into the bank's affairs. The two certified checks for $55,000 which I could not pay Thursday were not certified by me, but by the paying teller, Mr. Chadwick, who was indorsed to do so by the president, and you know that in a State bank the president has supreme authority, and every employer of the institution is bound to obey him or get out. When I knew these checks had been certified I supposed they were all right as the collateral was supposed to be in the Safe Deposit Company's vaults in the hands of the president. From information I have received since last night I do not believe that they will resume."

Got the Pie and Coffee.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 1.—C. H. J. Taylor, the colored politician, who was recently appointed Minister to Liberia and resigned, went into a restaurant here and asked for coffee and pie. The proprietor told him that the pie and coffee would cost him a dollar. Taylor replied that the price was all right, and the articles were placed before him. Afterward he walked up to the counter, took a handful of tooth picks, threw 10 cents on the counter and said: "Now ——— sue me for the rest." He walked out of the place before the astonished proprietor could reply. The latter says he will sue for the other 90 cents.

Only the members of the class, and a very few of their near friends were invited.

BOTH WANT DIVORCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook Having Been Separated for Months Desire to be Separated Forever.

Rumor has long been busy with the marital relations of Mr. Frank Cook, of this city, and his wife who, when he married her over six years ago, was Miss Ida Ayers, daughter of Mr. Wm. B. Ayers of Netherwood. So many stories have been circulated about them in sensational papers—stories that have been false and calculated to do them injury—that they have absolutely refused for the past two years of their living apart to say one word for publication. But being seen by a PRESS reporter recently in relation to any proceedings they have taken to secure a legal separation, both Mr. and Mrs. Cook were glad to furnish these columns any information they desired.

Mr. Cook is now in St. Louis with the Albion Family Specialty Co. He tells the PRESS: "I have applied for, and will soon be granted a divorce from the unfortunate person known as Ida Cook. I expect to get the papers any day. I have bought some fine property in Mount Vernon, Indiana, a fast growing town of about 12,000, where in time I will settle down and call it home. I also have other attractions there which make it very pleasant for me."

Mr. Cook has been successful in his profession of a specialty artist, and is in receipt of a large salary. But Mrs. Cook says he has not contributed "one cent" to support herself or their child for two years. She told a PRESS reporter this morning, that she expected very soon to get a divorce herself on the ground of desertion. "I have never received notice in any way that my husband had applied for a divorce, and I know of no reason that he can use as a plea. He has left me to earn as best I may the money to dress and feed our six-year old daughter, Josie. I do not want him back, as I could not live and be abused again as he used to abuse me. But I have been a faithful wife to him, and it is a crime that he should refuse to contribute something even if only to help clothe his little girl."

"PREFERRED NEWSPAPERS."

Under Certain Circumstances, However, THE PRESS Will be Sent Free.

We observe that in a list of preferred newspapers issued by the well-known advertising agency, G. P. Rowell & Co., the TIMES of Plainfield is included. But as any newspaper that will agree to take advertisements from the agency is put on the list, the fact is of no significance as some newspapers attempt to make their readers believe—Central Times.

Whether THE PRESS is included in the list or not, it is preferred by Messrs Rowell & Co., themselves, above all other papers in the city as an advertising medium; and for two advertisements alone in these columns they are now paying sixty-eight dollars a year. Yesterday's mail contained the following:

NEW YORK, January 29, 1890

Publ sher of THE PRESS, Plainfield, N. J.

Please insert the following advertisement * * * one year * * * in your daily edition.

GEORGE P. ROWELL & CO.

The advertisement was refused, however, with the recommendation that it be offered some other Plainfield paper whose space was less valuable. So it is with all the other large advertisers—the Royal Baking Powder Co., Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Huyler, Kaskine, Fischer Piano Co., Ozone Soap and A. C. Meyer & Co., use THE PRESS exclusively, while J. Walter Thompson, J. H. Bates, N. W. Ayer & Son, S. M. Pettingill and all the other agents are steady patrons of its columns.

But it is the home advertisers that are on the spot and can judge of extent and character of circulation, who prove by their preference which is the best medium. Such successful merchants as J. F. Mac Donald, C. K. Compton, Sebring Bros., A. C. Horton, A. M. Vanderbeek & Co., A. D. VanSciver, Edward Love, W. L. Gavett & Co., J. G. Miller, B T. Barnes, and others advertise in no other daily than THE PRESS; while S Edsall, H. P. Reynolds, H. A. Pope and such extensive advertisers, buy more space in THE PRESS and pay it more money probably than they expend in all other papers combined.

To each and every person in the city of Plainfield and the borough of North Plainfield, who conscientiously believes that THE PRESS has not a larger number of readers than any other paper in the vicinity, it will be sent free. Send your name and address—that is all that is necessary—and you will receive the paper regularly until you confess you are convinced of your mistake.

Both Pastor and Wife in Dispute.

The dispute between the pastor and the congregation of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, was finally setttled this morning by the Deacons, Messrs E. Maynard, Mansfield, Robinson and John W. Reed together with Messrs Spencer Conway, John A Scott, Henry Pennington and Wm. Fisher, raising the sum of $198.61, it being the amount in full due the pastor for his services up to March 1, 1890. The pastor upon receiving said amount, together with letters of dismission and recommendation, agreed to surrender possession of the church and parsonage at once.

After this settlement had been effected the Parson's wife was arrested for assaulting Mrs. Laura Connett last Monday night. The trial will take place next week. Wm. A. Coddington represented the congregation and Wm. K McClure represented the Parson.

HONORARY COLONEL SQUIRES.

The Hope Chapel Gospel Temperance Boy's Brigade Organized.

As announced exclusively in THE PRESS, Mr. W. C. Gray met with a goodly number of boys in Hope Chapel, on Tuesday evening last. He read and explained the temperance pledge to the boys, which they all signed.

The Constitution of the Brigade was also read and explained. A short address followed, in which the boys were requested to endeavor by precept and example to make this Brigade a complete success. Mr. Gray also intimated that boys from 9 years of age and upwards, with Teachers' certificate from any Sunday school in this city, would be admitted into the Brigade.

The Constitution is as follows:

ARTICLE I.

Objects. The objects of this Brigade are to enroll boys of good character, who have signed the temperance pledge, and who are members of the Sunday school, with good attendance. To have them taught in the manual and platoon exercise, and the proper manipulation of arms, by which means they will not only become better citizens, better men for their country, (should occasion at any time require them), but it will give the young mind some idea of what true soldiers for the Lord Jesus and His Kingdom ought to be; it will also give them a greater interest in the work of the Sunday school and temperance.

ARTICLE II.

Meetings. The Brigade shall meet for drill one night of each week. The Chaplain shall lead the Brigade in prayer after which the roll shall be called, and all absentees duly taken note of. Any member absenting himself for three successive nights without a written excuse for such absence shall be dismissed from the Brigade or otherwise dealt with.

ARTICLE III.

Conduct. All members are required to be on the drill ground at the time appointed; they are also required to have clean faces and hands, and their clothing properly arranged; they must also observe quietness, attention and obedience to the drill instructor and to all superior officers. Any infringment of this article shall be considered insubordination and shall be treated as provided for in latter part of article II.

ARTICLE IV.

Property. Shall any member, at any time, be entrusted with the care or custody of any property belonging to the Brigade, they shall, (on leaving or being dismissed) return said property to the Brigade in good condition.

ARTICLE V.

Officers. The Brigade shall be under the control of an Honorary Colonel, Colonel, Lieutenant, Captain, Chaplain and Drill Instructor.

ARTICLE VI.

Promotion. Sergeants, Corporals and Lance-Corporals shall all be selected from the ranks. Good conduct, cleanliness, attention to duty and general good deportment, both in the Brigade and at Sunday school, shall be the qualifications for promotion to these positions in the Brigade.

The Officers elected were:

Honorary Colonel—Mr. H. C. Squires, of Broadway; Colonel—Mr Lewis Morgan, of Plainfield avenue; Lieutenant—Mr. Amos Andrews, of Grant avenue; Captain—Mr. John Bowden, of Spooner avenue; Chaplain—Mr. A. Andrews; Drill Instructor—Mr. L. Morgan.

North Plainfield Township Committee Meeting.

The above named committee met last evening, all the members being present. The meeting was called for the purpose of receiving the bills of the Overseer of the Poor. A petition asking for street lights on Somerset street, between Johnston's Drive and Washingtonville was presented and laid over. Five bonds, falling due February 1st, 1890, of $500 each, were ordered paid.

Claims were ordered paid as follows: W. L. Force & Bro., $17 25; Times, 4; J. H. Wilson, 45; H. J. Martin, 10 06; R. R. Fairchild, 200; H. Coddington, 20; A. P. Voorhees, 50; T. W. Morrison, 32 50; Estate D. J. Boice, 6 12; I. Brokaw, 105 16; Chas. A. Reed, 133 50; Geo. Stewart, 6. All of the above claims were ordered paid, also bill of C. C. Day for $150 as Overseer of the Poor.

A motion was made and carried that the Collector be authorized to pay to the borough authorities one-half of the $1,575 collected for licenses.

It was also decided to set apart $1,200 of the township money for the payment of the Collector's and Treasurer's salaries.

The poor bills amounting to $1,123.56 were ordered paid.

WHAT WILL BE OFFERED TO ATTRACT THEM.

Lads are More Prone to Crime than Christianity, but Some Good Women and Good Men of This City are Going to Try Save Some of the Bad Boys.

"Cure is the voice of the past; prevention, the divine whisper of today." Statistics show that out of a total of 500,000, or half a million criminals in the prisons of the United States, 333,300 are young men under twenty-two years of age; and that a vast majority of the young men of America do not attend places of worship. In a city of 19,000 inhabitants, where the facts were carefully ascertained, there were 3,500 young men. Only eighty-five of these were members of Protestant churches, and during the previous year not one had been received into a church, while 300 had been convicted of crime. If the American Republic is to stand, the one successful experiment in the history of the World, of government by the people, it will be because the men of this country are true men; it will be because they were started to be such, as boys. One word to a boy is worth a thousand to a man. If the boys of America could speak with one voice, they could with justice thunder in the ears of their elders, the men and women who love their country and their race—"LOOK OUT FOR US, WE WILL BE MEN TO-MORROW."

Is there need of a Boys Club in Plainfield? No thoughtful observer will, we believe, doubt this for a moment. Something, surely, is spoiling the youth of America, and the subject demands the careful consideration of all Christians and patriots. As to the number and class of boys reached by a Boys Club, it embraces nearly all the bad boys, or the so-called bad boys.

It will scarcely be believed that anything can be devised, that is, anything good and helpful, that a boy who is somewhat wild and unmanageable, will like better than the cheap theatre, the dime novel and the "fun" on the streets at night. In these days the brilliant lights and the fascinations of the street are almost irresistible to the average boy. The Club, if properly managed, reaches nearly every one of these wild boys, many of whom have, perhaps, been made such by not having some place in which to spend their evenings.

There is another class of boys, and, no doubt, a larger class, in this city, who are the children of parents in moderate, or it may be, in comfortable circumstances. It is almost impossible to keep them indoors, especially in the early evening. Such boys, it is needless to say, are in a good school for training in bad habits. The boys of evil tendencies have unrestricted influence over them, and sooner or later, they will be contaminated. The Club draws in many of these boys, whose evil influence is thus destroyed, or at all events, rendered no worse than it is in a public school. We will not call the Club a reform school, whose members are only bad boys, and yet it should be clearly understood that it does reform and help as perhaps no other agency can. The Boys Club gathers in the same classes of boys that are found in a public school—good, bad and indifferent—but it is an institution that deals in moral instruction, helping the boy to become a good man and a good citizen.

"There is something attractive in a bad boy. It is not the badness that we like, but the boy, and he is often bad only in spots; once eliminate these and he becomes the best of boys. A real bad boy must have life and force or he would not be one. When you tell the bad boy anything, he remembers it, and if it is true, he can understand why it is true. If a boy becomes a bad man, he is dangerous; but if he becomes a good man, and this, in most cases, depends on his knowing a few things, he will make a useful, strong member of society. If boys of this character had friends to help them to be good and to give to them what they never had an opportunity of getting, there would be fewer bad men.

What are some of the special features in the work for boys?

First—It co-operates with the home, by furnishing a bright, cheerful and attractive place for the boys during the evening. The time spent by the boys in the Club room, is by no means wasted. If games are used, they are chosen with a view to combine amusement and instruction. The boys are given tickets of admission, on which are written their names and residences, and these facts are also entered in the Club book. The workers of the Club can thus become better acquainted with the boys, not only in the Club room, but may also visit them in their homes.

They are the boys' friends. They show them how results are produced by causes, and how lying, disobedience to parents, refusal to work, truancy, etc., are causes that produce thieves, drunkards and criminals, generally. Many a father and mother with a house full of boys, even though they are average boys, will have reason to welcome the beneficent influence of this Club.

The Juvenile Penny Savings Bank is an additional feature of the Boys Club. This is a system of giving the boys practical instruction in economy and saving, and teaching them thoughtfulness in money matters. Such an enterprise is already started in this city, and is in good working order. Those who have charge of this work are desirous to co-operate with the Boys Club. Other attractions for the Club are entertainments and lectures—sometimes, refreshments. Some of our citizens have expressed a willingness to give instructive talks to the boys, and all will be given an opportunity to volunteer in this work, the good results of which cannot be overestimated.

Then, too, it is worth considering that it is not the boys alone who would be benefited by the efforts put forth for their improvement. "Give, and it shall be given unto you again, pressed down and running over," is not only a Christian precept, but a law of social life. It is doing good, one gets good. He who blesses another, receives more than he gives. We need the Boys Club as much as the Boys Club needs us. The benefit is reciprocal. Helping to make boys manly, makes man manlier and women more womanly. We rise in helping others to rise. All our efforts to save the young from the evils to which they are exposed, react upon ourselves, helping to save us from selfish devotion to our own interests. It is not, therefore, as a duty alone that we urge the claims of the Boys Club, but as a privilege—a privilege of service. Your Committee, therefore, recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Society, to be known as the "Boys Club of Plainfield," be organized, as soon as one hundred members can be secured, who will agree to subscribe five dollars, each annually, to the support thereof; whereupon, a meeting of all interested shall be called to perfect the organization and the plans of action.

HON. N. HARPER,
C. W. OPDYKE,
ISAAC L. MILLER,
MRS. D. W. POND,
MRS. W. L. PATTON.

A PROBLEM THAT WILL SOBER THOMAS.

He is Locked In While He Figures Out How to Pay a Dollar With Twenty Cents.

Among the prisoners arraigned before Justice Taintor in Essex Market court, New York city, yesterday morning, was Thomas Williams who when asked why he got drunk, said he had just come in from Plainfield, N. J.

"I'm an iron moulder there, Judge, and came here yesterday to buy some clothes. Some fellers got me to drink and then took all my money."

"Do you often get drunk?"

"No sir."

"If I let you off now will you promise to go right back to Plainfield?"

"I will." A smile appeared on the prisoner's face, and he fumbled his hat preparatory to putting it on.

"Hold on there a minute. Have you got any money to go home with?"

"No, sir. All I have is 20 cents."

"How do you propose to get home? That isn't enough to carry you back, is it?"

"No, sir, but I can walk back."

"H'm, you fell among thieves, didn't you?" The Judge is superintendent of a Sunday school.

"Yes, sir."

"Let me see the inside of your hands." If he was a working man these would show it. Williams turned his palms outward. They were hard and horny.

"Yes, you do work," commented the magistrate. "Well, you will have to pay $1 this time."

"How can I do that when I have only 20 cents?"

"You go inside for awhile and figure that out."

By Their Crops He Knew Them.

Mr. Long, of Somerville, whose coop was almost entirely stripped of prize hens and fat pullets, the other night, came to Plainfield yesterday to identify if possible the "dressed" chickens that had been offered Van Syckle the butcher. Mr. Long brought samples of the corn he fed his poultry, and it proved to be the same as found in the crops of the dead ones. He testified also that he had fed his chickens pounded meat scraps the day before they were stolen, and meat scraps in irregular pieces were found in the crops examined.

To make the identification all the more positive, Mr. Long described a Wyandotte hen with a sore breast and faulty comb, that had won for him many prizes. Just such a hen minus her feathers, was among the lot of chickens offered Van Syckle by a man from Somerville who never had a coop of his own, it is said, and who Mr. Long describes as a worthless fellow.

The Two Sisters.

"There is no nature so weak but that it will gain strength, no character so depraved but that it will be ennobled by witnessing this play to be given at Music Hall, next Monday evening. It has been the aim of Denman Thompson and George Ryer to make their plays natural, wholesome and moral, at the same time amusing. It is full of characters and incidents which are met with in the daily walks of life, and which are familiar to almost everybody. Several musical selections are introduced.

A Paint Shop Robbed.

Some time during Monday night, the building in the rear of Mr. Ferdinand O. Smith's residence at 169 West Front street, and used as a paint shop, was broken into and robbed of a quantity of paints, oils, varnishes, etc. The miscreant also upset a barrel of oil, allowing the same to run out on the floor. Mr. Smith estimates his loss at about $75.

Children Cry for It.

If a child will take a medicine with pleasure, you may know that it is not in any way offensive to the taste. Children like HAMBURG FIGS, and it is no longer necessary to disgust them with castor-oil, 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

What Downed McGinty.

The bogus jewelry he'd on like rocks upon him press'd,

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

CRISIS IN BRAZIL

A Minister Retires from Gen. da Fonseca's Cabinet.

PORTUGAL PREPARING FOR WAR

Trying to Buy Gunboats and Rifles in the United States.

Parnell Issues a Circular to His Followers—They Must Attend to Their Parliamentary Duties—The Porte Asked to Demand the Withdrawal of British Troops from Egypt.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 1.—A ministerial crisis has arisen here that is likely to lead to trouble. The difficulty has reference to the question of financial reforms, which do not at present seem likely to be realized. Senhor Demetris Ribeiro, the Minister of Agriculture, has retired from the Cabinet and a new appointment has been made. Senhor Ribeiro was not well known in Brazilian politics before he was called by Gen. da Fonseca to the Ministry.

WARLIKE PREPARATIONS.

Portugal Trying to Buy Gunboats and Rifles in the United States.

LISBON, Feb. 1.—The Portuguese Government accuses England of fomenting rebellion in Mozambique, and asserts as evidence that the English residents were known to incite the natives to revolt.

Portugal tried to make a contract with the firm of Krupp for the supply of war material, but failed for want of money, and is now negotiating with the United States for the immediate purchase of torpedoes, gunboats, and 200,000 magazine rifles.

The new army regulations were issued to-day. They place on the retired list a number of aged generals. This is the first step in the reforms which are to be established in the army.

Mr. Parnell's Circular.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Mr. Parnell has issued a circular calling the attention of his followers to the opening of Parliament. He writes to them that in his judgment constant and unremitting attention to their Parliamentary duties will be especially necessary in the coming session, because opportunities are certain to arise for rendering effective service to the Irish cause.

Ticket 693,843 Was a Fortune.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—The great Tombola prize of the Paris Exhibition, amounting to half a million francs, was won by ticket No. 693,843. The name of the holder has not been ascertained.

British Troops Not Wanted.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—A despatch from Constantinople says that Russian and French agents are urgently importuning the Porte to demand the withdrawal of British troops from Egypt.

The Archbishop of Tuam Dead.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—The Most Rev. John MacEvilly, Archbishop of Tuam, is dead.

ALMSHOUSE SCANDAL.

A Keeper and His Wife Suspended on a Serious Charge.

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 1.—Mayor Barnert has issued an order suspending Cornelius Petry and his wife from the charge of the almshouse. Petry has been keeper and his wife matron of the almshouse for many years. The Mayor suspended them on an affidavit made by Ellen Gallagher, a former inmate of the almshouse, who alleges that Petry ruined her and that Mrs. Petry aided in concealing the alleged crime.

Petry and his wife deny the statements made by the Gallagher woman. They claim that the charges are made against them for political reasons, and that they are ready for the fullest investigation.

No More Boodle Trials.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Lawyer Frank J. Dupignac and ex-Judge Homer A. Nelson for James A. Richmond, and Lawyer John H. Bird for Thomas B. Kerr, moved, in the General Sessions, before Recorder Smyth, for the dismissal of the 20 indictments for bribing Aldermen of the Boodle Board of 1884 pending against them. District-Attorney Fellows represented the people, and stated his determination to try no more boodle Aldermen unless he gets more evidence than he has yet been able to get hold of. He also said that the exiles in Canada, with the possible exception of two or three of them, may not be tried.

No Faith in League Contracts.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The decision of Judge O'Brien of New York has created a boom in Brotherhood stock. Anson says he does not believe the League can enforce its present form of contract. He has come to that conclusion as the result of reading Judge O'Brien's decision. Captain Anson feels sorry over the present turn of affairs but he sticks to it that Mr. A. G. Spaulding wants the matter settled. He wants the court to say whether the present contract will hold a ball player, and if it won't, what kind of a contract will.

Freak Kunze Meets a Disappointment.

The State's Attorney put in a protest and said he was not ready for an immediate trial, and the case was continued until the next term of court.

THE PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND.

The Carnegie Library at Allegheny to be Opened February 15.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 1.—President Harrison has consented to be present at the opening of the Carnegie Library in Allegheny on Thursday evening, Feb 15. The buildings will be open for public inspections on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 11 and 12, from 1 to 10 o'clock p. m. each day. On those days the general public will be allowed the liberty of the property, but on Thursday evening, when the ceremonies take place, tickets will be issued, limited in number to the capacity of the hall and only those holding tickets will be admitted.

The most noteworthy feature in connection with the opening of the library will be the art loan exhibition, under the care of a committee of local artistse with Joseph R. Woodwell as chairman. The exhibit will include the highest class work, loaned by wealthy art patrons of Pittsburg and Allegheny. The collection include pictures worth $8,000, and $10,000 apieces and the aggregat value of the entire exhibit will be about $150,000. Some of the best works of American and European artists will be included in the exhibit, and it is said that it will be the largest collection of high class pictures ever seen in Pittsburg. Lovers of fine art will be given a rare treat.

The programme will be completed within a day or two. Mr. Carnegie will himself make the formal delivery of the key of the building to a representative of the city. President Harrison will make the dedicatory remarks. The Mozart Club will open the exercises with a chorus, likely "America," or some other patriotic air, in which the entire audience will be invited to join. Short speeches will also be made by Governor Beaver, Private Secretary Halford and Congressman Dalzell.

A Steamship Disabled Passed at Sea.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A despatch from Lloyd's Shipping Agency in London to the Maritime Exchange, says that an incoming vessel reports passing the French steamship La Normandie in a partly disabled condition. The Normandie sailed from Havre for this port Saturday last. Three days after, on the 28th inst., she was passed in latitude 49 longitude 22, with her machinery disabled. She offered the Normandie assistance but it was declined, and the commander of the Normandie said he thought he could get along. She is considered one of the staunchest of the line. When she sailed from Havre she had 200 passengers. Her crew number 200 more.

Arrested for Murdering Her Father.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Mr. and Mrs Edward Sculley were arrested at Oneida, charged with the murder of William Rhinehart, the 65-year-old father of Mrs. Sculley. All lived on a small farm about one and one-half miles from Oneida and were in poor circumstances. On December 18 Rhinehart's dead body was found in the yard near his home with a gash in his head. It is alleged that Mr. and Mrs. Sculley tried to get rid of the support of the old man by killing him. The evidence against them is said to be purely circumstantial. Both were placed in jail at Morrisville.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

A Policy of Resistance to Speaker Reed Decided On.

A LETTER FROM MR. RANDALL.

He Urges a Continuance of the Fight in the House.

Mr. Carlisle Made a Statement that Caused Some Surprise—He Said that He Attended Every Meeting of the Committee on Rules—Mr. Blaine's Daughter Hovering Between Life and Death.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Democratic caucus in the House last night was well attended. Mr. Holman, the permanent caucus chairman, presided, and, in taking the chair, announced that the object of the caucus was to discuss a policy for the government of the minority in the present struggle over the rules.

A note from Mr. Randall was read in which the ex-Speaker urged the continuance of the fight that has been carried on for the past three days. He advised all members of the minority to stick to their guns and to lose no opportunity to keep the Republicans from attempting to pass on any of the contested election cases in the absence of a new code of rules.

Mr. Randall urged the renewal of the filibustering tactics, claiming they were right and proper under the circumstances. He demanded in conclusion that the Democrats should prevent any legislation being enacted until the new code is brought in. Mr. Randall also advised against the plan of leaving the House in a body. The reading of the note was received with much applause.

Mr. Carlisle made a statement that caused some surprise among his auditors. He informed the caucus that there had been only three meetings of the Committee on Rules. The first was held January 23. The had been no meeting in the committee room. "I have never received notice in writing," said Mr. Carlisle, "of a meeting of the Committee on Rules since the meeting of Congress; but I was sent for by Mr. Reed and met him, Mr. McKinley and Mr. Cannon in the Speaker's room at Mr. Reed's request. We discussed the rules for about an hour and have had but two meetings since in the Speaker's room, lasting about 20 minutes each. I have promptly attended every meeting called. There has been no meeting since last Monday."

Mr. Carlisle explained as he had done in the last Democratic caucus, what was contemplated by the new code. He was followed by Mr. Crisp and other parliamentarians. While some advised caution in the proceedings of the House, the concensus of opinion favored a continuation of the fight until the adoption of a new code.

After a long discussion the caucus adjourned, having reached no conclusion, excepting an informal agreement to continue the dilatory tactics of the past three days.

New Landing Place of Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Governor's Island will replace Castle Garden, New York, as the landing place of immigrants arriving in this country at the port of New York. It may take several days to determine the legal status of Governor's Island. Secretary Proctor is entirely willing to permit a portion of Governor's Island to be used as an immigrant station, and if he possesses the power under the law to transfer the control of the island, or part of it, to the Secretary of the Treasury, he is prepared to do so as soon as the necessary papers can be made out. The opinion is expressed in some quarters that action by Congress may be required before the transfer can be made. In some quarters it is stated that the President possesses the power to direct the transfer. All the questions are now under consideration, and, until the deeds are carefully examined, under which the Government acquired title to the island, and the laws under which it was transferred to the War Department, no final conclusive step will be taken.

DR. ESTEBROOKE'S TRIBUTE.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 25, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. R. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

ROASTED TO DEATH

Ten Persons Perish by Fire in a Boston Tenement.

THE SCENE A TERRIBLE ONE

Many Injured by Leaping from the Windows to the Pavement.

Sleeping Lodgers Aroused in Confusion, They Screamed and Prayed in Turns. Their Bodies Burned to a Crisp and Could Not be Identified—Another Fire Destroys the Sears Block.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—Shortly after midnight the dwelling house, 259 and 261 North street, occupied by Maurice Rubey's clothing store on the first floor and by lodgers, chiefly Italian families, on the three upper floors, was gutted by fire, which is supposed to have originated in the store.

The flames speedily cut off escape by the stairways, and the inmates of the building had no means of saving their lives except by jumping from windows.

Nine persons were burned to death, three were fatally hurt, and six were seriously, if not fatally, injured.

The Inmates Bewildered.

Before the fire was discovered it had reached the staircase and was feeding upon the dry wooden stairs and rapidly spreading toward the roof. The sleeping lodgers were aroused in confusion, and some were bewildered and at once succumbed to the deadly smoke; others attempted to flee down the burning stairway and fell victims to the flames, while still others leaped from the windows to meet death or mutilation from contact with the pavement.

Shrieks and Prayers.

When the firemen arrived they quickly extinguished the fire and rescued those of the inmates who had managed, by hanging out of the windows or taking refuge on the roof, to escape the deadly smoke and flames. The shrieks and prayers of the terrified people were mingled with the cries and groans of the injured, and the scene was a terrible one. In a few moments, however, the imprisoned people had been taken down the ladders, the injured removed to hospitals and the dead to the station house.

Counting the Dead.

It was then found that 10 persons had been burned to death. All of their bodies were found huddled together on the top floor, they having fled from the lower rooms when they first discovered the fire, the flames having already cut off escape by the stairway to the lower floor. There appeared to be no means of escape from the upper floor, and the helpless persons were there overtaken by the flames and literally roasted to death.

After the firemen had extinguished the fire they made their way to the scene of death on the top floor. The sight that met their eyes there was a most sickening one. The dead bodies were recognizable as human forms only by their shape, all of them having been burned to a crisp. None of them could be identified, and a list of the missing cannot yet be made up.

Serious suspicions have been raised that the fire was the work of incendiaries. It is stated that when the street door was burst open, there was a strong odor of kerosene oil. The police have decided on a thorough investigation and one Benjamin Simonds has been arrested on suspicion. The basement was occupied in front by the clothing store, and in the rear by Hamilda House and his son Felix. The second floor was occupied by Lorenzo Bianco, owner of three sons. On the third floor lived Mrs. Philmomena Tunaso and several lodgers. Mrs. Bella Scanlon lived on the attic floor; also John Bascolt, Charles Bascalt, Nicolas Scholans, Joseph Chotlaw and Mrs. Chotlaw.

DANBURY'S BIG BLAZE.

A $300,000 Fire in Which Many People Barely Escaped Death.

DANBURY, Conn., Feb. 3.—The loss from fire, which broke out a second time at 2 o'clock in the morning, is estimated to be fully $300,000.

Four blocks on Main and Liberty streets were destroyed. The loss to Hull & Rogers, hardware dealers, on stock and buildings, is $225,000; Geo. R. Stevens, stationer, $5,000; Fred. Harth, jeweller, $8,000; T. R. Hoyt & Co., grocers, $8,000. The total insurance is about $175,000.

Twenty families lost everything and many narrowly escaped with their lives. One woman was seriously burned. The flames crossed Main street and caught the Opera House, but firemen saved it. There were four explosions from powder stored in the cellar.

Another Boston Fire.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—The Sears building, corner of Court and Washington streets, was found to be burning yesterday and three alarms were at once turned in. The fire had secured a good headway and within a short time the upper stories were a mass of flame, and the destruction of the elegant marble Rodgers' building to the south and Young's Hotel on the west seemed almost certain. The flames, however, were confined to the Sears building. Two firemen were badly injured by pieces of the falling roof.

New York's Death Roll.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The death rate the past week in this city fell considerably below the normal standard, and no deaths have been attributed to influenza directly or indirectly since Wednesday. There were 782 deaths during the week against 872 for last week. The rate was 25 52 against 28.46 for the preceding week.

DR. M'GLYNN'S ILLNESS.

The Anti-Poverty Leader Suffering With Heart Trouble.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Dr. Edward McGlynn, the Anti-poverty leader, who was hurried homeward by the orders of a Chicago physician, instead of being able to appear at Cooper Union last evening, as had been his intention, is a very ill man. Upon his arrival at Jersey City Saturday from the West Dr. McGlynn was at once removed to the residence of his sister, 235 Decatur street, Brooklyn, and put to bed. Dr. Schrady, who was called to attend him, ordered complete rest and quiet for several days.

Dr. McGlynn's illness, it is announced, is due to heart trouble. His condition to-day was more favorable, but he is not permitted to see or speak to any but his attendants. At his house it was said that he would not be able to again face an audience for several weeks.

KILRAIN'S EASY FIGHT.

Vaquelin Gave Up the Battle After the Third Round.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 3.—Jake Kilrain and Felix Vacquelin fought at the West End Theatre yesterday for a purse of $2,000. Vacquelin is a young Frenchman who has bested a number of local and southwestern pugilistic lights. Kilrain has been training at Richburg for the fight.

There was a large crowd present, and the police did nothing but preserve order, though it has lately been declared that no more prize fighting would be permitted here.

William Muldoon and Doc. Adler were Kilrain's seconds. Mike Cleary and James Sweeney acted in the same capacity for Vacquelin. Pat Kendrick was referee. Three-ounce gloves were used, and three rounds were fought, at the end of which Vacquelin gave up and the fight was awarded to Kilrain.

TROUBLES OF A HUMORIST

James Whitcomb Riley and Bill Nye Dissolve Partnership.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3.—The partnership between Bill Nye and James Whitcomb Riley has dissolved abruptly. The cause of the trouble will pain and surprise the thousands who have been entertained by Mr. Riley's humor and pathos.

Mr. Nye says that Mr. Riley has become a confirmed drunkard. The manager of the combination says his case is hopeless, and that he has been compelled to cancel numerous dates. Riley's conduct has been a continual cause of anxiety and expense. The abrupt termination of the tour, which was to have embraced the Pacific Coast and the British possessions, and lasted until May, means a loss of about $20,000.

WOMEN RIOTERS.

A Number of Policemen Injured by Bricks and Missiles.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 3.—Another riot occrred at St. Adelbert's Church, where a factional quarrel over a change of priests has been going on for a long time.

A Polish woman led the rioters who numbered several hundred. The woman was badly hurt. A number of policemen were injured by bricks and other missiles. No one was killed and the police finally dispersed the mob.

Special Officer Lyons of the 5th precinct had his shoulder broken by a brick. Nearly all of the rioters were women the men contenting themselves with looking on.

Settled by Arbitration.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—The dispute over through rates between the Boston & Albany and the Fitchburg Railroads has been settled by arbitration. The Fitchburg Railroad has been awarded a differential of $2 on each first class passenger by the West Shore route and $3 by the Erie route. The arbitrators, were J. L. Taylor, General Passenger Agent of the Richmond and Danville Railroad; James Carleton, General Passenger Agent of the Chicago & Alton, and E. E. Lomax, General Agent of the Union Pacific Railroad.

A Brace Of Vandals.

RED BANK, N. J., Feb. 3.—Frank Johnson and Benjamin Skidmore are in jail charged with entering a number of dwelling houses at Atlantic Highlands and breaking and damaging the furniture. New houses have also been entered and the walls defaced by obscene pictures. Still another charge against the men was the cutting of the harness and buggy tops of rigs that were put under the village horse sheds.

Will Stand by His Sister.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 3.—William A. Drath, the brother of Minnie Warnicke, arrived from Chicago and is stopping at the American House. He is a well dressed man and of fine address. He says he has come to stay until his sister is out of her trouble. He declares she has been greatly wronged by Firth.

What Constitutes a Day's Work.

WOBURN, Mass., Feb. 3.—The tanners and currriers have been called to meet this evening to decide what shall constitute a day's work, in view of their acceptance of the new price list offered by the Board of Arbitration.

Bricklayers Demand More Wages.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—At a meeting of the bricklayers of Philadelphia it was decided to demand an increase of 20 per cent. in wages next season. The proposal to demand the eight-hour day was rejected as inadvisable.

A Blind Man's Mad Act.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Emil Myers, a blind man living at 1,282 Second avenue, struck his wife with a hammer, seriously injuring her, and then jumped from the fire escape to the street, killing himself instantly.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Blair Educational Bill Before the Senate.

NO DOUBT OF ITS PASSAGE.

The Blaine Household Again Visited by Death.

Mrs. Coppinger Dies from Brain Fever. Cardinal Gibbons Will Assist at the Funeral Obsequies. The Fight Renewed in the House—Democrats Keep Up the Filibustering Tactics.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Senate took up the Blair Educational bill this afternoon. It will continue to come up at 2 o'clock each day until it is disposed of. Its passage is a foregone conclusion, but it may be debated at some length and its consideration may eat up two or three afternoons. A decision is expected from the Supreme Court of the United States to-day in the suit involving the validity of the Idaho test oath.

In event this decision is rendered the Committee on Territories may dispose of the bill for the admission of Idaho to-day. Senator Platt, the Chairman of the commitee, has, however more urgent matters to bring before the Senate.

The Secretary of the Interior in an interview with him last Friday laid before him the necessity of pushing to a passage the bill already reported from the committee providing a temporary government for Oklahoma. Senator Platt will ask the Senate to consider this measure at an early day.

The Customs Administration bill, known as the McKinley bill, will be reported to the Finance Committee Tuesday by the Sub-Committee, Senators Allison, Aldrich and McPherson, and will doubtless be reported to the Senate the same day. A number of amendments will be suggested and when the Senate passes the measure it will be thrown into conference where it will stay for some days.

The discussion of Senator Butler's bill to assist the emigration of the negro from Southern States may be resumed in some form or other. The Senator from South Carolina himself may make a brief speech explaining the character of the measure, further, as he believes it has been seriously misunderstood by some of the speakers who have discussed it in the Senate.

In the secret session on the nominations of Indian Commissioner Morgan and the Superintendent of Indian Schools, Dr. Dorchester, are still awaiting consideration. It is believed that much of the delay in consideration in these cases is due to the fear that if they were brought up at this time they would be acted upon adversely. So they may not be considered during the week. An effort will be made, however, to obtain time for the consideration of the Samoan Treaty which is now pending.

Senator Hiscock's Committee on Quadri-Centennial will probably meet during the week, but no report is expected from it immediately.

THE HOUSE FIGHT.

Democrats Keep Up the Filibustering Tactics on the Contested Election Case.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The exciting scenes that characterized the proceedings of the House last week began anew to-day and will last until the Republican members of the Committee on Rules submit Speaker Reed's new code. It is the purpose of the majority members of the Election Committee to report the Atkinson-Pendleton contested case as soon as the Smith-Jackson case is disposed of. The committee has heard the evidence in the case, but has had no meeting to decide on its disposal. According to the agreement entered into by the members of the committee this case would come up before the committee on Tuesday, Feb. 11, but the majority members have decided to call a meeting and take a vote on the matter so that the case can be reported to the House immediately after the Smith-Jackson case is gotten out of the way. With the addition of Mr. Smith to the Republican ranks the majority would be quite certain of always having a quorum on hand to dispose of the other cases. A vote on the Smith-Jackson case will be taken this afternoon if possible. Mr. Jackson will be unseated and then the Atkinson-Pendleton case will be called up. The Democrats intend to continue the fight to the last, and they will use every strategy to delay action.

There is slight prospect of the enactment of any legislation for the present. The members of the World's Fair Committee are undecided as to what shall be done with the general bill they have under consideration. Some members of the committee are in favor of letting the bill go over until the new rules are adopted, while others are anxious to break in at any time and dispose of the bill without long debate. Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, favors the latter plan. He thinks the bill can be disposed of within an hour.

The Committee on Territories will probably report the Oklahoma bill during the week and urge speedy action on it.

Mrs. Coppinger Dead.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Alice Coppinger, the eldest daughter of Secretary of State Blaine, who has been seriously ill for several days past with brain fever, the outcome of an attack of influenza, died at the Blaine mansion yesterday. The funeral services will take place from St. Matthew's Church to-morrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. The place of interment has not been definitely determined upon, but it is expected that it will be at Oak Hill Cemetery, this city. Rev. Thomas Sherman will officiate. Cardinal Gibbons will assist at the obsequies.

He will appear in his own successful comedy drama, "Will O' The Wisp." Mr. Selden is an excellent Irish comedian, young handsome and graceful—and reminds one of Boucicault as he was twenty or more years ago. He is a graceful dancer and sweet singer, and is especially a favorite of the ladies, being the possessor of a great deal of magnetism. This week he appears at the Grand Opera House in Brooklyn.

Central Railroad Notes.

By the payment of its first mortgage the New Jersey Central makes a considerable reduction in its bonded debt. The trustee had a balance of $1,203,000 left in the treasury, and, as the new bonds were issued at a premium, the $5,000,000 of first mortgage bonds were paid off by the addition to the list of only $3,297,000 consolidated mortgage bonds.

The fact has just been made public that the Central Railroad has agreed to pay the administrator of the estate of Mrs. Rachael N. Coates $5,000, though the settlement was made some time ago. Mrs. Coates was injured by one car crashing into another at the Mulberry street crossing, Newark, on the night of October 9 last. Erysipelas set in, and she died on November 4.

At the Trinity Reformed Church.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, delivered an interesting lecture in that church last evening, the occasion being the ninth anniversary of the United Society of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. The reverend gentleman aptly illustrated the marvelous growth of the society, and produced figures to substantiate his statements. He also showed that the society, as now pledged, is a great benefit to the church.

The Rev. Mr. Schenck's remarks should have been heard by every member of the Y. P. S. C. E. in the city.

Wants Pay for His Dog.

Special Officer James Babbitt wants THE PRESS to mention the fact that a young man who is employed in a North avenue grocery store borrowed his $25 hound dog to go hunting at Bound Brook on Thanksgiving Day, and that instead of shooting game, the young man accidentally shot the dog. Mr. Babbitt says he has repeatedly been promised pay for the dog, but as yet he has not seen the wherewith.

FEARFUL FATALITY.

FIRE BRINGS DEATH TO THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

General Tracy Nearly Dead and Mrs. Tracy Killed—Their Daughter Dying.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, FEBRUARY 3.—Fire that broke out in the home of General Tracy, Secretary of the Navy, at Washington this morning, was discovered before the family had arisen.

They found themselves hemmed in by the flames with no chance of escape.

Mrs. Tracy jumped from a window to the sidewalk, and was so terribly injured that she died shortly afterwards.

Gen'l Tracy was subsequently dragged from the burning house by brave firemen, but they were both unconscious.

The General may yet die, and it is reported that Miss Tracy cannot recover.

The house was completely wrecked and the furniture is a total loss. Its value is estimated at $80,000.

LATER.

WASHINGTON, FEBRUARY 3.—General Tracy is now reported as severely injured, but not dead.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Hon. John Ulrich is so ill again as to be confined to his home.

Mrs. M. Coyne of Orchard place, has been ill for the past three weeks with la grippe.

Miss Conley, of Bayonne, spent the Sabbath with Miss Finley of East Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Murray, Jr., will leave Plainfield for a trip South, in a few days.

The funeral of the late Edward Burk, who died on January 30, took place from St. Mary's church, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

After a long illness of consumption, the death occurred last night at nine o'clock, of Fred J. Wells at his home, No. 54 West Fifth street.

An Epworth League is to be organized at Hightstown, this State on February 19, and among the speakers announced for the occasion is Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut of this city.

The name of Mr. William Walters was unintentionally omitted from the list of those who took part in the entertainment at Warren Mission chapel, on Thursday evening last.

Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, this morning mailed to Mr. and Mrs. S mour Marsh, a set of resolutions condoling the death of their son, William, which occurred recently.

Mr. D. S. DeCamp, proprietor of the Hotel DeCamp, at Suckasunny, Morris County, N. J., and Mr. Hiram H. DeCamp, Jr., are guests at Force's Hotel, North avenue, this city, for a few days.

Rev. J. W. Mitchell, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church, preached his farewell sermon last evening, before a large audience, taking his text from Ephesians 5—25: 27. During his sermon, Rev. Mr. Mitchell made no allusion whatever to the recent difficulty in the church.

The Rev. Mr. Bowers, pastor of the Warrenville church, was tendered a donation party at the residence of Mr. Israel Adams on Thursday evening. The party was attended by one hundred and seventy-five persons, and the parson's wallet was increased to the extent of $200.

At Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Stephen A. Davis, formerly of this city, but now proprietor of "The Elm House," East Grand street, fell from a step-ladder and sprained both ankles and an arm. Mr. Davis is today in bed, but he is slowly recovering from the injuries he received.

In the empty offices of the C. L. S. C., Saturday evening, was held a reunion of those who had been connected in its business service for the past many years. Twenty-two were present and enjoyed the social entertainment of the affair in spite of the fact that it was also a severing of the ties that had bound them. Souvenirs were presented by Miss Kimball and Miss Chamberlin, and a bountiful supper was served.

Of Interest and Pleasure to You All.

The exhibition of the work of the Plainfield Camera Club, at the Y. M. C. A., rooms, is something everybody should see. It is open every morning, afternoon and evening for a few days longer. Those who have been once are going again, but everyone else should go to.

Besides the local interest there is in the pictures portrying faces and scenes that are familiar, there is a rich fund of instruction and entertainment in such specialties of the display as Ernest Marx's "Story of the Race," giving instantaneous views of the running horses at the start, the stretch and the finish; Mr. W. B. Post's and Mr. L. W. Serrell's, land and waterscapes; Mr. C. H. Davis' portraits; Mr. J. H. Doane's many and varied subjects; Mr. F. R. Stevens' original mountings; Mr. W. H. Lyons' charming groups and faces; Mr. James Greenleaf's micrographs, and much else that is novel and pleasing.

—This evening the City Council will meet in regular session.

OUT OF THE DRIFTS.

LIFE IN A SIERRA SNOW STORM AS TOLD BY THE ONLY GEORGE.

He Writes From Kansas City to Joseph B. Miller of Laing's Hotel, and Sends Him a Relic of His Snow Bound Adventure in the Shape of a Portrait of a Lovely Indian Princess.

By the last mail delivered Saturday evening, Mr. Joseph B. Miller, of this city, received a communication that brought joy to the hearts of the many friends of George Thatcher. It was the first positive assurance of the safety of our genial townsman, and came in the shape of a letter from George himself, which Mr. Miller kindly allows THE PRESS to print this evening, as it is of interest to Thatcher's legion of friends in Plainfield.

KANSAS CITY, January 29.

MY DEAR FRIEND:—We have just escaped from a terrible experience. Snowed under for fourteen days in the heart of the Sierras. Living on snow pudding and icycle sauce, varied with an occasional supply of salt fish, which was obtained after much hardship. I assure you I have often thought of Plainfield, and my many warm friends there, but we are all right now, and I will be amongst you next month. I send herein the picture of an Indian Princess, who is desperately in love with one of our company, and has followed him about the country. Her name is Ha-Lo-Come-Tux. In the distance the landscape represents the Royal Canon—by closely inspecting you will notice the stream from the valley, the snow clad tops and the gulch. This is the very region that I have occupied for fourteen days. Can you wonder then at what I have gone through.

Let me hear all about every body in dear old Plainfield and believe me.

Your friend ever,
GEORGE THATCHER.

P. S.—I send you today by fast freight a box of snow as a memento of the occasion. Enclosed you will find an icycle for Ed. Thorn.

THE COAL DEALER'S "TRUST."

Some Facts About Their Profits Which Apply Also in This City.

(From the Somerville Gazette.)

The article taken from the Trenton Times recently, respecting the existence of a coal dealers' trust, by which it was alleged the dealers in Trenton and elsewhere made about fifty per cent profit, is denied by those in this locality who are in the business.

David K. Craig of this place, who is the President of the Coal Dealers' Association, (known as the Coal Exchange), and who speaks for all members of the Exchange, states the cost of the coal at the mines, added to the railroad tolls, allows the dealers at this time a profit of from fifty to fifty-five cents per ton, and the difference between the gross and the net weights as bought and sold, and no more; that one of the rules of the Exchange and its aim is to secure to dealers an average profit of just fifty cents. He states that the Exchanges in this State were organized in self-defence, because in many places where dealers were not conscientious about giving full weight, they had reduced the selling price of coal to a sum which did not admit of others, who were conscientious, to compete with them. The Exchange also exists in part to watch the dealers to see that not only the price but full weight is adhered to, and the dealer is heavily fined if he sells by short weight.

John F. Wilson of Plainfield, a large dealer, also writes that the Trenton Times article is far from true, and he gives the figures showing that the coal dealers' profits average only about fifty cents per ton.

Funeral of Miss Augusta Winckler.

The last sad rites following the death of the late Augusta Winckler daughter of Augustus J., and Margaret A. Winckler, who died on January 30, were enacted from her parent's home on Park place, yesterday afternoon at one o'clock. The house was literally packed with the mourners and sympathizing friends of the family. A trio, consisting of Messrs. E. E. Runyon, Morris Van Arsdale and B. T. Barnes, sang "Over Jourdan" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, of which Miss Winkler was a member, read the twenty-seventh Psalm, it being her favored chapter in the Bible.

Rev. Mr. Goodrich spoke beautifully and eulogistically of Miss Winkler, alluding particularly to her complete resignation and faith in the Master. He also spoke of the testimony she bore in life of God's love and the fulfillment of His promises.

The casket was laden with handsome floral designs, the gifts of near friends. Interment was made in the family plot at Hillside cemetery.

To Organize a Class for Inductive Bible Study.

Mr. Wm. D. Murray will organize at the Y. M. C. A., this evening, at 8 o'clock, a class for Inductive Bible Study in the Gospel according to Luke. The class will be taught after the manner of Prof. Wm. R. Harper of Yale University. "The object of the Inductive Bible Study is to train men to search the Scriptures for the truth contained in them, recognizing the Bible as a text book, challenging every would-be scholar to a critical study of its contents." All interested in the formation of such a class are invited to be present.

MR. RANDOLPH SPEAKS.

PLAINFIELD'S GREATEST MAYOR INDUCED TO TALK ON THE WATER WORKS QUESTION.

He Tells the Readers of THE PRESS What He Knows About the Attack on the Corporation Counsel by a Correspondent in These Columns.

THE PRESS has been since its first issue fully alive to the importance of treating live subjects in a live manner. Upon several, even numerous occasions, we have anticipated public opinion and won public approval. In the recent controversy over the desirability of the Water Works franchise, as far as the City's interests are concerned, the columns of THE PRESS have been open to all who have desired to present their opinions.

So much has been written about ex-Mayor Randolph and the editorial arguments of the Times disfavoring the water works contract as it now stands, that many of Mr. Randolph's friends have anticipated a letter from his pen. He remained silent, however, and was rather inclined to view with disfavor any further controversy upon the matter when a PRESS reporter called at his residence on Saturday evening. The reporter succeeded however, in eliciting the following opinions from Mr. Randolph regarding the water works question and Mr. Marsh's relation thereto:

Reporter—Mr. Randolph will you give me for publication your views of Mr. Marsh's attitude toward the water works?

Mr. Randolph—That I certainly will not do, Mr. Marsh and his actions can speak for themselves. I will say one thing, however, no evidence has yet been presented that Mr. Marsh acted in a double capacity, that is, that he was employed by the city and by the water works company at the same time. Though he does not deny that he was so employed, I do not believe that he is capable of occupying any such doubtful position, and I don't think it the duty of a public officer to be always denying rumors.

Reporter—Is it true that Mr. Marsh and yourself have had any personal controversy, or that he worked or voted against you at the time of your last Mayoralty run?

Mr. Randolph—It is not true at all. We have always been good friends. Mr. Marsh knew I did not want the Mayoralty, and I understood that he was out of town, as I also was on election day when I was being voted for. I am sure that he did not work against me. He could hardly have supported Mr. Maxson, for he knew that Mr. Maxson would not wish to retain him in office. Since Mr. Maxson's time I think he has made himself so useful to the succeeding Mayors that they would hardly have known how to get along without him. But as to his relations to me, he shows that he entertains high sentiments of esteem and gratitude toward me by writing a whole column in THE PRESS in my praise and defense, though what on earth he wanted to defend me for or against, I don't know. I am, as he says, thus far able to stand alone.

Reporter—Why, he was defending you against your friends, wasn't he? Don't you know who wrote the PRESS article pitching into Mr. Marsh and into the Water company, and standing up for you?

Mr. Randolph—Perhaps, technically I might say that I don't; but I ought to be frank with you, I suppose, and say that I have my surmise on that point, and in just one moment I will tell you how I come to guess or suppose about it, for my interview with the gentleman who probably furnished it lasted also about a minute. It took place by mere accident in the street, both of us being hurried. He stopped me and said he thought I ought to reply to the affront, or insult, or whatever it was that I had received from an annoymus article in the papers. I told him I did not at all propose to do so, that it was not worth my while. He replied that he thought it was, and that he intended to take the matter up if I did not; or words to that effect. Upon that day or the next someone did take a hand in the affair, and I suppose my friend did it. No, I don't propose to tell his name. He is a fearless, able man, younger than I am, and of different opinions in some ways, but he is capable of holding his own anywhere. Besides, I may be mistaken in identity. A good many people are just now very much stirred up at what they consider the unwisdom and injustice of this water works contract. I meet them in considerable numbers every day. They say that Mayor Male and various Councilmen promised them that the water works question should be submitted to the vote of the people before the city was committed. As a matter of fact, our venerable Mayor said as much to me, and I really had no expectation that the contract would be put through irretrievably during the closing hours of the last Councilmanic year. However, I am not criticising any particular Councilman. No man goes before me in appreciating the public services of Francis E. Marsh, John B. Dumont and others of the last Council. I think those men ought to have been kept in the Council if they themselves could afford the sacrifice. Now, this last has nothing to do with the water works, though some writers for the PRESS think it has. The water works question must stand or fall on its own merits or demerits. My views on this water matter I have already expressed long ago in my communication to the water committee. The information and opinions I had gathered had cost me something, but the committee could not or would not avail of them and I have never sought further to obtrude my views upon them.

Reporter—But to return a moment to Mr. Marsh. Has he said or written you anything about this recent public discussion or the water scheme?

Mr. Randolph—Nothing whatever, and I want to say that it occurs to me now that there are several reasons why it is impossible that Mr. Marsh could have written the impudent, personal anonymous article which he has been charged with writing, lugging me into this controversy. It is not his way or his style. If he had anything to say to me he wouldn't go about it in that backdoor fashion. He would come to me and say it I am impressed with the view that injustice has be done to Mr. Marsh. Why, look at that article. It dodges entirely the real points at issue, except so far as it admits the argument against the bond, and then it tries to divert public attention by abusing an individual. Besides, see the signature to the article. It is signed "Taxpayer." That is not a characteristic signature of Mr. Marsh. As an argument the article at once wholly collapsed, and so it is perfectly clear that no lawyer wrote it. And Mr. Marsh is a lawyer, as I know, for I have had occasion to send him some law business. Then another thing marks it clear to me that Mr. Marsh could not have written the article. If in any heat of temper, such as all men may be liable to, he had written anonymous article against me, he, would, as a friend and respecter of mine, as he shows himself to be in his long article in the PRESS, have hastened to apologize and this he has not done. So, let others think and say as they may, I don't propose to do him the injustice to suspect him of writing that anonymous personal attack. I tell you sir, it is impossible that he could have been capable of it, and to use Mr. Marsh's expression "in my judgment," he did not write it.

Reporter—But is there not just such an expaession as you just quoted, "in my judgment," or "in my opinion," in the anonymous article in question?

Mr. Randolph—Well, if there is such an intimation it only illustrates what I say, that it must have been only a "pinchbeck" lawyer, if any, that wrote that article and not Mr. Marsh.

Reporter—What do you think of the prospect for the water works scheme being carried out?

Mr. Randolph—I really don't know much about that. I understand that the Company officials say that they cannot get water of the right kind in the Northeast portion of the city, where, as per contract, it is, as I understand, to be obtained. They say the water there is too hard. Perhaps they find it too hard to work their plans against public opinion; people don't always find a very soft thing in that direction.

Reporter—Mr. Randolph, allow me to return once more to your friend, from whom Mr. Marsh insisted on saving you. Did you know that he would send an article to THE PRESS anonymously signed.

Mr. Randolph—No, I did not. I never heard of "Looker On" till I saw it in the paper. I didn't know positively that he would send THE PRESS anything. But it seems, if my supposition is correct, that he chose to meet "Tax Payer" as a "Looker On" instead of signing his own name. I have not seen him since meeting him on the street that day. He thought that Mr. Marsh wrote the anonymous article against me, but I have told you my abundant reasons for holding that Mr. Marsh could not have been guilty of writing any such inconclusive and sneaking article. To quote a remark which has been used somewhere in this connection—"He has a soul above it." Now kindly excuse me from anything further; I don't want to bother you or myself.

Reform Hall.

The address of Captain George D. Morrison in Reform Hall last evening was one of the most interesting and instructive ever uttered from that platform. His chosen subject was "The Sailor, Rum and the Saviour," and admirably did he handle it. After reviewing the peculiarities and influences of the sea, its fascinations and perils, gleaned from long personal experience, he detailed the life, habits and temptations of the sailor, scourged the devastating effects of liquor drinking and trafficking, and presented in a clear and convincing manner the blessed results of religion, and the necessity of a firm reliance upon Christ as the only anchor of safety. His illustrations were many and pointed. Captain Morrison is an entertaining and forcible speaker, and the unanimous desire of the audience was to hear him again in Reform Hall.

President Harper presided. Captain Morrison conducted the devotional services, and Mr. King led the choir, with Mr. Rogers as organist.

At Music Hall Tonight.

(From the Lafayette Journal.)

A theatrical critic would prefer to write the truth. But this would lead to disaster with many a struggling showman, so he presumes upon the public for sweet charity's sake. Occasionally the weary newspaper man has an opportunity to speak in words of warmest praise, and at the same time tell the old-fashioned truth. Such an opportunity was presented at the Grand Opera House, last night. For the first time, "The Two Sisters" was presented to the Lafayette public. A better pleased and better entertained audience has not been in the Opera House for many a day.

—Chas. Trotter was on Saturday held in bail to await the action of the Grand Jury, on a charge of stealing lumber from the Rock View avenue bridge in North Plainfield.

MR. WOTHERSPOON'S GALOP.

It is Sent From Australia to THE PRESS, and Beautifully Rendered by Miss Gussie Holmes.

All the way from Australia by mail, came to THE PRESS on Tuesday a handsomely illuminated copy of a brilliant "Galop de Concert" composed by Mr George Wotherspoon of this city. It is dedicated to Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett, and copies of it were presented as a souvenir upon the occasion of the visit of His Excellency the Governor and the Countess of Hopetoun to the fiftieth performance of that charming play, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which was produced at the Princess' Theatre, Melbourne, by special arrangement with Mr. Wotherspoon, the authoress' representative.

The next day the music was played as a march at the Bryant shool by Miss Gussie Holmes, and attracted deserved admiration because of its brilliancy and merit, and the effective manner in which it was rendered. Those judges of music who heard it, were sincere and enthusiastic in their praise of both Mr. Wotherspoon and Miss Holmes.

DR. ESTEBROOKE'S TRIBUTE.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 25, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. B. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

THE MINE DISASTER

Nottingham Colliery Now Has Seven Killed.

HARD WORK OF THE SEARCHERS.

Thrilling Story Told by One of the Men Who Escaped from the Mine.

All Standing Together When the Explosion Came—A Crash of Falling Rock. Almost Stifled by Gas—Suffering Awful Pain and Dragging Himself Out on His Hands and Knees.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 3.—The correct list of those who met death in the explosion at the Nottingham mine in Plymouth is as follows: Edward Barry, John C. Crossing, John R. Davis, John Humphreys, Joseph Jones, Powell, Schultz and David R. Williams.

Of the injured it is expected that John Dennis and Davis Fox will die. The others, although badly burned and bruised, will recover.

The last body was not taken from the mine until 3 a. m. The rescuers under Morgan R. Morgan had been in the mine since 11 o'clock Saturday morning and worked steadily until the last body was reached. In order to get Davis's body out it was necessary to remove five tons of rock.

All the dead were married, and seven widows and twenty-two orphans are thrown out upon the world. Plymouth was in mourning yesterday, and hundreds of men, women and children collected on the streets and discussed the disaster. In many of the churches prayers were offered for the families of the dead. David Fox, one of the men who was in the upper lift when the explosion occurred, said:

"There were eight of us in the fifth lift standing timbers. Most of them were strangers, but I knew Joseph Thomas, David Williams and John Crossing. Just before the explosion came I had called all hands to come and help me to raise a timber and we were all standing close together. Crossing was close by my side. His mules were 20 or 30 feet away. I had called him from them to bear a hand.

"As near as I can tell, the gas was fired down at the outlet. I saw fire down that way plain enough, but in a second I did not know anything more. I must have lain there unconscious for may be an hour and a half. When I came to I didn't know where I was at all. I found myself lying in the gutter in the mud and water. I dragged myself out of there on my hands and knees. I could not stand up. I got to a dry spot, but never expected to get out of there alive. I thought both my legs were broken. I couldn't hear a sound, and it was perfectly dark. I called out, but not even a groan answered me. The air was getting very bad with the black damp, and I lay down on my face. I was suffering awful pain.

"Suddenly there was a crash of falling rock and a rush of air, and I knew the roof was caving, as it always does after an explosion. The air got worse and I could hardly breathe. If I stayed there I would be dead in a few minutes, and so I started to drag myself away. I hadn't gone far when the gas overcame me and I knew nothing more till I found myself on a stretcher coming up the shaft."

PARNELL'S BATTLES.

The Irish Statesman Preparing for a Big Skirmish in Parliament.

LONDON,, Feb. 3.—Mr. Parnell, although invisible, is not inactive. His address to the Irish party sounds like a clarion call. He has weighty work on hand. It is believed that at this session the question of home rule for Ireland is to be settled. Mr. Parnell acts as if he wished to have every member of the party think so. His influence is felt in every direction. He will leave no stone unturned to further the cause. He intends to produce the whole mass of Piggott's letters, forgeries and all. Mr. Davitt, speaking of the forthcoming documents and testimony, says the revelations they will make will be startling even to a world jaded with the proceedings of the special commissions.

Mr. Parnell's case against the Times has been fixed for to-day, one brief damage suit against Mr. P. T. Barnum alone intervening. Judge Coleridge, whose liking for celebrated cases is proverbial, presides over the court. Murphy, the leading counsel for the Times, will be assisted by four juniors. Parnell relies upon Sir Charles Russell and Mr. Asquith. The only question being one of assessment, the trial is not expected to last more than a few days. Much naturally depends on the composition of the special jury call. The right to challenge in civil cases is limited, and as the panel consists largely of Tories, it is hardly expected that the damages will be heavy. The Times tried to evade answering as to the number of copies it circulated, but will have to do so. Curiosity is excited over Russell's opening speech, which will, perhaps, be the most interesting feature of the case.

Fought a Duel.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The duel between the Marquis de Mores and M. Drayfus, editor of the Nation, took place yesterday on the Belgian frontier. M. Dreyfus was shot in the right arm. The bullet has been extracted, and no serious trouble is anticipated. The Marquis was uninjured. The duel was the outcome of an article in the Nation which the Marquis regarded as offensive.

DR. TALMAGE'S TRIP.

HE SUMS UP WHAT HE HAS SEEN IN THE HOLY LAND.

The Journey in Palestine and Syria and on Waters Surrounded with Biblical Associations—Discomforts of the Trip—Ready for His Life of Christ.

CONSTANTINOPLE, January, 1890.—On leaving America I addressed some words of farewell to my sermonic readers, and now, on my way home, I write this letter of salutation which will probably reach you about the Monday that will find me on the Atlantic ocean, from which I cannot reach you with the usual sermon. I have completed the journey of inspection for which I came. Others may write a life of Christ without seeing the Holy Land. I did not feel competent for such a work until I had seen with my own eyes the sacred places, and so I left home and church and native country for a most arduous undertaking. I have visited all the scenery connected with our Lord's history. The whole journey has been to me a surprise, an amazement, a grand rapture or a deep solemnity. I have already sent to America my Holy Land observations for my Life of Christ, and they were written on horseback, on muleback, on camelback, on ship's deck, by dim candle in tent, in mud hovel of Arab village, amid the ruins of old cities, on Mount of Beatitudes, on beach of Gennesareth, but it will take twenty years of sermons to tell what I have seen and felt on this journey through Palestine and Syria.

All things have combined to make our tour instructive and advantageous. The Atlantic, and Mediterranean, and Adriatic, and Ægean, and Dardanelles, and Marmora seas have treated us well. Since we left New York we have had but a half day and one night of storm, and that while crossing Mount Hermon. But let only those in robust health attempt to go the length of Palestine and Syria on horseback. I do not think it is because of the unhealth of the climate in the Holy Land that so many have sickened and died here or afterward as a result of visiting these lands, but because of the fatigues of travel. The number of miles gives no indication of the exhaustions of the way. A hundred and fifty miles in Palestine and Syria on horseback demand as much physical strength as four hundred miles on horseback in regions of easy journey.

Because of the near two months of bright sunlight by day and bright moonlight or starlight by night, the half day of storm was to us the more memorable. It was about noon of Dec. 18 that the tempest struck us and drenched the mountains. One of the horses falls and we halt amid a blinding rain. It is freezing cold. Fingers and feet like ice. Two hours and three-quarters before encampment. We ride on in silence, longing for the terminus of to-day's pilgrimage. It is, through the awful inclemency of the weather, the only dangerous day of the journey. Slip and slide and stumble and climb and descend we must, sometimes on the horse and sometimes off, until at last we halt in the hovel of a village, and instead of entering camp for the night we are glad to find this retreat from the storm. It is a house of one story, built out of mud. My room is covered with a roof of goats' hair. A feeble fire mid-floor, but no chimney. It is the best house of the village. Arabs, young and old, stand around in wonderment as to why we come. There is no window in the room, but two little openings, one over the door, the other in the wall, through which latter opening I occasionally find an Arab face thrust to see how I am progressing. But the door is open, so I have some light. This is an afternoon and night never to be forgotten for its exposures and acquaintance with the hardships of what an Arab considers luxurious apartment. I sat that night by a fire the smoke of which finding no appropriate place of exit took lodgment in my nostrils and eyes. For the first time in my life I realized that chimneys were a luxury, but not a necessity. The only adornments in this room were representations of two tree branches in the mud of the wall, a circle supposed to mean a star, a bottle hung from the ceiling, and about twelve indentations in the wall to be used as mantels for anything that may be placed there. This storm was not a surprise. Through pessimistic prophets we had expected that at this season we should have rain and snow and hail throughout our journey. For the most part it has been sunshine and tonic atmosphere, and not a moment has our journey been hindered. Gratitude to God is with us the dominant emotion.

Having visited the scenery connected with Christ's life, I was glad to close my journey by passing through the apostolic lands and seas. You can hardly imagine our feelings as we came in sight of Damascus, and on the very road where Saul was unhorsed at the flash of the supernal light. We did not want, like him, to be flung to the earth, but we did hope for some great spiritual blessing, brighter than any noonday sun, and a new preparation for usefulness. Our long horseback ride was ended, for a carriage met us some miles out and took us to the city. The impression one receives as he rides along the walled gardens of the place are different from those produced by any other city. But we cannot describe our feelings as we entered the city about which we have heard and read so much, the oldest city under the sun, and founded by the grandson of Noah; nor our emotions as we pass through the street called Straight, along which good Ananias went to meet Saul; and by the site of the palace of Naaman, the leper, and saw the river Abana, as yesterday we saw Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus that Naaman preferred to wash in rather than the Jordan. Strange and unique Damascus! It is worth while to cross the Atlantic and Europe to see it. Though it has been the place of battle and massacre, and of ancient affluence and splendor as well as it is of present prosperity, to me its chief attraction arises from the fact that here the scales fell from Paul's eyes, and that chief of apostles here began that mission which will not end until heaven is peopled with ransomed spirits. So also I saw day before yesterday Patmos, where John heard the trumpets and the waves of the sea dashed to his feet, reminding him of the songs of heaven, "like the voice of many waters."

But this letter can only give a hint of the things we mean to tell you about when we get home, where we expect to be before this month is ended. I baptized by immersion in the Jordan an American whom we met, and who desired the solemn ordinance administered to him in the sacred waters. I rolled down from Mount Calvary or "place of a skull" a stone for the corner stone of our new Brooklyn Tabernacle. We bathed in the "Dead Sea" and in "Gideon's Fountain," where his three hundred men lapped the water from their hands as they passed through; and we sailed on Lake Galilee and stood on Mount Zion, and Mount Moriah, and Mount Hermon, and I saw the place where the shepherds heard the Christmas anthem the night Christ was born; and have been at Nazareth, and Capernaum, and sat by "Jacob's Well," and saw Tel-el-Kebir of modern battle, and Megiddo of ancient battle, and where the Israelites crossed the desert, and slept at Bethel where one ladder was let down into Jacob's dream, but the night I slept there the heavens were full of ladders, first a ladder of clouds, then a ladder of stars, and all up and down the heavens were the angels of beauty, angels of consolation, angels of God ascending and descending; and I was on nearly all the fields of Herodic, and Solomonic, and Davidic, and Mosaic, and Abrahamic history. I took Rome and Naples and Athens, and Alexandria and Cairo on the way out, and take the Greek Archipelago, and Constantinople, and Vienna on the way back. What more can God in his goodness grant me in the way of natural scenery, and classic association, and spiritual opportunity? Ah yes! I can think of something gladder than that he can grant me. Safe return to the people of my beloved flock, the field of my work, and the land where my fathers died, and in the dust of whose valleys I pray God I may be buried.

T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

The Sportsman's Florida.

In Florida the material changes of the past ten or fifteen years have been on a scale possible only in what was practically a frontier state. The past twenty years have virtually witnessed the settlement of Florida anew by a population drawn thither from other states. The inrush of new citizens, the building of new towns and cities, the multiplying and extension of railroads, the conversion of vast wilderness tracts from pine and hummock lands into orange groves and farms—all this has greatly changed the face of the country; and the state has ceased to be in many respects the great shooting resort it once was. Nowhere is this more readily observed than on some of the lines of river travel. The great abundance and accessibility of feathered game encountered on the waterways once made it possible for the cads and cockneys—not in any remotest sense sportsmen—who shot from the moving craft, to slaughter foolishly, wantonly and wastefully thousands of birds of plume.

As time went by and the fusillade was kept up, the birds were destroyed or scared away until the river banks became practically barren of game. Then as the new railroads fortunately diverted the tide of travel away from the rivers, and the haints of the birds were left unmolested, they multiplied, and have in many districts become abundant. The time has gone by when a majority of Florida tourists are equipped with firearms; but those who are seeking legitimate sport with game birds are still to be found in hosts; and the tangible rewards of one's outing are generous. Florida is today more than ever the winter home of the sportsman. —Forest and Stream.

Like His Grandfather.

Many persons who never heard the word heredity have a very just and vivid idea of the truth which that word was invented to convey. They know perfectly well that physical and intellectual traits are handed down from father to son, and from son to grandson.

Congressman Allen, of Missi-sippi, was lately telling stories at a Washington hotel, according to a reporter for The New York Star.

"I had just returned from making a political speech," he said, "when I was met at the door by an old 'Aunty' Allison, an aged negro woman who nursed me in childhood. With her big, black, good natured face all wreathed in smiles, she said, 'Bless ma soul, Mass'r John, but how yo' don' remin'me o' yo' deah ole gran'fa'r! Yo' walk like him, talk like him, act like him, an' am jes' like him in politiks, too.'

"'Why, aunty, I never knew that my grandfather had been active in politics, said I.

"'Oh, 'deed an' 'deed he wah, Mass'r John. He wah jest like yo'self in that pa'ticlah.'

"'In what way, aunty?'

"'Oh, he wah all de time a-holdin' office.'

"'What office did grandfather hold, aunty?'

"'Jes' de same as yo'—candidate.'"

Religious Liberty in Russia.

The arbitrary measures now being adopted by the Russian government for the complete Russianization of the German elements in the Baltic provinces are arousing a very strong feeling among the Russo-Germans. The most exasperating of these measures is perhaps the attempt at wholesale proselytism now being made among the Lutherans by the missionary agents of the holy synod. The Baltic Lutherans resent these proselytizing missions as more unjust and coercive than any similar measures ever adopted against the Catholics in Poland.

The government has made the discovery that a very unusual number of meetings of the Roman Catholic clergy have lately taken place in the Polish provinces on the pretext of celebrating certain saints' days, which number something like 250 a year. A keen watch is kept on the Roman Catholic clergy, whose influence beyond the pale of their church it is sought to restrict in every possible way, and, therefore, the minister of the interior has issued orders that no religious ceremonies in Poland, accompanied by meetings of the Roman Catholic clergy, shall take place without the express authorization of the local authorities, and the presence at such meetings of a Russian official.—Odessa Cor. London Standard.

The Germ of Yellow Fever.

Dr. George M. Sternberg, surgeon in the United States army, recently returned from a six months' stay in Cuba, where he has been continuing his researches with reference to yellow fever. He brought with him specimens of microbes, with which he will continue his investigations during the winter at the Johns Hopkins university. At the end of this time he hopes to present a general report of his investigations to President Harrison. "My researches," says Dr. Sternberg, "have not led to a positive demonstration of the specific cause of the disease; but I have isolated a considerable number of pathogenic bacilli, disease producing germs, from the intestines of yellow fever cases, and have strong hopes that one or more of these may prove to be the specific germ. I have confirmed my previous conclusions as to the absence of a previous micro-organism in the blood and tissues of the patients, and have failed to find in any of my cases the germ which Dr. Frere, of Brazil, has claimed to be the cause of the disease. For this reason I have given my attention to the bacilli of the alimentary canal."—Exchange.

Fish Charms.

Fish charms have been met with among many nations. The fish called the bullhead is used by some of the Russian peasants of a charm against fever. Many kinds of fish have two hard bones just within the sides of the head, and one species, the miagre, has these bones larger in proportion than most others. These two bones, called colic stones, are regarded to possess medicinal virtues. They were mounted in gold and hung round the neck.—Troy Times.

JACKSON UNSEATED

The Republicans in the House Secure a Quorum.

DISPOSING OF ONE CONTEST.

Democrats Threaten to Carry the Case to the Supreme Court.

Filibustering Tactics Continued—When the Roll Was Called Democrats Refused to Vote—The Speaker Declared a Constitutional Quorum Present and Smith Was Seated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The Republican Congressmen last night unseated J. Moins Jackson, Democrat, of the Fourth West Virginia district, and seated Charles B. Smith, Republican.

For the first time since the contest over the case was begun the Republicans mustered a quorum, and 165 votes to unseat Jackson and give Smith his seat, while the Democrats looked on, sullenly and silently. They threaten to carry the case to the Supreme Court. The Republicans dare them to do it.

The Democrats had pursued the filibustering tactics which have characterized their attitude during the past week. When the clerk began the reading of the journal Mr. McMillian demanded its reading in full. When the reading was concluded Mr. Oferrall said he desired to have recorded in the journal a ruling made by the Speaker late Saturday evening, refusing Mr. Oferrall the privilege of incorporating in the record as part of his remarks certain evidence in the then pending case.

This was ordered and Mr. McKinley moved the approval of the journal and demanded the previous question. At the request of seventy-one Democrats, the ayes and nays were ordered on the motion to order the previous question.

The roll was called, the Democrats not voting. At the close of the roll call the Speaker caused the names of members not voting to be recorded. He then announced the vote, 54, and no nays.

He declared a constitutional quorum present and the previous question ordered.

The journal was approved. A motion to adjourn was voted down on a yea and nay call. The Speaker then announced the question to be upon the resolution declaring Smith elected. After a brief debate the House formally unseated Jackson and declared Smith elected.

An Address from the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—An address has been issued to the country, explaining the position of the Democratic members of the House. It was prepared by ex-Speaker Carlisle, and is signed by all of the minority members. The address says the present situation in the House of Representatives and the unprecedented decisions of the Speaker are full of danger to the integrity of future legislation.

Colonel Mosby's Allowance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The United States Supreme Court, through Justice Blatchford, rendered a decision allowing Col. John S. Mosby, the well-known Confederate cavalry leader, $11,783, in his suit to recover from the Treasury Department fees as consul at Hong Kong, which he had turned in but which he subsequently learned were due him. The Court of Claims allowed Colonel Mosby $13,839 and he appealed from the decision to the Supreme Court.

THE RUSSIAN MISSION.

Pennsylvania's Representatives Know Nothing of the Reported Appointment.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—If the Russian mission has been tendered to Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press., it has certainly been done without the knowledge of Senator Cameron.

When asked if he had any information about the matter he replied that he had not. He was not aware that Mr. Smith had been agreed upon for it or that it had been offered to him or accepted. He had a lurking idea, however, that he ought to be in a position to know something about it if anyone had been slated for the place.

Congressman Bingham states that the report that the mission has been tendered Mr. Smith is news to the Pennsylvania delegation which signed for Mr. Harrison.

"If it has been done," he continued, "it has been done by the State Department without consultation with the Pennsylvania Representatives."

Burglary on a Large Scale.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Feb. 4.—Edward Perkins, aged 31, was arrested for attempted burglary. In his room were found a great variety of articles which he had stolen during the past four years. Among them were surveyors' instruments stolen from engineers employed on the new Thames river bridge. The value of the plunder is about $4,000.

A Failure Not on the Register.

WARSAW, N. Y., Feb. 4.—B. C. Williams & Co., dry goods merchants, of Perry, assigned on Saturday to Mr. Gates, of the Perry News. E. M. Clark, of Perry, is the only preferred creditor. The failure was not reported from Perry on Saturday, and does not appear on the county clerk's daily register, as is customary.

For the Murder of His Father.

GREENFIELD, Mass., Feb. 4.—The trial of Lincoln J. Randall for the murder of his father, at Montague Plain, Nov. 29, 1887, when Lincoln was only 18 years old, has begun. Mr. Randall was shot through a window of his house by some unknown person, and suspicion fell upon the boy.

LECONEY ON TRIAL.

The Alleged Murderer of His Niece Before a Jury.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 4.—Never in the history of the Camden courts has such a mass of people assembled. They lined the streets in front and on each side of the court house when the prisoner was brought in this morning.

The jurors selected are John R. Pickett, foreman; Henry Peters, Charles F. Shane, George Cubberley, Edward J. Kirk, John W. Lincoln, Charles H. Higbee, John Robertson, Charles T. Vanarsdale, Frank Stillwell, Josiah E. Albertson and Walter Earle.

A tilt occurred relative to the keeping of witnesses out of the room. Prosecutor Jenkins objected on the ground that some of the witnesses were newspaper men, and one of them was Assistant Prosecutor Ridgway, who was compelled to be present in the trial of the case. Mr. Jenkins won.

It was a noticable fact that the murdered girl's father, instead of sitting with the prosecution's officers sat with the defence.

LEAGUE GROUNDS LEASED.

Mr. Coogan to Take Them Away from the New York Club.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—It is said that James J. Coogan the owner of the New York League baseball grounds, will shortly lease the grounds to the New York & New England Railroad Company for a term of ninety-nine years.

Mr. Coogan, it is said, has made an offer to Mr. Day, president of the New York club, of $20,000 indemnity for the expense incurred in fitting up the grounds. Mr. Day said he did not see how the New York League club could be forced to vacate their present grounds, as the lease covers another year.

The importance of this act of Mr. Coogan is magnified by the fact that the Players League club, having grounds just north of the affected plot, will be left in untrammeled possession, while the old leaguers must look elsewhere.

VAST ICE FIELDS.

The Steamer Washington City Encounters an Iceberg 800 Feet High.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 4.—The steamer Washington City, from Hamburg for Philadelphia, which put in here short of coal, had a terrible passage.

On January 18th a tremendous sea swept Chief Officer Sengelow overboard, but he was thrown back by another wave. He was dashed against a rail and received serious internal injuries. Her fires were put out by heavy seas and she nearly foundered.

She passed through vast ice fields and saw an iceberg 800 feet high and a quarter of a mile long. Several of the crew were injured. Oil was used 24 hours without effect.

An Ocean Steamer in Distress.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Feb. 4.—James Allen, a resident of Squibrocket, reports having seen a large square-rigged ocean steamer under sail, a short distance off the south side of Martha's Vineyard. She was blowing her whistles for assistance and was evidently disabled. The fishing schooner Edwin H. Redman went to her assistance yesterday morning, since which time neither vessel has been seen in consequence of the prevalence of a dense fog. It is supposed the steamer wanted the assistance of tugs.

TRENTON LAWMAKERS.

A Resolution of Condolence to Secretary Tracy Adopted Unanimously.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 4.—The Senate adopted a resolution of condolence with Secretary Tracy. It was offered by Senator Werts.

Senator Miller introduced a bill giving small towns and townships the same power as cities in licensing hacks and auctioneers etc., and in restraining hawkers and peddlers.

A bill was introduced by Senator Adrain that empowers the Board of Education in any municipality to buy United States flags for the school buildings, and where there is no surplus in the treasury to levy a special tax.

Senator Peffer introduced an act ceding to the United States lands under water in the Delaware River, below high water mark, in front of Petty's Island.

Senator Rue introduced a bill increasing the Trenton Police Justices' salary to $1,000 a year and extending their term to five years.

Senator Mallon's bill that no official in Passaic County shall draw more than one salary as Court Crier and Sergeant-at-Arms passed.

In the Assembly.

Mr. Voorhees created a laugh by sending to the desk a bill to discourage vexatious litigation.

Mr. Mullone handed in the memorial from the Hudson County Ballot Reform Association.

Speaker Heppenheimer appointed as the House representatives on the Ballot-Reform Joint Committee Messrs. Marsh, Voorhees, Kerr, Mullone, Erwin, and Cole. The Senate Committee consists of Messrs. Martin, McDonald, Carter and Wertz. Six members of the committee are lawyers.

Appointments by Governor Beaver.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 4. Governor Beaver made the following appointments: M. W. Jackson, to be Associate Judge of Columbia County, in place of C. B. McHenry, deceased; Dr. W. H. Egle, to continue as State Librarian for another term.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Feb. 4.—In the Erie Railroad shops here 150 men were suspended. The supposed reason is economy.

PARNELL TRIUMPHS

The London Times Pays the Irish Leader $25,000.

THE LIBEL SUIT WITHDRAWN

The Home Ruler's Secretary Also Receive Damages from the Thunderer.

Showman Barnum in Court and Congratulates Parnell—The Special Committee's Report—The Times Says It Had No Case—The Liberals Preparing Their Programme for Parliament.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The libel suits against the Times brought by Mr. Parnell and his private secretary, Mr. Henry Campbell, were settled by the Times paying Mr. Parnell £5,000 and the costs of the suit. The announcement of the result of the actions caused a decided sensation in the court room. Mr. Parnell was present and appeared to be in good health. The Times will pay Mr. Campbell £200 damages besides meeting all the costs of his action. It is learned to-day on good authority that the report of the special committee on the Parnell-Times case may be expected to be ready at the opening of Parliament, but that the distribution of it at that time is doubtful.

Mr. Phineas T. Barnum, the veteran American showman, was present as a party to a cause in the same court. Mr. Barnum was introduced to Mr. Parnell, and the two conversed pleasantly for some minutes.

The Times this morning says in reference to the settlement that after the withdrawal of the alleged Parnell letters the Times clearly had no legal defence, and therefore no alternative but to come to terms or abide by the verdict of a jury.

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

The World's Fair Bill Goes Through Another Process.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 4.—In the Senate the World's Fair bill was announced with a message that the Assembly had disagreed to the conference report. A motion to table the report was made by Mr. Fassett.

Mr. Ives said that the bill had been declared dead by the Speaker of the Assembly, and requested a reason for the motion to table the report.

Mr. Fassett: "If its dead it might as well be laid out in decency."

Mr. Cantor moved that the Assembly World's Fair bill be taken up. One Senator (Mr. Saxton), he said, had, since Friday last, declared the bill unconstitutional, and he deemed it advisable to have the Senate pass upon it. Speedy action on the bill is demanded by the press of the State. The true reason for adding the additional incorporators has been made known since Friday.

Mr. Fassett raised the point of order, when Mr. Cantor had concluded, that debate was out of order.

Mr. Cantor's motion was then defeated by a party vote, ayes 10, nays 12. Mr. Stewart for the first time voting with the Republicans in the negative against consideration.

The Assembly resolution for adjournment was then adopted.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Among the bills introduced in the Assembly were the following: Prohibiting police officers or other subordinates from being interested in the manufacture or sale of malt or spirituous liquors. Appropriating $500,000 for the improvement of State canals. Changing the penalty for murder in the first degree from death to imprisonment for life. Amending the penal code by leaving to the discretion of the court the minimum punishment for assault in the second degree and grand larceny in the first and second degree. Also, providing that insane women in custody or in transportation shall be in charge of women. Requiring foreign co-operative loan and building associations doing business in this State to report to the Superintendent of the Banking Department.

Mr. Husted from the floor offered the following concurrent resolution:

"The sad intelligence that comes to us from Washington fills all hearts with grief. In this hour of trial it is our mournful privilege to extend to those bowed down with anguish the expression of our heartfelt sympathy. Be it, therefore,

"Resolved, if the Senate concur, that the members of this Legislature most deeply sympathize with the bereaved families of the Hon. James G. Blaine and the Hon. Benjamin F. Tracy in the sad afflictions they have severally sustained.

Resolved, That we condole with the sufferers in the terrible calamity that has befallen the family of the Secretary of the Navy, and that we extend to him our earnest hope that he may be restored to health and strength.

"Resolved, That as an evidence of our sorrow this House do now adjourn."

Adopted unanimously.

Baseball Chicanery.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Frank Bancroft, of Springfield, Mass., is here negotiating with John Ward for the control of all exhibition games by the Players' League Clubs in New England. His plan is to arrange exhibition games in New Haven, Worcester, Springfield and other New England cities. Mr. Bancroft was the popular president of the New England Baseball League, and peremptorily resigned on account of the sale of the Worcester franchise, which he characterizes as a most stupendous piece of baseball chicanery.

The Rev. Dr. Frazier Goes Insane.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 4.—The Rev. S. R. Frazier, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church at Youngstown, O., well known throughout the United States for his lectures on Japan, has suddenly become insane. Whether his affliction is temporary or permanent is not known.

Mr. Smith favored laying the matter on the table; Mr Rushmore wanted to know his reason, wh reupon Mr. Smith stated that the Mayor was to have sent in another name in the place of Mr. Hand, but the man was found to be ineligible for the office. Mr. Rushmore thought the Council should stand by the Mayor and confirm his appointment.

A Small Fire.

About five o'clock last evening a small fire occurred in Mr. Charles D. Wadsworth's residence, at the corner of Central avenue and Sixth street, but fortunately it was extinguished before any serious damage was done. The fire originated under a hearth-stone in a bedroom on the second floor, and had made considerable progress when Chief Doane and his assistants arrived on the spot. The upper story was filled with smoke, but a few goblets full of water was all that was necessary to put the fire out.

One of the girls employed by the family displayed remarkable courage and worked heroically to extinguish the flames.

TRUSTEES IN CONFERENCE.

THE WOMEN'S NIGHT SCHOOL CLOSED AND THE MEN'S ABOUT TO BE.

An Appeal for Manual Training Referred to the Committee on Teachers and Text Books—Mr. J. W. Jackson Sets a Good Example.

There were present at the regular meeting of the Board of Education, last evening, President Kirkner, Secretary Murray, Trustees Babcock and Probasco, Principal Goodrich and Clerk Clark. The business transacted was mainly of a routine nature.

President Kirkner stated that in spite of the small attendance at the night school for women, it had been kept open a while at the request of the Relief Association; but as the attendance had not been increased by the efforts of the Association and public appeal, the school had been closed on January 20. Principal Goodrich reported that the attendance at the men's night school had also fallen off, but thought it was because the manufacturing establishments were now running at night. The Board resolved to still keep the men's school open at least until the Principal should ascertain whether the press and tool works expected to continue their night work. The question of closing the men's school would then be considered at a meeting of the Board, to be called by the President.

A communication from Mr. James W. Jackson was received by the Board with open arms. Mr. Jackson requested to be permitted the pleasure of presenting a flag to the Irving school, which was unanimously granted and the Secretary was instructed to convey the sincere thanks of the Board to Mr. Jackson for his very welcome gift and the establishment of a precedent that would probably appeal to other public spirited citizens.

Trustee Probasco, the new member of the Board, stated that he had made a tour of inspection of all the schools and was intensely gratified at what he had seen. The condition of the buildings throughout, the tidiness of the scholars and the healthy appearance of all the children, spoke well for those in charge. Dr. Probasco found one child with an unpleasant sore in her ear, and Trustee Probasco sent her home and afterwards called on the parents and explained how offensive the case was and that the comfort of all the other children must be considered.

Trustee Babcock reported a case of a boy whose parents claimed he had been very ill of a cold caught from the draft of an open window on his head in the classroom. The Principal was instructed to again impress upon the minds of the teachers that they must not open the class room windows. In the case of a scholar who had been suspended by a Vice Principal, President Kirkner stated that he had reinstated the scholar. He called the attention of Principal Goodrich to the law which explicitly stated that no one had authority to suspend a scholar except the Principal, and he must report such action immediately to the President of the Board.

A communication was read by Secretary Murray, from Mrs. W. L. Patton and Mrs. D. W. Pond, appealing in the name of the "Monday Afternoon Club" of Plainfield, for the introduction of a new element into the curriculum of the public schools. The suggestion was that the means and methods for a course of manual training be procured. The cost was estimated at $2,000, one-half of which the State subscribed upon the advancement of a like amount from the school funds.

Trustee Murray moved that the communication, together with the constitution and by-laws of the Monday Afternoon Club, and other accompanying documents, be referred to the Committee on Teachers and Text Books. President Kirkner stated that the Committee on Teachers and Text Books respectfully declined. Trustee Babcock suggested the reference of the matter to the Committee on Buildings and Repairs, and Trustee Probasco declined. The President called attention to the fact that when the reduction of $5,000 in the tax for this year's school purposes was proposed, he told the Board that they would not have enough to get through with, and he guessed they had found it out. Trustee Murray acknowledged that the President was right, and promised to give the Board a statement of its available funds and expenses for the year, at the next meeting. Until then any matter that involved any cost, could not be considered. About $25,000—which included $11,786 07 just received as this year's apportionment from the State—would be all the Board would have to to meet expenses up to December 1890. The communication was then referred to the Committee on Teachers and Text Books.

Principal Goodrich reported the engagement of Miss C. Louise Stoll to take Miss Arnold's place as a substitute for Miss Bullock who was still absent but expecting to be back by the first of March. The Principal's action was confirmed. President Kirkner said that T. W. Morrison of North Plainfield, wanted to know whether as he was a taxpayer in Plainfield he should be compelled to pay a tuition fee for his daughter who was attending one of the city's schools. The Board said he would, as tax-paying could not give any title of citizenship to a non-resident.

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me great relief in bronchitis. Within a month I have sent some of this preparation to a friend suffering from bronchitis and asthma. It has done him so much good that he writes for more."—Charles F. Dumterville, Plymouth, England.

LEADING LAWYERS IN A CHICKEN CASE.

Six Cents Worth of Damages Involve Plaintiff and Defendant in an Expense of $350 for Fees and Costs of Court.

The case of Fine vs. Smith of this city, was called and a jury impaneled at Elizabeth, yesterday, Mr. Craig Marsh appearing for the plaintiff and Mr. R. V Lindabury for the defendant. The cause of this difficulty was brought about by some chickens belonging to Mr. Smith, which made a practice of going over into the yard of Fine and becoming a general nuisance by scratching up the garden, fertilizing the clothes spread out to dry, and soiling the porch, after notice and warning to Smith to keep them home.

The real damages did not amount to seven cents, but exemplary damages were demanded on the theory that to allow the fowls to continue trespassing after notice and warning justified a jury in punishing the defendant. A suit was first brought by Fine before Justice Wadsworth, in this city, for $50 damages. Craig A. Marsh brought the suit for Fine, and W. A. Coddington—who is not Judge Codington—defended it for Smith. The first jury disagreed, but a second gave a verdict of $25 for the plaintiff.

Smith appealed, engaged R. V. Lindabury to assist Mr. Coddington, and the case was called at Elizabeth yesterday. The trial took all day, the court room was crowded, and fun flowed ad libitum. Counsellors Marsh and Lindabury were at their best, and there were tilts galore between them though good natured withal.

But Plainfield's lawyer won, and a verdict was given in favor of Fine, the plaintiff, for $50 the full amount claimed, just double the Plainfield verdict. The case is likely to have cost about $100 a side for counsel fees. The judgment, costs and expenses for Mr. Smith to pay will take about another $100.

It was all about a few chicken scratches. But the Court told the jury that the case was an important one, and the jury vindicated Mr. Fine in bringing the suit, by giving him every dollar he asked for.

WESTFIELD JUST ESCAPES.

The "Olympics" on Strange Alleys, Come Within Sixty Pins of Defeating the "Mondays."

For the first time in their lives, the members of the Olympic team, of this city, bowled on the Westfield alleys, last evening. Their opponents were the Mondays, who in spite of their experience and being at home, just escaped defeat though they rolled a fine game. Messrs Seeley, Stitt, Wilcox, Dilts and Ganzell made a total of 832.

C. W. MacQuoid was the umpire, and the score was as follows:

GOVERNOR ABBETT.

The emphatic and thorough advocacy of ballot reform so nobly set forth by Governor Abbett in his recent inaugural address, confers not only honor upon him, but upon the State of New Jersey and the party of Democracy.

Governor Abbett does not favor any half-way, politician-tinkered system of reform, attractive in name, but deceptive in fact. He goes for the genuine article, and if the present Legislature of our State will discharge imperative duty by promptly enacting such a law as he recommends, the political atmosphere will be greatly purified, and the abomination of ballot box corruption measurably removed.

Every honest-intentioned citizen, be he Democrat or Republican, must glory in the triumph of such needed reform.

None but scurvy political tricksters and traders can or will oppose a measure designed to protect from fraud and violence the dearest privilege of free citizenship—the elective franchise; and the sooner such opponents are swept overboard and away by the surging waves of popular indignation, safer will be the interests of the people and fairer the reputation of country.

New Jersey is to be congratulated upon having a Chief Magistrate like Leon Abbett. He will never delegate his imposed official authority to any man or set of men, neither will he ever be found neglecting his post of duty for any outside purpose whatever. With statesman ability to formulate, industry to attend to business, and intelligent bravery to act as circumstances may demand, he will faithfully observe the official oath he has for the second time just taken.

He will be the real Governor of New Jersey, not a mere figure-head.

Leon Abbett is justly popular.

Why?

Because the people know exactly where to find him, and have reason to believe what he says.

He is the right man in the right place, and never for a moment hesitates to proclaim what, in his opinion, is right action.

Legislative Matters.

The fourth week of the Legislative session opened at Trenton, last evening. The work of the three weeks just past has consisted of the introduction of 171 bills, of which number scarcely a half dozen have passed either house.

There have thus far been eight bills introduced increasing the salaries of certain officials, and there seems to be considerable opposition to nearly every one. Mr. Marsh's House bill provides for the payment of $9,000 a year for each of the three vice chancellors, and Vice Chancellor VanFleet, who acts as Vice Ordinary, will get $500 additional for that work. At present they receive $5,000 a year and a per diem allowance of $10 for every days work. They sit on an average about 250 days in a year, which brings up their salary to $7,500. Vice Chancellor Pitney as Vice Ordinary gets $1,500 more, making $9,000 The new bill increases his salary $500 and that of the other vice chancellors $1,500 a year each.

Executors' Sale of Real Estate.

The executors' sale of the house and lot formerly owned by Mrs. Margaret Mulford, deceased, situated at No. 36 Craig place, North Plainfield, will be offered for sale, at auction, to-morrow at two P. M. The house is in good repair, and the size of the lot is forty feet wide front and rear, and about 125 feet in depth, inside measure. There is also a good barn on the premises.

—The Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., will have a business meeting to-night.

A Spring medicine is needed by every one. Winter food, largely consisting of salt meat and animal fats, causes the liver to become disordered and the blood impure, hence the necessity of a cleansing medicine. The best is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

—The Mechanical Drawing Classes will meet as usual at the Y. M. C. A., tonight.

—A meeting of men interested in Prof. Harper's inductive studies in Luke will be held at the Y. M. C. A., rooms, this evening at 8 P. M. Mr. W. D. Murray will conduct such a class providing a sufficient number desire the instruction.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 28, 1890.

I have spent one week and two days instructing Dr. C. R. Theirs in my method of extracting teeth. I found him a very expert operator with the forceps when I came, and consider him fully capable of using my anæsthetic to its best possible advantage.

So much depends on the skill of the operator, that I always make it a point to stay until the purchaser of my method is able to do it justice. I am glad to say that Dr. Thiers is superior to any with whom I have left it for a long time. I am proud to pay this tribute to his ability.

DEATH CAME BY FIRE

The Appalling Calamity at the Nation's Capital.

GENERAL TRACY'S BITTER WOE

His Wife and Daughter Killed and He Has a Narrow Escape.

HEMMED IN BY FIRE AND DEATH.

The Secretary's Widowed Daughter and Little Girl Saved.

Washington Plunged Into Mourning by the Horror—President Harrison Consoles His Cabinet Officer—The Bodies of the Dead Taken to the White House. Secretary Tracy Out of Danger—Graphic Tales of the Fire Told by Eye-Witnesses. Mrs. Tracy's Heroism—A Woman Servant Burned to a Crisp.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—There has been no calamity in recent times so shocking in its suddenness and in the prominence of its victims as that which reduced the beautiful home of the Secretary of the Navy to a blackened empty shell, and carried with it the loss of at least three lives, including those of his dearly loved wife and youngest daughter. To-day the Secretary lies crushed beneath the blow which, in the most horrible manner, has deprived him of wife and child and home.

Discovering the Fire.

A postman passing the elegant mansion at 1634 I street, the residence of the Secretary of the Navy, saw smoke issuing from the bay window. He stopped for a moment, and then, instead of awakening the occupants of the house, ran for a policeman. It was fully 10 minutes before he found one, and valuable time was thus lost. During the interval the flames had seized upon the entire front of the house, and were rapidly making their way to the roof. Then Officer Cattell arrived. Not waiting to give the alarm, he burst in the basement door, thinking apparently of the inmates.

Hurrying to the second floor, through the blinding smoke, he entered the back room and stumbled over a body, which afterward proved to be that of Secretary Tracy. Mrs. Tracy was tugging away at her husband, whom she had pulled out of bed, at the same time trying to reach the window and open the sash. Officer Catteil threw open the window. Mrs. Tracy leaned forward and flung herself over the sill, clinging for a moment with both hands.

Mrs. Tracy's Fatal Leap.

The ladder which would have saved Mrs. Tracy's life, had she waited but a brief moment before leaping to the sidewalk, was soon placed under the window. Half dazed and blinded by the smoke Mrs. Tracy opened the window and just as the firemen were going up the ladder to rescue her she leaped to the sidewalk. She received internal injuries which proved fatal an hour later.

Rescuing the Secretary.

After Mrs. Tracy had dropped to her death Chief Parrish of the Fire Department reached Secretary Tracy's bedchamber, and together with Officer Cattell and two firemen, assisted the Secretary down a ladder to the areaway and bore him to the residence of Judge Bancroft Davis, only a few rods away.

Jumping from Windows.

Mrs. Wilmerding, the Secretary's married daughter, and her child Alice forced their way through the blinding smoke and jumped from the second-story window. Mrs. Wilmerding had her right wrist badly sprained. She lay hysterical and in a half dazed condition, but is rapidly improving under treatment. Miss Alice is suffering from the shock.

Miss Mary's Body Found.

While the Secretary was being revived firemen hunted for Miss Mary Tracy his daughter. They found her body encased in a night robe at the head of the stairs leading to the street vestibule. There were bruises about the head and other portions of the body and the flesh appeared to have been parboiled by water thrown from the engines and heated by the flames. Miss Tracy's remains were removed first to the residence of Mr. Rheem and then to Gawler's undertaking establishment to be prepared for burial.

A French maid, Josephine, met a similar fate in an adjoining room, where her charred and blackened remains were found.

Sadness and Gloom.

Around all these residences great crowds congregated as soon as the sad news spread and remained all the day. Carriages and messengers stopped at the doors momentarily.

With Mrs. Tracy and Miss Tracy, and Mrs. Coppinger, Secretary Blaine's daughter, all lying dead, Secretary Tracy seriously ill, and his health permanently impaired, governmental circles are eashrouded in sadness and gloom.

Origin of the Fire.

The fire, it is believed, started in the front parlor near the open fire-place. Whether it originated from the open grate or from overheated furnace pipes is not known. The framework adjoining the mantel was where the fire started, and it no doubt burned some time before it was discovered. The furnace is in the basement directly beneath where the fire started, and the pipes leading to the upper stories pass in the rear of the woodwork of the mantel. The firemen generally, think that the woodwork caught fire from the overheated pipes.

The Dead Wife and Daughter.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Benjamin F. Tracy, the wife of Secretary of Navy Tracy, was in the sixtieth year of her age. Gen. Tracy, who was born and brought up in Owego, married Miss Catlin in 1854. They resided in the place until 1875, when they moved to Brooklyn, where their home has since been. Three children have blessed their union. Two are daughters and the other a son. Miss Mary Tracy, the unmarried daughter, one of the victims of the disaster, was like her mother in appearance. She was very amiable and had hosts of friends who will be horrified to learn of her dreadful fate.

SCENES OF THE CALAMITY.

Graphic Tales from Eye-Witnesses of the Awful Spectacle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The stories told by eye-witnesses of the terrible disaster which has desolated Secretary Tracy's home are graphic in the extreme. Chief Parris, of the fire department did brave work.

"I paid no attention to the fire when I heard there were people in the house," said he. "I felt my way through the smoke to the second floor and found a man in bed in a room. I tried to pick him up, but he was almost too heavy. I managed to drag him into a back room where there was more air, and then I broke the window out and called to Lowe, who was in the alley, to run up a ladder. Then they took the man out, and it proved to be the Secretary. I couldn't move him ony further, for I was exhausted and full up to the neck with smoke.

"Then I went back into the smoke and fire again and found a young lady—Miss Mary Tracy, they tell me it was—and as I caught hold of her wrists to lift her up the flesh came off of her burning hands. She had been burned. I got her out, but she was dead."

Screaming for Help.

"Never in my life did I see or hear such a sight," said a gentleman who saw the fire. "It seemed as though hell had broken loose and sent its fiery tongue to earth. The whole building seemed one seething mass of flames, bursting from every point. Scream followed scream, each one more blood-curdling than the other, from the interior of the building. Only a few people were passing at the time and they seemed bewildered. The engines soon arrived. You know the rest."

THE PRESIDENT'S TEARS

He Weeps When He Tells the Secretary of His Loss.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—When Secretary Tracy was removed from the burning building he was taken to the residence of the Hon. J. Bancroft Davis, which is directly back of the Tracy mansion.

He regained consciousness for a few minutes about an hour after his rescue. An opiate was given him. He had inhaled much smoke and it was found that it might superinduce lung trouble.

As soon as President Harrison heard of the terrible calamity he immediately went to Judge Davis's residence.

Tears stood in the President's eyes as he entered the room where the Secretary lay moaning in pain. Mr. Tracy seemed to recognize him.

"Don't let me die, don't let me die," he exclaimed piteously, as he stretched forth his hands.

The President grasped the hand of the Secretary, the tears rolling from his eyes.

A little while later the Secretary became calm and composed.

"Is she—is she dead?" he asked the President in a faltering voice.

"Yes, she is dead," said the President in a whisper.

"And Mary, too?"

"She is with her mother."

The Secretary again became unconscious, but his physicians now pronounce him out of danger.

MRS. HARRISON'S TRIBUTE.

The Bodies of Mrs. Tracy and Miss Tracy in the White House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. — Secretary Tracy is entirely out of danger and resting easily. Mrs. and Miss Wilmerding are comfortable, though much bruised.

The bodies of Mrs. Tracy and her daughter, Mary, were carried to the White House just at dusk last night.

They were carried in two hearses, which drove into the western entrance of the grounds, and under the archway at the main entrance, where the President stood with bowed head to await them.

He was joined by Mrs. Harrison, Vice-President and Mrs. Morton, Attorney-General and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. McKee and Mr. Halford, who formed a line through which the bodies were borne into the East Room and placed side by side, just beneath the large chandelier. Following the coffins came Generals Vincent and Schofield, with Dr. Ruth, of the Navy.

As soon as the pall-bearers had withdrawn, the handful gathered in solemn silence around. Mrs. Harrison quietly approached and placed a bunch of fragrant calla lilies upon the centre of Mrs. Tracy's casket, which, like her daughter's, was ornamented with a small bouquet of white roses placed by some loving hand at the head.

Mrs. Harrison's action was followed by Mrs. Morton, who laid a lovely cluster of Parma violets upon that of Miss Tracy's casket. Her remains were so disfigured by the terribly charred condition of her flesh that they were only distinguishable by the jewels on her hands and in her ears.

The bodies will lie in state until arrangements for the funeral can be completed, which will paobably be some time to-day.

General Sorrow in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 4.—There is a general feeling of sorrow in Brooklyn for the calamity that has befallen Secretary Tracy's family. The Board of Aldermen adopted resolutions of sympathy with the Secretary.

LELAND IN CHARGE.

He is Again President of the Sixth National Bank of New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Comptroller of the Currency, has telegraphed to Bank Examiner Hepburn, to permit the Sixth National Bank of New York to resume business, provided all legal requirements had been complied with and the condition of affairs was satisfactory to Mr. Hepburn.

These instructions to Mr. Hepburn were in answer to a telegram from that officer, informing Comptroller Lacey that Mr. Leland had paid in $280,000 and that the bank was now solvent and had elected a new Board of Directors and new officers.

At a meeting of the directors of the bank Mr. Leland was re-elected president. He says he will pay in the whole $650,000, the peculiar transfer of which for his stock precipitated the breaking of the Sixth National Bank.

The amount due depositors is $1,896,207; cash on hand, $700,000; gilt-edge securities on hand, $983,835; secured loans, bills receivable, etc., $400,000. The bank is amply able to meet all demands. The new board of directors is a very strong and safe one. Mr. Colson, whose vigilance saves the bank from ruin, remains as cashier.

Another Strike of Woburn Shoemakers.

WOBURN, Mass., Feb. 5.—The workmen are unsettled over the decision of the State Board of Arbitration as to what constitutes a day's work. The employers will not discuss the question, and therefore about 300 men in several of the factories have quit work. The strike will probably extend to all the factories, and another general lockout may be the result.

Soon Secured Another Appointment.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—William Shanahan, a son of ex-Superintendent of Public Works Shanahan, was removed from his clerkship in the office of Public Works by Superintendent Hannen, and was immediately given another position by Comptroller Wemple.

BANQUET TO JUDGES

Closing Scenes of the Great Centennial Celebration.

A DISTINGUISHED GATHERING.

The Justices of the Supreme Court and Ex-President Cleveland Present.

Toasts by Senator Evarts, Chauncey Depew and Others—Judge Paxson's Address—An Irrepressible Conflict Between Capital and Labor With the Anarchists' Bomb Thrown In.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The banquet in connection with the celebration of the Supreme Court centenary took place at the Lenox Lyceum last night.

Chairman James C. Carter, of the Entertainment Committee, presided at the principal table, where were seated Chief Justice Fuller and associates of the Supreme Court, ex-President Cleveland, and many others.

The dinner was worthy of the century of progress. The Lenox Lyceum is as big as half a city block. One thousand persons assembled there last evening.

Rev. William M. Taylor opened the proceedings with prayer. After the banquet toasts were responded to by Justice Harlan, Senator Evarts, Chief Justice Paxson, of Pennsylvania; Hon. Walker Hill, of Georgia; C. M. Depew, Seth Low, A. R. Huntington and others.

Plenty of Work for Courts.

Chief Justice Paxson, in his address, said the courts of the future will have plenty of work to do. There are grave questions before us. There are disturbing elements at work in our society. There is a heavy ground swell under an apparently smooth surface. There is an irrepressible conflict between capital and labor, with the Anarchist bomb thrown in. The legislatures have been very liberal toward trusts, but the judiciary alone can grapple with the serious questions arising out of these and like complications.

The Centennial Exercises.

The centenary exercises at the Metropolitan Opera House were very impressive. The procession, headed by the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States in their official robes, followed by the various judges of the Federal District Courts, the New York State Court of Appeals, the Supreme, Superior, Common Pleas and other courts, marched down the various aisles of the Opera House and assumed the various seats and boxes allotted them. The members of the Supreme Court of the United States occupied seats on the stage along with ex-President Grover Cleveland and many other legal dignitaries. The immense auditorium was crowded with National and State lawmakers, lawyers, citizens and representatives of the profession.

There was loud and prolonged cheering when Mr. Cleveland took his place as presiding officer of the assemblage, and it was several minutes before the ex-President could be heard. Mr. Cleveland delivered his introductory address in a clear voice.

Addresses were also delivered by Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Field, ex-Minister Phelps and others.

LONDON WORKMEN RESTLESS.

The Employers Form a Union to Supply Labor During Strikes.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Employers are very timid in present operations and anxious concerning the future, and there is little indication of an improved status among the men. John Burns said in a speech it is not a peace, but a truce, that now exists between London employers and employed. Dock laborers are receiving slightly higher wages, but fewer of them are at work, and these claim that their augmented pay is more than offset by calls upon them for additional society dues and subscriptions to assist those still more unfortunate ones who can get no work at all.

That fatal sign, a sullen listlessness during labor and a mutual determination to do as little work as possible in their stated number of hours, is observable among them, and the British workman's old shibboleth, of a fair day's work for a fair day's pay seems to be among things of the past.

No one can go among them without being struck by the fact that they are depressed and have little faith in the improvement in their situation which was promised them by their leaders.

Another cause of uneasiness is the organization started by employers for mutual protection. It is well known that the employers had much debate before deciding upon the name of their trades union, intended to supply laborers during strikes for those branches of business which need them, but finally decided upon calling it the Labor Supply Company, and defying all opposition that may be aroused by the name. The men are rendered more uneasy than they will admit by the formation of the employers' union.

Emperor William Dines With Bismarck.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The Kaiser was the guest of Prince Bismarck last night at a dinner given especially in the Emperor's honor. The Emperor gave his arm to Princess Bismarck and led her to the dining hall, where he sat at her left and opposite the Chancellor with whom he conversed affably. The Emperor several times took wine with the Chancellor and the Princess. After the dinner Prince Bismarck remained seated at the Emperor's request and the two smoked pipes and indulged in general conversation.

Three Children Buried Together.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Three children in the family of James Lockwood, on Carter street, were buried together, all having died from diphtheria. Three children in a family named Grace, residing at Coldenham, have also succumbed to the same disease.

HE WON'T SUBMIT.

RESISTING THE DEACONS' ATTEMPTS TO DOWN HIM.

The Pastor of the Colored Baptists Has Engaged Counselor McClure to Fight the "Conspiracy" in His Flock.

Back numbers of The Press have told something of the trouble that has long brewed in Mt. Olive church, and Saturday's issue gave a condensed account of a "settlement" that had been made. The following is published as the colored pastor's own story:

"Edward Maynard and Mansfield Robinson," he says, "two of the deacons in the church, are responsible for the whole trouble. They have both conspired against me. They would make it a point to break up every meeting when they saw things were going my way. They would jump up in meeting, and shout and yell until the place was a perfect bedlam. I thought the best thing I could do under the circumstances was to resign and not allow the church to be broken up on account of these men. Monday evening of last week we had our regular monthly meeting of the church members. Everything went on smoothly until nine o'clock, and we were just going to have some resolutions brought up condemning Deacon Maynard for the way he has acted, when he suddenly rushed up and grabbed the record book from under the clerk's nose and confiscated it. This turned the meeting upside down, and there was a row right off. Maynard wouldn't give up the book, so that all official business had to be suspended. The meeting kept up, though, until 11½ o'clock, and before it was over nearly every one had done considerable talking. Toward the end some of the women who are jealous of my family because we don't mix with the lower class of colored people who live in Plainfield, got around my wife and began to call her all sorts of names. Mrs. Laura Connett came up and shook her fists right in my wife's face and said:

"'Mary Mitchell, you've got no education, no education, do you hear? We're every bit as good as you are.'

"Then my wife up with her hand accidentally, and it struck the Connett woman in the face. Everybody quieted down after a while, but after the meeting about twenty of the women went around to Maynard's house and put up a conspiracy to have my wife arrested, and promised to swear that they saw her assault Mrs. Connett. I heard of their scheme through a friend, and was prepared for the warrant which was served on my wife last Saturday. But their attempt to drag us down to their level will fail, for I am going to prove the whole thing is the result of a conspiracy when the trial comes off this week. I've got Lawyer McClure to represent me, and I am not going to submit to their attempts to down me."

There is some talk of the pastor's party bringing a suit against Maynard to recover the record book. The Rev. Mr. Mitchell hasn't decided yet whether he will accept a call to another town or start a new church in the same town, as his followers have urged him to do. He is going to wait until things quiet down a bit, he says.

Thought to Have Come From Plainfield.

William Smith, a negro, was arrested by Officer Reuter at the Elizabethport station of the Central railroad at half-past two o'clock Friday morning says the Elizabeth Journal. He carried a bag or potato sack containing a set of harness, and from his actions the officer suspected him of theft and took him into custody.

The prisoner told different stories. He first said he came from Flagtown on a freight train, and that he had bought the harness for $15. He afterwards said he had been working for a Mr. Hill, and that he had taken the harness in part payment.

The bag was marked "George M. Morrison, Plainfield." Justice Hetfield remanded Smith, and Chief Austin is making inquiries at Plainfield and vicinity, as it is believed the harness was stolen from that locality.

Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

A meeting of the above named Order was held in St. Mary's T. A. B. Hall, last evening, for the purpose of making the preliminary arrangements for a grand banquet on St. Patrick's Day.

The various societies connected with St. Mary's church met on Friday evening last and appointed an executive committee, and at the meeting last evening, which was presided over by Mr. A. E. Kenney, the minutes of the executive committee were read and approved.

The following persons were appointed as a Committee on Invitations: Messrs H. McDonald, John Traynor, Thomas Sheehan, John O'Rourke and William Brown.

The Society will hold another meeting on Tuesday evening next, when the place for holding the banquet will probably be decided upon.

A Distinguished Gathering.

The bench and bar of New Jersey were represented at the banquet given last night in commemoration of the founding of the U. S. Supreme Court, by the following judges and lawyers: Chancellor McGill, Judges Knapp, Garrison, Dixon and Smith; Herbert Boggs, C. Borcherling, James Fleming, J. Frank Fort, A. Q. Garretson, Robert S. Green, Samuel H. Grey, A. Q. Keasbey, Craig A. Marsh, Thomas N. McCarter, Cortlandt Parker, R. Wayne Parker, J. G. Shipman, Jacob Wert, W. R. Weeks, Washington B. Williams and Wm. R. Wilson.

CHAUTAUQUA'S BRAVE WOMEN.

One of Them Carried Home More Than She Could Bring Back.

A New York paper recently told how the Plainfield offices of the C. L. S. C., with the exception of the Society of Fine Arts, have been in the hands of women since the Circle took possession of them. The only employee resembling a man who has been tolerated within their sacred precincts is the office boy.

The zeal and faithfulness of the employees have been tried on several occasions, however, and never found wanting. Once when a fire broke out across the street, instead of rushing down the stairs in a panic, the girls quietly put on their hats and jackets and each seized one of the precious and heavy volumes comprising the records of the Circle, and stood ready to escape. Fortunately the fire was gotten under control and the books were returned to the safe.

It is related that one of the girls was so anxious for the safety of her particular volume that she took it home and to bed with her. But the astonishing part of this proceeding is that she was unable the next day to bring back the book she had carried to her home in North Plainfield. In her excitement she had carried without noticing its weight, an enormous volume that in cold blood she could not lift.

MR. CLARENCE MURPHY NOW HOLDS IT.

The tournament of 1887 was held at Newark, February 22; where the State championship was again won by Edward C. Stokes; second prize by N. Hymes. Forty contestants.

The tournament of 1888 was held at Rutherford, February 22. The State championship was won by R. B. Keys of Plainfield; second prize by P. J. Doyle. Thirty-two contestants.

Chief Doane of the Fire Department, last night received from Mr. Chas. D. Wadsworth, of Central avenue, a check for $25 for the Firemen's Relief Association. The money was given in appreciation of the firemen's services in extinguishing the fire in Mr. Wadsworth's home on Monday.

Fire at Green Brook.

About nine o'clock last evening fire was discovered in the attic of the large dwelling house situated on what is known as the "Goad mill property," on Green Brook road, about three miles West of this city. The building was owned by Mr. A. Holeman, and when the fire was first discovered it was well under way.

The occupants of the building escaped, and succeeded in saving most of the household effects. The house was burned to the ground.

Mr. Wadsworth's Loss Adjusted.

Councilman M. M. Dunham, representing the Continental and Ætna Insurance companies, today adjusted the loss on Mr. Charles D. Wadworth's residence on Central avenue, caused by the fire on Monday evening. The two companies allowed Mr. Wadsworth $75, the full amount of his claim.

The Ætna company did not even send an adjuster to this city, but gave Mr. Dunham the power of attorney.

—Huldah Curran of Elizabeth, and Nicholas Curran, her husband, have instituted a suit for $2,000 damages, in the Union County Courts, against the Pennsylvania Railroad company for injuries received in alighting from a train.

PRAISE FOR A TALENTED PLAINFIELDER.

How a Young Woman Artist of This City is Publicly Commended in California.

The Daily Independent of Santa Barbara, California, is publishing a series of articles on the artists who have located in that land of fruits and flowers. The issue of January 14, has the following regarding a young woman of this city:

Entering Hawley building we pass to room No. 6. A knock brings quick response. We enter and find ourselves in the studio and presence of

MISS ELLA VAIL THORN.

The rooms are airy adn light and while not richly furnished yet present an appearance suggesting the woman of taste and culture. Miss Thorn welcomes us graciously and makes a most pleasing impression on one's mind. Easy in conversation and with that most desirable of all traits—"tact"—she makes one immediately feel at ease. No one could visit Miss Thorn's studio and not admit her a most admirable hostess.

Miss Thorn is a lady of medium height, cheerful and sunshiny. That she loves her art is apparent almost from her first word. She is the only artist here who paints portraits exclusively. Her studio is not the picture gallery one finds belonging to artists working in other directions. Her work being entirely on orders, pictures do not accumulate. Still, one finds a goodly number of her paintings from which one readily gets an idea of what she has done and is capable of doing. A portrait of the late George Dugdale is an admirable piece of work and provokes pleasant comments from every visitor. Here is also a portrait of Bishop Vincent which no connoisseur could pass by without commendation.

Several portraits of lovely children are exhibited. One of these, a daughter of one of our best known Barbarenos, is certainly a true work of art. There is a delicacy, a soft blending light and shade, a purity of the flesh tones and all the little accessories that real artists known so well how to use, that is most captivating.

To the remark that she is particularly happy in the portraiture of beautiful children, Miss Thorn said: "Yes, but do you know that I take more pleasure in painting the coarse cheeks, wrinkled brow and weather skin of the sailor or aged man?" This remark was not unexpected; other artists have said and will say the same. The greatest portraits of the world are not those of beautiful women but rather of men upon whose face we should not feel impelled to look twice, yet to whose presentment on canvas the artist has given a "hint of that which surpasses nature—the infinite beauty of truth when proclaimed by knowledge and sympathy."

Miss Thorn is still a young lady and has a whole lifetime before her. I think she will readily take rank with our first-rate artists. It would require no stretch of imagination to believe her work will be far more in demand in the future than it is now, though at no time has she had less than two orders ahead awaiting her brush.

Miss Thorn is from New Jersey. She adopted portrait painting because she loved it. She received the most of her art education at the New York Academy of Design with such teachers as Prof. Wilmarth and Mr. Reinhart. Under the latter she studied portraiture and had an easel in his studio. Later she was a professional artist in Plainfield, N. J. About one and one-half years ago she came to our city and feels that she has no cause for regret at the step. As to the merits of this artist we readily say that she is unusually painstaking, careful and studious. Her work shows a freedom and a vigor that is surprisingly good. Her portraits are all extremely fine and in all senses works of art. Miss Thorn has a brilliant future and we congratulate her on her deserved success.

Don't Miss It Any Longer.

Mr. Day will make the flash light of the audience at the Camera Club exhibition to-night at nine o'clock sharp. New pictures have been added each day since the opening night, including some instantaneous snaps taken on the ball grounds, and a fine collection of views by Dr. D. C. Adams, at Y. M. C. A. rooms every night.

—A bill has been introduced into the Legislature at Trenton, to provide all school children with free books. The expense is to be defrayed by a special tax.

THE McGINTY TEAM LOSSES AGAIN.

Captain Davis and His Crescent League Bowlers, Occupy a Proud Position in the County.

The final match of the Union County bowling tournament was rolled at Westfield, last evening, and the Crescent League team finished at the tail end just where it belongs. Until there is more discipline in the team—more practice and earnest endeavor to be winners—the Olympics will continue to be Plainfield's representative team of bowlers, and the Crescents will continue to be fish for even such light weights as the Pastimes of Westfield.

A detailed account of last night's finish is not necessary. The score below shows for itself. Mr. M. E. Alpers was umpire. Mr. Carey of the Crescents was struck in the face with a ball coming back in the runway, and very much bruised. The score:

The Legislative Manual.

The Legislative Manual for 1890 is the most valuable compendium of political information in the State of New Jersey. Its contents comprise a concise history of the State, with lists of the Governors from the time of Philip Carteret, in 1665, to Leon Abbett, in 1890; a list of United States Senators from Jonathan Elmer and William Paterson, in 1790, to John R. McPherson and Rufus Blodgett; the Declaration of Independence; the Constitution of the United States; the Constitution of the State of New Jersey; rules of the Senate and House of Assembly; joint rules and orders; New Jersey Congressmen from 1774 to the present time; lists of the judiciary and judicial officers of the State from 1774 to the present time, including the Chancellors, Chief Justices, Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, Attorney Generals and Clerks in Chancery and Supreme Court; lists of the State officers, Secretaries of State, State Treasurers, State Comptrollers, Adjutant Generals, Quartermaster Generals and State Prison Keepers—from 1776 to date; lists of the State Senators, by counties, from 1849 to date; lists of Assemblymen by counties for the same period; lists of the Presidents, Speakers and other principal officers of the two Houses; a political history, giving the vote for Governor from 1857 and the political complexion of each Legislature.

—Several of the members of the Legislature have refused to accept their railroad passes this year because the companies limit them to ten days after the final adjournment of the Legislature. Heretofore, passes were always made good for the year.

The Leconey Murder Trial.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 5.—There was scarcely standing room in Judge Garrett's Court at Camden when the trial of Chalkley Leconey, indicted for the murder of his niece, Annie E. Leconey, was resumed. While the witnesses were describing the ghastly scene at the Leconey house on the morning of the murder, Leconey did not change color but gazed around the room in an indifferent manner.

Captain Boyd Acquitted.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The jury in the case of Captain Boyd, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Lorenzo Hayes, of Little Falls, during a bar-room fracas at Boyd's Hotel, returned a verdict of not guilty. The defense was justifiable homicide. The verdict was loudly applauded by those present, who pressed about Captain Boyd and extended their congratulations.

Liberal Bequests.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Feb. 5.—By the will of M. M. Kellogg, who died in New York three months ago, Montpelier receives $50,000 for a chapel and $50,000 for an ornamental gateway to Greenwood cemetery. The principal gift is a sum sufficient to erect, furnish and maintain as fine a library building as any in New England, outside of Boston, but the exact figures cannot be given.

Decision in the Snow-Alley Case.

DEDHAM, Mass., Feb. 5.—Judge Mason, of the Superior Civil Court, has rendered his decision, denying a motion for a new trial in the famous Snow-Alley case made on the ground of newly discovered evidence. The judge said that the evidence did not satisfy the court, that the letters alleged to constitute the newly discovered evidence were not accessible to the defendant at former trials.

Pittsburg's Grip Relapse.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 5.—Pittsburg thought she was free from the grip, but it has returned, warm weather causing its reappearance among the iron and glass workers. Many manufacturing establishments are suspended, and if colder weather does not set in soon some of the glass factories will be compelled to shut down.

Advance in Window Glass.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 5.—A convention of Western window glass manufacturers was held in this city, and it was decided to advance the price five and ten per cent. on single and double lots, respectively. The prospects are that prices will be further advanced in a short time. The market is good while the stock is small.

Bit Out Lip and Mustache.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Two laboring men became involved in a quarrel over some rivalry in a ship yard, and a fight ensued, during which one of the men bit from his rival's lip a piece about an inch and a half long, taking mustache and all. He was arrested and locked up on a charge of mayhem.

Odd Fellows Prospering.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 5.—George U. Arnold, of Bristol, was chosen Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. The net gain in finances for the year is $6,000, and the total membership is 6,150, the largest in the history of the order in the State. Secretary W. H. T. Moseley was re-elected.

Gen. Alger's Reception in Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 5.—Gen. Jno. D. Anderson was elected Commander G. A. R. Department of Maine. A reception was given to Commander-in-Chief Alger and wife, Governor and Mrs. Burleigh assisted at the reception and a large throng was present.

DAY STRIKES BACK.

He Says He Will Not Desert the National League.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—President John B. Day of the New York Baseball Club, makes public a communication, in which he takes occasion to deny that he has any intention of deserting the National League and joining the Players' League.

"I have," Mr. Day says, "as a member of the New York Baseball Club, business partners who suffer equally with myself in this ungrateful conspiracy of our well treated players to ruin us. If I were contemptible enough now to desert these partners—sell them out and betray them—and join hands with the men who betrayed us, and who now add insult to injury by making such a suggestion to me, I would deserve the odium of all men."

Mr. Day states also that the club has a good valid lease of the premises they now occupy, which extends over the seasons of 1890 and 1891, and it will continue to do business at the old stand.

Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 5.—Alfred Andrews was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of Clara Price, near Karthaus, last November.

SORROWING SCENES

Secretary Tracy's Last Look at His Dead Wife's Face.

CONSOLED BY THE PRESIDENT.

Simple and Appropriate Services at the Funeral of Mrs Tracy and Daughter

The Afflicted Secretary to Remain at the White House His Son With Him—Mrs. Wilmerding and Daughter Better—Funeral of the French Maid—Queen Victoria's Message of Condolence.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — Secretary Tracy, who was removed to the White House from the residence of Mr. Bancroft Davis in the President's carriage, is resting easily, and suffering only from his grief. He was able to walk into the White House from the carriage without assistance. He was accompanied by his son, Mr. Frank Tracy, of Owego.

Pathetic Scene.

On reaching there he begged to be at once allowed to gaze upon the remains of his wife and daughter. Arm in arm with the President, the Secretary entered the apartments where, but a week ago, he with his wife and daughter, participated in the reception to the Judiciary and Congress. On reaching the caskets the secretary bowed his head upon that containing his wife and sobbed convulsively. Frank Tracy, the son, broke down completely, while the President was also overcome. For a quarter of an hour the Secretary remained with the dead. Then he was shown to the room which he will occupy until he secures apartments elsewhere.

Mrs. and Miss Wilmerding passed quite a good night and were better today. Mrs Wilmerding suffers a great deal from bruises and shock. Miss Wilmerding is very much improved.

The Funerals.

The funeral services were held this forenoon at the White House, beginning at 11 o'clock. They were strictly private, none but the President's Secretaries and Cabinet Ministers' families being admitted. The Rev. Dr. Douglass, of St. John's Episcopal Church officiated.

The pall-bearers for Mrs. Tracy were Secretaries Proctor, Noble, Windom and Rusk, Attorney-General Miller, Postmaster-General Wanamaker and Admirals Porter and Rogers. Eight naval officers were the guard of honor for Miss Tracy. The remains were temporarily placed in the vault at Oak Hill Cemetery. Later they are to be conveyed to Brooklyn for final interment. The final scenes at the coffins were very pathetic, the Secretary as he gazed upon the bodies of his dear ones nearly fell to the floor from faintness, but was prevented from doing so by the President.

Funeral of the French Maid.

The funeral of Josephine Morell, Mrs. Tracy's French maid, who was burned to death, took place from St. Matthew's Church. Miss Morell had no relatives in America. Mr. and Mrs. McKee represented the White House at the services. The body was taken to Oak Hill Cemetery for burial.

Sympathy from Queen Victoria.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The following message of condolence was received by Secretary Tracy last night:

OSBORN, Feb. 4.

To the British Minister, Washington:

The Queen deeply deplores calamity to Mr. Tracy's family. Inquires after him and survivors. POST-OSBY.

To this Secretary Tracy sent the following reply:—"Mr. Tracy begs the British Minister to convey to Her Majesty his sincere thanks for her gracious message of sympathy; and, in reply to her kind inquiry, say that his surviving daughter and grandchild are out of danger."

MR. RANDALL REMEMBERED.

His Personal Friends Raise a Fund of $50,000 Without Consulting Him.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—It is understood here that the project which was conceived by Mr. Drexel and Mr Childs for the raising of a fund of $50,000 among the friends of Congressman Randall, which was to be invested and the interest to be applied for the support of his family has been a success.

There has been a great deal of reticence in connection with this movement, as it was feared that Mr. Randall, who is peculiar about money matters and would never accept a gift of any sort for himself—not even contributions for his election expenses, might discourage the idea.

In case that Mr. Randall's health should utterly fail him his friends are now assured that pecuniary troubles will not be now among the number which may hereafter concern him.

Republican Caucus To-Night.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A caucus of Republican Congressmen is called for to-night to discuss a line of procedure in regard to the remaining contested election cases, and to decide on a plan to be pursued when the new code of rules is reported to the House.

ANTWERP, Feb. 5.—The discovery was made upon the arrival of the steamship La Plata from Buenos Ayres, at this port that $170,000 worth of specie bonds had been stolen from the purser's safe during the voyage. The money was part of a large shipment from the Argentine capital to Antwerp banks.

Shot Dead in a Bar Room.

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 5.—Wm. A. Sullivan, a telegraph operator, was shot dead last night in a bar-room, on Long Wharf, by Frank L. Allen, who was flourishing a shotgun around the place. The weapon was accidentally discharged. Allen gave himself up.

Killed by an Electric Wire.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 5.—William Mershon, an employe of Roebling's wire mill, was killed by an electric light wire. The wire broke and fell on the head of Mershon and killed him almost instantly.

BOLD DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

A Jewelry Clerk Clubbed Unconscious and the Thieves Escape.

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—About noon two men entered the jewelry store of N. Leonard, 197 Main street, Charlestown, and asked to be shown some watches. There was nobody in the store at the time but a clerk named George H. Grueby, who is about 60 years old.

While showing the men the watches, one of them seized Grueby by the throat and struck him with a club, rendering him unconscious. They then seized a quantity of watches, diamonds and rings which they stored in a handbag and departed, leaving no trace of their identity. Mr. Leonard values the stolen property at $1,500.

Among the members of the syndicate are John Wanamaker, Thos. Dolan, Mayor Fitler, Messrs. Elkins and Widener and a number of Standard Oil capitalists.

At the annual meeting of the New England Agricultural Society, held in Boston, ex-Governor Smythe, of New Hampshire, presided in the absence of the society's president, Minister Loring, now in Portugal. The Young Men's Liberal Club of Toronto passed a resolution that the representatives of the Dominion in Parliament would act more in harmony with the wishes of their constituents, if, instead of presenting addresses of a reactionary character declaring their attachment to British connection, they would endeavor to secure for the Canadian people a larger degree of self-government, and thus prepare the way for the complete independence of Canada.

THREE BAD WRECKS

Several Deaths Caused by Defective Bridges.

A TRAIN DROPS SIXTY FEET.

Ten Workmen Were Killed and a Large Number Injured.

Three Lives Lost by a Wreck Near Peoria—An Engineer Pinned Down Until He Died of Exposure—A Passenger Train Strikes a Hand Car, Killing Three Section Men.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—A telegram received in this city from Dalles, Ore., says that a construction train with a gang of laborers went through a bridge 60 feet high near that place. Ten of the men were killed and 16 injured. Conductor French had his skull and leg broken, Engineer George was badly hurt, and Brakeman Seely was also injured. The accident occurred about a mile west of Cascade Locks, and three doctors went at once to that point from Dalles. The bridge was rendered unsafe by recent heavy rains.

Three Lives Lost.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 5.—A freight train on the Ohio, Indiana and Western Railroad, composed of 20 loaded box cars and a caboose, left here for the East at 7:30 o'clock, and while crossing the Illinois bridge the engine jammed with terrific force against the first stone pier. The first freight car plowed over the tender and into the cab, completely wrecking it. The nine other cars piled up on top of each other. In the engine were Engineer Neville, Fireman O'Brien and Head Brakeman Lewis, all of Urbana, Ill.

Terrible Suffering.

Neither O'Brien nor Lewis has been seen since, but both are known to be dead in the wreck. Neville's feet were caught in the engine and only his head was out of the water. Desperate efforts were made to rescue him. It was found that he was standing on the dead body of the fireman, but fastened in such a way that he could not be extricated. The passengers and others worked for hours trying to get him out, applying hot water to keep him from chilling to death and pouring brandy down his throat. Their work was in vain. He fell over and died.

Killed Instantly.

ST. CLOUD, Minn., Feb. 5.—A northbound Northern Pacific passenger train struck a hand-car between here and Clear Lake. Three section men who were on the hand-car were instantly killed.

Five Men Badly Scalded.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—The explosion of a boiler on the fourth floor of the Edison Electric Light Company's building, 903 Sansom street, resulted in scalding and otherwise injuring five men. Their names are as follows: Wm. Booth, Charles Herron, John Bushel, James Abbey, of 107 Spencer street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and William Herron.

CROKER RESIGNS.

The Tammany Chief Tenders His Resignation as Chamberlain.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Richard Croker has resigned the office of City Chamberlain.

Mayor Grant, being interviewed on the resignation of Chamberlain Croker, said: "Mr. Croker three months ago stated to me that he would like to resign from office, owing to ill health. In fact before his last trip South he thought seriously of resigning, but I dissuaded him from so doing.

"I have again suggested to him that he might take another trip away and still hold his office, hoping that we might have the benefit of his services, but he has declined, stating that he did not wish to be a public pensioner, and that he would not receive the salary of the office without performing its duties.

"I understand that he is now going to Europe for three or four months, for the benefit of the baths at Carlsbad, by the advice of his physician."

Two Banks Reopened.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The Sixth National and Equitable Banks have resumed business, and the deposits for the day in each case are said to have exceeded the withdrawals. At the Lenox Hill Bank there was no material change in the situation, other than Chief State Examiner Covell was more hopeful. Broker George H. Pell was able to secure the $25,000 bail under which he was held, but ex-President Claassen was remanded, and will be taken to-day before United States Commissioner Shields for examination.

Sullivan's Trip to Mississippi.

BOSTON, Feb. 5.—John L. Sullivan will leave for Newark, N. J., to-morrow morning, and on Saturday night will leave for Purvis, Miss., where his case comes up before the Supreme Court on appeal. Sullivan says he hardly expects to escape punishment, but believes he ought to be let off at least as easily as Kilrain. He could not be induced to talk about Jackson's ability as a fighter.

World's Fair Chances

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The committee having the World's Fair bill in charge had a long and stormy session. The Republicans agreed to report the names added as suggested by the conference committee. The name of Hiram Hitchcock was replaced by that of Theodore Myers. It was also agreed not to let the commission have any power over land south of 40th street. The bill it is said will be passed to-day.

Natural Gas Explosion

PITTSBURG, Feb 5.—An explosion of natural gas occurred at the steel works at Duquesne last night. Frank Bolton, night superintendent, was probably fatally burned, as was also a laborer who caused the explosion by carrying an exposed light into the casting pit. A man named Burke was seriously burned but will recover.

Failures in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—Joseph P. Murphy, manufacturer of cotton and woolen goods, at 4th and Cumberland streets, made an assignment. His liabilities are estimated at $500,000. Assets not known. B. Hamill & Co. worsted yarn manufacturers are said to be financially embarrassed.

SECRET SOCIETY SWINDLER.

He Comes to Grief in Rochester and Goes to the Penitentiary.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 5.—A young man named George Taft, alias F. P. Zollm, alias Thomas Marr, was arrested here charged with defrauding Rochester Lodge No. 660, F. & A. M., out of money.

He represented himself to be a Mason and member of Knights of Pythias, and has been defrauding Masonic, Odd Fellow, Knights of Pythias and Ancient Order of United Workmen lodges all over the country. He first stole credentials from Midlothian Lodge, K. P., of Temple, Texas, and with this gained admittance to secrets of other lodges.

He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months imprisonment in the penitentiary.

DREADFUL DISASTER

Floods Follow the Great Northwestern Snow Storms.

DEATH FROM AN AVALANCHE

Three Men Killed and the Terror Stricken Inhabitants Desert Their Homes.

A Boarding House Swept Away and Six Miners Killed—Water Knee Deep in Portland, Oregon—The Only Means of Communication is With Small Boats. The St. Lawrence River Rising.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Feb. 6.—The town of Burke, Idaho, in the Cœur d'Alene mining district, has been nearly destroyed by disastrous avalanches. Half of the business houses are in ruins.

Three men were killed, and the terror-stricken inhabitants have fled to the towns of Gem and Wallace, fearing a repetition of the disaster.

Particulars are meagre, as the wires to all the points in the mines have gone down, leaving no means of communication.

Three Men Killed.

With scarcely a moment's warning a tremendous mass of snow and rocks swept down upon the town from the west side of the narrow gulch in which it is situated. Five men were buried beneath the snow. Two were rescued, but the others are dead and their bodies have not yet been recovered.

The ill fated town lies in a narrow gulch through which Canyon Creek pours its waters into the south fork of the Cœur d'Alene. It had about 200 inhabitants, who have deserted their wrecked or menaced homes and places of business. The nearest town is Gem, also upon Canyon Creek, and three miles down the stream.

Boarding House Swept Away.

Another disastrous avalanche swept down upon a boarding house connected with the Custer Mine, which is situated upon Nine Mile Creek, about five miles from Burke. The boarding house was full of miners, six of whom were killed. The others had a narrow escape and a number were more or less injured.

These disasters are not a surprise to those familiar with the topography of that section. The towns are situated in very narrow gulches, on either side of which abrupt mountains rise.

The snowfall this winter has been unprecedented in the history of the country. Within the last few days it has been raining hard, which had the effect of loosening the deep snow banks and precipitating them upon the town and the houses below.

The Cœur d'Alene mining district is one of the richest in the world both for gold and silver. It includes the famous Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines, perhaps the greatest fissure vein in America. The principal town is Wallace. The other towns are Wardner, Osborne, Burke and Gem.

Disastrous Floods in Oregon.

JACKSONVILLE, Ore., Feb. 6.—A phenomenal rainstorm has prevailed in Southern Oregon since Friday, which, in connection with the melting of the snow in the mountains, has caused the greatest flood known since the country was settled. The damage done to Southern Oregon cannot be estimated as yet, for postal communication is so uncertain and limited that only surmises can be made of the ravages of the water on the line of the numerous tributaries of the Rogue river.

Water Knee Deep in Portland.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—This message came from Portland, Ore.: "The water is now flooding First street and is knee deep. All traffic in the streets is suspended, as the only means of communication is by small boats. The Pacific Postal Telegraph office floor is covered with water, and the river is still rising.

Floods from the St. Lawrence.

MONTREAL, Feb. 6.—It was reported here that the water in the St. Lawrence River has risen so high that there is six feet of water in some of the streets of La Prairie. A serious flood is anticipated.

Ballot Reform Decision.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 6.—Governor Ladd has made public the opinion of the full bench of the Supreme Court in answer to his application upon the constitutionality of the ballot reform law and its proposed amendment extending the franchise to municipal elections. The court says that while the constitution says the names for the general officers shall be printed on the ballot it does not perforce prevent the printing of other names on the ballot. The provision for the return of ballots for general officers to the Secretary of State and those other officers to the municipal authorities is left to be solved by mechanical means. This decision allows the extension of the ballot reform law to the city and town elections.

Grand Musical Jubilee.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The Seventh Regiment, the richest and most influential military organization in the country, has a treat in store for the public, of a rather sensational character. Next September it intends holding an International Musical Jubilee in its armory, which will be fitted up for the occasion with sittings for 10,000 people. Some of the leading composers of Europe will be here to direct in person the interpretation of their best works.

A Farm Hand Commits Suicide.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 6.—Joseph C. Stedman, jr., aged 23, a farm hand at Rock Village, shot himself last night and died instantly. He was of good habits and no cause for the deed is known, although it is rumored that a love affair was at the bottom of it.

THE FUTURE OF PIMLICO.

It May Become a Feature of the Trotting Circuit.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 6.—Mr. Frank Brown, in speaking of the plans proposed for Pimlico during the approaching season, says Secretary Robert Hough will go to Philadelphia next week and arrange for dates for a trotting meeting in May. He will endeavor to put Pimlico into a circuit composed of Paterson and Trenton, N. J., Belmont Park and Point Breeze, and possibly Wilmington, Del.

If details can be arranged the new track at Benning's Station, or the Ivy City track, near Washington, will also give a May meeting, principally for trotters. There is also a probability of a mid-summer meeting at Pimlico in addition to the regular fall meeting in connection with the Maryland and Delaware Circuit. The Maryland Breeders' Association has not yet arranged for any particular meetings, though it will probably do so later, as many members predict great surprises for the public when they cut loose their yearlings, two and three-year-olds.

A MURDERER CONFESSES.

Andrews Killed Clara Price to Conceal an Attempted Assault.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 6.—Alfred Andrews immediately after being taken back to his cell, made a confession to his counsel, in which he acknowledged the killing of Clara Price.

He said he passed her on the road and hid in the bushes until she came along, when he jumped out and attempted to outrage her. When she broke loose from him, he shot her to destroy the evidence of his former crime.

Andrews will make a detailed and written statement in which he will tell when he got the revolver and where he left it afterwards. The statement he will sell to the paper that will pay the most for it. He will devote the money thus obtained to his wife and child.

If the verdict had been "not guilty," Andrews would never have left the court house alive, as the feeling against him was very intense, and from 25 to 50 men, all armed with revolvers, had surrounded the prisoner's seat.

POLICE FIND A BOMB

A Queer Little Box in the Rotunda of the Capitol.

FILLED WITH EXPLOSIVES

An Investigation in Progress by Washington Authorities.

Republican and Democratic Representatives Hold Caucuses—Secretary Tracy and Daughter Improving The World's Fair Committee Complete a Bill—False Report About Mr. Randall's Condition.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A tin box about as big as a silver dollar was found by Lieutenant Jones, of the Capitol police, lying innocently in the great rotunda under the dome. He took it up cautiously and found it to be filled with a sort of powder. He took it to the captain of the watch, who found in turn, by dropping a little of the contents of the box to the floor and stamping on it that the powder was dry and would explode.

The officers did not know at first whether to believe that some crank had intended really to blow up the Capitol, or merely some mischievous person had tried to make them think that this was the object of the "infernal machine." At any rate the policemen did not lose their nerve, but took the mysterious little box away, powder and all, to show to Col. Clark, the architect of the Capitol, when he should return to his office.

Considerable excitement was caused among members of the police force, if not among the spectators who gathered to look on. While the examination of the "infernal machine" was progressing a witty member of the house from Texas suggested that the real plot was to blow up Speaker Reed.

McKinley Explains the New Rules.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The purpose of the Republican House caucus was to consider the new code of rules, which was completed by the Committee on Rules. This caucus was called together by Mr. Henderson, of Illinois, the chairman. The reason for the call was stated, and each member present was furnished in confidence, a copy of the new code. Mr. McKinley took the floor and proceeded to explain in detail the scope and purpose of each of the rules.

The sections of the new code giving the Speaker the right to determine what are dilatory motions, and allowing him to refuse to recognize them was adopted by the caucus.

Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A Democratic caucus was held last night in the House. The new code of rules prepared by the Republican members of the Committee on Rules was the single topic of discussion. Unlike those who attended the Republican caucus, the Democratic members did not have copies of the new code to follow Mr. Carlisle in his explanation of the changes that are contemplated in it. Mr. Carlisle read each rule in turn, and following the example of Mr. McKinley at the Republican caucus, explained the new features. There was little discussion. It was agreed that Mr. Carlisle should ask the Republicans for more time to deliberate on the proposed changes.

Court of Patent Appeals.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The House Committee on the Judiciary has ordered a favorable report on the Culberson bill for the creation of a Court of Patent Appeals. The flames spread to surrounding dwellings, and a large number of families were compelled to flee.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In perusing the columns of your valuable paper, I noticed under the heading "He Won't Submit," an article which refers strongly to myself. I wish sir, to make one correction. I do not admit that my wife struck Mrs. Connett, but upon the other hand I positively declare she did not; Be it told by whomsoever it may, it is a lie.

JAMES W. MITCHELL.

A Chance for Plainfield to Get a Prize.

The Central Bowling League that has just been formed for a series of match games between teams of five men each, will include the Crescents and Olympics of this city, the Somersets of Somerville, and the Westfield and Fanwood clubs. Vice President Burnet of the Crescent League, is President. A schedule of games will be prepared in a few days.

One of the Best in the State.

The Committee of Trustees of the Crescent League, who have in charge the selection of next season's ball nine, state that they have already signed some remarkably fine and well-known players, and that Plainfield will have during the coming Summer the strongest team it ever had and one of the very best in the State.

The Probable Location of Plainfield's Water Supply.

The Water Works company's test wells driven just North of the railroad track, near the Netherwood station, have reached a supply of water that Mr. Moore claims is the very best that can be desired. A sample has been sent to New York for analysis.

NO ONE RESPONDS.

Silence Evidences the Justice of the Claim.

It is almost a week since an offer was prominently made in these columns, to send THE PRESS free to anyone in the city of Plainfield, or borough of North Plainfield, who does not conscientiously believe that that paper has a larger has a larger number of readers than any paper published in this vicinity.

There is no fence around such offer No inconvenient nor impossible provisions, to be fulfilled. The non-believer of the fact that THE PRESS is the most widely read paper published in Plainfield, has merely to send his or her name to this office and the paper will be sent free.

But not a single response has been received. If there are any men, women or children who believe any other paper hereabouts has more readers than THE PRESS they have not made themselves known. The offer is still, and will be always, open.

A DIFFERENCE WITH A DISTINCTION.

The Pastor Says That Counselor McClure Represents Mount Olive Church and Counselor Codington but Two Deacons and Twelve "Followers."

TO THE EDITOR OF PRESS:—I wish to make one or two corrections of what I saw in your paper of the 1st inst., under the heading of "Both Pastor and His Wife in Dispute."

First—There has been no dispute between myself and the congregation of the Mount Olive church, but between myself and two deacons, namely Edward Maynard, now Sexton of First Baptist church of this city, and Mansfield Robinson, with about fourteen of their followers in all.

My second correction is, that Mr. Codington did not represent the Mt. Olive church and congregation, but the above mentioned minority represented and led by the said Edward Maynard. Upon the other hand Mr. McClure represented the Pastor and the majority members of said church and congregation.

My third objection is, the Pastor did not agree to give up the church and parsonage at once, but to vacate the pulpit and to give up the parsonage before the first of March.

In fact the terms of settlement were dictated and settled on the terms proposed by my lawyer Mr. McClure. They were compelled to submit to my having my letters.

The chickens are the ones alleged to have been sold to a butcher in this city.

A BRANCH OVERLOOKED.

Education For Hand and Eye Proposed for Plainfield's Public Schools.

However much we may differ about the causes or the remedies, it is manifest that this branch of education has been entirely overlooked until quite reeently. Intellectual studies, as they are called, have alone been thought worthy of being introduced into our systems of instruction, while eye and hand culture have not only been disregarded, but absolutely looked down upon with a lofty scorn. No just conception can be had of their immense value to our structure without its co-education with the brain; their joint sphere of action embraces all employments, the sciences, the arts, agriculture, manufactures and inventions, together with the application of all these to the necessities and enjoyments of society. The American boy is only half educated, or educated in one direction—that is, mentally. It is the mission of a practical education not only to import the elements of knowledge, but to draw forth the faculties, and train them to act intelligently and successfully in all the circumstances of life.

Our obligations to the public school are numerous and important, and yet there are drawbacks and defects that defy disproof; for, while the useful arts of life have exercised the most marked influence upon our position in the scale of civilization, and furnish employments for a very large portion of those who have to earn a living, the necessity of an education commensurate with these wants and relations has not been sufficiently recognized in the programmes and routines of public instruction.

How many out of the numbers of young men who leave school, and who are gifted with every mental and physical requisite for success, and who are also splendidly disciplined by all the teachings of the public school, can gain assistance from their education in any practical pursuit they intend to follow? To be sure, they get along somehow, and many of them anyhow. The desire of reaching an honorable and useful condition is a stimulus, and in this country the field is broad and open to all, and those who are brave and ambitious come out with success, while others in the stern and aimless struggle have become dispirited and broken-hearted. The difficulty is being seriously considered, and many persons, well qualified to speak on the subject, do not hesitate to recommend the adoption of a course of manual training as a necessary and indispensable part of public education.

A FARMER'S PLEADING

MR. MARTINE'S ONE-HORNED COW CRIES OUT FOR PROTECTION

And His Fowls Show the Effect of the Agitation in Congress Over an Infant Headustry.

The following letter from Mr. James E. Martine of this city, was recently received by the Congressional Committee to whom it was addressed in Washington, with much appreciation not only of its humor but of the reason and principle imperfectly masked beneath it all. Congressmen Carlisle, Geissenhainer and others expressed themselves as highly in sympathy with the sentiments of the communication, but Chairman McKinley would not permit any public notice taken of it—probably because of its treason in referring frivolously to Baby McKee. This is the letter:

To the Honorable Ways and Means Committee:

SIRS:—As a suffering farmer in New Jersey I have been much interested in the discussion now going on before your committee. The pleading of Mr. Andrews, of Texas, the other day, for the poor bleating sheep, just touches us farmers right; we want protection on our wool and mutton, not only from the pauper sheep of Europe, but we want protection from the hungry pauper dogs of this locality. Cannot the tariff be so raised as to solve this dog problem?

At all events I urge upon your committee to act quickly in this tariff matter, as the continued agitation is fast paralyzing our infant industry. Even the discussion of the "Mills bill" last year caused my old "one-horn" cow to go blank dry. But through the election of President Harrison, and the triumph of "protection to American industries," she resumed her wanted flow of lacteal fluid, so that with the anticipated removal of the wiskey tax visions of cheap milk punch danced before our tearful eyes. This would have richly compensated poverty stricken farmers, for their long lack of recognition and protection. But lo! again the tariff agitation, and as true as the needle to the North, my old "one-horn" has again gone dry.

Now something must be done. It has occurred to me, that the oft derived pleasure and comfort that President Harrison has experienced at seeing baby McKee pull at a bottle of milk, might move his generous heart to come to the rescue of the New Jersey babes. But this is not all—my hens are affected by this tariff scare and stoutly refuse to contend against the pauper hen product; the cocks of the flock have lost their proud strut, as in days of yore, and one of the flock that had earned the title of "Plumed Knight," is foot-sore and weary, and by his general woe begone appearance plainly says, this thing is played out. But a ray of hope! Col. Victor E. Pollet of Pennsylvania, while before your committee, struck the remedy—more duty. Congressmen now do your duty. Not 5 cents per dozen Colonel but 45 cents on every dozen eggs—that will stimulate hendustry. Why, sirs! I just posted the Colonel's speech on my hen-yard fence, and the effect is magical; the cackle is more musical; you can plainly detect the sounds—"thank you! thank you!" Why if Col. Pollet were a pullet himself, he could not have understood the case better.

We would like protection against mosquitoes and protection against tramps. Don't let Pennsylvania and Texas get it all. Protect us against them; or better still, protect this county against its neighbor; or better still, give it all to me. Pardon me if I ask too much, but from the Republican speeches I heard last year I have grown to believe that the tariff can do anything and will give everything.

Respectfully,
FARMER MARTINE.

January 1, 1890.

An Entertainment and Panic.

An entertainment was given by the infant class of the Union Mission Sunday school of Evona on Tuesday evening, under the direction of Miss Haft. Noticeable features of the entertainment were recitations by Master Russell Day, Miss Maggie Williams and Miss Hattie Randall. Particular mention should be made of Miss Anna Randall who sang "Jesus Loves Me," and of Master Willie Williams who recited "The Books of the Bible." The ages of these two are three and four years respectively. The members of the class also sang some songs, and gave some fine tableaux.

Several of the best tableaux had to be omitted for what at one time threatened to be a serious accident. In using the colored fire in some way the flames ignited with the costumes to be worn in the next tableau, creating quite a panic among the scholars.

The presence of mind of Mr. Haft and others arrested what might have proved a serious affair.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

Saturday evening meeting at 7:30.

Sunday at 9 A. M., and 4 P. M.

Tuesday at 3 P. M., usual Weekly Prayer Meeting changed from Thursdays.

Those desirous of contributing clothing (cleanly and in good repair) for the barrels which are being prepared for Dakota, (and it is hoped that many may esteem the privilege of this opportunity) will find some one at the rooms 73 West Front street, to receive them from 3 to 5 o'clock, P. M., on Thursday, February 13.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

The Central Railroad Brings Suit Against Elizabeth City.

Assemblyman Fred Marsh and City Attorney Bergen of Elizabeth, were busily engaged at the State Library at Trenton, yesterday, preparing a brief in a serious case brought by the Central Railroad company against the city of Elizabeth in the United States Supreme Court.

In 1882, S. D. Bowers, then Comptroller of Elizabeth, brought action against the Central company for taxes levied by the city on water-front property, the shops and coal docks, said taxes being unpaid. The suit was decided against the company in the Court of Errors and Appeals. The case was appealed to the United States Court. In the meantime the Commissioners of Adjustment reduced the taxes, and the railroad company paid $25,000.

The point at issue now is the legality of the questions involved; the railroad company taking the stand that it has irrepealable rights, and hence the property is not liable to taxation.

Should the city lose in the United States Court it would have to refund all the money that has been paid it by the Central company since the litigation began.

Messrs Marsh and Bergen went to Washington on Monday to contest the issue. The case was argued there by ex-Chancellor Williamson for the railroad company and City Attorney Bergen for the city. Mr. Bergen obtained a stay of action for thirty days, so as to enable him to file a brief defining the city's position. March 3, was designated as the time when the question will be decided.

The railroad company claims that when it obtained a charter many years ago from the State of New Jersey, it was given in this charter, irrepealable rights. The company pays the city about $6,000 yearly for taxes.

Messrs Marsh and Bergen were in consultation, yesterday, with the lawyers who were engaged in the tax cases against the railroads in the Supreme Court of this State, and they will be aided by them.

BEATEN ON THE WIND UP.

But Then Nobody Could Roll on Such Alleys.

When the Alpha bowling team, representing the Y. M. C. A., of Newark, came to Plainfield on January 21, and rolled the Olympics on the Olympia alleys they were beaten by a score of 1508 to 1272. Last evening the Olympics went to Newark for a return match on the Y. M. C. A., alleys, and took their turn at defeat. The Alphas won by the score below.

But the entire cause of it all was the wretched condition of the alleys. In places along the whole length, boards stood up a half-inch above the others. Yet in spite of that the Plainfielders took a big lead on the third frame and held it until the wind up. But in the last frame when Wilbur of the Olympics, got five-all—while Franks of the Alphas got thirty and Wood twenty-seven—that settled it. The score was:

Herrmann.

Herrmann, the celebrated magician, will be the next attraction at Music Hall. This week he is performing at the Park Theatre in Brooklyn to large audiences, and the Daily Standard-Union of that city thus alludes to him:

"No individual public entertainer finds a warmer welcome in Brooklyn than Prof. Herrman. That clever and deceptive gentleman appeared at the Park Theatre last evening before a large audience, and proceeded to hoodwind them, with as much success as ever, in displaying his budget of magic diablerie, prestidigitation, illusions, new and old, and black art. He was assisted by Mme. Herrmann and by the Oriental Fakir, Abdul Kahn. As a conversationalist Herrmann is irreproachable; his powers of speech are such that he turns the minds of his auditors for the nonce from his methods, until he accomplishes a clever trick. The programme last night was an entertaining one. First came thirty minutes of magic, mystery, marvel and mirth, consisting of sleight of hand tricks, which were intensely amusing, in addition to intricate mechanical illusions. Herrmann indeed is master of his art."

Union County Board of Agriculture.

Today the above named Board is holding an all day session at the Town Hall in Westfield. The programme includes words of welcome by the President, Dennis Long of Union; reading of the minutes, reports of the various committees and the transaction of miscellaneous business.

Dangerous Negligence.

It is as unwise to neglect a case of indigestion, etc., as a case of fever or other more serious disease, for, if allowed to progress as great danger to life may result. A few HAMBURG FIGS will put the bowels in a healthy condition, in which they may be kept by occasional use of this medicine. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Several Bills Are Passed and Both Houses Adjourn to Monday.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 6.—In the Senate the bill providing that newly elected trustees in Presbyterian churches must be approved by the session of these churches has not been received with favor by the denomination in question, and for that reason it was recommitted.

These bills passed second reading: Providing that cities of the second class may increase the annual salaries of Aldermen to $2,500 and make their term of office three years: appropriating $3,000 to the New Jersey Soldiers' Home far the purchase of additional cemetery plots, and prohibiting the killing of wild turkeys except between Nov. 1 and Dec. 15, for three years.

A motion to adjourn for the week met with no opposition.

The House passed Mr. Marsh's bill providing that armories shall be built only in cities having more than two companies of infantry.

Mr. Kalisch's bill amending the Practice act, by which partnerships can be sued under the name by which they are known, was passed.

Speaker Heppenheimer called up bill No. 110 on its third reading. It proposes to legitimatize the children born out of wedlock if their parents afterwards marry. The bill passed.

Mr. Marsh's bill passed providing that a husband's property sold under judgment shall be released from a wife's dower.

Several Senate bills were brought in and reported to the committees. The House then adjourned to Monday evening. The following bills were introduced.

No. 194 (by Mr. Boyle) prohibits any company or corporation from charging any fare for carrying passengers across from Jersey City to New York and Camden to Philadelphia greater than 2 cents during the hours from 5 to 7 in the forenoon and afternoon of each day.

No. 195 (by Mr. Stull) amends the practice relative to mechanics' liens.

No. 196 (by Mr. Cole) applies to Cape May County, the Clam and oyster act permitting persons to use riparian lands to plant oyster-beds for their own use.

No. 197 (by Mr. Cole) gives courts of two justices power to hear and determine cases of petit larceny, assault and assault and battery if accused consent thereto.

No. 198 (by Mr. Nash) makes it unlawful to hunt deer with dogs; penalty, $100 fine.

No. 199 (by Mr. Albright) gives Mayors and Councils of boroughs power to purchase and erect plants to furnish light for such boroughs.

No. 200 (by Mr. Zimmerman) gives voters of townships power to vote money, to prepare and crmplete an assessors' map of township. (Mun. Corp.)

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

THE KAISER'S PLAN

An International Conference in Behalf of Workmen.

RECENT STRIKES THE CAUSE.

The Emperor Desires to Reduce the Hours of Labor.

London Threatened With Another Uprising of Dock Laborers—Parnell's Demand of Parliament Christians Attack Turks The Pope's Brother Seriously Ill—England in Africa.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Emperor William, in a rescript to Prince Bismarck, refers to his desire to ameliorate the position of the workingmen. He desires that the ambassadors of France, England, Belgium and Switzerland shall be officially asked whether their Governments are disposed to come to an international agreement with Germany, with a view to meeting the needs and wishes of workmen as revealed in the recent strikes and labor disputes. When the principle of the Emperor's proposal is accepted, Prince Bismarck is empowered to invite all the nations interested to attend a labor conference.

DOCK LABORERS TO STRIKE.

London Threatened With Another Great Uprising of Wage Earners.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The belief is now general that nothing short of a miracle can avert a repetition of last autumn's strike of the London dock laborers, with its attendant hardship, distress and misery even more widespread and intense. The dock companies have reached an unalterable determination to control their own business and conduct it in their own way, while the laborers, emboldened by the success of their former strike, seem equally determined to fight to the end to maintain their present advantages and compel the companies to make still further concessions.

The present trouble hinges upon the refusal of the union laborers to deliver the goods they handle to non-union laborers, and a crisis will be reached on Monday next, when it is probable a general strike will be declared.

PRINCES OF THE BLOOD.

The Duke of Cambridge Will Ask Parliament to Legitimize His Sons.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Club men are offering odds that the bill to legitimize the three sons of the Duke of Cambridge will pass Parliament when brought up.

This will be viewed in the light of a graceful compliment to the commander-in chief of Her Majesty's forces, on the occasion of his retirement from the exalted position which he has held so long. The sons, if Parliament shall declare them legitimate, will be nominally princes of the blood, and it is understood that the Prince of Wales and his brethren, whose status are so assured, are not averse to their recognition.

There will be more or less opposition from the left wing of Parliament, in the course of which some disagreeable truths will be told, but it is a fact that some of the Radicals are in favor of practically cheapening royalty.

Christians Attacking Turks.

ATHENS, Feb. 6.—Advices from Crete state that the Christians have arisen in a frenzy of desperation and are attacking the Turks, many of whom are being murdered daily. Turkish families are flooding the towns, and it is feared that a general revolt of Christians is imminent.

Parnell's Case in Parliament.

DUBLIN, Feb. 6.—At the opening of Parliament next week, says the Freeman's Journal, Mr. Parnell will demand the appointment of a committee to inquire into the Times-Pigott conspiracy.

England Will Take Possession.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Lord Salisbury has arranged for immediate occupation by England of the Makolol and Shire districts of southeast Africa.

The Pope's Brother Ill.

ROME, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Joseph Pecci, brother of Pope Leo, is ill with a severe attack of pneumonia.

BIG EDGE TOOL TRUST.

The Manufacturers Form a Combination to Control the Entire Trade.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—The American Axe Company, a new corporation of this city, is composed of a syndicate comprising all the concerns in the United States making edge tools, of the character of axes, adzes etc. It is understood that a deal will be perfected in this city this week, whereby control of the edge tool trade of the United States will be monopolized and parcelled out to different concerns. The Underhill Edge-Tool Company of Nashua, N. H., will be given control of the axe trade of the entire New England section.

The representatives of the leading axe manufacturies of the United States now in session here to form a combination or trust to control the trade of edge tools appointed a committee to meet here on the 11th inst. to formulate plans, and a general meeting will be held in New York the latter part of the month. G. W. Mackey, who organized the white lead trust, is at its head.

The World's Fair Bill Defeated.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The World's Fair bill was put upon its final passage in the Senate but only received thirteen votes, and a call was ordered in order to get the necessary seventeen votes for the passage. After the call the bill was declared lost. A motion to reconsider was tabled.

Pool Rooms Raided.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 6.—The pool rooms at East Newark were raided last night by Jersey City detectives. Since the closing of pool rooms in New York the Newark gamblers have been doing a thriving business. Prosecutor Winfield expresses a determination to break up the business.

The Leconey Murder Trial.

THE CHURCH IN POLITICS.

Cardinal Gibbons Listens to Mr. Bonaparte's Address on the Subject.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 6.—Cardinal Gibbons presideded at a meeting last night at the Catholic Club. An address was delivered by Charles J. Bonaparte, on "The Church in Politics."

Mr. Bonaparte began by quoting from a speech he delivered several years ago in which he said that the Church had no politics, but required her children to vote with an unclouded judgment, with an undrugged conscience, with the good of the country as their motive, with the fear of God before their eyes. He then went on to say that there was, of course, and always will be, honest difference of opinion on public questions, but there was a fundamental distinction between tolerating mistaken views and tolerating immoral professions or behavior.

"When a man's words or actions show," said Mr. Bonaparte, "that he does not accept the obligations of conscience as controlling his political conduct, he is not a less but a more legitimate object of censure than if similar moral obliquity were displayed in his private life. The church help good men to purify and elevate politics. She can promote honest government, pure politics, a sound and lofty spirit, by teaching through the words and acts of her representatives that she believes in and prizes these things, by making those who fight for them feel that in spirit and sympathy she is on their side, and those who fight against them know that she counts as her enemies enemies to their country's welfare."

Cardinal Gibbons said that he hoped that similar addresses from distinguished local Catholics would in future be a feature of the club. He desired that they discuss social, political and economic matters. He did not mean when advising them to discuss political matters that they should be politicians. Men could do that and not be politicians.

BIG BLAZE IN PORTLAND.

Three Wharves and Buildings with 2,000,000 Feet of Lumber Burned.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 6.—One of the most disastrous fires that has visited this city in many years occurred last night. Three wharves and the buildings thereon were badly damaged.

The fire started in M. P. Emery's building on Brown's wharf, used as a storehouse for hogsheads, and is believed to have been incendiary. The flames shot across the passageway to J. H. Hamlin & Co.'s cooper shop, which was destroyed, and then communicated to Berlin Mills wharf. At the lower end was a lumber shed in which Frank Dudley had 2,000,000 feet of pine lumber. This caught fire and burned like tinder. The flames were checked, but not until the Boston & Maine Railroad wharf had been considerably damaged.

A committee of five business men examined a schedule of the assets, making a low estimate, and the total was $471,382. All of Mr. Beckwith's personal liabilities are secured and can be met in full now.

It is now stated that the affairs of the Dyerville Company and of Amos N. Beckwich, the principal owner thereof, are to be adjusted this week, and creditors will be paid 100 cents on the dollar.

The Credentials Committee held that, as Barry is antagonizing the Knights, it would not be advisable to give him a voice in the Convention, and he was excluded.

THE latest development of the electric light is likely to prove of great use for vehicular traffic. A small incandescent globe and reflector are placed on the forehead of a horse, insulated wires are carried along its body to a small battery stowed in the trailing vehicle. The current is turned on at pleasure, and an unmistakable blaze of light illumines the murky surroundings.

A PECULIAR tendency in idiots to imperfections and disease in the teeth has been noticed by several physicians, and it has been studied by Mme. Sollier in one hundred cases of idiots taken at random. The multiplicity and variety of the dental lesions were remarkable, and the conclusion has been drawn that idiocy, with or without epilepsy, predisposes to arrests of development and to anomalies of destitution. The effect rarely appears in the first teeth, but almost wholly in the second.

THE HAUNTED MILL

Boys Intrusted With Terribly Dangerous Work.

CATCHING BARS OF HOT IRON.

An Expert Hand Disemboweled in an Instant by a Red Rod.

Another Man's Body Pierced Through and Through Not One Drop of Blood Left—Precarious Condition of a Hungarian Who Was Injured—Three Thousand Men at Work in the Mill.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 7.—"The Haunted Mill" is the title given by the workingmen to the new Clinton street annex to Roebling's wire and rolling mill.

The men have some cause for the name, too, for, although the mill has been in operation but a few months, nearly a dozen of their fellow workmen have been stricken there with death in the most shocking manner possible. Indeed, so superstitious are the men becoming that they go to their labor very reluctantly.

The drawing of wire under the process used at Roebling's is extremely dangerous, although the firm is rapidly replacing the old machinery by the pipe guide system.

A number of large bars of iron several inches in diameter are now placed in a furnace, and when at white heat they are rushed over to the chain of twelve rollers with grooves, and it is while they pass through these rollers that the danger arises.

Two men on either side of the rollers take charge of the iron in its heaviest state, and from there on to the finisher, who is stationed at the end of the long line of rollers, are boys.

The iron passes through the first groove in the heavy state very rapidly, and at the opposite side of the rolls stands a boy with a pair of tongs, who must catch this rod of red hot iron, going at the rate of about a rod a minute, twist it about his head in a snake wriggle and pass the end into another groove or hole smaller than the one through which it has just passed.

If the boy misses the hole or guide into which he should pass the hot iron in an instant the iron bends, the end shoots up and if the lad is not nimble enough to get out of the way it goes through his body.

This was the position held by Charles Cheattle, and, although he was considered a first-class workman, he was not quick enough to escape the swiftly rolling iron and it pierced his body through and through.

A few days ago Thomas Hotchkiss, one of the most expert "roughers," or men who handle the hot iron when it first passes through the rollers, was killed in this mill in an even more horrible manner than was young Cheattle. Hotchkiss was standing before the furnace with his tongs when the accident happened. A fellow workman stooped over to repair the damage, and at the same instant a large square rod of iron came rushing from the furnace, and owing to the disarrangement of the furnace Hotchkiss could neither stop the iron nor turn it from its course. Nor could he move out of its tracks.

He bent over, thinking that it might pass over his head, but in this he was mistaken.

The end of the red hot rod entered the lower part of his abdomen and passed through the body, coming out at the neck and burning out his entrails.

Not one drop of blood was shed, but Hotchkiss was dead before the iron could be extracted.

The Hungarian who was injured on Tuesday night lies in a precarious condition.

The Roeblings employ about 3,000 men.

The World's Fair Bill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 7.—There is every reason to believe that by to-night Governor Hill will have signed the World's Fair bill The Senate reconsidered the vote by which the Assembly World's Fair bill was declared lost, and the bill being again put on its final passage was passed by a vote of 18 to 5. The Assembly rejected the Senate bill and conference committees were appointed by both houses. It is thought that a settlement of some kind has been made and the bill will go through this afternoon.

Greatest Ore Deposits Ever Discovered.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 7.—Eminent mining experts announce the Barker & Neihart district at Great Falls, Mont., to contain the greatest ore deposits ever discovered in this country, and will surpass the record of all previous camps. Capital is following close on the heels of these discoveries and before the summer has passed rich developments are looked for. Labor is needed and employment can at once be given a large number of men.

Woburn's Labor Trouble.

WOBURN, Mass., Feb. 7.—The labor trouble is getting worse. E. L. Shaw & Co. paid off and shut down indefinitely. The misunderstanding as to what shall constitute a day's work is likely to undo the good results of the late settlement of the wage question.

Footpads in New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Footpads made an attempt to rob Comptroller Theodore F. Jackson, of Brooklyn, during the night. Two men made a duck for the carriage, but the agility of the driver frustrated their purpose.

To Fight the Labor Unions.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Twenty-two companies of dockowners have signed the agreement recently made to fight the labor unions of men employed in handling freight and in other dock occupations.

THE LECONEY MURDER TRIAL

The Prisoner Confronted With the Bloody Knife and Damaging Evidence.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 7.—Interest in the Leconey trial continues exciting. Damaging evidence against the prisoner was given by Constable William Naylor. He swore that when he reached the house Leconey tried to put suspicion on Francis Lingo, the colored farm hand, and directed him to go down by the mill stream back of the house. The constable went there and found footprints, and then arrested Lingo.

The bloody butcher knife with which Annie Leconey's throat was cut was brought into court and Chalkley Leconey, the prisoner, gazed fixedly at it, but not a muscle of his face moved. Dr. D. H. Bartine identified the knife as the one he found alongside the body. It has a blade eight inches long and a very sharp point. There were dark smears of blood on the blade and the handle.

The doctor said the wound could have been made with this knife. He also said that he saw no evidence of the blood having spurted when the girl's throat was cut.

Her face had the appearance of strangulation. He believed that her throat was cut while she was lying insensible on the spot where the body was found.

Mrs. and Miss Laverty gave a description of the condition in which they found the body, and the clothes of the murdered girl were then presented. When the blood stained garments were shown Mrs. Lavery fainted. The case is still on.

HURLED INTO A RAVINE.

Eight Men Killed Instantly in the Accident on the Union Pacific Road.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 7.—Particulars of the railroad accident that occurred on the Union Pacific Railroad near Cascade Locks, on Columbia River, in which nine men were killed and wounded, have been received.

The train consisted of the engine, tender, and caboose, and had on board about 25 laborers. When the engine had almost cleared the trestle, which was about 50 feet in length, the underpinning was washed away by the torrent underneath, and the tender with the caboose and its occupants were hurled into the ravine 40 feet below.

Eight of the men were instantly killed and were mutilated beyond recognition. The following are the names of those killed: Jerry Pasey, Fred Marthough, Andrew Frost, Theodore Skolohime, August Carson, Charles Restoff, John Schroeder, Henry Crouch and William Cole. All of the dead were taken away soon after the accident except William Cole, section man, who was buried under the debris, and whose body it was impossible to recover until yesterday, when it had to be pulled out with ropes.

Escaping from a Hotel Fire.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The Mansion Hotel and a small building adjoining were burned early in the morning. A. C. Stone, landlord, his wife and three children escaped in their night clothes. Stephen Cote, a French doctor, was badly burned and jumped from a back window to a shed beneath. Anna Buckley and Julia Welsh, two servants, escaped in a similar manner. Lizzie Farrar jumped from a front window and sprained her ankle. Lizzie March fought her way down the front stairs through the flames. She was badly burned about the face and hands. Nelson Souirier, a fireman, was slightly bruised by falling walls.

Two Girls Indulge in a Fight.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Feb. 7.—Mary Hooper, aged 17 and Rachel Ferguson, aged 18 years, had a desperate fight at Utica, six miles from this city. The girls are recent converts to the Baptist church and were to be baptised in the river. The Hooper girl objected to Ferguson going in first. She deliberately struck her on the nose and blackened her right eye and when separated by Minister Wesley, made an attack on him. The whole baptising broke up in a row, and great consternation in religious circles exists in the village.

Thrashed in the Court Room.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 7.—During the trial of the suit of B. F. Cornelius, an engineer of the Westinghouse electric works, against J. F. Hambay for $10,000 damages for alienating the affections of his wife, while Cornelius' daughter was giving some testimony damaging to the defendant, Cornelius assaulted Hambay, knocking him around one section of the court room before the officers could interfere. He was committed to jail for contempt of court.

Governor Fleming Inaugurated.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 7.—Governor Fleming was inaugurated at noon. The oath was administered by Judge J. W. English, of the Supreme Court. A large number of people were present, among them many ladies. The new Governor spoke for about five minutes. He referred to the Democratic tariff policy and the late contest; complimented Governor Wilson and pledged himself to discharge the duties of office faithfully and impartially.

Andrew Carnegie's Munificence.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 7.—Andrew Carnegie proposes to give to the city of Pittsburg $1,000,000 for a free public library. He has prepared a proposition to this effect, and it will be submitted to the City Council on Monday. It provides that the city shall maintain the library. The proposition will undoubtedly be accepted.

New G. A. R. Commander.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 7.—The annual encampment of the G. A. R. elected Senior Vice Department Commander George H. Innis Department Commander. The new commander served in the 10th Massachusetts Light Battery from Aug. 16, 1862, until Sept. 9, 1865, and was engaged in more than a dozen battles.

A LULL IN THE FIGHT

Both Sides of the House Furnished With the Rules.

THE OUTCOME VERY UNCERTAIN

Ex-Speaker Randall Preparing a Statement for the Country.

Secretary Tracy Improving—Report on the Fire at His House—The Ballot Box Forgeries—Customs Collectors Appointed—Recorder Bruce Confirmed—Investigating the Mysterious Tin Box Find.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—There is a lull in the fight over the adoption of a code of rules for the House. Both sides have been furnished with printed copies of the rules, and will have from now until to-morrow or Monday to think the matter over.

It is yet uncertain what course the Democrats will pursue when the question of adopting the rules comes up. There is no doubt that they will discuss them and not attempt to cause delay, but it is possible that when the subject comes to a final vote they may sit silent in their seats and allow the rules to be adopted by Republican votes alone. This course will be taken only in case the amendments presented by the Democrats are not agreed to, and it is not at all likely that they will be.

The fact that Speaker Reed is able to arrange the code in caucus precisely as he wants it indicates that there is little danger of any amendments being made not agreeble to him. The Democratic criticism of the rules is very severe, as will appear, it is said, in the speeches that will be made by Democratic leaders when the subject is before the House.

Mr. Randall will not be able to be in the House to speak on the question, but it is understood that he is preparing a statement which he will give to the country. The Democrats are claiming a big victory in forcing the Republicans to report the rules, and predict that their construction of the code will react to the embarrassment of the Republican majority.

The Fire at Gen. Tracy's House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The Coroner's jury to investigate the death of Mrs. Secretary Tracy, Miss Mary Tracy and Josephine Morel, decided that they came to their death by a fire, the origin of which could not be ascertained, and that the fire department did all that was possible. Chief Parris said that he believed that the fire originated from the explosion of the lamp which had been left burning in one of the rooms.

Secretary Tracy Gaining Strength.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Secretary Tracy remained at the White House all morning, most of the time sitting up in his room. He is gradually regaining his strength. He did not receive any visitors, though numbers called and left their cards. Secretary Tracy has not yet seen his daughter, Mrs. Wilmerding, since the fatal night before the fire.

The Ballot Box Forgery.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Halstead, in his testimony before the committee investigating the ballot box forgeries, described himself as a "daily laborer on a daily newspaper." He gave a graphic and picturesque account of how he was imposed upon. He insisted, however, that both he and Foraker believed the paper genuine.

The Mysterious Tin Box.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The police have been on a still hunt to discover the party who placed the mysterious tin box containing a small quantity of explosive in the rotunda of the Capitol, but their efforts have been fruitless. It is thought, however, that the whole thing was intended as a scare by some silly joker.

Customs Collectors Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The following nominations for Collector of Customs were sent to the Senate by the President: Alanson W. Beard, of Massachusetts, for the District of Boston and Charleston, Mass; George B. Edmonds, of Connecticut, for the District of Fairfield, Conn.

Recorder Bruce.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The Senate has confirmed the following nominations: Blanche K. Bruce, to be Recorder of Deeds in the District of Columbia, vice James M. Trotter, resigned.

FIGHTING THE PLAYERS.

The League Brings Action Against the President of the Philadelphia Club.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—The Ward trial is to be duplicated here but on a larger scale. The lawyer of the League, John I. Rogers, filed three bills in equity in the Common Pleas Court. The suit is brought by the Philadelphia League against Henry M. Love, the president of the local Players' Club; James G. Fogarty, fielder; Sid D. Farrar, first baseman, and A. B. Sanders, pitcher.

The court is requested to restrain each defendant "from playing baseball with or giving his services as a baseball player for the season of 1890 to any other club or organization, person or persons whatever, other than the plaintiff."

The court is also requested to enjoin President Love from employing the three men or otherwise interfering with the players if they attempt to rejoin their club.

Powderly After Callaghan.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 7.—Mr. Powderly has instituted a suit for criminal libel against Edward Callaghan of Scottdale. A warrant for Callaghan's arrest has been issued. This case grows out of the matter written by Callaghan during the recent trouble with Powderly.

Among those who have recently been granted patents are the following: Insoluble nitro-cellulose, and preparing the same (two patents), J. E. France, Plainfield. Mr. L. W. Serrell has also received a patent for the regulation of electric motors.

Mr. H. R. Phillips, Superintendent of Holy Cross Sunday school, entertained the officers and teachers of the school, at his residence on Plainfield avenue, last evening. Games, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed, and the occasion was a most delightful one for all present.

The Gospel song and praise services held on Wednesday and Friday evenings, in the basement of Reform Hall, are full of interest. The meeting of last Friday evening was conducted by Mr. Henry Mears, an employee of the Pond Tool Works, and on that occasion five persons came forward and confessed their faith. The meeting this evening will be conducted by Mr. Cleaver.

League of American Wheelmen.

Wheelmen from all parts of New Jersey will assemble at Plainfield in May, when the State Division of the League of American Wheelmen will hold its annual meeting. The gathering will be on May 30 and 31. In connection with the business sessions there will probably be a lantern parade, races for the several championships of the State, a dinner and a theatre party. It is intended to make this the largest gathering of wheelmen ever held in New Jersey.

A Perfectly Proper Visit.

The officers of Engine Co. No. 1, and Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1, met last evening with the Board of Engineers, to consider matters of importance to the Department.

Charges to the effect that a member of one of the companies had brought women to the house, were investigated, and the fact brought out that they had merely visited the place out of curiosity to see the Department's apparatus.

Evening Sociable.

Another of the series of sociables which the members of "Our Own Social Society" inaugurated early in the season, took place in Prof. Segadlo's academy, in the new Clarkson building on East Front street, last evening. About twenty-five couples were present. Local musicians furnished the music for dancing, which continued until early this morning. Refreshments were served during the evening.

In Correction Again of Others' Blunders.

The men's night school is to be continued during the rest of this month in order to give all a chance who desire to avail themselves of possibly the only opportunity of their lives to secure an education. The statement in a demised contemporary that the men's school had closed, is not true. And should the attendance increase, the school will not be closed at all.

To Be Continued a Week Longer.

Owing to the success attending the Camera Club exhibition, and for fear there might be a few people in Plainfield who have not yet visited this great show of amateur photography, the committee in charge have decided to continue it throughout the entire week, with a flash light at nine each night, in the Y. M. C. A. parlor.

—The members of the Alpha Social Circle will hold their second reception in the hall over George W. Rockfellow's store, corner Park and North avenues, on Friday evening, February 14.

IT LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Harvey Cole in Jail and His Wife, Who it is Alleged He Treated With Extreme Cruelty, is in Her Grave.

On Friday evening of last week, Henry Cole, who lives at Mendham a small village a few miles Northwest of this city, with one of his friends is alleged to have gone off on a periodical spree.

When Cole returned late at night and had gone in the house, it is said he commenced beating his wife unmercifully. Awakening only to a fear of the law when he had almost killed the woman, he stripped her of her clothing, threw it down the cellar, and running to a neighbor's house begged for assistance as his wife was dying.

The unfortunate victim was found stretched on the floor naked and bleeding. Cole explained the condition of things by saying she had fallen down stairs. He said they would find her clothes at the bottom of the cellar stairs and could see for themselves that he was telling the truth.

Cole was subsequently arrested, and everything possible was done to save Mrs. Cole's life, without avail. She was buried Wednesday. Her husband is now in the Morristown jail, and it may happen that he will hang.

It is said that the last is not the first trouble that has occurred between Cole and his wife. The rumor is that last Summer Cole had a negro working for him, who it was thought at that time had beaten Cole's wife. But after the poor negro was punished for so doing, it was said that Cole himself had done the beating and compelled his wife through fear to swear the deed on the poor black.

The Wind Taken Out of Their Sails.

The case of Laura Connett vs. Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, for an alleged assault, came up before Justice Nodyne today. Mr. W. K. McClure appeared for the defendant. He said: "This being an ex parte examination, in which the defendant has no right to be heard, and in order to avoid church scandal, I waive examination here." The Justice thereupon held the accused in the sum of $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Mrs. Mary Kline of West Third street, went on the bail bond.

Mr. W. A. Coddington appeared for the complainant.

The matter will doubtless end here. Mrs. Mitchell and her friends are delighted with today's proceedings, while the plaintiff and her followers are correspondingly chagrined at the sudden turn of affairs.

John French Resigns.

At a business meeting of the Reform Club, held last evening, a communication was received from John H. French declining to serve as a member of the Executive Committee, which was accepted, and the president announced that he would nominate a person to fill the vacancy at the next regular meeting. On motion, the Rev. W. E. Honeyman was appointed chaplain to the club. After the transaction of routine business, interesting remarks were made by Messrs Burnett and Angleman, and during the singing of the closing hymn three persons came forward and donned the red ribbon badge of total abstinence.

Inspecting the Electric Light Plant.

The members of the City Council and others interested in the formation of an Electric Street Lighting Company at Catawissa, Pa., came to this city last evening, and inspected the Plainfield Electric Light Company's plant here. The delegation, numbering about twenty-five, were courteously received by Manager Moore, who took them around and allowed the visitors to thoroughly inspect the plant and its workings.

The visitors returned home well pleased with their tour of inspection.

Junior Past Councilor Dunavan Gets a Badge.

At the regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., held in S. of T. hall, last evening, after the usual routine business was transacted Councilor James D. Anderson with a very few appropriate remarks presented to J. P. C., D. S. Dunavan with a handsome past councilor's badge which was accepted by Mr. Dunavan with a very neat speech.

A New Society at Hope Chapel.

The "band of gospel workers" is the name of a new society recently organized in connection with Hope chapel, mention of which has already appeared in the columns of THE DAILY PRESS. All communications relating to the new society should be addressed to Mr. Geo. H. Fountain, Plainfield avenue. Meetings are held every Tuesday evening.

A Small Fire.

A fire was discovered in one of the chimneys on the City Hotel about 9:30 o'clock last evening, and for a time it was thought that the building was doomed. The fire was extinguished, however, with but little difficulty.

A Visit From Providence.

Mr. Ray Huntsman, of Providence, R. I., brother of Mr. R. F. B. Huntsman of the Central Times, is visiting his uncle, ex-Mayor L. V. F. Randolph.

A Spring medicine is needed by every one. Winter food, largely consisting of salt meat and animal fats, causes the liver to become disordered and the blood impure, hence the necessity of a cleansing medicine. The best is Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT.

Something Enjoyable and With a Good Purpose.

On Tuesday evening, February 18, the scholars of the high school will give a concert consisting of solo and chorus singing, for the purpose of raising money for new singing books. The present books having been in use for more than ten years, friends and scholars are equally desirous of a change. As the board of education do not feel able to furnish the books, the pupils are trying to earn them for themselves. The concert of last year did not net a sufficient sum to obtain the number of copies desired, and so the scholars determined to try again and are working hard to make the coming concert a success.

Under the instruction of Mr. Hazell, the scholars have acquired a taste for a higher class of music, and are learning to read and render difficult selections. They have taken up with great interest and keen appreciation such music as "The Vesper Bells," Eichberg; "Sweet May," Barnby; "The Heavens are Telling." In addition, Mr. Elmer Runyon and Miss Alice Holmes, both former members of the school, have kindly consented to assist with solos and duetts, thus insuring a delightful evening.

The concert will be given in the High School Hall. Tickets, fifty cents. It is earnestly hoped that all the friends of the school will be present and encourage the pupils in the cultivation of a musical taste that renders such an organization as the Choral Society possible and successful in our midst.

BUT WHAT CAN THEY DO ABOUT IT?

Six Councilmen Are Anxious Concerning the Office of Street Commissioner, but not Without Hope.

His Honor, Mayor Malé, at present is very much in the humor of permitting Street Commissioner Angleman to remain in office. The Mayor nominated a successor who a majority of the Council refused to confirm. So Mr. Angleman will hold over.

The Mayor wants to choose his own appointees, while some of the councilmen want to choose them for him. As the latter will not confirm any but their own choice, consequently it is possible that the Mayor will name no one else for rejection.

But, say the councilmen, Section 2 of an ordinance approved as amended in 1884, provides:

If any nomination by the Mayor shall be not confirmed, it shall be the duty of the Mayor to nominate at each succeeding regular or adjourned meeting a different person for such office, not before nominated for such office during the then current year, until a nomination for such office shall be confirmed.

Well, what does that amount to? There is no penalty attached. If the Mayor does not choose to nominate others for the office of Street Commissioner, what are you going to do about it?

Still there is this sprig of hope sprouting in the breasts of the Big Six. The Mayor has been known to change his mind. It is said that he promised he would not sign the contract employing constructing Engineer Hering: and he didn't—for a while.

THE KNIGHTS OF HONOR FLOURISH.

Wetumpka's Growing Lodge Arranging for an Anniversary Celebration.

Wetumpka lodge, Knights of Honor, of this city, continues to flourish most successfully. Besides the admissions at last evening's meeting, other new members were proposed and there will be six candidates for initiation on the evening of Thursday, the 21st inst. That will swell the total membership to 79.

A committee has been appointed to arrange appropriate ceremonies and entertainment by which to celebrate and enjoy the anniversary of the Lodge, in April. D. D. G. M., Neefus, of Onward Lodge, of Elizabeth, installed the balance of Wetumpka's officers, last evening.

New Market Notes.

The Y. P. S. C. E., of the New Market Baptist church, held a sociable at Mr. Lloyd Nelson's home on Wednesday evening, and the Ladies' Aid Society, connected with the same church, held one at the home of Mr. Ludlow Squier, last evening. There was a good attendance.

The Rev. L. E. Livermore, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church, was pleasantly surprised by his congregation, a large number of whom called upon him on Wednesday evening. The surprise was admirably managed by the ladies of the church.

The Y. P. C. E., societies of New Market and Dunellen have arranged to publish a monthly paper under the joint management of a committee from each association, for the dissemination of church and Christian Endeavor news and the promulgation of Christian Endeavor principles. The first issue will appear in March and will be called the Christian Endeavor Union.

Mr. E. E. Seymour of Peekskill, is the new night telegraph operator at Dunellen. Train Dispatcher Carpenter still has charge of the ticket office, pending the consummation of the plan to relieve him of that responsibility.

W. C. T. U. Semi-Annual Convention.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Union county, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, President, will hold its semi-annual convention at Elizabeth on March 12. Mrs. Mary T. Lathrup of Michigan, is expected to address the mass meeting in the evening.

The W. C. T. U., Meetings.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The steady increase in attendance at the regular weekly prayer meetings of the W. C. T. U., this Winter, becomes one of our special causes for thanksgiving, and the reports from other unions of the success of the Gospel work all around us, makes us realize how near we are to each other and how blessed is the working for and with one Master.

The next meeting will be at 3 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday next instead of Thursday, (please note the change,) at the usual place 73 West Front street, to which all are welcome. A WOMAN.

Herrmann.

Herrmann, the magician, who appears at Music Hall Tuesday evening next, has invented a process that would be a boon to bank presidents, theatrical managers and others. Whenever a man, woman or child asks him for a pass to his entertainment, he appears greatly flattered, and writes one with a flourish and a sweet smile of welcome, and includes in it the entire family of the applicant. The ink lasts about five minutes, then fades entirely out, and what looked like a pass is only a blank card. Then the applicant wishes Herrmann would cremate himself.

Elizabeth's New Hospital.

The new hospital at Elizabeth, to be erected by the Catholic church, will cost about $60,000, and will cover a large area of ground. The land for its site has been purchased from the Coudert Brothers of New York, who are also owners of some valuable real estate in this city, notably, Force's Hotel on North avenue. The price paid was $9,000.

The erection of the hospital is to be begun in April, and the five Catholic churches will contribute $1,400 as a fund with which to begin the work. The remainder will be advanced by the Bishop of the diocese.

A New Church Calls a Pastor.

At the meeting of the Presbytery held on Wednesday afternoon, a committee of the newly organized Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, in Roseville, presented a call which they desired to send to the Rev. Hugh B. McCauley, of Bound Brook. After one or two questions concerning Mr. McCauley, the committee were authorized to prosecute the call. Mr. McCauley is a young clergyman, thirty-three years of age, and he is highly recommended to the Fifth Avenue church. He has on several occasions preached in this city.

The Five Per Cent. Bill.

Now that there is a bill in the Legislature to have five per cent. established as the legal rate of interest in this State, the question has been brought up as to whether it will also apply to the many building associations. If it does not affect these it will greatly mar their usefulness; but some of those interested in the associations thinks the law will not affect them, as they are working under a very liberal special law and the courts have shown considerable liberality towards these bodies in cases involving them.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—About 6,000 people attended a reception in Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's honor at the 13th Regiment Armory last night. Mayor Chapin, General Sherman, General Barnes, and many prominent clergymen and other citizens were present. Speeches were made welcoming Dr. Talmage home, and the reverend gentlemen responded eloquently.

Fighting Flames in a Mine.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 7.—It will be six months before operations can be resumed in the Pettibone shaft of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company's mine, as the recent explosion proves to be a more serious matter than at first reported. After fighting the flames for twenty-four hours with three fire engines the fire was extinguished.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. E. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

IN A PIT OF DEATH

Three Hundred Men Buried by an Explosion.

MORE THAN 150 REPORTED DEAD

The Bodies Recovered Too Mutilated for Identification.

The Ghastly Work Only at the Beginning—Piteous Appeals of Women and Children to Save Their Relatives—The Explosion Heard a Mile Away—Criminal Negligence Alleged.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—By an explosion in the Abersychan colliery at Newport, 300 miners were shut off, the shafts being closed by debris.

The greatest excitement prevailed about the mouth of the pit just after the explosion. It was thought fire had caused, which would have meant certain death to all in the mine. The families of the imprisoned miners were loud in their lamentations and appeals to those on the surface to save those below.

Rescuing parties were soon in the mine. Before many hours they had saved 200 men, all of whom were burned about the face and hands.

The explosion so damaged the pit that the work of exploration is slow.

At last accounts 40 bodies had been brought to the surface. There is faint hope that others may yet be alive.

It is now apparent that the estimate of the number of lives lost was not placed too high, and many believe that the dead will exceed their figures—120.

Ghastly Work.

Although some 50 bodies have been taken out, the ghastly work is only at its beginning and a vast amount of labor will be required to clean away the debris and recover the bodies that remain in the pit. The bodies taken out are so horribly mutilated that except in two or three cases identification is impossible, recognition being rendered doubly doubtful by the fact that the men, owing to the close and heated atmosphere of the mine wore no clothing whatsoever except heavy boots to protect their feet from the flint bottom.

Criminal Negligence.

It is asserted that the mine has been in a dangerous condition for some time past. Not long ago an explosion occurred in an adjoining pit, by which five men were killed. The damaged pit was flooded and the water gradually forced the gas into the pit which was the scene of the latest disaster. Upon this information it is already suggested that the owners of the mine be prosecuted for criminal negligence.

A DOUBLE KILLING.

Wife Murder and Suicide by an English Cottager.

EXETER, Eng., Feb. 7.—A horrible murder and suicide has occurred here. A boy of thirteen, living with his father and mother in a cottage on a country road just outside the town, was awakened by a quarrel between his father and mother caused by jealousy.

The dispute increased in fierceness until the husband chased his wife out of doors, knocked her down, and then deliberately stabbed her to death with a pocket-knife.

The poor little fellow, who had followed his parents outdoors, stood shivering in his bedgown meanwhile, and imploring his father to spare his mother's life.

The father and the son returned to the house after the murder, leaving the body of the dead woman in the road.

The murderer then gave his son some money, after which he cut his throat before the boy's eyes.

The lad's story, which is confirmed, is the criminal sensation of the day in England.

Another Home Rule Applicant.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Government now realizes the fact that the home rule movement is spreading. Mr. Alfred Thomas, member of the House of Commons for the eastern division of Glamorganshire, will move an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech at the opening of the coming session of Parliament, declaring that the affairs of Wales ought to be administered by a special department, presided over by a minister acquainted with Welsh National affairs.

A Gloomy Task.

ROME, Feb. 7.—His Holiness the Pope is at present absorbed in the gloomy task of superintending his own monument, which is a sepulchral urn, over which stands a life-size statue of himself, and on either side colossal statues of Religion and Justice in Carrara marble. The urn, of porphyry, will take three years to complete, and will cost £5,000.

The Portuguese Defence.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The municipal authorities have given 100 contos to the national defence fund. The Archbishop convened the clergy and directed them to collect funds for this purpose in every parish.

BISSELL-STURGIS WEDDING.

Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland Accompany the Couple to New York.

GENEVA, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The marriage of Miss Louise Sturgis to Wilson L. Bissell, of Buffalo, occurred at the residence of the bride's parents on Pultney street, at 6 o'clock last evening. Rev. Samuel Hopkins, of Auburn Theological Seminary, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony. Miss Harriet Fowler, of Philadelphia, who is also a cousin of Miss Sturgis, was maid of honor.

The wedding was not an elaborate one, only relatives of the bride and groom and a very few immediate friends, in Geneva, were present, besides the out of town guests, the most prominent of whom were ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland. They arrived in the morning at 11 o'clock and stopped at the Franklin House.

At 8 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Bissell, and Mr and Mrs. Cleveland left for New York on a special train on the Lehigh Railroad.

The ex-President held a reception at the Franklin House from four to five o'clock yesterday afternoon. It is estimated he shook hands with 1,500 citizens. Stephen H. Parker and Capt. Joseph Lewis introduced the people to Mr. Cleveland.

Mrs. William Slosson gave a luncheon to Mr. Wilson S. Bissell and other relatives, which Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland attended. Afterwards several members of the party, including the ex-President, visited the Hobart College library building and were shown around by Dr. Potter.

SHE WANTS DAMAGES.

Nurse Donnelly Sues Robert Ray and Eva Hamilton for $10,000.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 7.—Nurse Mary Donnelly has brought suit against Robert Ray Hamilton and his wife Eva to recover $10,000 damages. The suit is the outcome of the assault on Mary Donnelly by Mrs. Hamilton at Atlantic City last summer, while the Hamiltons were stopping at Noll cottage. The papers were served on Mrs. Hamilton at the prison yesterday.

The Warden of the prison said he did not know whether Mrs. Hamilton could be taken from the State Prison to the Supreme Court to testify as to the suit, and that he would have to seek legal advice in the matter.

Politicians Settled an Old Grudge.

AUBURN, N. Y., Feb. 7.—It was rumored on the street that Gen. Knapp, chairman of the Republican State Committee, and Col Woodruff, ex-postmaster, had settled an old grudge in a fistic encounter. Some said the trouble was the breaking out of an old feud, which dates back to the election of the Southern Central officers some years ago. Mr. Knapp is a candidate for the postmastership of this city and is far from being the choice of Mr. Woodruff. Both gentlemen deny any knowledge of the encounter, but it is generally believed that it took place.

Strikers Return to Work.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 7.—The strike at Chick Bros.' shoe manufactury has been settled in a conference between members of the firm and Organizer Moulton. The price-list presented by Mr. Moulton was accepted, and the terms of settlement substitute piece work for day work. The price-list is the same as was accepted by J. H. Winchell & Co. some weeks ago, and gives only a slight advance over the old prices. The men returned to work.

Legislation Blocked in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 7.—Yesterday afternoon, after the adjournment of the Senate, eight Democratic Senators, incensed at the ruling of Lieutenant-Governor Rickards, in counting them present, when they refused to vote, took trains in different directions. They said they were going beyond the state line to get out of reach of the Sergeant-at-Arms. Their absence will block all legislation.

Rather Die Than Marry Her Betrothed.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The reason for the suicide of Miss Charlotte Dunlap of Susquehanna, who took poison, is learned to be that she had given her affections to another than the man to whom she was engaged to be married. She left a note stating that she would rather die than marry her betrothed.

Mary Anderson Will be a Bride.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—William Black, the novelist, who is an intimate friend of Miss Mary Anderson, the actress, has received a letter from her in which she announces her engagement to marry Mr. Antonio de Navarro, son of Mr. Jose F. de Navarro, of New York.

Fifteen Years for Assault.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—John Gallagher was charged with feloniously assaulting Mary Gaten, aged 15 years. The evidence showed conclusively that Gallagher was guilty as charged, and Judge Reed sentenced him to 15 years in the Eastern Penitentiary.

A Murderer Respited.

The Champion's Farewell Bow.

Foreclosing a Street Car Railroad.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb 7.—The bondholders of the City Railroad of this city foreclosed the mortgage on the road, owing to the company failing to pay interest. It is said the road will be sold next week.

Margaret Dignan Acquitted.

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 7.—The jury in the trial of Margaret Dignan for causing the death of Louisa Wadleigh, at a road-house near Haverhill, by throwing a lighted lamp at her, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Mayor Kirk Renominated.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Mayor Kirk was unanimously renominated by the Democrats for a second term.

PUGILISM ON THE COAST.

A Challenge from Ed. Smith and Points About McAuliffe and Dempsey.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—A dispatch from Denver, Col., says that Ed. Smith, who has not figured in the prize ring since he fought George La Blanche, has issued a challenge offering to fight any man in America, white or black, by any rules for $1,000 to $5,000 a side, in six or eight weeks from the time of signing articles and within 500 miles of Denver.

Jack McAuliffe, accompanied by his backer and trainer, Billy Madden, arrived here yesterday. McAuliffe is somewhat stout at present, and his three weeks' exhibitions on the way out has taken little if any weight off. McAuliffe does not under-rate Jimmy Carroll's ability as a fighter in the least. He thinks his opponent worthy of the closest attention from any lightweight fighter before the public.

Jack on arriving went over to see his old friend Dempsey, who is in training at Neptune Garden, for his battle with the Australian champion middleweight, Billy McCarthy.

Pete McCoy and Patsy Kerrigan are training together at Varney Farley's and the former is in fine shape for his battle with Charley Gleason this month at the Golden Gate Club.

The Bell Libel Suit.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The libel suit of the Rev. Dr. Ball for $25,000 damages against the New York Evening Post, growing out of the Presidential campaign of 1884, was closed to-day and the jury is now considering the case.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The commercial treaty between Germany and Turkey has been signed.

Stanley has been elected a member of the Russian Geographical Society.

The Evening Register, of New Haven, Conn., has been attached for $10,000 in a suit brought by Dr. George F. Peters on a charge of libel.

Philip Cloke, of Brooklyn, N. Y., convicted of murder in the second degree for the stabbing and killing of Michael D. Green, has been sentenced to State prison for life.

The marriage of the daughter of Count von Hatzfeldt, German Ambassador at London, to Prince Charles Hohenlohe, will take place at Wiesbaden on Monday.

Mayor Grant of New York city appointed Thomas C. F. Craine, his private secretary, to the office of City Chamberlain vice Mr. Croker, resigned on account of ill health.

The body of Edward Maddock, who has been missing since Jan. 3, was found floating near the steamboat dock in Haverstraw, N. Y. Maddock leaves a family in New York city.

Alex. Leslie, of Newburg, N. Y., one of the best known hotel men on the Hudson river, has made an assignment. His debts are about $5,000. Recorder C. L. Waring is the assignee.

Mr. George W. Childs states that the rumor that friends of S. J. Randall, headed by himself, were raising a fund of $50,000 for Mrs. Randall, was untrue; that there was nothing whatever in it.

The Rev. M. H. Harris, for ten years pastor of the First Universalist Church, in Worcester, Mass., has received a call to the pastorate of the Church of the Redeemer, in Chicago, at a salary of $4,000.

The Knights of Labor of Ottawa, Ont., will petition Parliament for the appointment of an Official Board of Arbitrators, to which may be referred all matters in dispute between labor and capital and with power to adjust strikes and other differences between employer and employes.

In the mining village of Marshwood, near Carbondale, Pa., during a christening at the residence of a Polander named Pulaski, a lamp was overturned, setting fire to the house. The dwelling was burned to the ground. Mrs. Joseph Strauss, her two children and Michael Sevitz were burned to death.

The North Dakota Senate has passed the bill permitting lottery companies to operate in the State by a vote of 22 to 8. The bill will have a large majority in the House also. Governor Miller has announced his intention of vetoing the bill, but it is said the measure has enough friends in both Houses to pass it over his veto.

The headless body of Luke Frost, of Richland, a village near Watertown, N. Y., was found on the railroad track of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg road. He was reputed to be worth some $50,000. There is considerable mystery as to how he met his death. No one saw him die, and how he came to be on the track no one can tell. The coroner is investigating.

Pleasantville's Horrors.

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J., Feb. 8.—The boys of West Pennsylvania again paraded the streets last night with illuminated human skulls. One young lady almost fainted at sight of the horrible objects. All efforts to find out who the boys are have failed. It is thought that the skulls are from some old time graveyard.

Plymouth's Church Trouble.

PLYMOUTH, Pa., Feb. 8.—Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara has installed Father Lymansky, a Polish priest from Buffalo, as pastor of the Polish Catholic Church in this place. It is thought that this will end the long standing trouble in that parish, as the Poles have all along demanded the appointment of a priest of their own nationality.

Coke Workers Settle Their Trouble.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 8.—The threatened trouble between the coke operators of the Connellsville region and the workers has been amicably settled, and from present appearances harmony will prevail. The basis of settlement is estimated to mean an advance of about 15 per cent. in the cost of the production of coke. There is a rumor from outside sources that on the first of March the price of furnace coal will be advanced to $2.

His Body Blown to Atoms.

ROXBURY, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Samuel Morgan, of Rhinebeck, sub-contractor on the Delaware & Otsego Railroad, in course of construction through the Catskills, was killed by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge near Bloomville. His body was blown to atoms.

DISASTROUS STORMS

Snow, Hail and Rain Plays Havoc in Pennsylvania.

MEN KILLED AND INJURED.

The New Glass Works at Blairsville, Pa. Blown Down.

A Church Unroofed at Uniontown. The Snowfall from Six to Ten Inches—A Raging Blizzard in the Northwest. Bitter Cold in Chicago and Snowing in Virginia.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 8.—The worst storm in years has been raging throughout Western Pennsylvania. Snow, hail, rain and wind have been making havoc. In the city no damage was done by the wind, but the snow and slush blockaded many streets and stopped street car traffic, and telegraph and telephone lines are breaking under the heavy weight of ice with which they are coated. In the mountains the storm is still raging, and reports are coming in of serious injury to property.

At Uniontown the roof was blown off the Methodist Episcopal Church, a part of it falling on the house of John Brown, just north of the church, crushing it to pieces. The lower part of the church is so badly shattered that it will probably have to be torn down. The roof of a large new building lately erected by the Pennsylvania Construction Company was also blown off. The houses of Postmaster Baker, John W. Ringer and James Frankberry were badly wrecked. The telephone and electric light wires are all down. None of the coke works south of Uniontown are running. The Redstone Coke Co's. offices at Brownfield were blown down. The end was blown out of the engine house at Leith, and the Warren Glass Works were wrecked. The roof of the Lutheran Church there was also blown off. The loss at Uniontown will reach $10,000.

Despatches from Johnstown, Tyrone, Greensburg and other points report severe wind and snow storms, but no serious damage. The snowfall is from six to ten inches.

Severe Storm at Dunbar, Pa.

DUNBAR, Pa., Feb. 8.—A severe wind and snow storm visited this vicinity. A large stock house belonging to the Dunbar Furnace Company and built on trestles was blown down and totally destroyed, but no one was injured. Old settlers say the like of the storm was never known in this section before. Much damage is reported from Connellsville, Uniontown and other places in the surrounding country. The storm raged all night.

Buildings Blown Down.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 8.—A fierce storm of wind and snow occurred in the vicinity of Connellsville, Pa. A part of the famous old National Locomotive Works at New Haven was blown down. Other buildings were blown down and destroyed. The damage will be considerable.

BLIZZARD IN THE WEST.

It is Raging Fiercely in Several States and Travel is Blockaded.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—There is a genuine blizzard raging throughout the West. Reports received here from many cities confirm a belief that the storm will be the fiercest of the year.

It is bitter cold here to-night and the thermometer is falling rapidly. Minnesota is suffering greatly from the storm and all the railroads in the State are at a standstill.

KICKED AND BEATEN.

That is Why Rich Mr. Murray's Wife Wants a Divorce.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 8.—Mrs. John P. Murray, of South Orange, has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Thomas C. Murray, who is at the head of a New York calcium light company, is worth $100,000 and has an income of $10,000 per year. Mrs. Murray, who was married nine years ago, when Murray was a widower with eight children, affirms that her husband has beaten her, kicked her, cuffed her and cruelly abused her on numerous occasions, and at one time charged her with being to intimate with a young gentleman friend.

Once when he wanted breakfast he said to her: "You have been playing lady long enough; you are not my wife, but my servant, and you must wait on me as you would an Irish lord." Because she refused to obey him he choked her, knocked her head against the door and pulled her around the room by the hair of her head. Murray, it is said, will file a cross suit for divorce.

The Worst Storm Since 1882.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 8.—Reports received here show that a terrible blizzard is prevailing all over the Northwest, and is rapidly moving this way. The wind is blowing from thirty to sixty miles an hour. At some points snow is falling heavily. It is said to be the worst storm since 1882.

Terrible Storm at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 8.—A terrible snow storm raged here. In many places snow fell to a depth of six feet.

The blizzard began last night and shows no sign of abatement, but the temperature is comparatively mild, and no fatalities have been reported.

Many houses have been snowed under and the occupants compelled to dig their way out.

Snow in Virginia.

DANVILLE, Va., Feb. 8.—There was a heavy fall of snow in Patrick and Henry counties, the first snowfall of consequence this winter.

STAUNTON, Va., Feb. 8.—There was due to a snowfall, followed by sleet and a cold rain.

It was discovered, however, that the chimney leading from the fireplace in the back parlor, leaked between the bricks.

—A number of ladies who have labored faithfully to cancel the debt on the Trinity Reformed church, are now arranging for a bazaar, which is to be held in the rooms recently vacated by the C. L. S. C., corner of Park and North avenues, on the afternoon and evenings of Thursday and Friday, February 13 and 14. Every one is urged to bring some other young man with him.

Before the City Judge.

Jeremiah Rowe was arraigned before City Judge Codington this afternoon, charged with obstructing the sidewalk and disorderly conduct. The complainants were Miss Annie Seidling and Miss Camilla Worts. He was adjudged guilty and fined $5 on each charge. The defendant gave notice of appeal.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Officer Geo. W. Grant is again able to go out after a long siege of sickness.

Mr. A. M. Frazee of Peace street is the happy grandfather of a girl again, his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Gulber having given birth to a daughter on Thursday night.

The proceedings of the recent convention of the American Bankers' Association at Kansas City, just published in a volume of 100 pages, contains a most complete paper on "Posibilities of a National Clearing House," written by Mr. S. R. Struthers, of this city. Though not occupying much room the article is an exhaustive one; and the subject is not, strange to say, treated of as a theory only. It will undoubtedly attract the attention of every bank officer in the country.

To Beat Nellie Bly's Record.

It should not be inferred that because Mr. Howard Giles, the courteous clerk in Messrs J. P. Laire & Co's hardware store, started out in a wagon on Thursday to "do" New Jersey with a chioce selection of garden seeds, that he is trying to imitate Nellie Bly, only on a smaller scale. Some of his friends, however, say that his intention is to beat Miss Bly's record. They also claim that his vehicle collided with an undertaker's wagon before the trip was fairly begun, and in consequence he is already a day behind the record.

The Methodist Revival.

Special services have been held in Vincent chapel for two weeks. The pastor, the Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell, has preached each evening. The chapel has been crowded and much interest has been awakened. The church membership has loyally supported the pastor in his work. Last evening there were ten at the altar for prayers, all of whom professed conversion. Fourteen united with the church last night. The meetings are increasing in interest and will continue next week.

They'll Be Built Right Now.

Mr. C. K. Moore, who is building Plainfield's water works, has also taken in hand the completion of the county roads and will finish them in short order. Mr. Moore owns a number of crackers on the road at the foot of the mountain back of Scotch Plains that are running night and day to supply the large demands upon them. The road contractors, it is said, got behind on their payments for the stone used, so Mr. Moore stepped in and assumed the contract.

The public will be glad to learn that the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company has about completed its arrangements for introducing a long-distance telephone station at Bound Brook. The right of way has been secured, with a very few exceptions, for the extension of the wires from the Pond Machine Tool Company's Works at Plainfield to Bound Brook, Finderne and Somerville.

Struck by a Falling Board.

While passing the new Hand building, on West Second street, on his return from supper, last evening, William Demeza, a butcher's clerk employed by Mr. William Van Syckle, was struck on the head by a board blown from the building, knocking him down. The derby hat he wore was wrecked, and he was also slightly injured about the head and body.

Following in the Footprints of Plainfield.

Mayor Rankin of Elizabeth, has issued orders to Chief of Police Austin to detail officers to notify saloon-keepers and storekeepers to keep their places of business closed on Sundays. Druggists will be allowed to keep open, but they will be notified not to sell cigars or soda water. It is not intended to interfere with the sale of newspapers.

THE REV. MR. RICHARDS ON LICENSE.

He Suggests, However, an Extraneous Motive For the Way the Ballots Were Cast at the Last Municipal Election.

A very interesting passage from a recent sermon by the Rev. Mr. Richards of the Crescent Avenue church of this city, was secured by Aaron M. Powell for insertion in the National Temperance Advocate, of which he is the editor. The quotation embraces a very emphatic denunciation of the course pursued by the builders of the new aqueduct of New York in debauching the workmen by erecting saloons along the line of the aqueduct, "compelling their laborers to lodge in apartments over these saloons and making their board-bill the first charge against their month's pay and their drink-bill a second charge, which often left only a dollar a month be paid in cash." Mr. Richards drew a lesson for Plainfield in the following words:

"But, my friends, before we try to throw stones across the Hudson River at other transgressors, we should be sure that we are without sin here at home. I suppose there are people in New Jersey who are willing to make gain by the temptation and ruin of their fellow-men. I have been told that certain men would gladly double their license fees if they could keep their establishments open from eleven o'clock at night to twelve. For the reason, I suppose—can any one suggest any other reason?—that men are more susceptiple to temptation, and more easily ruined after eleven than before.

"It may be,—God forbid that I should impute motives to other people because of their vote on a question of city administration as perplexing as this—I am not arguing now for or against any particular method of abating this nuisance of the saloon; but the very decided surprise in the results of the election a few weeks ago has compelled some of us to do a good deal of thinking about the matter, and it may be that citizens of Plainfield who would not stain their own hands, or imperil their own homes by touching liquor with a ten-foot pole, have yet been willing, for the sake of lightening their own taxation, to encourage others to touch that same deadly thing, and if need be ruin themselves with it. If men work for this or that legal measure, some license law, e. g., because they honestly think it the most effectual way of limiting an existing evil, I have nothing to say now against that; but if they work for that same measure really because they wish to fill the city treasury without increasing their own taxes, valuing a few dollars in their own pocket above the souls of men, God forbid that such motives as that should be allowed to determine the policy of our city government."

A Marvelous Programme.

The attraction at Music Hall, next Tuesday evening, will be the eminent prestidigitateur and humorist, Herrmann. This dexterous and fertile professor of legerdemain never before presented a stage illusion as amazing and bewildering as "Florine, Child of the Air," in which he lifts a young lady several feet from the stage and allows her to remain in mid-air. While in this position she makes several changes of costume, dances, marches, whirls through hoops and jumps a skipping-rope, thus demonstrating apparently that she is neither held by wires from above, nor ropes at the sides. This is followed by the "New Black Art," in which Madame Herrmann appears as an Oriental Sorceress, aided by Abdul Khan, an East Indian Fakir. Then comes the "Resurrection of Mr. Crowley," Magic Improvista, the great decapitation scene, and other things too numerous to mention. As a sleight-of-hand performer he is too well known to need comment. He brings all of his own scenery with him, which is entirely new, having just been painted for him by Arthur Jules Goodman, the eminent New York artist.

A Spirited Discussion Between the Chief and the Council.

At the close of the Borough Council meeting, last evening, a long a spirited discussion took place on the subject of providing additional supplies for the fire department; also on the matter of establishing a fire alarm system. Chief Martin of the department thought that all of his efforts to increase the efficiency of the department were defeated by the Council.

The Chief further stated that he had undertaken the task of collecting subscriptions for the purpose of establishing a fire alarm system, but his action in so doing did not seem to be approved by the Council.

Mayor Cooley, Clerk Arnold and Councilmen Buckle and Emmons took part in the discussion which was quite interesting while it lasted.

Some of You Are Not Doing It.

The Board of Health of North Plainfield would call the attention of the physicians to the fact that they are required to report at once, all cases of scarlet fever or other contagious diseases.

—A horse belonging to a gentleman named Manning of South Plainfield fell down in the harness on Park avenue, near Sixth street, on Thursday afternoon, and in doing so wrecked the shafts on the vehicle to which he was hitched.

PLAINFIELD'S WORKS THE BEST.

The Pond Machine Tool Company Secure a Large Government Contract.

Six months ago in these columns, the secret was told that an inspector from the War Department's Bureau of Ordinance, had been sent to look over the Pond Tool Co's plant in this city and judge of its capabilities. That his report was satisfactory is proven by the recent acceptance by the Government of the above Company's bid for the building of a large lot of tools required for the construction of eight and twelve inch guns.

The contract will be signed on Monday. The tools specified will take many months to complete, and will give employment to a large number of men. The cost to the Government will be about $400,000. There were but a few bids for the work. There are not more than four shops in the whole country that could undertake the contract, and the Pond Tool Works seems to be considered by the Nation's experts, as the best.

Borough Council Meeting.

The Borough Council met in regular session, last evening, with Mayor Cooly in the chair. The other members present were: Messrs. Buckle, Emmons, Needham and Smalley.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, after which the regular order of business was taken up.

Collector H. M. Spencer submitted his statement of the taxes collected since his last report, showing the total amount to be $7,254.62. The report was filed.

Warren Engine Company No. 1 communicated with the Council recommending the confirmation of Peter Seader as a member of said company. Referred.

A number of applications for pedler's licenses were received, referred and granted.

The following claims were presented: Thos. McDonald, $37 50; Plainfield Gas Co., $23.18; T. R. Crossley, $2 96; D. A. Woodhouse Manufacturing Co., $19.72 and $7; A. M. Griffin, $9.16; N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $264.37; Carney Bros., $2; P. Kelleher, $6.25; J. K Arnold, $2.50; I. Taynor, $9.75. These bills were subsequently ordered paid.

A communication was received from Carney Bros., offering to sell to the Borough 58 feet of red jacket hose at 60 cents a foot. Referred.

Chief Martin of the Fire Department reported two fires since his last report; one on Emily street and one on Somerset street: the engine has been used to pump out water from Mr. J. T. Johnston's green house, also from Mr. Geo. Lissignolo's cellar and cistern, for which $45 in all was charged. The expenses connected with the work was $17.50. The Chief urged the need of active measures to put the fire department in better condition. One of the needs of the department, the Chief reported, was to have horses in the engine house so as to be ready in case of an emergency; an extra supply of hose was also asked for. The company now has only 850 feet of good hose. Attention was also called to the necessity of a fire alarm system. The Chief asked for permission to string wires from the engine house through the streets of the borough so as to secure an electrical circuit, with headquarters in the engine house. The report was referred to the Committee on Fire, Water and Lamps.

Mr. Emmons, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, made a report on the finances of the fire department. He said there was an endowment of about $600 on hand, and that $500 more could reasonably be expected in anticipation of taxes. One bond of $500 falls due this year, and this with other outstanding indebtedness aggregates $610. The committee recommended no change in the running of the department at the present time. It recommended, however, the purchase of 200 feet of hose, not to exceed 70 cents per foot. Six lanterns have been purchased for the firemen. The report was accepted.

Some discussion followed on the subject of what portion of the license money was due the borough, but no action was taken on the matter.

Mr. Smalley spoke in favor of placing horses in the engine house, but nothing further was done that will lead to that end.

It was agreed, upon resolution adopted, that the Council meet again in special session on Wednesday evening, February 19.

Mr. Emmons offered a resolution, which prevailed, requesting the Auditing Committee to audit the accounts of the Clerk and Collector, and report at the next meeting.

The Clerk was requested to make arrangements for a room wherein to hold the borough election.

Mr. Smalley read section 16 of the fire department ordinance relating to the duties of the Chief and others in the matter of allowing the steamer to go outside of the borough limits.

A long discussion followed on the subject, in which most of the members and the Mayor took part. Chief Martin explained his reasons for taking the steamer outside of the borough and pumping out Mr. Lissignolo's cellar, by stating that the borough would receive a revenue; furthermore, the apparatus needed testing and the family was in distress, and besides the Chief of the Plainfield Department had refused to perform the work.

A resolution, by Mr. Needham, to the effect that the Clerk notify the members of the special meeting, together with its object, was adopted, and the Council adjourned.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Plans for the New Normal Building Approved.

The State Board of Education held their first meeting for the year 1890 at Trenton Thursday. The report of the State Superintendent in reference to the complaints made of unfair school census in Hudson and Monmouth were read and accepted, and a resolution adopted directing the Secretary to inform the editors of the papers giving currency to such complaints that the Board had made an investigation and found nothing definite upon which to act. They would be glad to pursue the matters further if more information could be furnished them.

The plans for the new building between the Model and Normal buildings, were submitted to the Board from the Normal Board, and were approved unanimously. A committee was appointed to urge the matter before the Legislature and ask for an appropriation of $50,000 for the purpose. A bill has been drafted and will be presented on Monday night.

New Market Notes.

[From the New Brunswick Fredonian.]

Mr. A. L. Storms met with quite a serious accident last week in Jersey City. While attempting to board a moving train he was thrown upon the track, receiving severe bruises upon the head and face, dislocating his right shoulder and fracturing one or two ribs. He was hurriedly taken from the track just in time to prevent still more serious harm from a D. L. & W. train immediately following the other one out. This accident occurred about 5 o'clock P. M., and Mr. Storms did not recover consciousness until about 11 o'clock at night. He then found himself in a hospital receiving the care of physicians and nurses. The following day he was brought to his home in New Market and is now doing well.

Mr. Otto, our enterprising miller, is having a new train-way constructed for the more expeditious transfer of grain from the Lehigh cars to the mill.

Whetner the prevailing epidemic is really "la grippe," from his Majesty's Russian realms, or the more common and less fatal malady known in America as influenza, is still a mooted question here. Its prevailence and unpleasant effects are acknowledged, by whatever name it may be called. No fatal cases yet in this immediate vicinity.

The measles also set in quite early in the Winter and if any one escaped the grip of one he was sure to be seized by the other. In some cases there have been victims of both diseases at the same time.

There is profound sympathy and sorrow everywhere at the distressing misfortune that has overtaken the family of the Secretary of the Navy Tracy.

Prof. L. W. Thickstun, of Metuchen, gave an instructive lecture on astronomy Tuesday evening at Dunellen public school building. The evening was not very favorable and the audience was quite too thin to be very creditable to the town or profitable to the lecturer.

President Dr. Harvey L. Byrd on Wine.

President of the Baltimore Medical College has used Speer's Port Grape Wine very extensively in his practice and has written the following letter:

BALTIMORE, MD., April 17.

I have prescribed Speer's Port Grape Wine with marked and decidedly beneficial effects in cases requiring a gently stimulating tonic, believing it entirely free from adulteration of any kind, have no hesitation in recommending it to the profession and the public generally, as entitled to full confidence for both professional and family purposes.

This statement is predicated upon the ascertained value of this production, and not from general reputation merely.

HARVEY L. BYRD, M. D.
President and Professor of Obstetrics, etc., Baltimore Medical College.

Unlike the Weather.

Tho the season's appear to be all out of gear
And the zodiac sorely displaced,
And the works of "Old Prob" such as make people sob
And incite them to language unchaste,
Yet at Collier's you'll find everything is designed
To accord with the popular taste.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish a the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

A PRINCE ARRESTED

The Young Duc d'Orleans in a Paris Prison.

HE EXPLAINS HIS MISSION.

He Visited France to Offer His Service to the Country.

His Father Sent a Letter Announcing His Abdication of the Throne—Nearly 200 Lives Lost by the Colliery Horror. A French Caravan Attacked Cardinal Pecci Cannot Live Many Hours.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—Prince Philippe, Duc d'Orleans, eldest son of the Comte de Paris, was arrested here. He arrived in Paris in the morning, the bearer of a letter announcing the abdication of his father and his formal renunciation of all claims to the French throne, together with a manifesto of the Comte de Paris to the people.

The Government was aware of his presence in the city and he was at once taken into custody for violation of the law banishing royal pretenders from France. He was arrested at the house of the Duc de Luynes and detained in the conciergerie for a short time.

He was taken before the military bureau, where he declared that having attained his majority he placed himself at the disposal of the military authorities. M. Constans, Minister of the Interior, ordered his further detention.

THE COLLIERY HORROR.

It is Believed that the Number of the Dead Will be Nearly Two Hundred.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The work of removing the bodies of the miners who lost their lives by the explosion in the colliery at Abersychan is being carried on as rapidly as possible.

It is believed that the total loss of lives will number 190. One hundred and seventy bodies have thus far been recovered. As a result of handling the burned bodies, several of the workers have been made ill, and have been compelled to return to the mouth of the mine.

Affecting scenes are constantly being witnessed. Among them, the discovery of the grouped bodies of a father and his five sons. Suffocation had caused their death, and as they lay undisfigured by the flames, they appeared to be peacefully slumbering.

The successful restoration of the ventilation of the pit has resulted in simplifying the work of the relieving parties.

Frenchmen Killed by the Somalis.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—La France publishes a despatch from its correspondent at Obock stating that a French caravan while journeying toward Harrar was attacked by the Somalis. The attack, which resulted in the killing of all those attached to the caravan, is said to have been instigated by the English.

Leo XIII. and Pius IX.

ROME, Feb. 8.—The Pope, though much affected by the condition of his brother, Cardinal Pecci, pronounced absolution from the pontifical throne on the occasion of the anniversary of the death of Pope Pius IX.

Pope Leo's Brother Dying.

ROME, Feb. 8.—The physicians have pronounced the case of Cardinal Pecci, the Pope's brother, hopeless. Friends and relatives are gathered at his bedside awaiting the end.

Calling Out Reserve Military.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Twenty battalions of infantry and 13 batteries of artillery in Ireland are shortly to be called out for active training.

Canada's Colored Citizens.

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—Ten thousand colored people in Canada have sent to the Governor-General a loyal address.

THE SOCIAL SEASON.

The President and Cabinet Recall All Invitations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The President and Mrs. Harrison, in view of the recent affliction in the families of Secretaries Blaine and Tracy, have recalled all invitations issued to public receptions and dinners until after Lent. Vice-President Morton has also recalled all invitations to social festivities at his house. The official social season is thus practically at an end.

All the members of the Cabinet following the example of the President, have out of respect to their associates, Secretaries Tracy and Blaine, decided to withdraw all invitations issued for social events at their homes, and not to give any social entertainments until after Lent.

Will Oppose the Blair Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The opponents of Mr. Blair's educational bill have been putting a great deal of work recently against it, and they claim that there is a strong probability that it will be rejected by the Senate when it comes to a vote next week. Several Senators who have voted for the bill in past years are now counted among its opponents, and some of the new Republican Senators are confidently expected to vote against Mr. Blair. Senator Blair still believes that the bill will pass the Senate.

Albany' Postmaster Reimbursed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Representative Tracy managed to have passed by the House the bill to reimburse Postmaster O'Leary, of Albany, N. Y., for the $3,555.60 lost by him by the robbery of the postoffice in April, 1888. There was some opposition.

Special Census Agent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Census Superintendent Porter has appointed Samuel M. Hotchkiss, the commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the State of Connecticut, special agent in connection with the collection of statistics of manufactures.

Secretary Tracy Will Resume Work.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Tracy is expected to resume his active duties as Secretary of the Navy next Monday. The drooping eyes grow each day as the ill effects of suffocation gradually wear off.

State Grange Selected Elmira.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 8.—The State Grange has selected Elmira as the place for its next annual session.

LECONEY MURDER TRIAL.

A Baptist Minister Takes a Seat Beside The Prisoner.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 8.—Chalkley Leconey was greeted by several ladies when he took his seat in court. Rev. Edward McMinn, pastor of the Baptist Church at Moorestown, at which the prisoner and the dead girl were regular attendants, was seated by Leconey.

Miss Nancy Roberts, who was one of the first to reach the house after the murder, testified that she saw finger marks on the throat of the murdered woman. This indicated that she had been choked before her throat was cut with a knife. William Ridgeway testified that Chalkley Leconey told him he had not killed chickens for some days previous to the murder. MOLLIE MAGUIRES AGAIN.

Police Suspect that Patrick Hagney Was ... by the Gang.

PHŒNIXVILLE, Pa., Feb. 8.—That the notorious organization known as the Mollie Maguires is still in existence is believed by the authorities of Chester County, where is reason to suspect that Patrick Hagney, the special officer of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad who was shot last Sunday morning in this town, was murdered at the instigation of that society.

The Reading Company has officers working on the clue which is thought may lead to the unearthing of the famous organization which infested the Pennsylvania coal regions a few years ago, or at least result in the discovery of a society formed for similar purposes.

When Chief of Police Joseph Moore, of Phœnixville, began an investigation of the circumstances connected with the shooting of Hagney he found a large piece of paper tacked on a wheelbarrow a few feet from the spot where the murdered man had been standing when he was shot. On the paper in large letters was the heading, "Death to traitors," and stating in effect that the Mollie Maguires always removed their enemies even if murder had to be resorted to.

It is also stated that when the opportunity was presented two local policemen named Dennis Kelly and John Kane would share the same fate as Hagney. The letter was signed "Black Hand." This paper in now in possession of Adolphus Bauno, the chief engineer and vice-president of the Phœnix Bridge Company.

A FAMILY DROWNED

Sad Ending of a Holiday at Binnewater Lake.

SIX PERSONS UNDER THE ICE.

A Mother's Frantic Efforts to Rescue Her Children.

Parents Fishing While Their Children Were Skating—The Ice Gives Way and a Brave Attempt Is Made to Save the Little Ones—Father and Mother Perish in the Attempt.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The four children of Jacob R. Slater were skating on the lake at Binnewater, about six miles from here, yesterday, when the ice, which was but a few inches in thickness, gave way, and the little ones were precipitated into the water.

Their shouts were heard by the members of the family, who lived near-by, and the father and mother rushed to the rescue.

By the time they reached the lake the four children had disappeared beneath the ice. The mother, frantic with the thought of her drowning children, rushed upon the ice which gave way with her weight and she sank below the surface. Mr. Slater then attempted to reach his wife, and he too was drowned. The entire family is wiped out of existence.

Last night hundreds of people were gathered about the lake searching for the bodies.

HERR MOST'S LATEST.

He Denounces Trades Unions and Ridicules the Eight-Hour Idea.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Herr Most is opposed to the eight-hour movement, to trades unions and labor organizations in general. He said so at an Anarchistic meeting in Clarendon Hall. He denounced the eight-hour idea as "a bone wishout meat." It was stale ann ancient. The movement to secure the adoption of the eight-hour rule, he said, was doomed to failure. Success was out of the question.

He advised his fellow Anarchists to keep away from eight-hour meetings. Attending them was simply a waste of time and energy. He asserted there was nothing behind the movement except talk. Eight-hour meetings, he said, were generally attended by good-hearted Germans, who were forced to admit that they did not learn anything at them.

Most then began a tirade against trades unions. He said they were "back numbers," and they never could accomplish anything for workingmen or anybody else. Trades unions, he declared, were on their last legs.

FLAMES IN JERSEY FORESTS.

On Outbreak Last Evening that Threatens Valuable Timber.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Feb. 10.—A big forest fire broke out last evening about four miles from this city along the line of the West Jersey Railroad. The forest is composed of pine and cedar trees and is owned by John T. Smith and Messrs. Jones & Badden, of this city, and others. The railroad section men and a lot of helpers are fighting the fire, which threatens to do a great deal of damage.

For several days past fires have been reported in the deer pines. This tract covers a stretch in Atlantic, Cumberland and Cape May counties, and is eighty miles by eighteen miles in extent. One of these fires was extinguished near Millville, after it had done $10,000 damage.

A River Changes Its Course.

LOS ANGELOS, Cal., Feb. 10.—Great damage has been done by the Los Angelos River. It has changed its course at almost a right angle just south of the city limits and after crossing the old San Gabriel River. The inundation covers a large area. A large number of orange, walnut, lemon and other orchards are almost ruined. Growing crops in its course are completely destroyed. The total damage in this locality is estimated at $750,000.

Suing a City for Damages.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Feb. 10.—James D. Lehmer, of Cincinnati, who owns land in this city through which the new boulevard runs, has caused papers to be served on the city for $12,000 damages. More suits are likely to follow. Property owners along the line of the boulevard paid assessments for a thoroughfare 80 feet wide, while 60 feet only is given. They will demand what they paid for.

Labor Trouble in Woburn.

WOBURN, Mass., Feb. 10.—With the exceptions of the shops of E. D. Shaw & Co., Beggs & Cobb, Kenny & Murphy and the Duncan Leather Company, work is progressing in all the shops in Woburn substantially as it was before the strike began. E. L. Shaw & Co. have agreed to pay their blackers $12 a week for work that the arbitration price list reduced to $11.

College Building Burned.

ORONO, Me., Feb. 10.—Wingate Hall, one of the buildings of the State College, was burned yesterday. Several students who lodged in the upper story lost all their effects. The students were at church in the village when the fire occurred. The loss is about $50,000 and insurance $10,000.

A Prominent Engineer Dead.

STRICKEN AT THE ALTAR.

Father Havermens, the Oldest Priest in the Country, Dying.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 10.—The Catholics of this city are bowed with grief. Rev. Peter Havermens, who has been the pastor of St. Mary's Church since June, 1842, was stricken with paralysis while officiating on the altar yesterday.

He soon revived and resumed the service only to be again prostratd. As the venerable priest was borne from the church there was great excitement and many were moved to tears.

Father Havermens was born in Belgium in 1806, and was ordained to the priesthood at Ghent, in that country, in May 1830. The same year he came to America and for twelve years did mission work in Pennsylvania and Maryland, being pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Philadelphia from 1839 to 1842.

He was a remarkably active man, and only on Friday last celebrated high mass at the funeral of Mrs. Senator Collins.

He took great interest in educational and charitable institutions, having founded the St. Mary's Academy, two asylums and a hospital, and he also purchased from the Methodists the property known as St. Joseph's Provincial Seminary, where students are educated for the priesthood.

Early this morning he was just alive, with no hopes of recovering.

AN APPEAL TO IRISHMEN.

The President of the Land League Issues An Address.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 10.—President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League, has issued a long address, appealing earnestly to the Irishmen of the United States for contributions in money to aid their distressed brethren in Ireland in their final efforts for independence.

Mr. Fitzgerald urges that no heed be given to the attacks on the administration of the League by the Chicago Herald, Chicago Times and other papers, and says that since the influence of the London Times has been destroyed the enemies of Ireland have transferred their base of operations to this country and have subsidized the American press.

GENTILES AND MORMONS.

A Belief that that the Polygamists Have Been Defeated To-day.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 10.—The campaign of the Liberal party closed with a street parade and illumination of all the Gentile houses in the city. There are 7,827 voters as shown by the registration just closed. Forty-nine hundred and five of these are pronounced Gentiles and 2,922 Mormons. The Gentiles have a majority on the face of the returns of 1,883.

The majority for city officials today will, on account of absenteeism, probably be between 500 and 700.

Judge Powers, the chairman of the Liberal committee, expresses no doubt of the result and says the majority will not fall below 500 and may exceed 1,000.

The Poet Riley's Trouble.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 10.—James Whitcomb Riley has been brought here from Louisville. He talked freely about his recent trouble, the first reports of which, he says, he read, but they shocked him so he has no had the courage to read more. He regards Bill Nye as a true friend and says that the warm affection between Nye and himself is the same that it has always been. He is receiving many friendly letters from all parts of the country, and he does not care to think of the future. He says there is no immediate need for it.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The House Discussing the New Code of Rules.

DEMOCRATS ASK FOR DEBATE.

Republicans Hope to Have a Vote Taken To-Morrow.

The Senate Trying to Dispose of the Blair Bill—Another Election Contest Before the House Committee—Senators Will Remain in the League—Novel Racing at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Republican majority of the Committee on Rules of the House are anxious to get a vote on the new code of rules as soon as possible. The discussion will commence to-day and they hope to limit debate so as to reach a vote to-morrow or Wednesday.

The Democrats of the House say they do not want to make any unnecessary delay, but desire more time for discussion, so as to fully state their side of the case.

A number of them want to make speeches on the subject, and think it will not be possible to say all they want to in so short a time.

The majority and minority reports on the new code of rules prepared by Speaker Reed and Mr. Carlisle, review the rules from the standpoints of the gentlemen named. The majority report is in detail, while that of the minority deals only with the radical changes which the Democrats object. The majority, in its report, does not discuss and defend all of the radical changes made by it.

The Blair Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Senate will try to dispose of the Blair Education bill this week. Mr. Blair, who occupied the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday last resumed his remarks to-day, and will probably conclude them before the Senate adjourns. A number of Senators have signified their intention of speaking on this measure before a vote is taken—among them, Senators Hoar, Evarts, Plumb, Stanford, Pugh and George. Senator Reagan and Senator Edmunds are also expected to speak. The enemies of the Blair bill in the Senate have been busy proselyting among the new Senators and they claim that the bill will be rejected.

Another Struggle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—To-morrow the Elections Committee will meet to cousider the Atkinson-Pendleton contested election case, and it is believed that two reports, made on strict party lines, will be submitted to the House. An effort will be made to limit the discussion on rules, so that the Elections Committee may have a chance to call up this case for consideration before the end of the week. In event this is done, a repetition of the scenes enacted in the House during the endeavor of the Republicans to call up the Smith-Jackson case will, in a lesser degree, it is believed, occupy the time of the House. It is a question whether a vote on the rules will be had during the week.

Racing at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—There will be a unique race at Ivy City this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It is a match for a considerable sum of money between Mr. Percy Drayton and Mr. Robt. Neville at five miles on the flat. The horses will carry 200 pounds each and will be ridden by their owners. It is doubtful if such a race as this has ever been decided in America, though in years gone by they were quite common in England and Ireland.

Eleven Million Acres Opened.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A proclamation opening 11,000,000 acres of land in the Sioux Reservation, South Dakota, will undoubtedly be signed and issued by President Harrison to-day. The proclamation has been ready for a week, and was to have been issued on Monday last, but the Tracy calamity caused a postponement. The President would have issued it last Thursday, but did not desire to have settlers rushing in on Sunday.

Ex-Speaker Randall Improving.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The condition of Representative S. J. Randall is announced to-day as much better than any time during the past week. Miss Randall states that the improvement noticed yesterday was quite marked and that the alarming reports recently published respecting her father's condition were greatly exaggerated.

Senators Will Remain in the League.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Mr. Hewitt, president of the Washington Baseball Club, announces in a public letter that the Washingtons will certainly remain in the league and have a strong team of "colts" to compete for next year's pennant.

Decoyed by a Bogus Telegram.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Alphonse Chacaine, who broke into the Delaware & Hudson depots at Cohoes and Green Island last week and stole some money and a lot of railroad tickets, was arrested here Sunday night, he having been decoyed here from Montreal by a bogus telegram. A number of necklaces, bracelets and ladies' watch chains were found in his possession.

It is an Irish comedy drama containing many pleasing features and devoid of all objectionable ones so common to Irish plays of the present day. ENFORCING THE BLUE LAWS.

Not Even Cigars or Candy Could be Bought in Elizabeth Yesterday.

All the places of business at Elizabeth were tightly closed yesterday by order of the Mayor. Even news stands were not exempted, having to close up at 10 o'clock. After that time not even newsboys were allowed to sell papers. Bootblacks were forced to stop earning nickels, and all barber shops had to keep closed.

Charles Hans, a barber in Broad street, kept open in defiance of the orders. He was placed under arrest, and ordered to appear this morning at the police court. Detectives scoured the streets for names of persons who were violating the law. Saloons, as a general thing, were kept shut, but there were some who managed to evade the law. All restaurants, cigar stores and candy shops had to close, and drug stores could sell medicines only.

At Port Jervis, N. Y., on Tuesday evening, February 4, 1890, occurred the wedding of Mr. George H. Philpitt, formerly of this city and Miss Agnes Peck, of Port Jervis, N. Y. The bride, a very handsome young lady, looked most charming, attired in stone-colored faille silk, ornamented with Marechal roses. The Rev W. S. Gallaway, pastor of the M.E. Church of that city, tied the nuptial knot.

Broke His Neck.

It is reported that a man named John Doodlesocks, employed by a milkman at Metuchen, fell from the hay mow, early yesterday morning, and broke his neck. The man got up about four o'clock and went out to attend to the stock. He went into the mow, and was throwing down hay, when he slipped and fell through the shute to the floor below, breaking his neck.

The New Time Table.

A new schedule in the running of passenger trains went into effect on the Central Railroad of New Jersey today. About the only important change so far as Plainfield is concerned is the addition of a train to New York, which will leave here at 10.12 o'clock, P. M., Sundays excepted. Heretofore there has been no train leaving this city for New York between the 9.28 and 11.28 o'clock trains at night.

Legislative Items.

Among the bills introduced in the Senate recently was No. 39, to give Notaries Public with an official seal the powers of Commissioners of Deeds to take acknowledgments, etc.

The house has also passed No. 34, which allows defendant's counsel, in criminal cases, to take general exception to the charge of the Court, without specifying any particular portion—44 to 1.

Is He an Impostor?

A man who claims the name of Foster and says that he came from Newark, applied at the residence of Mrs. Perrin in North Plainfield a day or two since for a suit of clothes, which he understood had been left there for him by a Mrs. Holmes. The man is thought to be an impostor, and he was refused possession of the suit.

A Remarkably Fine Selection.

The committee having in charge the arrangements of the programme for the concert to be held in the Crescent Avenue chapel on Saturday evening, March 1, have been remarkably fortunate in being able to secure a date on which all the artists who have so kindly volunteered their services would be disengaged. The Misses Myers of Poughkeepsie, will require no introduction to many who have had the pleasure of listening to their beautifully blended voices. Mr. A. Venino is even more widely known by reputation, though many have not had the opportunity of hearing his artistic rendition upon the piano of the works of great composers. Miss Jessamine Hallenbeck is well-known on the New York concert stage, and is also the Soprano of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Madison avenue, New York. Miss Marion Simms is not so often heard in concert, but she has occupied for several years the position of Contralto in the Madison Avenue Methodist church New York city.

Although many other changes have been made in the quartette, Mr. Wm. E. Courtney, tenor, is the well-known teacher of that name, and he has both pupils and friends in this city; Signor Riccardo Ricci, Basso, occupied a prominent position in the American Opera company.

Tickets for this concert are one dollar each, and they may be obtained from Mrs. H. B. Newhall, Mrs. C. D. Wadsworth, Mrs. J. G. Foster, Mrs. Jos. M. Myers, Mrs. C. A. Hunter, or from any member of the choir of the church, and at Reynolds' pharmacy.

The Rev. Mr. Goodrich at Reform Hall.

In Reform Hall last night the Rev. C.L. Goodrich delivered a sermon replete with interest and instruction, and which was listened to with wrapped attention by a good sized audience. His remarks had special reference to the bad effects of evil thoughts, habits and associations, to conquer which required determined action. After espousing the blessings resulting from an opposite course, right living and doing, with great eloquence and power he pointed out the pathway to final victory. As an appreciation of the excellence of Mr. Goodrich's discourse, on motion of Doctor Burnett, a rising vote of thanks was tendered him.

President Harper presided, the Rev. Mr. Goodrich read the scripture lesson and offered prayer, and the Reform club choir, under the leadership of Mr. King, with Miss Alice Smith as organist, conducted the musical programme in their usual acceptable manner. With the benediction the interesting meeting closed.

Associated Teachers' Meeting.

A meeting of the Somerset County Teachers' Association will be held in the Raritan Public School building, on Saturday, February 15, at 10.15 A. M., when the following programme will be carried out. Some of the participants are teachers in the North Plainfield Public school:

Expect to Occupy the Church Next Sunday.

The congregation of the First Baptist church expect to occupy the auditorium of the same next Sunday after its being closed about four or five months. The interior of the church has been entirely remodeled, and presents an attractive appearance. Among the attractions will be the singing of the chorus choir composed of the members of the church under the leadership of Mr. Chas. W. Mc Cutchen. They have also placed in the church a new organ which cost about $5,000, which will be another feature of the opening services.

Young People's Sociable.

The Young People's League of the First Baptist church will hold a sociable in the lecture room next Thursday evening, February 13. Among the attractions there will be on exhibition is a large number of amateur photographs, and a flash light will be taken of the audience sometime during the evening. All the young people of the church and Sunday school are cordially invited to be present

To Consider Their Reinstatement.

A special meeting of Plainfield Engine company No. 2 is called for Wednesday evening of this week, at 8 o'clock. At the meeting held last week, some of the company's Relief Association members were suspended for non-payment of dues, and it is said that the special meeting is called to consider their reinstatement.

Broke Her Leg. Throwing Out the Dish Water.

It is said that Mrs. John Day, of Cottage place near Richmond street, broke her leg the other day in a peculiar way. She had just finished washing the dishes and threw the water out of her kitchen window. In doing so she slipped and broke her leg by falling on it.

Mother's Meeting.

All interested, are cordially invited to attend the Mother's Meeting to be held in Reform Hall to-morrow afternoon, February 11, at three o'clock.

E. H. CORY, Sec'y.

—A meeting of the Soldier's monument committee was set down for Saturday, but it was adjourned over until an evening this week.

CONCERNING PLAINFIELD ROADS.

A Disgruntled Netherwood Man Who Thinks it Advisable to Frame a Bill for the Legislature With Reference to Road-making.

A resident of Netherwood, who signs himself "Taxpayer," thus expresses himself in today's World, with reference to the condition of the roads at Netherwood:

"In your New Jersey issue of February 5, you have a communication in regard to the Street Commissioner, George Angleman and William Hand. What you say of Mr. Angleman's work is all misleading. This piece of road, say five hundred feet or more on each side of my house, has not had one dollar's worth of benefit. I think it is fifteen years since it was macadamized, and much to a disadvantage. There appears to be no fixed purpose in road-making to work upon, and now the Leislature is in session, it might be advisable to frame a bill to that effect, that the rising generation would reap the benefit. The roads are no better than they were twenty-five years back. Keep politics more out of local matters. I would like to say that Mr. Hand is a good, practical business man. I have seen some things myself the last sixty years. TAYPAYER."

Netherwood, Feb. 8."

Prof. Herrmann at Music Hall.

To-morrow evening, Prof. Herrmann, the World famed magician, will be at Music Hall. All of last week he performed before large audiences at the Park Theatre, Brooklyn, and the Brooklyn Citizen gives him the following flattering notice:

"Professor and Mme. Herrmann, the world famed illusionists, had a large, fashionable and most appreciative audience at the Park Theatre last night. Through all the evening the Prince of Magicians spun a web of raillery with golden threads of wit and repartee that even its victims enjoyed. The first part of the programme was the usual mirth-provoking medley of magic in which the audience so largely participates, made up of sleight-of-hand tricks that never get old, in which handkerchiefs, silk hats, oranges, walnuts, etc, figure largely. In the second part Mme. Herrmann introduces Florine, the child of the air, one of the most entrancing of the later marvels of psychologic manifestations. When Florine walked up the wall, whirled about as if the law of gravity were abolished, and finally skipped through the air the centre of a revolving hoop, the audience indulged in round after round of the heartiest applause. The next division of the programme was fully as attractive, the new black art of Mme. Herrmann, assisted by Abdul Kahn, the Oriental fakir, being prolific of mysterious appearances and disappearances, in which articles of solid and most substantial weight, including gold watches and cannon balls, a glass aquarium, a serpent and a huge ape, were apparently evolved from empty air. The finale was a most enjoyable expose of Spiritualistic manifestations."

A Beautiful Home.

Notwithstanding the fact that the demand for houses in this city seems to be less than the supply, it is simply surprising to see the number of houses going up in the suburban part of the town. Among the handsome dwelling places now in course of erection is that of Mr. Clarence E. Bond, at the corner of Front and Richmond streets. The building, when completed, will be a model, both in design and workmanship. Mr. M. Moore, the contractor, whose residence is at No. 18 North avenue, and whose announcement appears in THE PRESS today, accompanied the writer on a tour of inspection through the house.

The building is designed after the Queen Anne pattern, and contains 13 rooms. It will be ready for occupancy on April 1. The first story is of brick, and the second story is built of California red shingles finished in spar varnish. Part of the interior is to be fitted up with hard wood, and the reception hall, parlor and library are so arranged that they can all be thrown into one room. The total cost of the building will be about $5,000.

He Had a Narrow Escape.

Mr. William M. Springmann, the North Plainfield barber, had a narrow escape from serious injury, last evening. He was passing along Park avenue, on his way home from the railroad station, and when in front of the Chautauqua building, he stumbled over a stepping stone, falling heavily on the sidewalk. Officer Giesse assisted the injured man to his feet, and the latter complained of severe pains in his back and limbs. He was, however, able to walk home.

The Street Railway Problem.

The Committee of the Council on street railway matters, was to have held a meeting on Saturday evening, but owing to the inclemency of the weather the meeting was adjourned indefinitely.

Members of the committee state that in their opinion, this city will be equipped with efficient street railway service during the present year, but whether or not electric or animal power will be employed, they are not at liberty to state.

Choral Society Notice.

The rehearsal this evening of the above society will take place in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., on East Front street, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is particularly requested.

NELSON RUNYON, Sec'y.

No "Civil Service" Nonsense For This Republican Editor.

(From the Union-County Standard.)

In the retirement of Postmaster Addison S. Clark, Westfield loses a painstaking, faithful and efficient official. His appointment fours ago was an affair of party. His retirement now is an affair of party. We condemned the policy that retired Frederick Decker, the former Postmaster, and placed Mr. Clark in his stead; and which now, at the behest of Party, makes another change with no better reason than then existed.

The pre-election talk about civil service is all clap-trap and sham and pretense. What business firm would keep displacing tried and experienced men? Fortunately for Westfield, Mr. Clark's successor, Mr. Luther M. Whitaker, is a man of exceptional executive ability, known to every citizen. Without being advised as to his plans, we will undertake to say that the post office service will be a progressive one and that Mr. Whitaker will institute every possible improvement that the increasing business of the place will justify.

Becoming an Every Day Occurrence.

A cock-fight which terminated in a row took place in a barn at the Flats, near Westfield, between Scotch Plains and Westfield birds, at an early hour yesterday morning. The sports from both places were out with plenty of money. The main was to consist of five battles. The first fight was between a dark red, weight 4 pounds 5 ounces, which the Scotch Plains contingent pitted against a blue pyle from Westfield, weight 4 pounds 8 ounces. The Westfield bird had his opponent whipped, when the Scotch Plains men claimed a foul, alleging that the handler, who was from Westfield, had squeezed the bird so that he was crippled before the fight. The betting had been 5 to 1 on the dark red. A general melee ensued. A boss carpenter from Westfield was slugged by Scotch Plains men. The other four battles were not fought, the crowd scattering to avoid arrest.

But in This City the Scholars Get the Worth of the Money.

The advance sheets of the State Board of Education's report show that in the cities of the State the per capita expense on the total school census for last year was $5.82; the per capita expense on the enrolled attendance was $11.90, and the cost of each scholar on the average attendance was $17.76. This is an increase of 25 cents a scholar on the enrolled attendance, and of 56 cents on the average attendance of the previous year.

Long Branch is paying the largest amount per capita of any other city in the State, $19,89. Montclair comes next, paying $19 64; Plainfield, $18.93; Orange, $16.68; Morristown, $15.43; Bloomfield, $14.75; Bordentown, $14.28; Princeton, $15.36. Then comes Trenton, $12.32, New Brunswick, Bayonne and Atlantic City, almost the same.

Grand Lodge K. of P.

The Grand Lodge of the Order Knights of Pythias will hold its annual session in Trenton on Thursday and Friday of next week. A proposed amendment to the constitution will come up for consideration making the offices of Grand Inner and Outer Guards elective instead of appointive. The Lodge will be asked to appropriate prize money to be contested for by the divisions of the Uniformed Rank. Another question for action will be the proposition to increase the salary of the G. K. of R. and S., and to pay the traveling expenses of the Grand Chancellor and Grand Vice Chancellor.

Westfield Men Engage in a Shoot.

A shooting match took place at Westfield Saturday for a purse of $50. The contestants were Charles F. Courtney and C. P. Wilcox, both of Westfield. The referee was John Dwyer. Each man fired at 25 glass balls, the conditions being 18½ yards rise. Wilcox broke 18 balls straight and won the match, smashing 22 out of 25. Courtney broke 21 out of 25, and immediately challenged the winner to shoot for double the amount, each man to have the privilege of using his own gun. The challenge is to be kept open a week.

Got His Just Deserts.

Saturday was sentence day in the Union County Courts at Elizabeth. Judge Mc Cormick presided, with associates Hyer and Wiley. Several prisoners were sentenced for short terms, but James Russell who broke into O'Connor's grocery on Elizabeth avenue, and Barnet Kohen's jewelry establishment near Union square, was sentenced to a term of ten years in State Prison, five years on each charge.

There's Nothing in It.

For some days past a story has been wandering around in the neighborhood papers to the effect that a company of Hollanders who are raising celery on a large scale in Michigan are thinking of buying up the swamp lands along the Passaic and Raritan for celery culture. There is nothing whatever in the story.

Bound Brook's New Enterprise.

For several days past Surveyor Garretson of Bound Brook has been making extensive surveys near the Central Railroad station, and it is given out that the work is done with a view to the building of an immense sugar refinery by Karl Spreckels. It is expected to employ 500 hands.

—The steam roller was hard at work last week on South avenue, between Fanwood and Westfield, but the road is still closed between Fanwood and Netherwood.

Shoemakers Deny the Report.

BOSTON, Feb. 10.—The report printed here, emanating from New York, that a combination of Eastern shoe manufacturers was likely to take place, does not receive credence among the Lynn manufacturers, who say that the conditions in their business are so peculiar that they do not believe a combination practicable.

He Objects to Dancing.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Rev. E. B. Furbish, pastor of the First Congregational Church, resigned his pastorate because a majority of the members of the church opposed compelling candidates for membership to promise to abstain from card-playing, dancing and theatre-going.

Death Roll in the Metropolis.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The total number of deaths for the week ending at noon were 765 against 772 last week. The death rate was 24.95 against 28.51 last week. No deaths were attributed to influenza.

Highest Rate of Wages.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 10.—The coke scale has been agreed upon and the men get an advance of 26 to 30 per cent. This is the highest rate of wages ever paid in the Connellsville coke region.

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food.

It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country.

TALMAGE HOME AGAIN.

HE RESUMES PREACHING IN BROOKLYN AFTER HIS FOREIGN TRIP.

A Powerful Sermon Drawn from the Great Bible Drama of the House on the Wall—We Must Go to God for Salvation.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 9.—The Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., resumed preaching in Brooklyn this morning, after his visit to the Holy Land, and the Academy of Music was crowded. Thousands of people were not able to get into the building. The subject of his discourse was "The House on the Wall." Dr. Talmage took for his text Joshua vi, 23: "And the young men that were spies went in and brought out Rahab, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had." He said:

When, only a few weeks ago, I visited Jericho I said, can it be possible that this dilapidated place is the Jericho that Mark Antony gave as a wedding present to Cleopatra? Where are the groves of palm trees? Where are Herod's palaces which once stood here? Where is the great theatre from the stage of which Salome told the people that Herod was dead? Where is the sycamore tree on the limb of which Zaccheus sat when Jesus passed this place? Where is the wreck of the walls that fell at the blowing of the rams' horns? But the fact that all these have disappeared did not hinder me from seeing in imagination the smash of everything on the fated day, save one house on the wall. That scene centuries ago comes back to me as though it were yesterday.

A SAD HOUSE.

There is a very sick and sad house in the city of Jericho. What is the matter? Is it poverty? No. Worse than that. Is it leprosy? No. Worse than that. Is it death? No. Worse than that. A daughter has forsaken her home. By what infernal plot she was induced to leave I know not; but they look in vain for her return. Sometimes they hear a footstep very much like hers, and they start up and say: "She comes!" but only to sink back again into disappointment. Alas! Alas! The father sits by the hour, with his face in his hands, saying not one word. The mother's hair is becoming gray too fast, and she begins to stoop so that those who saw her only a little while ago in the street know her not now as she passes. The brothers clench their fists, swearing vengeance against the despoiler of their home. Alas! will the poor soul never come back! There is a long, deep shadow over all the household. Added to this there is an invading army six miles away, just over the river, coming on to destroy the city; and what with the loss of their child and the coming on of that destructive army, I think the old people wished that they could die. That is the first scene in this drama of the Bible. In a house on the wall of the city is that daughter. That is her home now. Two spies have come from the invading army to look around through Jericho and see how best it may be taken. Yonder is the lost child, in that dwelling on the wall of the city. The police hear of it, and soon there is the shuffling of feet all around about the door, and the city government demands the surrender of those two spies. First, Rahab—for that was the name of the lost child—first, Rahab secretes the two spies and gets their pursuers off the track; but after awhile she says to them: "I will make a bargain with you. I will save your life if you will save my life, and the life of my father and my mother, and my brothers, and my sisters, when the victorious army comes upon the city." O, she had not forgotten her home yet, you see. The wanderer never forgets home. Her heart breaks now as she thinks of how she has maltreated her parents, and she wishes she were back with them again, and she wishes she could get away from her sinful enthralment; and sometimes she looks up in the face of the midnight, bursting into agonizing tears. No sooner have these two spies promised to save her life, and the life of her father, and mother, and brothers, and sisters, than Rahab takes a scarlet cord and ties it around the body of one of the spies, brings him to the window, and as he clambers out—nervous lest she have not strength to hold him—with muscular arms such as woman seldom has, she lets him down, hand over hand, in safety to the ground. Not being exhausted, she ties the cord around the other spy, brings him to the window, and just as successfully lets him down to the ground. No sooner have these men untied the scarlet cord from their bodies than they look up, and they say: "You had better get all your friends in this house—your father, your mother, your brothers and your sisters; you had better get them in this house. And then, after you have them here, take this red cord which you have put around our bodies and tie it across the window; and when our victorious army comes up, and sees that scarlet thread in the window, they will spare this house and all who are in it. Shall it be so?" cried the spies. "Aye, aye," said Rahab, from the window, "it shall be so." That is the second scene in this Bible drama. There is a knock at the door of the old man. He looks up and says: "Come in," and lo! there is Rahab, the lost child; but she has no time to talk. They gather in excitement around her, and she says to them: "Get ready quickly, and go with me to my house. The army is coming! The trumpet! Make haste! Fly! The enemy!" That is the third scene in this Bible drama. The hosts of Israel are all around about the doomed city of Jericho. Crash! goes the great metropolis, heaps on heaps. The air suffocating with the dust, and horrible with the screams of a dying city. All the houses flat down. All the people dead. Ah no, no. On a crag of the wall—the only piece of the wall left standing—there is a house which we must enter. There is a family there that have been spared. Who are they? Let us go and see. Rahab, her father, her mother, her brothers, her sisters, all safe, and the only house left standing in all the city. What saved them? Was the house more firmly built? Oh, no; it was built in the most perilous place—on the wall; and the wall was the first thing that fell. Was it because her character was any better than any of the other population of the city? O no. Why, then, was she spared and all her household? Can you tell me why? O, it was the scarlet line in the window. That is the fourth scene in this Bible drama. When the destroying angel went through Egypt it was the blood of the lamb on the door posts that saved the Israelites; and now that vengeance has come upon Jericho it is the same color that assures the safety of Rahab and all her household. My friends, there are foes coming upon us, more deadly and more tremendous, to overthrow our immortal interests. They will trample us down and crush us out forever, unless there be some skillful mode of rescue open. The police of death already begin to clamor for our surrender; but, blessed be God, there is a way out. It is through the window, and by a rope so saturated with the blood of the cross that it is as red as that with which the spies were lowered; and if once our souls shall be delivered, then, the scarlet cord stretched across the window of our escape, we may defy all bombardment, earthly and Satanic.

In the first place, carrying out the idea of my text, we must stretch this scarlet cord across the window of our rescue. There comes a time when a man is surrounded. What is that in the front door of his soul? It is the threatenings of the future. What is that in the back door of the soul? It is the sins of the past. He cannot get out of either of those doorways. If he attempts it he will be cut to pieces. What shall he do? Escape through the window of God's mercy. That sunshine has been pouring in for many a day. God's inviting mercy. God's pardoning mercy. God's all conquering mercy. God's everlasting mercy. But you say the window is so high. Ah, there is a rope, the very one with which the cross and its victim were lifted. That was strong enough to hold Christ, and it is strong enough to hold you. Bear all your weight upon it, all your hopes for this life, all your hopes for the life that is to come. Escape now through the window.

"But," you say, "that cord is too small to save me; that salvation will never do at all for such a sinner as I have been." I suppose that the rope with which Rahab let the two spies to the ground was not thick enough; but they took that or nothing. And, my dear brother, that is your alternative. There is only one scarlet line that can save you. There have been hundreds and thousands who have been borne away in safety by that scarlet line, and it will bear you away in safety. Do you notice what a very narrow escape those spies had? I suppose they came with flustered cheek and with excited heart. They had a very narrow escape. They went in the broad door of sin; but how did they come out? They came out of the window. They went up by the stairs of stone; they came down on a slender thread. And so, my friends, we go easily and unabashedly into sin, and all the doors are open; but if we get out at all it will be by being let down over precipices, wriggling and helpless, the strong grip above keeping us from being dashed on the rocks beneath. It is easy to get into sin, young man. It is not so easy to get out of it.

THE FIRST STEP.

A young man goes to the marble counter of a hotel. He asks for a brandy smash—called so, I suppose, because it smashes the man that takes it. There is no intoxication in it. As the young man receives it he does not seem to be at all excited. It does not give any glossiness to the eye. He walks home in beautiful apparel, and all his prospects are brilliant. That drink is not going to destroy him, but it is the first step on a bad road. Years have passed on, and I see that young man after he has gone the whole length of dissipation. It is midnight, and he is in a hotel—perhaps the very one where he took the first drink. A delirium is on him. He rises from the bed and comes to the window, and it is easily lifted; so he lifts it. Then he pushes back the blinds and puts his foot on the window sill. Then he gives one spring, and the watchman finds his disfigured body, unrecognizable, on the pavement. O, if he had only waited a little—if he had come down on the scarlet ladder that Jesus holds from the wall for him, and for you, and for me; but no, he made one jump, and was gone. A minister of Christ was not long ago dismissed from his diocese for intoxication, and in a public meeting he gave this account of his sorrow. He said: "I had a beautiful home once; but strong drink shattered it. I had beautiful children; but this fiend of rum took their dimpled hands in his and led them to the grave. I had a wife—to know her was to love her; but she sits in wretchedness to-night, while I wander over the earth. I had a mother, and the pride of her life was I; but the thunderbolt struck her. I now have scarcely a friend in the world. Taste of the bitter cup I have tasted, and then answer me as to whether I have any hatred for the agency of my ruin. Hate it! I hate the whole damning traffic. I would to God to-night that every distillery was in flames, for then in the glowing sky I would write in the smoke of the ruin: 'Woe to him that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips!'" That minister of the Gospel went in through the broad door of temptation; he came out of the window. And when I see the temptations that are about us in all countries, and when I know the proclivities to sin in every man's heart, I see that if any of us escape it will be a very narrow escape. O, if we have, my friends, got off from our sin, let us tie the scarlet thread by which we have been saved across the window. Let us do it in praise of him whose blood dyed it that color. Let it be in announcement of the fact that we shall no more be fatally assaulted. "There is now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus." Then let all the forces of this world come up in cavalry charge, and let spirits of darkness come on—an infernal storming party attempting to take our soul—this rope twisted from these words, "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin," will hurl them back defeated forever.

PROTECT YOUR HOUSEHOLD.

Still further, we must take this red cord of the text and stretch it across the window of our households. When the Israelitish army came up against Jericho, they said: "What is that in the window?" Some one said: "That is a scarlet line." "Oh," said some one else, "that must be the house that was to be spared. Don't touch it." That line was thick enough, and long enough, and conspicuous enough to save Rahab, her father, her mother, her brothers and her sisters—the entire family. Have our households as good protection? You have bolts on the front door and on the back, and fastenings to the window, and perhaps burglar alarms, and perhaps an especial watchman blowing his whistle at midnight before your dwelling; but all that cannot protect your household. Is there on our houses the sign of a Saviour's sacrifice and mercy? Is there a scarlet line in the window? Have your children been consecrated to Christ? Have you been washed in the blood of the atonement? In what room do you have family prayers? Show me where it is you are accustomed to kneel. The sky is black with the coming deluge. Is your family inside or outside of the ark? It is a sad thing for a man to reject Christ; but to lie down in the night of sin, across the path to heaven, so that his family come up and trip over him—that is terrific. It is a sad thing for a mother to reject Christ; but to gather her family around her, and then take them by the hand and lead them out into paths of worldliness, away from God and heaven, alas! alas! There may be geranium and cactus in that family window, and upholstery hovering over it, and childish faces looking out of it, but there is no scarlet thread stretched across it. Although that house may seem to be on the best street in all the town or city, it is really on the edge of a marsh, across which sweep most poisonous malarias, and it has a sandy foundation, and its splendor will come down, and great will be the fall of it. A home without God! A prayerless father! An undevout mother! Awful! awful! Is that you? Will you keep on, my brother, on the wrong road, and take your loved ones with you? Time is so short that we cannot waste any of it on apologies, or indirections, or circumlocutions. You owe to your children, O father, O mother, more than food, more than clothing, more than shelter—you owe them the example of a prayerful, consecrated, pronounced, out and out Christian life. You cannot afford to keep it away from them.

Now, as I stand here, you do not see any hands outstretched towards me, and yet there are hands on my brow and hands on both my shoulders. They are hands of parental benediction. It is quite a good many years ago now since we folded those hands as they began the last sleep on the banks of the Raritan, in the village cemetery; but those hands are stretched out towards me today, and they are just as warm and they are just as gentle as when I sat on her knee at five years of age. And I shall never shake off those hands. I do not want to. They have helped me so much a thousand times already, and I do not expect to have a trouble or a trial between this and my grave where those hands will not help me. It was not a very splendid home, as the world calls it; but we had a family Bible there, well worn by tender perusal; and there was a family altar there, where we knelt morning and night; and there was a holy Sabbath there; and stretched in a straight line or hung in loops or festoons there was a scarlet line in the window. O, the tender, precious, blessed memory of a Christian home! Is that the impression you are making upon your children? When you are dead—and it will not be long before you are—when you are dead, will your child say: "If there ever was a good Christian father, mine was one. If there ever was a good Christian mother, mine was one!"

Still further: We want this scarlet line of the text drawn across the window of our prospects. I see Rahab and her father, and her mother, and her brothers, and sisters looking out over Jericho, the city of palm trees, and across the river, and over at the army invading, and then up to the mountains and the sky. Mind you, this house was on the wall, and I suppose the prospect from the window must have been very wide. Besides that, I do not think that the scarlet line at all interfered with the view of the landscape. The assurance it gave of safety must have added to the beauty of the country. Today, my friends, we sit in the window of earthly prospects, and we look off towards the hills of heaven and the landscape of eternal beauty. God has opened the window for us, and we look out. We now only get a dim outline of the inhabitants. We now only here and there catch a note of the exquisite harmony.

THE SCARLET LINE AT THE WINDOW.

But blessed be God for this scarlet line in the window. That tells me that the blood of Christ bought that home for my soul, and I shall go there when my work is done. And as I put my hand on that scarlet line, everything in the future brightens. My eyesight gets better, and the robes of the victors are more lustrous, and our loved ones who went away some time ago—they do not stand any more with their backs to us, but their faces are this way and their voices drop through this Sabbath air, saying with all tenderness and sweetness, "Come! Come! Come!" And the child that you think of only as buried—why, there she is, and it is May day in heaven; and they gather the amaranth, and they pluck the lilies, and they twist them into a garland for her brow, and she is one of the May queens of heaven. O, do you think they could see our waving today? It is quite a pleasant day, pretty clear, and not many clouds in the sky. I wonder if they can see us from that good land? I think they can. If from this window of earthly prospects we can almost see them, then from their towers of light I think they can fully see us. And so I wave them the glory, and I wave them the joy, and I say: "Have you got through with all your troubles?" and their voices answer: "God hath wiped away all tears from our eyes." I say: "Is it as grand up there as you thought it would be?" and the voices answer: "Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for those that love him." I say: "Do you have any more struggle for bread?" and they answer: "We hunger no more, we thirst no more." And I say: "Have you been out to the cemetery of the golden city?" and they answer: "There is no death here." And I look out through the heavens, and I say: "Where do you get your light from nights, and what do you burn in the temple?" and they answer: "There is no night here, and we have no need of candle or of star." And I say: "What book do you sing out of?" and they answer: "The Hallelujah Chorus." And I say: "In the splendor and magnificence of the city, don't you ever get lost?" and they answer: "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne leadeth us to living fountains of water." O how near they seem. Their wings—do you not feel them? Their harps—do you not hear them? And all that through the window of our earthly prospects, across which stretcheth the scarlet line. Be that my choice color forever. Is it too glaring for you? Do you like the blue because it reminds you of the sky, or the green because it makes you think of the foliage, or the black because it has in it the shadows of the night? I take the scarlet because it shall make me think of the price that was paid for my soul. O the blood! the blood! the blood of the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world. I see where you are. You are at the cross roads. The next step decides everything. Pause before you take it; but do not pause too long. I hear the blast of the trumpet that wakes the dead. Look out! Look out! For in that day, and in our closing moment on earth, better than any other defense or barricade, however high or broad or stupendous, will be one little, thin, scarlet thread in the window.

What a Blind Man Accomplished.

The Berkshire County (Mass.) Eagle gives an interesting account of the achievements of Dr. Edward L. Plunkett, who died at his residence in New York city on the 10th ult. He was a native of Pittsfield, his father, who died many years since, having been a wealthy and influential citizen. While at Lafayette college, Easton, Pa., in 1879, the son became blind. He was 23 years old. Instead of falling back on the abundant means of the family, he resolved to study medicine. The undertaking doubtless seemed to many to be preposterous, but he was admitted to the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, went through the course and took the degree of M. D.

His success was due to the assistance of his devoted mother, a lady of superior intelligence and attainments, who followed up the son's attendance on the lectures with reading to him by day and by night the necessary books. With determined purpose he memorized what he heard, and his delicate sense of touch enabled him to become familiar with the various parts of the body as they were placed in his hands after dissection. He became a private instructor of medical students who were at the same time going through the college courses. In the last year no less than thirty students who had been his pupils in this collateral way were graduated from the college.

There is a species of acacia which is commonly called the angry tree. It reaches the height of eighty feet after a rapid growth, and somewhat resembles the century plant. One of these curious plants was brought from Australia and set out in Virginia, Nev., where it has been seen by many persons. When the sun sets the leaves fold up and the tender twigs coil tightly, like a little pig's tail. If the shoots are handled the leaves rustle and move uneasily for a time. If this queer plant is removed from one spot to another it seems angry, and the leaves stand out in all directions like quills on a porcupine.

FLEEING FROM FLOODS.

Residents of the Memphis Lowlands Driven to Higher Lands.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 10.—Much alarm is felt by the planters and residents of the lowlands adjacent to Memphis, at the rising river. They fear that the water coming from the Ohio, Tennessee, Cumberland and other tributaries will cause a disastrous overflow, and are moving their stock to places of safety.

Pecan Grove levee, in East Carroll parish, La., gave way yesterday morning and much property was destroyed. Men and material have been despatched to the scene of the break.

Great excitement prevails here and at Vicksburg. The river is falling here, but is rising rapidly at points above and beloow.

SIX MEN DROWNED

A Boat Strikes a Pier and Is Soon on Fire.

THIRTY PEOPLE IN THE WATER.

The Vessel Sank in Three Minutes But Most of the Crew Rescued.

The Accident Caused by a Pier Under Water—A Dense Fog Prevailed—Panic-Stricken Men Fight Each Other—Twenty Oystermen Lost on Chesapeake Bay and Their Sloops Wrecked.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 11.—The towboat Post Eads, belonging to the St. Louis & Mississippi Valley Transportation Company, collided with the Tennessee pier of the new bridge being built at this point during a fog. The boiler collapsed, setting the boat on fire. Thirty people were on board and threw themselves into the water. Seven were drowned, the rest rescued. The boat sank in three minutes in fifty feet of water.

Men ran from every direction to the yawl, fighting each other in panic-stricken desperation to reach it. One man detached the rope holding it and was about to climb in when the water rushed over the boat's decks and all rushed to the other side. Another wave closed over the boat's deck and then they all ran to the other side again when she settled lower.

Seven people are known to be lost. One of the bodies has been recovered. The lost are William Hickey, John Murray, Tony Jones, John McDermott, William Stewart, James Walker and an unknown man.

The accident was due to the fact that the pier in course of construction was two feet under water. Dense smoke covered the river, and it was almost impossible to distinguish an object more than twenty feet away. The pilot on watch did not discover the obstruction until it was too late to avoid the accident.

Twenty Oystermen Lost.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 11.—The severe storm caught a number of oyster boats on Chesapeake Bay. The sloop Golden Rule went to the bottom; and the sloop Annie, Capt. Tim Ellis, is lost. The sloop Mary Pace, Capt. Eli Jones, came in yesterday, and the captain reports it the worst storm that he ever encountered. The other vessels were blown to sea and have not been heard from. It is supposed that at least twenty lives were lost in the storm. The vessels had been at Seaside, near Cape Charles, and were all loaded with oysters and coming home.

A DISHONEST CASHIER.

He Appropriates the Bank's Funds to Carry on a Private Business.

LANCASTER, Pa. Feb. 11.—The officials of the Lincoln National Bank, at Lincoln, this county, have discovered that the cashier, Ellis Bard, is a defaulter to the extent of $25,000. An Ephrata firm was assisted with the money and the peculations extended over a year. An investigation of the bank's affairs is now in progress. No arrests have yet been made.

President Nissley says that Bard's defalcation will have no effect on the bank and that all demands will be met.

The cashier has resigned his position, but no steps to prosecute have as yet been taken. He is a young man and has no property of his own. His bondsmen are liable to the extent of $25,000, and this sum, it is believed, will cover the deficit.

The funds appropriated by Bard were sunk in the business of the Ephrata firm. Bard, the directors say, deceived them. They accuse him of advancing large sums without their knowledge and then doctoring the books to cover up his wrong doings.

The bank examiner has been notified of the defalcation and it is expected that he will upon his arrival, at once make a thorough investigation of the bank's affairs.

A Little Girl Strangled.

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 11.—While Mrs. Lucius Skinner, of Tabeeg, was getting breakfast yesterday, her little daughter, Jessie, aged two and one-half years, asked for something to eat. Mrs. Skinner gave the little girl a piece of steak, which she put in her mouth and then ran into the bed room. On the way the meat slipped down her throat. She tried to tell her father what had happened, but could not make him understand, and was strangled to death in a few minutes.

Serious Coasting Accident.

WINTHROP, Me., Feb. 11.—A serious coasting accident occurred here last night. Five young men—Thomas Putnam, Walter Webb, Charles Remick, Ellis Martin and Ovid Howard—were sliding on an ark down High street and when near the depot collided with a lamp-post with a terrible crash. Putnam was knocked insensible, Webb received serious injury to his leg and a deep gash on his kneepan, Remick was insensible and apparently dead, when taken up and Martin and Howard were uninjured.

Mrs. Parnell's Pension.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Delia T. Parnell called on Governor Abbett and asked his co-operation in securing the passage of her pension bill now pending in Congress. The Governor wrote a warm letter of endorsement, and promised to write to the New Jersey Congressmen in her behalf.

Confession of Faith.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—The Philadelphia Presbytery, at an adjourned meeting, refused to agree to a revision of the Confession of Faith by a vote of 28 yeas to 42 nays. The vote stood: for revision, 14 ministers and 14 elders; against revision 28 ministers and 14 elders.

THE LECONEY MURDER TRIAL.

The Colored Farm Hand Subjected to a Severe Examination.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 11.—The excitement in the Leconey murder trial is growing more intense. The father and mother of the murdered girl were in court. The prisoner sat between them.

Garrett Murray, the colored farm hand, who gave such damaging evidence against the prisoner Saturday, was subjected to a merciless cross-examination. He said that when his employer came out he left the kitchen door ajar, as it was found after the murder.

The witness denied that the last time he saw the murdered girl he was standing in the porch feeding the dog. He also denied that he had made this statement to several witnesses.

These witnesses stood up in the court to confront the prisoner. They will be brought on by the defence to contradict his testimony.

There were several tilts between the Court and Counsellor Gray for the defence, and more exceptions were taken than during all the previous days.

BUTCHERED HIMSELF.

A Demented Socialist Cuts His Throat With a Razor.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Feb. 11.—Hubert Rosgen, a German, of Beaver Falls, Pa., committed suicide here last night. By means of a razor he butchered himself in a horrible manner. He cut a deep gash in his throat, two in each arm and one in each leg.

He is believed to have been slightly demented, but his letters to the public are well worded and demonstrated that he was an educated man. He came here about a week ago and secured work in the Kenney foundry. He is believed to be a Socialist, as in one of his letters addressed to the public he says his heart is full of liberty, and rather than be a slave for either his friends or enemies he would die. He leaves a widow and three children, who reside at Beaver Falls.

Social Circles Excited.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 11.—Social circles here are in a state of great excitement over the fact that at the forthcoming dance at the Government House only twenty members of Parliament of a house of 215 have been invited. Last year a similar row took place about the ball. A number of French members having been omitted in issuing invitations, a second ball had to be given last year so as to appease those who had been slighted.

Trying to Defeat Mr. Cleveland

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—An attempt was made at last night's meeting of the Society of Medical Jurisprudence to defeat the election of Grover Cleveland to honorary membership. For a little while it looked as if a row was imminent, but open hostilities were averted through the tact of some of the members. Mr. Cleveland was then finally elected.

Gentiles Claim the Election.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 11.—The chairman of the Gentile party claims the election of the Liberal ticket by 1,400 majority. The chairman of the Mormon party says it is impossible to state the figures yet. He asserts that there has been such glaring fraud, that the matter will have to be settled by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Powderly Causes Callaghan's Arrest.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Feb. 11.—Hon. Edward Callaghan was arrested here on Grand Master Workman Powderly's warrant for criminal libel. Sheriff Krambar, of Scranton, made the arrest. Bail was not asked as Mr. Callaghan assured the sheriff that he would be at Scranton for a hearing on March 2. Mr. Powderly wants $10,000 damages.

Tried to Kill His Mother.

FREDERICK, Md., Feb. 11.—Ambrose E. Bartgis, who was taken into custody a few days ago, while laboring under mental aberration, became violently insane at his home last night and attempted to kill his mother with a knife. He was finally subdued by neighbors. He fought desperately. His insanity was superinduced by la grippe.

Celestial Phenomenon.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Shortly before 2 a. m., while there was not a cloud to be seen, a clearly-defined, egg-shaped ring formed about the moon, and almost as quickly all the colors of the rainbow became visible inside the ring, sparkling and waving about the circle and advancing and receding over the face of the moon. The celestial phenomenon was visible for a long time, and then disappeared as quickly as it came.

Bricklayers Opposed to Eight Hours.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 11.—The Journeymen Bricklayers' Protective Association, one of the strongest labor unions in the city defeated, by a vote of 192 to 91, a proposition making eight hours a day's work. They favored, instead, a working day of nine hours with pay at the rate of 55 cents per hour, the present wages being 40 cents an hour. This schedule to take effect the first Saturday in April.

The Labor Trouble at Nashua.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 11.—The 140 employes in the carding room of the Nashua Company have joined the striking mule spinners and weavers in a demand for restoration of pay. The mule spinners and weavers met and rejected the agent's proposition to return to work at the reduced wages pending arbitration. This makes the outlook more gloomy than ever.

Terrible Death from Strychnine.

ORANGE, Mass., Feb. 11.—Linas C. Shaw, aged 17, who took a dose of strychnine with suicidal intent on Thursday night has died in terrible agony. Temporary insanity is given as the probable cause of her act.

Accompanying the proclamation was an executive order fixing the location of the land office of the Northern District at Pierre, and that of the Southern District at Chamberlain.

Secretary Tracy Takes a Drive and Calls on His Daughter.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—At 2 o'clock in the afternoon Secretary Tracy entered the President's private carriage at the White House and drove to Lieut. Mason's, 606 Twentieth street, to see his daughter, Mrs. Wilmerding, and granddaughter, Miss Alice, it being the first time he had seen them since the night before the fire.

When the Secretary reached Lieut. Mason's he was shown to his daughter's apartment, where he remained for nearly an hour, after which he descended to the parlor and conversed with Mr. and Mrs. Mason for a few moments and then, re-entering the carriage, he returned to the White House.

Mrs. Wilmerding and daughter have almost recovered from their injuries.

Testimonials to the Firemen.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Secretary Tracy, after conferring with a number of officials and prominent citizens, has agreed upon testimonials to be presented to Chief Parris and Howard Wright, of the District Fire Department, and Policeman Cattell, for the services they rendered to himself and household on the morning of the fatal fire at the Secretary's home. For Cattell and Wright the Secretary has selected handsome gold watches, while Chief Parris will be the recipient of a silver service. This tribute to the Chief of the Fire Department was determined upon for his action in rescuing the body of Miss Tracy from the flames and bearing it to the sidewalk at the risk of his own life.

Will Not Visit Pittsburg.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The President has abandoned his proposed trip to Pittsburg, Pa., to open the Carnegie Library in that city on Thursday Feb. 13. Recent sad events have interfered so much with his attention to public business that he does not feel that he can spare the time and go away for a few days, to the neglect of urgent public business.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Sunshine Mission Band was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the school, corner of LaGrande avenue and Washington street.

—The Supreme Court has rendered a decision that "A mortgage, held by a church as security for a sum of money bequeathed to said church with a direction that the interest therefrom is to be used in the payment of the minister's salary, is exempt from taxation on the ground that the sum secured is an endowment of a religious society."

—The younger men connected with the New Brunswick Young Men's Christian Association have taken steps by which they volunteer to pay off $1,000 of the association debt on the block system. The association has a total indebtedness now of less than $8,000, and an attempt is being made to pay this. About $4,000 has already been raised.

—The interest in the meetings held in Vincent chapel, is increasing. Last night the chapel was again crowded. PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Daniel W. Littell, a prominent business man and one of the leaders of the Republican party in this city, is still quite ill at his home on North avenue.

Miss M. Arnold, daughter of the Borough Clerk, rolled a score of 167 at the Crescent League alleys, last evening, which is by far the highest total reached by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Terry of Richmond street, are to be sympathized with in the loss of two of their children recently. The remaining two children are now dangerously ill with diphtheria.

The Press is credibly informed that the Elders and Trustees of the Dunellen Presbyterian church have tendered the Rev. Mr. Stinson, of Manalapan, N. J., a call to fill the pulpit left vacant by the Rev. Mr. Skellinger.

An evening sociable was held at the residence of Mr. G. W. Smalley, Green Brook, on Friday last. Prof. Frazee of this city, furnished the music for the thirty-five couples, who amused themselves by dancing and in various other ways.

A Contest for Department Commander.

The Twenty-third Annual Encampment of the Department of New Jersey, Grand Army of the Republic, will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week at Trenton. Commander-in-Chief Alger will be in attendance at the sessions of the Encampment the first day, and will be present at the camp-fire to be held at the Taylor Assembly Hall in the evening. Arrangements have also been made for a reception in General Alger's honor at the State House, the use of the Executive Chamber having been tendered by Governor Abbett for that purpose.

The prominent candidates for Department Commander already named are Col. H. W. Sawyer of Libby Prison fame, of Cape May; Gen'l John Ramsay of Jersey City, and Judge J. A. Rodrigo of Newark, with a strong probability that the first-mentioned comrade, backed by an almost unanimous vote of the South and West Jersey Posts, will win on the second ballot, the rules of the Encampment requiring a majority to elect.

Women's Estimate of Bachelors.

(From the Woman's Cycle.)

All women are in league against the bachelor—the married women from sympathy with their unmarried sisters and the unmarried from a desire to lessen the number of spinsters. With this league against him, offensive and defensive, the unmarried man may find peace in heaven, but he can scarce hope to find happiness on earth—this side of marriage. However, once married, all the bachelor's troubles are over. He is no longer the subject of interested or designing attentions—except the attentions which proceed from love.

True, the bachelor becomes on his marriage, if not an object of commiseration to the knowing ones, an object of comparative indifference to all women but one; but the superior love of that one atones for all, and his added dignity and completeness as a man and citizen make him wonder how he previously existed as one-half of a pair of scissors without the other half.

Mrs. Day's Mishap.

Mr. John Day of Cottage place, whose wife broke her leg by a fall on Saturday night, as recorded in The Press of yesterday, requests us to state that Mrs. Day was descending a flight of steps leading from the kitchen door when the accident occurred. Mrs. Day is doing well under the skillful treatment of Dr. Boone.

She Went Out Just the Same.

A colored servant girl employed by an East Fifth street family became obstreperous, early this morning, and it was found necessary to forcibly eject her from the premises. The woman refused to leave the house, and her employer set her baggage out on the back stoop.

—A large flock of blackbirds passed over the city on Sunday, going to the Northward. This would seem to indicate that Spring is approaching.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THEM?

THE CRESCENT LEAGUE'S NINE FOR THE COMING SEASON.

The Pick of Rahway's Celebrated Team, Combined With the Brooklyn L's Pitcher and Last Year's Famous Out Field.

Messrs Charles Leggett, Charles Burnet, and A. Waldron have engaged to represent Plainfield and the Cresent League in the ball field during the coming season, one of the strongest semi-professional nines ever combined in the State, and probably the best balanced in all its positions of any team that will play from anywhere in New Jersey during the year 1890. Here are the players:

Livingston, Pitcher.
Jones, Catcher.
Wiegand, First Base.
Lufbery, Second Base.
Martin, Short Stop.
Lee, Third Base.
McLaughlin, Left Field.
Demarest, Centre Field.
McMurray, Right Field.

That's the Crescent League's aggregation of base ballists for the coming season. That they are all right, is shown by a glance at their records. Livingston was the star pitcher on the Brooklyn L's great team of last year. He won more games against the strongest semi-professional teams of New York and elsewhere, than any other man in the box. He came high but the Crescent League had to have him. Up to a week ago, the managers spoken of above had an option on Harkins of the Somervilles, and would have closed with him had they not been able to sign Livingston.

The next four on the list, Jones, Wiegand, Lufbery and Martin, are the pick of last year's Rahway team the State champions. They beat every team that stood up against them, including the Metropolitans of New York. Martin out of 245 chances in the season, made only five errors; and Lufbery only missed seven chances out of 246. These with reliable Billy Lee, are rated by the records of last year, the very strongest infield ever made up in the State. They will form a stone wall that nothing will go through, and everything over their heads will be pulled down out of the air by that outfield which Plainfield has so much right and reason to be proud of.

In their admiration for the playing of Demarest, McMurray and McLaughlin, the grand stand and bleaching boards are actuated not only by patriotism but by appreciation. McMurray's record in the field, last season, was unexcelled; and McLaughlin proved he was just built for a ball player. Demarest is unequalled in judging a fly, covering the ground and throwing in. The people will be glad to learn that although more renowned fielders offered themselves, the Crescent team's managers have resolved on retaining the home outfield.

Games are being arranged for the entire season with the best semi-professional clubs of New York, Brooklyn and this State. These games will be played in Plainfield every Saturday. Base ball is so liberally patronized in this city, that it is just the nine should always play at home.

On Saturday evening of this week, the members of the team named above will be given a sort of reception at the Crescent League club house. Everyone belonging to the League is requested to be present and be introduced to the nine who will win glory for the blue pennant of the Crescents, next Summer.

To Extend the Telephone Service.

The work of extending the telephone line from this city to Bound Brook and beyond has already met with some opposition in the shape of a farmer who lives just beyond Bound Brook. In order to reach Bound Brook by a short route it will become necessary to plant six poles on the farmer's land, and for this privilege he wants the Telephone company to pay him $500. The matter will likely be settled in the Courts.

A Cent-a-Mile Law.

Assemblyman Tappen of Metuchen, is strongly urged to introduce a bill favoring the establishment of cent-a-mile railroad rates on all railroads running into New York and Philadelphia which have connecting points within the State. The idea sprang into life at Metuchen, where they wish that that village may take advantage of the Congressional bill providing for a free mail delivery in places of 1,000 population.

The High School Glee Club.

The singing of the school "Glee Club" promises to be an interesting part of the High School concert, on the evening of February 18. The Club, composed of a small number of the best singers, was organized early in the year and has been rehearsing regularly. So much interest has been manifested that it is hoped the club will become a permanent feature of the school life.

Vacancies in the Kitchen Garden.

The graduation of some of the girls into the "Cooking Class," has left a few vacancies in the Kitchen Garden classes, which are held at 4 o'clock on Monday and Thursday afternoons at the W. C. T. U. rooms, 73 West Front street, where applications may be made to Miss Alice Smith, the Superintendent.

The Death of James Lawson—The Burning of Howard Bird's Barn—And Other Doings in Dunellen.

Mrs. Dr. Tomlinson, the President of the Union County and Plainfield W. C. T. U., delivered an address in the W. C T.U. room at Dunellen last evening, on her experiences at the last National W. C. T. U. Convention at Chicago. Mrs. Tomlinson spoke for about one hour, greatly to the edification of a small but appreciative audience. Mrs. Robert Humpston, President of the Dunellen Union, presided, and Rev. L. E. Livermore, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, closed the exercises with an appropriate prayer.

James Lawson, aged about 70 years, died yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. Robert Lowrie. Mr. Lawson had long been a sufferer from physical ailments contracted in the late war, and six years ago applied to the Government for a pension. He had just received his pension certificate and died with it in his hand. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Lawson was a Scotchman by birth, he was firmly attached to the country of his adoption, and was one of the first to respond to the call for arms, having enlisted as early as April, 1861, in the 79th New York Regiment of Highlanders. He served three years in the Federal army and was one of the heroes of the first battle of Bull Run. Several years ago Mr. Lowrie took Mr. Lawson into his home and cared for him up to the time of his death. He leaves a daughter now in London.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church will hold a sociable to-morrow evening at the residence of Mr. Wm. H. Leach.

Howard Bird's barn and outbuildings near the Central Railroad tanks, were burned down last night. It was a favorite shelter for tramps. It contained no horses. All its contents were consumed.

LEGISLATION IN TRENTON.

Fighting the Winter Race Tracks—Mrs. Parnell Calls on Gov. Abbett.

Kalisch's bill to limit horse racing in the State to thirty days on any track has been amended so that racing will be permitted from May until November, but only for thirty days altogether. Men connected with the management of the Clifton, Guttenburg, and other tracks have written to members of the Legislature, saying that the bill is a "striker," and urging its defeat. Mr. Kalisch drew and introduced the bill himself, and he says the sporting men who run horses half or all the year around will find out how much of a "striker" the bill is. He intends, he says, to push the measure and have it passed.

"I like a horse race as well as any one," he said to-night, "but the outrages perpetrated on the courses in New Jersey should cease. Reputable associations like the Monmouth Park, for instance, do not care for more than thirty days of sport in a year."

The sentiment among the members in favor of the bill is very strong.

Mr. Potts' bill amending the divorce law so that persons deserted for a period of two years may apply for a severance of the marriage relation was passed by the House.

Mrs. Delia S. Parnell, the mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, was among the visitors in the Senate gallery. She carried her 74 years lightly, looking younger than many women of 60. She called on Gov. Abbett in the Executive chamber to ask his assistance in securing the passage of the Congressional bill providing a pension for her as the daughter of Commodore Stewart. The Governor assured her that he would exert his influence in her behalf.

A Different Kind of Veteran.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In Sunday's edition of the New York Tribune, I saw an article calling attention to the fight for the Street Commissionership, in which it says that the two aspirants are old veterans. We all know that Captain Hand is a veteran who served with distinction in the late war, but I fail to find that his opponent served during the war. The Tribune says: "Two old veterans, Hand and Angleman." I guess they mean that Angleman is a veteran office-holder.

G. A. R.

District Lodge, I. O. of G. T.

The District Lodge, I. O. of G. T., of Northern New Jersey, will meet in Elizabeth to-night as the guests of Ray of Hope Lodge, No. 6. It is expected that, besides the Grand officers, large delegations from all the sister lodges in Union and Essex counties will be present. The session will be held in Collet Hall, 206 Broad street, commencing at 8 o'clock sharp.

North Plainfield Township Committee Meeting.

The above committee held a meeting in Spencer's Hall, last evening, with President Coddington in the chair. All the members were present. The main business which came up for consideration was the auditing of about $1,700 in claims, many of which were sent in by the Overseer of the Poor.

They Back it Up.

The superior merits, as a blood-purifier and invigorating tonic, possessed by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, warrant its manufacturers in selling it (as they are doing through druggists) under a positive guarantee that, if given a fair trial, it will cure all diseases arising from a deranged or torpid liver, as indigestion, or dyspepsia, and all humors, or blood taints, from whatever cause arising, as skin, scalp or scrofulous affections. The terms are, a benefit or cure, or money returned.

REVERIES OF ONE OF THE PRESS' CRANKS.

The Cute and Caustic Things Evolved From His Think-Works.

One of our city hairdressers was heard to remark the other day, that he would either succeed in business or deliberately dye in the attempt.

It's a wise fool who knows he is one and will acknowlege the fact when reminded of it, but a woman possessing a well-formed figure, who persists in violating the rules of common sense and the laws of nature by compressing her waist so as to resemble a miniature isthmus, and jamming her No. 5 feet into No. 3 shoes, is a consummate fool whether she knows it or not

Who is there that can "do justice" to an average Sunday newspaper, and attend church or keep up an acquaintance with his family if he has one?

It is a positive fact that many poor children of our beautiful city are squeezed out of—or prevented from attending—some of our Sunday schools, by the persistant demands made upon them for money.

As successful a church as there is in this State—financially as well as in other respects—is one in which no collections are ever taken in the public congregation, except the "usual" basket collection.

A young man who has been "waiting" on a young lady on East Third street, for several years, took a bottle of soda water with him the other night so that they could have a social drink together. When he shoved the wire off of the top of the cork and hit the bottom of the bottle a whack, the stopper flew across the room. "Oh! Jim," said she—"I love that, 'cause it pops." In just 3 minutes and 4 seconds the business was all settled satisfactory to both parties.

A Hack-neyed phrase: "Ride up?"

The man who "ran away with the idea" that THE PRESS was not the best advertising medium in this city, was arrested just the other side of Scotch Plains, yesterday morning, brought back and is now in safe custody. It is proposed to commit him to an insane asylum.

There isn't much difference between a Colorado beetle and a lager beer glass. One is a mere bug, and the other is a beer mug.

An electrical engineer was heard singing the other day, a song entitled—"I'm going home to dy-na-mo."

It is a case of deliberate suicide when a man hangs himself of his own free will and a cord.

It is in order now to howl because of the utter and irretrievable ruin of this year's peach crop.

Union County Courts.

Court of Special Sessions convened at Elizabeth at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Judges VanSyckel, McCormick, Hyer and Wiley on the bench.

The case of the State vs. Philip Beyer of Westfield, was at once called and a jury impanelled. Beyer, who was represented by General Fay, stood charged with having on October last committed an assault and battery on one Ferdinand Dietzel, a farmer residing at Rahway. The trouble is said to have resulted on account of chickens belonging to Dietzel going on to Beyer's property. Witnesses were called to testify in Dietzel's behalf. All of them said that his face had been battered up, but none saw the alleged assault. The case was closed near noon time and the jury returned shortly afterwards with a verdict of guilty.

There being no further business to be transacted, Court adjourned.

That Government Contract.

The Elizabeth Journal yesterday, in speaking of the big contract which the Pond Machine Tool company of this city has entered into with the Government, says editorially:

"Plainfield is to have a big contract too. The Pond Tool Works are to build a lot of tools for the war department. Between Elizabeth and Plainfield; S. L. Moore & Sons Co. in the former and the Pond Tool Co. in the latter; Uncle Sam can have the best kind of work done at the most reasonable prices. It is a great pity he didn't look this way before. New Jersey isn't large, but sometimes the biggest trout are caught in the smallest streams."

At Music Hall To-night.

Herrmann, the magician, who appears at Music Hall, this evening, has invented a process that would be a boon to bank presidents, theatrical managers and others. Whenever a man, woman or child asks him for a pass to his entertainment he appears greatly flattered, and writes one with a flourish and a sweet smile of welcome, and includes in it the entire family of the applicant. The ink lasts about five minutes, then fades entirely out, and what looked like a pass is only a blank card. Then the applicant wishes Herrmann would cremate himself.

Struck by a Central Engine.

On Sunday night a team of mules belonging to a farmer who resides at White House station on the New Jersey Central Railroad, was struck by a locomotive at that place and both of the animals were killed. The driver was also badly injured.

Valvular Disease of Heart.

A Desperate Character Captured.

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb 11.—Samuel D. Wayman, wanted at Springwater, N. Y., on three indictments for chloroforming and robbery, was arrested here by Sheriff Hampton, of Genesee, N. Y. He is now in the Venango County jail awaiting requisition papers. Miss Guild, a maiden lady, of Livingston County, N. Y., was one of his victims.

Escaping Prisoners Shot.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 11.—Samuel Hyser and James Cole, prisoners in the county jail at Erie, Kansas, were shot and killed by Jailer Ellis, while trying to make their escape. The two men had tried to overpower Ellis, but he drew his revolver and shot them before they could get away.

NOTES ON GARDENING.

CAREFULLY hand-pick the garden seeds you saved last season, saving only the perfect ones.

NO ONE who intends to have a first-class garden should neglect the compost. Garden crops like compost.

IT takes considerable care and time to prepare the soil for garden purposes, but it must be done if we expect good crops.

A GOOD garden will go a long way toward cheaply supplying the table of the suburban or village family with good, wholesome food.

A RULE for planting all kinds of garden vegetable seeds is to cover them with earth of a thickness four times the diameter of the seeds.

THE way to win a battle is to plan your campaign. The way to have a good garden is to think the matter over and lay your plans during the winter.

GARDENING is profitable when the soil is not of too cold a nature and the market is not at too great a distance. One of the essentials is to plant early and to grow nothing but good varieties.

THE garden fence should inclose twice the land needed for the garden, says a writer. One-half should be seeded down while the rest is in garden crops, thus providing for a rotation and renewal of fertility.

A GOOD garden, well supplied with choice varieties of vegetables and fruits, is one of the greatest luxuries of the farm and household. There is no farmer but can afford to have a garden and take care of it in the best possible manner.

IN the garden a good seed drill adapted to sowing the various kinds of garden seeds will do much better work and in much less time than is possible by hand, as the seed can all be sown in straight rows and distributed much more evenly in the row.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH

Her Majesty Outlines the Government's Programme.

IMPROVING IRELAND'S STATE.

A Land Purchase Bill Providing for Local Government Will Be Introduced.

The Duc d'Orleans Will Be Sentenced and Pardoned—Seventy of the Colliery Victims Buried—No $1 Notes for England—Sympathy With the Pope—Minister Pendleton's Remains.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—There were the usual crowds to-day at the opening of Parliament, and the leaders of the respective parties were enthusiastically cheered, Gladstone and Parnell receiving the lion's share. It was noticeable that all of the Irish members were present.

The Queen's speech sets forth that the troubles with Portugal have been settled. The papers relating to Samoa and the extradition treaty with the United States are laid before Parliament for approval. Ireland, Her Majesty states, will demand a prominent place in the attention of Parliament. Since the adjournment of the last session there has been a marked diminution of agrarian crime in Ireland in consequence of which the Government has decreased the number of counties wherein the exceptional law known as the Crimes Act is enforced. The Government will also introduce for Ireland a Land Purchase bill providing for local government, besides other measures designed to improve material interests of Ireland. For England there will be introduced a Land Transfer bill and Employers' Liability bill. For Scotland measures will be introduced to improve the dwellings of workingmen, and to alleviate the distressed condition of the Highlands.

Burial of Colliery Victims.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The burial of the bodies of seventy of the colliers, who were killed by the explosion in the Aberaychan mine, in Monmouthshire, last Thursday, took place yesterday. The scene in itself was extremely impressive, but the weeping and wailing of the hundreds of widows and orphans, whose manifestations of grief were unrestrained, marked the occasion as one not to be forgotten by the beholder. As the procession started for the church it was headed by a choir of men and boys, who, mingling with the cries and groans of the mourners, produced an effect which the least emotional bystander was powerless to withstand. The shops in the town were all closed, and during the burial ceremonies business of every kind was suspended.

Disposing of the Duc d'Orleans.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The Government has decided that, upon the arraignment of the Duc d'Orleans on Wednesday, he shall be sentenced to two years' imprisonment. After the sentence is pronounced President Carnot will pardon the royal prisoner, at the same time ordering that he be conducted to the frontier.

Mrs. Phelps Presented to the Empress.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Mrs. William Walter Phelps, was presented to the Dowager Empress Frederick at the latter's palace here. Countess Szechenyi, wife of the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, and Count von Seckendorff, of the Empress' household, made the presentation.

Bringing Mr. Pendleton's Body Home.

MADEIRA, Feb. 11.—The United States steamer Enterprise, having on board the body of the late United States Minister to Germany, Mr. George H. Pendleton, sailed from this port for Bermuda.

Will Not Visit America.

PARIS, Feb. 11.—The announcement is made that the Count of Paris will return to England, he having abandoned his contemplated tour of America. The mother of the Duke of Orleans, now imprisoned in this city, has arrived here.

Bankers Opposed It.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The Financial News says the proposed issue of £1 silver notes by the Bank of England has been abandoned, on account of the opposition of the leading bankers.

An Outbreak Looked For.

GLASGOW, Feb. 11.—The dock laborers at Dundee have struck. The men are orderly, but an outbreak is looked for.

The Jubilee Plunger Free.

NICE, Feb. 11.—Benzon, the jubilee plunger, arrested for forgery, has been released from prison.

Cora Grimes' Murderer on Trial.

ALBION, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Eugene Emery, who murdered Cora Grimes, on June 24 last, is now on trial here. The defense will be insanity. Emery, who is about 44 years of age, was employed as a farm laborer by John Grimes. He fell in love with Cora, who was but 14 years of age; but she gave him no encouragement. On the day of the murder Farmer Grimes went to Kenyonville, leaving at home his daughter and Emery. The latter made love to Cora but she refused to listen to him. Emery then procured a stick of wood and, without any warning, crushed the girl's skull. The man fled but gave himself up the next day.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 11.—At the meeting of City Councils an ordinance, providing for the acceptance from Andrew Carnegie, of a free library, was introduced. A communication from Mr. Carnegie, addressed to the Mayor and Councils of Pittsburg, accompanied the ordinance.

In his letter Mr. Carnegie offers to expend not less than $1,000,000, and proposes a central library building with four or five branches located in various parts of the city.

Mr. Carnegie proposes that the location and erection of the buildings, management, etc., shall be entrusted to a board of trustees, composed of the mayor of the city, presidents of Select and Common Council, president of the Central Board of Education and a library committee of five, appointed by the councils. The Syndicate Will Control the Leather Industries of Newark, N. J.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 11.—The work of scaling down the prices fixed by leather manufacturers for their establishments in this city in the negotiations with the English syndicate has been practically completed and the total sum, which is about $6,000,000, exclusive of the expenses of the transaction, will probably stand. The figures submitted by the manufacturers are supposed to be based upon the profit made during the last three or four years.

Now that the total has been settled it still remains for experts to go over the books of the several manufacturers and find whether there have been absolute profits to correspond with the prices named. The experts sailed from Liverpool on Wednesday and are expected to begin their examination immediately upon their arrival here. If everything is satisfactory the purchase price will be paid in the course of a month or so

Mr. Hitt, of Albany, suggested that the bill be changed so as to recommend Albany as the spot for holding the fair. Judge Robertson suggested that the Committee adjourn over until to-morrow morning, and the Democrats voted for it with the Republicans. After the session the Democrats discovered that this move had been made by the direction of Mr. Platt so as to allow the Fair Committee, which meets in New York to-day, to pass resolutions endorsing one of the bills.

Labor Unions in Council.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 11.—Nearly 200 delegates were present at the State eight-hour meeting. The stone-cutters, carpenters and plumbers favored immediate action, but the printers urged delay. The general opinion of other trades was that the League should become an educational body, allowing each locality to decide for itself as to the number of hours for work.

A RELIGIOUS RIOT

Protestant Evangelists Attacked by a Howling Mob.

SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.

The Police Powerless and the Mayor and Aldermen Stoned.

French Canadians Lead the Attack—Crowds March Through the Streets Armed with Revolvers—Windows Demolished and Two Women Fatally Injured—Militia Held in Readiness.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 12.—The city of Hull, across the Ottawa River from here, was the scene of one of the most disgraceful riots ever chronicled in Canada last night.

A small band of Protestant Evangelists from Ottawa were attacked by a howling mob of nearly a thousand French Canadians, who were armed with revolvers, shot guns, sticks and stones. Five persons were wounded—three seriously.

It appears that the Evangelists, some twenty in number, including four or five ladies, some time ago announced that they would hold evangelical services in Hull, which is inhabited almost entirely by French Roman Catholics. They were warned that serious trouble would result, but, in spite of the warning, visited that city last night and began religious services in a small mission hall.

In another portion of the city a crowd of the roughest characters congregated and marched through the streets, armed with revolvers, shotguns and all kinds of missiles. The crowd increased in numbers with great rapidity until they reached the street in front of mission hall, where over a thousand of the infuriated crowd hung about the building swearing vengeance on the little band inside.

The police were powerless to disperse the mob. The mayor and two aldermen who tried to address the crowd were stoned and severely injured, and the appearance of one of the Evangelists at the window was a signal for a shower of stones. Doors and windows were demolished and the howling mob rushed in, firing their revolvers as they went. Five of the Evangelists, including two ladies, were seriously if not fatally injured. The rest escaped through a back window and beat a hasty retreat to Ottawa.

The outrage has created tremendous excitement here and the prompt action of the police alone prevented an armed force of Protestant citizens of this city from wreaking vengeance on the French Canadians.

The matter will be brought up in Parliament. The militia have orders to turn out at a moment's notice to prevent further trouble.

ATTACKED BY HIGHBINDERS.

A Writer's Articles Denouncing Fan-Tan Enrages the Murderous Society.

NEW YORK, Feb 12.—There seems to be no doubt that the Highbinders have determined to murder Wong Chin Foo, and that an attempt has already been made by them on his life.

Wong is a brilliant young American-ized Chinaman, and has gained quite a reputation as a writer.

His latest and best story, "The Mandarian's Daughter," written for the National Press Company of this city, and shortly to be issued by that Company, is a work that shows great ability. Wong has also contributed several articles exposing fan-tan games, and it is for these that the highbinders are after him.

"Thursday afternoon," Wong says, "a newspaper reporter and I stopped at Wac High's place, No. 19 Mott street. Wac High is said to be a middleman between the fan-tan players and the police, and upon my entrance he began to upbraid me for having written a story about the opening of a new fan-tan shop. I admitted having written the story, but claimed that it was true, whereupon Wong Hock jumped forward, and seizing me by the throat commenced to choke me, at the same time saying: 'I'll cut your head off if you write such things as that. It is all a lie.'

"'I can prove it,' I said, although I was becoming black in the face, and a fierce struggle ensued. The reporter took a hand and helped me to get out, or I would have had a hard time of it at the hands of my enraged countrymen. The next day I went to the Tombs Court to swear out a warrant for the arrest of my assailants. Before I had time to approach the Judge I was met by Lawyer Edmund Price, to whom I told my story.

"'Well, I'll bet $2 that you don't get a warrant,' said the lawyer, 'for I am here to look out for Wong Hock.'

"'Of course you are,' I said, 'because he brings you all the Chinese cases to look after.'

"When I went up before Judge McMahon that official laughed and said that he would only grant a summons for the appearance of Wong Hock in court."

JACKSON DECLINES.

He is Surprised at Sullivan's Offer to Meet Him To-Night.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Jack Barnett, John L. Sullivan's manager, made a formal offer to Peter Jackson that if the latter would stand before the champion three rounds at Cronheim's Theatre, Hoboken, this evening, he might have Sullivan's share of the gate receipts, which, it is estimated, will amount to about $1,000.

Jackson declined the offer and said that he was surprised that Sullivan should have made it. "When he is out of his trouble with the Mississippi authorities," said Jackson, "I hope to meet him in a finish fight, and shall try to prove myself a worthy foe."

W. Hull, who has been a large coal and wood dealer, were issued to the amount of $33,235. His liabilities, it is thought, will aggregate nearly $100,000.

Meeting of Tobacco Growers.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., Feb. 12.—A large meeting of tobacco growers and dealers was held here, at which speeches were made and a petition to Congress adopted in favor of a specific duty of $1.50 per pound on Sumatra tobacco.

A Famous Lawyer Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The dead body of General John A. Foster, the man who conducted the prosecution of Mrs. Surratt, and who witnessed her execution, was found lying upon the floor of a little back room in the rear of No. 1,784 Broadway by his friend, Herman Albert. WASHINGTON TOPICS

The House Refuses to Shut Off Debate on the Rules.

A VOTE TO BE TAKEN ON FRIDAY

Mr. Cannon Congratulates Mr. Springer Upon His Successful Leadership.

Telegraph Service for the People Proposed by the Postmaster-General—Postoffices to be Connected by Wire—The Opponents of the Blair Educational Bill Predict Its Defeat.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Visitors to the gallery of the House enjoyed another small row upon the floor.

Upon opening the session Mr. Cannon tried to put through a resolution to shut off debate on the new code of rules. Immediately a score of the Democrats were upon their feet offering vigorous protests.

Cannon demanded the previous question, but the House would not sustain this demand, and many Republicans voting against it, it was rejected by a vote of 58 to 149.

Mr. Springer then offered a resolution providing that general debate shall proceed until adjournment to-day, after which the code shall be considered under the five-minute rule until 5 o'clock Friday, when the previous question shall be considered as ordered.

The resolution was adopted without objection, and Mr. Cannon good-naturedly crossed over to the Democratic side and congratulated his colleague upon its success.

The Postal Telegraph Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Postmaster-General has prepared a bill on postal telegraphy based on the four bills which had been introduced in the House this session on the same subject. He proposes to begin the experiment by establishing postal communication between the 400 free delivery offices in the country, and to gradually extend the service to smaller offices. Mr. Wannamaker believes that the scheme should be tried for ten years on leased wires.

Predicting Defeat for the Blair Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The enemies of the Blair bill in the Senate now claim to have 43 votes promised against the measure with three Senators doubtful. Forty-one negative votes will be enough to defeat it.

LEGISLATION AT ALBANY.

Bills Passed and Introduced by the Senate and Assembly.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 12.—The following bills were passed by the Senate: The Seneca Electric Railway bill. Clark and Upjohn (ceiling expert) Claim bill appropriating $40,000 for the Oneonta normal school. Appropriating $10,000 for the new Paltz normal school.

The following bills were passed by the Assembly: Relating to the Malone water works. Perfecting the title of the Plattsburg Normal school site.

The following bills were introduced: Allowing the Supervisor of Otsego County to borrow $40,000 to pay indebtedness relative to salaries of Judges of Westchester County. Putting the Dock Department of New York city under the control of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. Fixing the size of hop boxes at 3 feet long, 26 inches deep and 18 inches wide. Exempting from taxation incorporated libraries, missionary societies, homes, hospitals, etc., for the free relief of the sick, infirm or indigent. A revision appropriating $11,826 for counsel in last year's investigation of Assembly ceiling. Appropriating $1,500 for a stone culvert over the Erie Canal at Rome.

Bogus Ballots.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 12.—The developments in the ballot box investigation promise to prove some of the worst ballot box frauds ever perpetrated in Jersey. Senator McDonald is boiling over with indignation at the disclosures. He says he was assured that everything was straight, and that the committee would not discover any frauds whatever. He feels like resigning his seat. He says the election officers in those two precincts are guilty of fraud, or else the disclosures are due to their ignorance and stupidity. No one believes that the Senator had any knowledge of the frauds. He is very much respected here even by his political opponents.

The Emery Murder Trial.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 12.—The attendance in the Albion court at the Emery murder trial was large. Albert Grimes testified as to the words that passed between Emery and the murdered girl before he struck the fatal blow. John Grimes and his wife, the parents of the dead girl were also examined as well as several less important witnesses. The people rested their case and the defense was opned by Thomas A. Kirley.

Employing Non-Union Cutters.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 12.—Spaulding & Company have obtained more new cutters every day until now they have thirty at work, despite the efforts of the strikers to persuade the men not to go to work. Cold Weather Precautions.

ABSENT CITIZENS HEARD FROM.

Dr. Field and Frank Searles Dined and Feted by the King of the Sandwich Islands.

(From the Herald of Florence, Kansas.)

Frank R. Searles, son of Mrs. E. M. Butler, accompanied by Dr. C. M. Field, arrived in our city last Saturday morning. These gentlemen have just completed a six months tour through New Zealand, Australia, Samoa, Tasmania, Sandwich Islands and other foreign countries.

While in Australia they received the highest honors and attention by the magnates of that country. On the Sandwich Islands they were dined and feted by the King. Mr. Searles will visit his mother for several months, and prepare for his graduation from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, this Spring.

Dr. Field is a noted M. D. in the East, and has performed some of the most difficult operations on record. While in Australia he performed one extremely difficult and delicate operation successfully, which called forth the highest praise and commendation from the medical fraternity.

Dr. Field, finding this climate rather cold for him, left for Florida last Monday.

The Executive session of the United States, yesterday confirmed the nomination of Mr. L. M. Whitaker as Postmaster at Westfield.

Mr. John Harkins, the mainstay of the West End base ball club of Somerville, was in the city last evening. Harkins promises some fine work for next season.

Vice President Burnet, Captain Davis and Mr. Howard Emerson will represent the Crescent League of Plainfield, at the big tournament of the Union Athletic Club, in Boston, Saturday evening. They will, however, take no active part in any of the contests.

Mr. Charles Wann, who introduced electric lights, the telephone and messenger service, and inaugurated other incentives to the growth of this city and North Plainfield where he lived so many years, has recently connected himself with the New York office of the Union Mutual Life Insurance company, of which Mr. John M. Crane is Manager.

Mr. Thomas Hale, Jr., of this city, who entered Trinity College at Hartford, last September, was called home by his father on account of ill health by the advice of his physician the latter part of November, and most of the time since he has been home under the doctor's care. He is now much better and has entered the University of the City of New York, carrying with him a certificate from the President of Trinity College, testifying to his good and honorable standing in that institution. By this arrangement he is enabled to board at home, going into the city in the morning and returning in the afternoon.

Death of a Leading Rahway Physician.

Dr. Israel Lukens, a widely known homœopathic physician, died at Rahway, N. J., Sunday morning, of ulcer of the stomach, from which he had suffered for three months. Dr. Lukens, although in his eightieth year, attended regularly to his large practice until his last illness began. His treatment of cancers gave him a wide reputation. The funeral services were held at his late home, Main street, Rahway, this afternoon, and to-morrow the body will be taken to Upper Dublin, Montgomery county, Pa., for interment.

Coal Thieving.

Complaint has frequently been made against certain persons who have been in the habit of stealing coal from the Central Railroad Company in this city, and Special Officer Hope was recently detailed to watch the coal cars standing on the siding near Richmond street. Yesterday, officer Hope discovered two women and three boys in the act of stealing coal, and he took their names. The names will be given to Detective Large of the Central Railroad, and some arrests are likely to follow.

Patronize the Bazaar.

Commuters and others on their way home from New York, to-morrow evening, and all those persons who want to patronize a charitable undertaking, would do well to stop in at the Bazaar in the Chautauqua building and obtain an appetizing meal at reasonable rates. The bill of fare will include cold turkey, chicken and ham, salads, pickled oysters, home-made pies, cakes and candies, iced cream, tea, coffee, lemonade, etc.

Wrecked at the Central Station.

A horse belonging to a gentleman named Moore of North Plainfield, became frightened at the cars near the Central Railroad station, last evening, and attempted to run away. In doing so the animal struck a coupe owned by a Mrs. Page of West Sixth street, wrecking the back of the vehicle.

Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

A meeting of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick was held in St. Mary's T. A. B. Hall, last evening, with Mr. Andrew E. Kenney in the chair. The matter of holding a banquet on St. Patrick's Day was talked over, and a number of new applications for membership were received.

DOCKWATCH HOLLOW.

A Tale of Olden Times in Plainfield's Vicinity—A Glen in Washington Valley Where the Sun Seldom Shines—It is the Grave of a Good Man.

Sometime ago a correspondent inquired through The Press, why a point in Washington Valley, about seven miles back of Plainfield, was called "Dockwatch Hollow." A reporter assigned for the purpose has gleaned the following story:

About the middle of the last century, a sturdy Hollander by the name of Dockwatch, came to this country. Being a man in the prime of life, he hoped to found a home in this, then sparsely settled part of New Jersey, which was then only a colony. Having considerable money, he bought a large tract of land in which was included a portion of the Wachung mountains, between two spurs of which is situated the famous hollow or glen.

So high and abrupt are the sides of this canon, that it is only on the long Summer days that the sun shines into the narrow gorge, and then only for a short time about midday. Ice is often found therein in Summer.

Here Dockwatch built a house on what was once the site of the old Indian village of Mohegian—broken peices of pottery and numbers of arrow heads being frequently discovered every year since. Sheltered on the North by the mountains, Dockwatch was well protected from the rigors of Winter winds. Along the stream that flows through the hollow and empties in the Raritan river, he built a grist mill as well as a distillery—traces of which can be seen from the main road. Everything then was known as Dockwatch's. It was his mill that ground the yeoman's wheat for their families, and his still that turned the surplus corn into whiskey. Politicians did not then pretend to worry about "protection" for the farmer and his sons. Being all settled and prosperous, Dockwatch sent to Holland for his wife and child, but the ship on which they took passage was never heard from.

On that spot, so few miles from this thriving city, the honest sons of toil exchanged their views in the troublous days of the colonies, untramelled by fear. There a spirit of independence was promulgated, and a well-known Tory, who was caught listning to their sentiments, was given a "ride on a rail." Here a company was raised to the support of the young Republic, with its noble leader after whom the valley is named. There the patriot soldiers and their officers ever found a welcome when they came to recruit; but their number grew smaller, until but a dozen of them returned to their homes at the close of hostilities. Thus did this section supply her quota to the cause of liberty.

Dockwatch, ever a friend and sympathizer in the struggle for freedom, willingly gave of his means and influence to the cause of which he was not to be a partaker. Just before the close of the struggle, he was taken ill of a fever and died. Back in the shade of the hollow under some giant oaks, they laid all that was mortal of the old miller. After the sad and simple rites were over, his effects were taken charge of by the county and no heirs have presented any claim.

Merely by his name is the memory of this man forever honored, while marble crumbles to decay. His goodness of heart is daily told of to the children around the open fire-place, and to his grave—which is known far and wide as Dockwatch Hollow—scores of tourists make a Summer pilgrimage.

LAY JUDGES USELESS.

An Elizabeth Board Thinks So, and Would Also Cut Public Expenses.

Elizabeth's Board of Trade held a long session Monday night and spent much time in denouncing the lay Judges of the County Court as useless, expensive figure-heads for the taxpayers to support. The appointment of a county detective at a salary of $1,000 per year, an interpreter at $600 and sixteen constables at $2 per day was likewise fiercely condemned.

A resolution was passed that it was the sense of the Board that all measures before the Legislature having for their object the increase of salaries for either county or State officials are radically wrong, and should be defeated. The Legislative Committee of the Board was directed to use every effort to bring about defeat. The Board put itself on record as approving Mayor Rankin's enforcement of the Sunday-closing law.

A Social Gathering.

About forty persons, young and old, enjoyed an evening of uninterrupted pleasure at the home of Mr. Samuel Smalley on Randolph Road, on Thursday evening last, the occasion being a sociable given by Mr. and Mrs. Randolph to their friends.

During the evening the guests were favored with some fine vocal and instrumental music by Mrs. Nathan Randolph, Mrs. Reaton and Miss Minnie Smalley. The latter as an amateur pianist is certainly adept in her manipulations of the ivories. There were also vocal selections rendered by other members of the party, to the evident delight of all present. A bountiful collation was served during the evening.

ON WHAT IS JOHN'S EYE FIXED?

A Well Known Plainfielder Turns Up On His Old Tramping Grounds, With a Mission Enveloped in Mystery.

THE PRESS learns that Mr. John J. Enright, so-long a resident of this city, and to whom for a considerable time the "Man About Town" paragraphs in the New York Star have been credited, has been covering his old-time tramping grounds in Detroit for several weeks past, and the purpose of his presence has been a popular conundrum.

His mission has been enveloped in mystery at least a foot thick and impenetrable. The lack of information as to his intentions has given rise to all sorts of conjectures. The fact that he possesses a hand of the sleekest Italian type, when it is turned to political manipulation, first provoked the explanation that he had come at the behest of ex-Postmaster General Dickinson, to promote a proposed organization of the local Democracy a la Tammany.

Dame Rumor has also named him as one of a syndicate of gentlemen of the Democratic faith who propose to buy or establish an afternoon daily paper, which should be aggressive in its championship of St. Jackson's political code. The latest conjecture is that Mr. Euright has his eye fixed on the shrievalty, an election for which is but a little distance in the future. Of one thing, those who known him are certain, and it is that at the right time he will prove he has not been away from the metropolis for nothing.

SEVEN TEAMS IN THE CENTRAL LEAGUE.

Elizabeth Enters and Lessens Westfield's Chances, but Plainfield is Sure of a Prize.

The Elizabeth Athletic Club has reconsidered its previous decision, and at the urgent solicitation of President Burnet will enter a team in the Central Bowling League tournament.

This won't suit the Westfield and Somerville teams who are afraid of the Elizabeths; but Mr. Burnet has so much faith in the ability of the Plainfield Crescent League team to take first place, he doesn't care who are in the fight for the second and third prizes.

The League now consists of seven clubs—the Crescents of Plainfield, the Olympics of Plainfield, Mondays and Nameless of Westfield, Somersets of Somerville, and the Fanwood and Elizabeth clubs. The tournament will consist of 36 games, and the schedule will be given in THE PRESS as soon as arranged.

Ice in Any Event.

Should the weather fail to produce ice there are several men in this city ready to organize themselves into a company and procure an ice freezing machine, that will produce from 20 to 30 tons of ice per day, at a cost of about $8 per ton or 40 cents per hundred retail. The enterprise will cost about $25,000.

Some of the hotel proprietors in this city are also talking of putting in ice freezing machines, but the enterprise is costly, and it is more than likely that if such a thing is undertaken, it will be by a stock concern.

New Bicycle Rules.

The new rules adopted by the L. A. W. Racing Board prevent cyclists from accepting expenses from clubs. This rule is aimed at the wealthy athletic clubs in New York and vicinity which have robbed the cycling clubs of their racing men. Should the Amateur Athletic Union fail to indorse the resolution recently adopted by its Committee on Rules and Regulations, and which provides that athletic clubs shall pay competitors' expenses only to championship events, a big fight between the League and the Union is unavoidable.

Taken to State Prison.

Sheriff Glasby of Elizabeth, took to Trenton yesterday for ten years John Russell, alias "McCechney," the New York thief convicted of burglary. His chum, Charles McDermott, alias "Dutch Harmon," who is in a cell at Elizabeth Police Headquarters, has confessed to his participation in the crimes for which Russell was punished. McDermott will be arraigned to-morrow before Judge McCormick.

A State Prison Offence.

During yesterday some miscreant threw a lighted match and a wad of paper into the letter box at the corner of Broadway and Ninth street, thereby nearly destroying two letters. The act is a State Prison offence, and if the offender is caught he will doubtless spend a long term there. The authorities have been notified and an effort will be made to capture the criminal.

How to be Always Right.

The Elizabeth Journal is welcome to anything it wants in these columns; but brother, please don't lift from THE PRESS and credit it as someone's else. The only safe rule is for exchanges to credit everything regarding Plainfield, to this paper.

Committed to the County Jail.

Andrew Patterson, the man who pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct on Monday, was yesterday committed to the County Jail for twenty days by Judge Codington, in default of payment of a ten dollar fine imposed.

—The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Dunellen Presbyterian church, will have a sociable at the home of Mr. Wm. H. Leach, to-morrow evening.

By Assemblyman Marsh (for the Judiciary Committee) Provides for the creation of a board of registration and examination in dentistry. The board is to be composed of five resident and practicing dentists of the State. The present members of the board of examiners to hold until the first Tuesday in October next, when members of the new board will come in power. The State Dental Society shall recommend the five members of the board and the Governor shall appoint them. The term shall be five years, and shall be so provided that of the new members a term shall expire every year so that a vacancy will occur every year for five years. The appointee thereto to fill such vacancy being for a full term of five years. This board shall have full power to examine and license those who wish to practice dentistry, and no one can practice such profession without a license from the board. Power is given to force its provisions by penalty.

By Senator Cranmer. An act regulating peddlers, requiring them to be licensed, licenses to be issued to only citizens of the United States and who have been at least one year resident of the country; $500 bonds required; annual fee for foot peddling, $50; with one horse, $100; with two or more horses, $150. The penalty for violation is $500 fine, one year's imprisonment, or both.

VANSICKEL AND SCUDDER.

Both Reappointed to the Supreme Court Bench, and Unanimously Confirmed.

Governor Abbett sent to the Senate yesterday afternoon his first sealed communication this session. It contained the names of Bennet VanSyckle and Edward W. Scudder, whom the Governor nominated for new terms on the Supreme Court bench. They were first appointed in 1869.

The Senate went into executive session soon afterwards and gave the two judges the honor of unanimous confirmation. Thus ends the speculation as to the disposition of two important offices, which has for months occupied the attention of politicians. Judge Scudder's reappointment was assured, but there was doubt as to whether Judge VanSyckel would succeed himself, as ex-Governor Green had the refusal of the office for himself. The unanimous desire of the press and the people, however, has been acceded to by Governor Abbett in the reappointment of Judge VanSyckel.

END OF THE PLAINFIELD CHESS CLUB.

New Brunswick Players Will Follow This City's Players' Example.

The annual tournament of the New Jersey State Chess Association held on the 22d inst., (Washington's Birthday), will take place this year at New Brunswick. The citizens of that place, in imitation of the good example set by Plainfield last year, offer a special prize, on terms to be announced at time of meeting.

Plainfield players who wish to go, are informed that the business meeting is at 9 o'clock. Playing in the tournament will commence about an hour later. Those who can are requested to bring their own boards and men. The club of this city is going to dispose of its property on the evening of the 18th, and cease to exist.

Shot by His Six-Year-Old Cousin.

Nathaniel Swain, six years old, was shot and almost instantly killed yesterday morning at Summit, N. J., by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of his cousin, George Cisco, also aged six years.

The children were playing in a room alone when the Cisco boy found a gun under the bed. While pulling it out the trigger caught in the bed clothing and the gun exploded, the full charge entering the Swain child's breast. His grandmother ran into the room and found the child lying dead on the floor.

Manager Root's Daughter to Wed.

Handsome invitations are out for the wedding on February 18, in Christ church, Elizabeth, at 7:30 P. M., of Miss Lauretta, eldest daughter of Manager C. M. Root, of the New Jersey Telephone Exchange, and Wm. C Schwartz. A brilliant reception will follow the ceremony at 340 Fay avenue, the home of the bride's parents.

$500 offered for an incurable case of Catarrh by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy. 50 cents, by druggists.

Voted to Adopt a City Charter.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Feb. 12.—At a special town election the citizens voted to adopt a city charter. The vote was 532 to 786. Less than half the voters of the town appeared at the polls, and the result is a surprise. The charter will give the Republicans control though the Democrats have hitherto had 400 majority. The charter goes into effect on Jan. 1, 1891.

Stay of Proceedings for a Murderer.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Application for a new trial has been made in the case of murderer Chapleau, which will act as a stay of proceedings until the Court of Appeals decides as to the constitutionality of the Electric Execution law. He was to have been executed during the week beginning March 3, and he is now confined at Clinton Prison.

STRANGE AND STRIKING.

FIVE red-haired girls gave a white horse bazar at Williamsport in the cause of charity.

A RICH and eccentric Spaniard is going to fit out a ship and see if he can't discover a new continent in the Pacific ocean.

GOVERNOR JOSEPH C. YATES, of New York, was buried in 1837 at Schenectady. The other day the body, when taken up for reburial in New York City, was found to be petrified.

A CHICAGO lady gathered some Spanish moss in Florida and brought it North with her. She hung it on a chandelier in her parlor, and it bloomed in the room. The moss retained its vitality for over a year.

IN the cemetery of one of the churches of Philadelphia there is planted the lower limb of a prominent Grand Army man, who religiously visits the place on each holiday to festoon the burial place of the deceased member.

AN aged lady of Elmwood, near Cincinnati, being taken ill while out driving, requested her driver to take her to the office of an undertaker whom she well knew. He did so, and she died a few minutes after her arrival.

THERE is a curiosity along the Fairmont, Morgantown & Pittsburgh railroad, about six miles above town, worth noticing. Two sycamore trees, standing about ten feet apart, are joined together by a limb fifteen inches in diameter.

A SOUTH CAROLINA man who was curious to know just how much stuff an alligator could get away with when he felt well, fed out a hind quarter of a cow, seven chickens, a sheep, four geese and a hog's head before the reptile backed water.

AT Springfield, Mass., last Christmas Eve a generous man, who refused to let his name be known, instructed the police to send "all the deserving poor" in the city to King's market, where each would receive a turkey at his expense. Two hundred turkeys were distributed.

THIS is the age of discovery. In the back of an old looking-glass a deed is found which will make the owner the proprietor of a big slice of the State of New York. And now two hundred letters written by the mother of Goethe to her son have come to light in a library at Weimar.

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthful in food, and dries up the brain material.

PARNELL'S VICTORY

The Forged Letters Discussed in the Commons.

GLADSTONE ASKS FOR JUSTICE

The Government Satisfied that the Irish Leader Was Innocent.

A Severe Reproof Administered to Sir Richard Webster—Balfour Accuses Mr Gladstone of Dealing in Flimsy Fiction—Home Rulers Hold a Meeting—Horrible Tragedy in Siberia.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—In the House of Commons Mr. Balfour announced that on Monday next he would introduce the Irish Land Purchase bill. One clause of the bill provides for the creation of a land department.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt offered a motion declaring that the London Times in publishing the forged Pigott letters was guilty of a breach of privilege.

Mr. Gladstone, who was loudly cheered as he arose, spoke in support of the motion. He said the Government owed it to itself to deal fairly toward Mr. Parnell and the Irish people for the injustice done to both through the forgeries. Surely the House should not hesitate to express its full sense of the injustice.

Sharp Words From Balfour.

Mr. Balfour accused Mr. Gladstone of dealing in flimsy fiction he declared the delay was the fault of the Gladstone party alone, and said the charge that the Times had acted with a view to influencing the judgment of the House was a calumny.

Parnell Cheered.

Mr. Parnell, who was enthusiastically cheered as he took the floor, after administering a severe reproof to Sir Richard Webster, said: "I, the leader of a party that must always be in the minority here, should be sorry to treat my most powerful opponents with the incredible meanness and cowardice, with which I have been treated by them. Even now I am further insulted by the terms of the amendment, which insinuates that the forged letters may after all be genuine. If you believe those letters were forged, have the courage and frankness to declare it. I move to place the word 'forged' before the word 'letters' in the amendment to the motion."

Mr. Smith, in behalf of the whole Government and his party, expressed himself satisfied that Mr. Parnell had proved the letters as forgeries, and consented that the word "forged" should be inserted as Mr. Parnell proposed.

Parnell Elected Chairman.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Parnellite members of the House of Commons met last evening and elected Mr. Parnell chairman. Resolutions were unanimously passed expressing full confidence in Mr. Parnell and hope that the present session of Parliament would bring nearer the legislative independence of Ireland.

SIBERIA'S HORRORS.

A Brutal Flogging Leads to the Suicide of Several Women.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 12.—The entire official world here is discussing, quietly of course, the latest crime perpetrated at Siberia. The details of the awful tragedy were received by cipher. Mme. Nadyda Sihida, of noble birth, and a teacher in the High School at Moscow, was found last year with revolutionary pamphlets in her possession and sentenced to penal servitude. On her arrival at Kara this handsome, refined woman soon attracted the attention of the director of the prison, who took an early opportunity to insult her.

Mme. Sihida boxed the ears of the director, who, in revenge, had her stripped and flogged in the presence of all the men in the prison. Such an outrage had not been perpetrated on a woman of rank since the days of the Empress Catherine, and the unfortunate lady was so apprehensive of further shame and torture that she committed suicide on the same day by poisoning herself.

Several of the other female political prisoners, fearful of receiving similar treatment, on hearing of the terrible event followed her example.

A few miles from the women's political prison at Kara is that occupied by male political convicts who, on hearing of the tragedies, revolted en masse. Troops were called out and awful scenes followed shooting, flogging and torturing going on by wholesale.

VETERANS AT SHAMOKIN.

Annual State Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Feb. 12.—The twenty-fourth annual State Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is presided over by Thomas J. Ewart, Department Commander.

Reports show that the numerical strength of the Department of Pennsylvania is 48,000. A telegram of condolence was sent to Secretary of the Navy Tracy, and a telegram of congratulation was sent to General W. T. Sherman upon the passage of his seventieth birthday.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Commander, J. T. Denniston, of Pittsburg; senior vice commander, J. F. Osler, of Shamokin; junior vice commander, John W. Kern; chaplain, Rev. J. W. Sayers.

General Alger addressed the encampment on service and dependent pensions. He was especially gratified, he said, at the action of the Congressional Committee on Pensions.

Last night a camp-fire was held, at which General Alger and Major Montooth made speeches. This was followed by a grand ball in honor of the veterans.

The Strike on the Central.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Grand Master Sweeney has not been to Suspension Bridge as yet, but is kept posted as to the progress of the strike, and it is believed that unless the road concedes the demand of the strikers there will be a general call-out on the Central and its branches.

Binghamton's City Election.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Feb. 12.—In the city election Democratic aldermen were elected in eight of the ten wards, overthrowing last year's Republican majority. The head of the Republican ticket, assessor, is elected by 101 majority, and the rest of the city ticket is Democratic.

THE LECONEY MURDER TRIAL.

The Defence Will Try to Prove Lingo Guilty of the Crime.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 12.—The State closed its case, with the testimony of Dr. Formad, against Chalkley Leconey, charged with the murder of his niece. As usual the court house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and to-day again the prisoner, calm and unmoved, but keenly alive to all that was going on, sat with the father and mother of the murdered girl on either side of him. Lingo and Garrett Murray occupied seats in the body of the court.

Counsel Joseph Gaskill's opening to the jury for the defence commanded much attention. His outline of the defence was stated with much force and eloquence, and presented an array of facts to be proved which was of much interest and concern to every one.

Lawyer Gaskill stated that they would prove that Annie Leconey was seen alive outside the house after the defendant and Garrett Murray went down into the citron field.

They would impeach the testimony of Garrett Murray and William Smith, the two principal witnesses for the State, and prove that the bloody clothes had not been used by the prisoner, and would show strong grounds for the belief that Francis Lingo, the colored laborer first arrested, is the murderer.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Leconey, wife of Wm. Leconey, a brother of the prisoner, was placed on the stand. She told of her visit to the house and of Chalkley's grief. She said that Garrett Murray told her the last place he saw Miss Annie alive was when she was on the doorstep.

OIL PRODUCERS ORGANIZE.

A Big Movement on Foot Against the Standard Oil Company.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 12.—There is every indication now that the Standard Oil Company will have a rival that cannot be suppressed.

A meeting was quietly held in this city of oil producers who are opposed to the Standard and plans were perfected for buying up all the heaviest producers and starting independent refineries. Among the gentlemen present were H. L. Taylor, of Buffalo, president of the Union Oil Company; L. H. Smith, of the Anchor Oil Company; G. T. Braden, superintendent of the National Oil Company and W. A. Earseman, of Oil City.

The scheme which was considered is to oppose the Standard, and it embraces some of the largest capitalists in the country. The big producers will be taken in and given an interest, and will help to make the venture a success. They will then be independent of the Standard, and will not be in constant dread of a break in the market.

A RUSH OF BOOMERS.

Pandemonium Reigns Over the Opening of the Sioux Reservation.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 12.—The city is full of excitement. The news of the opening of the reservation opened the flood gates, and the rush of boomers to the west side is now well under way.

Last night pandemonium reigned, so jubilant were the people. Real estate dealers promptly advanced their prices, but activity in deals has not yet commenced. The boomers who hurried across the river last night were met on the shore by a line of blue coats, who refused to let them land.

It was reported that the military had orders to keep everybody from the land south of the Bad River. South Pierre boomers were preparing to make another raid in that direction. It is probable serious trouble will ensue. Twenty-one counties have more or less land opened to settlement by this order.

Sons of the American Revolution.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—In response to a call for the formation of a Society of the Sons of the American Revolution in this city, signed by C. M. Depew, Alex. S. Webb, Grover Cleveland, E. F. Shepard, W. H. Lee, J. C. Calhoun, C. A. Dana, Hon. James Otis, Judge Arnoux, E. C. Stanton, Wm. C. Whitney and others, a meeting was held, at which the above named and others were represented, and a society was formed, with C. M. Depew as president, Judge W. H. Arnoux vice-president, E. C. Stanton secretary and Wm. H. Lee treasurer.

Caused by a Runaway Train.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 12.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred just west of this city last night demolishing two large engines and 12 cars of freight. Engineer William Cover jumped from his engine and broke his left leg. Several other employes were injured. The wreck was caused by a runaway train on the mountain. Trains east and west were delayed.

Their Business Demands a Trust.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 12.—The manufacturers of flint glass table ware of the country are considering the advisability of consolidating their interests. A secret meeting was held in this city, at which, it is claimed, it was agreed that the condition of trade demanded the formation of a trust. Definite action was deferred, however, to a later meeting.

A Bank President Drops Dead.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 12.—Christian Herr, president of the Lancaster National bank since 1865, dropped dead last night while conversing with a friend. He was 80 years old, and very wealthy, owning large landed estates in this county.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

New Yorkers Demand that the Legislature Pass the Original Bill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The World's Fair General Committee received the report of the Executive Committee on the present situation of the project. The report sets forth the legislative deadlock at Albany, and states that Congress will never favor a scheme whereby the management of the fair fund is to be a partisan one.

The commission named in the original bill sent to Albany was a non-partisan one. It consisted of 46 Republicans, 42 Democrats, 10 Independents and 2 Labor men. The leading Republicans of the city are opposed to the State Senate's proposal to add 22 names, mostly of Republicans, to the commission. The report is signed by Elihu Root, W. W. Astor, C. A. Moore, W. C. Whitney and John M. Bowers.

A resolution was offered endorsing the views set forth in the report, protesting against the attempt to make the enterprise a partisan affair, and urging the Legislature to pass the bill as originally framed.

Warner Miller and others spoke in favor of the resolution, and it was adopted.

THE KING MURDERED

Mysterious Assassination of a Wealthy Hungarian.

TWO UGLY GASHES ON THE BODY.

His Body Found in His Wagon After a Terrible Drive.

He Visited a Greek Priest and Then Went to a Saloon—Loud and Angry Talk with Two Unknown Men—A Belief that He Was Assaulted, Murdered and Then Robbed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 13.—The police now say that John Koseck, the "Hungarian King," who was supposed to have been killed in a runaway accident, was murdered. Stab wounds have been found on his head and neck. There is no clue to the murderer.

He had many enemies for he was of an obstinate, aggressive nature and would stop at nothing to gain his ends.

Thomas McDermott was standing in front of his residence on North River street about 11 o'clock Tuesday night when he heard a terrible clatter up the road, and a minute afterward a horse, hitched to a light wagon, came tearing along at breakneck speed. On the seat was the body of a man swaying to and fro as the wagon lurched from side to side.

McDermott followed the horse, which ran down River street to North River street and out toward the new bridge. Here the sound of a collision was heard and then all was quiet save the clatter of the horse as it reached the asphalt after breaking away from the wagon.

A minute after McDermott, hatless and breathless, came running up. About the same time there appeared several other men. They found the right front wheel of the wagon jammed tight against the tree. Lying partly across the seat was the body of Mr. Kozek. His head had fallen on his breast and his arms hung over the side on the wheels. The reins were not in his hands. Across his forehead was a terrible gash, while over the right ear was another ugly wound. Blood was pouring from both in a stream.

Investigation as to where Mr. Kozek spent the evening shows that he visited the house of the Greek priest, near Duck Pond, and there met one Mike Yeoshok, who lives at Port Bawkley. After a time spent at the house of the priest, Mr. Kozek volunteered to drive Yeoshok to his home, and both went to a saloon kept by Mike Dovich.

While there Mr. Kozek was called to the door by two men, whose names are unknown. He stepped outside and was engaged in angry conversation with them. Loud words passed between them, and finally Mr. Kozek stepped inside and shut the door, with a short, curt remark to those outside. He remained in the saloon until about 10 o'clock, and then drove away.

One of the pockets of his trousers, where he usually carried his money, was slit open to the knee. It is believed that he was waylaid on the road and assaulted and robbed. The murderers then lashed the horse and started it toward home.

Mr. Kozek was born in Bohemia. His wealth is estimated at $500,000.

His influence among his countrymen was great. His word was accepted by them as law. It must be said that, as a rule, he used his great power wisely.

THE LECONEY TRIAL.

Evidence for the Defence Proves Bad for the Accused Murderer.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 13.—The Leconey murder trial drags its slow length along, but does not diminish in excitement. The great case possesses an interest outside of Camden County, judging from the great number of outsiders who struggle for places in the crowded court.

The day's proceedings were decidedly sensational, and manifestly bad for Leconey. Unfortunately for him the testimony of the witnesses for the defence does not cease with their examination-in-chief. Prosecutor Jenkins is a brilliant cross-examiner, and in the case of Mrs. Lavery and to a lesser extent in that of other witnesses who testified for the accused, weakened, broke, embarrassed and confounded the case for the defence. Mrs. Lavery's cross-examination was a marvel of legal perspicuity, and when she left the stand it was palpable to every mind that Leconey's case was more endangered than helped by her evidence.

Throughout this critical stage, however, the accused murderer wore his usual composure. He was a trifle paler, perhaps, and his features were possibly a little harder set, but beyond this he made no sign to show the disappointment the witness must have caused him. The mother and brother of the murdered girl sat beside him, and now and then whispered words in his ear. At such times he never spoke in turn; he simply listened.

Murderer Wilson's Confession.

MEDINA, N. Y., Feb. 13.—A sensation has been caused in Orleans County by the confession of George Wilson, the Albion man, who was hanged on June 27, 1888, for the murder of his wife on the night of January 18, 1887. The confession was dictated by Wilson to Rev. D. B. Osborne shortly before his execution. The substance of the confession is that he went home on the evening in question, and his wife censured him for going with the Thompson girl. A quarrel ensued, and Wilson hit his wife in the mouth and then strangled her to death with a towel. It is believed that, if he had confessed on the witness-stand, he would have gotten off with life imprisonment.

The Strike on the Central.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, Feb. 13.—The strike of the Central switchmen is still on. Superintendent Barrows told the strikers that the road could not and would not allow the increase demanded.

AFRAID OF CATHOLICS.

The Bishop of Maryland Addresses the Episcopal Clergy.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 13.—The Rt. Rev. William Paret, Bishop of Maryland, delivered a charge to the Protestant Episcopal clergymen of the diocese. He said:

"This city is the central point of Roman Catholicism in this country. Here resides its highest prelate, and here it puts forth its greatest effort. It is using political and social influence to obtain religious control of this nation. God forbid that I should blame the Catholics for any honest effort made by them toward this end. This issue, however, is greater than ever before, and they are concentrating all their hopes and plans in this land. We must meet their advance with loving resistance. Three-fourths of their members were born in Europe, and nearly all of the remainder are children of foreign-born parents. Their members become Americanized very slowly, and are not being assimilated rapidly. Our rights as citizens and churchmen are menaced by this power.

"The laws of naturalization are abused, and an immigrant often becomes a voter before he has caught our tongue. We have been neglectful in calling the attention of our parishioners to the encroachment of the Roman Catholic Church. I do not advise you to preach a course of sermons attacking their doctrines, but when any movement is made by them detrimental to our political or social institutions, be not silent, but speak out bold and clear on the subject. Parochial schools should be increased, so that the school life of the young in our church may not be neglected. Of course you know I do not antagonise the public school."

The Albany Deadlock.

A Colored Girl Creates Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—There has been considerable excitement in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing during the past week over the appointment of Miss Frank Flood, a young colored girl, to a position as assistant to some pressmen. Miss Flood was first assigned as assistant to a printer named Johnson, and he promptly refused to work his press with the colored girl as an assistant. Subsequently another pressman named Levi refused to work with the colored assistant. Johnson and Levi were given the alternative of resigning or being dismissed for refusing to work with the girl, and they chose the latter. The presses formerly run by these two men have been given to substitutes, who have regular assistants, whom Captain Meredith, Chief of the Bureau, does not intend to displace to make room for Miss Flood, but he declares he will appoint her to the first vacancy which occurs, and if other pressmen refuse to work with the girl, they, too, will be discharged.

FRAUD AND MISREPRESENTATION.

A Former Employee of Mr. Leo Daft Succeeds in Obtaining a $50 Check Under False Pretenses—The Man Makes Good His Escape, but a Warrant is Out for His Arrest.

While Mr. Leo Daft, the electrician, and his family were at dinner last evening, a man by the name of N. B. Amory, who had previously worked for Mr. Daft as superintendent of construction in the erection of the latter's electric street railway at Asbury Park, called at the house, and told a pitiful story. He said he had a child lying dead at Somerville, whose body he wanted to forward to Baltimore. The fellow told a plausible story, and Mr. Daft advanced him a $50 check on the First National Bank. It has since been ascertained that he had no wife or child living, and instead of going to Somerville, he went to Force's Hotel on North avenue, where he prevailed upon the proprietor to accept and hold the check in payment for his board. This Mr. Force reluctantly did, also advancing the stranger $10 in cash.

This morning Mr. Daft discovered that the check had been obtained by fraud and misrepresentation, and he attempted to stop the payment of the same. The check had been cashed, however, and Mr. Force still holds the money awaiting future development. Amory has left the city, although a warrant is out for his arrest. It is said that the man left unpaid bills amounting to about $200 when he was discharged from the Asbury Park job nearly three years ago.

It is also said that Amory bought a turkey and a leg of mutton from Mr. Wm. VanSickle, the butcher, but he was not fortunate enough to get away with his purchases, he having no money to pay for them.

Each Subscriber to Receive a Certificate.

Handsomely engraved certificates are now being presented to all those who subscribed ten dollars or more towards lifting the indebtedness of Trinity Reformed church. The year in which the subscribers pledged themselves to pay the amounts set opposite their names, expires on March 1, and but a few hundred dollars remain uncollected.

The certificates—which have been engraved and printed at the personal expense of a member of the Consistory—are works of art as well as testimonials of good deeds. They contain a picture of the church, and are filled out with the amount subscribed, the number of "shares" it represents, and signed by the President of the Consistory, who is also the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, and by Special Treasurer B. A. Hegeman.

The Burglars Frightened Away.

Some of the women folks who were all alone in the boarding house at the corner of Third street and Washington, last evening, found a lamp lighted and the scuttle open upstairs. The police were sent for, and Officer Giese was promptly on the spot. The women positively asserted that none of them had lighted the lamp. Then the officer made a search, and found that whoever had been in the house had escaped meanwhile, as the scuttle was shut again. Some of the tenants who were about to move, had just sold a quantity of furniture and it is supposed the burglars knew the money was in the house and that the men folks were all away.

Nothing Mean About That Firm.

Mr. Warren Squires the paper hanger, has been engaged for some days past fitting up the Chantauqua rooms at Park and North avenues, and last night he worked late so as to complete the job. Mr. Squires wanted some extra bordering, so about nine o'clock he went to Woolston & Buckle's store on North avenue. The store was dark but the door was unlocked, and Mr. Squires went in, made his selections and came out again locking the door after him.

When Mr. Squires entered the store in the dark he stumbled and fell over a step-ladder, narrowly escaping serious injury.

THE AGENT RUNS AWAY.

A DUNELLEN MAN CAUGHT SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

But His Brave Wife Will Make Every Sacrifice for Him.

John R. Levers has suddenly disappeared from his Dunellen home and much excitement has been created thereby. Mr. Levers was formerly employed by the Central Railroad company, the New Brunswick Fredonian states, and left his position a few months ago to engage as traveling agent for McManus & Bros, carpet and furniture dealers, of Newark. He also carried illustrative cuts and small samples for Dunn & Metcalf, of Elizabeth.

He went home on Monday night of last week during his wife's absence, and left a note on the table stating that he would not return until the following night. Since that time no one has seen him and no tidings of his whereabouts have come to his wife.

Recent investigations show a shortage in his accounts with both of the firms named, but the amount is small. Mrs. Levers went immediately to both, and turned over everything in her possession to right her husband's wrongs, and much sympathy is felt for her. She is a fine soprano singer and has well earned the esteem and respect she enjoys by the valuable services rendered in the choir of the Methodist church at Dunellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Levers have no children. They moved from Easton to Dunellen several years ago, and have been recognized in the best society. Mrs. Levers was formerly Miss Emma Tillman, of Dover, is in good circumstances and highly esteemed. The insinuation that there is a woman in the case is promptly denied by her. She avers her determination to save her husband at any sacrifice, and if push, perseverance and good judgment can do it she will succeed.

The real cause of this unhappy state of things is explained by Mr. Levers' weakness for the gaming table.

"One of the Old Stock" at Music Hall.

The promise of a new play should draw a large audience next Monday evening. "One of the Old Stock" has a clearly defined plot, beginning with the defrauding of the honest old Vermont farmer, Alvin Joslin by Hiram Hawver, a grain and hop buyer, in whom he had implicit faith, followed by the elopement and marriage of Bessie Joslin, the farmer's wayward daughter, with the man who brought ruin upon her father; the daughter's discovery of the trick played upon her father, and the restitution by Hawver in time to save the old homestead from sale by the sheriff.

Mr. Davis' personation of the warm-hearted old farmer is a clever piece of character acting. He is well supported by Daniel Jarrett as Hiram Hawver and Charles Stedman as Toby Tightpenny. Bessie Joslin is enacted by Miss Ray Briscoe, who possesses a pretty face and slight figure well suited to the part. The play is handsomely mounted.

A New-Model Locomotive.

The "Onward," a new-model locomotive has been making trial trips over the Central Railroad of New Jersey for several days past, passing through this city, going West, between nine and ten o'clock. This engine has a self-balancing apparatus which throws the entire weight on the single driving wheel at starting, and when under headway the pony trucks carry the weight. It also has a compressed-air device which rings the bell and ejects sand at the proper time, and a foghorn whistle.

Oh, Ho!

(From the Central Times.)

The nomination of Captain Hand for Street Commissioner will be renewed by Mayor Male, we understand. The Republican members of the Council ought not to have any trouble in agreeing to support a good nomination like that. It certainly cannot be expected that the Mayor will nominate a Democrat, as has been proposed by Councilman Smith and others.

Another Declines the Salary.

Councilman Peter Egenolf, of Elizabeth, called at the Comptroller's office yesterday and signed over to the city a release of his claim to $500 salary for last year, thus following the patriotic example of Councilman Mraviag. The remaining fourteen Aldermen are yet to be heard from.

A beautiful young lady became so sadly disfigured with pimples and blotches that it was feared she would die of grief. A friend recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which she took, and was completely cured. She is now one of the fairest of the fair.

'TWILL BE A RAZZLE-DAZZLE TOURNAMENT.

A Schedule of the Forty-two Games That Are to Decide the Bowling Championship of Central New Jersey.

A meeting of the Central Bowling League—the completion of which organization was told of exclusively in THE PRESS of yesterday—was held in the Crescent club house, this city, last evening.

President Burnet presided, and also represented the Elizabeth Athletic club as authorized in a communication from them. The other clubs represented were the Nameless and the Mondays, of Westfield, the Fanwoods and the Crescents. Messrs Kyte and Wilcox, the committee on schedule, presented the following dates of contest, which were adopted. The games will be rolled by teams of five men each:

The Olympic bowling team of this city went to Somerville, last evening, and lost the second of the three games they have rolled with the Somersets. The first was on January 9, at Somerville, when the Somersets won by a score of 1,420 to 1,325; the second, on the Olympia alleys in this city, January 24, was won by the Olympics by a score of 1,553 to 1,321.

Last evening the Olympics had to run around the Somerville heater again, that stands in the way of the bowlers, and were consequently behind from the start to finish. The score was as follows: Somersets, 1,414.

Somerset County Freeholders.

A meeting of the above board was held at Somerville on Tuesday, all the members being present. The Committee on Finance reported, through Mr. Wyckoff, the expenditures for the year to date to be $72,858.09.

Messrs Haver and Everette of the Committee on Lunacy reported having visited the asylum at Trenton, January 24, and found the patients from Somerset in good condition and receiving every attention. There are 55 patients from this county.

The board adjourned to meet on the third Wednesday instead of the second Tuesday in March on account of town meetings occurring on that day.

The Ballot Reform Law.

A ballot reform law has been introduced into the Legislature with these provisions:

First—Uniform personal registration.

Second—Absolute secrecy of voting.

Third—An exclusive official ballot, printed at the public expense and distributed only at the polls on election day.

Fourth—Right of nomination by petition.

Fifth—Every candidate shall be compelled to file a sworn statement of his election expenses.

The above named bill has not yet become a law.

Dangerous Trifling.

It is not only foolish, but dangerous, to trifle with indigestion or liver derangement. Take the proper remedy as soon as possible, and avoid all danger incident to delay. HAMBURG FIGS are a specific for these affections. 25 cents Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G Miller.

NEW JERSEY'S LEGISLATURE.

Both Houses Pass a Few Bills and Adjourn Until Monday.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 13.—Only two bills of interest came up on final passage in the Senate. One was the Newark Alderman Salary bill, and it passed without any opposition. Senator Mallon's bill was called up, directing a tax of one-third of one mill on the dollar for establishing "park funds" in the cities. Senator Martin offered an amendment making the tax discretionary and not mandatory. The amendment prevailed, and Mr. Mallon thereupon moved the indefinite postponement of the bill, and his motion prevailed.

Senator Carter introduced a bill giving the inmates of insane asylums the right to correspond with Judges of Common Pleas without having their letters reviewed by any official. The Senate adjourned to Monday.

Actual business in the Assembly was begun by the passage of Mr Marsh's bill relating to almshouses. It provides for the separation of the sexes.

Mr. King's bill authorizing the incorporation of retail merchants' associations was passed.

Bill No. 22, drawn by Mr. Marsh, was passed. It gives directors and clerks of Boards of Freeholders fixed salaries instead of of per diem allowances.

The third reading of Mr. Kelly's bill, for the bi-weekly payment of wages to the employees of railroad and coal corporations, was put off until Monday night, to which time the House adjourned.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. Chandler, Junction, Va.

TUMULT IN OTTAWA

Exciting Scenes in the House of Commons.

DISCUSSING THE HULL RIOT.

The Premier Charged With Inciting Civil War and the Speaker Censured.

Sir John McDonald in a Terrible Rage. He is Charged With Telling Falsehoods. An Armed Protestant Force to Clean Out French Canadians—A Member Called a Firebrand.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 13.—The chamber of the House of Commons was the scene last night of one of the wildest and most exciting occurrences ever witnessed in the Canadian Parliament. It was a perfect bear garden. Strong accusations were universal.

The Government was arraigned, the Speaker censured and asked to leave the chair and the Premier charged with inciting civil war.

The difficulty arose over the riot in Hull. Mr. Charlton, M. P., rose to call the attention of the House to the disgraceful conduct of the citizens of Hull. He was ordered to desist by the Speaker on a point of order.

Mr. McMullin moved that the Speaker leave the chair and characterized his ruling as that of an interested party and wholly unjust.

Speaker Quimet, French Canadian, then allowed Mr. Charlton to continue. He characterized the riot as one of the most disgraceful attacks ever witnessed upon the freedom of speech and universal religious suffrage. A small band of Protestant Evangelists were, beaten and threatened with death for proclaiming the truths of Christian religion, by a howling mob of French Canadians. This matter demanded the immediate attention of the Government. If immediate action was not taken he charged the Government with foul injustice and neglect.

The Premier in a Rage.

Sir John Macdonald, in a rage, charged Mr. Charlton as posing as the champion of a particular religious class. He despised such an action, and said if the last speaker had any sincerity he would have formed one of an escort to protect the Evangelists. The matter was one which could only be dealt with by the Government of the Province of Quebec. All that was necessary to quell last night's riots was for two magistrates to sign a requisition, and all the military of Canada would have turned out to protect the Evangelists. He charged Mr. Charlton with a desire to raise a disturbance and raise animosities.

Tremendous Uproar.

Mr. Charlton, now thoroughly aroused, arose but was greeted with a perfect storm of abuse. The Speaker ordered him to stop speaking but he refused. A tremendous uproar followed and insultin remarks were hurled from one side of the House to the other.

Mr. Charlton insisted upon replying. The Speaker objected, and Hon. Peter Mitchell attacked Speaker Quimet for injustice and moved an adjournment. Charlton, continuing, said: "The utterances of the Premier were false and calculated to cause civil war (tremendous uproar). If the Government continued an armed Protestant force would be raised in Ottawa to clean out the French Canadians in Hull." Mr. Flynn characterized Mr. Charlton as a firebrand.

After a continued uproar, lasting nearly half an hour, the matter was allowed to drop.

THE DUKE SENTENCED.

D'Orleans Receives Two Years and the Plaudits of the Monarchists.

PARIS, Feb. 13.—In accordance with the programme announced by the French Cabinet the Duke of Orleans was promptly found guilty and sentenced to two years' imprisonment. It was decided that the Duke will not be formally committed to prison for a few weeks yet, in order that he may have an opportunity to appeal his case.

When the time for the hearing arrived the court room was packed. On the announcement of the verdict the air was filled with cries of "Vive l'Armee!" "Vive l'Orleans!" and "Vive la Republique!" The gendarmes were compelled to clear the court.

During the examination the Duke declared that he had entered French territory for the purpose of serving his country as a common soldier. His action, he said, had nothing to do with the political fortunes of his family, as they concerned only his father, the Count of Paris.

The Duke said that he appreciated the responsibility which he had assumed in appearing in France, but that he was guilty of no other crime than a desire to serve his beloved country.

On being reconducted to his cell in the Conciergerie the Duke withdrew the curtains and saluted the crowd which had gathered about the building. The Monarchists shouted, "To the statue. Let us crown Henry IV." With one accord they rushed to the statue, crying "Long live the King," and counter cries of "Long live the Republic," from their opponents." The police made 25 arrests.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

The Top of Mount Zoo Lifted Off and Sand and Stones Belched Forth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Japanese advices by the steamer Gaelic give the details of a terrible volcanic eruption of Mount Zoo, in the Bings district.

On January 16 the mountain began to rumble, and the inhabitants of the neighboring villages rushed away from their homes in great confusion. Soon the top of the mountain was lifted off, sand and stones belching forth. The ground in the neighborhood was covered with sand and earth to the depth of over a foot.

Stones and earth also fell at Midsunonimura, a village six miles away. Only one man lost his life, but some stock was killed and fifty-five houses were destroyed.

The total loss entailed by the eruption is estimated at nearly $3,500,000.

This is the first recorded eruption of Mount Zoo.

Socialists Satisfied.

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—The favorable utterances contained in the recent rescripts issued by Emperor William with regard to the working classes have had a good effect and the Socialists say they have abandoned their idea of organizing a universal labor strike in May.

HONORS TO LINCOLN.

The Anniversary of His Birthday Appropriately Celebrated.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—A lifelike painting of Abraham Lincoln looked down upon the 300 guests who had gathered in the large banquet hall of Delmonico's last night to honor the aniversary of the birth of the martyr President.

The dinner was given by the Republican club. A feature of the banquet were the menu cards, which were beautifully gotten up. They bore illustrations of familiar scenes in the career of President Lincoln.

Orators from far and near had been gathered in for the occasion, and they sat on each side of Cephas Brainerd, who presided.

Senator Shalby M. Cullom, of Illinois, responded to the toast of "Lincoln." He spoke in feeling tones of the beauty of character and the patriotism of the great man.

The guests grew more and more enthusiastic as the evening progressed, and they rose to their feet and joined in singing "John Brown's Body" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

The Union League Club, of Brooklyn, celebrated with a dinner and orations at Avon Hall, Bedford avenue. The Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, of Chicago, spoke to the toast, "Abraham Lincoln."

THE OLD POINT SENSATION.

Broker Green and His New Wife Hastily Depart for Europe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The marriage of Douglass Green, a New York stock broker to Mrs. Snell McCrea, the divorced wife of Willey O. McCrea and the daughter of the millionaire Wm. Snell, of Chicago, by a colored minister at Old Point, Va., has created no end of trouble.

Owing to the scandal the official announcement was made in the Stock Exchange of Green's withdrawal from the firm of Green & Bateman, to which he belonged before the escapade.

Green and his bride sailed for Europe on the steamship Lahn as soon as he signed the notice of the withdrawl from the firm. The whole episode created a sensation on the Stock Exchange.

It is stated that Mr. Green is a bigamist. His first wife is a niece of ex-Governor Straw, of New Hampshire. She separated from Green on account of alleged ill-treatment, and is living with her children in Connecticut. She was never divorced from him.

Friends of Green were about to have him arrested and subjected to an inquiry as to his sanity, but his sudden departure for Europe foiled them. They claim that his brain was injured by a fall two years ago.

BOSTON'S MYSTERY

Isaac Sawtelle Arrested for Murdering His Brother.

STILL HUNTING FOR THE BODY

A Bloody Axe Owned by the Prisone Found in the River.

The Leconey Murder Trial Still in Progress—Dr. Kniffin and Miss Pursel Exonerated for the Kniffin Murder—Cora Grimes' Murderer Sentenced to Auburn Prison for Life.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 14.—The arrest in this city of Isaac B. Sawtelle, wanted in Boston in connection with the mysterious disappearance of his brother, Hiram, has caused a sensation here.

He registered at the Falmouth Hotel, Monday evening, under the name of J. Bridge, Dover. He attracted the attention of the clerk, who took him for a beat. He notified the police and "Bridge" was placed under surveillance.

Yesterday when he left the hotel, he went to the postoffice, got a letter, read it, tore it up and proceeded to the Grand Trunk Depot where he inquired for a ticket to Detroit, but he did not purchase it. He boarded the Montreal train and had taken a seat when he was arrested. He turned pale when taken into custody, but admitted that his name was Isaac B. Sawtelle.

Wednesday a stranger called at the Falmouth Hotel and inquired for Sawtelle, but was told that no such person was there. The visitor looked over the register until he came to the strange signature, when he said that is the man I want.

Officers from Boston arrived to-day. They claim to have in their possession evidence of further mysterious visits by Isaac Sawtelle to secluded points just over the Maine border, from Rochester, N. H. The officers say there seems now little doubt that this ex-convict lured his brother Hiram to Rochester by false telegrams and then disposed of him, burying the body somewhere in Maine.

Sawtelle refuses to make any statement except to declare that his brother is all right and that everything will be explained when the time comes.

The Broadaxe Found.

EAST ROCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 14.—The carpenter's broadaxe purchased by Isaac Sawtelle at the store of F. E. Wallace at Rochester last Wednesday afternoon, was found in Salmon Falls River. There is a dark stain (which looks like a blood mark) covering about three square inches on the forward part of the blade. Mr. Wallace identified the ax as the one sold to Sawtelle.

It is believed the body of the missing brother will be recovered in a day or two.

A Crony of Sawtelle's Missing.

BOSTON, Feb. 14.—C. L. Blood, of this city, a so-called doctor, who was a crony of Isaac Sawtelle's in the State prison, is missing and it is suspected that he had something to do with Hiram Sawtelle's murder.

LECONEY'S BATTLE FOR LIFE.

Witnesses Testify that He and His Murdered Niece Were on Good Terms.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 14.—In the Leconey murder trial Garrett Murray was on the stand several hours. His examination covered his remarks to a number of persons who were present, to whom he had declared the last place he saw Annie alive.

The testimony of a number of witnesses went to show that Murray had contradicted himself a number of times in his statement.

Several witnesses testified to Chalkley's good character and that he and Annie were on the best of terms.

The finger marks on Annie's throat were noticed and commented upon. Portions of the shirt used in the dressing of Annie's throat were identified, and the trousers that Leconey wore were also in evidence.

THE KNIFFIN MURDER.

Miss Pursel and the Accused Husband Vindicated by the Grand Jury.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 14.—The grand jury, after considering the evidence in the mysterious Kniffin murder case, reported to Justice Beasley of the Mercer County Court.

They found no bill against Dr. Kniffin nor Miss Pursel, who were charged by Detective Kilger with the murder.

Lawyer Barton moved for the discharge of the bondsmen. Prosecutor Stockton consented to the discharge of the sureties on Dr. Kniffin's bond, but not those on Miss Pursel's bond. He gave no reason for holding them, except that something might turn up.

Justice Beasley said that both the accused were free because the grand jury and coroner's jury after due deliberation could see no evidence on which to hold them. The order for the release of the bondsmen was then signed.

David Pursel, brother of Emma Pursel, was present and was congratulated on the outcome of the grand jury's sitting.

Emery Gets a Life Sentence.

MEDINA, N. Y., Feb. 14.—The trial of Eugene Emery, the farmer who so brutally beat pretty little Cora Grimes to death at her father's house, north of Medina, on the 24th of last June resulted in a verdict of murder in the second degree. Judge Childs sentenced Emery to Auburn prison for life. Emery was pale and weak, and had to be assisted from the court room.

Looks Blue for New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—The World's Fair Conference Committee met last night but were unable to agree, and adjourned until Wednesday morning next.

BALLOT REFORM SKIRMISH.

New York Senators Try to Amend the Saxton Bill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—There was a lively discussion in the Senate over the Ballot Reform bill. Several verbal amendments were offered by Mr. Saxton, which were adopted without dissent. An amendment allowing the use of unofficial ballots in the case of the resignation of a candidate was moved by Mr. Chase. It was defeated by a strictly party vote, the Republicans voting in the negative.

Mr. Chase moved an amendment providing that illiterate voters shall not be limited to the election of officers in seeking assistance in making ballots, thus placing them on a par with the blind and physically disabled.

Mr. Saxton contended that this would lead to intimidation and bribery and Mr. Cantor claimed that physically disabled voters should have equal range of selection. An illiterate voter was less likely to be corrupted often times than a man who can read and write. Mr. Fassett denied the statement that there was more corruption and intimidation in the country than in the city.

The amendment was finally lost. Ayes 7, noes 13—a party vote, the Republicans voting in the negative.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

One Man Killed and Several Injured on a Pennsylvania Railroad.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 14.—A frightful accident occurred at Douglass Station, 28 miles from this city. The boiler of a locomotive on the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youghiogheny Railroad exploded with terrific force. The engine and caboose were demolished, the rails torn up and scalding water and pieces of the boiler scattered in all directions.

Charles Jenkins, a flagman, was killed. John Ludwig, the engineer, was terribly scalded; he will probably die. John Steadman, fireman, George Rist, conductor, and William McKinley, brakeman, were injured, but will recover.

The engine had taken a construction train loaded with laborers, most of them Hungarians and Italians, to Douglass station and was proceeding up the road with only the caboose when the explosion occurred.

Coal Operators in Conference.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 14.—The Executive Committee of the coal operators of Western Pennsylvania met in conference in this city. The conference was called for the purpose of effecting an arrangement for a joint conference of operators and miners to arrange a scale for the year beginning May 1, 1890. It was agreed that the mine owners of Western Pennsylvania would join with the operators' committees of other States in attending a convention to establish a scale, time and place of the convention to be agreed upon later.

Newspaper Men Elect Officers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The American Newspaper Association elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, J. W. Scott, of the Chicago Herald; vice-president, S. H. Kauffman, of the Washington Star; secretary, R. H. Campe, of the Pittsburg Chronicle; treasurer, William Laffin, of the New York Sun. Directors—E. H. Woods, of the Boston Herald; C. W. Knapp, of the St. Louis Republican; Louis Baker, of the St. Paul Globe; W. C. Bryant, of the Brooklyn Times, and L. L. Morgan, of the New Haven Register.

Official French Language Abolished.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 14.—By a vote of 25 to 10, the Legislature has decided to abolish the official use of the French language in the country. The French speaking people are very indignant over the action, and serious trouble is feared, particularly if Premier Greenway carries out his proposition to abolish the Roman Catholic separate schools. Catholics are loud in their threats against the government.

Verdict for a Colored Clergyman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—In the suit for $5,000 damages brought by Rev. A. P. Miller, a colored clergyman, against the People's Line of Albany and New York steamboats, because of his being refused a stateroom, the jury gave a verdict for $500. The company claimed that all the staterooms were engaged when Mr. Miller applied for one, but the jury was not convinced that such was the case.

Carnegie's Railroad Deal.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 14.—Andrew Carnegie having secured absolute control of the Pittsburg & Western Railroad has turned it over to the Baltimore & Ohio Company. This will give the Baltimore & Ohio a short route to Cleveland and Chicago. It is understood Mr. Carnegie becomes largely interested in Baltimore & Ohio securities.

Grand Army Encampment.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 14.—The annual State encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic opened in Taylor's Opera House. General Russell A. Alger, the national G. A. R. commander, is present. He arrived in company with his wife and Mrs. Wittenmeyer. A reception was tendered him during last night in the Governor's room at the State House.

A Coal Company Censured.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 14.—The coroner's jury in the case of the seven men killed by an explosion of gas at Plymouth, about 10 days ago, have found a verdict that the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company was guilty of negligence in not having the Nottingham colliery properly inspected by the fire bosses before the men went to work on the morning of the explosion.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

A Sensation Expected Soon in Naval Circles.

WAITING FOR THE ENTERPRISE.

Seventy Seamen Desert the Vessel on Account of Cruelty.

Democrats Organize Their Campaign Committee—Dorchester's Nomination Confirmed—Hearing To-Day on the Postal Telegraph Scheme—A Batch of Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—From private advices received at the Navy Department it would appear that the arrival of the United States steamer Enterprise in New York from Europe, early next month, will be the signal for somewhat of a sensation in naval circles.

This vessel is under the command of Commander B. H. McCalla, who has the reputation of being a strict disciplinarian. He has been some time abroad and is now on his way home bearing the body of ex-Minister Pendleton, who died in Germany.

Upward of seventy seamen, the letters referred to states, have deserted from time to time, unable to bear what they consider the captain's harshness, and there is a rumor of his having struck one man with his sword, injuring him severely. Ensign Kline and Chief Engineer Entwistle are now under hatches for offenses, awaiting the arrival of the ship home, when there will be at least two court martials.

Kline's offense, it is stated, was "sleeping on watch and denying it." The offense for which Engineer Entwistle was suspended was talking back to the Captain when the latter was administering a reproof. The two officers were having a conversation, so the story goes, when the Commander took occasion to use language which led the engineer to remonstrate. For this he was imprisoned below deck.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The executive committee appointed by the House Democratic Campaign Committee has selected Representative Flower, of New York, chairman, and Mr. Towles, of North Carolina, formerly an employe of the House of Representatives, secretary. A finance committee was appointed to consist of Messrs Flower of New York, McCreary of Kentucky, Blanchard of Louisiana, Hayes of Iowa, Fowler of New Jersey, Whiting of Michigan, Maish of Pennsylvania, Andrews of Massachusetts, Yoder of Ohio, and McClellan of Indiana.

Appealing for Warehouse Workmen.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—A New York delegation consisting of ex-Senator John G. Boyd, John H. Keogh and George Blair, appeared before the Ways and Means Committee and argued in favor of legislation for the benefit of New York warehousemen and longshoremen. They asked that the wages earned in the handling and storing of such merchandise be transferred and paid to American laborers, and to that end urge the adoption of an amendment to the tariff laws.

The Postal Telegraph Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Another hearing on the subject of establishing a postal telegraph service in the United States is being held to-day before the House Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads. Dr. Norvin Green, of the Western Union Company, is opposing the measure.

—There was a full rehearsal in Music Hall, last night, by the members of the Crescent League Minstrel company, and rehearsals will be continued almost every night until the date of the entertainment, February 25. Reserved seats will be on sale at Randolph's and Stelle's pharmacies on the 20th inst.

The Methodist Revival.

On Wednesday evening Vincent chapel was crowded, all the rooms being thrown open and occupied. There was a number of converts, ranging in age from fourteen years to fifty-five or sixty. The meetings are characterized by the old-time Methodist zeal and fervor, but there is little excitement and noise. The membership are working together and approve their pastor in his methods of conducting a revival. Fifteen united with the church Wednesday night. There were no services last evening and will be none to-night, but the meetings will be resumed next Sunday night, and continued during the week.

It Is a Shame.

There were only twenty-seven in attendance at the night school for men, last evening, and the average for the week was only twenty-eight. If the men of this city who need an education and can only obtain it in the evening, do not better appreciate and take advantage of the opportunity offered to secure an education free and under the instruction of competent teachers, the night school will be closed.

Excelled By None.

One of the Messrs Midmer who have built all the best organs in Plainfield, tells a Press reporter that the instrument just completed by them in the First Baptist church, is the equal in every respect of the organ they put in Dr. Ketcham's church, excepting that the former has not a third manual.

For the restoration of faded and gray hair to its original color and freshness, Ayer's Hair Vigor remains unrivaled. This is the most popular and valuable toilet preparation in the world; all who use it are perfectly satisfied that it is the best.

THE THIRD OF THE MUSICALES.

Another of the Mendelssohn Club's Subscription Concerts Thoroughly Successful.

The third of the series of six musicales, to be given by the Mendelssohn Club of this city, was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, corner of Park and Crescent avenues, last evening. Over two hundred were present including besides the subscribing members, the favored ones whom the hostess alone has the privilege of inviting.

Mrs Baldwin received, assisted by members of her own family. The house was additionally decorated with growing plants and flowers for the occasion. The caterer was Jaeger of New York, and the supper and service were perfect in taste.

The programme given in full below, received universal commendation for its quality and rendition. Unless The Press is mistaken, to Miss Ella Haines is due the praise so thoroughly deserved for the programme's composition. The artists were, as usual, worthy of all—which is unusual—the applause they received. Miss Anna Kelly, the soprano soloist, was a new candidate arraigned for judgment, but the verdict of her hearers was all she could desire.

The members of the "Dorcas Society" held an evening sociable at the home of Mr. Jacob Voehl on Somerset street, last evening. Games and refreshments were included in the programme.

Miss Mabel Maxson of West Fourth street, will play the accompaniments for the chorus in the High School concert, to be given Tuesday evening of next week. Miss Maude M. Lowrie will accompany the Glee Club.

Miss Agnes Langhorne, daughter of Mr. F. C. Langhorne, gave a birthday party to a few of her friends at her parent's home on Putnam avenue, from four to seven o'clock yesterday afternoon. The occasion was one to be long remembered by those who participated.

It may be in the nature of things, that good taste in classical music superinduces bad taste in modern art. Yet it is none the less a subject of remark that so fine a programme as is given at the Mendelssohn Club musicales, should be printed in so illegible and altogether disreputable manner.

Mr. John A. Laing of Quakertown, Hunterdon county, is visiting relatives on West Fourth street, this city. Mr. Laing is a peach grower, and he advances the information that many of his peach trees are now in bloom, owing to the open Winter, and that the crop of peaches is likely to be ruined.

At a concert in Chickering Hall, last evening, by the celebrated Rubinstein Club of New York, Miss Alice Holmes, of this city, sang an incidental solo in one of the part songs. The Club is composed entirely of women vocalists, and includes Annie Louise Carey and other great lights. Its patrons are New York's four hundred.

Mr. H. VanName, the oyster dealer of Park avenue, yesterday sold to Mrs. Julia Terrill of Arlington avenue, his Queen Anne cottage at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets, for $3,500. The building contains nine rooms, and is equipped with all of the modern conveniences. Mr. VanName will hereafter occupy his cottage on West Front street, which he will soon begin to remodel.

Willing to Sell at a Sacrifice.

In a New York paper of today appears the following advertisement:

Somebody will snap at the offer at once, and then the advertiser will be sorry he didn't ask more.

—The hardware dealers announce a reduction in the price of sleds and club skates.

A beautiful young lady became so sadly disfigured with pimples and blotches that it was feared she would die of grief. A friend recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which she took, and was completely cured. She is now one of the fairest of the fair.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Opening of a Bazaar by the Trinity Ladies and King's Daughters.

The bazaar which a number of ladies have had in course of preparation for some time past, opened in the Chautauqua Building last evening, and the attendance on the opening night was very large, the commodious hall in which the bazaar was held being densely filled with people.

On entering the hall one's eye came in contact with a very pretty sight. Handsomely decorated booths and tables were located in convenient places, around which a crowd of eager purchasers pressed to and fro during the evening. Pretty waitresses, members of the King's Daughters, had an eye to business, and were promptly on hand attending to the wants of their patrons. The oppressive heat in the room made the sale of iced cream and lemonade correspondingly large, and the receipts from these two items alone were very satisfactory. The various tables and booths were presided over by the following persons in a highly commendable manner:

Candy—Miss Emma U. King, Miss Jennie VanWinkle.

Lemonade—The Misses Etta Howland and Lizzie Dunn.

Jack Horner and his pie—Masters Chester See, Robbie Meeker and Willie Vandeventer.

Hand-painted articles—Mrs. Wm. G. E. See, Mrs. J. F. MacDonald.

Fancy articles—Mrs. Charles P. Leggett, Mrs. Robert Meeker and Mrs. C. Schenck.

Household—Mrs. C. Frank French.

Bric-a-brac—Miss E. C. Benedict.

Refreshments—Mrs. W. H. VanDeventer, assisted by the King's Daughters.

The bazaar will continue this evening, when supper will be served as usual.

The ladies having the fair in charge, intend to present the amount realized toward paying off the indebtedness of the Trinity Reformed church.

Young People's Sociable.

The Young People's League of the First Baptist church held a sociable in the lecture room last evening. Mr. S. B. Joseph, president of the League presided. There was a large number of the young people of the church and Sunday school present. Among the attractions, Miss Mabel Maxson gave a piano solo, and Mr. E. C. Pease sang the popular song entitled, "White Wings," accompanied on the piano by Miss Kittie Case, after which a short business meeting was held by the members of the League as to the advisability of changing the night of their prayer meeting which is now held on Sunday evening to Friday at 8 o'clock, which was unanimously carried. Mr. Harold Serrell then gave an interesting and instructive talk on amateur photography, and there was a number of amateur photographs, from different members of the Camera club on exhibition around the room. Mr. Ernest Marx who was to have taken a flash light of the audience sometime during the evening was unable to be present on account of being confined to his home by illness, which was quite a disappointment to all those present. Subsequently refreshments were served and a very social time was had by all until about ten o'clock, when they adjourned to their homes.

The sociable was under the management of the Social and the Reception Comittees of which the following are members:

Social Committee—Miss Mamie French, Miss Ella Milligan, Miss M. Thorn, and Miss Annie Woodland.

Reception Committee—Mr. George F. Brown, chairman, Miss Nellie White, Miss Coriell, Mrs. B. Vail, and Messrs L. H. Biglow, G. Hagel, Ed. Wilson, H. Serrell.

And It Rained As Usual.

The quarterly meeting of the Friends' Society held yesterday was not as largely attended as usual, a number being absent on account of sickness. Interesting sermons were delivered by John W. Onderdonk and John H. Shotwell, and at the session of the Temperance and Philanthropic Labor Committee in the afternoon, ably prepared and instructive papers were presented and read by John L. Griffin and Joseph A. Bogardus of New York city.

A Local Circle's Programme.

At a meeting of the C. L. S. C., to be held on Wednesday evening of next week at the home of Mrs. Newell, No. 3 Washington street, at 7:45 o'clock, the following programme will be carried out:

Street Railway Matters.

New York capitalists and others interested in the establishment of street railways were shown through this city yesterday afternoon by Dr J. T. Fritts, and William Kelley. Last evening, those who are most interested in the introduction of a street railway here, met and discussed the subject, but nothing definite was decided upon.

A Valentine Festival.

The colored people of Mt. Olive church held a valentine entertainment in the lecture room of the church, last evening. The entertainment took the form of a festival, and those who attended report having had a delightful time. The proceeds will be devoted to a worthy cause.

—This is St. Valentines Day.

WANTS THE CITY TO BUILD THE ROAD.

Some Suggestions and Reasoning by a Logical Correspondent, in Relation to the Street Railway Question.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—A proposition is pending before Council to grant a franchise to private capitalists to operate a street railway. I understand that more than one proposition to operate a horse railway has been laid before previous councils. Mr. Leo Daft last year offered to build a line to be run by the storage battery system.

Council stood ready to grant him a franchise, but capitalists failed to support him. Without inquiring too closely whether the projectors of the horse railways were responsible for the rejection of Mr. Daft's scheme, it may as well be attributed to a lack of confidence in his storage battery plan. Had Mr. Daft intended to use horse power there is no doubt that he would have sold all the stock he wanted to.

What I would call attention to is that private capitalists seem to believe that a road in Plainfield will pay and in that belief are ready to invest their money in it. I would suggest that the city show them the door, build its own road and pocket the proceeds instead. There are four reasons why the city should build its own road.

First, the ties and rails would be laid in a way to injure in the least the macadamized pavement on each side. A private company would disregard any such consideration, whether required in their franchise or not.

Second, the grooved form of rail would certainly be laid. Neither legislative enactment, city ordinance, a promise of Heaven, or a threat of brimstone will compel a private company to use any other than the T rail.

Third, cars will surely be run to suit the convenience of the public. A private company will not extend the road where it will not pay, though many people might be accomodated thereby. The city can and will.

Fourth, the surplus earnings of the road will go into the city treasury, either to lessen taxes or to be devoted to public improvements. Or it will be returned to the tax payers in the form of less charges for fare. In time, with the growth of the city, a three cent fare, as in Berlin, Germany, is possible. A private company will under no consideration charge less than five cents, with ten cents in the beginning to Netherwood and Evona.

Fifth, and finally, a source of municipal corruption will be effectually stopped if the city operates its own railway. The honor of present or past councils is not impugned by this statement. I would simply intimate that we can't be sure of the honor of future councils. We have and should never have any room for Jake Sharpes.

If the tax payers will decide to build their own road, they will adopt the wisest and most economical way of disposing of the propositions of private capitalists.

THIRD WARD.

FOR "ALL OR NONE."

The W. C. T. U., Will Present no Remonstrance Against Additional Saloons.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Having seen a notice in THE PRESS of last evening, that it was understood the Woman's Christian Temperance Union intended to enter a remonstrance to the Common Council against the granting of additional licenses, I beg leave to make a correction.

Realizing that the time for action was before and not after election, we secured the services of Mr. P. A. Burdick for three weeks prior to the city election. We know we have done all we could. The councilmen are pledged to the men who voted for them, and, if it is right for a hotel or saloon in one street, it is equally right for the same evil to exist in every other locality.

MRS. M. D. TOMLINSON,
President W. C. T. U.

HARD WORK AND DISAGREEABLE DUTIES.

The Lot of the City Judge is Not a Happy One.

The City Judge is kept busy these days not only in hearing complaints made against violators of the law, but every six weeks about forty different tax warrants are to be issued. Also, since the city has attained its present size, there are from fifty to seventy-five applicants for relief from the poor fund whose examination the City Judge is required to take in writing before the overseer can grant relief. While the Judge is considerate of all demands made, yet the unworthy need not apply, for in such instances relief will be refused as has already been the case several times.

Union County Teacher's' Association.

The Sixty-first regular session of this Association will be held in Public School No. 2, Elizabeth, to-morrow morning at 9:30. The following papers will be presented:

"Patriotism," by Principal B. E. Clement, of Cranford; Select Readings, by Miss Marie L. Lyon, of Springfield; "Physiology," by Principal L. A. Goodenough of Scotch Plains; and "Arithmetic," by Principal W. L. Sprague of Springfield. After each paper discussions will be held.

A prompt and full attendance is requested, and everybody interested in educational work is cordially invited.

BY ALL MEANS GIVE THEM A SITE.

A Large New York Publishing House Anxious to Locate Here, With a Capital Stock of One Million Dollars.

A number of New York capitalists had an agent in this city yesterday, looking around to see what advantages Plainfield would offer, in case a company was organized here with a capital stock of about one million dollars, for the purpose of publishing books and magazines

This syndicate of wealthy gentlemen have also been looking up locations at Bridgeport, Conn., and at Suffern, in New York State, but the excellent railroad facilities offered by the New Jersey Central Railroad, and this city being in a direct line between New York and Philadelphia, it is thought that they can be induced to locate here provided certain advantages are accorded them—principally a desirable site.

In the event of the Company locating here, a large building will be erected, capable of holding five hundred employees, and a main office in New York will be connected with the works by telephone. It is the intention of the syndicate to bring about fifty families to Plainfield, and where the employes request it the company will put up houses and allow the men to pay for them on the installment plan.

Property owners in this city should wake up in the matter and offer every inducement to bring the company here.

Amory Still Missing.

The man Amory. who obtained a $50 check from Electrician Leo Daft by fraud and misrepresentation on Wednesday evening, as told in THE PRESS of yesterday, was at one time a representative of the Connolly Moter company. It is also said that the man built a railroad at Port Jervis, and that he has also superintended the construction of electric street railways in various parts of the country on former occasions.

Nothing has been heard from the sharper since he suddenly disappeared yesterday.

Adding Fire Escapes to the Building.

Mr. L. E. Hart, owner of the handsome new building at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, has inaugurated a movement in this city which is bound to meet with general approval. Mr. Hart is erecting substantial and attractive fire escapes on the rear of his building, so as to allow the tenants a chance to escape in the event of a fire.

Other builders in this city should do likewise and thus protect their tenants.

Assist the Firemen.

Chief H. J. Martin's subscription for a fire alarm system in North Plainfield is rapidly growing, but a considerable amount of money is yet needed before the project can become a reality. The citizens of the borough should subscribe liberally, and thus assist their competent and efficient fire department. Any and all contributions handed to Chief Martin will doubtless be gladly received and acknowledged in due course of time.

Bound Brook's New Enterprise.

"The high rate of taxation precluded the possibility of our locating in New Brunswick," said one of the firm of the Spreckels Sugar Refinery to a reporter a day or two ago. "We have selected Bound Brook as the next convenient place, and will begin the work of building at the earliest opportunity. Probably not less than 500 hands will be required when the refinery shall be in full blast.

Wants Him to Invent Another Process.

The Home News of New Brunswick says: "A Plainfield gentleman (John A. Hasbrouck), has 'struck oil' by patenting a process for maturing whiskey, by which its age is advanced from three months to three years. Now let this gentleman use his genius further by inventing a process which will suddenly sober up a drunken man and make him hate the vile thing forever after."

The Linden Race Track.

The Linden race track is being put in readiness for the opening on April 15 The grounds are being re-graded, covered with a top soil of one depth and two inches of sand. About seventy-five men are engaged in the work, and the enclosure presents a lively scene. When completed the track will be in perfect condition.

Shooting on the 22d Inst.

There will be a sweepstake shooting at live and inanimate targets on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club, at Dunellen, N. J., on Saturday, February 22, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M., sharp. There will be an abundance of live birds. Private matches will also be shot on that day.

A Remarkable Case.

In June of the year 1888, I was stricken with a difficulty of my throat, which proved, upon a searching diagnosis, to be a Cancer at the root of my tongue. I was treated by two physicians, but obtained no relief. My tongue turned black, and was so swollen I could scarcely speak or swallow. I neither ate nor slept for fourteen days. My physician advised me to consult a specialist, and I called upon Dr. Dumont C. Dake, of 499 Fifth Avenue, New York City, who by his wonderful and skillful treatment has cured me without the use of the knife. The good Doctor has my lasting gratitude for saving my life; and I desire that all the world shall know of his wonderful skill. He was thorough in his treatment and reasonable in his charges. I will be glad to answer all inquiries. C. H. EDWARDS.

Prospect Plains, N. J., Jan. 15, 1890.

Dr. Dake has several patients in this city, and is eminently successful in the treatment of chronic diseases.

The Court Unjustly Blamed.

The Union County Court feels annoyed over the strictures made upon it recently, and published in THE PRESS, by the Board of Trade of Elizabeth, chiefly composed of Republicans.

The three Judges who comprise the Court are Democrats, and they have been censured for the appointment of sixteen constables, when they only appointed four. The Republican Sheriff selected ten and the Grand Jury named two. The Court only appointed one-fourth of the constables, yet gets the blame for the excessive number of officers in attendance on the Court. The Judges say they do not object to impartial criticism, but do not like to see any favoritism displayed by the Board of Trade in its comments.

Examining the Accounts.

Special auditor Frank DeHart of the New Jersey Central Railroad has been in this city for several days past examining the accounts of ticket agent John H. Stryker, who was removed on Friday, but whether or not any irregularities were found is not stated. In due course of time, the company will appoint a successor to Mr. Stryker, but ticket-agent Edward Nelson's position will be held open for him until he has recovered sufficiently to resume his charge.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. REPORT ON PARNELL

The Special Commission Renders Its Verdict.

THE IRISH LEADER EXONERATED.

Davitt and American Newspapers Denounced for Inciting Crime.

The Forgeries Referred to Mildly—Liberals in Conference To-Day on the Report—Further Particulars of the Tragedy at Siberia—Forty-One Persons Killed—The Duke's Sentence.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The report of the Judges comprising the Parnell Special Commission, which was laid before the House of Commons, surprised nobody, and is not likely to afford even a slight degree of satisfaction to either side. The very highest compliment that can be paid to it is to say that it is temperate and displays a palpable attempt on the part of its framers to be as fair as their anti-Irish bias will permit them to be.

The charges brought against the Parnellites, forming the subject matter for the Commission's consideration, are treated of under 69 distinct heads. The most disappointing feature of the document is the treatment of the forgeries, which it was presumed would be exhaustively discussed and unreservedly characterized. Instead of seizing the opportunity to impress the country with their desire to be imperial, which this subject afforded, the Commission has dismissed the whole matter in precisely 161 words, as entirely unworthy of their consideration, except to condemn the imposition practiced upon the Times by the investigation of the forgeries.

Findings of the Court.

The upshot of the report, or what may be termed the judgment of the court, is as follows:

It is proved that Messrs. Davitt, Harris, Dillon, W. E. O'Brien, W. Redmond, O'Connor, Conon and O'Kelly conspired to bring about the absolute separation of Ireland from Great Britain.

The fac-simile Parnell letter was a forgery.

The defendants were sincere in denouncing the Phœnix Park murders.

The defendants did incite intimidation and invited the assistance of Ford.

Mr. Parnell is exonerated from the charge of assisting Byrne to escape.

It is not true that Mr. Parnell was intimate with the leading Invincibles.

Mr. Davitt was closely associated with the party of violence in America.

Liberal Conference To-Day.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Mr. Gladstone will hold a conference with his Parliamentary colleagues to-day, as to what action the opposition shall take on the Parnell Commission's report.

THE SIBERIAN HORROR.

Forty-One Persons Were Killed in the Kara Revolt.

PARIS, Feb. 14—Further particulars of the Siberian horror have been received and show that the cruelties were worse than at first reported. It now appears that Mme. Sihida had a younger sister, some 16 years old, who went to Siberia to look after her comfort.

Arriving there she had the misfortune to please the eye of the director of the prison. She was detained by him on a trumped-up charge of conniving at Mme. Sihida's attempted escape and became a victim of his brutality. She was subjected to such atrocious treatment as to cause her death soon after.

Mme. Sihida, indignant and terror-stricken by this awful event, vehemently denounced the outrage. In doing this she attracted the attention of the director, who then approached her with the same insults he had heaped upon her sister. The monstrous revenge of the director in having her publicly flogged followed, and this punishment was accompanied by inhuman incidents which had probably more to do in driving her to suicide than the exposure to which she had been subjected.

The revolt in the male prison is confirmed, and it is now definitely known that the number of killed amounted to forty-one. News of the affair has now been circulated in Russia, and it has inspired the Nihilists with new vigor.

Upon learning the particulars and realizing the universal protest and violent feeling the case would arouse, the Czar despatched an officer to replace the director, and ordered that official to report to St. Petersburg.

THE DUC D'ORLEANS.

His Sentence the Leading Topic of the French Newspapers.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—The sentence of the Duke of Orleans is the only topic discussed in the cafes and is the leading subject in all the papers. The Royalist organs lay particular stress upon the noble and patriotic spirit displayed by the Duke in entering French territory to offer his military services to the nation. They generally denounce the sentence of the Duke to two years' imprisonment as being monstrous.

The Royalist newspapers declare that the possibility of a pardon is precluded by the demonstration indulged in by the Orleanists. They even assert that a reduction of the sentence is improbable.

Cruisers in Behring Sea.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 14.—In Parliament Sir John Macdonald said he discredited the report telegraphed from Washington that the United States Government had decided to strengthen the fleet of cruisers in Behring Sea, and to use more stringent measures during the coming season to keep Canadian sealers out of those waters. Negotiations were in progress which he had every reason for believing would result in a satisfactory solution of the Behring Sea question very shortly.

Guns for Portugal.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Heavy orders have been received at Hamburg for guns, ammunition and warlike stores. The material is now being shipped, it is supposed, for Portugal, although its destination is kept a profound secret.

A Stricken Family.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Mrs. Brannigan, mother of five children ill with scarlet fever, died of consumption. The children are convalescing.

BASEBALL RUMORS.

The Old League Claim to Have Secured Richardson and King Kelly.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Director Walter Appleton, of the New York League Baseball Club, returned from Elmira, and to a crowd of newspaper men hinted that Danny Richardson, the famous second baseman, would sign a League contract and play in his old position this season. Mr. Appleton said also that Mike Kelly will sign a League contract within two weeks.

Among the Players' League men there is a disposition to stamp the whole affair as a piece of League bluffery, designed to work distrust among the players and thus weaken their organization. "Danny is as solid as a rock," said one Brotherhood man, "and as for Mike Kelly the League magnates can't touch him."

League adherents on the other hand declared their firm belief that if Richardson had not positively signed he had given his word to Mr. Appleton to stand by the old club.

Richardson telegraphs from Elmira that he is as solid as a rock with the Brotherhood.

ILLEGAL BALLOTS.

A Report that Mr. McDonald Will Resign in the New Jersey Senate.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 14.—The examination of the Jersey City election frauds was resumed here before the Senate Committee of Inquiry. Up to the beginning of the day's session 2,256 of the 42,000 votes cast in the county had been passed upon and 524 had been pronunced bogus. One-third of Senator McDonald's vote in six precincts has been shown to be fraudulent, and it is said that Mr. McDonald will resign no matter what the result of the investigation may be.

In the seventh, or "kid glove" precinct, it was found that the ballot-boxes had been tampered with and a number of illegal ballots run through them. The eighth precinct boxes showed no irregularity, but a recount of the vote in the ninth increased Stuhr's vote from 10 to 34. The committee has adjourned for the week.

Smallest Boy Baby on Record.

WORCESTER, Mass., Feb. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Swett are the parents of the tiniest boy baby on record. It is a week old and weighs only a pound and a half. It is so small that its head can easily be covered by a teacup. The arms and legs are about as large as a man's finger. The hands are not more than an inch long, and the feet are about half an inch longer. The body is so delicate that it is kept wrapped up in cotton batting close to the stove all the time. The baby is nevertheless healthy and it is said to have an appetite wholly out of proportion to its size.

The Target Accident a Murder.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 14.—Evidence has just come to light showing that the shooting of Michael Bordner by a man named Stochick, while at a target-practice near Snowshoe on Jan. 23d last, and which at that time was believed to be an accident, was a deliberate murder for the purpose of robbery and that Stochick secured over $100 belonging to Bordner. Stochick disappeared and the authorities have been unable to locate him.

Generals Will Have to Go.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 14.—Representative Gottschalk has introduced in the House of Representatives a bill reorganizing the heads of the State militia. The bill lops off the heads of half a score of generals and sub-generals. These positions are filled by men of considerable political power and the bill will be bitterly fought. The rank and file of the brigade favor its passage.

Unearthing Human Remains.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 14.—Workmen who have been leveling the mound on New Haven Green, whereon stood the old State House, recently torn down, came upon some human bones and afterward a complete skeleton was unearthed. The bones were probably the remains of some one of the old white settlers in New Haven.

Rubber Mills Go to the Syndicate.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 14.—A cablegram received here announces that an English syndicate have purchased the mills of the Central Rubber Trust. There are seven Trenton companies in the trust. The amount involved is over $3,000,000. The conditions named were accepted by wire on the part of the trust.

Result of a School War.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 14.—Father Morgan M. Sheedy's new parocial school building in the First Ward was opened to the public last night with appropriate ceremonies. This is the finale of a religious war over the public school question, in which the Roman Catholics were victorious.

Several Cases of Smallpox.

MERIDEN, Conn., Feb. 14.—Another case of smallpox in addition to the five discovered yesterday was found last night. The patient is a servant girl who had visited her parents in the infected quarter. Further precautions are being taken to prevent a spread of the disease.

A Wealthy Girl Elopes.

DAYTON, N. J., Feb. 14.—Miss Kate Davidson, daughter of a wealthy man, has eloped with Will Chute, a telegraph operator. Miss Davidson is a handsome young lady, 18 years old, and will inherit a large fortune. The operator had nothing to commend him but good looks.

A Boy Commits Suicide.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—A dispatch from Freeville says Spencer Lewis, aged about 13 years, residing near Hartford, N. Y., committed suicide last night by hanging. He was found in his father's barn suspended by a strap. The cause of the suicide is unknown.

Anson's Team Play To-Day in Florida.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 14.—Captain Anson and 13 men of the Chicago League team arrived here last night, and will play the first game this afternoon with the home team, which has been reinforced by several professionals.

Bills Signed by Gov. Hill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 14.—The following bills have been signed by the Governor: Regulating rates of fare on the Ticonderoga Railroad. Providing for the issue of bonds to pay for the indebtedness of Watertown.

A CRIMINAL'S AWFUL DEATH.

His Arms, Legs and Head Cut Off by an Infuriated Mob.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 14.—The particulars of the tragedy at Crawfordsville, Ark., were learned to-day from the brother-in-law of the murdered girl, who resides in this city, and who has just returned from the scene.

Miss Goss was missed during the night and a search was made without success until daylight, when her mutilated corpse was found about 300 yards from the house. She had been assaulted and then murdered.

The whole neighborhood soon gathered, and search for the murderer began at once. Suspicion pointed to Corvett, who had been around the house the night before in an intoxicated condition. From his wife its was learned that he came home early in the morning drunk and informed her that he had murdered Miss Goss, at the same time threatening to kill her if she did not keep his secret.

Without waiting for the slow process of the law the infuriated people took Corvett to the scene of the murder, and with an axe cut off his arms and legs and severed his head from his body. When Miss Goss's brother in-law left the mob was preparing to cremate Corvett's remains.

Pennsylvanians Oppose McKinley's Bill.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—At a largely-attended meeting of business men resolutions were adopted protesting against the McKinley bill relative to the administration of the customs laws, and urging the Pennsylvania Senators to oppose its passage. A committee was appointed to obtain signatures to a memorial against the bill, and to take such other means as they may deem best to bring the alleged defects of the bill to the attention of Congress.

THE HEADLESS BODY

Missing Hiram Sawtelle Found in the Woods.

LAID IN A SHALLOW GRAVE.

A Bullet Found Imbedded in the Heart and the Head Missing.

His Brother in Jail Charged With the Murder—Mrs. Sawtelle's Terrible Grief Over the Murder of Her Husband—She is Positive that He Was Butchered by His Brother.

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Hiram F. Sawtelle has been partially dispelled, and the suspicions which yesterday pointed directly at his brother as his murderer have grown deeper.

Whatever doubt may have been entertained as to the fate of Hiram, was removed when his body was found by a party of searchers in the woods near Lebanon, Me. It had been decapitated, and the head has not yet been discovered, but the evidence that the body is that of the missing man are entirely conclusive.

When found the body was projecting from a poorly made grave. A bullet was found imbedded in the heart. The feet were uppermost. Beside the body was a lot of clotted blood.

The murderer had attempted to dig a grave, but after scratching at the earth awhile had abandoned the effort. He had then cut off the head and arms and thrown the corpse into the partially made grave, and hurriedly piling brushwood upon the ghastly object had fled from the scene. The body was entirely naked, with the exception of the feet, which had on socks. The soles of the feet were not over an inch and a half from the surface of the earth.

Officer Shields, who was in charge of the party, has in his possession the empty shell from which the bullet came that killed Sawtelle. The bullet itself was also found, and a gold collar button bent and twisted.

Isaac Sawtelle, the brother of the murdered man, was arraigned at Rochester, charged with his brother's murder. He was committed to jail at Dover until March 12 without bail.

He has not as yet been informed that his brother's body has been found, and still insists that he has but gone somewhere on a whim and will return when he feels like doing so.

Mrs. Sawtelle's Grief.

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—When Hiram Sawtelle's widow received the news of the discovery of her husband's dead body in Rochester, the poor woman was overcome. She swooned and when she recovered she became hysterical, screaming: "My God! what shall I do! Oh, merciful God, why am I thus afflicted!" All efforts to quiet Mrs. Sawtelle seemed futile, for in her despair she cried the loudest. "Poor fellow! Oh, my Hiram. My fatherless children! What will I do? Killed by his brother—his own brother. Murdered, cruelly murdered. I knew it; I knew it. Oh, God! what could have possessed him?" Mrs. Sawtelle has thought since a week ago that Isaac was his brother's murderer, and on Saturday last accused him of the murder to his face.

LANDSLIDE A MILE LONG.

Buildings Swept Away, Two Chinamen Buried and a River Turned Back.

WEAVERVILLE, Cal., Feb. 15.—News is just received of one of the biggest landslides ever known on the Pacific coast, which occurred fifty miles below here.

The land slid into the Trinity River, raising the water to a depth of 300 feet and backing up the river fourteen miles. The sliding mass was about a mile long and 400 yards wide.

Many buildings were swept away with their contents. Two Chinamen were buried in the debris and several persons barely escaped.

Social Volcanic Eruption.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 15.—A social volcanic eruption occurred here when it became known that the housekeeper of the late Amos E. Beckwith, president of the Dyerville Manufacturing Company, claimed to be his widow. The claimant is Mrs. Maria Sherman, a woman about 35 years of age, who had been in Beckwith's service for some years. Three hours after Beckwith died, the housekeeper showed a marriage certificate to her friends and said she had long been the dead man's wife. When called upon by reporters Mrs Sherman said she was indeed the wife of Beckwith and that she intended to assert her rights.

Mrs. Scully Acquitted.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Scully, indicted on a charge of murder in causing the death of her father, William Leinhart, and who has been on trial at Morrisville, was found not guilty, the jury being out but half an hour. Her husband, who was jointly indicted with her, was discharged from custody.

Waller Secures the Post.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 15.—Governor Beaver appointed the Rev. Prof. D. J. Waller, jr., President of the Bloomsburg Normal School, Superintendent of Public Instruction, in place of the late Dr. E. E. Higbee. He will assume the duties of the position on the first of March.

Philanthropist Hauselt's Will.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The will of the late philanthropist, Charles Hauselt, gives considerable sums to a large number of educational and charitable institutions, after providing liberally for relatives. The estate is valued at over $1,000,000.

FORGING THE CHAIN.

Tracing the Molly Maguire Murderers of Patrick Hagney.

PHŒNIXVILLE, Pa., Feb. 15.—The chain of evidence in the murder of Officer Patrick Hagney by illicit whiskey dealers and their hired assassins had other links added to it when John Trenwith and William Hertenstein were taken to the Westchester jail, where Bernard Mellon is already confined.

From the evidence so far gleaned by the District-Attorney the officers feel sure that Trenwith was the man selected to do the bloody work. It appears that Mellon might have been present with Trenwith as one of the gang, but did not fire the fatal shot.

Chief of Police Moore to-day induced Trenwith to write an order for some articles he wanted, and the handwriting corresponds exactly to the death notice found tied to a wheelbarrow at the engine house where Hagney was murdered.

Two hours after Trenwith was taken to jail, Hertenstein, who confessed what he knew, was taken there on another train. Mellon, the first man arrested, had been sent to prison months ago on Hagney's information, for stealing coal from the Reading company's cars. John Kelly and Dennis Kane testified to the dissolute habits of Mellon, and swore that Mellon admited that he had been on the railroad near the engine house several times on the night of the shooting but did not fire the shot.

Hertenstein's evidence shows Trenwith's purchase of illicit whiskey 20 miles down the road, his detection by Hagney, Trenwith's threat to kill him and his departure that night for Hagney's post of duty, where the officer was shot half an hour later.

FLOODS FOLLOW THE RAIN.

Rivers in Pennsylvania and Ohio Swollen to Raging Torrents.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 15.—The continued heavy rains throughout Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio have swollen all the streams, and serious damage to property is feared as the waters are still raging and the rain has not abated. In the immediate vicinity of Pittsburg there has been no damage and the rivers are still quite low, but a high stage of water is expected within the next 24 hours.

In Beaver County the Shenango river and Neshannock creek are higher to-day than they have been for years. South of this the Beaver river is dammed, and reports from below say that the bridges near Moravia are in danger of being swept away. The damage by the flood in the southern portion of the county is great. The Beaver river is rising rapidly. At Youngston, Ohio, the river is a raging torrent, filled with drift wood.

In attempting to cross in a row boat last night Frank Green was drowned by drift wood striking the frail craft and capsizing it. Green was 21 years of age and married.

KILRAIN IN TROUBLE

His Combination Arrested in Dallas, Texas.

DEATH FROM A KNOCK-OUT BLOW

Fatal Ending of a Fierce Contest Between Two Lightweights.

Kilrain Was Overcome and Wept Like a Child—Muldoon Called for a Doctor Too Late—The Fighter Who Struck the Blow Fled but Afterwards Surrendered to the Police.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 15.—Jake Kilrain and his sparring troupe exhibited at the Opera House last night. It was announced to be only a sparring and wrestling match.

After some uneventful sparring by others, Tom James, of Dallas, encountered Banzia, the combination champion light-weight, for $25, conditioned that James should stay four rounds. Banzia had it his own way from the first. In the fourth round Banzia struck James in the neck, knocking him limp on the stage. James was unable to rise. He was sponged and restoratives applied and the show continued, no one supposing that James was hurt seriously. When the entertainment had about concluded, Muldoon announced that James was unconscious and called for a physician.

As soon as the serious condition of James became known officers began a search for Banzia but he had fled.

At 1 a. m. James died and the entire combination excepting Banzia was put under arrest on a charge of murder.

Kilrain was so overcome that he wept like a child. A few hours later Banzia returned and surrendered to the officers. It is generally supposed that James' neck was broken, but one doctor gives it as his opinion that James died from paralysis of the heart.

Muldoon contributed $100 to pay James' funeral expenses. The body will be sent to Denver for interment.

STARTLING STATEMENT.

Murderer Hillman's Wife Says that She Killed the Peddler.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—Old Ephraim Hillman, the father of the young man who was hanged at Woodbury, N. J., some time ago for the murder of the peddler Seideman, has made a statement which may be followed with sensational and surprising developments.

Practically he charges that his daughter-in-law, the wife of the hanged culprit, murdered the peddler, and conveys the impression that his son died to save his wife. This story old Hillman told to two well known Camden police officers, Peters and Anderson, and the authorities in Camden are now deliberating as to what steps are proper to pursue in the case. The outcome may be the arrest and prosecution of young Mrs. Hillman for her share in the crime.

The story is to the effect that on the day before the execution old Hillman was riding home. Mrs. Joe Hillman was on the wagon. They were weeping over the fate of the son and husband.

Mrs. Hillman turned to her father-in-law and said: "Joe isn't the guilty one."

She then told a strange tale, which, if true, proves that Joe Hillman died to save his wife.

Ephraim Hillman says that Joe's wife told him she wanted trust for certain goods the peddler had, but he told her he was not going to return that winter. That night while in bed Mrs. Hillman spoke to her husband about the matter and asked him to steal the goods from the pack. Joe refused and she went down to steal the goods. While she was taking them from the pack Seideman awoke. Joe grappled with the peddler, and, being a small man, the latter was getting the best of him, when Mrs. Hillman seized an axe and struck him on the head, knocking him down. The body was then disposed of.

Secretary Tracy Has a Relapse.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Secretary Tracy, who has taken possession of his apartments at the Arno, is not well enough to go out, and it is feared that the effects of exposure during the fire are more serious than he thought. Instead of getting better the Secretary seems to have had a relapse and is now suffering from nervous prostration. He has not been to the Navy Department and it is thought he will not go there until after his trip South.

Representative Kelley Explains.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Mr. Kelley, of Kansas, told the House very frankly in a five minutes' speech the purpose of the new code of rules. He said that his constituents sent him to Congress with the understanding that he should not come back unless a service pension bill was passed and a federal election law enacted. These rules were to secure these objects and that was why he was for the new code.

Two Pension Bills Passed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Two pension bills of importance passed the Senate. The first repeals the sections of the Revised Statutes which require that the claim for pension by the State militiaman for disability incurred while temporarily on duty must be filed before July 4, 1874. The other provides that oaths required in pension or bounty cases may be taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths for general purposes.

A DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION.

The Washington Park Whist Club Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Dupee and the Smith Family.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dupee, at their handsome home on RockView avenue, entertained last evening the Washington Park Whist Club and the "A. P's," (which if it must be known, signifies "Aged Parents,) together with a few of their friends. Mrs. Dupee, assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. Hotchkiss, received her guests in a charming manner.

The especial feature of the evening was the performance of the "Smith Family" by seven members of the Whist Club, introduced and explained by Mr. Samuel St. J. McCutchen. The "family," even including the cat, proved themselves good singers and good actors, to say nothing of their attractive personalities. Music, vocal and instrumental, then diverted the company and was in turn followed by refreshments in sumptuous and elegant profusion. Midnight brought a most delightful evening to its close and those who attended will long recall its enjoyments with pleasure.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Howland, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Waring, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. M. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Martin I. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan S. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. B. PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Bessie Garretson of Somerville, has been the guest for several days past of Mrs W. Runyon of East Fifth street.

Contractor Moore of the County roads, who is a guest at Force's Hotel, has so far recovered from his serious illness as to be able to sit up.

Miss Bertie Stokes of Philadelphia, who has been visiting Miss Mabel Woodruff of this city, returned home yesterday. Miss Woodruff accompanied her, and will remain until after Easter.

The funeral of the late Ella Terry, who died on Thursday, took place from her parents residence on Richmond street, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery.

At their home on West Fourth street, last evening, was celebrated the anniversary of the wedding of John W. Murray, Jr., and Miss Amelia Dowley. A number were present and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

At his home at Neshanic, N. J., on Monday, occured the death of Mr. Geo. Gano, father of Mrs. Wilson Fulper, of this city. Mr. Gano was seventy-eight years of age, and his death resulted from apoplexy. The funeral took place on Thursday.

The Right Rev. Dr. Seton will lecture to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's church. Subject, "Shrines of the Holy Land." He has just returned from a visit to these sacred places and as he is an entertaining speaker the lecture will be well worth hearing.

The ladies of the Trinity Reformed church, who had in charge the bazaar that closed in the Chautauqua building, last evening, desire to publicly express their thanks to those who by their donations added to the attractiveness of the affair, and to those who by their patronage aided in the realization of almost $300 profit that will be devoted towards the indebtedness of the Church

For Members and Their Families Only.

Next Monday evening is "Ladies Night" at the Crescent League club house, and a match game will be bowled between two teams composed of the wives, daughters and sisters of the League's members. No one will be admitted except the members and their ladies.

After the match the latter will serve a supper to the gentlemen, and a successful social time will be the result of all the arrangements that have been made. "Ladies Night" has become one of the most admirable features of the League, and even the old bachelor members are heartily in sympathy with its encroachment on their privileges.

Mr. Richards' People on the Anxious Seat.

There was much suppressed excitement last Sunday among those of the Crescent Avenue church congregation who supposed they were in the secret. It was whispered that a commitee of strange gentlemen who were noticeably present, were from Dr. Cuyler's church, in Brooklyn, on the search for his successor.

Of Interest to the Plainfield Bar.

The County Court officers request The Press to state that Judge VanSyckel will sit in Elizabeth, Monday morning, at 10:30 o'clock, to hear motions. The Plainfield lawyers can in no other possible way be notified.

Not An Unusual Occurrence on All Trains.

The "ladies car" on the 4:30 Easton express from New York yesterday afternoon, was so crowded with men that there were but three or four seats left for the ladies when they arrived.

IS THIS MORE OR LESS TRUE?

Obstacles Alleged to be Checking the Development of Plainfield's Water Works.

To the Editor of The Press:—

The Plainfield water works project has met several serious obstacles. The contract is unsatisfactory, and the Company has been unable to obtain water in sufficient quantities in the Northeastern quarter of the city whence alone, under the contract, it can be drawn. The recently promulgated decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Galesburg case has upset all attempts at present to float water works bonds not secured by the pledge of a solvent municipality itself. In this case the city of Plainfield assumes no direct obligation.

This clipping was taken from yesterday's New York Tribune and the news contained therein is presumably reported from Plainfield. Is it true that water was not found in sufficient quantity in the Northeastern part of the city?

If you should have an opportunity to look over the "Galesburg decision" you will find that it has no bearing on the situation in Plainfield. The reason that it will never be an easy matter to float Plainfield Water company bonds under the present contract with the city, is that the Water company cannot show how it is to earn the interest on the bonded indebtedness even if it can find water enough for fire purposes and private consumption.

Two engineers engaged at the city's expense, have previously reported substantially that it is a doubtful question if water can ever be obtained in Plainfield in sufficient quantity or proper quality, by boring for it. I think we will discover that brook water will have to be resorted to in the end, and it has proven to be immensely better for domestic purposes even in this vicinity. There is plenty of capital waiting to make advances to build water works in Plainfield, when a business like franchise is granted by the city.

One Of The People.

SHE CAN'T DENY THEY ARE THE BEST.

In Spite of Rahway's Loss, Her Papers Confess That Plainfield's Nine's "The People."

The Rahway Advocate says: "The Plainfielders are very much 'set up' over securing Rahway's old players, whom they term a 'stone-wall in-field.' Well, here's the place good ball players are made. None of these 'stone-walls' excepting Lufberry had any reputation until educated by Rahway management."

And the Rahway Democrat softens the blow for its readers by talking hopefully through its hat before breaking the sad news, thus: "Things are beginning to boom in base ball circles as the Spring draws near. Manager Wilson of the Rahways, is hard at work selecting players to represent the association, and is confident that this season's team will be as strong, if not stronger, than last season's."

Then it goes on to say: "There will undoubtedly be many new faces among the nine, as Lufberry, Martin, Jones and Weigand have already accepted offers from the management of the Crescents of Plainfield, for the season of '90. Manager Wilson endeavored to sign these men, but the Plainfielders were beforehand, and in addition presented greater financial inducements than the local board. The Crescent league are hanging up big money for players this season, and expect to have a crack team. They certainly have secured good men in the four above mentioned. However, the name of the good ball players looking for engagements is legion, and the home team will be in no wise weakened."

Valentine Sociable.

A novel entertainment styled a "Valentine Sociable," was held in the Sunday School room of the First Presbyterian church, last evening, and it was largely attended. The programme rendered included three beautiful solos by Miss Grant, a recitation by Mr. Thos Blair, entitled "Valentine's Day," a duett by Miss Petrie and Mrs Van Dyke, and some vocal selections by Mr. Martin. Each one present received a token in the shape of a valentine, which they received by applying at a post office, located in one corner of the room.

During the evening, cake, chocolate and cream were passed around, and at about ten o'clock the entertainment came to an end.

St. Valentine's Day.

Yesterday was St. Valentine's Day, and although the custom of sending valentines is said to be dying out, yet the appearance of the book stores, news stands and other places where the sale of valentines is carried on seems to belie the statement. At the post office a Press reporter was informed that the increase in the mail was noticeably large, but that it was nothing like it was in former years. A great many valentines were sent out of town, and many of them were of quite large dimensions.

The Missing Man Returns.

Bookkeeper Rea, who has been missing from his home in Westfield, since Friday of last week, for some unaccountable reason, returned home late on Thursday night, evidently in the best of spirits. His family do not care to talk of the subject, but they claim that his absence was an entire blank to him. Mr. Rea is a bookkeeper for a wholesale gas-fixture manufacturing firm, with headquarters on Canal street, New York city.

Designs were submitted from seven different granite companies, who have quarries in Maine, Vermont and Rhode Island. One company from Chicago was also represented at the meeting.

The committee took no definite action, but adjourned until Thursday evening of next week, when the matter will be placed in the hands of the sub-committee which was appointed two weeks ago, and the said committee it is expected will then award the contract.

The dialogue is bright and witty, and keeps the audience in good humor. The story is well and crisply told, and the interest never flags from the rising to the falling of the curtain.

BALFOUR ATTACKED

Parnell Moves for the Repeal of the Coercion Act.

HE MAKES A TELLING SPEECH.

The Action of the Government Could Not Defeat Irish Aspirations.

Balfour Charged With Petty Persecutions—Sir Richard Webster Replies to the Irish Leader—Radicals Favor a Dissolution of Parliament—Presbyterians Denounce Balfour.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Parnell inquired what action the Government proposed to take on the report of the Special Commission.

Mr. W. H. Smith replied that the report had only been received yesterday evening, and the Government had not yet had time to decide upon a course of action.

Mr. Parnell moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech that the Coercion act be repealed. In support of his motion, Mr. Parnell attacked the Goverment's persistent persecution of the Irish. Almost every act of Mr. Balfour, he said, appeared to be to the end of driving the people to the commission of crime. While many of the actions of Earl Spencer while Viceroy of Ireland were faulty, the law under his administration was directly against active crime and secret conspiracy. In the case of Mr. Balfour it was directed against the right to combine, the freedom of the press and liberty of speech.

While there had been much unjust and criminal boycotting in 1880, 1881 and 1882, the action of the Nationalists since has been constantly modified and moderated in recognition of the efforts of the Legislature to pass measures of amelioration. Mr. Balfour, he said, could not plead the revival of crime. The people were quiescent and in expectation of soon getting their rights, yet Mr. Balfour's regime was distinguished for petty prosecutions and frivolous charges, often against old women and little children.

The action of the Government tended toward its own defeat. It could not turn the tide of Irish aspirations. In spite of the petty exasperations of Mr. Balfour's policy, the Nationalists had not swerved from pacific methods to attain their aims. (Cheers.)

Sir R. E. Webster taunted Mr. Parnell with having made grave accusations against Mr. Balfour without adducing evidence to support them. While calling the Admistration to account for the future Mr. Parnell and his associates must bear in mind that they could not disprove the figures showing that crime in Ireland had been decreased and boycotting repressed.

An American Skater Wins.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 15.—Louis Rubenstein, the champion fancy skater of America, won the championship of the world in that city, in the competition under the auspices of the St. Petersburg Amateur Skating Club. The contest took place on open-air ice, and among the countries which had representatives competing were Austria, Finland, Norway, Sweden and Russia.

A Wedding Party Drowned.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—A sad accident happened at a wedding party at Pontivy. The vehicle conveying the bride and bridegroom and a number of their friends was upset and the whole party were precipitated into the river. The bride and bridegroom and 10 others of the party were drowned.

Our Navy Abroad.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—A banquet was tendered to the officers of the American squadron of evolution by Vice-Admiral Bergasse-du-Petit-Thouars, commander of the Fifth Maritime Arrondissement, on board his flagship at Villefranche. The civil and military authorities of Villefranche and Nice were present.

Jubilee Juggins Sentenced.

NICE, Feb. 15.—Benson, otherwise known as Jubilee Juggins, who was arrested for forging a check for £1,000, and whose friends, it is said, made the loss good, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment and to pay the costs of the prosecution.

The Anti-Slavery Conference.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 15.—United States Minister Whitelaw Reid has been asked by the Anti-Slavery Conference to use his influence with the French Government to persuade it to agree to the right of searching ships under the French flag.

Acquitted All Along the Line.

DUBLIN, Feb. 15.—Commenting on the Parnell Commission's report, the Freeman's Journal says that the Parnellites have been acquitted all along the line, and the findings of the Commission virtually constitute a verdict against their accusers.

Presbyterians Denounce Balfour.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Presbyterian Church in Ireland has issued a manifesto denouncing Chief Secretary Balfour's recent speech in favor of the endowment of a Catholic University in Dublin.

Radicals Favor Dissolution.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The Radical members of the House of Commons are strongly in favor of a policy on the part of the opposition to the end of compelling a dissolution of Parliament.

A Desperate Thief Escapes.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—Three officers attempted to arrest Tony Burke wanted in Jersey City for burglary. Burke was found at Tenth and Cabot streets. He fired at the officers and fled. The fire was returned and Burke was wounded, but he continued his flight and escaped by scaling a fence and running through a dwelling house to another street. Burke is described as a desperate thief.

Two Bodies Recovered.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 15.—A special from Rockland says the bodies of Ezra Kenney and his wife Nellie, who left their home on Moose Island for Green's Landing in a small boat Thursday evening, were found to-day. The body of Mrs. Kenney was floating in a cove. The boat was found anchored with the body of Mr. Kenney entangled in the ropes.

MURPHY MURDER MYSTERY.

Blood-Stained Cuffs, Said to Belong to Rosseau, Found in the Hotel.

TOM'S RIVER, N. J., Feb. 15.—There were some sensational developments in the Berkley Arms murder case. On a careful search being made of the Berkley Arms Hotel a pair of blood-stained cuffs belonging to Rosseau, the manager of the hotel, and a derby hat worn by Murphy at the time he was murdered were found. An attempt had been made to wash the cuffs, but the stains remained.

Prosecutor Middleton says he is confident that he will have sufficient evidence when the court meets to establish the guilt of the murderer. Rosseau is still locked up in the county jail at this place, but his wife and friends are making every effort to secure his release on bail. It is doubtful if Rossea will be admitted to bail for the present at least.

HELPING PRISONERS.

Meeting of the Association to Assist Criminals to Lead Honest Lives.

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—The Massachusetts Prison Association, which now has a membership of 300, held its first public meeting in this city, Governor Brackett presiding. The object of the association is to aid discharged prisoners and first offenders on probation in leading honest lives.

The meeting was addressed by Governor Brackett, Dr. Samuel Elliott, President of the Association; the Hon. Charlton T. Lewis, of the New York Prison Association—who denounced the retributive idea in punishment, and claimed that prisoners should be incarcerated, not for the purpose of inflicting pain, but for the benefit of society—and by the Rev. Frederick H. Wines, of Illinois, Secretary of the National Prison Association, who discussed the whole question of crime and prison management.

The Lepers' Friend.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Miss Amy Fowler, the young Englishwoman who is going to devote her life to the care of the lepers of Molokai, was tendered a reception at the residence of Richard F. Downing in Brooklyn. Many well-known Brooklyn and New York people were present. Mr. Downing is president of the American Leprosy Society, recently organized to co-operate with the English Society, of which the Prince of Wales is the head, and under whose auspices Miss Fowler goes to Molokai. Miss Fowler will leave New York on Monday next, and expects to sail from San Francisco for the Hawaiian Islands on February 28.

Arbitrators to Settle the Strike.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 15.—Through the meditation of a number of merchants the cotton operatives' strike seems likely to be settled soon. Both sides have agreed to a proposal that a committee be appointed, two members by the strikers, two by the company, and a fifth by these four, who shall arbitrate all the questions at issue and whose report shall be accepted by both parties.

Meriden's Smallpox Epidemic.

MERIDEN, Conn., Feb. 15.—Another case of smallpox was reported to the health officers. It is that of a servant girl named Cassidy who visited the infected quarter. She was promptly removed to the pest house. William Swanson, one of the cases in the Polish quarter, managed to elude the officer on guard and escaped. Officers are in pursuit, and it is thought he will be found in hiding in this city before night. The people are taking every precaution and the doctors are very busy vaccinating.

Bloody Fight in a Boarding House.

ROCHESTER, Feb. 15.—Rochester Italians had a bloody fight in a boarding-house during the night that may result fatally. The fight was over a game of cards. A razor, an axe, a hoe and a crosscut saw were the weapons used. Dominick Parthanausi is suffering from a severe razor cut that will very likely prove fatal. Luigi Pittslet's skull was penetrated by a hoe blade, and his chances of recovery are very small. Nine Italians were locked up as principals and witnesses.

The Government May Act.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15.—The possibility of the National Government bringing suit against the manager of the recent New Orleans Exposition to compel an accounting of the funds of the concern, has created a flurry in certain circles. To aid the Exposition, Congress appropriated $1,300,000, with the understanding that if there was a surplus when the exhibition was over the money should be turned into the United States Treasury.

Workmen Badly Scalded.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 15.—An accident that might have resulted in several fatalities occurred at the forge of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock, Pa. Some cold water ran into a ladle of molten metal, badly scalding Samuel Evans and John Swanson, workmen employed in the forge, and a boy named Howard Wallace. William Lindsay, another workman, was probably fatally injured by the explosion.

Clinging to a Bare Chance.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—It is now nearly seven weeks since the steamship Erin, of the National Line, sailed from London for New York, and the agents here have very little hope that she is still afloat. There is a slight chance that she may be drifting about some unfrequented part of the ocean. In case she was cast ashore it may be that some of her crew will be heard from.

Whipped by a Masked Gang.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 15.—Philip Brammer, a weak-minded and inoffensive farmer, living near Patricksburg, was seized Wednesday night, while on his way home, by masked men. They took him to an orchard, tied him to a tree and whipped him almost to insensibility. Brammer was left covered with blood, lying on the ground and was nearly frozen before he recovered sufficiently to go home where he arrived about daylight.

Mass Meeting for the World's Fair.

ALBANY LEGISLATION.

Debate on the Ballot Reform Bill Postponed Until Wednesday.

ALBANY, Feb. 15.—Both branches of the Legislature adjourned until Monday. In the Senate the debate on the Ballot-Reform bill was deferred until next Wednesday and the following bills were introduced: Appropriating $12,000 for a canal bridge at Buffalo. Relating to the taxation of libraries. Relative to police justices. Relative to mortgages procured by hotel corporations. Concerning Long Island City's expenditures. Concerning intoxicated or disorderly persons. Concerning claims for damages. Conserning charitable and benevolent societies.

In the Assembly the following bills were introduced: Amending the dog tax law. Providing for the inspection of food intended for human use.

Opposed to High License.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 15.—Governor Larabee's message was a surprise for the Legislature. The Governor says he does not believe that a high license policy, or one which will leave only the "respectacle" saloon in existence, will ever be sanctioned by the people of Iowa. The "gilded saloon" he considers far more dangerous that the "squalid, outlawed whiskey dive." The Governor then enters into a long argument against the licensing of saloons in any form. Where the law has not been enforced, the blame, he thinks, lies with the executive officers. A recommendation is made that the law be amended so as to prevent undue searches of private houses.

Will Employ 500 Hands.

WALTHAM, Mass., Feb. 15.—It is now definitely settled that the Judson L. Thompson Manufacturing Company, of Syracuse, N. Y., will come to Waltham. The company manufactures small hardware, is capitalized for $700,000, and at present employs about 00 men, but will employ 500 in Waltham. It is expected to have the works in full operation early in the summer.

If certain conditions are not complied with, the money will go to the State of Massachusetts, and if that State objects to the conditions, the money will go to the State of Michigan.

The price to be paid for this work is $158,340, or $52,780 for each vessel.

SAWTELLE'S DEATH

The Missing Head Has Not Yet Been Discovered.

THE BODY FULLY IDENTIFIED.

Strengthening the Chain of Evidence Against the Murdered Man's Brother.

The Horrible Crime Undoubtedly Committed in New Hampshire—A Talk With the Suspected Murderer—Confronted with the Evidence of the Crime—He is Surprised But Claims He is Innocent.

ROCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 17.—Thousands of people yesterday visited the locality where the dismembered body of Hiram A. Sawtelle was unearthed.

There were no startling developments to-day, but many minor matters have brought to light, strengthening the chain of evidence against the murdered man's brother Isaac.

The body was fully identified. The theory that the murder was committed in New Hampshire is supported by the statement made by John Willey, a logging team driver, who says that he passed a carriage supposed to contain Hiram and Isaac, in the pine woods between here and East Rochester, and a few minutes afterward heard three shots in quick succession. A number of other people say that they heard the firing. The missing head has not yet been found.

A Talk With Isaac Sawtelle.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Officer Shields has returned from the Dover (N. H.) jail, where he had a long talk with Isaac Sawtelle. The latter, when confronted at last with the evidence of the crime, broke down somewhat, and made a statement, in which, while denying that he did the killing, he implicated "Dr." Blood and one Ed Russell, a Boston criminal known to the police and suspected of complicity in the Keene jewelry store robbery on Washington street. Isaac stoutly maintained that he did not know where the head was and that he would, if he could, give the officers aid in finding it.

Captain White, after hearing Officer Shields' report, expressed the belief that Sawtelle was still lying and that, though the prisoner was aided and advised up to the point of committing the crime, he did the deed himself. Blood's picture has been shown to many people in Rochester, but no one recognizes the man as ever having been there, where strangers are quickly noticed.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

The Body of a Woman Found Buried in Mud in Hoboken.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—As Rounds-Flattery walked along Harrison street, near Second street, yesterday, he discovered the body of a woman lying between two large rocks.

It is mostly meadow land in the neighborhood, and the face of the woman was partly buried in the mud and water. The body was that of a woman about 30 years of age, five feet three inches in height, and weighing about 130 pounds. She was dark complexioned and had dark hair and gray eyes.

She wore a black cloth jacket, white and black waist trimmed with white braid, stripped stockings, buttoned shoes, which had lately been repaired, and a black felt hat with velvet bow front. She wore about her neck a scapular indicating that she was a Catholic.

County Physician Converse found no marks of violence or anything to indicate that the woman had met with foul play. He was of the opinion that the woman died of hemorrhage of the lungs.

Detective Gallagher ascertained that a woman answering the description was seen in the hall of a saloon on Jackson street, Hoboken, late Saturday night. She was crying and appeared to be in trouble. Her movements were not watched, and she finally disappeared.

Hunting for Pugilist King.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Several parties in this city are anxiously hunting for Joe King, the 133-pound English pugilist, matched to spar Jack Falvey, of Providence, at the Parnell Club, Friday night. He skipped from here, taking with him a gold watch and chain, $200 in money and several gold medals set with diamonds, the property of John Joyce, ex-champion feather-weight of England, who has been backing him, and who also loses $150 he had placed as forfeit. The police have been notified, and are watching the steamers that sail from East Boston. Joyce has gone to New York to prevent King from leaving by steamer from there.

Leconey's Reputation.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—The third week of the Leconey trial opened to-day. Many witnesses were called for the defence to show Leconey's good character. It is said that the prosecution has still much damaging testimony to put in against Leconey in rebuttal. A colored man retained in the jail is a witness for the prosecution, and it is said that he will testify to frequent quarrels between the murdered young woman and the prisoner while he was employed as a farm hand at the Leconey place a year or two previous to the murder.

Change in the Nevada Bank.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—A syndicate, among whom are J. W. Hillman, of Los Angeles, Schell Brothers, of San Francisco and New York, and Levi Strauss, have acquired the controlling interest in the Nevada Bank of this city. The ownership of this bank, since the death of James C. Flood, has been entirely held by John W. Mackey, James L. Flood and ex-Senator Fair.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

A New Yorker Shoots a Man and His Wife and Then Kills Himself.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Isaac Jacob, aged 45, shot and killed Herman Royozinsky, of 45 Ridge street, about 5 o'clock in the morning, then shot, and perhaps fatally wounded Royozinsky's wife, and finally shot himself dead. The tragedy was the result of an old quarrel between the two men.

It is said that Jacob once smuggled $7,000 worth of diamonds into this country, and becoming frightened placed them in Royozinsky's hands for safe keeping until it should be safe to dispose of them, but when he asked Royozinsky for them the latter refused to account for them. It was also said that Jacob, who was a married man, made love to Royozinsky's niece, until he was forbidden to visit the family any more.

A RIOT MAY ENSUE.

Wholesale Arrest of Members of a Women's Temperance Union.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 17.—The intense excitement caused in Lathrop, 20 miles from here, by the crusade against the saloons, has been augmented by the decision of John A. Cross, Prosecuting Attorney, who will to-day issue warrants for the arrest of 95 people, including 45 members of the Women's Temperance Union.

Threats have been made against his life if he does so, but he says he will perform his duty, let the consequences be what they may. The temperance people are in a state of great anxiety. They declare in the event of arrest none will give bail, but will stay in jail. Fears of trouble are entertained and they are not groundless. If the warrants are issued a riot may ensue.

BLACKMAILERS ARRESTED.

A Wealthy Citizen Falls Into the Clutches of a Medium.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 17.—A successful attempt at blackmail, of which Amaziah Mayo, a wealthy citizen, was the victim, has just come to light.

Last November Frank C. Algerton, who professed to be a medium, enticed Mayo to his room, and under the pretence of receiving massage treatment Mayo was placed in a compromising attitude. Algerton's confederate, George A. Mason, broke in the door and claiming to be a detective put Mayo under arrest.

Mayo agreed to settle the matter for $4,000, half which amount he paid. Algerton and Mason have been arrested.

Treasurer Davis' Shortage.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 17.—City Treasurer Davis' shortage amounts to about $60,000 and his bond is for $50,000. The bondsmen met and hoped to effect an arrangement by which sufficient property may be obtained from the Treasurer to make them whole. Expert Brown, who examined the books, says there is an apparent deficiency of $130,000, of which one-half is accounted for by good, natural advances to contractors and city employes, and by the issue of tax receipts to property owners in advance of their payment of taxes to enable them to escape the percentage added after the expiration of the stated time for payment.

Oil in Northern New York.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Indications of gas and oil have been discovered at Schroon Lake, in this county. C. F. Taylor, a resident there, has succeeded in interesting New York, Albany and Troy men, and wells will soon be sunk. An option of 5,000 acres of land bordering on the lake has been secured.

Put Off the Train and Killed.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Feb. 17.—A well-dressed man, about 30 years old, quarreled with the conductor of the late Lehigh Valley train last night and was put off the train at Lancaster Switch, near here. An hour later his horribly mangled body was picked up a short distance from the station, and brought to an undertaker's establishment, where it still awaits identification.

The Convicted Rioters.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 17.—The convicted Navassa rioters will be probably be sentenced this week. The question of the jurisdiction of the United States over the Navassa Islands having been raised, it is possible that the Supreme Court of the United States may be called on to pass upon that point.

Will Carry on the Strike.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 17.—The striking miners in the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg mines at Walston and Adrian have had no encouragement from the company. A mass-meeting declared in favor of maintaining the strike until an honorable settlement can be had.

The Situation at Nashua.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 17.—The arbitration committee will meet to-day, but there is a less hopeful feeling than yesterday in regard to the prospect of their successfully ending the cotton operatives strike. Nothing of importance was done by the disputing parties.

Benziah Set at Liberty.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 17.—Benziah, the lightweight pugilist who killed Tom James in a sparring match, has been discharged on the ground that there is no law to indict a man for killing another in a licensed exhibition.

Sexton Knocked Out Norton.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 17.—Tom Sexton, of Hartford, knocked out Jimmy Norton, of Waterbury, in three rounds near here yesterday. They are lightweights.

Wages Advanced.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Feb. 17.—The wages of the employes of the Bethlehem Iron Company have been advanced 15 per cent.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Blair Educational Bill Before the Senate To-Day.

TEN SET SPEECHES PROMISED.

The Site for the World's Fair the Question Before the House.

An Early Disposition of the Matter Expected—The Atkinson-Pendleton Election Case to Go Over Until Next Week. Secretary Blaine to Accompany the President to Pittsburg.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—After suspending consideration of the subject for several days the Senate returned to-day to the discussion of the Blair Educational bill, and Mr. Blair, who received a fresh supply of material, resumed his speech in advocacy of the measure. It is likely he will exhaust his oratory in a day or two and give other Senators an opportunity to lay their views before the Senate and the country.

Fully ten set speeches on this bill were promised, but Mr. Blair has consumed so much of the Senate's time that some of them will be short. Nevertheless the Educational bill will absorb the Senate's attention during the greater part of the week, and its consideration may extend into the week following.

Meantime the calendar will be discussed during the morning hour and at odd intervals. In the early part of the week some time will be devoted to the consideration of Executive business, and the British Extradition treaty, and possibly the Russian treaty, will likely be disposed of.

The Committee on Finance will take up all matters relating to silver coinage to-morrow and possibly dispose of them.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections will give some attention to the Montana election case during the week, but it will be some time before a decision is reached.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The Site for the World's Fair the Great Question Now.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—There is every reason to believe the controversy over the selection of a site for the World's Fair will be settled so far as the House is concerned before this week has passed. Everything favors an early disposition of the matter.

The Elections Committee has agreed not to attempt to call up the Atkinson-Pendleton case until next week and the way is clear for the fair bill.

Monday is, under the new rules, suspension day in the House when bills may be called up by committees and passed under a suspension of the rules. Most of the committees have not made preparation for bringing bills before the House in this way, but it is safe to say that to-day will be entirely taken up in discussion and passing those bills that are reported.

Some debate will ensue on the resolutions of Mr. Candler and Mr. Hitt providing for discussion and voting on two World's Fair bills. Mr. Candler's resolution sets apart to-morrow and Wednesday for discussion and Thursday for voting, while Mr. Hitt provides only for one day of discussion, to-morrow, with voting on Wednesday. A majority of the members seem to be in favor of having at least two days' discussion and for this reason Mr. Candler's proposition has the better chance of being agreed to.

There is a possibility of a deadlock on the question at issue, and in the event of this it cannot be said, with accuracy, how the rest of the week may be consumed. Friday is a private bill day and, naturally, will probably be devoted to the delivery of eulogies on deceased members.

The Appropriations Committee expect to have the Pension Appropriation bill ready to report to the House to-morrow.

The New Postage Stamps.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The green postage stamp has but a few more days to live. This week arrangements will be completed by the Postoffice Department for a change in color of stamps of nearly all denominations. The two-cent stamp will be a deep carmine, and the one-cent stamp will remain a bright hue as at present.

The Saunders Murder.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 17.—Marshal Mizell says the murder of Deputy Marshal Saunders was premeditated, and that there was an attempt to decoy him (Mizell) into the country as well as Saunders. He refused to go, and gave a warning to Saunders of his suspicion, but it was disregarded.

Mrs. Hillman Says She Didn't Confess.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Hillman denies that she confessed to the murder of peddler Seidman, for which her husband was hanged, and has had her father-in-law and Policeman Peters, who circulated the story, arrested for malicious slander.

Must Leave the Public Schools.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 17.—Mgr. Doane, who was lately given the title of Protonotary Apostolic by the Pope, notified the parishioners of St. Patrick's Cathedral yesterday that they must take their children from the public schools and send them to the parochial schools on penalty of excommunication and denial of absolution.

Saloons Closed for the First Time.

DENVER, Col., Feb. 17.—For the first time in the history of Denver all the liquor saloons were closed yesterday. This was in accordance with a recent decision of the Supreme Court. One or two restaurants dispensed liquors to their patrons, but the law relating to saloons was strictly enforced.

A Work of Beauty in Appearance and Quality.

The "almanac program" that has just been issued by the Plainfield Bicycle Club as a souvenir of its coming fair, is both a work of art and a source of entertainment. It contains articles of local interest by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, J. Evarts Tracy, Esq., Editor Wm. J. Leonard, ex-City Clerk Leonard, Col Mason W. Tyler, the Rev. Wm. R. Richards, the Rev. Dr. Yerkes, the Rev. W. P Tilden, Mr. N. J. Laing, of THE PRESS and the New York Herald, Mr. Jas. R. Joy, and last, but not least, Mr Thos. S. Burr, editor of the "program" itself.

The thirty-six pages are illustrated by gems from the pages of the Cosmopolitan magazine, contain calanders for each month of the year, and are replete with information regarding the fair, and the fair who will preside at its tables. Nothing of its kind so handsome in appearance and literary merit, has ever been issued anywhere. Miss Helen A. Burr was the assistant editor in its compilation.

AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

Monsignor Seton Lectures in Aid of a Fund to be Used for the Benefit of the Poor.

The Right Rev. Dr. Seton lectured last evening at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's church, on the subject: "Shrines of the Holy Land." He has just returned from a visit to these sacred places, and as he is an entertaining speaker the lecture was listened to with great interest by the audience that completely filled the large edifice.

Dr. Seton was one of a party of Catholic prelates who made a pilgrimage to the Holy Land recently. The Plains of Sharon on the way to Jerusalem, he described as most beautiful, with its myriads of flowers of variegated colors, including roses, and from whence comes the name of the flower known as the "Rose of Sharon." A short distance outside the city of Jerusalem the party were met by the American Consul, who kindly offered his protection to them. The pilgrims carried an American banner with a cross on top, but had been warned that it would be dangerous to enter Jerusalem with that emblem; that it would excite the wrath of the Turks; but with the protection of this country, represented by its Consul, as told above, the journey into Jerusalem was made with safety.

Nazareth, one of the places visited, the Monsignor described as a most beautiful city, with its white houses and red tiles, situated on the side of a hill. He described at length the public fountain of Nazareth, from whence the only water in the place is obtained. He also told of his visit to Bethlehem, the birthplace of our Lord. His description of the Dead Sea and the River Jordan were also very interesting. He also visited Mt. Carmel, on the top of which is the convent bearing that name. The reverend gentleman told about the Garden of Olives, which he had the pleasure of going through. The garden is in charge of a Franciscan father, who has been there for fifty-nine years. The pilgrims kept together until their arrival at Paris on the return journey, when they separated.

It would be impossible for us to give in detail the many shrines and places visited by the party and told of last night, but have endeavored, as far as our space would permit, to tell the most interesting. After the lecture a collection was taken up to start a fund to be used for the benefit of the poor of the parish, the dispensing of which will be in charge of the Sisters of Charity.

ASSAULTED HIS WIFE AND FLED.

A Colored Man Beats his White Wife and Escapes to Easton—He Returns to Spend 20 Days in Jail.

Henry Furrough, a coal black negro, who is married to a white woman, and who is alleged to have beat his wife and sister about three months ago, at their home in "Battle Row" on West Fourth street, escaping to Easton afterward, returned to this city on Saturday evening, and was arrested by Officer Lynch and locked up.

During his absence Furrough wrote threatening letters to his wife which she never answered, the last letter having come in care of grocer Westphal of Liberty street. On Saturday night Mrs. Furrough heard of her husband's presence in town and about midnight she notified the police, with the above result.

This morning the prisoner pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by one Eliza Thompson, his wife having refused to lodge a complaint against her husband. Judge Codington thereupon fined the prisoner ten dollars, and in default of the payment of which he is to be committed to the County Jail for 20 days.

The Plainfield nine will play at home every Saturday, and the managers have already scheduled games with the strongest semi-professional teams in the country, including Princeton and Rutgers college nines.

SHACKLETON'S DIVORCE SUITS.

Widow Bickell Alleges She Lost a Large Sum by Marrying Him and That He Eloped With Mrs. Illsley of this City.

Joseph Shackleton, an inventor of some note and manager of the Shackleton Car Heater company, of Bound Brook, N. J., has been sued for $50,000 damages in the Superior Court New York, by Mrs Ruth Emeline Shackleton, who claims that he married her in Lawrence, Mass., in November, 1881, when he had a wife living. She charges fraud against Shackleton in getting possession of her property, valued at $11,000, and leaving her almost destitute.

When the plaintiff first met Shackleton she kept a hotel in Haverhill, Mass., which was left her, with a lot of other property, by her first husband, whose name was Bickell. He was an ex-soldier and a man of some prominence in that town. Mrs. Bickell was about forty years old and had four children when Shackleton, who was trying to sell some of his inventions in New England, went to board with her. She says he represented himself as a single man and claimed that his inventions were bound to make him rich.

Mrs. Shackleton says the ceremony was performed by a lawyer in Lawrence, Mass., where the pair went to keep the marriage secret She continued to run the hotel under the name of Bickell for a time and then went to Boston to live with him Several years afterward she says she found out that he had a wife living when she married him. This fact, it is claimed Shackleton concealed from her.

Finally, she alleges, Shackleton eloped from Bound Brook with Mrs. Illsley, the wife of his next door neighbor. This, however, is probably, a wicked slander. Mrs. Illsley is a lady beyond reproach. The Courts, as already related in THE PRESS, have granted her a divorce from her husband upholding her character against just such charges made by him as Mrs Bickell now makes.

Afterwards Mrs. Shackleton came to New York and opened a boarding house in Cedar street. She began a suit for absolute divorce from Shackleton last April in that city. Counsel fee and alimony were allowed her, but the case was afterward re-opened.

The divorce suit is still pending, but another action for divorce was brought by Mrs. Sarah Shackleton when the relations of her husband with the Widow Bickell became public. That case is also pending.

The marriage of Mrs. Sarah Shackleton took place in Rahway, N. J., in 1863. She belonged to an excellent family there, and is said to be the mother of five of Shackton's children.

A peculiar thing about the marriage ceremony that is said to have been performed in Lawrence is the representation that the lawyer who is claimed to have had authority to act in such matters was on investigation found to have been disbarred. There is a suspicion that this may have been a mock marriage, and will very likely complicate matters seriously.

Mr. Shackleton says he was never married to Mrs. Bickell, but has befriended her on several occasions. She is now being duped by his enemies into posing as his neglected wife. Mr. Shackleton's relations with a Mrs. Illsley, are only neighborly, as she keeps a hotel near his factory.

AT REFORM HALL.

Dr. John H. Shotwell and Mr. John W. Onderdonk Deliver Interesting Addresses.

The meeting in Reform Hall last evening was as usual well attended and of decided interest. The first speaker was Doctor John H. Shotwell of Asbury Park, who with force of language and close argument opposed the license system in every form, and held, as even more responsible for the evil, the men who voted for granting licenses than the men who sold liquor according to law.

He was followed by Mr. John W. Onderdonk, of Rockland county, New York, an outspoken enemy of the manufacture and sale of liquor, and of its use, so far as he was individually concerned, even as a medicine. He gave as a prominent reason for hostility to intoxicating liquor the terrible devastation he had seen wrought by it, citing as a mournful fact, that numbers of his immediate male relatives had been carried away by the awful curse of intemperance. The audience heard both speakers with unbroken attention from the commencement to the end of their remarks.

President Harper occupied the chair, the Rev. W. E. Honeyman conducted the devotional services, and the regular choir, led by Mr. King, with Mr. Rogers as organist, furnished the music. The President gave notice of the coming of Mr Joseph English next Sunday evening which was received with manifest approval. With the singing of "Rescue the Perishing," an opportunity was given for pledge signing, after which the assemblage dispersed.

A Dog Deserts His Master.

On Tuesday last Mr. J. R. Giles of New Market, drove into town with a load of pork for Mr. J. W. VanSickle, the butcher Mr. Giles was followed into town by his handsome collie shepherd dog and the animal took a great liking for Mr. Van Sickle. So much so that when the owner started for home the dog refused to accompany him, and has since been cared for by Mr VanSickle, although several attempts have been made to entice the dog home.

MARY E. WILSON CHAPEL.

The Memorial at Washingtonville to be Dedicated on Washington's Birthday.

The beautiful new Mary E. Wilson Memorial chapel is nearing completion. In artistic design and beauty of finish, it will be a credit to architect and builders as well as to its projector who has been lavish in expenditure in order to complete it in the quaintness of style originally proposed.

The difficulties to be met and overcome in a building of this kind, can scarcely be foreseen. The committee in charge hoped to be able to occupy the chapel about last Christmas, but circumstances prevented. Little more remains to be done. The chapel will be ready for occupancy by the 22d inst., when dedication services will be held in which some of the leading clergymen of Plainfield will take part. The building will be thrown open to the friends of the Sunday school and the public generally.

No event in Washingtonville has ever aroused such general interest as the new chapel. United and earnest have the efforts been to make the surroundings conform to the beauty of the building. But some things yet remain that must necessarily be delayed until Spring as the ground is too wet to work at present.

TAKING THE MATTER IN HIS OWN HANDS.

Ex-Collector Sheridan Arrested While Trying to Get Back His Own Property.

Mr. Patrick Sheridan, ex-County Collector, and one of the executors named in a paper said to be the will of the late William Moore of this city, was in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, Saturday, charged with larceny. He entered Hills Brothers' livery stable on Hicks street Friday night, and was leading a horse out when arrested. He stated the horse was stolen from him three weeks ago, and was worth $2,000. It was traced to Jersey City, but was spirited away while he was engaged in procuring the necessary papers for its recovery. The same thing occurred in Newark, and this time he determined to take the matter into his own hands.

He had $4,000 cash when arrested, and promptly furnished bail for his appearance on Tuesday. Mr. Sheridan ran for Mayor of Elizabeth on the Democratic ticket and was defeated. He was Alderman for several terms, and is one of the most prominent and respected of politicians in this county.

MR. DUNHAM WILL TALK FOR TELFORD.

And the Board Will Discuss Whether the Tramps Should Crack Stone.

The Union County Board of Agriculture will hold a regular semi-monthly meeting at the Court House, Elizabeth, Thursday afternoon of this week, at two o'clock.

Among the matters concerning county roads and county affairs, to be discussed, are the following: County and Township roads and their improvement. The two systems of stoning roads. Macadam and Telford pavement—which shall it be? Arguments in favor of entire crushed or broken stone, by Dennis C. Crane, of Roselle, N. J. Road engineering. Shall it be done by contract or day's work?

Arguments in favor of Telford pavement, by F. A. Dunham, of this city. Is the present system of giving out county road work the best for our county? Ought not our Freeholders to establish a stone crushing plant on the South side of the mountain, and a prison and yard, where our county prisoners and tramps can be kept and made to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow? The stone to be used for making county roads, and sold to townships at cost price.

"One of the Old Stock" at Music Hall, To-Night.

Charles L. Davis, better known as Uncle Alvin Joslin, will appear this evening at Music Hall. He brings his operatic solo orchestra with him, and when you combine Alvin with his orchestra you have an attraction which draws every time. He has a new play this time, appropriately named "One of the Old Stock." There are a few dashes of pathos and sensationalism in the piece, but it is chiefly a combination of fun making methods of divers characters and uncertain ages. It is a play which first and foremost strives to gives Alvin Joslin an opportunity to display all his versatility, and to freely relieve himself of that peculiar humor which has made him famous.

Miss Ray Briscoe makes a sweet, pretty heroine, and very sensibly strives not to overdo her part. Charles Stedman, as the villain, does a capital bit of character acting, and Daniel Jarrett is far from bad as the speculator with an easy conscience. The Boston Quartet sing several pleasing songs, and Edward Kerwin shows himself unrivalled as a sleigh-bell singer.

Prof. Harper's Inductive Study To-night.

A Former Plainfield Pastor's Progress.

Rev. R. S. Holmes, of Warren, Pa., has been called to the pastorate of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, at a salary of $4,000 with a manse.—Pittsburgh Dispatch, Feb. 8.

Referring to the above a Warren paper says: "Mr. Holmes entered into pastoral relation with the Warren Presbyterian church, November 1, 1887, and has been an energetic and faithful pastor in all departments of church work. In the pulpit he ranks as first-class, his sermons being eloquent, effective and encouraging. Last Sunday morning he gave notice that he asked for a dissolution of the pastoral relation between him and his people, to take effect next April. He will probably preach his last sermon on the first Sunday in April. The members of the church and congregation will part with Mr. Holmes with regret, but the Shadyside church get a pastor that we are sure will give satisfaction."

The Rev. Mr. Holmes was long a resident of this city, and preached often in the pulpits of its churches with universal satisfaction to all his hearers An effort was made to secure him by one of the churches, but he was at that time the Registrar of the Chatuauqua University.

A Family in Distress.

Constable Moffett on Saturday night served a dispossess warrant upon the family of Patrick Newell who occupy one of the Land Improvement Company's houses on South Second street, for nonpayment of rent. The family is destitute and without food. Mrs. Newell is sick and one of the children is lying in Muhlenberg Hospital not expected to live.

Newell was arrested some time since on a charge of disorderly conduct, and fined $8. Since then it is alleged, he has left the city. Constable Moffett sympathised with the unfortunate woman, and gave her a sum of money out of his own pocket. It is said that in order to obtain bread for herself and children Mrs. Newell recently sold the rag carpet on her kitchen floor.

This case should be immediately investigated, and if the family is found to be worthy of assistance, help should be given them at once. The case is returnable before Justice Nash on Thursday of this week.

A Kindred Yearning.

In the Spring the young man's fancy turns to dalliance with the muse,
And likewise to investing in non-porous overshoes.
In the Spring the maiden cultivates apostrophies and such,
To the gorgeous Easter bonnet that delights her heart so much.
But in unison they hanker for the precious wedding ring
That at Collier's cheers their vision Winter, Summer, Fall and Spring.

THE GLORIOUS CHRIST.

DR. TALMAGE PREACHES A POWERFUL SERMON IN BROOKLYN.

"He That Cometh from Above Is Above All"—The Son of God Is the First and Last—He Can Make Dying Hours Easy, Rob Death of His Sting.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 16.—At the Tabernacle this morning the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., announced that he would very soon begin a series of sermons on his journey "To and Through the Holy Land." The subject of his discourse this morning was "The Glorious Christ." His text was: "He that cometh from above is above all."—John iii, 31. The great preacher said:

The most conspicuous character of history steps out upon the platform. The finger which, diamonded with light, pointed down to him from the Bethlehem sky, was only a ratification of the finger of prophecy, the finger of genealogy, the finger of chronology, the finger of events—all five fingers pointing in one direction. Christ is the overtopping figure of all time. He is the vox humana in all music, the gracefulest line in all sculpture, the most exquisite mingling of lights and shades in all painting, the acme of all climaxes, the dome of all cathedraled grandeur, and the peroration of all splendid language.

The Greek alphabet is made up of twenty-four letters, and when Christ compared himself to the first letter and the last letter, the alpha and the omega, he appropriated to himself all the splendors that you can spell out either with those two letters and all the letters between them. "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last." Or, if you prefer the words of the text, "above all."

What does it mean? It means, after you have piled up all Alpine and Himalayan altitudes, the glory of Christ would have to spread its wings and descend a thousand leagues to touch those summits. Pelion, a high mountain of Thessaly; Ossa, a high mountain, and Olympus, a high mountain; but mythology tells us when the giants warred against the gods they piled up these three mountains, and from the top of them proposed to scale the heavens; but the height was not great enough, and there was a complete failure. And after all the giants—Isaiah and Paul, prophetic and apostolic giants; Raphael and Michael Angelo, artistic giants; cherubim and seraphim and archangel, celestial giants—have failed to climb to the top of Christ's glory, they might all well unite in the words of the text and say: "He that cometh from above is above all."

CHRIST ABOVE ALL ELSE.

First, Christ must be above all else in our preaching. There are so many books on homiletics scattered through the country that all laymen, as well as all clergymen, have made up their minds what sermons ought to be. That sermon is most effectual which most pointedly puts forth Christ as the pardon of all sin and the correction of all evil, individual, social, political, national. There is no reason why we should ring the endless changes on a few phrases. There are those who think that if an exhortation or a discourse have frequent mention of justification, sanctification, covenant of works and covenant of grace, that therefore it must be profoundly evangelical, while they are suspicious of a discourse which presents the same truth, but under different phraseology. Now, I say there is nothing in all the opulent realm of Anglo-Saxonism, of all the word treasures that we inherited from the Latin and the Greek and the Indo-European, but we have a right to marshal it in religious discussion. Christ sets the example. His illustrations were from the grass, the flowers, the spittle, the valve, the barnyard fowl, the crystals of salt, as well as from the seas and the stars; and we do not propose in our Sunday school teaching and in our pulpit address to be put on the limits.

I know that there is a great deal said in our day against words, as though they were nothing. They may be misused, but they have an imperial power. They are the bridge between soul and soul, between Almighty God and the human race. What did God write upon the tables of stones? Words. What did Christ utter on Mount Olivet? Words. Out of what did Christ strike the spark for the illumination of the universe? Out of words. "Let there be light," and light was. Of course, thought is the cargo and words are only the ship; but how fast would your cargo get on without the ship? What you need, my friends, in all your work, in your Sabbath school class, in your reformatory institutions, and what we all need is to enlarge our vocabulary, when we come to speak about God and Christ and heaven. We ride a few old words to death when there is such illimitable resource. Shakespeare employed fifteen thousand different words for dramatic purposes; Milton employed eight thousand different words for poetic purposes; Rufus Choate employed over eleven thousand different words for legal purposes; but the most of us have less than a thousand words that we can manage, less than five hundred, and that makes us so stupid.

When we come to set forth the love of Christ we are going to take tenderest phraseology wherever we find it, and if it has never been used in that direction before, all the more shall we use it. When we come to speak of the glory of Christ, the Conqueror, we are going to draw our similes from triumphal arch and oratorio and everything grand and stupendous. The French navy have eighteen flags by which they give signal, but those eighteen flags they can put into sixty-six thousand different conbinations, and I have to tell you that these standards of the cross may be lifted into combinations infinite and varieties everlasting. And let me say to these young men who come from the theological seminaries into our services every Sabbath, and are after a while going to preach Jesus Christ, you will have the largest liberty and unlimited resource. You only have to present Christ in your own way.

Jonathan Edwards preached Christ in the severest argument ever penned, and John Bunyan preached Christ in the sublimest allegory ever composed. Edward Payson, sick and exhausted, leaned up against the side of the pulpit and wept out his discourse, while George Whitefield, with the manner and the voice and the start of an actor, overwhelmed his auditory. It would have been a different thing if Jonathan Edwards had tried to write and dream about the pilgrim's progress to the celestial city, or John Bunyan had attempted an essay on the human will.

GLORIOUS THEMES.

Brighter than the light, fresher than the fountains, deeper than the seas are all these Gospel themes. Song has no melody, flowers have no sweetness, sunset sky has no color compared with these glorious themes. These harvests of grace spring up quicker than we can sickle them. Kindling pulpits with their fire and producing revolutions with their power, lighting up dying beds with their glory, they are the sweetest thought for the poet, and they are the most thrilling illustration for the orator, and they offer the most intense scene for the artist, and they are to the ambassador of the sky all enthusiasm. Complete pardon for direst guilt. Sweetest comfort for ghastliest agony. Brightest hope for grimmest death. Grandest resurrection for darkest sepulcher. Oh, what a gospel to preach! Christ over all in it. His birth, his suffering, his miracles, his parables, his sweat, his tears, his blood, his atonement, his intercession—what glorious themes! Do we exercise faith? Christ is its object. Do we have love? It fastens on Jesus. Have we a fondness for the church? It is because Christ died for it. Have we a hope of heaven? It is because Jesus went ahead, the herald and the forerunner.

The royal robe of Demetrius was so costly, so beautiful, that after he had put it off no one ever dared put it on; but this robe of Christ, richer than that, the poorest and the wannest and the worst may wear. "Where sin abounded grace may much more abound."

"Oh, my sins, my sins," said Martin Luther to Staupitz, "my sins, my sins!" The fact is that the brawny German student had found a Latin Bible that made him quake, and nothing else ever did make him quake, and when he found how, through Christ, he was pardoned and saved, he wrote to a friend, saying: "Come over and join us great and awful sinners saved by the grace of God. You seem to be only a slender sinner, and you don't much extol the mercy of God; but we that have been such very awful sinners praise his grace the more now that we have been redeemed." Can it be that you are so desperately egotistical that you feel yourself in first rate spiritual trim, and that from the root of the hair to the tip of the toe you are scarless and immaculate? What you need is a looking glass, and here it is in the Bible. Poor, and wretched, and miserable, and blind, and naked from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, full of wounds and putrefying sores. No health in us, and then take the fact that Christ gathered up all the notes against us and paid them, and then offered us the receipt.

And how much we need him in our sorrows! We are independent of circumstances if we have his grace. Why, he made Paul sing in the dungeon, and under that grace St. John from desolate Patmos heard the blast of the apocalyptic trumpets. After all other candles have been snuffed out, this is the light that gets brighter and brighter unto the perfect day; and after, under the hard hoofs of calamity, all the pools of worldly enjoyment have been trampled into deep mire, at the foot of the eternal rock the Christian, from cups of granite lily rimmed and vine covered, puts out the thirst of his soul.

Again, I remark, that Christ is above all in dying alleviations.

DEATH.

I have not any sympathy with the morbidity abroad about our demise. The emperor of Constantinople arranged that on the day of his coronation the stone mason should come and consult him about the tombstone that after a while he would need. And there are men who are monomaniacal on the subject of departure from this life by death, and the more they think of it the less they are prepared to go. This is an unmanliness not worthy of you, not worthy of me.

Saladin, the greatest conqueror of his day, while dying, ordered that the tunic he had on him be carried after his death on his spear at the head of his army, and that then the soldier ever and anon should stop and say, "Behold, all that is left of Saladin, the emperor and conqueror! Of all the states he conquered, of all the wealth he accumulated, nothing did he retain but this shroud." I have no sympathy with such behavior, or such absurd demonstration, or with much that we hear uttered in regard to departure from this life to the next. There is a commonsensical idea on this subject that you and I need to consider—that there are only two styles of departure.

A thousand feet underground, by light of torch toiling in a miner's shaft, a ledge of rock may fall upon us, and we may die a miner's death. Far out at sea, falling from the slippery rattlines and broken on the halyards, we may die a sailor's death. On mission of mercy in hospital, amid broken bones and reeking leprosies and raging fevers, we may die a philanthropist's death. On the field of battle, serving God and our country, slugs through the heart, the gun carriage may roll over us, and we may die a patriot's death. But, after all, there are only two styles of departure—the death of the righteous and the death of the wicked—and we all want to die the former.

God grant that when that hour comes you may be at home! You want the hand of your kindred in your hand. You want your children to surround you. You want the light on your pillow from eyes that have long reflected your love. You want the room still. You do not want any curious strangers standing around watching you. You want your kindred from afar to hear your last prayer. I think that is the wish of all of us. But is that all? Can earthly friends hold us up when the billows of death come up to the girdle? Can human voice charm open heaven's gate? Can human hand pilot us through the narrows of death into heaven's harbor? Can any earthly friendship shield us from the arrows of death and in the hour when Satan shall practice upon us his infernal archery? No, no, no, no! Alas! Poor soul if that is all. Better die in the wilderness, far from tree shadow and from fountain, alone, vultures circling through the air waiting for our body, unknown to men, and to have no burial, if only Christ could say through the solitudes, "I will never leave thee, I will never forsake thee." From that pillow of stone a ladder would soar heavenward, angels coming and going; and across the solitude and the barrenness would come the sweet notes of heavenly minstrelsy.

"TO GO TO CHRIST."

Gordon Hall, far from home, dying in the door of a heathen temple, said: "Glory to thee, O God!" What did dying Wilberforce say to his wife? "Come and sit beside me, and let us talk of heaven. I never knew what happiness was until I found Christ." What did dying Hannah More say? "To go to heaven, think what that is! To go to Christ, who died that I might live. Oh, glorious grave! Oh, what a glorious thing it is to die! Oh, the love of Christ, the love of Christ!" What did Mr. Toplady, the great hymn maker, say in his last hour? "Who can measure the depths of the third heaven? Oh, the sunshine that fills my soul! I shall soon be gone, for surely no one can live in this world after such glories as God has manifested to my soul."

What did the dying Janeway say? "I can as easily die as close my eyes or turn my head in sleep. Before a few hours have passed I shall stand on Mount Zion with the one hundred and forty and four thousand and with the just men made perfect, and we shall ascribe riches, and honor, and glory, and majesty, and dominion unto God and the Lamb." Dr. Taylor, condemned to burn at the stake, on his way thither broke away from the guardsmen and went bounding and leaping and jumping toward the fire, glad to go to Jesus and to die for him. Sir Charles Hare, in last moment, had such rapturous vision that he cried: "Upward, upward, upward!" And so great was the peace of one of Christ's disciples that he put his fingers upon the pulse in his wrist and counted it and observed it; and so great was his placidity that after a while he said: "Stopped!" and his life had ended here to begin in heaven. But grander than that was the testimony of the worn out first missionary, when, in the Mamartine dungeon, he cried: "I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand: I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give me in that day, and not to me only, but to all them that love his appearing!" Do you not see that Christ is above all in dying alleviations?

Toward the last hour of our earthly residence we are speeding. When I see the sunset I say, "One day less to live." When I see the spring blossoms scattered I say, "Another season gone forever." When I close this Bible on Sabbath night I say, "Another Sabbath departed." When I bury a friend I say, "Another earthly attraction gone forever." What nimble feet the years have! The roebucks and the lightnings run not so fast. From decade to decade, from sky to sky, they go at a bound. There is a place for us, whether marked or not, where you and I will sleep the last sleep, and the men are now living who will, with solemn tread, carry us to our resting place. Ay, it is known in heaven whether our departure will be a coronation or a banishment.

BRIGHT SEPULCHERS.

Brighter than a banqueting hall through which the light feet of the dancers go up and down to the sound of trumpeters will be the sepulcher through whose rifts the holy light of heaven streameth. God will watch you. He will send his angels to guard your slumbering ground, until, at Christ's behest, they shall roll away the stone.

So also, Christ is above all in heaven. The Bible distinctly says that Christ is the chief theme of the celestial ascription, all the thrones facing his throne, all the palms waved before his face, all the crowns down at his feet. Cherubim to cherubim, seraphim to seraphim, redeemed spirit to redeemed spirit shall recite the Saviour's earthly sacrifice.

Stand on some high hill of heaven, and in all the radiant sweep the most glorious object will be Jesus. Myriads gazing on the scars of his suffering, in silence first, afterward breaking forth into acclamation. The martyrs, all the purer for the flame through which they passed, will say: "This is Jesus for whom we died." The apostles, all the happier for the shipwreck and the scourging through which they went, will say: "This is the Jesus whom we preached at Corinth, and at Cappadocia, and at Antioch, and at Jerusalem." Little children clad in white will say: "This is the Jesus who took us in his arms and blessed us, and when the storms of the world were too cold and loud, brought us into this beautiful place." The multitudes of the bereft will say: "This is the Jesus who comforted us when our heart broke." Many who wandered clear off from God and plunged into vagabondism, but were saved by grace, will say: "This is the Jesus who pardoned us. We were lost on the mountains, and he brought us home. We were guilty, and he has made us white as snow." Mercy boundless, grace unparalleled. And then, after each one has recited his peculiar deliverances and peculiar mercies, recited them as by solo, all the voices will come together into a great chorus, which will make the arches echo and re-echo with the eternal reverberation of gladness and peace and triumph.

Edward I was so anxious to go to the Holy Land that when he was about to expire he bequeathed $160,000 to have his heart, after his decease, taken to the Holy Land, in Asia Minor, and his request was complied with. But there are hundreds today whose hearts are already in the Holy Land of heaven. Where your treasures are, there are your hearts also. Quaint John Bunyan, of whom I spoke at the opening of the discourse, caught a glimpse of that place, and in his quaint way he said: "And I heard in my dream, and lo! the bells of the city rang again for joy; and as they opened the gates to let in the men I looked in after them, and lo! the city shone like the sun, and there were streets of gold, and men walked on them, harps in their hands, to sing praises withal; and after that they shut up the gates, which when I had seen I wished myself among them!"

WORLD'S FAIR BOOM

A Monster Mass Meeting Held in New York City.

A COMPROMISE IS EFFECTED.

Mr. Platt Sends Word that He Will Favor Chauncey Depew's Amendment.

Intense Enthusiasm Over the Announcement—Speeches by Ex-Senator Warner Miller, and Samuel Gompers—Mr. Depew Followed by an Admiring Crowd from the Hall.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The Cooper Union hall was densely crowded last night, and hundreds of people were unable to gain admission. The occasion of the throng was a mass meeting to protest against legislative delay in passing the World's Fair bill.

Among the prominent persons on the platform were Warner Miller, C. M. Depew, John H. Starin, Ambrose Snow, Joseph C. Hendrix, A. M. Tenney, James W. Tappen and John Foord.

Mr. Starin presided, and called upon Mr. Foord, as secretary, to read a series of resolutions, which set forth that the original bill sent to Albany was drawn up by both Democrats and Republicans; that it was a purely business, non-partisan measure designed for the benefit of all the people; that this non-political character of the enterprise must be maintained, or Congress will not sanction the selection of New York as the site for the Fair; that the commission named in the bill is non-partisan; that the committees now in charge, which have been criticised as Democratic, cease to control the project after the commission takes charge, and that there is no reason for dragging politics into the matter in any way.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted and the audience gave three cheers.

Elihu Root read a letter from Senator Evarts sympathizing with the objects of the meeting. Edward Conklin read resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Central Labor Union, in accord with the sentiments expressed in the foregoing resolutions. Hon. Warner Miller then made a speech, saying that he had thought for thirty years he was a Republican, but suddenly found that he was regarded by some as a Tammany Democrat, because he was in favor of the World's Fair bill.

Chauncey Depew's Views.

Mr. Depew also spoke, saying that if Columbus had known what trouble this matter was going to cause he never would have discovered America. (Laughter.) Mr. Depew said he appreciated his peril in coming to the meeting without receiving permission from the new guardian of the Republican party of New York State, Hon. W. E. Chandler, of New Hampshire. He went on to say that everybody in St. Louis and Chicago, Democrats, Republicans, Mugwumps, Anarchists and Socialists, agreed on the one point of wanting the Fair. It was reserved for New Yorkers to leave Washington and call each other bad names at home. A very eminent and able Republican leader, with his friends, think that a Fair in New York in 1892, because of the machinery of the city government being in the hands of the Democracy, would lead to a number of the vast crowd of visitors illegitimately voting in the Presidential election. "I, on the contrary," said Mr. Depew, "believe that the great prosperity which would follow all over the country from the Fair, would redound to the credit of a national administration under whose auspices it was held." Mr. Depew went on to deny that the commission proposed is a partisan one.

A Compromise.

Other speeches of similar import followed. Finally Mr. John F. Plummer appeared on the platform and announced that if Mr. Depew's "two-thirds" proposal or compromise was endorsed by the meeting, Mr. Platt would agree to it. The question was put, and the proposal was heartly endorsed. This had the effect of bringing the meeting to a sudden close with three cheers for Thomas C. Platt.

The difficulty at Albany has been smoothed over by the proposition that it will need a two-thirds vote of the incorporators to direct the expenditure of the World's Fair funds—an amendment to the Albany bill which nobody will oppose, and a provision which might, without any difficulty, have been put in the original bill.

Outdoor Meetings.

While the meeting was in progress within the hall, the thousands of people outside, who had been unable to get inside, were holding an overflow meeting presided over by Mr. R. Fulton Cutting, and addressed by Capt. Thos. H. Cullom, C. C. Shayne, J. Waldo Smith and others. Finally the meeting divided into a number of smaller ones, each listening to some popular orator of local repute.

Mr. Depew Followed Home.

Mr. Depew rode up town in a Fourth avenue car with his wife and other members of his family. He was followed from the side door of the hall by an excited mob that cheered him voiciferously. As the car moved off Mr. Depew lifted his hat to the crowd repeatedly.

The Government's Answer to Parnell.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Right Hon. W. H. Smith, the Government leader in the House of Commons, replying to Mr. Parnell's interrogatory, said that the Government would ask the House of Commons to adopt the report and extend its thanks to the Commission for the just and impartial manner in which it had discharged its duty. He also intended to ask the House to enter the report on the Journal. He would make a motion to this effect on Monday. Mr. Smith's remarks were interrupted by cheers, counter-cheers, derisive laughter and exclamations of indigna-

HIRAM'S HEAD NOT FOUND.

Probability that Isaac Dumped the Missing Member in Portland Harbor.

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—The search for Hiram F. Sawtelle's head is engrossing the attention of the authorities now that it has been proved that the murder was committed in New Hampshire. On the latter point another telling bit of evidence came to light.

Where the Murder Was Committed.

The theory that the murder was committed in New Hampshire is supported by the statement made by the Rev. Mr. Downes, of East Rochester, who on the Wednesday night that Hiram Sawtelle was killed, met a team on the road in East Rochester with two men in it, one of whom acted strangely. Mr. Downes hailed the team and inquired of the one since identified as Isaac Sawtelle what ailed his companion, as he acted as if sick. The man driving said: "He is drunk." The other man was probably then dead or dying, and this testimony proves the fact that the murder was committed in New Hampshire.

Dr. Tobey, Hiram Sawtelle's physician, examined the remains of the murdered man and positively identified the body by certain unmistakable peculiarities as that of Hiram.

The woods in the neighborhood of the murder have now been pretty thoroughly searched, and it is about as certain as anything can be that the head of the murdered man was carried to a great distance. The theory that Isaac took it in his gripsack to Portland and dropped it in deep water is strengthened to-day by the investigation in that city. A man answering his description left the Portland and Rochester train at West Brook Junction one week ago and went into the city by a devious and circuitous route admirably calculated to cover his tracks. This man had, when he reached Portland, an extension canvas valise, weighty and large enough to contain the missing head of Hiram Sawtelle, the clothes of the murdered man and some of the described tools.

THE LECONEY TRIAL.

The Defence Still Calling Witnesses to Prove the Prisoner's Good Reputation.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 18.—Interest in the Leconey murder trial does not appear to flag. The court house was as crowded as ever to-day, and there was the usual rush of spectators to get in when the doors were opened shortly before 10 o'clock.

The day has again been devoted to the hearing of the evidence for the defence, and quite a number of additional witnesses have been examined. Their testimony has gone a great way toward shaking the credibility of the witnesses for the prosecution and to increase the doubt regarding the guilt of Chalkley Leconey. The prosecution, however, assert that they will have strong evidence in rebuttal.

A large number of witnesses who testified to Chalkley's good reputation admitted on cross-examination that they had never heard his reputation for peacefulness mentioned before the murder.

It is said that the prisoner will be called to the stand to-morrow.

Heirs Recover Valuable Property.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Frederick A. Ward, wife of a prominent attorney of Brooklyn, and her sister, Mrs. Judson of Oswego, N. Y., children of the late Dr. Richard H. Thompson, formerly health officer of the port of New York, have recovered judgment against Dewitt C. Littlejohn, the well-known railroad operator, and others, in the Supreme Court of Kings County. The judgment entitles the plaintiffs to one half interest in valuable Rockaway Beach lands and in the Brooklyn and Rockaway Beach Railroad. It is estimated that the sum involved will amount to $200,000.

Bull and Barn on Fire.

WARWICK, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Farmer John C. Woodruff of this town treated some of his live stock with a coat of crude petroleum to destroy vermin. Just after a bull had undergone this treatment a farm hand touched a lighted match to the bull's hide. The animal made a bee-line for the barn, and soon the barn and contents, including two fine horses, were burned to the ground. Two stacks of hay were also consumed.

The Nashua Strikers Excited.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 18.—There is much excitement among the striking operatives. Agent Shaw having refused to arbitrate matters and stating that the mills would start immediately. At a mass-meeting the strikers declared that they would not return to work. Policemen will be placed at the mill gate to protect those who wish to go to work.

A Prominent Lawyer Dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Benjamin V. Abbott, a prominent lawyer of this city, is dead at his residence, No. 9 Middagh street, Brooklyn. Mr. Abbott, who was one of the commissioners for the revisal of the United States statutes, was the author of the "National Digest," United States Digest," and other legal works.

An Old Farmer Commits Suicide.

WATERLOO, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Joseph Hecker, a farmer, living west of this village, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn at an early hour in the morning. The deed was committed in a fit of despondency produced by sickness and a failure of crops the past season. He was about 75 years old and leaves a wife and daughter.

Fell Headlong Down the Shaft.

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 18.—Curtis Wells, head man at the Clifford Breaker, Forrest City, while shifting a loaded car, lost his balance as the engine started unexpectedly and fell headlong down a shaft, a distance of 200 feet, and was dashed to instant death.

KILRAIN DEFEATED

Jim Corbett of California Whips the Baltimoreran.

ONLY SIX ROUNDS FOUGHT.

Jake Forced All Over the Ring and Both Eyes Blacked.

There Was a Big Crowd Present and the Purse Was $3,500—Muldoon Explains the Defeat—Beaziah, Who Killed James, Wins a Contest—The Dempsey-McCarthy Fight To-Night.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18.—Jake Kilrain was beaten last night by J. J. Corbett, the Californian, in six rounds for scientific points only.

A purse of $3,500 was given by the Southern Athletic Club, the swell organization of this city. An immense crowd was present. This will probably lead to a fight to a finish between them.

Kilrain stated his weight varied between 201 and 205 pounds. Corbett tipped the scales at 183 pounds. Although Corbett is 6 feet, 1½ inches tall, he looked like a mere boy compared with his adversary. Muldoon and Cleary seconded Kilrain and Tommy Danforth and Kike Smith were behind Corbet. George Scott was bottle holder, and E. B. Violett, referee.

Both men sparred for an opening, watching each other's style. Corbett carried his left loosely while his right held guard. Kilrain tried his rushing tactics, but Corbett was too lively for him. The referee decided at the end of the sixth round that Corbett had outfought Kilrain throughout.

Kilrain got both eyes blacked. Corbett was unscathed save that he sprained the knuckles of his left hand, which was once before lamed.

Corbett says he hit Kilrain whenever he pleased. He had to keep following him around, and in the last round he had to call him to "come up and fight."

"It was," says Corbett, "a picnic for me."

Club members picked Corbett up on their shoulders and carried him all round the club room, saying he was the best man they had ever seen.

Corbett is a giant youngster, well educated, ambitious, and is regarded in the West as the coming world's champion. He has never been defeated.

Kilrain was in fine trim up to Thursday night, but the death of James at Dallas, Tex., unmanned him somewhat, according to Muldoon.

Bezinah, who was implicated in the James affair, defeated Johnson in four rounds. Mike Cleary whipped Mike Smith, the Cincinnati heavyweight, in two rounds.

TO-NIGHT'S BATTLE.

Considerable Talk on the Dempsey McCarthy Glove Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—The glove contest between Jack Dempsey and Billy McCarthy, which takes place to-night at the California Athletic Club, has caused almost as much talk among local sporting men as did the Dempsey-La Blanche battle. There is little betting on the affair, however, because Dempsey's friends have been unable to get any information as to his condition. McCarthy is backed by a few New Yorkers here, who believe that the "Nonpareil" is in bad form.

Denny Costigan, who accompanied Dempsey to California, left for home yesterday. He has quarrelled with the pugilist frequently of late, and finally Dempsey sent him away. McCarthy will enter the ring weighing 160 pounds. Denny Kelleher and Jack McAuliffe will look after Dempsey.

The League After Buck Ewing.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 18.—President John B. Day and Director Gordon, of the New York National League Baseball Club, have been with "Buck" Ewing, the popular catcher, all day. Ewing denies that he has signed a League contract, but displayed nearly $1,000 in large bills. Day would not talk one way or the other. It is intimated that Ewing will join the League if Richardson, Connor and Crane can be won back.

Sailor Brown After a Fight.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Feb. 18.—Sailor Brown, the well known middle-weight pugilist, is trying to arrange a match with Arthur O. Upham, of this city, who claims the title of middle-weight champion of New England. The Sailor and Upham have been matched before to fight for a purse of $2,500, but the former became sick while training and the match was postponed.

400,000 Miners May Strike.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—A general strike of coal miners in Great Britain, affecting 400,000 men, is apprehended, owing to the demand for a ten per cent. increase of wages, to which the men propose to adhere. Such a strike would cause a decrease of 75 per cent. in the British coal output.

Affairs at the Vatican.

ROME, Feb. 18.—Cardinal Jacobini and Monsignor Sionor, both of whom have been seriously ill, are now convalescent. The Pope, through Cardinal Rampalla, offers thanks for the expressions of sympathy called forth by the death of his brother, Cardinal Pecci.

Rumors About Bismarck.

BERLIN, Feb. 18.—It is stated semi-officially that Prince Bismarck intends to resign all of the Prussian ministerial offices held by him, retaining only the Chancellorship.

Orleans Will be Pardoned.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—It is reported upon excellent authority that President Carnot has decided to pardon the Duc d'Orleans who will be escorted to the frontier.

BY THE WAY.

—A social and supper will be given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church on Friday evening of this week. Supper will be served in the church parlors from six o'clock on.

—There was sent to THE PRESS office yesterday in full bloom, a specimen of a beautiful triple Christmas inch cactus, plucked from a plant owned by Mrs. Beekman of East Third street. The flower is considered something remarkable on account of its being of the triple leaf pattern.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. E L Goddard is visiting at New Bedford, Mass., for three weeks.

Miss Millie Ferguson has so entirely recovered her good health, as to be out again.

Mrs. J. B. Atwood returned home on Saturday from a visit of three weeks at Atlantic City.

Mr. J. Allen Sangston is back in his old position with Mr. L. Warren Randolph who will take a long rest.

Mr. Fred Dedrick formerly of Reynolds' pharmacy and now of Kingston, N. Y., has been visiting friends in this city.

Mr S. C. Milliken who has been away searching for better health along the shore, is home again much improved.

Assessor Isaac Brokaw of North Plainfield, yesterday had a relapse, and today his condition is reported as most critical.

An infant daughter was born to Malla and Elis Olund of No. 215 West Third street, at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

The Rev. Dr. Hurlburt will teach the lesson at the Union Meeting of the Sunday school teachers, this evening, in the First Baptist church Sunday school room.

Mrs. Anna Myers of East Front street, is carrying on a good work. Every Sunday she teaches a class of Chinese scholars in the hall over the City National Bank, and some of them are becoming greatly interested in Bible study,

The Monday Afternoon Club, at the Seminary yesterday, enjoyed the opera of Lohengrin read by Miss Anna Titsworth and sung in parts by Mrs. Myers, Miss Holmes, Mrs. Saunders, and Mr. Runyon who was the only man admitted within the shrine. Miss May and Miss Erskine were the instrumentalists of the occasion.

"Ladies' Night" at the Crescent League club house, last evening, was a thoroughly pleasing event. The bowling match between teams of ladies, was contested in just as good humor as if they were real men. Miss Fritts won the first prize, and Miss Kline the second. Although the members were denied the privilege of smoking, they were present in numbers and staid late. The ladies subsequently served a bountiful supper in the composition of which each had done her best in the way of tempting dainties.

Pawnbroker Dreier Again the Victim.

Mr. Samuel Dreier, the pawnbroker of West Front street is again the victim of a conspiring enemy. When the clothing firm of Brown Bros. absconded recently leaving Mr. Dreier a creditor to the extent of about $2,000 the latter took out a writ of attachment on the few goods left in the store on North avenue. The goods were stored in an empty house at No 123 South Second street.

Sometime between Saturday and yesterday, the place was broken into and most of the goods were carried away. Constable Moffett was to have sold the goods at auction yesterday afternoon but when he arrived at the house there was but little left to offer his customers. Suspicion points to a certain individual.

The Surprise Was Complete.

Mr. John J Kenney of East Second street was agreeably surprised by about thirty of his intimate friends and acquaintances, at his home, last evening, the occasion being a surprise party arranged by Mr. Thos. Hughes and other near friends. Dancing and the playing of games was interspersed with refreshments.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past 30 years, and am satisfied I should not be alive today if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed."—T. P. Bonner, Chester, Pa. Ayer's Pills are sold by all druggists.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

EVERYBODY GRANTED LIQUOR LICENSES IN SPITE OF COUNCILMAN RUSHMORE'S ELOQUENT AND HONEST PROTESTS.

No Information at Hand Concerning the Progress of the Water Works—And Nothing Definite to Report in Relation to a Street Railway.

The City Council met in adjourned session, last evening, with President Moffett in the chair. All the other members were present. The lobby was densely filled with persons who had evidently been drawn there out of mere curiosity, and to see what action the Council would take with reference to granting or rejecting the liquor license applications. Boys or young men not of age were not admitted to the room. The minutes of the February meeting were read and approved, and the regular order of business was taken up as follow:

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS.

Under this heading the following were received. From the Woman's Temperance Aid Society, asking Council not to grant any liquor licenses. Filed.

From Malissa U. Angleman remonstrating against Council accepting Sandford avenue unless according to the route at first laid out. Referred to the Street Committee.

From W. H. Hillman and others, asking for two street lamps on Sherman avenue. Referred.

From the Mayor, appointing Vincent W. Nash a special policeman. The appointment was confirmed, upon resolution adopted, and Mr. Nash was given the power to collect delinquent taxes. At a later stage in the proceedings Mr. Nash's bond for $1,000 was submitted signed by himself and Amos Moffett. It was referred to the Finance Committee, reported back as correct and ordered on file.

Albert Hedden petitioned the Council for permission to erect a building on East Fourth street, about 20x50 feet in dimensions, for the storage of carriages, said building to be covered with tin. Referred to the Committee on Fire and Buildings.

Messrs Jones & Co., asked for a scavenger's license, and there was one application for a peddler's license by a man who evidently hailed from Italy, both of which were referred to the License Committee.

By Frank Linke of North Plainfield, was asked the privilege to sell at wholesale, liquors at No. 43 West Front street, in the building owned by him. Referred to the License Committee.

Property owners on Orchard place petitioned the Council to extend, lay out and open that thoroughfare to New street. Referred.

The claim of C. A. Marsh, for $187.90 was referred to the Committee on Salaries, Officers and Elections.

A resolution by Mr. Newhall to the effect that $153.05 now laying in the bank credited to the assessment account, be transferred to the general account. Prevailed.

ALL LICENSES GRANTED.

President Moffett announced that the time for considering the liquor license applications had arrived, and he said that no matter what action was taken the spectators in the lobby were expected to remain silent.

The License Committee then reported back as correct the applications of Frank and Edward Randolph for truck licenses. They were granted. Likewise the request of John Bergen to have his name stricken from Chas. Bock's license application. The liquor applications came up in the following order, and except where otherwise mentioned they were granted by a vote of eight to three according to the ballot on the first application:

John E. Beerbower, City Hotel.

Ayes—Messrs Gallup, Hetfield, Johnson, Moffett, Roberts, Rushmore, Smith and Spangenberg—8.

Nays—Messrs Dunham, Jenkins and Newhall—3.

Jacob Blimm, hotel, 17 and 19 Somerset street

Chas. Bock, saloon, 17 and 19 East Second street.

Fred. Caspar, hotel, 24 and 26 East Front street.

Jas. Conneely, saloon, 34 Park avenue.

Patrick Day, saloon, 97 West 3d street.

Jas. H. Force, hotel, 7 North avenue.

John Goff, hotel, Third and Liberty streets.

J. B Miller, hotel, West Front street.

James O'Neill, 178 South Second street, was granted a license by a vote of 6 to 5. Messrs Dunham, Gallup, Jenkins, Newhall and Rushmore voting in the negative.

Mr. Rushmore said that he had been informed by Chief Carey that O'Neill is employed in New York, and that his brother, Richard, was to tend the bar in case a license was granted. He maintained that the brother was not a fit person to be placed in such a position. A discussion followed in which Messrs Newhall, Smith and others took part. Mr. Smith said that the committee had reported solely on the application, and not as to whether the applicant did business elsewhere or not.

John Rafferty's application was the next to be considered, and it went through like a hurricane, the vote being eight to three, as did also Chas. Smith's by the same vote.

Joseph Sullivan, of 66 West Third street, met with some opposition in the granting of his license, but he got it nevertheless by a vote of 7 to 4, those voting in the negative being Messrs Dunham, Jenkins, Newhall and Rushmore.

Mr. Rushmore spoke against granting Sullivan's license. He said that Sullivan had been indicted; furthermore he thought there were enough saloons in the vicinity of the "boulevard," and last but not least, he conjectured that the place was disreputable. To all of these objections Mr. Hetfield made clear illustrations, vindicating the applicant.

No. 14 in the list of liquor license applications was that of Wm. A. Schorb, hotel, at No 11 East Front street, under the post office. His application was granted. Messrs Dunham, Jenkins, Newhall and Rushmore voting "No."

Mr. Rushmore made a bold stand on granting the above license, and he said that in his estimation the Council would be put to shame by granting it, inasmuch as the wives and daughters of the members would most likely have occasion to go in and out of the post office, under which a licensed bar would be doing business.

Mr. Newhall spoke with reference to the Sullivan license, adding that he had been told that the applicant had been convicted for keeping a disorderly house. Corporation Counsel Marsh was asked to make a statement. He said Sullivan was tried here for illegal selling, and the jury failed to agree; next he was indicted and convicted for keeping a disorderly house, and last week he was acquitted by a jury at Elizabeth, on a charge of fraud, an indictment having been found against him by the Grand Jury on that count.

President Moffett maintained that if the law had been enforced during the past year forty or fifty convictions would have undoubtedly resulted.

Mr. E. P. Thorn's application was the last one presented, making fifteen in all. It was granted by a vote of 8 to 3.

Mr. Newhall asked for information concerning the progress of the water works, and Mr. Hetfield answered that thus far the company had only been boring for water. He was not prepared to state whether or not the company had decided upon a location.

Mr. Smith reported progress on street railway matters. He further stated that the committee had examined the claim of Mr. J. H. Wilson for 197½ tons of stone, but could only find vouchers for 53 tons delivered. Mr. Wilson's books had been shown to the committee, and they showed that three tons more than the bill called for or 200½ tons in all had been delivered. The bill was returned for correction.

A resolution was adopted fixing the fees of the delinquent tax collector as follows: For taxes back of 1888, ten per cent. in addition to the regular fees; for '88 and '89, five per cent. in addition to the regular fees.

An ordinance was introduced amending the liquor license ordinance. It was read twice and ordered engrossed and advertised. The proposed ordinance makes it possible for the Netherwood Hotel to take out a license from May 1, to November 1, the fee being fixed at $400.

Mr. Dunham introduced an ordinance to amend the ordinance establishing the office of city physician and the prescribing of his duties. It was read twice, adopted, and ordered engrossed and advertised.

Mr. Hetfield offered resolutions which prevailed, requesting the collector to make a return of the tax delinquents on or before March 1, next; also that when the returns are in the city judge issue his warrant to the delinquent tax collector, the latter to proceed with the collection of taxes in accordance with the law.

Upon motion of Mr. Newhall all of the papers relating to an old claim of T. W. Morrison, together with all resolutions bearing on the subject were taken from the table and referred to the Law and Ordinance Committee; likewise a claim by the estate of the late Geo. P. Suydam.

The matter of fixing the salary of the city judge was than taken up, and the compensation was fixed at $600 per annum, all present voting aye.

The Auditing Committee reported on a batch of claims for street work sent in at the last meeting, and they were ordered paid.

Council adjourned at 10:30 P. M.

BISHOP WIGGER'S ORDERS.

Catholic Parents Must Send Their Children to the Parochial School.

From the pulpit of St. Patrick's cathedral at Newark, Sunday morning, Rev. Father Kernen ordered those parents having children to take them from the public schools and send them to the parochial schools. This order is said to come direct from Bishop Wigger.

In Plainfield—THE PRESS is informed by those connected with the public schools—a large number of the scholars who left to attend the parochial school when it opened, have already returned to the public school.

Only a "Small Job."

Ex-Councilman J. K. Myers, who is Treasurer of the American Bank Note company, and is the head of its department of printing with nine hundred employees under him, says the printing of many million postage stamps for the Government, is but a "small job."

Consequently the sickly green postage stamp has but a few more days to live. During the coming week arrangements will be completed by the Post Office Department for a change in color of stamps of nearly all denominations. The new two-cent stamp will be a deep carmine, and the one-cent stamp will remain a bright hue, as at present. The order for the manufacture of the new stamps is almost finished, and as soon as a stock of them can be obtained the unpopular green stamp will be wiped out of existence.

PROFITS OF STREET RAILWAYS.

"Third Ward" Insists There is Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars in Them, and the City Should do the Reaping.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—"Fourth Ward" is surprised because I have the temerity to suggest that the city build its own railway. Several gentlemen in addition have asked me to explain clearly how the city can build a railway without imposing an unreasonable burden on the taxpayers. "Fourth Ward" also does not understand how this can be done and intimates that the first cost of a railway is enormous. In a few days I hope to lay before "Fourth Ward" and the taxpayers facts and figures on the cost of building and running a railway, which if they may not prove startling will at least be interesting.

Meanwhile, I beg leave to call attention to these undeniable facts. Street railways form today one of the safest and most profitable investments for private capital. A strike may cost a company thousands of dollars. Threats of hostile legislation may compel it to spend thousands more in lobbying. But so large are the profits in prosperous years that it is the practice to lay aside a certain proportion to meet losses by strikes and other contingencies. What is left makes a handsome dividend, which the stockholders are never called upon to return in assessments. It is not stretching the truth to say that there is not a street railway in the country fails to have the yearly balance on the right side of the ledger in from one to three years after completion.

But "Fourth Ward" cites the case of the New Brunswick street railway which has been sold out because it did not pay. I am glad he has so voluntarily and cheerfully tendered me a brilliant exception to prove the rule. No one has denied that New Brunswick needs a street railway. Its failure then must have been due to very bad management.

It is not generally known that the Newark and Orange Horse Railway company was told the other day that the Corporation Counsel had made the discovery that it owed the city over $200,000 in back taxes. The company did not object. It did not threaten to carry the case to the courts. It did not appeal to the Legislature or employ an editor to write newspaper editorials declaiming against the monstrous injustice of being called upon to pay a forgotten tax at this late day. On the contrary, after a little demur, it quietly yielded to the decision of the Corporation Counsel. We have not heard that the company has become bankrupt by this sudden demand for $200,000 in a lump. Its action in quietly paying the claim is silent and convincing testimony as to the great profits which it must be earning. The company's line for three-fourths of its length passes through a street as thinly built up as are most of the streets through which it is proposed to run a railway in Plainfield.

If this city builds its own railway there will be no back taxes to pay. There will be no taxes to pay at all, either into the city treasury or to the State. Then there will be no expense for lobbying, and there will be no losses by strikes, or else a minimum of loss. For it is fair to presume that the city will pay its employees living wages and will treat them like men. In any strike without cause public opinion will be decidedly against them. The strike will be short and the city will lose little.

These three items—taxes, lobbying and strike losses—sometimes reach together half the running expenses of a private company. They will not be incurred by the city, and the city will thus have no small advantage over a private company. The facts are all in favor of a street railway in Plainfield in time proving exceedingly profitable. Certainly it may not yield profits from the first, but that is no objection to the city's owning and operating it. The essential points for the taxpayers to ponder are contained in these two questions:

1. Will they build the railway themselves and reap the profits? or,

2. Will the Council allow private capitalists to build it and to line their private pockets with the daily five cent tribute of the taxpayers?

THIRD WARD.

SOMERSET COUNTY TEACHERS MEET.

The North Plainfield Instructors Contribute Able Papers on Public School Work.

The Somerset county teachers met in association at Raritan, Saturday. The association was called to order by President Cooley and opening exercises followed.

The first paper was by Miss Compton, who showed how language should begin by conversation with children as soon as they enter school. To this should be added, step by step, written work until they have mastered letter writing and business forms.

The next paper was a plea for the Agassiz Society, by Miss Purdue of North Plainfield. In a pleasing manner she presented the subject, first objecting to the word plea because the society has no need for the word, its merits speaking for it. Miss Purdue plainly showed the great good of which the society was capable; noted some of the benefits and pleasures that had come to the society of North Plainfield, and showed future possibilities.

The next paper was "Progress in Educational Power," by Prof Boss, Principal of the North Plainfield school. In this paper the origin of normal schools and the great good they are doing was spoken of. Among some of the present powers mentioned were: Associations, Reading Circles, Societies of Science, and Manual Training; and the teachers were urged to take part in these movements. The roll was called and responded to by quotations. The association then adjourned to a room on the first floor where a fine collation was served. The teachers came back to the afternoon session at 1:30, and after singing listened to an interesting paper by Mrs. S. S. Higgins, on "The Art of Questioning applied to Reading." She showed that the thought is the first thing to be sought, and it should be clear in the child's mind. The questions must be of such a nature as to elicit thought on the part of the pupils.

Next came r lesson on Form, by Miss Lydall, who had a class of twelve little children. She very finely developed the words "sphere" and "surface," and showed a good understanding of her subject and an admirable control of the class.

The next subject was 'Sparks," by Mr. J. S. Haynes, who gave advice to young teachers as to what and how they should study to insure successful work.

A TRIAL BY JURY.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Cause the Arrest of Walter Smalley for Alleged Cruel Treatment to a Horse—The Jury Disagrees.

On June 23d last, Walter Smalley, a young man of this city, hired a horse of Andrew Huff of North Plainfield, ostensibly to drive to Oak Tree and back. When the horse was returned late at night, Mr. Huff alleges the animal was covered with ridges, the result of brutal treatment. The matter was laid before the above-named society, and Chief Carey caused young Smalley's arrest.

The case came up before Justice Nodyne and a jury in Cutter's Hall, yesterday afternoon, Mr. W. A. Coddington appearing for the prosecution. Mr. W. K. McClure represented the defendant. Mr. Huff, the owner of the horse, was the first witness called. He testified that the horse had been driven to Bound Brook during the day, and told of the condition of the animal when Smalley hired it. Other witnesses testified substantially the same.

The defence did not deny the allegations charged in the complaint, but claimed that the alleged brutal treatment was not perpetrated by the defendant. Counsel summed up and the jury went out about six o'clock.

The jury at first stood five for acquittal while the rest were for giving the plaintiff damages from six cents to $5, although the suit was for $100. As supper time approached an effort to compromise was made, and some of the "non-guilty" jurors were coaxed over for the sake of getting home early. But juror Cook said "No, sir! There was no evidence presented here to convict the defendant, and I won't agree to vote a man guilty to suit other people's convenience, if I have to stay here all night." Consequently the jury hung, and were discharged.

The Next Attraction at Music Hall.

Mr. Edgar Selden the natural young Irish comedian will be the attraction at Music Hall, Feb 22, matinee and night which is Washington's Birthday. Mr. Selden is rather a handsome young man, a graceful dancer and a sweet singer, possessing a soft melodious voice, which he uses to good advantage, singing the songs of his own composition, which are interspersed throughout the story of the play. The company is an exceptionally strong one, including among others, Miss Laura E. Burt, Miss Jennie Elbon, Miss Alice Gale, Messrs Randolph Murray, Edwin Carroll and others. The play will be presented with new scenery, magnificent costumes, making a picture of Ireland as it is, complete in every detail.

Proud of Their Flag.

(From The World of Yesterday.)

The Westfield Public school pupils remember their new flag every morning in a novel way. A "color guard," composed of five of the boys who have attained the highest average in scholarship during the month, take charge of the flag every morning. When the piano in the chapel begins to hum for the morning exercises the guard salutes Principal Francis, turns about and marches to the cupola, where the flag is flung to the breeze in military fashion.

—A very interesting meeting was held in Vincent chapel, last evening, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. Secretary Blaine Looking After American Vessels.

THE SEIZURES NOT REPORTED.

He Telegraphs to the Consul at Carthagena for Immediate Information.

Army Nurses Apply for Pensions—Mr. Carlisle Makes a Protest Against the Speaker's Ruling—The Lottery Company's New Scheme—Secretary Tracy at the Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Secretary of State has telegraphed to United State Consul McMasters, at Carthagena, for a report in regard to the continued detention of the American schooner Julian by the local authorities for alleged violation of their customs laws. Mr. McMasters has been away from his post on leave of absence up to within a short time, and the vice-consul, Mr. Lacomb, has been in charge of the consulate. The seizure of the American vessels occurred during the consul's absence, and, for some unknown reason, the State Department has been unable to procure any satisfactory information from Mr. Lacomb in regard to the seizures. Now that the consul is again at his post it is hoped that some light will be thrown on the situation.

The Lottery Company's New Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The failure of the Louisiana Lottery Company to secure a charter from North Dakota, has caused the company to adopt a new move to maintain its corporate life. FLOGGED BY MASKED MEN.

A Wife Beater Lashed to a Telegraph Pole and Terribly Punished.

NEWTOWN, Conn., Feb. 18.—John Campbell of this place was flogged by four masked men and is suffering badly. Campbell has been in the habit of beating his wife, an amiable young woman, and has once been confined in jail for thrashing her. The couple live in a neat cottage on the turnpike and the neighbors say they often heard Campbell beating his wife.

Sunday afternoon he struck her on the head with a blunt instrument making a dangerous scalp wound. Mrs. Campbell fled to a neighbor's house where her wounds were dressed and she was made comfortable. Late in the night four citizens disguised and masked entered Campbell's house and dragged him to the street. Campbell's night shirt was torn off and in a nude condition he was lashed to a telegraph pole.

The four men then whipped him with raw-hides until he became unconscious. The man's back and limbs were covered with welts. He was carried back to his house and placed in bed. His cries aroused the neighbors and brought a crowd to the scene, but when they found Campbell was being whipped no resistance was offered.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Treaty With Great Britain Ratified by the Senate.

POLITICAL OFFENDERS EXEMPT.

President Harrison and Andrew Carnegie Leave To-day for Pittsburg.

The Postmaster-General Talks About the Postal Telegraph Bill—The Pension Appropriation Bill Increased Nearly Twenty Million Dollars—Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The British Extradition Treaty was ratified by the Senate in executive session. It makes extraditable offenses of abduction, child-stealing, kidnapping, burglary, house or shop-breaking, perjury, piracy, revolt or conspiracy to revolt, crimes and offences against the laws of both countries for the suppression of slavery and slave trading, fraud by banker or agent made criminal by the laws of both countries, embezzlement, larceny, obtaining money, goods or valuables under false pretences, counterfeiting and manslaughter.

It also prohibits the return by the United States Government to that of England of Irish dynamiters who have sought refuge here.

MR. WANAMAKERS' BILL.

He Argues His Postal Telegraph Scheme Before the House Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The House Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads gave a hearing on the Postal Telegraph bill submitted by the Postmaster-General.

Mr. Wanamaker said that he offered it only as a study. He had no changes to offer, except to suggest that section 7, which fixes the rates for messages, might be eliminated, and the power of fixing rates be vested in the Postmaster-General.

He said civil service would control the new establishment, and recommended that some penalty be provided to prevent the use of the wires for political purposes by officers and employes of the government and others. The difficulty of making a contract with some flexibility in it, he said, was not so great as it might seem.

In answer to questions by members of the committee, Mr. Wanamaker said he thought the scheme would work to the benefit of the telegraph companies by giving them additional work, but the companies differed with him. He had believed all along that it would be greatly to the interests of the Western Union to contract with the government.

CANADIANS EXCITED

The French Crusade May Create Civil War.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD'S THREAT.

Unless the Davin Amendment is Accepted He Will Appeal to the Country.

Parnell's Motion Defeated in the House of Commons—Death of Count Andrassy—Wholesale Executions in Pekin—Gladstone Talks to the Miners—O'Shea-Parnell Trial Postponed.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 19.—The excitement over the French question in the Federal Parliament is more intense than ever. Never before in the history of Canada have the political leaders been in such a dilemma.

The racial feeling aroused by Dalton McCarthy's crusade has leaped the bounds of party lines, and now runs rampant with an intensity which presages future trouble or even civil war.

Every day the animosity between the English and French-speaking members is increasing until now almost every speech on the question is a series of violent interruptions.

Sir John Macdonald in his speech last evening said the Government were committed for Davin's amendment leaving the matter of dual languages in the Northwest to the legislative assembly there to decide.

This announcement was fiercely denounced by the French Conservatives, who, to a man, will vote against the movement on the ground that the adoption of Davin's amendment would mean that Parliament recognized the crusade against the French.

Will Appeal to the Country.

Sir John Mcdonald finding his efforts to whip the Frenchelement of the party into line had most utterly failed and knowing that to grant the demands of the French would raise a storm of indignation in Ontario, he stated that unless the French accept Davin's amendment he will dissolve Paliament and appeal to the country on the question, depending on the Protestant vote for re-election. It is thought, however that this threat is made simply to whip the Frenchmen into line

HANGED AND BEHEADED.

Fourteen Criminals Dig Their Own Graves Before Being Executed.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Shanghai dispatches give details of a wholesale execution of criminals, which took place in Pekin. The condemned were fourteen in number and were carried to the place of execution in wagons. At the place of execution the wagons stopped and an Imperial Commissioner read the decree of condemnation. Nine of the prisoners were to be beheaded and five to be hanged.

The former were arranged in front of the place destined to receive their bodies. Their faces were painted red, their red clothes were stripped from them and each one was forced to dig a grave for himself two feet in depth. The subsequent work of the executioner was speedy, and in a very few moments the nine were beheaded and the five strangled.

Miners Wait Upon Gladstone.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Mr. Gladstone was waited upon by a deputation of miners, and listened with close attention to the address of their spokesman. In reply he said that they must first consider the question whether workingmen were not willing to work more than eight hours, after which they should ask themselves seriously whether miners were entitled to separate and exceptional treatment. He was unable, he said, to give any pledges and must be left entirely free to act according to his judgment.

Count Andrassy Dead.

PESTH, Feb. 19.—Count Julius Andrassy, the well-known Hungarian statesman, who has been ill for some time at Veloca, near Fiume, is dead. A dozen years ago the name of Andrassy had great weight in European politics, but since his retirement, in 1879, he has taken but little part in the affairs of Europe. For years he had been what might be called the Bismark of Austro-Hungary.

Flabby and Nerveless.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The reply of the Government to Parnell's inquiry about the Special Commission's report is not satisfactory to the leading newspapers. The Pall Mall Gazette styles as flabby and nerveless the resolution proposed to be introduced into the House of Commons by Mr. W. H. Smith, the Government leader. Monday next, and which asks the House to accept and thank the Commission for its work.

The O'Shea-Parnell Trial.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Captain O'Shea has filed a supplementary petition in the matter of his suit against his wife for divorce extending the period of her adulterous relations with Mr. Parnell. In consequence of this the time within which answers may be filed has also been extended. Mr. Wontner, Captain O'Shea's solicitor, expresses doubt that the trial will take place before autumn.

Parnell's Amendment Rejected.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A division was taken in the Commons last night on Mr Parnell's amendment to the Queen's address asking the repeal of the Coercion act, with the result that the amendment was rejected by a vote of 307 to 240.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT.

A Musical Success That Cleared Over One Hundred Dollars.

The High School hall was packed, last night, with the parents and friends of the school who listened with pleasure to the concert by a select chorus of seventy voices from the High and Grammar schools. The chorus work was decidedly good for such young singers. The children sang with fine spirit and expression, especially in "The Heavens are Telling," and "The Lord is my Shepherd."

The High School Glee Club rendered several humorous part songs very acceptably. Master Fred Freeman of the Grammar school also sang his solos in a highly pleasing manner. The presence of Miss Alice Holmes and Mr. Elmer Runyon, as soloists, of course added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. Miss Holmes was enthusiastically received and gave as her second selection, "Little Pilgrim," by Millard. Her voice shows a marked improvement during the past year. Both solos were sung with great sweetness and high artistic finish. Mr. Runyon is always a favorite. On his recall he sang "Dreams," by Strebezki. This duet was never sung here before. It was well received but they declined a recall.

The whole evening reflected great credit upon the musical director, Mr Hazell, and the pupils who have worked so hard to make the concert a success. The school will clear over one hundred dollars for the new singing books. Miss Mabel Maxson's accompaniments were remarkably praiseworthy.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We, the scholars and teachers of the High and Grammar schools, desire to express our earnest thanks to Miss Holmes, Mr. Runyon and others, who so kindly assisted in the concert of last evening. We keenly appreciate the hearty good will toward the school that prompted so generous an action.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Charles Clark of Ashaway, R. I., is visiting her cousin, Mrs. T. C. Smith of New street.

Mr. Lewis B. Blackford of North Plainfield, is at Trenton, attending the Grand Lodge, K. of P., as representative of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., of this city.

The grocers and drygood's men will close store at noon on Washington's Birthday. Housekeepers would do well to remember this fact, and make their purchases accordingly.

Mr. John B. Case, one of the most prominent and highly esteemed citizens of Somerville, died at that place very suddenly this morning. He was the father of the popular Conductor Case.

Burglars entered the home of Mr. Chas. K. Moore, the water works contractor, last evening, and stole his ulster. Mr. Moore was at a progressive party, and so fortunately was dressed in his best suit of clothes.

Dr. T. H. Tomlinson and Mrs. Tomlinson of this city, were included in the large audience which listened to Miss Frances E. Willard, National President of the W. C. T. U., in Taylor's Opera House, Trenton, last evening.

A number of the prominent men of New Brunswick were present at the men's meeting, held in the Y. M. C. A., rooms in that city, on Sunday, and listened to an interesting address by Mr. William D. Murray of this city.

The "Silent Four" will tender the late Good and Welfare Committee of Franklin Council, J. O. U. A. M., a reception on Friday evening, (Washington's Birthday Eve.,) in Taylor's Hall, corner of Park and North avenues.

Some Queer Proceedings.

Yesterday was the time set for the hearing of Patrick Bergen of North Plainfield, who is charged with the theft of a quantity of tools, yet only a few persons were admitted to Spencer's hall to witness the proceedings, although the defendant demanded a hearing in open Court.

Justice Hardy told a Press reporter this morning that Bergen had not before been formally charged with the theft, and that he had only been served with a search warrant. Yesterday a formal complaint was lodged against the defendant, and he gave bonds to appear for a hearing to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

Wedding Anniversary.

There was a large and happy gathering of members of the family and relatives at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Dunn, on West Fourth street, yesterday, to commemorate that couple's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn had secretly arranged for the gathering, which was a surprise to their parents, and all the more appreciated by them. The wedding cake at this anniversary feast was a "piece of work," and reflected great credit upon the makers and bakers of the article, Misses Lizzie and Ellie and Mrs. Fred Dunn.

A Sudden Death.

A middle-aged woman named O'Keefe died very suddenly at her home on West Fourth street, early this morning, aged about forty-five years. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death. County Physician Westcott viewed the remains at noon today, but the result is not known.

PLAINFIELD'S PATRIOTISM.

ONE LONE CITIZEN REMEMBERS THE DAY WE CELEBRATE.

George Washington's Birthday Will Only be Commemorated by One Coat of Whitewash.

Yesterday the historic rocks known as "Washington Rock," situated on the brow of the mountain back of Dunellen, N. J., received their annual coat of whitewash in commemoration of the approaching birthday anniversary of the Father of his country.

This work is done at the expense and under the supervision of one of Plainfield's old and well known citizens, who for a number of years past has thus seen that the famed rocks are made conspicuous, while he escapes the notoriety he does not court, by the secrecy with which the work is accomplished.

Messrs Slauson and Struthers Will Represent the Home Association.

At a meeting of the Home Building Loan Association, held Monday night, the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, Certain so-called National Building and Loan Associations here by their loose methods and grasping practices, and a use of our distinctive name, brought discredit upon our local associations; and,

Whereas, It is intended to call a mass meeting of Building and Loan Associations in New York and its vicinity, on some evening in March next, for the purpose of explaining the methods and emphasizing the difference between the local organizations;

Resolved, That A. T. Slauson and S. R. Struthers be appointed to represent this Association at each mass meeting and at a meeting preliminary thereto, to be held at the Astor House, N. Y., on February 28, for the purpose of organization.

Resolved, That a sum not exceeding three dollars be appropriated for the expenses of said meetings.

An Exciting Runaway.

A runaway of a most exciting nature, took place on East Front street, about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, but so far as known no serious damage resulted. At that hour a stout lady, whose name could not be ascertained was seated in a cart driving a pony along that thoroughfare. When in front of the post office the animal made a lunge, and grasping the bit in his mouth, started off at a breakneck speed.

The lady bravely held the reins and guided the runaway horse in the middle of the street, and when last seen the rig was rounding the curve just beyond Richmond street. The occurrence created considerable excitement.

Song Recital and Musicale.

A select gathering attended, upon invitation, a song recital and musicale on East Front street, last evening, given by the composer, Mr. Julian Jordan, assisted by Miss Edna Ray Park. Among the others who contributed toward the success of the entertainment, were Miss Mabelle Park, Mr. F. M. Dudley and Mr. P. L. Conde.

The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental music, each number of which was rendered in a highly creditable and accomplished manner.

The Saengerbund's Masquerade.

About one hundred and fifty couples of young people attended the second annual masquerade ball of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein, in the Society's hall, on Somerset street, North Plainfield, Monday evening. Many of the costumes were very elaborate. Particular mention is made of the attire worn by Miss Lena Kellar. A local orchestra furnished the music for dancing, which continued until morning.

Almost a Fire.

A lamp which took fire in some unaccountable manner, at six o'clock last evening, in a West Fourth street dwelling, was thrown from a window by one of the occupants of the house just in time to save the house from perhaps total destruction. Children passing through the yard saw the lamp flickering, and they notified the inmates of the house, who by their prompt action prevented a conflagration.

Took Insurance Policies and All.

If the person who "lifted" an overcoat from a peg in one of the hotels in this city, a few evenings since, will return the life insurance policies which one of the pockets contained, he will receive the thanks of the owner. The coat was of a black material, and in the pockets there were also a pair of gloves and a silk handkerchief.

The Anniversary of Its Dedication.

To-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, the anniversary of the dedication of the German Reformed church on Craig place, North Plainfield, will be held in the lecture room of the church, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society.

A cordial invitation is extended to all well wishers of the church. Admission free.

To Erect Stone Stations.

In future when the Central Railroad builds new stations it is the intention to construct them of stone and other indestructible materials. Such a plan will be doubly expensive at the outset, but wooden buildings are believed to be fully as expensive in the long run and not nearly as artistic —A light thunder shower passed over the city about ten o'clock last evening.

THE BEGINNING OF LENT.

Society Events in the Episcopal and Catholic Churches are "Off" For a Time—The Regulations of the Lenten Period.

Lent, a season of fast and prayer, observed by all churches, but most strictly by the Roman Catholics and Episcopalians, commenced today and ends Sunday, April 6.

This season has been observed for hundreds of years and its origin is involved in obscurity, but it is meant to commemorate the forty day's fast of our Savior in the desert and as he restrained himself from various temptations so should it be observed by his followers.

At first the fasts of Lent were most rigid. Only one meal per day was allowed and no meat at any time. The obligation of fasting, however, is now kept only by the Catholics and Episcopalians and so many dispensations have been made from time to time that the obligation is now merely a nominal one The fast at first was what is known as a black fast. No animal food, nor any food procured from animals, such as lard, eggs or butter was allowed.

The regulations (for Roman Catholics) for this year, which have been read in the various Catholic churches, are very lenient. Meat is permitted at the principal meals on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, except the second and last Saturdays. Two light meals, and one principal meal are allowed each day except Sunday, when the usual number of meals may be partaken of.

The first day (Wednesday) of Lent is known as Ash Wednesday, from the custom of putting ashes on the heads of penitents, As this is done the one anointed is warned, "Man, remember that dust thou art, and wilt to dust return."

The last week of Lent is particularly solemn, as then is celebrated the anniversary of the week before the death of Christ. Good Friday, the day on which he was crucified, is celebrated with mournful services in the various churches. No bells are rung and no communion is served.

Easter Sunday, a term derived from an ancient Saxon word meaning risen, is a day of joy. Then joyous bells ring out, and by various ways the joy at the resurrection of the Savior is testified. The eating of eggs is supposed to be symbolical, for as the living bird comes forth from the hard shell, so the Lord rose from his confining grave.

The local Roman Catholic churches will have services on every Wednesday and Friday during Lent. The rosary will be recited and a sermon preached on Wednesday evenings, and the stations of the Cross recited on Friday. Both Catholic and Episcopal, as well as churches of other denominations, will celebrate Easter with special services of song and prayer.

Notes of the Bicycle Club.

(By "Nitram.")

Still the membership of the Plainfield Bicycle Club keeps rolling up. At a recent meeting a Gymnasium Committee composed of five was appointed with Dr. J. H. Cooley as Chairman; they will draft a set of rules to govern the gymnasium and will have full power in its management. A caucus will be held on Saturday evening, March 8, to nominate the officers for the coming year. The Billiard and Pool Table Committee were instructed to procure another table, the present one not being sufficient for the wants of the members. The Saturday Night Entertainment Committee will hereafter be composed of three instead of two members, and they will be appointed for the remainder of the season by President, Councilman Townsend Rushmore.

Have you heard of the grand time soon to be indulged in by the Plainfield people, at the monstrous fair to be held by the Plainfield Bicycle Club, on February 20, 21 and 22? Boom is no name for the manner in which affairs are working in connection with it, the magnitude of it can hardly be surmised The great enthusiasm shown, not only by the members but by everybody, is marvellous, to say the least; the immense support promised by the ladies who will officiate at the various booths is in itself a sure guarantee of success; the joy that fills the bosoms of the members is unbounded

Special attractions will be devised for the delight of the neighboring cycling clubs, that, I have every reason to believe, will turn out in large numbers. As Saturday, February 22, is a holiday the fair will be held in the afternoon as well as the evening, and in order to have the visiting wheelmen meet the same day, the Plainfielders have set that day aside for them. I would suggest that the members wear their uniform cap and coat for the purpose of identification. The services of several excellent musicians have been engaged, and their rendition of classic as well as popular music will form a very pleasant part of the programme.

Railroad Men in Conference.

General Superintendent J. H. Olhausen, Superintendent W. H. Peddle, of the New Jersey Central division, and Captain Hopper, Superintendent of the Newark and New York division, held a conference in New York a few days ago relative to the petition for the extension of the road through Newark, and thence to this city. No definite decision was arrived at.

Still Winning.

On the Olympia alleys, last evening, the Olympics of this city again outbowled the Alphas of Newark, by the following score: Hall, 163; Wood, 130; Wyckoff, 170; Stover, 146; Murray, 129; Wilbur, 170; White, 135; VanAlstyne, 144; Collier, 171; Lowry, 146. Total—1,504. Alpha—1,348.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

Our Rural Friends Discuss Topics of Interest to Them and to the Community at Large.

Mr. Augustus Frentz is erecting two handsome dwellings opposite Freeholder Kyte's residence.

The Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company has thought it advisable to erect a store near the Fanwood station, and Mr. John Baker will occupy the building when completed.

The parents and friends of Walter Frazee, the young man who mysteriously disappeared from home several weeks ago, have become reconciled to his fate It is believed by many of the residents of Scotch Plains that the young man has made away with himself, but a few of the more conservative people, think that he will yet turn up safe and sound.

The new school house is nearing completion, and it will be an ornament to the place. Some comment is made, however, on the cupola, which the people say resembles a "stove pipe hat."

Mr. Wm. Traynor has taken possession of his new blacksmith shop, and is now prepared to furnish iron work for anything from a wagon tire to the iron roof on the New York World building.

Mr. James Paff of Brooklyn, returned home on Saturday, after spending three months with his brother, Thos. Paff, proprietor of the hotel by that name.

Mr. John Cook has just added a new engine to the apparatus which propels his stone cracker.

The work of re-building Seeley's mills is progressing favorably, and it is thought that the mills will be in operation by April 1.

The Size of a Friend of Ours.

With all due respect to the Elizabeth Journal, THE PRESS has said nothing, and never says anything, it is called upon to explain away as a mistaken statement.

The editor of our slightly esteemed contemporary is most honorable as a man, and with his especially able business manager publishes the second best newspaper in the county. But as an editor he is one of the most wilfully blind and wickedly bigoted political writers we have ever known—which is, we are entirely aware, a very harsh statement. In his efforts to bolster the political party whose collar and hand-cuffs he wears in plain sight, he will stoop to print the falsest statements that occur to him. And he prints them with a very vicious intent and manner, too.

An Inductive View of the Matter.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS: I am inquisitively interested in the introduction of the new method—or inductive study of scripture truth.

While I understand that the requisite necessary to the understanding of Bible truth, is a spiritual mind, am I to believe that the above method founded upon the laws of thought or mind, covers the whole ground of Paul's metaphysical gospel, and will accomplish the same purpose—changing the natural to a spiritual understanding, and thereby attain to spiritual revelation? If this be so, then logical induction is the greatest discovery of the age and takes the place of revelation, the mystery by which truth was made known to the Apostles.

"Will o' the Wisp."

Mr. Edgar Selden, the author of "Mc Kenna's Flirtation," which lately closed a successful run of over one hundred nights at the Park Theatre, New York, is to appear at Music Hall, Feb. 22, matinee and night. He will appear in his latest success, "Will o' the Wisp," which is said to be greatly superior to his previous efforts. There will be new scenery, costumes, etc. He will be supported by a strong cast, headed by Miss Laura E. Burt, so long identified as Fantasma with the Hanlon Brothers.

Tore the Parlor Furniture in Their Courting.

(From the Somerville Democrat.)

A Plainfield landlady had her case nonsuited by the Justice to whom she appealed. She had endeavored to collect payment for wear and tear of parlor furniture during the courting of a lady boarder. Presumably the ladies were rivals, but Jersey justice in this case took a commendable form; the road to matrimony should be kept clear of all obstructions.

Trap Shooting.

It is anticipated that there will be a large attendance on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun Club, at Dunellen, N. J., Saturday, February 22, when there will be sweepstake shooting all day at live and inanimate targets. During the day there will be interesting individual matches shot off between local amateur shooters. Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

The Tramp Nuisance.

Within the past few days tramps have been unusually numerous in this city, as many as two and three applying at a single house in one day. The mild and open Winter has been the cause of starting the tramps on their annual tour much earlier than usual.

The Cutest Little Things.

"Cute!" he echoed. "Well, I don't know as the adjective would have occurred to me in just that connection. But if you mean that they do their work thoroughly, yet make no fuss about it; cause no pain or weakness; and, in short, are everything that a pill ought to be, and nothing that it ought not, then I agree that Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are about the cutest little things going."

—There was a big fire at Perth Amboy, this morning, and Elizabeth's fire department was called upon for help.

—Mr. R. R. Fairchild of 21 East Front street, calls attention to his large stock of furniture, bedding, etc., which he invites the public to inspect.

—A galvanized iron stove pipe became disconnected in one of the upper stories of Mr. Charles Smith's residence, on West Front street, this forenoon, filling the house with smoke. No damage was done.

—A milk wagon belonging to Mr E. P. Kellogg collided with one of Mr. A. M. Griffin's wagons, on East Front street, this morning, and the result was that the whiffletree on Mr. Kellogg's wagon was broken.

—The Fanwood team won both matches of the bowling tournament, that were rolled at Somerville last evening. The next two games will be between the Nameless of Westfield and the Elizabeths on the former's alleys, Friday evening. The Plainfield teams do not roll until March 7, when the Crescents and Olympics will meet for the first time on the Olympia alleys.

LECONEY AND LINGO.

The Negro's Criminating Statements Attacked by the Defence.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 19.—This is the fifteenth day of the Leconey murder trial. The defence went deeply into the lines it is pursuing and will pursue in order to prove the innocence of the accused, and it was evident to every one in court that it did this to some purpose. After a host of witnesses had been called to testify to Chalkley's good reputation and character, Frank Lingo was made the objective point of the defence.

The evidence of Patrick Conway and his wife, which recited Lingo's suspicious conduct on the morning after the murder, and the statements of Franklin Brock, who identified a negro seen at Merchantville on the fatal day as the suspected Lingo, were highly sensational. These witnesses underwent critical cross-examinations, but the ordeal did not affect their testimony materially.

As usual, the accused was calm and imperturbable. His sister-in law and nephew, the mother and brother of Anna, sat on either side of him, but they did not talk. They were keenly alive to every word that was uttered, but the impressions made upon them by the testimony were not evident from any outward show. As has been the case all along, the court room was crowded.

HOBOKEN'S MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Body of the Unknown Woman Identified at Last.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 19.—The body of the young woman found on the meadows at the foot of Second street, Sunday morning, was identified by Dr. Nelson as that of Margaret Young, aged 30, who had resided at No. 397 Congress street, Bridgeport, Conn. The woman had been an inmate of the Jersey City Hospital, where she was treated for gastric fever and heart trouble from July 9 to Aug. 8 last year. She was said to be a married woman having two children.

Dr. Nelson assisted County Physician Converse in the autopsy, and as soon as he saw the woman he recognized her as Margaret Young. The autopsy showed that the woman had died of a hemorrhage. There was no indication of violence or foul play.

No Hope for Bishop O'O'Connor.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 19.—All hope of the recovery of Bishop O'Connor, of Denver Col., who is at the Mercy Hospital in this city, was given up to-day. His disease is a stricture of the intestines. The physicians decided that the only chance for him lay in the use of the knife. Dr. Atlee, of Philadelphia, who had been the Bishop's physician for years, was sent for to consult with the Pittsburg doctors. The consultation decided that the sick man was beyond all aid and that an operation would only result in additional suffering and could do no good.

A Girl Disfigured for Life.

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 19.—Miss Emma Fischer, the daughter of a business man living in the suburbs of the city, was brutally assaulted last night by a vitriol-thrower. The young lady went to the door in answer to a summons, and as she stepped on the threshold a masked man threw a quantity of oil of vitriol in her face. The miscreant ran away and left his victim writhing in agony.

Agitating for Free Coinage of Silver.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A mass-meeting in favor of the free coinage of silver was held at the Cooper Union last night. Hon. Thomas L. James presided. He said he had always been a gold standard man, but wanted all sides to be heard, and had therefore agreed to take the chair. Edwards Pierrepont, W. R. Grace, H. K. Thurber, Warner Miller and others were announced as vice-presidents. General Warner was the principal speaker.

Miners Willing to Surrender.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 19.—The strikers' committee offered to concede every demand made by them at the beginning of the strike, and acknowledge themselves beaten in the conflict if the company would allow them to return to work at rates and conditions similar to those they were receiving before operations were suspended, but the coal company refused to allow the men to return to work under any circumstances.

Electrical Storm in Boston.

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—During a brisk snow storm last night an electrical storm passed over this city, the lightning being remarkably vivid and the thunder heavy. In the Western Union office the wires were greatly affected by the storm. In Cambridge the lightning disabled an electric car, but none of its passengers were injured.

The First Pasteur Institute.

The Consul-General of France assisted in the opening ceremonies.

HIS REASON FOR MURDER.

Young Pray Killed a Baby Because He Liked to Go to Funerals.

DENHAM, Mass., Feb. 19.—Judge Devens of the Supreme Court held a lunacy inquiry in the case of Walter H. Pray, aged 23, who murdered Verner M. Fisher, aged three years, in Weymouth, Dec. 5, 1889.

Several physicians testified that young Pray was deficient in intelligence and cerebral development. The prisoner had told several of the doctors that he killed the child because he liked to go to funerals and because an older brother of his victim had tormented him. The father of the prisoner testified to the constitutional mental incapacity of his son.

Judge Devens ordered the prisoner to be taken to the Taunton Lunatic Hospital, the keeper thereof to make periodical reports as to the condition of the prisoner.

BIG BID FOR EWING

He Refused an Offer of $33,000 for Three Years.

TRUE TO THE BROTHERHOOD.

He Explains His Display of Money During Day's Visit to Cincinnati.

He Brought it Out to Bet That the Players' League Would Live—John B. Day Offers to Buy the Indianapolis Club. Trying to Arrange an Eight-Club Circuit for the National League.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 20.—Capt. "Buck" Ewing and wife, accompanied by Al Johnson, of Cleveland, arrived in this city en route from Cincinnati to New York. Ewing in answer to a correspondent said: "I have not signed with John B. Day. You know I am a Brotherhood man and as long as a fellow sticks to that he cannot belong to the League. I told Mr. Day that if he could get Connor, Richardson, Gore and Slattery to sign I would do the same, because he would have virtually secured the old club, and there would not be any use in me sticking out by myself.

"Did Mr. Day really offer you as much as he is reported to have done?"

"Yes, sir. That much, and even more than the papers knew anything about."

"Do you still think that the Brotherhood will be a success?"

"Of course I do."

Al Johnson, who remained in the city a few hours, is authority for the statement that John B. Day's offer to Ewing was $33,000 for three years. He first offered Ewing $8,000 a year for three years and when that was refused, the offers were increased until Mr. Day offered him $11,000 a year, and offered "Buck" a three years' contract at the same time. "Buck" replied that he could not do this, but intimated that he would be glad to have Mr. Day connected with the Players' Club. Mr. Day answered: "That is out of the question," and Ewing then said: "Well, it is out of the question for me to leave the boys."

Ewing explains his display of money during Day's visit by saying that he drew it from the bank to pay an assessment of $1,000 on the stock he now holds in the New York Players' League Club. He was induced to bring it out on a remark by Mr. Day that the Players' League would not live through the season. Buck offered to bet $1,000 even that it would. Buck also says that Day practically admitted that the old League would be wrecked unless the players would return, and appealed to him to save him (Day) from the disaster. Buck also displayed telegrams from all the members of the New York Players' Club advising him to stand firm.

Day After the Indianapolis Team.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 20.—President Day, of the New York Club, said today: "I am here after the Indianapolis team, if it is possible to get it. We want the whole outfit. It is well recognized that an eight club circuit would enable the League to make a more successful and determined fight against the Brotherhood. Of course, if Indianapolis goes out, it would force out one other club By the reduction it would more evenly balance the teams, and all would be good cities and have good teams. If we could get the Indianapolis players we would stand on an equal footing with the Brotherhood."

NO LOCKOUT.

The Woburn Labor Trouble Settled by a Compromise.

WOBURN, Mass., Feb. 20.—The labor trouble has been settled without a lockout. A compromise has been reached between Beggs & Cobb and their blockers and setters, the blockers agreeing to do 90 sides a day, of either polish or glove leather, and the setters to do 240 sides a week, of polish, at $11 per week, or 200 sides of glove at $12 per week.

This agreement will hold good at least as long as the arbitrators' price list remains in force, which will be ten months. The blockers and setters made concessions for the sake of the other employes. Beggs & Cobb resumed work this morning.

BLIZZARD IN THE WEST.

Terrible Storms in Northern Minnesota and Iowa.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 20.—Specials from all parts of the Northwest say that a fierce blizzard is raging and that the thermometer is falling fast.

At Ashland, Wis., a heavy snow storm is being drifted by a terrific wind, and in nearly all parts of Northern Minnesota and Iowa a fierce blizzard is raging. The thermometer is falling rapidly in this city, and before morning a howling blizzard may be prevailing.

Fierce Snow Storm in Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Feb. 20.—Advices from Esterville, Ia., state that a fierce snow storm has been raging there all day and that the thermometer is below zero and falling rapidly.

A Dye House Vat Explodes.

PALMER, Mass., Feb. 21.—A large vat used for boiling cotton exploded in the dye house of the Palmer Mill at Three Rivers. Overseer J. C. Bell, J. F. Gardner, and a workman named Beauchamp, were badly scalded, but not fatally hurt. The boiler had recently been overhauled, and the cause of the explosion is unknown.

Eight inches of snow.

LECONEY ON THE STAND.

He Tells About Seeing His Niece After the Murder Was Committed.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 20.—News that Leconey would be on the stand again to-day made the crush for admittance terrific when Court opened.

The prisoner told how he reached the house after hearing of the murder. He said he could not ride the horse all the way because his back was weak. He had been suffering from a weak back for ten years and physicians had been treating him. When he first reached the house he sat down on the side porch a few minutes to collect himself.

"William Lavery and I went in," said Leconey, "I looked at the body and felt her left wrist. I coul feel no pulsation. I went out doors a few minutes, and then came back and went up stairs. I saw my keys in the chest and upon examination found that $98 in gold and over $100 in notes had been stolen."

Witness described his clothing and identified the trousers he wore on the day of the murder. He said those having the blood stains on were not his, but his brother's. He did not change his clothing, and did not see Billy Smith the day of the murder. Witness did not believe Smith was over half-witted.

Leconey admitted that he told Constable Naylor that he suspected Francis Lingo of being the murderer. The defendant was cool and self-possessed and answered all questions promptly.

MONEY FOR JURORS.

The Trial of Bribers in Chicago Bringing Out Damaging Evidence.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Plenty of evidence is being secured against Graham, the Cronin jury fixer. Ex-Bailiff A. L. Hanks told in detail of his different meetings with Graham. Graham showed the witness a big bundle of money, and said he wanted a man on the Cronin jury for the defence. He wanted him to "stick right there, acquit them or give them a year, but a disagreement would do as a last resort." Graham gave Hanks a list of names, but as Hanks was not sent out to summon jurors he gave the list to Bailiff Solomon. Subsequently Graham told the witness not to use this list, and gave him a new one to give to Solomon.

Joseph B. Konen, one of the men indicted by the Grand Jury, testified that Bailiff Hanks had asked him if he wouldn't like to go on the Cronin jury for the $200 in fees and $1,000 more if he should find for acquittal. Konen thought he would, and was accordingly summoned. He had told his wife that if anyone gave her $1,000 she should take it. Hanks had proposed that.

Gumbert, pastor of the Dudley street Baptist Church, officiating. Mrs. Foss, who helped to get Isaac out of prison, and who is now a friend of Hiram's widow, was the only person present not a member of the family, except the clergyman and undertaker. The services were extremely simple. The body was placed in the receiving tomb at Forrest Hills Cemetery.

Seizure of a Tobacco Factory.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 20.—Black Brothers' tobacco factory was seized by Government officials, acting under instructions from the Internal Revenue Bureau. It is charged that the firm defrauded the Government out of a considerable sum of money by sending out packages of tobacco weighing more than they should. Two ounce packages were made to weigh three ounces, and four ounce packages five or six ounces. The firm claim that the trouble was caused by girls making up the packages too heavy, and that there was no intention to defraud the Government.

Committed Suicide at Sea.

Army Deserters Will be Granted Amnesty.

PRISONERS TO BE RELEASED.

The Debate in Congress for the World's Fair Site Commenced To-Day.

Senator Blair Attacks the Press for Not Printing His Speech—Trying to Secure Control of the Seal Fish Industry—Senator Ingalls to Deliver an Address at Gettysburg.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The proposed order granting amnesty to deserters from the United States Army is receiving the finishing touches by the legal experts of the War Department. The whole subject has been gone into with great care and deliberation in order that equal justice may be done to all and that the Government may not be involved in any controversy with beneficiaries for back pay or legal complications of any kind.

The department has received returns from the Fort Leavenworth Military Prison as to what effect the order will have on the prisoners confined therein, and acting upon this information a clause will be inserted in the forthcoming order pardoning all the prisoners confined in the penitentiary on charges of desertion. This will practically deplete the prison, for of the 550 prisoners 423 are deserters. Fifty-seven of the remaining prisoners are serving time for desertion combined with other offences. A remission for part of the term of this class will also be provided for.

Mr. Blair Abuses the Newspapers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Mr. Blair, in resuming his remarks in favor of the Educational bill, said that the bill had been killed in the past by packed committees; individual members of which had been threatened by anathemas from their church. He said that the country was not to be given over to those who would teach a civil allegiance elsewhere than within our own borders—whose President lived on the banks of the Tiber. Mr. Blair again abused the press, which, he said, regarded a dog fight as more important than his speech on a great educational measure.

Speaking for the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The New York supporters of the World's Fair project arranged their list of speakers for the debate to-day and to-morrow. Each city will put forth its arguments for an hour to-day, according to arrangement, reserving the half hour remaining for to-morrow. Mr. Flower led off for New York. He will be followed by Messrs. Moore, of New Hampshire, and Covert, Cummings, C. H. Turner, McCarthy, Tracy, Barker, Spinola, Dunphy, and Farquhar of New York, and possibly Mr. Blount, of Georgia, and Mr. Blanchard, of Missouri. St. Louis will follow New York and then will come Chicago and Washington.

Control of the Seal Industry.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—It is reported that the Russian Government has confirmed the renewal of the lease of the Russian seal islands in Behring Sea to the Alaska Commercial Company, of San Francisco. This action is understood to be based upon a persuasion that the Government of the United States will take a similar course with regard to its own seal islands, and that the control of the seal fish industry may thus be vested in a single management.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 20.—In the Assembly the World's Fair conference report was adopted by a vote of 119 to 1, Mr. King, of New York, voting in the negative on constitutional grounds. The Senate concurred in the action of the Assembly, only one dissenting vote being cast.

BOROUGH COUNCIL MEETING.

The Reports of the Various Committees Presented and Ordered Printed.

Mayor Cooley and Messrs Emmons, McGee and Smalley, constituting a quorum of the Borough Council, met in adjourned session last evening, principally to receive the reports of the various committees.

Two claims, one of W. N. Pangborn for $2.60, and the other of T. W. Morrison for $14.50 were received and referred for certification.

Mayor Cooley reported a total of $197.20 collected for fines during the year, leaving a balance of $147.85 after deducting court expenses.

The annual report of the Borough Clerk was received and filed, and at a later stage in the proceedings it was ordered printed in THE PRESS together with the several other reports.

Mr. McGee, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, submitted the annual report of said committee, in which were included some timely suggestions. The report referred to the efficient street lighting system, and to the necessity of extending the service into the suburbs The committee suggested the advisability of purchasing a truck and organizing a truck company. The total receipts for fire department purposes were $1,797.71, and the total expenditures were $1,097.03, leaving a balance on hand of $700.68. The committee further recommended that the amount of money recently paid by the township into the Borough fund be transferred to the fire department fund. The report was received and filed, and the latter recommendation was adopted.

Mr Smalley read the Street Committee's report, showing the total receipts for the year to be $3,734.93, and the total expenditures $3,364.94 During the year Jackson avenue has been macadamized at a cost of $1,274.94 of which amount the property owners paid $300; a portion of Westervelt avenue was also macadamized at a cost of $582.50, the property owners paying fifty per cent. of the cost; about $500 was expended for a top dressing on Somerset street. In the report the committee recommended that an appropriation of $5,000 be made this year for street work—$2,000 for repairs and $3,000 for permanent improvements. The report was received and filed.

The Auditing Committee reported having examined the books of the Clerk, Collector and Treasurer, and that the same were found to be correct. Attention was also called to a deficiency of over $450 from the $9,200 assessed for Borough purposes, occasioned by the discount allowed firemen and soldiers, who are exempt from taxation to a certain extent. The report was filed.

Mr. McGee offered the following resolution which was upon motion adopted:

Resolved, That the Borough report and the annual reports of the Committee on Streets and Public Health, Fire, Water and Lamps, together with a list of the delinquent taxpayers be published in pamphlet form to the number of 200 copies by the lowest bidder, and be published in the daily papers.

A resolution confirming Mr. Peter Seader, as a member of Warren Engine Co., No. 1, was adopted, and the Council adjourned.

PURE WATER IS PLENTY.

That's What Plainfield's Company Claims to Have Found—Offices Leased and Ground Bought.

The ground floor of the new building at 55 North avenue, has been leased by the Water Works company of Plainfield, and is being fitted up according to plans of Architect Fosgate for occupancy. Mr. T. O. Doane is doing the cabinet work in quartered red oak. There will be when completed and finished, a handsome private office for Mr. Charles K. Moore, offices for his stenographer and the company's bookkeeper, and rooms for the draughtsmen and other employees.

The company claim to have found water in sufficient quantities, on the lands of the Central Improvement company near the Netherwood station as told exclusively in THE PRESS some days ago. Land has already been purchased on which the stand pipes will be erected. The analyses of the water will be published when completed by the experts of New York to whom it has been sent.

Held for the Grand Jury.

The hearing of Patrick Bergen, charged with the theft of some tools from the row of flats on Grove street, took place before Justice Hardy in North Plainfield, this morning. In the matter of the criminal charge, Bergen waived examination and gave $300 bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Witnesses were put on the stand who identified the tools found in Bergen's possession, and the court ordered the tools returned to the owner. Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh appeared for the prosecution, and Borough Counsel Charles A. Reed appeared for the defence.

Claims He Was Assaulted.

Chas F. Kocher of Newark swore out a warrant for the arrest of Morris Kennedy, before Justice Nash, last evening, charging him with assault and battery. The accused has not yet been apprehended.

A TRUSTEE SPEAKS WITH WISDOM.

The Scotch Plains School Building Architects Unequalled in the Country.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—My attention has only recently been called to a "reading notice" (i.e., a paid for article,) in your issue of January 23, in which certain references are made to our new school building, which may perhaps give to those people in Plainfield who are not in the habit of visiting this beautiful little hamlet, an erroneous impression as to what is being done in District No. 14. I am told also that the item has been copied (minus the three stars * * *) in some of the county papers, and so may do harm. As I have the good, or ill, fortune to be one of the Trustees, will you kindly permit me to say a few words?

The animus of the article would seem to be that "Fanwood" architects and builders were not employed. It is more than probable that they would have been employed if the appropriation asked for had been voted at the April meeting. But at the June meeting when the $18,000 was raised, an Advisory Committee was appointed to act with the Trustees, composed of Mr. A. D. Shepard and Dr. J. Ackerman Coles of Scotch Plains, and the late Mr. J. O. Cottrell of "Fanwood"—gentlemen well and favorably known in Plainfield. And it was by the advice of this committtee that the provisional plans in contemplation by the Trustees were laid aside, and both the design and the supervision of construction placed in charge of Messrs McKim, Mead and White, the New York architects.

I need hardly say that this firm enjoys a National, almost a World wide, reputation, and the circumstances which resulted in their undertaking the work, were most fortunate for District No. 14. Their work is not confined to New York or its vicinity—many important buildings in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Newport, Long Branch and elsewhere having been erected under their supervision Among other buildings in course of construction by them, I will mention a white marble mansion for Mr. E. D. Morgan of New York, at Newport, R. I., and the new Madison Square Garden, while the people of the metropolis have already subscribed over $68,000 to realize in marble the Washington Memorial Arch, the design of the Mr. White of this firm. To the minds of the cultivated people of Plainfield it will be evident that the taste and judgement of such architects may be safely opposed to the æsthetic sense of the "Fanwood Old-timer" referred to in the communication in question, whose view of their work would seem perhaps to infer a possibly larger experience in reformatory than in scholastic edifices.

The building when completed will be an honor to the District and to the gentlemen to whose cultivated and refined taste its construction is due.

Respectfully yours,
DAVID P. HALL.

Death Due to Apoplexy.

As stated in THE PRESS of yesterday, County Physician Westcott came to this city and viewed the remains of the late Mrs. O'Keefe, who died suddenly at her home on West Fourth street, early yesterday morning, and pronounced the cause of death, apoplexy. He issued his death certificate in accordance with the facts.

Mrs. O'Keefe was a widow, who had come to this city about eighteen months ago. She has enjoyed moderately good health of late, and her death was sudden and unexpected. One of her sisters is the wife of Mr. Thos. Clacy of West Front street, and another sister lives at the seminary.

Will Realize About Two Hundred Dollars.

The Committee of Arrangements and the officers of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein will meet this evening to settle up the business connected with the recent masquerade ball. The society will realize about $200 from the ball.

The Committee of Arrangements consisted of the following gentlemen: Messrs A. Krohne, Wm. Blimm, H. Keller, C. Koegel and John Waldron. The Reception Committee included Messrs M. Menzenbach, Daniel Hogan and T. J. Waldron. Mr. William H. Blimm was the floor manager.

They've Got a Strong Nine.

The Messenger of Somerville says in its issue of yesterday:

"The West End club will be in the field at the opening of the season with the following team: John Harkins, pitcher; (unknown), catcher; Conkling, 1st base; Carbonnell, 2d base; Al Williams, 3d base; Bergen, short stop; Davenport, left field; Frelinghuysen, right field; McMurtry or Major, centre field. This will undoubtedly prove to be one of the strongest amateur teams in the State. They have got the material."

Joe English at Reform Hall.

Sunday evening next promises to mark an event of great interest in Reform Hall, as the seventh anniversary of the Plainfield Reform Club's organization will then be observed with appropiate exercises, and among the speakers will be the popular and distinguished temperance advocate Joseph English, a gentleman well and favorably known in Plainfield, and who was one of the originators of the club. A crowded house will no doubt hail his presence.

Never defer until to-morrow what should be attended to today. A slight cough should'nt be neglected when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure it.

The readers of this publication are requested to use Salvation Oil for any and all pains. It is a sure cure and costs only 25 cents.

Committed for Larceny.

Spencer Conway, a colored man, went before Justice Nash, last evening, and swore out a warrant for the arrest of one Alexander Williams, also colored, charging him with stealing a pair of pants, two coats and a vest. The pants were subsequently recovered.

The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Moffett and this morning he apprehended the accused and locked him up. Justice Nash committed the prisoner to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury, in default of $300 bail.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

RIOTS IN GERMANY

Excitement Running High Over the Elections.

DISORDER EXPECTED IN BERLIN.

Many People Wounded and Arrested by the Police at Breslau.

The Death of Mr. Biggar—Parnellites Want to Hold a Public Funeral in Dublin—Fearful Colliery Explosion in France—Barnum's Show Sails for Home. The Land Purchase Bill.

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—An extra police force is on duty in in all the principal thoroughfares to-day in consequence of the apprehension of disorders due to the elections.

A fierce riot broke out in Breslau. Many people were wounded and arrested by the police. At Muelheim, in Saxony, crowds of people provoked a tumult during the election speech. Uhlans were called out and many people were wounded. One young girl was dangerously crushed.

Excitement is running high in the electoral campaign, especially as regards the Socialists who have apparently concerted riotous demonstrations all over the empire to such an extent as to call for the intervention of the military power. In Saxony, Alsace, Silesia, and the city of Konigsberg, Socialist addresses have been posted on the walls and torn down by the police. At Schneidemuchl a man caught in the act of posting liberal literature was arrested in a stable and conveyed, fettered, in an open wagon to the court.

In Konigsberg the police confiscate all liberal pamphlets and placards. Count Saldern, in an electoral speech at Templin, said that war with France and Russia is threatened in the nearest future.

DEATH OF JOSEPH BIGGAR.

One of the Leading Parnellites Dies of Heart Disease.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Joseph Gillis Biggar, the well-known Home Ruler and member of the House of Commons for the west division of County Cavan, died at Clapham, a suburb of London. His death was due to heart disease. Mr. Biggar was in his seat in the House of Commons Tuesday night. During the evening he acted as a teller on the division which was ordered on Mr. Parnell's amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the Throne, and which called for a repeal of the Coercion Act.

The deceased was the father of obstruction in the House of Commons. He was first elected a member of Parliament in 1874. He was a rare genius, full of wit and humor. He was born in Belfast in 1828, and made a comfortable fortune in the provision trade. Mr. Biggar was a Presbyterian up to 1877, when he became a Roman Catholic. He was not married, but a few years ago he was a defendant in a breach of promise suit brought by an aged maiden of Kilkenny, whom he had met in Paris.

The Parnellite members of Parliament will confer with the family of the late Mr. Biggar, relative to holding a public funeral in Dublin.

The Land Purchase Bill.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The Government Land Purchase bill will provide for the combination of the Landed Estates Court and the Land Commission in a single tribunal, for the settlement of land disputes, with a view to simplifying and cheapening the transfer of land. The amount involved is unlimited, but it is believed that £20,000,000 will cover the expense of the operation of the act.

Barnum's Show Sails for Home.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Barnum & Bailey's show sailed for New York on the steamer Furnesia to-day, with a balance of profits to the credit of the veteran showman of $60,000. The syndicate deal which contemplated the merging of the Forepaugh aggregation into the Barnum-Bailey combination is off, for the present at least, and probably permanently.

Russia and America Left Out.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—A Berlin correspondent says the Emperor has studied the labor question for the past eighteen months. As soon as he was convinced that European peace was assured he began to consult experts in every class in order to collect data. It is unlikely that Russia or America will be invited to the conference.

Another Mine Horror.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—There is a terrible scene of disaster at a colliery near Decaze, in the Department of Nievre, where an explosion occurred. The bodies of thirty-four dead miners have already been taken out, and the loss of life is greater yet.

Plotting Against Prince Ferdinand.

DYNAMITE IN THE STOVE.

A Cartridge Explodes and an Entire Family Seriously Injured.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Feb. 20.—By the explosion of a dynamite cartridge in the home of William Taylor, of Phillipsburg, near this place, Mr. Taylor, his wife and their two children were so seriously injured that there is no hope of their recovery.

Mrs. Taylor was preparing breakfast, and all of the family were in or near the kitchen. Mrs. Taylor had just taken something from the oven of the stove and was in the act of closing the door when the cartridge exploded with frightful effect. It is considered a marvel that the entire family were not killed outright, as the force of the explosion was so great that the house was completely wrecked and all four of the inmates hurled many feet away. Nearly all the furniture of the house was smashed to smithereines.

It is alleged that the dynamite was placed in the oven by a man who had been boarding with the Taylors, but who was not in the house at the time of the explosion. He has not been seen since, but is being looked for by the town authorities. His name is not known.

A STORE IN THEIR HOUSE.

The Wife and Daughter of a Leading Politician Arrested.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., Feb. 20.—Mrs. G. Collins and her daughter were arrested in McCracken & Co.'s dry goods store, charged with shoplifting. The women stoutly denied their guilt, but were searched and several articles of value were found on their persons.

Mrs. Collins' house at Demmler was searched by officers. They found 14 boxes and three trunks packed with dress goods of all kinds—linens, shawls, hats, towels, muffs, silks, lace, ribbons, collars, shoes and spoons. They estimated the value of the goods at $2,000 to $3,000.

Mrs. Collins and daughter are out on bail pending a hearing. The Collins family is quite a prominent one in McKeesport. Giles Collins has for years been a political leader in the Third ward. Last year, however, he got into some trouble with the liquor law, but the thing was soon patched up.

It is thought that the women have been practising shoplifting for years. Mrs. Collins is about 50 years of age and her daughter is 28.

An Unpopular Foreman Causes a Strike.

NATICK, Mass., Feb. 20.—The stitchers in H. H. Brown's factory have all struck, owing to the discharge of one of their number who was absent from the factory for two days because of sickness. The strikers believe that the foreman was instigated by personal feeling in the matter, and they assert that, owing to the neglect of machine repairing and irregular delivery of work, they have been compelled to perform much labor that properly belongs to the foreman.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Adjutant-General Porter's annual report was presented to the Legislature to-day. The quarterly returns show there are in service 744 officers and 13,478 enlisted men, making an aggregate of 14,222 officers and men.

The Sharon Postmaster Trouble.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 20.—The taking of testimony in the case of the 17 citizens of Sharon charged with intimidating Postmaster Duckworth was concluded, and the result will probably be a technical case against the accused, but in view of the absence of personal violence toward or direct interference with the postmaster it is thought that the case may be dismissed at the April term of the Federal Court.

Eloped With an Old Wood Chopper.

WOODBRIDGE, N. J., Feb. 20.—Lizzie Siebert the pretty 19-year-old daughter of John Siebert, a wealthy citizen of this village, eloped with Peter O. Benauer, an old and decrepit wood chopper of Carlstadt. No traces so far can be found of the eloping couple. The parents of Miss Lizzie have threatened violence against Benaur if he is caught.

SOUTHWEST HARBOR, Me., Feb. 20.—The schooner Glen, from St. John, N. B., for New York, went ashore on Little Duck Island, Tuesday morning, during a furious gale and snow storm. NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Bills Introduced and Passed by the Senate and House.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 20.—The Senate extended the privileges of the floor to the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias, now in session here.

The following bills were introduced: Authorizing the killing of dogs that intrude on a neighbor's premises unless they wear collars evidencing the fact that they have been registered by township authorities; providing that honorably-discharged soldiers and sailors shall not be discharged from public office for political reasons; authorizing turnpike companies to lay a street railway along their roads with the permission of the civic authorities.

The Senate accepted the invitation to hear Frances E. Willard give her views on the bill requiring the teaching of physiology and hygiene in the public schools, the object being chiefly to show the effects of alcohol on the human system.

The Senate passed the bill providing for the reorganization of seaside boroughs whose government was upset by the recent decision of the Supreme Court.

In the Assembly the following bills were introduced: Making it unlawful for wage-earners to assign their wages; requiring external wrought-iron fire escapes on all buildings in which twenty or more persons reside or are employed.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 20.—The bells of the Nashua Company's mills rang as usual, and police officers guarded the gates of the mills and those who wished to return passed into the building. Fewer operatives are at work to-day than yesterday, but the mills are running as far as possible. The number of strikers and sympathizers assembled about the gates was not as large as yesterday morning, but those present were more disorderly, and an arrest was made of a man who is not an employe of the Nashua Company.

TALKING FOR A SITE

Rival Cities Making Their Bids in Congress.

OPPOSITION FROM THE SOUTH.

A Belief that the Question Will be Deadlocked in the House.

Favorable Report on a Bill that Will Enrich Government Workmen—A Silver Compromise in the Senate—Speaker Reed Rebukes a Lobbyist—Pensions to Helpless Soldiers—Miss Anthony's Enemy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—In the World's Fair discussion before the House the New Yorkers did better than anybody else and showed more earnestness in support of the project, but Chicago had apparently as many votes on the floor and seemed to have a strong lead among the chairmen of committees.

It was made clear by the discussion that if Roswell P. Flower had not succeeded in getting the matter taken out of the hands of the Foreign Affairs Committee to which it was first assigned and transferred to a special committee, the Foreign Affairs Committee would have been packed in favor of Chicago. Mr. Hitt, the chairman, Mr. McCreary, the late chairman, and Mr. Logan Chipman, together making the three most influential members of the committee, made speeches in favor of Chicago.

There is an underlying anticipation, not amounting entirely to the force of a belief, that the whole thing will be tied up in a deadlock.

It was plainly apparent after the House met that there was a fixed intention on the part of of a number of Southern Representatives to oppose the project because of the Government appropriation of $1,500,000 provided for in the general bills.

MILLIONS FOR LABOR.

Favorable Report on a Bill that Will Enrich Government Workmen.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The House Committee on Labor by a vote of 7 to 3 authorized a favorable report on the bill introduced in the House by Mr. Gest providing for the adjustment of accounts of laborers, workmen and mechanics, arising under the eight-hour law.

The bill provides that all claims for labor performed in excess of eight-hours per day shall be referred to the Court of Claims to be adjudicated upon the eight-hour basis. In all claims proven by workmen employed on behalf of the Government since June, 1868, the workmen shall be paid for each eight hours employed the full price of a day's work.

The bill also provides that whenever a sufficient number of claimants of any one class shall join in one suit, so that the amount claimed shall in the aggregate exceed $5,000, they shall have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court.

An appropriation of about four million dollars will be necessary to settle the claims.

After Susan B. Anthony's Scalp.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Miss Marietta Bones, of South Dakota, is nearing this city with fire in her eye. She has been for ten years vice-president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association and declares that Susan B. Anthony had no right to merge it with the American Association without consulting her. She says Miss Anthony is a trickster and is trying to emulate Miss Francis Willard and she intends to show her what folks from Dakota are made of.

A Silver Compromise.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Senate Finance Committee has unanimously agreed to report the bill raising the silver coinage limit to four millions per month, and making it compulsory upon the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase the amount of silver bullion and issue certificates thereon. Under the law now the Treasury is supposed to purchase two million dollars' worth of silver bullion per month; but it does not. Senator Stewart, of Nevada, says that the bill will pass the Senate, and that John Sherman will vote for it. This is regarded as a substantial victory for the silver men.

Carnegie's Dinner to the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Elaborate preparations are being made at the Arlington for a dinner to be given on the 25th inst. by Andrew Carnegie, of Pittsburg, to the President and his Cabinet and delegates to the Pan-American Congress, of which body Mr. Carnegie is also a member. Steel menu cards, with the name of each guest first engraved and then blown with glass will be one of the features of the entertainment. There will be covers laid for fifty persons.

A Lobbyist Rejected.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Speaker Reed to-day observed a lobbyist on the floor plying his vocation among members after the order had been given to clear the floor. He at once called the attention of the officers of the House to the fact and had the offending individual summarily ejected. He issued orders that hereafter no persons not privileged should be permitted to trespass on the courtesy of the House.

Bills for Public Buildings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Mr. Hiscock introduced in the Senate bills appropriating $150,000 each for public buildings at Rome and Elmira N. Y.,

Dr. Blood in Custody.

Schaefer played a 14-inch balk-line game against Heiser's 8-inch game.

BANK WRECKERS ARRESTED.

Three New York Men Held on Indictments for Larceny.

NEW YORK, Feb 21.—Two detectives brought to the District Attorney's office, Charles E. Wallack, James E. Simmons and George H. Pell, each of whom were charged with larceny in the first degree in looting the Sixth National, Lenox and Equitable Banks. These indictments are the outcome of the investigation made within the last few days. They were taken before Judge Martine, in the Court of General Sessions, who fixed bail at $20,000 in each case. Ex-Judge Donohue and A. H. Cordoza appeared for the prisoners.

Wallack procured bail and was released. Pell and Simmons were held. The Grand Jury is still investigating the recent bank deal, and more indictments may be found.

Watterson's Opinion of Candidates.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 21.—In a long and spicy interview Henry Watterson declares that Grover Cleveland's chances in the next campaign were not worth considering. He says Gov. Hill is out of the question, and Gov. Leon Abbett is the first possibility. Then ex-Gov. Palmer and Gov. Campbell, of Ohio.

A PRIEST'S COURAGE

He Drives a Mob from His House With a Pistol.

THE PLYMOUTH WAR RENEWED.

Martin Wilkes and His Faction Baffled by the Clergyman's Firmness.

Armed Police on Guard at the Parsonage—The Polish King Gives Bail for Trial at the Next Criminal Court—Further Outrages Expected from the Belligerous Poles.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 21.—Martin Wilkes, the "Polish King" who led the church riot at Plymouth a few days was brought here and held in $2,000 bail for his appearance at the next criminal court.

On his return home he and his faction marched to the residence of Rev. Father Szimofski, formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., the priest assigned to the charge by Bishop O'Hara, and demanded possession of the premises. The priest refused to do so. The Poles became insulting and the clergyman appeared at the door of the parsonage and ordered them to leave.

They became very boisterous, and were about to eject the priest by force when he rose from his seat, and drawing a loaded revolver from a drawer presented it at Wilkes' head.

"If you and your men do not at once depart," he said in Polish, "as sure as there is a God in heaven I will shoot you dead."

Wilkes fell back in dismay. The unlooked for firmness on the part of the priest utterly baffled him, and after a hurried consultation with his men they retired from the house.

The priest then sent word to the chief of police, and two men, well armed, were placed in the house lest any further violence should be attempted. No one believes that this new outrage will be the last.

LECONEY NERVOUS.

He is Subjected to a Trying Cross Examination.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 21.—This is the seventeenth day of the Leconey murder trial. During the cross-examination of the accused uncle he became rather excited at times. He evaded many questions by answering, "I can't recollect" and "I can't say." The impression among the people in attendance was unfavorable to the prisoner.

He stated that he never heard Garrett Murray say to any of the people around the place that the last he saw of Annie she was out in the shed scraping out a bowl for the dog.

Mr. Jenkins read the testimony of Assistant Prosecutor Ridgway, in which he stated that on the day following the murder Leconey said to him: "See, Garrett tells but one story. I'll stake my life on what he says." The prisoner denied seeing Mr. Ridgway, or making such a statement to him or any one else.

Leconey told what they had for breakfast the fatal morning and then said that Annie was in good spirits. The prisoner remembered that when he came in from the field Lingo's place at the table was the same as when he left.

The defendant gave evidence of considerable excitement at times while undergoing the ordeal of the cross-examination. When pertinent questions were asked he moved uneasily in his seat, drew his forehead into deeper wrinkles, and asked to have questions repeated a number of times. It was evident that he feared being entrapped into making some damaging admission and was guarding himself carefully. He drew a fine distinction, also, in his answers between "I don't recollect" and "I can't say," conveying the impression by the latter that he might remember if he tried. It is the general opinion that he has greatly damaged his own case by this line of proceeding. He has also contradicted himself in several quite material points, as well as contradicted the testimony of some of his friends.

Husband Dead and Wife Unconscious.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 21.—Roswell Thompson and wife, an aged couple, lived alone in Gaysport, a small town seven miles from here. Mr. Thompson has been an invalid for some time, unable to be out of bed. When a neighbor entered their house last night the dead body of Mr. Thompson was found lying across that of his wife, who was unconscious. Physicians say he had been dead probably 24 hours and that death was caused by a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Thompson is alive, but still unconscious.

Freestone Cutters on Strike.

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—The boss freestone cutters of New England have agreed to lock out their freestone cutters if the employes of Evans & Tombs do not return to work, and grant the firm the privilege of employing marble cutters on marble work. This would throw 400 cutters and a large number of helpers out of employment. It is said the contractors will further insist that membership in the Freestone Cutters' Association shall be free to any competent workman willing to pay the initation fee and conform to the rules of the union.

Surface Roads Sold.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 21.—One of the most important syndicate deals yet made in this vicinity was accomplished by the transfer of the stock and franchises of the Essex Passenger Horse Railroad Company for the sum of $1,800,000. The purchasers were Messrs. E. W. Clark & Co., and E. J. Moore & Co., bankers of Philadelphia, and Thomas C. Barr, president of the People's Passenger Railway Company of Philadelphia.

OPENING THE FAIR.

THE BICYCLE CLUB'S NEW ENTERPRISE.

A Large Number Present on the Opening Night—The Booths and Tables and a List of the Fair Ones Who Preside Over Them—Exquisite Decorations Artistically Arranged—Other Details of Minor Importance.

The handsome and commodious new gymnasium, recently erected by the Plainfield Bicycle club, in the rear of the club building on Sycamore street, was formally opened last evening with a bazaar and fair which is to continue up to and including Saturday evening. The attendance on the opening night was unusually large, over two hundred admissions being paid in at the door.

Upon entering the spacious hall, through the club house proper, there was a scene of great activity. A surging crowd of eager purchasers surrounded the various tables and booths, and kept the attendants busy supplying their wants. The decorations were exquisite, reflecting great credit upon the committee who so skillfully and artistically arranged them. The side walls were adorned with rich and costly mats, Japanese fans, etc., while numerous Chinese lanterns, flags and bunting helped to make up the interior decorations. The room was heated by an open fire-place, located in a convenient spot.

Much of the floor space was occupied by the several booths, all of which are handsomely decorated. The candy and fruit bower is located in the centre of the room, and is an object of great admiration. Refreshments are served in the balcony. A shooting gallery and the phonograph furnish the up stairs amusements. Among other features of the fair will be the awarding of a $135 safety bicycle and a $75 diamond finger ring, to the holders of the winning numbers. In the former event there are 150 chances at one dollar each, and in the latter there are 200 chances at one dollar each.

The display of fancy articles most of which were donated by the lady friends of the club, is probably larger than any that has been presented on a similar occasion in this city.

During the evening, the Murray brothers, three in number, rendered some delightful instrumental music, performing solos, duos and trios upon the xylophone, mandolin, ocarina and other difficult instruments, proving each member to be an artist of high grade.

Space will not permit us to describe each booth, suffice it to say each and every department of the bazaar was under efficient management, and the members of the Bicycle club have already received the assurance that their efforts will be crowned with success.

Following is a list of the Committees and others who took part, together with the ladies who were appointed as assistants, at the several booths:

FLAG PRESENTATION.

Appropriate Exercises at the Irving School This Afternoon.

The formal presentation of the Jackson Flag to the Irving School, took place this afternoon at two o'clock. The exercises consisted of patriotic recitations by the pupils, the singing of national songs by the school, and the High School Glee Club. The Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell representing Mr. Jackson, presented the Flag to the Board of Education in a brief, stirring speech. Dr. Hurlbut received it and in turn presented it to Miss Gilbert, who accepted it for the school.

The hall was beautifully decorated and the pupils were supplied with small flags to wave as they cheered for the new flag and its donor. Many parents and other friends of the school were present. The occasion was one of great enjoyment and enthusiasm.

SOLDIERS MONUMENT COMMITTEE.

The Matter of Selecting a Design Now Left to a Sub-Committee of Five.

Ten of the members, constituting a quorum of the Soldier's Monument Committee with Col. M. W. Tyler in the chair met in Winfield Scott Post room, last evening to further consider the matter of erecting a monument in this city. The designs submitted by the various granite companies were thoroughly examined, and it was at last agreed by the committee to decide upon one of four designs.

The matter of selecting the design was placed entirely in the hands of a sub-committee, with Gen. Negley as Chairman, and Messrs J. E. Tracy, E. J. Olssen, J. E. Stewart and M. W. Tyler. The sub-committee will visit some of the cemeteries where monuments now stand, erected by one or the other of the companies from which the selection is to be made for the soldier's monument here, with reference to durability, etc, and will report at a subsequent meeting.

The committee adjourned subject to a call by the sub-committee.

The Boys Give Their Mite and the Ladies Appreciate It.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The following letter has been received by the Relief Association:

To the Ladies of the Plainfield Relief Association:

The boys composing St. Andrew's Guild, who are also members of the choir of the Church of the Holy Cross, are desirous of giving their mite towards the good work in which you are engaged, and although only a small amount it represents self-denial in some cases, but it is really given cheerfully and with a hearty desire that it may help a little.

Respectfully yours,
PERCY C. LONG, Sec'y

The ladies wish to express their appreciation of this truly generous gift, and their gratification at finding such efficient co-workers among the young boys of our town.

E. R. LEONARD, Sec'y.

New Jersey Chess Tournament.

The fifth annual tournament of the N. J. Chess Association will be held in Y. M. C. A. Hall, New Brunswick, to-morrow beginning at 10 A. M. and continuing through morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The occasion promises to be one of considerable interest, and the most prominent players of the State including several from this city will be present to engage in its games.

The public is invited to be present and witness the games, many of which will doubtless be closely contested, as the Waterbury cup will not be carried off without a struggle. Admission tickets, good for the three sessions, will cost twenty-five cents, and single admission to any session, costing ten cents, are purchasable at the door on the day of the tournament.

Six New Members Were Initiated.

Adams Council, of Newark, Past Councilors Dunavan, Bennett and others of the home Council. Refreshments were served by the Good and Welfare Committee and a very social evening was enjoyed.

Lewis of this city, will deliver the preliminary address.

To-Morrow's Attraction at Music Hall.

"Will O' The Wisp" is the name of an Irish comedy drama which is to be presented at Music Hall to-morrow afternoon and evening. The plot is neat and clean, and interwoven throughout the story is a plentiful supply of Irish wit, such wit as no other people can boast of, while the melodies and songs of the Emerald Isle which are interspersed, are so tuneful and rollicking, that they linger in the memory when more elaborate themes are forgotten. Mr. Edgar Selden will play the leading role, and he will be supported by a strong company.

—Street Commissioner Angleman is today repairing the break in the Somerset street sewer, and cleaning out the gutters leading from Front street to the brook.

The Ladies' Favorite.

The newest fashion in ladies' hats will doubtless cause a flutter of pleasurable excitement among the fair sex. Ladies are always susceptible to the changes of a fashion plate; and the more startling the departure, the more earnest the gossip over the new mode. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for all ills. This sovereign panacea can be relied on in all cases. It builds up the poor, haggard and dragged-out victim, and gives her renewed hope and a fresh lease of life. It is the only medicine for weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. Read printed guarantee on bottle wrapper.

With a Capital of $225,000.

Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the County Clerk of Union county by the Queen City Dry Goods company. The incorporators are: Richard V. Lindabury, of New York, who owns the bulk of the stock; William H. K. Davey of Somerville, and Timothy M. Kelly, of Elizabeth. The capital stock is placed at $225,000, the amount with which the company begins business. The object is to engage in the wholesale and retail purchase and sale of dry goods in Cincinnati and Elizabeth. The three incorporators and only stockholders are well-known lawyers of the Union County Bar.

—Just at present there is a great demand for small houses in this city. There are plenty of large houses available, but for men of moderate means, the demand is greater than the supply. Here is a good chance for some of our wealthy capitalists to "fill a long felt want."

Doctor's in Prescribing Wines.

The physicians desire to give a liquor containing the extractive parts of the grape, such as iron, grape-sugar and the other elements which give to port wine its special flavor of bouquet, and its singular blood-making properties from the iron that is contained in the coloring principle of pure Red Wine.

Speer's New Jersey Wines, especially his Port, are grown on a brown stone shale soil, rich in iron and from vines brought from the banks of the River Doura, in Portugal, where the finest ports in the world are made, but none ever reach this country in a pure state. Speer's Wines are regarded superior to any in the market For sale by druggists.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

GERMANY'S BIG VOTE

Socialists Make Enormous Gains Everywhere.

VICTORIES IN SEVERAL CITIES.

The Government Loses Fifteen Seats in the Reichstag.

Emperor William Causes a Panic by Calling Out the Military—Minister Lincoln's Son Not Expected to Live—A Unionist Member Disgusted With the Parnell Persecution.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—The size of the vote polled at the general election was phenomenal. The election officials were overwhelmed with work and as many of the polling places were unable to cope with the crowds of electors who during the dinner hour hastened to deposit their votes. Many anti-Semite Conservatives voted for the Socialist candidates in order to spite Herr Virchow.

Herr Liebknecht and Herr Singer are elected. The latter, a Socialist, defeated Eugene Richter, one of the most distinguished of German politicians and a leader of the German liberal party. Singer is the man whose libel case against the Staatsburger Zeitung made a great deal of noise in December last. He gained his case and the editor was condemned to pay a fine, and this fine the Emperor remitted, using his royal prerogative to set aside the verdict of a court of justice. This made a great sensation, and Singer's candidacy became a sort of rallying centre for protest against such an abuse of power. His election was an almost necessary consequence.

In Hamburg the Socialists Bebel, Dietz and Metzger are elected.

The great fact of the election is the enormous and unexpected increase in the Socialist vote. This party has manifested strength in places where it was unknown before, and other parties will have to make a firm combination against it to stem the tide of the supplementary elections. In the vote in Berlin alone these changes are shown: The Socialist vote is increased 20,000, the Deutsche Freisinnige 3,000 and the Conservatives have lost 34,000.

The apparent result is that the government parties have lost 15 seats, and the Socialists throughout Germany have doubled their votes.

Bismarck Voted.

Prince Bismarck drove in a closed carriage to the Prussian Parliament building, where he alighted and proceeded to the polling booth in the restaurant attached to the Upper House, where he deposited his ballot. He voted for Herr Zeidler, Conservative candidate for member of the Reichstag.

A Military Surprise.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—An unexpected and startling movement of the troops stationed in and about the city caused intense excitement. The entire garrison of Berlin was ordered under arms, and, by the Emperor's command, was given the route to Kreusberg. A panic was only prevented by the announcement that the movement was simply a military surprise, intended to test the discipline and efficiency of the garrison. The Emperor afterwards reviewed the troops.

The Conspiracy Against Parnell.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Mr. William S. Caine, Unionist Member of Parliament for Barrow-in-Furness, has written a letter to his constituents wherein he says he cannot find language strong enough to express his horror of the conspiracy against Mr Parnell or his opinion of the conduct of the Times in lending itself to infamous libels upon the flimsiest evidence of its supposed genuineness.

The Latest Colliery Horror.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Workmen are still hunting for bodies and up to the present time 43 dead miners have been removed from the colliery at Decize in which occurred the explosion on the night of last Tuesday. Eight miners, who are seriously hurt, have also been taken out.

Buffalo Bill In Rome.

ROME, Feb. 21.—Buffalo Bill and his "Wild West" Show gave their first performance in the Piazza Darmi at the Prati di Castello. The whole of the elite of Rome may be said to have been present, and hundreds of persons were refused admission for want of room.

Minister Lincoln's Son Worse.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Abraham Lincoln, the son of Mr. Robert Lincoln, United States Minister to England, who was ill with typhoid fever a few weeks ago, has had a serious relapse.

Rebellion in Morocco.

TANGIER, Feb. 21.—An alarming rebellion in in progress in Morocco. The royal troops were defeated by the rebels at Wassau and afterwards besieged in the town.

High Water at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 21.—The heavy rains of last night and this morning raised the two rivers considerably, the Conemaugh being within six inches of overflowing and the Stoney Creek two feet. A telegram from Shade, about 12 miles up the valley, says that the boom at that place containing an enormous quantity of logs is liable to break at any time. If this breaks all the wooden bridges on the Stoney Creek will be destroyed. The water is falling slightly, but danger is not yet over.

Death of the Double-Headed Baby.

BUFFALO, Feb. 21.—The two-headed baby on exhibition for the past few weeks at "Wonderland," is dead. Two weeks ago the baby was taken sick with measles, which developed into congestion of the lungs. Soon after midnight the life of one-half of the phenomenon passed away, and forty-five minutes later the whole baby was a corpse. The child belonged to Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, of Tixtan, Ind., and was born June 24, 1889.

Knocked Out by Jackson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—James Walker, a blacksmith, who stood before John L. Sullivan in this city three years ago, sparred with Peter Jackson, the colored champion pugilist, at Kiernan's Theatre last night with eight ounce gloves. Jackson made short work of his opponent and knocked him out in a little less than three-quarters of a minute.

THE CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

Opened by the President Before a Distinguished Audience.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 21.—The formal dedication of the Carnegie Free Library of Allegheny took place last evening, and the institution was declared open by President Harrison.

Chairman Scott then announced that Mr. Carnegie would present the key of the library to Mayor Pearson. Mr. Carnegie then came forth with Mayor Pearson on his arm and was greeted with applause. Mr. Carnegie delivered an address, in which he thanked all who helped in the completion of the edifice, stating the objects of the library and the fruits he expected it to bear.

Mayor Pearson, as chief magistrate of the city of Allegheny, accepted the key of the library in trust.

Mr. Scott then introduced President Harrison, who spoke as follows:

"Here to-night we witness the transformation of what we are wont to call the precious metal into something that blooms for eternity. We will find the suggestion here in the instructive volumes that are to crowd these alcoves, the impulse, the spark that is to touch the slumbering mind of many a stalwart boy and many a bright and ambitious girl into the life that shall make them the servants of their fellow men and the companions of the Son of Man who left His glory to serve the race. I hope that this institution may carry with it always and with every book that rests upon its shelf the suggestion to those who will participate in its blessings 'Read and think.'"

The doors of the library building were then thrown open, and for the balance of the evening the public inspected the various departments of the handsome structure. The building cost $300,000, and includes a library, art gallery and music hall.

It is stated semi-officially that Mr. Carnegie has decided to increase his donation for a library to Pittsburg from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The original donation was $500,000.

After a light lunch at the Duquesne Club President Harrison was driven to the depot, where he took the night train for Washington.

Umpires for the Players' League.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Secretary Bunnell, of the Players' National League, to-day announced the eight umpires who are to serve the Players' League under the double umpire system during the season of 1890. Their names are: J. H. Gaffney, Worcester, Mass., Robert Ferguson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Alonzo Knight, Boston; Robert Matthews, the once famous pitcher, Philadelphia; T. F. Gunning, ex-catcher of the Boston and Athletic clubs, Fall River, Mass.; Charles Jones, ex-outfielder of the Boston and Cincinnati clubs, New York; W. H. Holbert, ex-catcher, New York, and Ross Barnes of this city.

Pugilist Brennan Accused.

HOBOKEN, N. J., Feb. 21.—Jack Brennan, a pugilist, is locked up in the police station on suspicion of being concerned in the death of Mrs. Maggie Moore, of Bridgeport, Conn., who was found dead on the meadows. It was supposed at the time she died of exposure. The police, however, learned that Brennan was in the woman's company late Saturday night and he was arrested. He admits being with the woman, but says when he left her there was nothing the matter with her.

Dose of Lead for a Rough.

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—At Providence Centre, R. I., a rough named Joe Corbett entered the postoffice and in a bullying way threatened to kill the postmaster and his assistant, and terrorized everybody in the place. The assistant-postmaster, Oliver Medbury, warned Corbett to desist, but was unheeded. Medbury then shot Corbett, inflicting a painful but not fatal wound. Medbury gave himself up to the authorities, but was not arrested. Corbett will be prosecuted for interfering with the postmaster.

Decoyed by a Young Woman.

MIDDLEPORT, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Joseph Platt, who is wanted here for the misappropriation of $1,400 of his employer's funds, was arrested at Lansing, Mich., at the railway station. He fled to Canada when the embezzlement became known. A Miss Breeze, with whom he had once planned an elopement, found out his hiding place and decoyed him over the border. Platt consented to return to Middleport without a requisition.

Gov. Hill Says it is Constitutional.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Gov. Hill, in his message to the Legislature approving the World's Fair bill, says he consulted with the Attorney-General, and was advised that the bill is constitutional. The Governor says that the measure does not violate the principle of "home rule," nor is it inconsistent with correct principles of legislation.

Four Children Burned to Death.

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 21.—A tenement house here occupied by John Liston was destroyed by fire. The father, mother and five children comprised the family. Four of the children were burned to death, and the remaining members of the family were severely burned.

The Navassa Rioters Sentenced.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 21.—The three Navassa rioters, convicted of murder, were sentenced to be hanged on March 28. The 14 men convicted of manslaughter were sentenced to terms of imprisonment in the Albany, N. Y., penitentiary, ranging from two to ten years.

Snow Disarranges the Jury's Plans.

ROCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 21.—The coroner's jury in the Sawtelle case viewed the road between Rochester and East Rochester on which the fatal shots are said to have been fired. The snow storm has disarranged the plans of the jury and they have dispersed until its cessation.

Murderer Palmer Again Respited.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 21.—Governor Goodell again granted a reprieve to James Palmer, the Portsmouth murderer, this time until May 1, in order that the Supreme Court may be given time to consider grounds on which an application for a new trial is based.

They Decline to Thank God.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 21.—At the annual meeting of the Illinois Conference of the Swedish Lutheran Church, a resolution thanking God for the general prosperity of last year was defeated by farmer lay delegates, who denied there was any such condition of affairs.

HOPKINS HANGED.

The Rope Broke and the Murderer Was Fastened Up a Second Time.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 21.—"I leave this world without an enemy; farewell all," exclaimed William Seely Hopkins before being hanged here for the murder of his wife and mother-in-law.

When the drop fell the rope broke and the man was again fastened up. The second time the drop fell successfully. It was a horrible sight and the bungling execution is denounced by the public.

Hopkins' body was taken to his late home at Spencerport, N. Y., for burial. The gallows will stand until the execution of Andrews April 9th.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Jacob S. Schoop and Thomas J. Cole, were executed in Moyamensing prison. When the condemned murderers reached the scaffold the black caps were placed over their faces and the ropes were adjusted. A moment later the trap was sprung and both men dropped, having a fall of about of six feet.

OVER FORTY PERISH

Two Big Reservoir Dams Burst in Arizonia.

A MAD RUSH TO ESCAPE DEATH.

Messengers on Fast Horses Try to Warn the Doomed Inhabitants.

A Village Supposed to be Wiped Out. No Reports from the Valley. Where it is Believed Many Were Caught in the Flood—Vast Amount of Property Destroyed.

PRESCOTT, Ari., Feb. 24.—The big dams across the Hassayampa burst at an early hour yesterday morning, and this city barely escaped the experience of Johnstown.

The exact number drowned cannot be ascertained, but it is known to be over forty.

The lake formed by the dams was over two and a half miles long, and this vast volume of water swept down upon the city without a moment's notice.

Recent rain and snow storms had caused the rivers tributary to the reservoir to overflow their banks, and the rush of water was so great that an immense fissure was torn in the reservoir, releasing the water.

The dams were built at a cost of $800,000, and up to the present time were always regarded as perfectly safe.

At the time of the break a number of men, stated to be over forty, were at work on the water company's flume. There was no thought of danger. Suddenly there was a loud crashing noise and the cry went up that the dam had burst.

For a few brief seconds there was a mad rush to escape, but they were all caught in the machinery masonry and swept along by the waters. Who the unfortunates in the building at the time were will not be known until the roll is called.

At present all is confusion, and the lack of telegraphic communication makes it harder still to gain particulars. The bodies recovered were chiefly those of people who occupied cottages in the water's path.

The town of Wickensburg is a little over 30 miles from Prescott, and, once the dam burst, it swept on in the direction of the place. Everything in its path was carried away.

In less than an hour and a half after the dams burst, the water had struck the town. Messengers mounted on fast horses were hurried out to try and warn the doomed inhabitants, but none have since returned, and it is possible that, in order to reach the endangered town, some of them may have chosen the nearest route, and been caught in the flood.

Unless the people of Wickensburg received some warning of the impending danger, the loss of life to be reported from there will be appalling, as the town is situated right upon the bank of the river.

THE NEGRO PROBLEM.

Cardinal Gibbons Thinks that to Christianize the Blacks Will Solve It.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 24.—Cardinal Gibbons began yesterday at the solemn high mass a course of Lenten sermons. The subject was "Penance." Before beginning the sermon Cardinal Gibbons made and appeal to the congregation in behalf of the negro and Indian missions. He reminded his hearers that, in compliance with the decree of the last Plenary Council of Baltimore, an annual collection was taken up in behalf of those missions on the first Sunday in Lent all the churches of the country.

"There are now," said His Eminence, "about 7,000,000 negroes in the United States, and the negro question has become a serious problem to the American people. The best solution of the problem, in my judgment, will be found in christianizing the negroes. In some sections of the country, if reports are true, their religion has degenerated into a king of fetishism, and is entirely emotional, devoid of all religious restraints and obligations. The negro race are naturally religious people. They are kind, affectionate, and grateful—submissive to authority, and their conduct towards the close of the late war, when they had the power to do mischief was above all praise. By proper religious and Christian instruction they are sure to become a most useful element in the community."

The congregation made a generous response to the appeal of the Cardinal Archbishop.

Responsibility of Theatre Owners.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24.—The day of President Cleveland's visit to this city, Henry Waldron, of Urbana, Ill., was here and went to the Park Theatre. He got into a dispute with the agent at the ticket-box over some change, and the agent called upon Special Officer Kyle to arrest him. Waldron resisted, and was brutally clubbed by the officer. Waldron filed suit for $20,000 against Dixon and Talbot, owners of the theatre, and was awarded $7,000. The court held that the theatre managers were responsible for Kyle's act, and on this ruling the jury gave damages.

Suicide Caused by Ill Health.

ASHLAND, Pa., Feb. 24.—Henry Pope, an old and respected citizen of this place, arose about three o'clock yesterday morning and, driven to despair by ill health, cut his throat and then started for the woods, where he was found and brought to town. He will die.

Will Wait Two Weeks.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 24.—At a meeting of the Barnaby mill weavers it was decided to wait two weeks longer before taking action on the low price paid for working at that mill to give an opportunity to remedy the evil.

BOATS BLOWN TO SEA.

Several Lives Lost by Storms on the Coast of China.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The steamship China has arrived from Yokohama and Hong Kong with the report that the storm of January 24 swept about 1,000 fishing boats, containing between 2,500 and 3,000 people from the Boshu coast. Nine hundred of these boats with all on board were lost. On the same day eleven boats were wrecked off Tabishima and fifty fisherman were drowned. On January 25 twenty-three fishermen were drowned off the coast of Maschawa.

Further news of the storm on the Chinese coast is to the effect that on January 26 the storm swept to sea 300 fishing boats from the Tonkomo and Chosie Kadsusa districts. Funeral services were held for about 500 fishermen, supposed to have been drowned. Whole villages are in mourning.

The China "Courrier d'Haiphong" chronicles the assassination of three Europeans, M. D'Argence, his wife and their son. Their bodies were found in a house that they had been occupying.

The same paper states that Messrs. Rogue and Costa, whose abduction was previously announced, are still detained by bandits in the mountain fastnesses. The bandits demand heavy ransoms, and negotiations are in progress to that end.

THE SYNDICATE'S LATEST.

The Chicago Stock Yards on the List to Purchase.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—It is reported that the Union Stock Yards, of Chicago, the largest in the world, will doubtless soon be sold to an English syndicate.

The price of this enormous plant, with its acres of land, miles of live stock pens, and numerous sources of revenue, is $30,000,000, and a number of rich Englishmen are ready to exchange that sum of money for a controlling interest in the largest and most profitable stock yards in America.

The sale is not merely contemplated, but active negotiations are now in progress, with every prospect that the deal will be consummated within a few days.

Last Monday Walter Potter, of the Boston firm of Potter, Lovell & Company, sailed from New York on the steamer Etruria, bound for Europe and carrying the authority of the stock yards company to close the sale. It is understood the negotiations have passed beyond the stage for discussion, for reliable information warrants the statement that a contract for the transfer has been signed.

Five Persons Burned.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Fire in the cabin of the canal boat A. C. Chandler, lying at the foot of West 67th street, late last night severely burned five persons, one of whom died this morning. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp, and the family of Capt. Daily, sleeping in the cabin, were not aroused until the fire had gained great headway. Mrs. Daily made heroic efforts to save her children and received severe burns. The youngest child, Denis, was the last to be removed and he was so badly burned that his life could not be saved. The damage to the boat is about $200.

Run Down by Detectives.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Saturday night Fred A. Walton, the clerk of the Pacific Express Company, who absconded from Dallas, Texas, on February 2, was arrested by an officer of the Pinkerton National Detective Agency at St. St. Johns, New Brunswick, and $7,000 of the $35,000 stolen found on him. Walton took his capture very philosophically, and the officers intend keeping him in Canada to learn, if possible, of the whereabouts of a gambler named Laird, who travelled through Canada with Walton, and who is supposed to have secured a large portion of stolen money.

Pennsylvanians Perspecting.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 24.—James McMillan, general superintendent of the Cambria Iron Works of Johnstown, Pa., and Messrs. A. Hamilton, Joseph Morgan, Jr., George W. Thompson, and other well known Pennsylvania capitalists are in this city to inspect the Baltimore & Ohio Rolling Mill with a view of leasing it. Thomas M. King, vice-president of the Baltimore & Ohio Company, accompanied the party.

Mr. Platt's Prediction.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—In an interview had with Thomas C. Platt on the subject of the World's Fair, among other things Mr. Platt said that he does not think the Fair will be held in 1892. Two years, he says, are not sufficient to make the necessary preparations. In all probability an amendment will be added to the bill now before Congress, changing the date to 1893.

Three Years for O'Donnell.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—The jury in the Cronin jury bribery case returned a verdict of guilty and sentencing O'Donnell to three years in the penitentiary. O'Donnell was much surprised and cast down at the verdict. Judge Waterman refused to admit the defendant to bail pending the motion for a new trial, but promised to hear arguments on the matter to-morrow.

A Murderer's Third Confession.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 24.—Dick Hawes, the wife and child murderer, who is to be executed next Friday, has made a third confession which is believed to be a true one. He confesses that he alone is guilty of the murder of his wife and two children. The confession has been placed in the hands of a friend of the condemned man to be made public after the execution.

The Lincoln Bank Trouble.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 24.—The bank examiner appointed to examine into the shortage of Cashier Bard, of the Lincoln Bank, finds it to be about $20,000. The stockholders will hold a meeting to decide upon the future course.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Educational Bill Before the Senate To-day.

TEN MORE SPEECHES TO BE MADE

The World's Fair May Occupy the Whole of the Week in the House.

Two Contested Election Cases to be Disposed Of—Candidates for Assistant Secretary of War—Secretary Proctor's Amnesty Proclamation—Dom Pedro Expresses a Desire to Return to Brazil.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Senate resumed to-day the consideration of the Educational bill, Mr. Faulkner, of West Virginia, having the floor. This measure will be considered after 1 o'clock of each day until it has been disposed of. Probably it will not come to a vote this week as at least ten Senators have signified their intention of speaking on it.

The Oklahoma Town-Site bill was discussed this morning. There was some debate over the pending amendment of Senator Vest, and the bill may not be disposed of for two or three days. The calendar will be considered at least one morning during the week. Senator Platt will make no attempt to call up the bills for the admission of Idaho and Wyoming until the Educational bill is out of the way.

The Finance Committee will report a Silver bill to the Senate probably to-morrow, but it will not be called up for some time. In the secret session there are many nominations to dispose of and the Russian Treaty is still pending and likely to be called up at any time.

The all-important matter of selecting a site for the World's Fair may occupy the whole of this week in the House. When the site has been selected the bill suited to the selection will be called up and as there is considerable opposition to its passage the debate will probably be prolonged and a final settlement of the whole question may not be reached until Saturday. Mr. Mills of Texas and others have expressed themselves as opposed to the bill in general while nearly the whole New York delegation objects to the Government appropriation of $1,500,000. Even should the Fair be given to New York her representatives will vote to eliminate this section of the bill. Most of them have pledged themselves to this.

In order not to forfeit the special order giving the matter of selecting a site the right of way to-day, an arrangement between the Representatives of the four cities was made, so that if the matter remains unsettled this evening a recess instead of an adjournment will be taken until to-morrow. This will allow the retention of the special order and the Fair matter will have right of way. This arrangement will be continued until the site has been selected.

Mr. Rowell, the chairman of the Elections Committee, has two contested cases that he wants to have the House dispose of during the week, but on account of the World's Fair matter he has little hope of accomplishing his object. These cases are those of Atkinson against Pendleton, from the First West Virginia district, and Featherstone against Cate, from the First district of Arkansas. The majority reports of the committee in both cases recommend the seating of the contestant, a Republican, and the House will adopt the reports. Mr. Rowell expected to call up the first case on Wednesday. He has right of way over all other business. The Pension Appropriation bill and the Urgent Deficiency bill have been prepared by the Appropriations Committee and the latter will be called up for consideration during the week should any time be left after the World's Fair matter and the election cases have been disposed of.

Assistant Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The fact that the bill providing for an Assistant Secretary of War will undoubtedly be approved by the President has furnished material for speculation at the War Department during the past week, regarding the probable occupant of the office. The salary is $4,500 per year, and the bill provides that it shall be a civilian appointment made by the President. Mr. F. C. Partude, Secretary Proctor's private secretary, and Mr. John Tweeddale, Chief Clerk of the Department, are among the names suggested for the office.

Amnesty to Deserters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The proclamation of Secretary Proctor granting amnesty to deserters in the Judge Advocate-General's office, where the legal aspect of the subject are being considered. A report from the Fort Leavenworth prison shows that of the 550 prisoners at that institution 423 are serving time for desertion. The Secretary has not yet decided to what date amnesty will be extended. It is not improbable that all deserters prior to Dec. 31st, 1889, will be pardoned.

Racing at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Washington Jockey Club has arranged its programme for the Spring meeting at Benning's Station which will open on April 1st, and continue five days. There will be five races each day for purses of $500 each. On the first and third days there will be a hurdle race, and on each of the other days a handicap. The fifth race on the fourth day will be for gentleman riders.

Weary of Exile.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 24.—F. G. Beckwith, formerly of Washington, D. C., who says he is personally acquainted with Silcott, the defaulting cashier of the Sergeant-at-Arms office, states that he saw Silcott in Canada three weeks ago. Silcott admitted that he was weary of exile, but declared that under no consideration would he return to the United States.

The lad was turned over to Officer McCue who locked him up. This morning Judge Codington discharged the youthful prisoner with a reprimand, as no one came forward to press the charge.

A Sermon by Request.

"The temptation of Christ" was the subject (by request) of the Rev. Cornelius Schenck's sermon yesterday morning in Trinity Reformed church. SECOND ANNIVERSARY.

Of the Dedication of the German Reformed Church.

As stated in THE PRESS of Friday, the second anniversary of the dedication of the German Reformed church took place on the previous evening, and the attendance was large. The programme included recitations by Mrs. Menzenbach, Mrs. Jaeger, Mrs. Greuble, Miss Studer, Miss Mullen, Master Johnnie Voehl and Master Philip Koechli, a harp solo by Mrs. Meinhard and a duett by Mr. and Mrs. Meinhard. On the whole, the dedication exercises were of a very enjoyable nature.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society and especially Mrs. V. Utzinger, deserve great credit for their sincerity and willingness to assist the church and to provide such admirable entertainments for the members. Refreshments were served in abundance.

The Middlesex Gun Club Shoot.

Cold weather did not deter the ardent sportsmen of the Middlesex Gun club from holding their special holiday shoot on the club grounds at Dunellen, on Washington's Birthday. The birds were furnished by Charles Smith, and were a magnificent lot of flyers. A strong Northeast wind aided their flight materially, and many usually proficent trap shooters were credited with a "lost bird" when the feathers flying from its body plainly indicated a hit.

Many of the crack shots from this and adjacent cities were on the grounds during the day, and participated in the live and clay bird shooting, some of the shooters making excellent scores.

The Bi, Club Fair.

The fair given by the members of the Plainfield Bicycle club in the club's new gymnasium, closed on Saturday evening, the attendance being about double of that on either of the preceding evenings. Messrs A. L. C. Marsh and F. L. C. Martin jointly held the winning number which drew the $135 bicycle, and Messrs A. L. C. Marsh and T. S. Burr, jointly held the ticket which drew the $75 diamond ring. Nearly all of the fancy articles, cakes, etc., were disposed of.

The total receipts of the fair were about $1,400—nearly $1,000 of which will be the nett returns to the club.

WOODRUFF IN THE CONSOMME.

THIS KNOWLEDGE MAY INTEREST HIS CREDITORS HERE.

The Former Proprietor of the Netherwood Hotel Comes to Grief in Montreal—His Past and Present Record—How THE PRESS Came to be a Sufferer.

The New York papers of Saturday and Sunday, contained glowing accounts of the escapades of Mr. S. V. Woodruff, formerly proprietor of the Netherwood Hotel in this city. One paper says: The suit which has been begun in Montreal by Jeweler Cochenthaler against S. V. Woodruff, until January manager of the Balmoral Hotel, has been the means of revealing a sensation the details of which will extend from the sandy ocean beach of New Jersey to the frozen banks of the St. Lawrence.

The defendant in the present suit is a gentleman celebrated in that city for his suave manners and remarkable faculty of making friends of every one he meets. In September the Balmoral Hotel—the biggest in Montreal—advertised for a manager. Among the answers received was one from Asbury Park, N. J. The letter contained the applicant's photograph. The Board of Directors were so favorably impressed with the gentleman's appearance that they engaged him at once. The applicant was S. V. Woodruff.

The application was duly considered, and Woodruff was installed. His manners won nearly everybody with whom he came in contact. The management voluntarily increased his salary after he had been in the Hotel three months, besides presenting him with $1,000 worth of the stock of the concern.

Suddenly business began to fall off. The profits were not as large as they had been. Several small irregularities and two or three big ones were discovered, which Woodruff, in his mild, suave manner, said were due to the carelessness of the employes. But other irregularities appeared, and Woodruff, clever as he was, was nonplussed to account for them.

UGLY RUMORS.

Then ugly rumors began to circulate, with which Woodruff's name and record were connected. Mrs. Churchill, according to report, had only been Woodruff's niece for the past twelve years or so, or since Mrs. Woodruff died, and formerly she was the adopted daughter of Woodruff's father-in-law and a companion of Mrs. Woodruff.

The investigation continued, and finally, it is said, a series of crooked transactions were disclosed which made the blood of the hotel owners run cold. Woodruff had in one way or another obtained a reputation in and around the hotel which made him an exceedingly shunned individual, except by tradesmen.

A detective was engaged, who made a search for Woodruff's full record and the results were not at all satisfactory.

HIS CAREER.

Woodruff's career began in the Wellington Hotel, corner of Forty-second street and Madison avenue, New York. There Mrs. Churchill was housekeeper and general overseer. Woodruff then became manager of the Pavilion Hotel at New Brighton, S. I. There he made the place a success, but of a peculiar kind. "Buffalo Bill's" show was at Erastina at that time and there were high orgies at the Pavilion until the proprietors called a halt.

Woodruff next bobbed up at the Netherwood Hotel. He was manager of that hotel until the Sheriff stepped in and seized the place.

Woodruff's next venture was the Coleman House, at Asbury Park. He was finally dispossessed. Mrs. Churchill was housekeeper of the Coleman House, too.

Then Woodruff lay quiet until he got his clutches on the Balmoral.

The jeweler mentioned at the beginning of this story, sold Woodruff a magnificent diamond pin. Two days afterward the employes of the hotel presented him with a magnificent pin. The value of the pin is what Cochenthaler is suing for, and it is in connection with this suit that the above facts and many more which are withheld were elicited. Very interesting details will undoubtedly be brought out at the trial.

Woodruff was finally given the choice of several evils by the hotel proprietors, and choosing the lesser, he resigned. Since he left the hotel it has recovered the good business it formerly enjoyed.

Mr. Woodruff will long be remembered in this city, by the creditors he left. When THE PRESS first started on May 10, 1887, Woodruff was the first to pay in a five dollar subscription. The bill was framed and hung up in the editorial room as a memento, but one Sunday night last Summer, some one, evidently one of his creditors, entered the office and stole the bill, resorting to desperate means in order to get it.

THE OUTGOING AND INCOMING POSTMASTERS.

POSTMASTER WM. L. FORCE.

POSTMASTER-ELECT, ELIAS R. POPE.

Saturday's New York papers officially announced the appointment of Hon. Elias R. Pope as Postmaster in this city to succeed Postmaster Wm. L. Force. Although the appointment was made on Friday, it was not officially declared until the following day. THE PRESS publishes above the portraits of both the outgoing and incoming postmasters, and as a matter of fact it may be stated that neither portrait has ever before appeared in public print.

During the administration of Postmaster Force, Free Delivery service has been established in our city through his efforts, and it is a gratifying fact to the outgoing official to know that the service is a success and appreciated by the public. During his administration also, the business of the office has increased greatly, so that today the revenue is nearly double to that when he took possession four years ago next April. We think the public will bear us out in the assertion that he has made a capable and efficient official.

Mr. Pope has the honor of succeeding his successor in office. Those who remember his four years of official career as postmaster, can appreciate the fact that the public will again be faithfully served and the business of the office conducted on sound business principles.

DEDICATION SERVICE

THE "MARY E. WILSON MEMORIAL CHAPEL" FORMALLY OPENED.

Interesting Exercises at Washingtonville on Washington's Birthday—Singing, Addresses and the Report of the Building Committee—Other Details.

The dedication services following the completion of the new "Mary E. Wilson Memorial chapel" took place at Washingtonville, on Saturday, the attendance being very large.

The exercises opened with an anthem by the Holy Cross church choir, followed by the invocation by the Rev. A. R. Dilts. "Blest be the tie," etc., was next sung by the congregation, after which Mr. E. L. Bonny read in the absence of Col. John Wilson, who was confined to his home by illness, the report of the Building Committee as follows:

The time has arrived when it becomes the duty of the Finance and Building Committee to make a final report of its work. Washingtonville Sunday school and immediate friends have contributed $2,152.17. Donations from other sources $3,423.12. Total cost of this chapel in fee-simple is $5,574.29. There is no indebtedness. It is my pleasing duty in behalf of the committee to express to Mr. Teal the architect, our profound thanks for his contribution of plans and specifications, also much valuable time in directing the successful construction of the chapel. Whilst all of the committee have been earnest in their efforts, I wish to say to Messrs Bonny, Andrew Wilson, H. Rodgers, Weiss and Winan, you are very largely indebted for this handsome little chapel. The committee having finished its work, we now tender the "Mary E. Wilson Memorial chapel" to the trustees of the Washingtonville Sunday school Association in perpetuity and ask to be discharged.

Mr. Bonny also accepted the chapel, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, responding in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. Paul C. Topley sang a solo, "Jesus be Near," and the Rev. Cornelius Schenck followed with scripture reading and offered prayer, after which the choir sang an anthem, "O, God, Who has Prepared."

The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes then made an address, in which he gave an interesting description of the new chapel, making allusion to the school house in which the congregation formerly worshipped. He also paid a fitting tribute to the late Mary E. Wilson, whom he characterized as a woman of stability and unselfish devotion to the church. Her loving remembrance, Dr. Yerkes said, is shown in the handsome edifice which is now being dedicated and which stands as a token of esteem to her memory.

The audience arose, while the Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham delivered the dedicatory prayer. The congregation joined in singing a hymn, after which the Rev. Dr. Hurlbut spoke on behalf of the Sunday schools; Mr. C. W. McCutchen spoke for the Y. M. C. A., taking for his text, "How Little Things Grow." Mr. James McGee made the closing adddress, giving the trustees and teachers some timely advice.

The choir sang an anthem, "They that Wait Upon the Lord," and the Rev. Dr. Ketcham pronounced the benediction, which brought to a close the first public meeting in the chapel.

The "Mary E. Wilson Memorial chapel," dedicated on Saturday, is built of rough mountain stone, the ends exposed to the weather being covered with moss. The stones were laid in cement, little or no pointing being necessary. The building is 26x58 feet in dimensions, and besides the main auditorium it contains a library and reception room. It is located on a knoll facing the main road leading through the valley, and its beauty is enhanced by three terraces sloping toward the roadway.

—The Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., will meet this evening at eight o'clock.

"JOE" ENGLISH AT REFORM HALL.

A Large Audience Greets the Famous Temperance Revivalist.

The simple announcement that "Joe" English, the temperance revivalist, and one of the founders of the Plainfield Reform Club, would be present at the sixth anniversary exercises of the club, and deliver an address, served to fill Reform Hall to overflowing, last evening, and many persons were obliged to return home, being unable to gain admission.

The platform contained many of those who are foremost in the temperance work, besides a goodly representation of the city clergymen. The pulpit decorations were rich and tasty. President Harper presided, and the regular Reform choir, under the leadership of Mr. H. J. Martin, and Miss Alice Smith as accompanist, furnished excellent music. Rev. W. E. Honeyman conducted the devotional exercises, and Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis made the opening address in his usual polished style, telling among other things, of how he became interested in the club and its work.

Mr. English was the next speaker, and for fully an hour he held the close attention of his hearers. The speaker was greeted with loud and continued applause. Mr. English related his experience here six years ago, when Mr. Mabee and himself organized the Plainfield Reform Club, and succeeded in getting upwards of 2,000 signers to the total abstinence pledge. The speaker's remarks were from the theme: "Praying and working with one accord." He expressed regret at openin the saloons, after so much work had been done here. He admonished his hearers to follow in the steps of the twelve apostles—to stand together with one accord, and with Jesus Christ at the head, success would surely follow.

Mr. English told some affecting incidents illustrating the evils of intemperance. At the close of his remarks, he made an appeal for pledge signers, and several persons responded.

President Harper announced that Mr. English would speak in Reform Hall every evening this week, after which Rev. W. E. Honeyman pronounced the benediction.

Social and Luncheon.

The social and luncheon of the Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church, held in the church parlors on Friday evening last, was well attended by members and friends of the church. There were four tables spread and presided over by Mrs. J. B. Burnett, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. L. A. Hummer, Mrs. W. L. Patton, Mrs. Lapsley, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Malard and Miss Emily Haff. The bouquets of choice cut flowers which adorned the tables were from the floral conservatory of Mr. Wm H. Brower, in New York city, and gratuitously furnished by Mrs. Brower.

Luncheon checks were sold by Miss C. Haff and Miss Florence V. Hurlburt. Mrs. Jackson attended to the apron table, and disposed of a large number of white aprons to ladies, and gentlemen as well. The ladies who waited upon the tables were very efficient and attentive. The committee, Mrs. Batson, Mrs. Kent, Mrs Barnes, Mrs. Lutkins and Mrs. Boss, can be congratulated on the success of the affair, which netted a goodly sum for the Society.

City Court Notes.

The following prisoners were arraigned before Judge Codington at the city jail this morning: Patrick Lawler, drunk and disorderly, fined $3; Richard Mc Nichols, drunk and fighting, pleaded guilty and fined $25; Thos. Conway, same charge, pleaded not guilty, but subsequently retracted the plea and entered one of guilty. He was fined $30, in default of the payment of which he is to be committed to the county jail; Luther Green, disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty, and fined $25.

—The scenery car of the Harry Kennedy White Slave company, passed through the city en route from Philadelphia to New York, yesterday morning.

DUNELLEN'S PATRIOTISM.

The Scholars in the Public School, Purchase a Flag and Hoist It With Appropriate Exercises.

The celebration of hoisting the new flag recently purchased by the pupils of the Dunellen Public school, took place on Friday afternoon, with appropriate exercises. The entertainment was one of marked success, and it will be long remembered, especially by those who took part.

At two o'clock the High school room was filled with the scholars and their friends, and a well prepared programme was carried out. The Rev. L. E Livermore opened the exercises with prayer, then followed recitations, appropriate songs, and speeches were made by the members of the Board of Trustees. An essay on "The Flag," by Miss Ella Fisher, was exceedingly creditable. The flag presentation was made in behalf of the school by Master Willie Carpenter. It was received for the trustees by the Rev. L. E. Livermore, after which all adjourned to the school yard, and the stars and stripes were raised 'mid cheers, and much enthusiasm.

A bountiful collation furnished by the scholars and Mr. Thomas, was served to all present, and the celebration thus ended.

Help the Cause by Your Presence.

The loan exhibition at the Art Gallery, which opened on Thursday evening, and continues for a week, will not only give every one an opportunity to see a large number of fine paintings, but as its proceeds are for the purchase of books for the Public Library, those who attend can feel that they are forwarding a good object, while gratifying their love for art. The library has now between eight and nine thousand books, and this is one of the efforts being made to increase the number to 10,000, when it will become entitled to certain government publications, among them those issued by the Smithsonian Institute.

Wholesale Runaway.

While a carload of horses were being unloaded at the freight house, today, seven of the animals escaped, and it required the efforts of about twenty men and a boy to re-capture them. Some of the horses were caught near the Bicycle Club house, and the rest ran into Rice & Loomis' lumber yard on Peace street, where they were captured.

Served With a Writ of Attachment.

A writ of attachment, issued by Justice Nash, was served upon Mr. Edgar Selden, the leading man in the "Will o' the Wisp" dramatic company, on Saturday evening, to recover the amount due on a note given to a late member of the company, in part payment for salary. Mr W. K. McClure succeeded in amicably adjusting the claim.

MEMORIAL ON H. W. GRADY

DR. TALMAGE EULOGIZES THE DECEASED JOURNALIST.

Isaiah Wrote with the Pen of a Man an Appeal for Righteousness, and So Should the Modern Editor—Grady's Noble Life and Great Work for the Nation.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 23.—The great Academy of Music, its main floors and its two galleries and platform and all approaches to the building were, as usual, thronged at the preaching service of the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, D. D., today. Many hundreds of persons did not gain admittance. After an exposition by Dr. Talmage of passages of Scripture descriptive of the influence of the pen, James Montgomery's hymn was sung:

Who are these in bright array,
This innumerable throng,
Round the altar night and day
Tuning one triumphant song?

The subject of Dr. Talmage's sermon was, "The Life and Death of Henry W. Grady, the Editor and Orator." He took for his text Isaiah viii, 1: "Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen." The preacher said:

To Isaiah, with royal blood in his veins and a habitant of palaces, does this divine order come. He is to take a roll, a large roll, and write on it with a pen, not an angel's pen, but a man's pen. So God honored the pen and so he honored manuscript. In our day the mightiest roll is the religious and secular newspaper and the mightiest pen is the editor's pen, whether for good or evil. And God says now to every literary man and especially to every journalist: "Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen."

Within a few weeks one of the strongest, most vivid and most brilliant of those pens was laid down on the editorial desk in Atlanta, never again to be resumed. I was far away at the time. We had been sailing up from the Mediterranean sea, through the Dardanelles, which region is unlike anything I ever saw for beauty. There is not any other water scenery on earth where God has done so many picturesque things with islands. They are somewhat like the Thousand Islands of our American St. Lawrence, but more like heaven. Indeed, we had just passed Patmos, the place from which John had his apocalyptic vision. Constantinople had seemed to come out to greet us, for your approach to that city is different from any other city. Other cities as you approach them seem to retire, but this city, with its glittering minarets and pinnacles, seems almost to step into the water to greet you. But my landing there, that would have been to me an exhilaration, was suddenly stunned with the tidings of the death of my intimate friend, Henry W. Grady. I could hardly believe the tidings, for I had left on my study table at home letters and telegrams from him, those letters and telegrams having a warmth and geniality and a wit such as he only could express. The departure of no public man for many years has so affected me. For days I walked about as in a dream, and I resolved that, getting home, I would, for the sake of his bereaved household and for the sake of his bereaved profession and for the sake of what he had been to me and shall continue to be as long as memory lasts, I would speak a word in appreciation of him, the most promising of Americans, and learn some of the salient lessons of his departure.

SPEAK WELL OF THE LIVING ALSO.

I have no doubt that he had enemies, for no man can live such an active life as he lived or be so far in advance of his time without making enemies—some because he defeated their projects and some because he outshone them. Owls and bats never did like the rising sun. But I shall tell you how he appeared to me, and I am glad that I told him while he was in full health what I thought of him. Memorial orations and gravestone epitaphs are often mean enough, for they say of a man after he is dead that which ought to have been said of him while living. One garland for a living brow is worth more than a mountain of japonicas and calla lilies heaped on a funeral casket. By a little black volume of fifty pages, containing the eulogiums and poems uttered and written at the demise of Clay and Webster and Calhoun and Lincoln and Sumner, the world tried to pay for the forty years of obloquy it heaped upon those living giants. If I say nothing in praise of a man while he lives I will keep silent when he is dead. Myrtle and weeping willow can never do what ought to have been done by amaranth and palm branch. No amount of "Dead March in Saul" rumbling from big organs at the obsequies can atone for non-appreciation of the man before he fell on sleep. The hearse cannot do what ought to have been done by chariot. But there are important things that need to be said about our friend, who was a prophet in American journalism and who only a few years ago heard the command of my text: "Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen."

His father dead, Henry W. Grady, a boy fourteen years of age, took up the battle of life. It would require a long chapter to record the names of orphans who have come to the top. When God takes away the head of the household he very often gives to some lad in that household a special qualification. Christ remembers how that his own father died early, leaving him to support himself and his mother and his brothers in the carpenter's shop at Nazareth, and he is in sympathy with all boys and all young men in the struggle. You say: "Oh, if my father had only lived I would have had a better education, and I would have had a more promising start, and there are some wrinkles on my brow that would not have been there." But I have noticed that God makes a special way for orphans. You would not have been half the man you are if you had not been obliged from your early days to fight your own battles. What other boys got out of Yale or Harvard you got in the University of Hard Knocks. Go among successful merchants, lawyers, physicians and men of all occupations and professions, and there are many of them who will tell you, "At ten, or twelve, or fifteen years of age, I started for myself; father was sick, or father was dead." But somehow they got through and got up. I account for it by the fact that there is a special dispensation of God for orphans. All hail, the fatherless and the motherless! The Lord Almighty will see you through. Early obstacles for Mr. Grady were only the means for development of his intellect and heart. And lo! when at thirty-nine years of age he put down his pen and closed his lips for the perpetual silence, he had done a work which many a man who lives on to sixty and seventy and eighty years never accomplishes.

GREAT WORK OF SHORT LIVED MEN.

There is a great deal of senseless praise of longevity, as though it were a wonderful achievement to live a good while. Ah, my friends, it is not how long we live, but how well we live and how useful we live. A man who lives to eighty years and accomplishes nothing for God or humanity might better have never lived at all. Methusaleh lived nine hundred and sixty-nine years, and what did it amount to? In all those more than nine centuries he did not accomplish something which would worth record. Paul lived only a little more than sixty, but how many Methusalehs would it take to make one Paul? Who would not rather have Paul's sixty years than Methusaleh's nine hundred and sixty-nine? Robert McCheyne died at thirty years of age and John Summerfield at twenty-seven years of age, but neither earth nor heaven will ever hear the end of their usefulness. Longevity! Why, an elephant can beat you at that, for it lives a hundred and fifty and two hundred years. Gray hairs are the blossoms of the tree of life if found in the way of righteousness, but the frosts of the second death if found in the way of sin.

One of our able New York journals last spring printed a question and sent it to many people, and among others to myself: "Can the editor of a secular journal be a Christian?" Some of the newspapers answered, No. I answered, Yes; and lest you may not understand me I say, Yes, again. Summer before last, riding with Mr. Grady from a religious meeting in Georgia on Sunday night, he said to me some things which I now reveal for the first time because it is appropriate now that I reveal them. He expressed his complete faith in the Gospel and expressed his astonishment and his grief that in our day so many young men were rejecting Christianity. From the earnestness and the tenderness and the confidence with which he spoke on these things I concluded that when Henry W. Grady made public profession of his faith in Christ and took his place at the holy communion in the Methodist church, he was honest and truly Christian. That conversation that Sunday night, first in the carriage and then resumed in the hotel, impressed me in such a way that when I simply heard of his departure, without any of the particulars, I concluded that he was ready to go. I warrant there was no fright in the last exigency, but that he found what is commonly called "the last enemy" a good friend, and from his home on earth he went to a home in heaven. Yes, Mr. Grady not only demonstrated that an editor may be a Christian, but that a very great intellect may be gospelized. His mental capacity was so wonderful it was almost startling. I have been with him in active conversation, while at the same time he was dictating to a stenographer editorials for The Atlanta Constitution. But that intellect was not ashamed to bow to Christ. Among his last dying utterances was a request for the prayers of the churches in his behalf.

GLADSTONE'S WONDERFUL TESTIMONY.

There was that particular quality in him that you do not find in more than one person out of hundreds of thousands, namely, personal magnetism. People have tried to define that quality and always failed, yet we have all felt its power. There are some persons who have only to enter a room or step upon a platform or into a pulpit, and you are thrilled by their presence, and when they speak your nature responds and you cannot help it. What is the peculiar influence with which such a magnetic person takes hold of social groups and audiences? Without attempting to define this which is indefinable I will say it seems to correspond to the waves of air set in motion by the voice or the movements of the body. Just like that atmospheric vibration is the moral or spiritual vibration which rolls out from the soul of what we call a magnetic person. As there may be a cord or rope binding bodies together there may be an invisible cord binding souls. A magnetic man throws it over others as a hunter throws a lasso. Mr. Grady was surcharged with this influence, and it was employed for patriotism and Christianity and elevated purposes.

You may not know why, in the conversation which I had with Mr. Gladstone a few weeks ago, he uttered these memorable words about Christianity, some of which were cabled to America. He was speaking in reply to this remark: I said, "Mr. Gladstone, we are told in America by some people that Christianity does very well for weak minded men and children in the infant class, but is not fit for stronger minded men; but when we mention you, of such large intellectuality, as being a pronounced friend of religion, we silence their batteries." Then Mr. Gladstone stopped on the hillside, where we were exercising, and said: "The older I grow the more confirmed I am in my faith in religion. "Sir," said he, with flashing eye and uplifted hand, "talk about the questions of the day, there is but one question, and that is the Gospel. That can and will correct everything. Do you have any of that dreadful agnosticism in America?" Having told him we had, he went on to say: "I am profoundly thankful that none of my children or kindred have been blasted by it. I am glad to say that about all the men at the top in Great Britain are Christians. Why, sir," he said, "I have been in public position fifty-eight years and forty-seven years in the cabinet of the British government, and during those forty-seven years I have been associated with sixty of the master minds of the century, and all but five of the sixty were Christians." He then named the four leading physicians and surgeons of his country, calling them by name and remarking upon the high qualities of each of them, and added: "They are all thoroughly Christian." My friends, I think it will be quite respectable for a little longer to be the friends of religion. William E. Gladstone, a Christian; Henry W. Grady, a Christian. What the greatest of Englishmen said of England is true of America and of all Christendom. The men at the top are the friends of God and believers in the sanctities of religion, the most eminent of the lawyers, the most eminent of the doctors, the most eminent of the merchants, and there are no better men in all our land than some of those who sit in editorial chairs. And if that does not correspond with your acquaintanceship, I am sorry that you have fallen into bad company. In answer to the question put last spring: "Can a secular journalist be a Christian?" I not only answer in the affirmative, but I assert that so great are the responsibilities of that profession, so infinite and eternal the consequences of their obedience or disobedience of the words of my text: "Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen," and so many are the surrounding temptations, that the men of no other profession more deeply need the defenses and the re-enforcements of the grace of God.

HOW THE JOURNAL AIDS THE PREACHER.

And then look at the opportunities of journalism. I praise the pulpit and magnify my office, but I state a fact which you all know when I say that where the pulpit touches one person the press touches five hundred. The vast majority of people do not go to church, but all intelligent people read the newspapers. While, therefore, the responsibility of the ministers is great, the responsibility of editors and reporters is greater. Come, brother journalists, and get your ordination not by the laying on of human hands, but by the laying on of the hands of the Almighty. To you is committed the precious reputation of men and the more precious reputation of women. Spread before our children an elevated literature. Make sin appear disgusting and virtue admirable. Believe good rather than evil. While you show up the hypocrisies of the church, show up the stupendous hypocrisies outside of the church. Be not, as some of you are, the mere echoes of public opinion; make public opinion. Let the great roll on which you write with a man's pen be a message of light and liberty and kindness and an awakening of moral power. But who is sufficient for these things? Not one of you without divine help. But get that influence and the editors and reporters can go up and take this world for God and the truth. The mightiest opportunity in all the world for usefulness today is open before editors and reporters and publishers, whether of knowledge on foot as in the book, or knowledge on the wing as in the newspaper. I pray God, men of the newspaper press, whether you hear or read this sermon, that you may rise up to your full opportunity, and that you may be divinely helped and rescued and blessed. Some one might say to me: "How can you talk thus of the newspaper press, when you yourself have sometimes been unfairly treated and misrepresented?" I answer that in the opportunity the newspaper press of this country and other countries have given me week by week to preach the Gospel to the nations, I am put under so much obligation that I defy all editors and reporters, the world over, to write anything that shall call forth from me one word of bitter retort from now till the day of my death. My opinion is, that all reformers and religious teachers, instead of spending so much time and energy in denouncing the press, had better spend more time in thanking them for what they have done for the world's intelligence and declaring their magnificent opportunity, and urging their employment of it all for beneficent and righteous purposes.

EXAMPLE OF THE CHRISTIAN PATRIOT.

Again, I remark that Henry W. Grady stood for Christian patriotism irrespective of political spoils. He declined all official reward. He could have been governor of Georgia, but refused it. He could have been senator of the United States, but declined it. He remained plain Mr. Grady. Nearly all the other orators of the political arena, as soon as the elections are over, go to Washington, or Albany, or Harrisburg, or Atlanta, to get in city or state or national office reward for their services, and, not getting what they want, spend the rest of the time of that administration in pouting about the management of public affairs or cursing Harrison or Cleveland. When the great political campaigns were over, Mr. Grady went home to his newspaper. He demonstrated that it is possible to toil for principles which he thought to be right, simply because they were right. Christian patriotism is too rare a commodity in this country. Surely the joy of living under such free institutions as those established here ought to be enough reward for political fidelity. Among all the great writers that stood at the last presidential election on Democratic and Republican platforms you cannot recall in your mind ten who were not themselves looking for remunerative appointments. Aye, you can count them all on the fingers of one hand. The most illustrious specimen of that style of man for the last ten years was Henry W Grady.

Again, Mr. Grady stood for the new south and was just what we want to meet three other men, one to speak for the new north, another for the new east and another for the new west. The bravest speech made for the last quarter of a century was that made by Mr. Grady at the New England dinner in New York about two or three years ago. I sat with him that evening and know something of his anxieties, for he was to tread on dangerous grounds and might by one misspoken word have antagonized forever both sections. His speech was a victory that thrilled all of us who heard him and all who read him. That speech, great for wisdom, great for kindness, great for pacification, great for bravery, will go down to the generations with Webster's speech at Bunker Hill, William Wirt's speech at the arraignment of Aaron Burr, Edmund Burke's speech on Warren Hastings, Robert Emmet's speech for his own vindication. Who will in conspicuous action represent the new north as he did the new south? Who shall come forth for the new east and who for the new west? Let old political issues be buried, let old grudges die. Let new theories be launched.

TRANSCENDENT NEED OF NATIONAL HARMONY.

With the coming in of a new nation at the gates at Castle Garden every year, and the wheat bin and corn crib of our land enlarged with every harvest, and a vast multitude of our population still plunged in illiteracy to be educated, and moral questions abroad involving the very existence of our republic, let the old political platforms that are worm eaten be dropped, and platforms that shall be made of two planks—the one the Ten Commandments and the other the Sermon on the Mount—lifted for all of us to stand on. But there is a lot of old politicians grumbling all around the sky who don't want a new south, a new north, a new east or a new west. They have some old war speeches that they prepared in 1861 that in all our autumnal elections they feel called upon to inflict upon the country. They growl louder and louder in proportion as they are pushed back further and further and the Henry W. Gradys come to the front. But the mandate, I think, has gone forth from the throne of God that a new American nation shall take the place of the old, and the new has been baptized for God, and liberty, and justice, and peace, and morality, and religion.

And now our much lamented friend has gone to give account. Suddenly the facile and potent pen is laid down and the eloquent tongue is silent. What! Is there no safeguard against fatal disease? The impersonation of stout health was Mr. Grady. What compactness of muscle! What ruddy complexion! What flashing eye! Standing with him in a group of twenty or thirty persons at Piedmont, he looked the healthiest as his spirits were the blithest. Shall we never feel again the hearty grasp of his hand or be magnetized with his eloquence? Men of the great roll, men of the pen, men of wit, men of power, if our friend had to go when the call came, so must you when your call comes. When God asks you what you have done with your pen or your eloquence or your wealth or your social position, will you be able to give satisfactory answer? What have we been writing all these years? If mirth, has it been innocent mirth or that which tears and stings and lacerates? From our pen have there come forth productions healthy or poisonous? In the last great day when the warrior must give account of what he has done with his sword, and the merchant what he has done with his yard stick, and the mason what he has done with his trowel, and the artist what he has done with his pencil, we shall have to give account of what we have done with our pen. There are gold pens and diamond pens and pens of exquisite manufacture, and every few weeks I see some new kind of pen, each said to be better than the other, but in the great day of our arraignment before the Judge of quick and dead that will be the most beautiful pen, whether gold or steel or quill, which never wrote a profane or unclean or cruel word, or which, from the day it was carved or split at the nib, dropped from its point kindness and encouragement and help and gratitude to God and benediction for man.

SYMPATHY WITH GRADY'S FRIENDS.

May God comfort that torn up southern home and all the homes of this country and of all the world which have been swept by this plague of influenza, which has deepened sometimes into pneumonia and sometimes into typhus and the victims of which are counted by the ten thousand! Satan, who is the "Prince of the Power of the Air," has been poisoning the atmosphere in all nations. Though it is the first time in our remembrance, he has done the same thing before. In 1696 the unwholesome air of Cairo, Egypt, destroyed the life of ten thousand in one day, and in Constantinople in 1714 three hundred thousand people died of it. I am glad that by the better sanitation of our cities and wider understanding of hygienic laws and the greater skill of physicians these Apollyonic assaults upon the human race are being resisted, but pestilential atmosphere is still abroad. Hardly a family here but has felt its lighter or heavier touch. Some of the best of my flock fell under its power and many homes here represented have been crushed. The fact is the biggest failure in the universe is this world if there be no heaven beyond. But there is, and the friends who have gone there are many and very dear. O tearful eyes, look up to the hills crimsoning with eternal morn! That reunion kiss will more than make up for the parting kiss, and the welcome will obliterate the good-by. "The Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." Till then, O departed loved ones, promise us that you will remember us, as we promise to remember you. And some of you gone up from this city by the sea and others from under southern skies and others from the homes of the more rigorous north and some from the cabins on great western farms, we shall meet again when our pen has written its last word and our arm has done its last day's work and our lips have spoken the last adieu.

And now, thou great and magnificent soul of editor and orator! under brighter skies we shall meet again. From God thou camest, and to God thou hast returned. Not broken down, but ascended. Not collapsed, but irradiated. Enthroned one! Coroneted one! Sceptered one! Emparadised one! Hail and farewell!

CHICAGO THE CITY

The World's Fair Captured on the Eighth Ballot.

A STUBBORN FIGHT FAIRLY WON

New York Secured Only a Divided Vote from the East.

The Bill Now Goes to the Senate—Probability of a Protracted Debate on the Bill—New Yorkers Disappointed Over the Unexpected Outcome—Chicagoans Wild With Delight.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Chicago has won the World's Fair battle, after six hours' fight in the House, which for real excitement has rarely been equaled. Eight ballots were required before the great contest ended. Aid which had been promised to New York failed to materialize when the crisis was reached, while supposed friends deserted her when she was most in need of their co-operation.

Chicago won fairly and squarely, however, and the Empire City champions were among the first to tender their congratulations.

The Eighth and Deciding Ballot.

Chicago	157
New York	107
St. Louis	26
Washington	18

Necessary to a choice, 154.

St. Louis, whose adherents had from the first cried, "Anything to beat Chicago," is wearing sackcloth and ashes, while Washington, the tail ender in the race, is still wondering what hither.

Lively Western Work.

The first ballot demonstrated that Chicago had put in a surprising amount of work and had kept it up to the very moment the House was called to order, and when she scored 115 votes her admirers cheered. New York's 73 were not as many as even the most conservative estimates had conceded to her, while St. Louis, with her 68, secured more than even her most sanguine friends had expected. When Washington showed up 56 votes the Capital City boomers in the galleries shouted long and loud. Their applause was rebuked by the Speaker, who declared that it must not occur again from any source. It was repeated, however, when Mr. Skinner yelled: "I cast one vote for Cumberland Gap."

Why They Got Left.

"Politics did it!" exclaimed ex-Secretary Whitney as he gazed upon the lifeless remains of New York's boom.

"That's true," put in Mayor Grant, "politics played the mischief with us."

"Chauncey M. Depew regards the Fair as irrevocably lost to New York. While the Senate may refuse to concur and thus necessitate a conference committee, yet there is no hope of the Fair now going to New York.

He attributes the defeat to the fight in Albany. When the New York delegation was last here they had over 125 votes pledged. The New York vote never reached above 116.

The End Not Yet.

The House has not decided in the negative, neither has it decided by this vote in the affirmative. The details of the pending bill have all to be arranged. There is certain to be a protracted fight over them. Then, even if the bill gets through the House, which is doubtful, it has to run the gauntlet of the Senate. It will there be referred to a Special Committee, of which one of New York's Senators, Mr. Hiscock, is chairman. If it ever emerges from that committee, it is probable that its own fathers will not know it.

Conditions of the Bill.

The World's Fair bill as it now stands appropriates $100,000 for customs dues on foreign exhibits and $1,500,000 for the expenses of a Government exhibit and the buildings to contain the same. As New York offered to assume the whole expense of the Government exhibit it is now proposed to add an amendment making Chicago responsible for this expense. A provision will also be offered declaring that the Government shall not be responsible for debts or loans incurred on account of the Fair. Chicago has raised $5,000,000 by subscription and promised to raise an equal sum by a loan. The resolution evading all responsibility is based on this promise from Chicago.

The bill, under the rules, must have its first consideration in Committee of the Whole, since it carries an appropriation. There are quite a number of those who voted for Chicago who are really opposed to any fair and will so vote when that phase of the question presents itself. This element is strong enough to cause considerable apprehension to the Chicago men even in the midst of this great rejoicing. Among this class are a number of the Texas men and several from Kansas. One of the oldest members from the latter State predicted last night that the final result would be no fair.

One of the Republican Senators who is strongly opposed to Chicago says that if the bill reaches the Senate it may be carried by the preponderance of Western Senators, but he does not, as yet, regard concurrence as certain.

Hints of Boodle.

There are curious stories afloat which affect the integrity of certain members of the House. It is stated as a fact that leading New Yorkers were offered thirty votes for a consideration of $75,000 in money, that the offer was refused and that the entire thirty members voted against New York. It is further stated that after the third ballot New York was offered seven Western votes for $2,000 apiece, and that this proposition, like the previous one, was refused.

How Gov. Hill Received the News.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Gov. Hill received the details of the ballot on the World's Fair bill as fast as they were received by special wire. When the sixth ballot was announced he remarked that "it was gone." When the final result was announced he seemed greatly disappointed. When asked later to express an opinion upon the subject, he said: "I do not care to say anything at present. It is too delicate a matter for discussion."

Wild With Joy.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Chicago is simply delirious with joy. Crowds of men and boys went shouting and singing through the streets, tin horns by the hundreds were fished out from their hiding places and made to do full duty and the din became all but unbearable.

THE FEELING IN NEW YORK.

Mr. Platt Says There is a Chance in the Senate.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—There was much regret expressed in this city when it became known that the House of Representatives had voted to have the World's Fair located at Chicago. The result was attributed by many to political quarrels in this State and by others to the efforts of the railroads centering at Chicago to secure the fair for that place.

Mr. Thomas C. Platt was seen at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He said: "I am very much disappointed with the vote at Washington, as I had hoped that New York would secure the World's Fair. I do not give up hope yet, as there is a possibility of the Senate deciding to give the Fair to New York, believing as I do that the majority of that body is in favor of New York."

THE LECONEY MURDER TRIAL.

Evidence in Rebuttal Produced by the State Strongly Against the Prisoner.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 25.—In the Leconey murder trial it was shown by Lampson Kelton that Chalkley was disinclined, the day of the murder, to search for the murderer. The testimony of the defendant that he did not see "Billy" Smith the next day has been contradicted by the same witness.

It was shown by Wm. Robinson, a colored man, who worked on the Burrough farm, that it was not Lingo who was seen in Wm. Brown's wagon, but himself.

John Atkins, another colored man, swore that he told Lingo that morning of Anna's murder. Atkins is the man who found Lingo at the Starr farm and pointed him out to Mr. Burrough and Joshua Evans.

Harry Schaefer, a young man who worked at the Leconey farm the October before Richard's death, testified that Chalkley quarrelled with Anna a dozen or fifteen times while the witness was there, and swore at her.

Richard Leconey, brother of the murdered young woman, occupied his accustomed place alongside of the accused man. He firmly announced to the reporters that he believed his uncle was innocent, and that he should entertain that belief whatever the outcome of the trial might be. He announced that the Leconey farm would be sold, and that his sister's share in the farm would probably be given to Leconey to be used in defraying the expenses of his trial, his share in the property having already been exhausted.

It is estimated that the trial will cost the Leconeys $10,000, and the State almost a like sum, should the trial last as long as expected. During the morning the proceedings dragged along slowly, owing to different tilts between the prosecutor and the lawyer for the defence.

Panic in a Public School.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Escaping steam in Public School No. 1, on Emslie street, caused a cry of fire at noon and the panic stricken children made a wild rush for the doors. They were mostly under 10 years of age and in the crush many were thrown and trampled upon. The teachers finally succeeded in quieting them and restored order. None were seriously hurt, though a number received painful bruises.

Silcott Was In Denver.

DENVER, Feb. 25.—Silcott, the defaulting cashier of the Sergeant-at-Arms, was here four weeks ago, in company with a handsome woman. The detectives suspected Silcott's identity and upon going to his room surprised the woman in the act of counting a large roll of bills. She said her husband had left the city. He has not since been seen. The woman left the same night.

He Used His Razor.

BOSTON, Feb. 25.—W. C. Merchant, colored, of Cambridge, quarreled with Nathen Cohen, proprietor of a clothing store at 90 Kneeland street, about the purchase of a coat. He cut Cohen badly near the heart with a razor, and injured Simon Cohen and Lyman Crown. Nathen Cohen will probably die. Merchant was arrested.

Exonerated by a Dying Man.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 25.—R. W. Higby, a prominent and respected citizen of this place, aged 80 years, was struck by a rapidly moving horse and thrown to the ground. Before dying he exonerated the driver saying it was an unavoidable accident. He has sons and other relatives residing in the West.

Eight-Hour Mass Meeting.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—A mass meeting in favor of the eight-hour movement was held in the Cooper Union last nigh. Samuel Gompers presided and spoke, and speeches were also made by P. J. McGuire, Ernest Bohm, J. Lershner and other labor leaders.

Will Settle Their Grievances.

NATICK, Mass., Feb. 25.—The stitchers in Brown's shoe factory who have been on strike for the past week have returned to work, with the understanding that their grievances would be satisfactorily settled.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Warm Debate Between Senators Chandler and Call.

CHANGING THE "PUBLIC RECORD."

The New Hampshire Senator Offended About the Florida Charge.

Secretary Windom Explains His Position on the Silver Question—He Claims to be a Strong Friend of Silver—Ten Bidders Put in Proposals for the Privilege of Taking Seals.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In the Senate Senator Chandler introduced a resolution to censure Senator Call for inserting in the "Record," as part of his remarks on the Florida assassination, last week, the charge that Mr. Chandler, because of his speeches in the Senate was responsible for the political murders in Florida. Mr. Chandler produced the original copy showing the allegations in Mr. Call's own writing. He made a bitter speech against Mr. Call to which the Florida Senator responded.

Mr. Call defended his course in the matter, asserting that he had in debate expressed substantially the same idea as was expressed in the additional paragraph. He had simply changed the phraseology, as he had a right to do, and therefore the statement made by the Senator from New Hampshire was not true. It was the first time in his 11 years' service in the Senate that he heard it claimed that it was not admissible for a Senator to correct, to explain, to exemplify the language used by him so as to express more clearly the idea intended to be conveyed.

Mr. Chandler repelled the intimation that anything which he had stated was not true. He desired to have the decision of the Senate on the question presented. He asked no protection for himself. He only asked that the Senate should decide whether such language might be used by one Senator in relation to another Senator, and whether the Senator from Florida was to be permitted with his pen, alone in his room, to write out additional charges and send them to the Public Printer to be published throughout the country as if they had been actually spoken in the Senate Chamber. He sent the original of the objectionable paragraph by a page to Mr. Call and asked whether that was in his handwriting.

Secretary Windom Explains His Position.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Secretary Windom was before the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures for the purpose of having an interchange of opinion on the subject of silver coinage with the members of the committee. He discussed fully the provisions of the bill that had been prepared at the Treasury Department on this subject and introduced in the House by Representative Conger. He declared it was framed to meet in the best way he could devise, the present financial condition of the country, and he disavowed all of the charges that the bill was a mere makeshift, and its author did not believe in it and that it was brought forward to defeat some other measure. He said he was really a strong friend of silver, although some people did not think so, and he was anxious for some measure that would enhance its value.

Seal Bidders.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—All of the ten bidders for the privilege of taking seals on the Islands of St. George and St. Paul have filed with Secretary Windom written arguments in favor of their respective proposals. Secretary Windom will consider each bid with its accompanying arguments together. It is not thought that the contract will be awarded for several weeks.

CATHOLICS EXPELLED.

Public School Children Wish to Skip the Subject of the Reformation.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Feb. 25.—Considerable ill-feeling has resulted in educational circles from the action taken by Principal Walsh, of the high school, who expelled six scholars, children of Roman Catholic residents of the town.

About a week ago in the regular course of the study of history, the class came to the subject of Reformation. Six scholars refused to learn the prescribed lesson, on religious grounds. Principal Walsh told the pupils that they need not study the portion of the book, if their parents would send him notice giving them permission to skip obnoxious chapters.

A few days later he received a sort of Round Robin document, signed by the parents of the scholars, declaring their opposition to the study of the Reformation by their children.

Walsh demanded that he should have a personal notice from each parent. This was refused and the suspension of the pupils followed. The School Committee and Superintendent sustain the principal in his action.

Looking After Hungarians.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 25.—The first Slavish convention held in the United States is now in session in Walther's Hall, Allegheny City. The object of the convention is to form a national organization for the purpose of looking after the interests of the Hungarians in all parts of the country and establish a system by which these people can be properly educated and their rights protected. Delegates are present from a number of the large cities.

Daly Defeats Ives.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The billiard match last night between Frank Ives and Maurice Daly was won by the latter by a score of 500 to 239. Ives' average was 9 23-24. Daly's 20-24. Ives' highest run was 80, Daly's 118. Time of game, 3 hours and 25 minutes. Slosson and Heiser will play to-night.

—A bill has been introduced in the House at Trenton, which provides that 25 per cent of the monthly wages or earnings of each prisoner now in the State Prison or any county penitentiary, be set aside and paid over to the State Prison Inspectors, who shall pay the same to the families of such prisoners to their support.

—The committee appointed by the State Board of Agriculture to co-operate with Governor Abbett for the purpose of bringing relief to the farmers, had a conference with the Governor on Wednesday. They had an informal talk over the subject of taxation chiefly, but the whole matter was left in abeyance until the replies to the circulars sent out are received.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Officer Geo. W. Grant again reported for duty, yesterday morning, after a six weeks' absence from the force caused by illness.

John Bergen of Cottage place died today at the residence of his brother, Patrick, in North Plainfield. He leaves five small children.

Mr. Joseph Brown, foreman of the lathe department at the Potter Press works, sailed for Scotland on Saturday, where he goes to visit his wife, who is ill.

A riding party consisting of about a half dozen of the residents of Washington Park, North Plainfield, traveled about twenty-five miles on horseback, Washington's Birthday. They report having had a delightful time.

Father Smyth Denies the Statement.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I beg to call your attention to the following statement made in the last issue of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST:

In Plainfield—THE PRESS is informed by those connected with the public schools—a large number of the scholars who left to attend the parochial school when it opened, have already returned to the public school.

This statement is incorrect, even though the information came from those connected with the public school. Six or seven children left the parochial school since its establishment, and some of these we were obliged to dismiss for good reasons.

By inserting this you will do an act of justice to the parochial school, which is doing its work silently and satisfactorily, and oblige,

Yours respectfully,
P. E. SMYTH.

"An Exuberant Plainfielder."

Under the above heading the New Brunswick Home News of yesterday says: "Yesterday afternoon Officer Kelly found a man driving aimlessly about the streets, very drunk. When arrested and taken before Recorder Housell, he said his name was Emmons, and that he came from Plainfield, and that he would rather go home than go to jail. He made an eloquent and facetious address to the crowd in the Recorder's office and offered to recite the Declaration of Independence, but this courtesy was declined. Officer Stuart escorted him across the Albany street bridge, and after elaborately thanking the officer he drove off in the direction of home."

A Prize Spelling Bee.

The members of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, held their regular monthly sociable in the lecture room of the church on Thursday evening last. The principal feature of the entertainment was a prize spelling bee, in which some twenty-five or thirty took part. The prize, a handsome cake, was won by Mrs. A. R Dilts, wife of the pastor, she having remained on the floor the longest.

The Reform Hall Meeting.

There was a fair sized audience present at Reform Hall, last evening. Mr. Geo. W. F. Randolph presided and Mr. Geo. D. Morrison led in prayer. Mr. Joseph English was the speaker, and the usual choir furnished the music.

Mr. English during his remarks was at times very witty, and on several occasions the audience was convulsed with laughter.

Young Men's Meeting.

Young men who have attended the meetings in the Y. M. C. A. rooms since the change was made to Sunday afternoon, can bear testimony to the interest which is being taken in them. Mr. Wm. H. Sampson conducted the service Sunday afternoon, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Let quality, not quantity, be the test of a medicine. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the concentrated extract of the best and purest ingredients. Medical men everywhere recommend it as the surest and most economical blood medicine in the market.

—The Crescent League Minstrels held a final rehearsal in Music Hall, this afternoon.

The great majority of so-called cough cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver.

"THE MESSIAH."

This Delightful Oratorio to be Presented by the Plainfield Choral Society if Enough Encouragement is Given.

The Choral Society managers have issued a circular to their subscribers announcing a new departure, if sufficient encouragement be given by extra subscriptions. This is no more nor less than the production of the Oratorio of "The Messiah" at the last concert in May, in place of the usual miscellaneous programme.

As this is an undertaking involving such an extraordinary expense, and requiring so much labor in its preparation, we should be inclined to doubt the propriety of taking such a step did we not know the resources of the Society. We believe the members are unanimous in their preference for this grand work and promise to perform their part in their usual satisfactory manner. The success of the venture is therefore assured provided the funds are forthcoming.

To render "The Messiah" in a suitable manner it requires a much larger orchestra than usual, besides four superior soloists. This being an unusual expense, and an extraordinary feature, not "nominated in the bond," an appeal has been made to subscribers for subscriptions to defray this extra expense. It seems there are in Music Hall a number of seats still unsecured, which by its pledge the Society cannot sell. It is therefore proposed to give subscribers (and to them only) a seat or seats, according to the amount they subscribe, which they will be at liberty to dispose of in any manner they like.

The prospect of such an event as this should stir the heart of our entire music-loving community, and if the project is carried out we believe every seat will be occupied. THE PRESS hopes there will be a prompt and liberal response to the circular, thus enabling the managers to make the necessary arrangements without delay.

A New Office the Council Should Create and Fill.

What Plainfield needs right now, is a City Surveyor. The sooner the office is created and filled, the better for the city in many ways.

He may cost fifteen hundred dollars, say, but he'll save many a thousand in the future. If the roadways are not relaid under his direction after the water mains, car rails and possible sewer pipes are down, the bad grading and incorrect street lining will eventually have to be remedied by the city at its own great expense.

It has been said that the present Council will run the city with plenty of money and no brains. Gentlemen, disprove this statement by the expenditure of a little of both in this particular matter.

Death of Postmaster Pope's Mother.

At her home in Dunellen, about ten o'clock, last evening, occurred the death of Mrs. Sarah R Pope, widow of the late John Pope, aged seventy-seven years and eight months. Mrs. Pope's illness was of short duration, her death resulting from old age. She was the mother of Postmaster-elect Elias R. Pope, Howard A. Pope, David S. Pope and James C. Pope of this city.

The funeral will take place from the house on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be made at New Market.

Kicked in the Window.

A young man named Morrison, who says he came from Bound Brook, got gloriously drunk yesterday about noon, and entering a dooryard on East Front street, he walked up on a side stoop and deliberately smashed in a plate glass window 26x42 inches in dimensions. The man then laid down on the stoop and went to sleep. Officer Grant arrested him, and today the prisoner's friends are trying to raise $16, the amount of damage done to the window.

Soon to Hear Their New Organ.

The congregation of the First Baptist church will have the opportunity of hearing their new Midmer organ for the first time on next Sunday morning, when they will again meet for worship in the main auditorium of the church. A choir under the leadership of Mr. C. W. Mc Cutchen will hereafter assist in the services both morning and evening.

Caught in the Act of Smuggling.

It is said that a couple of young men called at the station house, last evening, and asked permission to see a prisoner, who is locked up there. While in the jail the men tried to smuggle into the prisoner's cell a bottle of milk, flavored strongly with rum. The bottle and its contents were taken in charge by the police.

A New Tonsorial Parlor.

Adjoining THE PRESS office in Force's Hotel is the new barber shop, conducted by Messrs Brown and Hill, two of the best in their line. Messrs Brown and Hill are too well known here to need any recommendation. They make a specialty of children's hair cutting, as their advertisement in another column states.

The Scotch Down the English.

On Saturday afternoon last two picked teams from Pond's Tool Works, known as the Scotchmen and Englishmen, engaged in a game of football. In the first half of the game both teams were equal, no goals being scored; in the second half the game stood 1 to 0, in favor of the Scotchmen.

Little Annie told us yesterday, in her way, what a good medicine Dr. Bulls's Cough Syrup is; it had cured her of a very severe cold.

Additional Train Service.

The Baltimore and Ohio, Philadelphia and Reading, and Central Railroad of New Jersey have combined for the purpose of introducing a train service, which will be second to none, between New York and Philadelphia and Washington. All the cars used in the service will be owned jointly by the three companies, the cost to be divided in a way to be settled mutually between them. It is the purpose to build the cars on the most luxurious principle and they will be fitted with all modern appliances, regardless of cost.

The Lecture To-morrow.

The free lecture to-morrow afternoon in Music Hall, on "Food Adulteration," should call out all our housekeepers. The subject is most worthy, and it must not be forgotten that it is to be given under the auspices of one of the oldest, wealthiest and most aristocratic business houses in the United States. Everything will be done exactly as represented. Babes in arms and children unaccompanied by parents will not be admitted. The doors will open at 1:30 o'clock and the lecture will commence promptly at 2 o'clock.

Lecture on American Art.

"American Art—its character, phases and applications"—is the subject of John Ward Stimson's lecture at the Art Gallery Thursday evening next, on the occasion of the opening of the Loan Exposition. Mr. Stimson's position at the head of the school for artist-artizans in New York, is an assurance of the value of the lecture to all interested in art culture.

The Council Granted All.

(From the Railway Democrat.)

The Plainfield Common Council on Monday evening granted fifteen liquor licenses at $750 each, thus making the very large addition to the treasury of $11,250, which it was deprived of last year by the no-license attitude of the Council.

Plainfield Started the Movement.

The Mt. Pleasant public school hoisted a flag with appropriate exercises on Friday afternoon. The custom is becoming universal, and it will not be long before every public school in the State will float the National colors from its dome or cupola.

We Give it Up.

The Democrat, Somerville says: "Plainfield is not yet located on the map of New Jersey contained in the Legislative Manual of 1890. What is the matter with that village?"

NOTES FROM "THE VISITOR."

Pleasant Things Which Rev. Chas. B. Mitchell Has to Say of the Members of His Congregation.

Miss Louise Pangborn has just returned from a visit to Miss VanMeter, of Baltimore.

Miss Millie Ferguson, after a long illness, is out again, and her many young friends welcome the return of the roses to her cheeks.

We are all glad to see Dr. Hurlbut home again from his long trip through the South. With a master-hand he superintended the Sunday school last Sunday.

Mrs. R. C. Fisher has been unable to attend the church with her former regularity, owing to illness which, though not serious, has confined her to the house.

Mr. George Burgess, Jr., is confined at home with illness. Every one must know that George is sick, otherwise he would not be missing at the church services.

It was a beautiful and loving deed for each member of Mrs. Edwin Loomis' class of little girls to take some present to cheer the sick-room of their little classmate, Nettie Chandler.

Mrs. D. E. Davis, after an illness of several weeks, is again rejoicing in her ability to be present at the services of the church. Her host of friends are glad to see her in her accustomed places.

On February 6, Mrs. Eliza Coles celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday. She still may be found in her pew on pleasant Sabbath mornings, and finds her chiefest joy in the Gospel which she has believed for more than sixty years.

Mrs. Harry D. French, of Willow avenue, is visiting her parents in Chicago. The children, Dudley and Edith, are with her. They will receive a warm welcome home from the many friends Mr. and Mrs. French have made during their brief residence in Plainfield.

Superintendent Jackson and wife have been in Michigan for the past two weeks. Business and pleasure have been combined. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson might not receive so much pleasure, but they would give their many friends more pleasure if they never went away from home.

At the last Quarterly Conference Mr. J. G. Cadmus was elected District Steward, an office he has filled for years, and with whose duties he is thoroughly acquainted.

With thankful hearts we remember that none of our members have died during the past month. In view of the large number of deaths in the city, the above fact is remarkable.

The Missionary Societies will meet next Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. E. P. Stevens will read a paper on "Alaska" at the Home missionary meeting. No pastor's class on next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGee recently celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their wedding. It was a family gathering and all the members, actual and prospective, were present. Ten years hence we friends will not allow ourselves to be excluded.

Mr. Geo. E. Vincent enters soon into a partnership with Dr. T. L. Flood, of the Chautauquan, in the publication of the books used in the C. L. S. C., course. The publishing house will be in Buffalo. May great success and riches be the reward of the new firm.

NEW JERSEY CHESS TOURNAMENT.

Mr. R. B. Keys of this City Claims the Deciding Game.

The tournament of the New Jersey Chess Association was concluded at New Brunswick on Saturday night with the championship of the State yet undecided.

At the close of the afternoon session the leaders in the first division which included the Plainfield players, stood as follows: H. N. VanDyke, Princeton, won three games; George Brown, Plainfield, two games won; C. Hymes, Newark, and R. B. Keys, Plainfield, one game won each and one draw; George Benner, Newark, three won and one lost; E. C. Williams, Orange, two won and one lost. The championship, therefore, rested between Messrs VanDyke, Brown, Keys and Hymes. The two latter were to play a game; the winner to play Brown, and the winner in that to play for the championship with VanDyke. Messrs Hymes and Keys did not conclude their game till eleven o'clock. The former won, but he had many times played very slowly, overgoing his time limit, and had been repeatedly warned of this and Mr. Keys therefore claims the game. The umpire will decide the contest, and then the two remaining games will be played at a time yet to be appointed.

The following officers were elected: President, F. C. Crane, Elizabeth; First Vice President, R. W. Pope, Elizabeth; Second Vice President, N. Hymes, Newark; Executive Committee, R. B. Keys, Plainfield; J. S. Shapter, Orange; N. Hymes, Newark. The next meeting is to be held in Elizabeth and a Secretary and Treasurer will be appointed from that city.

—The State Firemen's Exempt Association will meet at New Brunswick on May 15.

Don't sneeze, sneeze, hawk, hawk, spit, blow, and disgust everybody with your offensive breath. If you have acrid, watery discharges from the nose and eyes, throat disease, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in head, splitting headache and other symptoms of nasal catarrh, remember that the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, $500 reward for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists at only 50c.

The Street Commissioner Should Act at Once.

The attention of the Street Commissioner is called to the deplorable condition of the roadbed on Arlington avenue, from Ninth street to Cedar Brook. It is said that the driveway is in a really dangerous condition, and unless some repairs are made at once, the city may be called upon to settle some claims for damages. The avenue is without a street light from Ninth street to the brook.

—The Executive Committee of the Union County Sunday School Association held a meeting last evening.

—Justice Nash has entered judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the writ of attachment case brought by McGinley vs. O'Neill, to recover the amount of a claim.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

LIBERALS DENY IT

Mr. Chamberlain Creates a Political Sensation.

DENOUNCES A NEW COMPACT.

He Claims Gladstonians Purchase Parnell Votes by Abandoning a Principle.

The Duc d'Orleans Removed to a New Prison—Emperor William and His Swiss Conference—Rome Shaken by Earthquakes—Several Lives Lost by the Fall of a Cupola.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Mr. Chamberlain, in a letter to the "Times," denounces the new compact of the Gladstonians for the purchase of Parnell votes by the abandonment of the principle of undenominational education in favor of the Catholics.

Mr. Morley has been interviewed on the subject, and he denies that there is any such compact. He declares that he has never spoken on the subject to any member of the Parnell party.

Mr. Sexton, interviewed in regard to Mr. Chamberlain's charge of a bargain with the Irish party, echoes the explicit denial of Mr. Morley, to the effect that there is no such bargain. Mr. Chamberlain, however, persists in his story, and says that whether the compact has or has not been written, it exists all the same and was publicly made; and that in Parliament Mr. Morley will have to choose between the Catholics and the Nonconformists, and that it is impossible to please both.

FRANCE EXCITED.

The Duke D'Orleans is Giving the Government Lots of Trouble.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—The Radical members of the Chamber of Deputies upon learning of the government's intention to release the Duke of Orleans, immediately proposed that amnesty be granted to all persons found guilty of strike offenses during the past decade.

The proposal was adopted by a vote of 321 to 182.

It is believed that the proposal will cause great excitement, and that the government will oppose the motion.

It is probable that the young Duke in the meantime will be removed to the prison at Blaye Gironde.

The Duke of Orleans has been transferred from the prison in which he has been confined since his arrest to the Clairvaux prison.

The Swiss Labor Conference.

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—Another conference has taken place between Emperor William and Dr. Roth, the Swiss Minister, with reference to the Swiss Labor Conference. The Emperor contemplates a reorganization of the educational system and the introduction of a complete system of physical culture in addition to mental training.

Siberian Horror.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 25.—A Russian refugee here asserts that the adoption of the Russian extradition treaty by America would lead to an immediate increase of outrages in Siberia. An important prisoner has escaped from Siberia and is expected in Paris soon. THREE PERSONS KILLED.

The Boiler of the Tugboat Flora D. Blown it Almost to Pieces.

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 25.—The tugboat Flora D, blew up in White House bend of the Mobile River, 27 miles above Mobile.

The vessel had stopped for repairs to the engine and the captain was on the bank putting on a hawser when the boiler exploded with a terrible report, and the boat was blown almost to pieces and sank immediately.

Engineer William Grimsley and his son, a boy, were killed. The colored cook was also killed. Pilot Thomas Romell was badly cut about the head, and is now in the hospital here. The captain, Charles Hall, was slightly injured by the flying fragments of the boat.

Low water in the boiler is supposed to have been the cause, as the engineer started to pump just before the explosion occurred.

Thirty-Four Lives Lost.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 25.—A courier who has arrived from the scene of Saturday night's disaster at Walnut Grove says that thirty-one whites and three Chinamen were drowned. He describes the flood as a fearful one, and says there is no doubt that the main or upper dam gave way, and it was the torrent let loose that carried away the lower dams and swept down the valley.

THE DAM DISASTER.

No Further Details of the Damage Done or Loss of Life Received.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—No further details of the disaster at Hassayampa Creek, Arizona, have been received in this city. Wickenburg, the town said to have been overwhelmed by the flood let loose by the bursting of the dam, is a village of about one hundred inhabitants.

It is situated seventy miles south of Prescott, across a mountain range, and has no railroad or telegraph communications.

The latest advices received at Prescott were brought by a courier. He came from the dam, and said that five bodies had been identified when he left.

New Castle Jail-Breakers.

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 25.—It has just leaked out that three more prisoners broke out of jail at New Castle, making thirty-two "boarders" that Sheriff Allen has lost inside of four months. The three latest were serving time for burglary, one of them being "Bucky" McGinnis. Who the others were has not been learned, as the sheriff will not talk and the Wilmington police were not notified that the men were at large. "Bucky" has been seen in this city since his escape, but the police had no means of knowing that he was out on "business" for the sheriff.

A Murderer Captured.

QUEBEC, Feb. 25.—Rodolphe Du Bois, who murdered his wife, mother-in-law and two children in the village of St. Albans, was captured in the woods by a man named Naud, and he is held in custody until the arrival of the Provincial police, who are now on their way to the scene of the murder. Coroner Belleau has also gone to St. Albans to hold an inquest on the bodies of the victims.

Paterson, who refused to pay his fines and dues and come before the judge on a writ of habeas corpus was remanded to the custody of the officer. He hired a young man to take him to New London in a carriage and on the way chloroformed the driver. The young man was thought to be drunk and was arrested here. The forger bought a ticket for New York and left on the 3:30 train.

Saved from the Flood.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—It is learned that H. S. Van Buren, president of the Walnut Grove Storage Company, and his daughter, were at Phœnix, Ariz., when the disaster at the dam occurred and are safe. Mr. Van Buren's niece, Miss Hanlon, was at Walnut Grove, but was rescued. The company's officials in this city do not think the main dam was carried away. They say the loss will not exceed $20,000.

Mr. Marsh's bill for the appointment of a State Board of Registration and Examination of Dentists came up on third reading. The introducer said it was to prevent men practising as dentists who were unfit to do so. The bill passed.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 25.—A movement is on foot to secure the reprieve of George Clark, of Greene County, sentenced to be hanged for the murder and robbery of Drover McCausland, of Allegheny City, on the ground that the witness on whose testimony Clark was convicted was mistaken. Another man, Zach Taylor, has also been condemned for the same crime and sentenced to be hanged in April. A third is now awaiting trial, and a fourth, James Neil, was acquitted on the trial, after being convicted twice for the murder in the first degree. Later developments lead to the belief that the deceased comitted suicide. An appeal will be made to the Governor in behalf of the condemned. The conviction was entirely upon circumstantial evidence.

FLOODS AND STORMS

Reports in Regard to the Walnut Dam Confirmed.

TWENTY-FIVE BODIES FOUND.

A Wall of Water Eighty Feet High Pouring Down a Valley.

A Tennessee Town Ruined by a Cyclone. Twenty Buildings Wrecked in Texas by a Hurricane—Disastrous Floods in Ohio and Indiana—Levees Washed Out and Farmers Frightened.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Feb. 26.—The worst fears in regard to the Walnut Grove disaster are more than realized, although particulars come in slowly and are still meagre. Two prospectors arrived late last night from the Upper Dam. They say that they camped near the dam on Friday night. At about 1 o'clock on Saturday morning the dam broke, the water rushing down the narrow steep canon in a solid body 80 feet high. One man was rescued from the top of a tree. They say not even a remnant of the dam exists.

The immense body of water, one and a half miles square and 60 feet deep, was emptied in an hour. They had talked with many men from the smaller dam 15 miles below who said that up to Saturday evening 25 bodies had been recovered, but could give no additional names. The survivors were in the greatest destitution, having neither provisions or clothing. Coarse grain sacks were being used in lieu of clothing.

The camp of workmen engaged in building a dame has not been heard from at all, and it is feared that all are lost. No news has yet been received from Wickenburg or from the settlements below the dam.

Floods All Over Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 26.—Considerable damage has been done to railroad property all over Indiana by the heavy rains. In this city and vicinity several small bridges have been washed away.

The Evansville and Terre Haute Bridge over Eel River is so weakened that even foot men are not permitted on it. Franklin is pratically cut off from railroad communication.

The Pan Handle bridge over Mad River, near Columbus, Ohio, was washed out and trains on that division are compelled to go around over the Little Miami road.

Auglaise River Overflowing.

LIMA., O., Feb. 26.—There is heavy damage here from a flood. Many county bridges were swept away, and also the railroad bridge of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad. Auglaise River, running through Lima, was overflowing at 9 o'clock, causing consternation among farmers in small towns. No loss of life yet reported, but heavy damages to houses and crops.

Twenty Buildings Wrecked.

DENNISON, Feb. 26.—A terrible hurricane swept over a part of Northern Texas. The Masonic Hall in Gainesville was torn to pieces, the court house uprooted, the Santa Fe Railroad depot wrecked and 20 buildings blown down. Nobody was killed, but several persons were more or less injured. The damage will aggregate over $200,000.

Levees Washed Out.

DAYTON, O., Feb. 26.—A terrific storm flooded the rivers here. Ripraps and levees were washed out and a ten-inch natural gas main was torn away. The water of the creek shot into the air like a geyser and a column of gas resembling black smoke ascended 200 feet, terrifying the people.

A Town in Ruins.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 26.—Brownsville, a small town 10 miles east of this city, was visited by a severe cyclone this morning at half-past three, and five minutes later the town was almost in ruins.

AN APPEAL TO LIVE.

An Engineer Has a Terrible Experience on the Nickel Plate Road.

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 26.—An engineer on the Nickel Plate Road had a terrible experience. As the westbound passenger train passed the 150-feet high bridge over Walnut Creek, near Swanton, the engineer saw a man in the middle of the bridge. The train was running at the rate of forty miles an hour, and to reverse it on the bridge would have imperilled the train and its one hundred passengers.

Although the poor fellow stood wringing his hands in agony, and looked pleadingly at the engineer, the brave man at the lever kept on and sent the man into eternity rather than imperil the lives in his keeping.

The man's body was afterward fished out of the water. He was a tramp, penniless and unknown.

MURDER WILL OUT.

Burglar Swarts Confesses that He Killed Emory Thayer.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Feb. 26.—The mystery that has surrounded the murder of Emory Thayer, a farmer of Avona, Livingston, in October, 1885, has been cleared up.

Nelson Swarts made a confession of his share in the murder before a justice and implicated Edward Kuhn and Samuel Weghman, two fellow prisoners, who are also awaiting trial for burglary and assault.

The sheriff noticed that the appearance of the three men tallied with the description given by Mrs. Thayer of her husband's murderers. Mrs. Thayer visited the jail to identify them, and Swarts broke down and confessed after she left.

THE LECONEY TRIAL.

The Arguments to the Jury Commences This Morning.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 26.—The now celebrated Leconey murder case is about over and the public will soon know the result. The arguments to the jury began at 10 o'clock this morning. Prosecutor Jenkins opened for the State and will probably occupy all day. The court ruled out records the defence made an effort to introduce showing that Lingo had been a felon in three States.

The State had Garrett Murray on the stand again to prove that the chicken-coop at the Leconey farm had been moved since the morning of the murder, so as to obstruct the view at the pump. Similar testimony was given by Patrick Gallagher, a white man, who has been on the farm a number of times. Expert testimony was heard to show how the clothes found in the basket became damp.

The defendant has regained much of his former composure, but is still somewhat nervous.

A BIG BID FOR KELLY

The Great Baseball Player Refuses an Offer of $15,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Mike Kelly, it is said, has been offered $15,000 by President Spalding to join the Chicago League club this season. In addition to this amount Kelly was to receive $5,000 for his services.

In an interview Kelly said: "I have gone out with the boys and I'll stick to them. I haven't much money and this would be a small fortune to me, but my family would sooner see me without a dollar than take this money to go back on my word."

Manager Mutrie of the New York League club has announced the names of his new players. The most prominent of the members are Murphy, Welch and Tiernan, of last year's New York club; S. M. Crane, Jack Farrell and Joe Hornung. The club will leave for Charleston this evening, where a series of exhibition games will be played.

The Billiard Tournament.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—The eighth game of the billiard tournament played last night was between J. Randolph Heiser and George T. Slosson. The former played at 8-inch, and the latter at 14-inch balk-line at 300 points up. The audience was fairly up to the average. Budd Scofield acted as referee and marker. The total scores were: Slosson, 500; Heiser, 382. Highest runs: Slosson, 87 and 55; Heiser, 141 and 127. Averages: Slosson, 17 24-28; Heiser, 14 4-27.

The Fourth Party Make Nominations.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 26.—The Union, or Fourth Party, for the suppression of the liquor traffic, met in convention at Blackstone Hall and nominated these State officers: For Governor, Arnold B. Chase, of Lincoln; Lieutenant-Governor, Franklin Metcalf, of Charlestown; Secretary of State, Harlon S. Babcock, of East Providence; State Treasurer, Edward A. Green, of Lincoln. The Attorney-General will probably be nominated by the State Central Committee.

Sued for $50.000.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., Feb. 26.—James E. Carmalt, a large land owner of Montrose, and ex-District Attorney of Susquehanna, who recently made an assignment, has sued Hon. William M. Post, of Montrose, for damages amounting to $50,000. The suit is understood to grow out of Mr. Carmalt's trusteeship of an estate in which Mr. Post was auditor, on exceptions to the final accounting of the prothonotary. Mr. Post is a widely known lawyer, and has been a Democratic candidate for the State Senate.

Ice Harvesters on the Rush.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Feb. 26.—The ice harvesters are working their crews in the rain, hauling and loading ice for shipment. It is feared that if the rain continues the river will open and that contracts with Massachusetts and New York parties cannot be filled. The snow has nearly disappeared which greatly interferes with the shipment of ice.

Anderson's History Dropped.

BOSTON, Feb. 26.—The School Board last night, by a vote of 18 to 2, dropped Anderson's History from the list of text books. This is the book which has caused so much trouble in city politics for the past two years, on account of its references to religious matters. E. P. Seaver was re-elected superintendent of schools.

Sensation in Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 26.—There is a sensation here over the disappearance of Thomas H. McKinnen, a prominent renting agent, who is short several thousand dollars in his accounts. It is asserted that McKinnen left with a woman with whom he has been intimate, leaving his wife and family behind.

A Clergyman Killed by the Cars.

EAST AURORA, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Rev. J. B. Olcott, one of East Aurora's most prominent business men, was killed while crossing a railroad track near Colden. He leaves a widow, one daughter and one son, Ralph Olcott, assistant editor of the Rochester Post-Express.

Returned Part of the Money.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Vice Censor Nowak, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., who was charged with appropriating to his own use $800 with which he was to go to Rome in behalf of St. Adelbert's Polish congregation of this city, has compromised by returning $500 of the money.

He is Still at Large.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 26.—William A. Newman, the bartender who shot and killed his brother-in-law, Joseph M. Newman, is still at large.

Chicago Men Before the World's Fair Committee To-Day.

CHANGES IN THE BILL ASKED FOR

They Are Anxious to Have the National Charter Question Eliminated.

A Curious Question About the Alien Contract Law—News from the Consul at Colombia — Rear-Admiral Jouett Retired—Appointments by the President. Needs of the New Navy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Several representatives of Chicago's interests in the World's Fair matter appeared before the House Committee on the World's Fair this morning and signified their desires in regard to the general bill, which the committee will remodel and perfect in such a way as to provide for holding the fair at Chicago.

The Chicago men are anxious to have the section of the bill providing for the holding of the fair under a National charter eliminated and a substitute permitting a State incorporation inserted. They want the incorporators to be from the State of Illinois, half to be appointed by the Governor, and half by the Mayor of Chicago.

A request that a sub-committee of the World's Fair Committee be designated to visit Chicago and look over the various sites offered with a view to deciding on one of them will be made to the committee, and if the committee does not look favorably on this, then it will be asked to allow Chicago men to appear before it and make oral arguments concerning the different sites.

There is considerable talk about opposition in the Senate, the Southern members being, it is claimed, still opposed to the fair in toto. They will vote for the city having the lowest number of votes, with the object of defeating the bill when it comes up for final passage in the House.

The Southern Representatives will move to amend it by striking out the $1,500,000 appropriation for the Government exhibit, thus causing Chicago to bear the whole burden. This she is not prepared to do, as her guarantee fund was only $2,500,000 at the start, and a large portion of that has been used for lobby purposes.

Chicago realizes that and is already beginning to assert that 1892 is entirely to early to allow sufficient time to prepare for such a tremendous exhibition.

Senator Hiscock will not call the meeting of his committee until the bill comes to him from the House, and if it be not amended as stated, the Southern Senators will proceed to kill it if possible.

A CURIOUS QUESTION.

The Alien Contract Law May Keep a Minister in Canada.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Andrew A. Lewis, for Christ Street Church, Lewisburg, Pa., has asked the Treasury Department a curious question in which the scope of the alien contract labor law is involved.

A resident of Lewisburg, and a citizen of the United States removed to Canada with his family some years ago and took the oath of allegiance to the Queen. Among the members of his family was a boy who has since become a minister and his father's old friends at Lewisburg desire to call the son and minister to Christ Church and ask the Secretary of the Treasury whether if he comes, as he will with a stipulated salary per year, it will be a violation of law. It is probable that the young minister will have to remain in Canada.

MORE OFFICES FILLED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 26.—The President sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Harold M. Sewall, of Maine, to be Consul-General of the United States at Apia.

Mr. Carnegie's Banquet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Andrew Carnegie gave an elaborate banquet last night at the Arlington to the President, Vice-President, members of the Cabinet and the Pan-American delegates. Covers were laid for 50. The viands and the decorations were superb. The wine cellars of all Europe had been ransacked for beverages of the choicest vintage, while the meats were imported from England, Scotland and Germany. Music was furnished by Mme. Decca and other artistes. The menu was of papier-maché, engraved with the names of the host and the guests.

Death of Mrs. Robert Lowry.

Yesterday afternoon at her home on Ninth street, occurred the death of Mrs. Robert Lowry, wife of the Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry, the widely-known writer of sacred music. Although Mrs. Lowry had been seriously ill for some months, many of her friends were hopeful of her recovery, and the sad news of her death is a great shock to a large number of people.

Mrs Lowry was the eldest daughter of the late Rev. Benjamin Loxley, of the First Baptist church of Philadelphia. She was a lady of rare sweetness of character, and prominent in every good enterprise. Her loss is mourned by a wide circle of devoted friends, and the warmest sympathy is expressed for her bereaved family.

The funeral will take place from the house, No. 124 Madison avenue, on Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Bring Back These Plates.

At the close of the Bicycle Club's fair on Saturday night last, several cakes which remained unsold were auctioned off, the purchasers being permitted to take the plate with the cake so as to preserve it. There are still a few of these plates that have not yet been returned to the club house. As they are the property of the donators of the cakes the club would like to have them returned.

WRECK AT BERCKMAN STREET.

One Coal Train Crashes Into Another With Damaging Results—The Engineer and Fireman Jump from the Cab and Escape With Slight Injuries—The Accident Due to the Fog.

A bad wreck occurred on the Central Railroad, at the Berckman street crossing in this city, about midnight, which resulted in the wreckage of a locomotive and a half dozen coal cars.

At that time an empty West-bound coal train was passing through this city, when engine No. 326, also attached to a West-bound train ran into the rear end of the forward train, telescoping the caboose and piling up six cars. Some of the cars were thrown down a fifteen-foot embankment, while others were thrown promiscuously on the main tracks, delaying travel until 5 o'clock this morning.

The headlight, stack and cab were torn completely from No. 326 Engine, and hurled to the foot of the embankment. The engineer and fireman jumped from the cab, escaping serious injury. The engineer, however, was cut about the throat and forehead. Dr. J. T. Fritts dressed the wounds, and the unfortunate man was taken to his home at Mauch Chunk on the paper train. One of the brakemen on the forward train was also slightly injured about the body.

A wrecking crew was sent up from Elizabeth, and by nine o'clock this morning the North siding or fourth track, where the accident occurred, was again opened for travel. The wreck was due wholly to the heavy fog which prevailed at the time.

The condition of Assessor Isaac Brokaw of North Plainfield, continues to improve, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. On Saturday night Dr. H. Holbrook Curtis of New York, was in consultation with Dr. J. T. Fritts of this city, but the result of the consultation was not stated. It is to be hoped that Mr. Brokaw will rapidly regain his health.

Fell From a Bridge.

Ernest Muck, a resident of Hillside avenue, fell from the Berckman street railroad bridge about half-past twelve o'clock this morning and fractured a leg. He was returning from New York on the 12:43 A. M. train, and at Berckman street the train was obliged to stop on account of the wreck of a coal train. He started to walk home when he fell from the bridge with the above result.

The injured man was taken to his home in a carriage, where a physician set the broken bone.

AMATEUR MINSTRELSY.

LAST NIGHT'S PERFORMANCE A PRONOUNCED SUCCESS.

The Members of the Crescent League In Burnt Cork Specialties—The Gross Receipts Over $700.

The amateur minstrel entertainment given in Music Hall, last evening, by members of Plainfield Crescent League, was one of the most successful that has ever been given in this city. Not a seat was to be obtained three days after the sale began, and last night, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was standing room only.

The first part of the programme was exceedingly good. The jokes were bright and fresh, and under the skillful supervision of Mr. Ed. Marble, gathered a professional swing which they might otherwise have lacked. The overture was good, and the solos by Messrs Charles P. Rogers, Robert Gorton, A. L. Camancho, Elmer E. Runyon, B. T. Barnes and Geo. A. Homan, with their concerted refrains were well chosen and very pleasing. Those of Messrs Robert Gorton and E. E. Runyon were the most artistically rendered, while that of Mr. Camancho was the most amusing. In fact it was worth the price of admission to hear the latter sing "All Over." The double quartette, without accompaniment, rendered by Messrs E. E. Runyon, M. VanArsdale, C. Teel, Geo. Stevens, B. T. Barnes, R. Gorton, C. P. Rogers and F. R. F. Huntsman, was excellent and received a deserved recall. Mr. Geo. P. Taggart's "temporary insanity" was a masterpiece of true negro delineation, and furnished much merriment for the audience.

The banjo selections by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Jenkins, assisted by their little pupil, Master Dunn, gave pleasure to the audience, and proved that something good can come from Somerville. Mr. Camancho, as a ventriloquist, was as successful as in his other work, and afforded the audience much amusement. The entertainment closed with a take-off on the Common Council, and contained some bright hits upon the failings of the city fathers.

Mr. Marble is to be congratulated on the success of the entertainment, as, through his efforts, the performers were instructed and coached. That the members of the League appreciated his efforts in their behalf was evident from the fact that a large number of them tendered him a serenade at Miller Brothers' Hotel after the performance, to which he responded in a few complimentary remarks regarding the performers and the members in general. The League was fortunate in securing this gentleman's services in their instruction. Mr. Marble has had long experience in the minstrel business, and his many friends will be pleased to learn that in June next he commences an engagement with the famous Geo. Thatcher, of Thatcher, Primrose & West fame, who starts out in that month with a company of his own, which will excel all others on the road

Financially the entertainment was a grand success, over $700 being the amount of the total receipts. The League will realize about $500 in round numbers from the entertainment.

The Crescent Avenue Church Concert.

To all lovers of good music the concert which is to be given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church on Saturday evening (of which notice appears in another column) will be a rare treat. No pains have been spared in the selection of artists, and the programme is one which can hardly be excelled. The duett, Venetian boat song, which is to be sung by Miss Hallenbeck and Miss Simms, was rendered by the same ladies last Winter at a Composers Club concert, where were assembled such men as VonBulow and Richard Hoffman, and it received a double recall.

The quartette from "Rigoletto," which is to be given by Misses Hallenbeck and Simms, and Messrs Courtney and Rice, also received a double encore at a large concert in Saratoga, last Summer.

CONCERNING THE SCOTCH PLAINS SCHOOL.

The Action of the Trustees and the Advisory Committee Sanctioned by One Who Knows What He is Talking About.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Dear Sir: My attention has just been called to a communication in your paper of February 20, written by David P. Hall, in which he says:

"The animus of the article (referring to a prevous article in your paper) would seem to be that 'Fanwood' architects and builders were not employed"—i. e., employed to build the new school building now being erected near Scotch Plains, in Fanwood township.

Now, we have no builders residing in Fanwood, and as I am the only architect, I must be the one to whom he refers. If I am, he certainly ought to have been more charitable towards one who gave him so much assistance in preparing the "provisional plans"—for which, by the way, the Trustees have not even given me a vote of thanks—and aiding him in obtaining estimates to base his report, which was presented to the District at the April meeting.

As to "animus," I have none. If it were the pleasure of the Trustees and the Advisory Committee to select an architect not a resident or a taxpayer of the township, they were at liberty to do so, and the small obligation under which they were to me, ought not to be considered, as it was a business transaction, and if as I am informed, the plans were presented to the Board we, the residents, should certainly congratulate ourselves upon the saving of this expense.

I have seen the school building but twice since it has been enclosed and have not been able to inspect it at all.

I agree with Mr. Hall as to the standing of the architects Messrs McKim, Mead & White, as professionally, I know them to be second to none in the country.

Yours respectfully,
CLARENCE W. SMITH.

Fanwood, February 25, 1890.

THE ROT'S CLUB.

An Encouraging Report by the Chairman of the Collection Committee.

The one hundred names which are being obtained to warrant the organization of a boy's club in this city, have been nearly all secured, over eighty names being already on the list. Besides the money they represent, workers are in embryo for the society now started. Mrs. W. L Patton, Chairman of the Collection Committee, states:

"We are pleased that such men as Mr. G. Wharton Edwards and Mr. Leo. Daft are interested and have given their names as subscribers and workers. In advance we can see the delight of the boys, while they follow the artist in his delineations, to say nothing of the elevating influence upon them; we see their enthusiasm when the wonders of electricity are explained to them and their amusement over the magic lantern, exhibited by such an enterprising citizen.

"Any who have names for money or work, please send them without delay to the Chairman of the Collection Committee. As we approach the desired number, our excitement increases, and we want to waste no time in announcing 'obtained.'

"MRS W. L PATTON,
"Chairman Collection Com.,
"26 East Ninth street."

REFORM HALL AGAIN FILLED.

A Very Large and Enthusiastic Gathering.

There was a large and enthusiastic gathering in Reform Hall last evening, at the third in the series of gospel temperance meetings which Mr. Joseph English is conducting there. President Harper was in the chair.

After the service of song, led by Mr. H. J. Martin, Mr. English read the scripture lesson, and the Rev. C. B. Mitchell offered a most beautiful and touching prayer. Mr. English followed with one of his striking and instructive addresses, flashing with humor, but at times interspersed with serious and improving thought. He took for his text: "Faith, Hope and Charity," and for an hour he held the audience spell-bound. To appreciate Mr. English one must hear him.

The meetings will continue every evening this week.

Plainfield's Art Treasures.

For its size it is doubtful if many cities can compare with Plainfield in the riches of its art treasures. The coming loan exhibition which opens at the Art Gallery next Thursday, is both a result and proof of this fact, for notwithstanding the several former loan exhibitions, the pictures shown in this will be new to the public, and with few exceptions they have been gathered from the homes of Plainfield.

I heartily recommend Salvation Oil for neuralgia, for it acts like a charm. J S McCAULLEY, (Policeman,) Residence 205 N. Bond street, Balto., Md.

—There were thirty-one scholars present at the night school, for men, in the High School building, last evening.

Good-wife Grundle grieves and groans,
Day and night with sighs and moans
Wears her life away.
Good-wife Gayheart sings and smiles;
Time, the gray old thief, beguiles;
Keeps as fresh as May.

The two women are of the same age, but Good-wife Grundle looks fully fifteen years the older. She is the victim of ills which might be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Pain and low spirits are her constant companions Good-wife Gayheart, thanks to the "Prescription," enjoys perfect health and seems to grow more young, vivacious and agreeable every day. There is nothing equal to this remedy.

WASHINGTONVILLE WRINKLES.

Hoisting the Stars and Stripes on the School House—Other Items of a Diversified Nature Which Take the Attention of the Residents There.

The school flag was raised on the pole erected for it by Mr. Wm. Spencer, on the 22d inst., where it proudly floated to the breeze. This is the grand old flag that used to float from the school-house staff during the trying times of the war on receipt of the news of the victories of our armies. Many of the boys in this section donned the blue uniform to fight their country's battles. Many anxious folks at home watched the flag-staff on the old white school house to see if the flag still floated there. It told its own story of triumph or defeat, from the firing of the first gun at Fort Sumpter to the surrender at Appomattox Court House Many are the associations clustered around the old flag. Some of the boys that left it floating when they went with their regiments, found it waving them a welcome home upon their victorious return four years afterwards.

Willie Menegar met with a serious accident Friday by the glancing of an axe off a log, the bit of the axe striking him on the ankle, cutting the bone. The unfortunate boy was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital where he is receiving skillful treatment from the attending physicians. He has no relatives in this country who take any interest in him. His parents, being poor subjects in Germany, sent their boy to this country that he might grow up with it and share the advantages to be found in America, or at least, escape their hard lot. The boy is still confined to the hospital.

There has been no ice for skating nor any snow for sleigh-riding parties, but Cupid has been busy just the same. A little bird has told of some plighted troths that have taken place, but which THE PRESS promised not to divulge until the proper time, while one young man expects to wed a Harlem lady in the near future. No cards.

The bell on the new Mary E. Wilson chapel has been heard over two miles away. The largest attendance at any session of the Sunday school took place last Sunday, when the scholars met at the school house and marched in a body over to the handsome new chapel, singing as they went. The total attendance was 103.

The many friends of John Simpson, who has been confined to the hospital for the past two months, will be glad to know that he is again able to be among his friends, although somewhat weak from the effects of his illness, typhoid pneumonia.

Mr. M. H. French, who has run the Valley Mill for almost half a century, contemplates giving up business and removing to Plainfield, where he may be near his children. He thinks he has earned a rest.

Mrs. George Demler is confined to her home by illness, bordering on pneumonia.

Miss Lizzie Milligan of Brooklyn, N. Y., has been visiting the Misses Demler.

A NEW RELIGIOUS BODY ORGANIZED.

And Rev. J. W. Mitchell Extended a Call to the Pastorate.

The late troubles of the Mt. Olive church have resulted in a split of that church. The friends of the Rev. Mr. Mitchell met on Monday night in the hall over Stelle's drug store, corner of Park avenue and Front street, and organized themselves into a religious body to be known for the present as "The Emanuel Baptist Mission" The object of this body is to labor for the salvation of souls and to do all in their power to advance the cause of their Redeemer.

The meeting was of a very pleasant character being deeply characterized by the Master's spirit.

After the organization it was resolved to extend a call to the Rev. Mr. Mitchell to become their pastor.

This motion was carried without a dissenting voice. The Rev. Mr. Mitchell is considering the call and will no doubt accept.

The motive assigned by these people for starting this new interest is a desire for peace, and the enjoyment of their rights and privileges according to the usage of Baptist churches.

Service will be held in the same hall, Sabbath evening at 7:45 o'clock and will continue until further notice.

Entrance on Front street, first door from entrance to Stelle's drug store.

Deposed on Account of Color Blindness.

Several months ago half a dozen engineers on the Central Railroad of New Jersey were deposed on account of color blindness and given positions as firemen and yardmen. The matter was laid before the Brotherhood's Grievance Committee, who called on General Superintendent Olhausen a few days ago to have the men restored. Mr. Olhausen refused to comply with the demand on the ground that color blindness with engineers might cause accidents, and he insisted on the company's rules touching that question being enforced.

Teachers' Examination.

The next regular quarterly examination of teachers for Union County will be held at Westfield on Saturday at 9:30 o'clock A. M., having been postponed from last Saturday by order of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

A MECHANIC of Reading, Pa., has invented a clockwork arrangement for street lamps, which turns off the lights when the moon is up, and starts them on again as the luminary disappears.

A LITTLE girl only six years old arrived in San Francisco from New York a few days ago, wholly unattended, with a tag pinned to her dress requesting that she might be well cared for on the way. She had no money, and was wholly dependent on charity. She was living with an aunt in New York, and her father, who lives in San Francisco, sent for her.

MAYOR FITLER, of Philadelphia, lately received a complaint which he says he is going to have framed. The complainant is a woman, a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and her grievance is that the streets are kept too clean. There isn't dirt enough on the cobble-stones, she says, to give the poor horses a secure foothold.

RECENTLY a party of hunters in the neighborhood of Fairfield, Ia., brought to town in a wagon 847 rabbits, which they had shot in a day's hunt. Another party brought in 150, and it is a common thing for single hunters to capture twenty to thirty in a day. The country is overrun with the pests, and much damage to fruit trees and vines is the result.

THE value of cracker boxes, apple barrels, stationery boxes, etc., as a matrimonial agency for persons engaged in packing them has long been known. Eggs must now be added to the list. Early last summer a young girl at Summerside, Prince Edward Island, wrote her name and address upon an egg, which found its way to Boston, Mass. It fell into the hands of a young Bostonian, and a marriage has been the result.

RUSSIAN CRUELTIES

Fifty Prisoners Kill Themselves to Escape Torture.

WORKINGMEN SPIRITED AWAY.

Taken to the Salt Mines at Cracow and Treated Barbarously.

England to be Represented at the Berlin Labor Conference—Minister Lincoln's Son Dying—Spain's Infant King Again Very Sick—Seventy Infants Found Murdered in a Midwife's Home.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Dispatches from Russia say that a strike in Russia is in truth a revolt and is treated as such by the authorities.

Facts have come to light which show the terrible punishment dealed out to the striking workingmen.

A falling off in trade called proprietors of certain large mills to discharge a number of men.

When this became known a raving crowd of semi-savage workingmen gathered about the mills and destroyed valuable property. The police dispersed them.

During the night 50 of the ringleaders were spirited away The men then prayed for mercy.

It is learned that 50 men were taken to the salt mines at Cracow, where they were scourged, and treated so barbarously that they sought death as a release. The whole 50 committed suicide.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Senator Werts' Ballot Reform Bill Before the Committee.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 26.—Senator Werts laid before the Committee on Ballot Reform his draft of the bill on which had been at work for two weeks. The committee did not adopt the bill at once, as it is very voluminous, but it was ordered printed.

The Three-year-term bill in favor of Freeholders in third and fourth counties was reconsidered and tabled.

Sewed up in his clothes were £5,000 in English bank notes, and diamonds worth a large sum of money. He refused to tell how he acquired the wealth, and the police could learn nothing as to his antecedents. The money and valuables are in charge of Warden Grimes of Snake Hill Penitentiary.

Secret Colored Political Society.

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 26.—It is reported that there is in existence a secret political society of colored people, called the "First Grand Independent Brotherhood." Its object is to settle the negroes in Oklahoma as numerously as possible, so that the race will have control of Oklahoma when it becomes a State. The white men will then be compelled to recognize the negroes as equals, or keep out of Oklahoma. It is said that a remarkably large number of colored people are already in the Territory.

Workmen Leaving Nashua.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 26.—The operatives of the Nashua Company's mills manifested their determination to hold out against the reduction of wages in the most decisive manner, and under Treasurer Amory's recently posted ultimatum the hands were to be given a final opportunity to return to work. If this was disregarded the mills were to be closed. The employes failed to respond, and after a brief wait, the mills were shut down indefinitely. The operatives are leaving town in large numbers by every train.

The following were among the bills introduced: Increasing the pay-roll of the Flatbush Fire Department; Locating the office of Chief Game Protector in New York city; Repealing the Act authorizing the election of a Police Justice at Fishkill Landing and the building of a jail.

ST. LOUIS SORE.

An Opinion that Bad Management Lost the World's Fair.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 26.—The Globe-Democrat says: "The result will not be a surprise to those who have watched the tactics of Chicago's representatives at Washington and elsewhere during the last month—mostly at Albany, N. Y., where they worked most earnestly to promote dissension among the advocates of New York's selection. It would be an ungracious task to undertake, right in the shade of our defeat, to discuss the personal causes which led to that defeat.

For the present the general term bad management will suffice, and under this may be included the allegation of too much wind and too little work. St. Louis has lost a cause which she ought to have won. She had in her favor all the elements which should have achieved victory for her, natural and geographical. She never ought to have had a rival except New York, which had the claim of the sea-coast as a bid for foreigners and the advantages of great wealth with which to menace the claims of other aspirants."

KILLED IN A WRECK.

A Chicago Express Train Goes Through a Bridge Near Evansville, Ind.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 26.—The fast passenger train that left here last night for Chicago was wrecked above Vincennes by the giving away of a bridge over a small stream. The whole train, excepting the sleeper, went through into the water and mud.

Catholic Poles Repent.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 26.—A great crowd of Poles surrounded Bishop Ryan's residence in this city and several were admitted to an audience. They asked the Bishop to give them another priest in place of the one he had appointed and to take them back into the fold of good Catholics. The Poles admitted their error in opposing the will of the church and submitted, asking that Father Powler, whom they assert is opposed to their interests, be removed and another appointment made. The Bishop took the matter under consideration.

Arguing Kemmler's Case.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 26.—Burke Cochran argued Kemmler's case before the Court of Appeals. He made a strong plea against electrical execution. He said that the penalty is one that comes strictly under constitutional prohibition. No man knows the exact current needed to kill and no means has been discovered of causing immediate death. The constitutional inhibition of cruel or unusual punishment renders any law passed by the Legislature in violation of its provisions unconstitutional and void.

Suffered from Melancholy.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 26.—Rev. Frank Kahler, of Southington, Conn., who committed suicide near Allentown, Pa., Sunday, was educated at the University of Pennsylvania, and at Yale. There is no prospect that "The Nonpariel" will be given an opportunity to win back his lost laurels.

IS MINNICK INSANE?

Committed to an Asylum Under Strange Circumstances.

CLAIMS IT IS A CONSPIRACY

He Makes a Serious Charge Against a Minister of Monongahela City.

The Clergyman Says He Has Not Been Guilty of Indiscretions—Prominent Citizens Assert the Man Imprisoned is Not Crazy—The Doctors Say He is Insane from Unwarranted Jealousy.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 27.—Mr. Wm. Minnick, a well-known resident of Braddock, Pa., has been committed to the Dixmont Asylum for Insane, under very peculiar circumstances.

Mr. Minnick had charged Rev. J. T. Reiley, a Methodist minister, of Monongahela City, with paying improper attentions to Mrs. Minnick during a period of six years. Minnick also accused his wife with receiving improper attentions from several other men and had addressed letters to certain individuals threatening to shoot them if their attentions th his wife did not cease at once.

Dr. Sandels, of Braddock, and Dr. McCord, of South Pittsburg, signed the commitment of Minnick, stating that Minnick was insane from unwarranted jealousy.

While on the train en route for Dixmont, Minnick vigorously resisted the officers in charge, protesting that he was not crazy, but was the victim of a conspiracy to get him out of the way.

Several prominent citizens of Braddock, neighbors of Minnick, were interviewed to-day, and agree that Minnick is not insane. Some of them openly charge Rev. Mr. Riley and others with indiscreet actions with Mrs. Minnick.

Rev. Mr. Riley says that he has not been guilty of any indiscretion, that he had nothing to do with sending Minnick to Dixmont, and that he does not know whether he is insane, but he does know that he is unjustifiably jealous.

Rev Mr. Eaton, of Braddock, states that Minnick engaged in prayer in his church last Sunday evening, and that his prayer was not that of an insane man. Squire Lewis, and others, of Braddock, are taking measures to have Mr. Minnick examined and, if possible, removed from the asylum.

Braddock is all excitement over the event.

EVA'S SURPRISE.

She Has Decided to Contest Robert Ray Hamilton's Suit for Divorce.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 27.—It is learned on good authority that Eva, the wife of Robert Ray Hamilton, has decided to contest the latter's suit for divorce to the bitter end.

Her counsel, Col. Charles W. Fuller, had a consultation with the fair Eva and will go to Elmira and begin the taking of testimony on her behalf on Monday next. The Colonel is very reticent as to the nature of the evidence, but it is rumored that matters of a very sensational character are likely to come out.

This action on the part of Eva is a surprise, as it was believed that when the evidence was taken at Elmira in behalf of her husband it was so strongly in his favor she would not oppose the suit.

Desperate Attempt to Escape.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Early in the morning a desperate attempt was made by six prisoners to escape from Randall's Island. The leaders of the mutineers were Frank McClelland and James Riley. They knocked down the night guard, Jonah Ketcham, and bound, gagged and robbed him. An alarm was given and a thorough search made in the fog and darkness for the desperate men. After an hour's search McClelland and Riley were found on the water front, and shortly afterward the other four men were discovered.

Trying to Defeat Austin Corbin.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—Petitions to the Common Pleas Court are being circulated for signatures among the holders of Reading Railroad securities, asking that the voting trusteeship be annulled, or that Austin Corbin's membership thereof be abrogated, on the ground that he is interested in a rival road—the Jersey Central. The anti-Corbin party are very active, and claim that they are on the road to victory.

Forming a Rubber Trust.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Representatives of all the manufacturers of rubber goods in the United States met at the Windsor Hotel to-day. The formation of a trust was discussed, and it is stated by one of those present that the details of the agreement will be completed this afternoon. It is said that no raw rubber is being gathered in Para, and that the prices of rubber must shortly advance very sharply.

Killed While Boarding a Car.

CHURCHES SET ON FIRE.

Incendiaries Create Panic and Alarm Among Congregations in Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 27.—There is consternation among the several congregations in this city on account of the recent attempts to burn a number of the leading churches.

Two weeks ago incendiaries fired the Memorial Union Baptist Church in Boas street and the Fourth Street Bethel of the Church of God; but the flames were discovered in time to prevent serious damage.

These fires were started during the evening service and while the houses of worship were filled with people. A panic at the church on Boas street was only averted by the prompt action of the sexton. Yesterday an attempt was made to destroy the Reformed Salem Church, at Third and Chestnut streets, which was almost successful. About 5 o'clock an an aged lady, living near the church, was aroused by the smell of smoke and she informed a policeman, who at once sounded an alarm.

This early discovery of the fire was the only reason that the entire edifice was not consumed. As it is, the interior of the lecture room is ruined, and with other damages the loss will not be less than $1,500.

PROTESTED HIS INNOCENCE.

No Trouble Over the Execution of George Clark at Waynesburg.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Feb. 27.—George Clarke passed a very bad night preceding the execution. At the gallows he said: "I have nothing to say more than that I am innocent and pay the penalty of my innocence. I die with no ill-will toward any one in this country or any other country. I hope that God will forgive me." He then kissed Rev. Mr. Maxwell, the sheriff, his son, two physicians and the executioner.

The black cap was then adjusted, the rope placed about his neck and the drop fell. He was dead in 12 minutes.

There were probably 3,000 visitors in town, but there was not the slightest indication of disturbance.

Rumors About Dr. McGlynn.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Rumors regarding Dr. McGlynn's status with the Roman Catholic Church are again rife. Some of the Doctor's friends, who claim to be well informed, say that he has asked Bishop Loughlin, of Brooklyn, in whose diocese he now resides, to act as an intermediary with the powers at Rome in an effort to have the ban placed upon him removed. His admirers profess to believe that Dr. McGlynn will shortly be reinstated as a priest of the Church in good standing.

Slosson Defeats Ives.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—In the ninth game of the handicap billiard tournament at Chickering Hall last evening Slosson and Ives struggled for supremacy. Slosson played at 14-inch balk-line and Ives at the 8-inch balk-line. John F. Donavan was chosen referee. The score was as follows: Slosson, 500; average, 26 6-19; Ives, 448; average, 23 11-19. Schaefer and Daly play this evening.

Miners and Mules Imprisoned by Fire.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Feb. 27.—Fire broke out in the stables of the Cameron colliery slope, five hundred yards below the surface. Two miners working in a deeper portion of the slope are shut in. Rescuing parties are assisting them with fair prospects of reaching them through an old opening. There are about fifty mules in the stables, and it is feared they have all suffocated.

Pittsfield's School Trouble.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Feb. 27.—The school committee sustained the action of Principal Welsh of the High School in dismissing six pupils who declined to study in the history class, because of the way the Reformation period was treated in the text book. The book committee was, however, instructed to investigate the alleged unfairness of the chapters objected to.

Negotiating for Eleven Coal Mines.

RIMERSBURG, Pa., Feb. 27.—The Bell, Lewis and Yates Mining Company, of Buffalo, is here negotiating for all the 11 coal mines along the Sligo branch of the Allegheny Valley Railroad. The property embraces 10,000 acres. It is the intention of the company to make Rimersburg its headquarters. The purchases are exciting great interest.

The Leconey Murder Trial.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 27.—During Prosecutor Jenkins' argument for the State in the Leconey murder trial the mother of the murdered girl frequently wept. Leconey appeared indifferent, but the nerve he has manifested throughout the trial is evidently on the point of breaking down. The prosecutor will finish his plea to-day.

A Servant Girl Commits Suicide.

ANDOVER, Mass., Feb. 27.—The body of Jessie Hodge, aged 18, a girl of good reputation, employed as a domestic in the family of George W. Stover, was found in a field near the house, with a bullet hole just over the heart. She had committed suicide, using her employer's revolver. No adequate cause can be assigned for the act.

ABOUT ELECTIONS IN ARKANSAS

Idaho's Star Rising to a Place in the National Flag.

Washington World Fair Boomers Working up a New Scheme—Maine Secures a Contract for Constructing Iron Gunboats—General Grubb Secures Passports for Bermuda.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire, is unfortunate in his relations on the floor of the Senate with his colleagues from the South. He presented a petition from Union County, Ark., representing that at the State election there in September, 1888, a systematic reign of terror prevailed; that armed and reckless mobs paraded the county night and day terrorizing whites and shooting and whipping colored voters; that schools and churches had been demoralized and ballot boxes carried off, and asking for the protection guaranteed by the constitution.

Mr. Harris, of Tennessee, elicited by an interrupting question the statement from Mr. Chandler that he was reading a brief of the contents of the petition, and Mr. Harris claimed that he was violating the rules. Mr. Berry, of Arkansas, asked Mr. Chandler if he himself had prepared the brief, and on being answered in the affirmative, said: "I thought so. It is not a petition, but a collection of rot and filth which the Senator has collected himself."

After disclaiming any wish to violate the rules of the Senate Mr. Chandler said he was only sorry that the Senator from Tennessee should not have taken occasion to comment on the practice of making full statements of petitions on some other petition than one that concerned the rights of citizens.

The Vice-President having ruled that Mr. Chandler had the right to complete the reading of his paper, Mr. Berry said: "If it comes from the Senator from New Hampshire himself I do not think it can injure either the State of Arkansas or the people of Arkansas. Therefore, I have no objection." Mr. Chandler retorted ironically: "I am very much obliged to the Senator from Arkansas for the pleasure of being informed that a petition on this subject can be presented in the Senate of the United States with the consent of the Senator from Askansas."

The statement was then completed, and the petition, with several others from Arkansas on the same subject, was referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

A NEW SCHEME.

Washington Working for a Grand Fete in that City in '92.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The World's Fair supporters of this city, crushed by their defeat, are now moving a postponement of the date to 1893. This is coupled with a plan for a grand national fete at Washington in 1892. A formal celebration here, and the Fair later at Chicago.

They proposed at a meeting Tuesday night that an International celebration be held at the National Capital in 1892, in commemoration of the four-hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, and that the President of the United States appoint a Governmental commission of ten members in equal numbers from each of the two principal political parties, to formulate and superintend the execution of a plan for such celebration. That the plan shall include the enlargement of the National Museum into a Three Americas Museum, to remain as a memorial building in commemoration of that great historical event, and as a repository of the antiquities and history of the Western Hemisphere.

A memorial bridge across the Potomac to commemorate the formation and perpetuation of the Union. A statue of Columbus, to be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on Oct. 12, 1892, and that the President invite the participation of all nations of the world and all States and Territories of the United States to visit and join in the ceremonies attending the celebration and the unveiling of the statue of Columbus.

Philadelphians Call on the President.

WASHINGTON Feb. 27.—An excursion party, members of the Philadelphia Produce Exchange, numbering about three hundred, arrived here from the Quaker City for a two days' visit. They called at the President's mansion and paid their respects to President Harrison, who received them in the large East Room. After the President had shaken hands with the entire party, it dispersed and began a tour of the city to visit the many points of interest to visitors here.

—Oh! for a Y. M. C. A. building.

—Some one has observed that tall men rarely grow bald. They generally marry short women.

—The Ladies Bible training class will meet to-morrow (Friday,) at 4 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A., rooms. All ladies are welcome.

—The bicyclists, especially in the side streets, seem to think they only have the right of way on the foot paths: The law thinks otherwise.

—Mr. A. C. LaBoyteaux will lead the young men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday at 4:15 P. M. The boy choir will lead the singing.

—Afflictions never come singly. Before la grippe loosens its hold upon the country, announcement is made that hoopskirts are to be worn again.

—The State convention of the Y. M. C. A. of New Jersey, will be held at Morristown, March 13 to 16. Information may be obtained at the Association rooms.

—The case of the State vs. Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, for an alleged assault upon Mr. Noah W. Pike, came up before Justice Nash this afternoon. Testimony was taken after which the Justice dismissed the complaint.

—Lest anyone who failed to attend the Crescent League Minstrels should be deceived, we would say that the statement in the news that "the curtain arose singing" is altogether erroneous and misleading. Like the swans in the City Park, the Music Hall curtain doesn't know how to sing.

—Professor (?) Haywood, whose surname is Moses, has left Plainfield for Plainfield's good, and to the sorrow of numerous creditors. No more will he trip the light fantastic toe with arm encircled about some Plainfield beauty's waist, in his endeavors to teach her the mazy waltz.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The funeral of the late wife of Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry, who died on Tuesday, will take place from her late home, corner of Madison avenue and Ninth street, to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

HIMSELF THE QUEEREST FREAK.

Some Comments Concerning an Aspiring Genius and His Side Show.

To the Editor of The Press: When we contemplate the consequent sideshow produced by the aspiring genius from the Borough, we feel deeply grateful to the Crescent League for not proceeding with their minstrels till they were certain that the aspiring genius was in the house. Had it not been that this gentle and genial critic heroically thrust himself forward to voice the opinion of the "fine," but "dissatisfied" audience, what suffering because of unexpressed displeasure would have followed!

It is almost the day for the minstrel show, when there appears on the scene a man with a wounded heart. He hears that the great brutal men on the stage intend to crack a horrid joke at his expense. He pleads, and possibly threatens. The inexorable minstrels argue that in amateur minstrelsy the public expects local satire, and urge that all men whose skin is too soft to stand an occasional abrasion ought to retire from public life. The aspiring genius from the suburbs of the Borough is visited. To him he takes his heart and exhibits its perforations. "I bleed! I bleed"—a voice cries out—"for wounded vanity, dishonored pride, shattered mental quietude." The aspiring genius ponders. Has not he himself been slighted, insulted, disgraced? Why had he not been granted admission to the Crescent League? Why had his prerogative in the matter of free tickets not been given unabridged and satisfactory attention? Was there not occasion for him to rebel against constant blackballing?

It is the night of the performance. The hall is thronged with people. The aspiring genius is visibly present, but holds himself apart from the common herd He wraps himself in the mantle of the music of his own soul and listens to the humming of creation's spheres and to the histrionic curtain as it "arises singing." He waits till the glimmer of the footlights is extinct, when, mid the gloom of a midnight fog, he dips his pen in bitterest gall and inscribes his most tangible thoughts.

At the height of this communion with his muse, what memories throng before him! The sacred embryo of the soldiers monument has just been "lampooned," and he and his brethren in misery have had to listen to insults "personal," "coarse," "exceedingly stupid," "offensive," "repugnant," "disgraceful." He recalls the "slurs," the "exceedingly bad taste," the Plainfielders who "condescended to make fools of themselves." He sees again, in his mind's eye, those driveling idiots who had not granted him admission to fellowship in their ranks; he breathes to Heaven a fervent prayer that in the future people "with common-sense" will control "such affairs."

His blood "boils with indignation" as there again recurs to his mind that "insult to the soldiers." The soldiers—and he was one of them! Was he not? Had he not enlisted when a "boy in years" but a "man in stature?" Had he not been chosen "pet of the regiment?" Had he not saved both his country and himself at various stages of the Civil War? Who was it that had won the "Battle of Weldon Railroad" if not himself? Who was it that had kept Rebel prisons flourishing but the youthful patriot, the unkilled Ellsworth, the present aspiring genius? Had he not conducted himself throughout the war so that at its close he could pat himself on the breast for his valor, and courage and heroism? Had he not returned to the ranks of civil life with so open a record, with so much personal nobility, that the members of the Grand Army of the Republic held him too exalted for membership in their mean order, and the Masonic brotherhood forced on him the conclusion that he ought not to tarnish his reputation by associating fraternally with them? Look at his position in society! And now the venom of these present insults! How trodden under foot had been the men to whom he seemed to owe everlasting fealty, the creatures to which he appeared willing to toady in absolute allegiance! He would resent, resent, resent! In the dim past he had had occasion to pose as a favorable critic, but that had concerned a "lecture" by himself; this was a thing far different, and he must show his disfavor.

The sideshow of the aspiring genius is still open. Who shall say that to those who have devoted themselves to the study of the nature and habits of various animals the most prominent feature, the queerest freak, of the exhibition, is not the aspiring genius himself?

Either Silver or Bills are Acceptable.

No one need forego the pleasure of visiting the Loan Exhibition at the Art Gallery, which begins this evening, because of having failed to be interviewed by one of the Art Committee, and persuaded to buy a ticket. A silver half-dollar, or even a National bank bill, will answer every purpose if presented at the door.

Good-wife Grundle grieves and groans,
Day and night with sighs and moans
Wears her life away.
Good-wife Gayheart sings and smiles;
Time, the gray old thief, beguiles;
Keeps as fresh as May.

The two women are of the same age, but Good-wife Grundle looks fully fifteen years the older. She is the victim of ills which might be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Pain and low spirits are her constant companions. Good-wife Gayheart, thanks to the "Prescription," enjoys perfect health and seems to grow more young, vivacious and agreeable every day. There is nothing equal to this remedy.

A Row of Handsome Houses.

Perhaps a more desirable residence place could not be found either in this city or North Plainfield at the present time, than in one of the cosy houses just completed by Mrs. Julia Peck on Grove street. Many people have heretofore had an idea that the row of buildings were designed and erected for flats, but this is a mistaken idea. Although collectively built, the houses are separate and contain fourteen rooms each, including a basement and staircase hall. The dimensions are 22x49 feet.

The interior of the buildings, which are light, airy and well ventilated, are fitted up with all the modern conveninces, including bath rooms, dumb waiters, electric bells, sliding doors, etc. The wood work is partly of ash.

In each kitchen there is an elevated oven range, and the entire house is heated by a Boynton heater. The plumbing was done by Mr. A. M. Griffen, and this announcement alone is a guarantee of its worth.

Mr. James W. Hope, the contractor, accompanied a Press representative on a tour of inspection through the new houses recently. He expects to have the buildings ready for occupancy by April 1, and the rent will vary from $30 to $40 a month, according to the location.

The grounds about the place will be graded and fitted up in an attractive manner, while a macadamized driveway will encircle the entire structure. An iron fence and paved sidewalk will add to the attractiveness of the surroundings.

Mrs. Peck is also re-modeling two houses on Prospect avenue of twelve rooms each, and another at the corner of Prospect avenue and Grove street, all of which will be ready for occupancy within two weeks. Persons who call at the new buildings any morning before noon will be cheerfully shown through the houses by Mr. Hope.

Another Crowded House at Reform Hall.

President Harper presided at the meeting in Reform Hall, last evening, and Mr. H. J. Martin led the singing, with Miss Alice Smith as accompanist. The attendance was as usual, very large. Mr. English read the Scripture from Hebrews, 12th chapter. Mr. Nicholson invoked the divine blessing.

Mr. English, in his accustomed forcible manner, made beer the chief topic of discourse.

In response to special requests, Mr. English, during the evening, sang with great effect the "Drunkard's Dream" and "Where is My Wandering Boy To-night."

An opportunity was given for those present to sign the pledge, and the meeting closed with the doxology.

Meetings will be held in the hall every evening this week.

They Are the Best New York Affords

Owing to the illness of Miss Hallenbeck with diphtheria, her place in the concert at the Crescent Avenue church has been supplied by Miss Stoddard of Dr. Kittredge's church, New York; and a child of Mr. Courtney having just died, his place has been supplied by Mr. Metcalf, of the Mendelssohn Quartette, whose singing has been recently enjoyed at a musicale in this city.

The concert will in no way suffer from the change, as the artists selected are among the best that New York affords, and the holders of tickets may rest assured that the programme will be an enjoyable one.

A New Reading Circle.

The formation of a Teachers' Reading Circle was promoted sometime ago at Metuchen by Supt. of Schools, H. B. Willis. There were 23 persons who announced their intention of becoming members. Mr. C. W. The Board of Managers consists of Mr. A. T. C. Clark, of Metuchen; Miss M. Coriell, of Dunellen, and Miss Lizzie Carpenter, of New Market.

The Court of Special Sessions met at Elizabeth, yesterday. He was once convicted of assault and battery.

The court without any remarks imposed a sentence to State Prison for a term of three years.

Salvini at the Broadway Theatre.

Salvini will begin his farewell engagement at the Broadway Theatre, March 3. These performances will be his adieux to this country. The first week he will be seen in "Samson," "The Gladiator," "The Outlaw" and "Othello." On the nights the elder Salvini does not appear, his son Alexander Salvini will take his place in a play called "A Child of Naples." It was given at one time at an authors' matinee at the Madison Square Theatre.

A New Pastor for Dunellen.

The Rev. W. C. Stinson, the popular pastor of the Presbyterian church at Manalapan, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Dunellen Presbyterian church. A special meeting of the Monmouth Presbytery will be held in the Manalapan church next Wednesday to dissolve Mr. Stinson's relations with his charge and to recommend him to the Elizabeth Presbytery.

BASE BALL.

WHO WILL CONSTITUTE THE CRESCENT TEAM.

Biographical Sketches of the New Men Who Are to Entertain Plainfielders Next Summer.

THE PRESS today publishes short biographical sketches of the new men who are to play on the Crescent League base ball team during the coming Summer, the local players being so well-known that no reference to them is necessary:

J. LIVINGSTONE—PITCHER.

This young and promising twirler who has done such steady and excellent work in the pitcher's box for the "Brooklyn L" team, was born in New York twenty years ago. He is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 160 pounds. In the Summer of 1888 he began to pitch and soon developed good curves and much speed, pitching that year with the Matchless club of Brooklyn, winning 31 out of 33 games played. In 1889 he was engaged to pitch for the "Brooklyn L" team and met with equal success, pitching in 17 winning games and losing but four. On October 5, 1889, while pitching against the Brightons, champions of the 26th Ward of Brooklyn, he was invincible, giving them but 2 hits and striking out such men as Heiser, Connoll, Carr and Seitz. He also pitched successfully against such clubs as the "Mets," Gorhams, Rahways, Patersons, Stars of Long Island City, Perth Amboys, Brooklyn Athletics, Lees, Winthrops and others. In Livingstone, the Crescents of Plainfield have a pitcher whom it is hard to equal either in the amateur or semi-professional ranks. Although but 20 years of age, he has kept some of the best batters guessing. He held the "Mets" down to three hits on the Polo grounds last Fall, with three men on bases and no one out, with their heaviest batters up. Livingstone pitched so effectively that they could not knock the ball out of the diamond. In six innings at Stamford, Conn., last Summer, the Gorhams got but one safe hit. When in the pitcher's box he fields his position with much skill, is cool, active, never gets rattled and has perfect control over the ball. He also bats very strongly. His future is a most promising one.

FREDERICK JONES—CATCHER.

This young and promising player was born in Brooklyn 19 years ago. His ball playing career opened three years ago, when he played various positions with the Videttes, an amateur team of Brooklyn, and in the following season joined the Sumners of the same city. In the Spring of 1889, Manager Chamberlain of the Rahways heard of him as a promising young player who was at home in almost any position, and at once secured him. In the second game of the season he was brought in to take the place of the catcher, who had been hurt, and at once showed such good form that he remained steadily in that position. For one of his years, Jones is a promising player, and good judges who have seen his work predict for him a high position in the profession. He is active and cool, bats strongly, and is an excellent base runner. His throwing is one of his strongest points, and when in his best form it takes a fast runner to steal a base on him. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 160 pounds. He played in 21 games, having a fielding average of .764 and a batting average of .261.

GEORGE WIEGAND—FIRST BASEMAN.

When the Rahway team was organized in the Spring of 1889, and the question arose, "who will be captain?" the unanimous choice fell on Wiegand, who was the club's admirable first baseman. This player was in Newark about 30 years, and started ball playing in 1875 with the Domestics of that city. This club was originally a shop team, but the following season was strengthened and entered the Eastern League, with clubs from Reading, Wilmington, Richmond, Allentown, Trenton, Baltimore and Harrisburg. Wiegand played short stop the first half of the season, and finished at first base, his average in the latter position leading the League. He acted as umpire during part of the season of 1885 for the Eastern League, but decided to retire from the professional arena, and accepted a position in Newark. He played thereafter with the Domestics until he joined the Rahway team. Wiegand is 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs 190 pounds, and for a man of his build is very active. Besides doing fine playing, he has been an efficient captain, and a number of his admirers in Rahway showed their appreciation of his good work by presenting him with a handsome gold medal at the close of the season. He played in 21 games, having a fielding average of .971 and a batting average of .282.

JOSEPH O. LUFBERY—SECOND BASEMAN.

This brilliant player who covered second for the Rahways during the greater part of last season, was born in Rahway 29 years ago. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 160 pounds. His first professional engagement on a ball team was in 1884 with the Monumentals of Baltimore, under Manager Spence. After this team disbanded that season he went to the Harrisburg, Penn., club; that club in turn disbanded and Lufbery finished the season on the Newark, N. J., team. In 1885 and 1886, Lufbery played short stop for the Hartford, Conn., team in the Eastern League, leading the League in his position. He next signed with the Portland, Me., team of the New England League in 1887, again leading in his position as short stop. In the Fall of 1887 he accepted a position in a business house, and during 1888 he played short stop for the Rahways. In the Spring of 1889 he signed with the Buffalo, N. Y., team of the International League, and after playing there two months, was transferred to Rochester, N. Y. The Jersey City deal took place shortly after, and owing to a superfluity of material, Lufbery was released, after which he joined the team of his native city, playing second base to perfection. His fine playing was universally admired. He played in only ten games, having a fielding average of .941 and a batting average of .289. The following extract concerning the above player, will be of interest:

(From the Boston Globe.)

"Lufbery, while playing in Portland, Me., played a steady game, doing the most faithful and brilliant work of any short stop in the New England League. He is noted for his remarkable pickups, and his power to get his hands directly on a bounding ball no matter how hot it is. He is a sure thrower and recovers himself with celerity after a hard pickup. At the bat Lufbery is one of the best place hitters in the League. There is no man in the Portland team more likely to hit safe when there are men on bases."

JOHN V. MARTIN—SHORT STOP.

In the Summer of 1888 the Sumner club of Brooklyn visited Rahway, and among them was the subject of this sketch, playing as short stop. The activity he displayed, and his skill in handling the ball, attracted the attention of the Rahway people, and when it was announced that he had been secured to play the same position on the Rahway team of 1889 no doubt was felt as to how he would show up in play. Martin's base ball career began when he played in 1882 with the Bedfords of Brooklyn, in which city he was born 22 years ago. Thereafter he was connected with the Atlas, Acmes and Brooklyn Athletic clubs, and latterly with the Sumners. He won a handsome diamond medal for the best general average on the Rahways during the past ball season, leading the team in batting and base running, and having a good fielding record. He is always a hard worker, tries for everything that comes near him, and has won deserved popularity in Rahway by his brilliant work. He is 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 155 pounds. He played in 21 games, having a fielding average of .839 and a batting average of .353.

"UNCLE BILLY" MOORE'S WILL.

The Caveator Asking to Have the Proceedings for Probate Certified to the Circuit Court.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Some weeks ago William Moore, a railroad contractor, residing at Plainfield, died leaving an estate of between $50,000 and $80,000. Two days later his wife to whom he had willed most of his property died. A second will was also discovered in which the deceased's only son was left no share in the estate. Young Moore filed a caveat against the probating of the will.

Yesterday morning the caveator was represented in the Orphan's court by Mr. R. V. Lindabury, and Mr. Jackson of Plainfield, and the executors of the estate by Mr. James R. English.

Mr. Lindabury said the citations were returnable today, and he moved that the court make an issue of an order certifying the proceedings to the Circuit Court for a trial before a jury. He dwelt upon the importance of the case, and gave reason for a belief that it would be more satisfactory to have the question of the testamentary capacity of the testator, and the fact whether if the will was made without undue influence passed upon by a jury. He quoted the statute providing for such certification of will cases. He said it could be shown that the last will of Moore was made one and a half days before his death, and when he was in extremis, at least, as his breathings could be heard outside the house.

Mr. English opposed the motion. He said the executors were desirous of having the regular mode of procedure carried out in the case. He held that the statute was enacted to enable the Orphan's Court to certify questions out of the ordinary that may appear in a case to the Circuit Court. It did not appear that this was an extraordinary case, and he thought the counsel did not mean to intimate that a jury were more competent to pass judgment than the regularly constituted court for such cases. He said the proceeding would be moved in the county. He spoke also of some complications, and referred to the two wills.

After further argument of the case, Judge McCormick said it was the first occasion since he had been on the bench that an application had been made for such a procedure. He said he did not remember that an application was ever made in this county. His opinion of the statute was that it was passed to aid the court when it was thought the case ought to be guided by a jury. He saw nothing in this case to induce the court to take that course. He therefore denied Mr. Lindabury's motion.

The case was referred to the Surrogate, to take testimony to be given within fifteen days.

—Central Engine, No. 84, attached to a loaded East-bound freight train broke an eccentric rod and blew out a cylinder head, while passing through this city, last evening. Some delay was occasioned in substituting another engine for the disabled one.

Let quality, not quantity, be the test of a medicine. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the concentrated extract of the best and purest ingredients. Medical men everywhere recommend it as the surest and most economical blood medicine in the market.

He Lacks Good Judgment.

In referring to the Crescent League Minstrel show, the news said last evening that the after-piece "Kornfield Kommon Kouncil" was exceedingly stupid, as well as coarse and personal, and not only insulting to our venerable and respected Mayor, and to Common Council, but also to the soldiers."

The writer of the above quotation is evidently grieved because he did not have a front seat. So far as "insulting our venerable Mayor" is concerned, THE PRESS can truthfully say that no insult was intended, furthermore none was given. The allegation is merely braggadocio, characteristic of the news.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

BEATEN BY A WOMAN

Sensation in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

A GUILTY OFFICIAL WHIPPED.

A Mother Publicly Takes Revenge on the French Translator.

Minister Lincoln's Only Son Dies in London—Seven Miners Killed by an Explosion—Mr. Balfour's Local Government Scheme for Ireland—Sir Charles Russell Speaks for the Parnellites.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 27.—A sensation was caused in the corridors of the House of Commons by loud shrieks coming from a room occupied by the French translator of debates.

Members and Senators rushed from the committee room, and in a few moments the room and corridors were thronged with curious spectators. The scene which presented itself was decidedly interesting.

An able-bodied French lady, Mrs. Laframbers, was belaboring the chief translator, Mr. Demerese, in a very vigorous manner. The translator was knocked out, and retired from the place in a very dilapidated condition.

It transpired later on that the casus belli was Mr. Demersee's seduction of the lady's daughter.

The victim is now in the lying-in hospital in the suburbs of the city. Demersee is a brother of the member of a Quebec constituency. Legal action is threatened unless the guilty official marries the girl.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN DEAD.

The Grandson of the War President Expires in London.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Master Abraham Lincoln, the son of the American Minister, and the grandson of the famous American War President, died last night after a protracted illness.

He passed a restless night and day, and the physicians in attendance held out little hope. His mother, who has remained constantly by his bed for the past 17 weeks, is thoroughly worn out, and the father also looks careworn. He was 15 years of age.

Sir Charles Russell's Speech.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Sir Charles Russell, speaking at Cambridge, declared that Mr. Parnell and his colleagues had been acquitted of every charge affecting their personal or political honor; that nothing had been found against them which might not with equal truth be alleged against the mass of their countrymen. The Irish movement, he said, had accomplished its aims with far less crime than had been attached to any previous political agitation of equal importance.

How the Socialist Vote Increased.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—As compared with the last general election, the Socialist vote throughout the Empire in the recent contest shows an increase of 567,405, and the Freisinnig vote an increase of 224,600. In contrast to this the combined vote of the Cartel parties shows a decrease of 1,000,000, while the Centrist party vote has decreased 206,657.

Local Government for Ireland.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Mr. Balfour is drafting a Local Government scheme for Ireland on lines similar to those forming the basis of the plans for England and Scotland.

Seven Miners Killed.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Seven miners were killed by an explosion in a colliery at Dortmund, Westphalia.

OVER SIXTY DEAD.

Further Particulars of the Awful Dam Disaster in Arizonia.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Feb. 27.—Sheriff O'Neill and Dr. Miller have returned here from the scene of the disaster caused by the bursting of the Walnut Grove storage reservoir.

The Sheriff thinks the loss of life will not exceed 60. About 40 bodies have already been taken from the river and nearly all have been identified.

Bodies Badly Mutilated.

The bodies recovered are badly mutilated, while in several cases only fragments have been recovered, as the force of the flood was so terrific that many bodies have doubtless been buried in the sand, others torn to pieces, and others carried far south.

Enormous Trees Broken in Two.

Immense boulders weighing tons were thrown around as a child might toss a ball. Enormous trees were broken in two or torn in shreds. Iron bars were broken and twisted out of shape, an ordinary flat-iron was picked up and carried five miles and then embedded in the walls of the canyon twenty feet above the level of the stream. A large safe belonging to Robert Brown, containing in the neighborhood of $7,000, was swept away, and no trace has been found of it. Whatever the water struck went down.

The Alaskan Boundary.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 27.—Papers in reference to the Alaska boundary were presented to Parliament last night. The government of British Columbia represents that the line which Great Britain is entitled to claim, under the treaty of 1825, ascends the western leg of Berhins Canal, instead of Portland channel, ascended by the United States authorities, thereby securing to the Crown a very large area of territory, together with valuable water way now claimed by the United States.

Mangled on the Rail.

ROANOKE, Va., Feb. 27.—A wreck on the Norfolk & Western Railway occurred last night near the city depot. The 6:40 east-bound train was pulling out of the station when a passenger coach, filled with travelers, was turned upside down. The accident was caused by a defective switch. Several persons were injured.

Tramps Discharged from Jail.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Justice Fish, of the Supreme Court, and County Judge Wendell, discharged 25 prisoners, mostly tramps, from the county jail. This jail delivery is the result of the exposure by the county press of the manner in which the "tramp racket" has been worked in towns along the Central Railroad.

THE MARINE'S OFFER.

He Will Fight Jack Dempsey If He Can Dispose of His Liquor Store.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—George La Blanche, who defeated Jack Dempsey at the California Athletic Club several months ago, published a letter in which he offers to give Dempsey a return battle on certain conditions.

La Blanche says that after he defeated Dempsey he established himself in a profitable liquor business in this city and intended to retire, at least temporarily, from the ring. He accuses Dempsey and his friends of showering taunts and denunciations upon him until he has finally concluded to accept the "Nonpareil's" challenge for another contest. The conditions which La Blanche imposes are in the following language:

"My business I estimate to be worth $10,000, but in order to prove to Dempsey that I am not afraid of him I will sacrifice it for half that sum. Let Dempsey or his backers put up $5,000 in some secure hands pending the fight, and if he defeats me I take down the $5,000, and Dempsey walks into my saloon sole proprietor. Should I prove the victor Dempsey takes back the $5,000 and I retain the saloon. Under these conditions only will I consent to meet Dempsey before one of the clubs for a purse of not less than $3,000."

JOHN JACOB ASTOR'S WILL.

Over $100,000,000 Worth of Property Left to His Son.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The late John Jacob Astor's will was filed by William Waldorf Astor in person in the Surrogate's office. Among the various bequests is the following: "To his friend Alexander Hamilton of Irvington, the sum of $30,000; St. Luke's Hospital $100,000; Metropolitan Museum of Art $50,000; New York Cancer Hospital $100,000. To his cousin, James Simmons Armstrong, $30,000.

To the trustees of the Astor library, $400,000 to be paid at the expiration of two years from the testator's death and to be invested by the trustees at their discretion, the income of the fund to be used only for the purchase of books and for the payment of salaries, purchasing furniture, etc.

The trustees of the Astor Library the sum of $50,000, to be invested as a permanent fund, the income of which is to be applied to paying the trustees' fees for attending the meetings, at the rate of $10 to each trustee for each meeting.

All the rest of his property, real and personal, he leaves to his son, William Waldorf Astor and his heirs.

It is said that property worth over $100,000,000 goes to the son by the will.

Heart Disease or Suicide?

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 27.—Claude Chaffinjou, a millionaire silk manufacturer of South street, was found dead in the bath-tub of his residence. He was sixty-five years of age. It is supposed he committed suicide, but no reason can be assigned for his act. The inmates of the house positively refuse to say anything in regard to the circumstances attending his mysterious death. His wife died some years ago, and leaves no children except an adopted daughter. Friends say he died of heart disease. An autopsy will be held this afternoon.

Pugilist Jackson Egged.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 27.—Peter Jackson is having a pretty tough time of it here. Kernan's Theatre, where the colored pugilist shows off his manly form, with Jack Ashton as a foil, was packed last night, and the darkies in the gallery shouted themselves hoarse. When the play ended the Sullivanites waited on the outside for Jackson, and his appearance was the signal for an onslaught. The air was thick with rotten eggs and stones, and though the pugilist escaped being hit those about him were more or less disfigured.

Officers for the Woman's Relief Corps.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The Woman's Relief Corps elected the following officers: Department president, Sarah C. Nichols, Auburn, N. Y.; senior vice-president, Ada Mohr, Brooklyn; junior vice-president, Susan M. Beebe, Penn Yan; treasurer, Kate Gledhill, Albany; chaplain, Ella E. Kellogg, Cortland. Executive board, chairman, Ella M. Putnam, Buffalo; Mrs. Kate Sloan, Syracuse; Mrs. Imogene Guion, Seneca Falls; Mrs. Lottie Royce, Hamilton; Mrs. Mary Townsend, Peekskill.

Cut Off by a Snow Blockade.

DENVER, Col., Feb. 27.—The South division of the Denver and Rio Grande is again cut off from the world by a new snow blockade on the Cumbres Range. Over four feet of snow fell during the past three days. The railroad cut, where the snow reached above the tops of the coaches from the last storm, has again been filled to overflowing by high winds that have blown during the storm. Superintendent Lydon says it is the worst storm on the San Juan Range since the road was built.

Isaac Sawtelle May Hang.

GREAT FALLS, N. H., Feb. 27.—The coroner's jury in the Sawtelle case have agreed upon a verdict. It declares that the body found in the marsh road woods was that of Hiram Sawtelle and that he came to his death by reason of bullet wounds inflicted by Isaac Sawtelle while in a carriage near Nutter's woods on January 26. This verdict ensures the trial of Isaac Sawtelle in Strafford, N. H., for a murder committed in this State.

Meeting of Granite Manufacturers.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—About 70 of the principal granite manufacturers of New England held a private meeting in this city to discuss matters of general interest to the trade. A resolution was adopted urging the President and Senators of the United States to use their best endeavors to have the World's Fair held in New York.

THE BISHOP RESISTS

He Presides at a Conference Despite Objections.

FOUR ELDERS PREFER CHARGES.

The Prelate Will Not Listen to Them and Says He is Innocent.

He Refuses to Put a Motion and There is Great Excitement—The Bishop Said He Wished He Had Never Been Obligated. Rev. Mr. Goodwin Asked to Make a Confession but He Refuses.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Feb. 28.—Bishop J. J. Esher, of Chicago, opened the Eastern Pennsylvania Evangelical Conference, 165 ministers being present.

After prayer by the Bishop and the appointment of Rev. W. A. Leopold as secretary, four elders preferred charges against Bishop Esher. The charges were of such a nature that the committee considered a trial absolutely necessary and fixed March 19 as the time for trial to be held in Salem Church, Reading.

The Bishop was then requested to leave the chair, this he declined to do saying his duty would not permit him to vacate.

The charges against Bishop Esehr are: "First, slander and evil speaking; second, falsehood; third, creating dissensions by perpetuating and intensifying the agitation in our church and disturbing our peace by a revival of old and previously adjusted difficulties and differences."

Acquitted of the Charge Before.

These are the same charges that were preferred against Bishop Esher in Chicago. Investigation last December resulted in his acquittal. Certain members of the conference want the bishop to submit to another investigation by this conference, and his refusal to entertain motions to that effect was the cause of a very spirited controversy. The bishop refused to offer any explanation to the charges, claiming that he had been tried and acquitted. Rev. Dr. Sayer presented the following:

Resolved, That we declare it to be our candid opinion that Bishop Esher is disqualified to preside over this conference and we therefore ask him to vacate the chair.

Bishop Esher would not entertain this motion, declaring it "illegal," and saying: "You do not expect me to entertain this motion."

Rev. Mr. Stirk replied: "If you do not I shall appeal from your decision."

Bishop Esher said: "I won't entertain it. I wont vacate. Would to God I had never obligated."

"Amen!" chorused the conference.

"Don't interrupt," exclaimed the bishop: "in the presence of God the charges are false. I have been tried at nome and you must inquire whether or not I was acquitted. This is contrary to all precedent. I am amenable to the general conference. You shall not remove me: I remain here."

A resolution was presented by the Rev. Mr. Hanna declaring that Bishop Esher was "an improper person to preside over this conference," but the bishop would not recognize the motion for its adoption.

Rev. Mr. Leopold then spoke, saying the dissensions in the church bordered on anarchy, and that the organization was threatened with dissolution.

REV. MR. GOODWIN'S CASE.

The Hanover Minister Will Not Make a Confession as Requested.

HANOVER, Mass., Feb. 28.—The case of the Rev. T. H. Goodwin and the Hanover Baptist Church, in which Mr. Goodwin sought to recover $10,000 damages against Deacon John Brooks, and Clerk H. S. Crane has been again brought into prominence by the publication of the committee of the Council of Baptist Churches on the charge against Mr. Green.

The committee in their report find that the evidence presented is not such as to indicate criminality on the part of Goodwin, but that it indicates an unwise degree of intimacy with a female member of the church, and in failing to discontinue this intimacy he was guilty of a grave wrong. The charge of intentional untruthfulness is not sustained.

The church is advised to rescind its action in excluding Mr. Goodwin, and the latter is adjured to make a full confession and ask forgiveness for disregarding the admonitions of the church. The church positively refuses to reinstate Mr. Goodwin unless he does so, and he as positively declines to confess what he says he has not been guilty of.

Steel Wire Manufacturers Can't Combine

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 28.—Several months ago the steel wire manufacturers of the United States attempted to organize under the name of the Federal Steel Company, with J. W. Gates, of the Braddock Wire Company, president, and George Douglass, of Allentown, secretary. The attempt to form a steel wire trust at that time (such was the object of the organization) proved a failure. Representatives of the wire manufacturers have been in this city since Tuesday. Several meetings have been held with an object similar to the above in view. No satisfactory conclusion was arrived at and the manufacturers again abandoned the idea of a national orgaization and will continue to compete in open market

About 150 Lives Lost.

PRESCOTT, Ari., Feb. 28.—It is now charged that the messenger who was to send the warning down the Hassayampa got drunk and failed to do his duty. Then Walnut Grove dam broke and the lowest estimate now put on the loss of life is 150, and the number will probably go above that. The loss of property will be away up in the millions. Many of the bodies found are those of people unknown to the survivors.

FACES HER VICTIM.

Dying Tessie Covert Positively Identifies Bassett, Her Betrayer.

JAMAICA, L. I., Feb. 28.—Tessie Covert, the victim of malpractice, is dying at the home of her parents in this village. Her betrayer, John M. Bassett, who claims to be a real estate broker of 171 Broadway, New York, is in jail here.

Dr. Woods says the girl cannot survive the result of the injuries she received, and the end is very near. Yesterday afternoon, although the girl was still alive, Coroner Everett empaneled a jury and visited the dying girl. Bassett was taken to the girl's bedside by Detective Sergeant Ashmead. The scene that followed made strong men weep.

"Is this the man who betrayed and ruined you?" asked the coroner.

Slowly the dying girl raised herself in bed until she nearly sat upright, with one elbow supporting her. Stretching the other hand and arm straight out, she pointed one finger at the cowering man at the foot of the bed, and, with tears streaming down her face, gasped:

"Yes, yes, John Melville Bassett; see what you've done!"

Then she fainted, and the prisoner was returned to jail, followed by an excited crowd of citizens. Afterward the girl made a statement to the coroner in which she said that her mother had full knowledge of the malpractice and was a participant.

Neither Mr. Covert nor Mrs. Covert would talk about the case this morning. They are utterly prostrated, and feeling in the town against Bassett runs very high.

NEW YORK LAWMAKERS.

Business Transacted by the Senate and Assembly at Albany.

ALBANY, Feb. 28.—Among the bills presented in the Senate were the following: For the audit of clerical services in the special trust investigation of last year.

The following bills were passed by the Assembly: Putting the streets of Binghamton in charge of the Council; relative to the sale of lands of non-residents for unpaid taxes; amending the revised statutes so that an entry in the front column of an assessment roll of the owner or person having claim on or interest in an unoccupied lot, owned by a non-resident, shall not affect the validity of the assessment, if it is otherwise correct; providing that insane women shall be in charge of women attendants when being transferred to asylums; appropriating $23,971 of the amount paid into the treasury last year under the Ives Pool law, to the State Agricultural Society.

THE MEN RESCUED.

But the Fire in the Cameron Colliery is Still Burning.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Feb. 28.—The two imprisoned men in the Cameron colliery slope succeeded in effecting their escape through an old chamber. The fire is still burning and it is now believed that the timbers lining the gangway, becoming dry from the steam pipes running alongside, were set fire by a spark from a miner's lamp. The work of fighting the fire is rendered dangerous by the smoke and gas which fills the slope.

Twenty-three mules were smothered. General Superintendent Morris Williams and Mine Foreman Brennan were removed from the slope in an unconscious condition, having been prostrated by the gas.

A Merchant Disappears.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Jacob Brodsky, who has conducted a large tailoring shop in this city for several years, employing from 50 to 60 hands, has left town, and no one seems to know whither he has gone. He is indebted to a number of firms here in sums ranging from $100 to $800 and it is said that he also owes all of his employes for services. Brodsky has always been considered financially sound, and his credit was good everywhere. His disappearance is a mystery to his friends, and a surprise to people generally.

A Tax Collector Commits Suicide.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 28.—The dead body of William Schumacher was found in a shanty in Zoller's Grove last night. A revolver was found lying at his side and there was an ugly bullet wound in his right temple. The death was the result of suicide. He was formerly a tax collector and became about $500 short in his accounts. He was to have had a hearing before an alderman. Deceased leaves a widow and grown up children.

Boston Capital in the South.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 28.—Boston capitalists have bought 3,300 acres of land in Lexington County, South Carolina, which Professor Hitchcock, professor of geology in Dartmouth College, New Hampshire, reports is one great body of kaolin of the highest quality. They have organized a $500,000 company and will at once build a large pottery works for making white tableware.

Scoring Powderly.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 28.—Dr. Houser, of Minoka, threatens to bring suit against General Master Workman Powderly for damages, whose letters to a New York paper stated that Houser refused to wait upon a miner's sick family because the miner refused to pay his monthly fee of $1. Houser, in a card, scores Powderly in severe language.

The Liquor Question in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—The liquor committee of the Legislature reported unanimously against enacting a straight prohibition law and also against reducing the high license fee from $1,000 to $500. The same committee reported that it was inexpedient to appoint a commission to investigate the workings of the license law of other States and countries.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Alien Contract Law Applied to Clergymen.

A DOMINION MINISTER BARRED.

He Was a Native of the United States But Became a Citizen of Canada.

Atkinson Seated in the House—Ex-President Cleveland Sells Oak View and Secures a Large Profit—Mr. Randall Sitting Up—Postmasters Appointed by the President—Commodore White Dead.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Acting Secretary Batcheller has informed the trustees of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church of Lewisburg, Pa., that the Canadian clergyman called by them is regarded as an alien, within the meaning of the Alien Contract Labor Law.

In answer to the general question as to whether that law prohibits the landing in this country of a foreign clergyman who comes under a contract, Mr. Batcheller refers them to the decision of the court in the case of the Church of the Holy Trinity, of New York, now pending before the United States Supreme Court on appeal. The decision in that case was in effect that the law prohibits the landing of foreign clergymen who come under contract.

The minister in the present case was born in the United States, of American parents and when three years of age was taken to Canada by his father, who subsequently became a citizen of the Dominion.

COAST AND HARBOR DEFENCE.

Senator McPherson's Amendment to the Naval Establishment Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—An amendment proposed by Senator McPherson to the Hale bill to increase the naval establishment provides that instead of eight large line-of-battle ships being built, there shall be constructed eight low free-board coast and harbor-defence vessels of the monitor type, having not more than 18 feet draft, with twin screws and sea speed of not less than 17 knots.

These vessels shall be armed with four guns, of not less than 12-inch calibre, mounted within turrets, or inbarbette, together with rapid-firing guns, and at least one 15-inch dynamite gun. The vessels shall have either steel or compound armor, and the cost of vessels and armament shall not exceed $2,500,000.

Mr. Atkinson Seated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The vote on the minority report in favor of the sitting member in the West Virginia contested election case was defeated by a strict party vote—yeas, 142; nays, 159. The vote was then taken on the majority report. The Democrats refrained from voting in order to carry into court the question of the right of the Speaker to count a quorum. The vote resulted, yeas 162, nays 0, the Speaker counting a quorum. Amid applause on the Republican side, the newly elected member, Mr. Atkinson, appeared at the bar of the House and took the oath of office.

Postmasters Nominated by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The President sent to the Senate the following nominations for postmasters: New York, C. A. Jones, Tompkinsville, S. I.; George McCabe, Cold Spring, S. I. New Jersey, J. W. Allen, Bordentown, Maryland, G. E. Sharrer, Westminster. Pennsylvania, J. W. Fletcher, Troy; C. K. Campbell, Pittston; W. E. Mohr, Muncy. Massachusetts, J. E. Sawyer, Methuen; A. W. Gilbert, North Brookfield; P. C. Young, Provincetown. Maine, J. H. Fellows, Richmond; W. H. Pike, Calais.

Mr. Cleveland Sells Oak View.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Ex-President Cleveland has sold Oak View, his country home near this city, to F. G. Newlands, the representative of a California syndicate which is buying largely of suburban property in this vicinity. The price paid was $140,000, which nets Mr. Cleveland a profit of about $100,000 over the price he paid for the property and the cost of improvements during the four years he owned it.

Commodore White Dead.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Commodore George White, of Pennsylvania, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks of the Navy Department, died suddenly of apoplexy at his residence here.

A WHISKY SYNDICATE.

An English Agent Negotiating for a Majority of the Trust Stock.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—It is believed that a majority of the stock of the Whisky Trust will soon pass into the hands of an English syndicate.

An Englishman who registered at the Grand Pacific as E. C. Depeyer, London, was met there by Jacob and Samuel Woolner, of Peoria, and the party was in close conference all day. The story is that as soon as the trust was dissolved and a corporation organized in its stead, a proposition was at once made by the London parties which brought about yesterday's conference. Mr. Depeyer admitted last evening to a reporter that he was negotiating with the Woolners.

The First in Thirty-Four Years.

DES MOINES, Feb. 28.—The inauguration of Gov. Boies took place in the hall of the House of Representatives, and, for the first time in thirty-four years, a Democrat presides at the State House. The city was gayly decorated in honor of the event and is overcrowded with visitors, the railroads having granted a single rate for the round trip from all State points. Prior to the inauguration there was one of the finest parades ever seen in the State.

Carpenters Have Their Grievances.

Nine of the carpenters employed by contractor James Hardy of Somerset street, quit work yesterday at noon, simply because there was one week's pay due them. This is all explained from the fact that Mr Hardy has several large contracts under way, and he cannot get his money from the owners until the jobs are completed. It is said that the men who went out all belonged to the Carpenters' Union. Mr. Hardy employs twenty-three men in all. One of the men who went out yesterday will probably return to work to-morrow morning.

The Night School Closed.

The attendance at the night school for men of late being on the decline, the Board of Education has decided to close the school from now on. Last night there were but twenty-three scholars present, and this number does not warrant a continuation of the night session.

It is to be regretted that the night school has closed. Where such excellent educational facilities are offered by the Board of Education, they should certainly be appreciated.

Worked the Royal Arch Degree.

Most Excellent Grand Scribe William H. Sebring last evening worked the Royal Arch Degree on three members of Jerusalem Chapter, No. 24, R. A. M., assisted by the officers of the chapter. After the ceremony the members adjourned to the City Hotel where a bountiful collation was provided for them.

The funeral of the late John Bergin who died on Tuesday took place from St. Joseph's church in North Plainfield, at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning with high mass. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

It is but just and right to state that the present champion of the State Chess Association, Clarence L. Murphy, did not take part in the contest at New Brunswick, being otherwise engaged on Feb. 22, when the playing took place.

The Rev. Father C. J. Kelly, of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church in Jersey City, will start Saturday on a two months' trip through Europe. Father Kelly is one of the most eloquent as well as most popular priests in Jersey City. He studied for the priesthood while a resident of this city.

A Reception to Mr. "Joe" English.

The series of temperance revival meetings which are being held in Reform Hall this week, continues with unabated interest. Last night the hall was again crowded, and there was great enthusiasm. President Harper was at his post of duty, and the regular choir under the efficient leadership of Mr. H. J. Martin furnished the music Mr. English conducted the devotional exercises. He also delivered one of his characteristic addresses, which was listened to with close attention.

The meeting closed about 9 o'clock, after which an enjoyable reception, arranged by the ladies of the Temperance Aid Society, was tendered to Mr. English in the parlors of Reform Hall.

These interesting meetings will be continued to-night and on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

From Plainfield Mr. English goes to Flemington.

Wedding Bells.

At the home of the bride on Somerset street, North Plainfield, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, occurred the marriage of Mr Isaac C. Ireland of Philadelphia, to Miss Carrie M. Woodland. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. J. Yerkes. The bride was handsomely attired in a light drab traveling dress.

Friends and relatives were present from this city, Newark, New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere. The newly married couple started on the 3:20 P. M. train, intending to visit Washington and Baltimore on their wedding tour.

They will make their future home at Philadelphia, where the groom has an extensive business. The wedding presents were many and costly. Mr. Edwin B. Maynard was the caterer.

Here's a Chance for Some Man.

Mr. Jesse Hatfield, proprietor of the meat and vegetable market at the corner of Park avenue and Second street, received several boxes of eggs from the far West, a day or two since, and in one of the cases was an egg on which was written the following message:

"Shelby, Mo., January 25, 1890.

"If any young gentleman who is matrimonially inclined should get this egg, he will please address Miss Mamie Muirhead, Shelby, Mo."

The lady, it is said, is well-known by a gentleman in this city, who has just returned from Missouri. She is said to be of a good family and of considerable means.

Death of a Faithful Janitor.

At his home on West Third street, early this morning, occured the death of Mr. Henry Kline, aged 58 years. Mr. Kline was for many years past the faithful and competent janitor of the Crescent Avenue church, having been appointed janitor when the church was located on East Front street where the Y. M. C. A., rooms are now situated. His death resulted from a complication of diseases.

A Child's Hands Scalded.

Ethel, the five-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Lorton of West Fifth street, accidentally upset a pitcher of boiling water from the dining room table, yesterday morning, terribly scalding the child's hands.

Let quality, not quantity, be the test of a medicine. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the concentrated extract of the best and purest ingredients. Medical men everywhere recommend it as the surest and most economical blood medicine in the market.

LOAN EXHIBITION

FORMALLY OPENED LAST EVENING.

A Fine Collection of Beauty and Art—Presentation of Hon. Job Male's Portrait and a Lecture by John Ward Stimson.

Notwithstanding the rain there was a large attendance at the opening of the Loan Exhibition at the Job Male Library and Art Gallery, last evening. The collection of paintings is very fine, in fact superior to any one ever before shown in Plainfield. It is also noteworthy because of the number of portraits which it contains, all of local interest showing a variety of handling and the characteristics peculiar to the different artists. Mr. Julian Scott has on view, besides the full length portrait of Mayor Male, which was the subject of the presentation of the evening, others of Mr. J. Kirkher, Col. M. W. Tyler, Editor W. J. Leonard, Mr. J. W. Yates, Mrs. Yates and her daughter. Jas. H. Beard has three, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock and Gen. Custer, and one of Mr. Babcock's son by Harry Beard. There are two by Fagnani, Mrs. Tyler and her aunt, and one of Mrs. Tyler's grandaunt painted in 1769 by Earl.

Besides these there is a portrait of Jeremiah Evarts, uncle of Mr. J. Evarts Tracy, Esq., and one of Mr. Leo Daft's mother, and an old portrait by Peal.

Another notable feature of this exhibition is the dozen or more paintings of Swiss scenery by Volweilder, mostly loaned by Mr. Schepflin. They are pictures of great merit. But we have not space, nor do we intend to give a catalogue; one must go and spend an evening to appreciate these, and the Corot, the Diaz, the Evans, the Beards, the Britcher, the Parton, etc., etc.

The exercises of last evening were introduced by City Counsellor Craig A. Marsh, who in a neat speech presented to the Directors of the Library and Art Gallery on behalf of Mr. Julian Scott, the portrait of Mayor Male, a perfect and striking likeness. He took the occasion to refer to the fact, not as well known as it should be, that the present position and success of the Art Gallery is due in a great measure to the unwearied and unstinted efforts of Mr. Scott, who from the first has held his services at the constant service of the Art Committee. Mr. Geo. H. Babcock, as chairman of the Art Committee, accepted the gift, thanking the donor in behalf of the Art Committee, the Directors and the citizens-at-large. He called attention to the fact that the gift was peculiarly appropriate, as it was not only a portrait of the gentleman who had presented the Library Building to the city, but of the first and the present Mayor of the city; Mr. Male having been four times elected to that office. Mr. Babcock said it was also a point on which the citizens should congratulate themselves that the picture was the product of home talent, and instanced the cases of Haarlem, the Hague, and Antwerp, which had become famous through their early patronage of home talent, in Vandyke, Franz Hals, Paul Potter and Rubens.

The lecturer of the evening, Mr. John Ward Stimson, is an enthusiast in his profession, and his eloquent setting forth of the evolution of art from nature, its relations to the infinite, its elevating and ennobling effects on the character of mankind, its antagonism to materialism and atheism, and its applications to all the pursuits, occupations and social life of humanity, was listened to with wrapted attention by his audience.

The loan collection will remain open for a week, and those who were not present last evening will find it a pleasure to visit it during that time. The proceeds will be devoted to the increase of the library.

As Viewed From Other Sources.

The New York Tribune editorially to-day thus expatiates on the action of the Plainfield Council in granting a liquor license in the post office building:

"The Common Council in Plainfield, N. J., have had the shockingly bad taste to authorize the opening of a rum-shop in the basement of the post office building. Naturally, the good people of Plainfield are much incensed, and, as they can't get rid of the groggery, they are making a determined effort to move the post-office. They should prepare a black-list of the Councilmen who voted for the outrage, and remember them whenever one of them is a candidate before the people again."

A Birthday Party.

A birthday gathering was held at the residence of Master John H. VanWinkle, Jr., No. 21 Duer street, North Plainfield, last evening, the occasion being the 13th anniversary of his birth. There was a large attendance of the relatives and schoolmates of Master VanWinkle. The playing of games and the serving of refreshments were features of the evening's enjoyment.

Flag Raising at Dunellen—Other Notes.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Some very pleasant and appropriate exercises were rendered at a flag raising at the Dunellen Public school. The flag was a large and beautiful one and was presented to the school by the scholars. The exercises were opened by a very eloquent prayer by the Rev. Mr. Livermore after which the patriotic piece "My Country 'Tis of Thee" was sung. Many recitations and songs followed, all very suitable to the occasion. Speeches were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Livermore and Mr. T. L. Thomas. The flag was then raised and its stars and stripes waved gracefully in the breeze. Very elaborate refreshments were provided, consisting of candies, cake and lemonade, which all thoroughly enjoyed.

The whole occasion did great credit to Principal Oley and all the teachers connected with the school. It finally ended mid cheers and rejoicings.

Thirty-two houses have been added to our town and still more talked of. Say we are not progressive? Plainfield will be very proud of us methinks and will want to own us as her "Little Princess." However we may assert our rights and become a sister city in time. "PACCO."

The Law on the Subject.

With reference to the case of the State vs. the Corporation Counsel of this city heard before Justice Nash yesterday afternoon, as told in THE PRESS, Mr. Craig A. Marsh read the following legal opinion, from Addison on torts, volume 2, section 793:

"If he will not depart after having been requested so to do, the owner may use as much force as is necessary; and if the intruder resists the attempts of the owner of the house to turn him out, he is guilty of an assault upon the latter; and if a policeman standing by sees the resistance and witnesses the assault, he is justified in taking the intruder into custody. A policeman may also with authority and at the request of the master of the house, himself proceed to turn out the intruder; but he is not bound to do so unless he pleases, as it is no part of a policeman's duty to do so."

The Nameless Club Wins Both Games.

Mr. Pike Wants Justice.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Against the disadvantages in this community I have long since placed no value on reputation or character. Therefore I lose nothing by the distortion published in an evening paper of an unequal trial for justice in a local court. I could do no more than invite justice by a simple statement of facts. I expected nothing, but am astonished how complete the local buzzards done up their victim.

Very respectfully,
NOAH W. PIKE.

Lecture on Food Adulteration.

Mr E. B. Worrell lectured on "Food Adulteration" before a large audience in Music Hall, Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Worrell is an earnest speaker, who carries conviction by the force of his arguments, and by his enthusiasm for his work. He went fully into statistics to show how food products are adulterated. Each lady present was presented with a sample bottle of heliotrope perfume, manufactured by Joseph Burnett & Co., of Boston, the firm Mr. Worrell represents.

How the Teams Rank.

Plainfielders Arrested at Elizabeth.

The Elizabeth Journal of yesterday, says:

"Officer Walsh at 1:58 this morning arrested Fred Naylor and Walter Coriell, young men and strangers, who had been loafing about the union depot since yesterday afternoon. They said they belonged in Plainfield. This morning they were discharged."

The great majority of so-called cough cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver.

—The lizards were plainly heard along the streams Wednesday night. Another harbinger of Spring.

Positively Delicious.

So delightful to the taste are HAMBURG FIGS, that they could be placed upon the table for dessert, and no one would suspect that they were more than very superior crystalized fruit. Harrigan at Music Hall.

Mr. Ned Harrigan, the well-known comedian, will present "Old Lavender" at Music Hall, on Monday evening next, with all its original effects. In referring to the play, the New York World says:

"The opening of Harrigan's Park Theatre was attended with all the circumstances of success There was an audience present that entirely filled the house. The warmth of the greeting which was accorded Mr. Harrigan and his company was such as both he and they might well be proud of. The songs which are introduced in "Old Lavender" are sure to become popular, and some of them are even superior to anything that Mr. Braham has ever composed."

—Mr. A. C. LaBoyteaux will speak on the greatest text in the Bible at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday at 4:15 P. M. The boy choir will sing. All men welcome.

They Are Legion.

Sarsaparilla and other advertised blood medicines are numerous, but the only one possessed of such superior curative properties as to warrant its manufacturer in selling it, as they are doing, through druggists, under a positive guarantee, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If it don't benefit or cure you get the money back which you paid for it. It is recommended to cure all chronic liver, blood and lung diseases, as biliousness, skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings, salt-rheum, tetter, erysipelas and even scrofula of the lungs (or consumption), if taken in time.

OF RECENT OCCURRENCE.

A NEW YORK couple were married in a cab the other day.

A GRIZZLY bear that weighed 2,500 pounds was recently killed near Sissons, Cal.

A MEXICAN editor was lately sent to prison for speaking disrespectfully of Mme. Patti.

THIRTEEN hundred working girls held a reunion and a ball in New York the other evening. All of them were dressed in cheese cloth of various colors. There wasn't a man present.

IN a Texas court the other day a prominent politician, indicted for murder, was shot dead by a member of an opposing faction, the judge was compelled to fly for safety before a shower of bullets, and two other persons were peppered with balls.

THE opening of the first submarine telephone cable has just taken place. The cable runs between Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, and is thirty-two miles long, the overhead line being one hundred and eighty miles. On the line there are five intermediate stations, all of which can telephone and telegraph simultaneously with all the other stations.

THE other day there came to Salem, Ore., a box car that left Detroit sixteen days before. It contained P. Harwood, wife and two babies, seven cows, two horses, two sheep and an endless assortment of household and kitchen furniture and farm appliances. Mr. Harwood said the trip was made easily and quite pleasantly, considering the crowded condition of the car.

HOW MANY words can be written on a postal-card? There has just been a competition among the stenographers to decide this question, and Sylvanus Jones, of Richmond, Va., has taken the prize which was offered for the largest number of words by writing upon a card 36,784 words. Mr. Jones is a short-hand writer employed by the Brighthope Railway Company, of Richmond.

IF your garden plot is selected rake it over as soon as the weather will permit and burn up every vestige of grass and weeds, so as to destroy not only seeds but insects. A covering of straw, leaves or stalks burned over the ground will be an advantage.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

LIBERALS ARE BOLD

They Will Wage a Relentless War on the Government.

NO MERCY FOR LORD SALISBURY

Minister Lincoln Sends a Message Contradicting the Report of His Son's Death.

Mr. Biggar's Will Provides Large Sums for Charities—A Denial that the Behring Sea Question is Settled—Russia Makes a Demand on Turkey—Mary Anderson and Her Lover.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Daily News in a scorching leader on the political situation, declares that the Liberals are again in the ascendency and are fully determined upon waging a war against Lord Salisbury's mendacious government, in which they will give no quarter.

The attempt of the Ministry, the News says, to force the country to accept the report of the Parnell Commission, exonerating the accused members of the Irish party of the charges against them, as a verdict of "guilty" is a dose too nauseating for even Tories to swallow, as the Government will learn at the cost of its power when the purging operation begins.

YOUNG LINCOLN ALIVE.

His Wonderful Vitality Surprises the Eminent Physicians.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Master Abraham Lincoln is still alive, and his father has hopes that he will recover, although the physicians are not so sanguine. They performed a very difficult operation and the patient stood it nobly, showing wonderful vitality. Yesterday his death was chronicled in all the newspapers and it took some time to deny the erroneous report. Minister Lincoln received many cablegrams condoling with him in the loss of his son, and he immediately sent out a bulletin stating that the report was untrue.

What was pronounced to be an almost certainly fatal operation has, at least, temporarily reversed the patient's hopeless condition, and measures have been taken to prevent further accumulation of pus. Though there is still great danger, the doctors are not without hope of the patient's recovery.

Minister Lincoln states that the physicians attending his son say that the patient has surprised them and all others about him by not only surviving last night, but by being sufficiently strong to permit the operation of tapping, which relieved the heart and lungs from effusion.

Mr. Lincoln requests public expression of his own and Mrs. Lincoln's appreciation of the many cablegrams of sympathy caused by the erroneous rumor of the death of their son, which they have received.

Russia Says Turkey Must Settle.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—It is positively stated that Russia has notified the Sultan of Turkey that the indemnity for the war of 1877-1878, fixed by the treaty of Berlin, must be paid, and the question is what new excuse can the Sultan find for its non-payment. Russia is bitterly in earnest and Turkey must find the money—in English markets undoubtedly—for which consideration England must be allowed still greater privileges in Egypt, all remonstrances of France to such concessions notwithstanding.

Dominion Duties to be Increased.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 28.—It is learned in reliable quarters that there is to be a complete revision of the customs tariff. Probably one of the most important changes affecting the United States will be an increase of from 50 to 75 cents a barrel on wheat flour and the removal of duty on Indian corn, imported into Canada from the United States. The people of the maritime Provinces, who purchase the greater part of the flour they consume from the United States, have protested against an increase in the duty.

Mary Anderson and Her Lover.

MENTONE, Feb. 28.—Mary Anderson has not yet recovered her strength. She is now living an idyllic life, walking daily with young Navarro and rarely using a carriage. The lovers lavish on each other the usual attentions at meals, at the seaside, in the public rooms of the hotel—in fact, everywhere, and are themselves the subjects of universal comment.

The Behring Sea Question.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—In the House of Commons last night Sir James Ferguson, Under Foreign Secretary, denied that the Behring Sea question had been settled. The negotiations to that end, he said, were still proceeding.

Mr. Biggar's Will.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The will of the late Joseph Gillis Biggar bequeaths to Archbishop Walsh, of Dublin; the sum of £2,000, and gives sums ranging from £500 to £1,000 to various charities in different parts of Ireland.

An Old Canal Man Dead.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 28.—William R. Brewster, who for more than 50 years has been connected with the canal office here, is dead. He was prominent in politics until within recent years. There was no man in the State better known among the boating fraternity. Mr. Brewster jumped or fell into the canal two weeks ago, and the cold thus contracted led to the illness which resulted in his death.

Ask for Changes in the McKinley Bill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Chamber of Commerce adopted a memorial to Congress asking for certain modifications of the pending McKinley Customs Administration bill, especially so as to retain the right of importers to have issues of fact tried by jury.

Foul Play Suspected.

WEST MILFORD, N. J., Feb. 28.—Wm. Morse, aged 22, was found by the roadside near the hotel of Horace Mabee at Echo Lake with a bullet in his head and a pistol by his side. He died at the home of his father. Foul play is suspected.

A Massachusetts Burglar Captured.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Patrick Hanley, one of the four burglars who escaped from the House of Correction at Salem, Mass., on April 14, 1889, was arrested in this city. He will be surrendered to the Salem officers.

MONEY BEHIND SLAVIN.

His Friends Offer to Back Him for a Fight With Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A dispatch from Melbourne, Australia, says that two prominent gentlemen of that city will back Frank P. Slavin against John L. Sullivan for £1,000 to £2,000, the Police Gazette championship belt and the championship of the world, and if the American champion will agree to meet Slavin in Australia, the Melbourne Athletic Club will add a purse of £1,000 to have the management of the affair, Sullivan to be allowed £100 for expenses, and the Sportsman, Melbourne, to be final stake holder.

Should the American champion refuse to meet Slavin, the same terms are offered to Jake Kilrain, Peter Jackson or any man in the world. Slavin has agreed to the terms.

CINCINNATI HAS A FLOOD.

The Streets Along the Water Front Submerged and the Property Damaged.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 28.—Most of the basements on Water, Front and Second streets are flooded, and the sidewalks are most entirely covered with wares that have heretofore been stored in the cellars.

More than a thousand merchants are moving. In the bottoms all cellars are flooded as far as Pearl street. Tobacco merchants have lost heavily.

The streets of Maysville, Ripley and Catlettsburg are full of water. At the latter place scores of merchants have been compelled to move.

The Mill Creek bottoms are filling up rapidly, and the water is only ten feet from the level of Eighth street and the railroad tracks.

In Covington the overflow has made impassable the board walk leading to Lewisburg. At the foot of Riddle street, Front street, east of the suspension bridge, is impassable, and the water is rapidly reaching the danger point at Walsh's distillery.

A portion of Hemingray's old glassworks is surrounded. At Ripley the river is rising two inches per hour, and the bottom lands are under water. Many families have been compelled to leave their homes. There is much distress and privation among the poorer classes.

At Huntington, W. Va., the river is rising three inches an hour.

At Maysville, Ky., the lowlands are flooded and the water is rising two inches an hour.

A River Out of Its Banks.

MASSILLON, O., Feb. 28.—The Tuscarawas river is out of its banks. The northern part of the city is innundated, a number of streets being impassable. More than fifty residences are surrounded. The water is almost to the high-water mark of 1884 and the damage to property will be great.

Floods in the Hudson.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 28.—The river at this city is about 9½ feet above low water mark, the water having risen about 3 feet last night. The wharves in this city and West Troy in many places are submerged.

THE ENTERPRISE ARRIVES.

Minister Pendleton's Body On Deck and Reports of Trouble Denied.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The United States steamer Enterprise has arrived from a cruise in European waters extending over two years and a half. Her ensign hoisted only half way to the peak showed that she was a bearer of mourning. On the poop deck, covered with the national ensign and guarded by a sentry, lay the mortal remains of ex-United States Senator George H. Pendleton, ex-Minister of the United States to Germany, who died in Brussels, Nov. 24, 1889.

At various times during the voyage as many as 14 men had been placed under irons at one time for infractions of rules, but there was never the least indication of a mutiny. Many had broken the rules purposely in order to enjoy a season of leisure in irons.

It is probable that the Enterprise will go out of commission during the next week. The friends and relatives of Minister Pendleton have been telegraphed for and will arrive within the next few days to take charge of the body.

Patti Sick at Denver.

DENVER, Col. 28.—The members of the Abbey Grand Opera Company are in bad shape, owing to the privations they underwent when blocked in a snowbank fifteen hours. Madame Patti is suffering from a severe cold, and is unable to leave her private car. The physicians were hopeful of the diva's recovery by to-morrow, when she is billed at the matinee. The weather here is very cold, and a storm is threatened.

An Oil Flow Follows a Land Slide.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Feb. 28.—A land slide occurred last night on the farm of Anthony Toothman, about a mile from this city. This morning a stream of oil was found pouring out of the rock where the slide had taken place. There is considerable excitement over the unusual occurrence here, and Toothman's farm has increased in value to a fabulous sum in the last few hours.

Arguing for Leconey's Life.

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 28.—Ex-Judge Pancoast made a strong argument in defense of Leconey, on trial for murdering his niece. An emphatic protest was made by Prosecutor Jenkins when Judge Pancoast, as he said, misstated testimony. The prisoner looks on the verge of breaking down under the nervous strain.

Clairvoyant Algerton Arrested.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—Reuben G. Mason, better known as Dr. Frank Algerton, was arrested here. Algerton, who is a clairvoyant, is alleged to have obtained some $2,000 in money and $3,000 in notes from Amariah Mayo, a wealthy resident of Springfield, Mass., by means which are not definitely given out by the police.

Lockout of Freestone Cutters.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—The freestone contractors have resolved, it is stated, to lock out their freestone cutters in all parts of New England to-morrow, if they do not agree to certain propositions which are to be submitted in all yards.

The Lincoln Bank Resumes Business.

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 28.—The Lincoln National Bank has opened its doors for business, the stockholders having made good the loss occasioned by the defalcation of Cashier Bard.

ROW AT RUTGERS.

The Students Lock Up a Professor, Set Off Firecrackers and Serenade the Faculty.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 28.—The students of Rutgers College had another lively time last night. Professor Merriman took the members of the junior class to the observatory to make observations. His lecture on astronomy was, however, interrupted by the students, who began playing pranks, which compelled him to send them to their rooms. When they left the observatory the students locked Professor Merriman in the building. Then they went downstairs, had "fun" with the janitor and burned his handcart.

Next they serenaded several of the professors with fife and drum. Giant fire-crackers were exploded about the premises, and they ended the night's racket with a supper. The faculty have been endeavoring to discover the ringleaders, and it is thought that if their efforts prove successful some one will be suspended or dismissed from the institution.

The student named Wells who was suspended for taking part in the clapper racket some weeks ago has been allowed to return to his class.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

The Sunset Election Law Debated by the Assembly.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 28.—Before adjourning for the week Mr. Voorhees' motion that the order referring the Sunset Election, Personal Registration and Non-Partisan Election Reward bills to the Judiciary Committee be rescinded, created quite a debate. A vote was taken and the motion was lost—16 to 25, the Republicans voting in the affirmative and the Democrats in the negative.

The bills passed were: Murphy's Fire Escape bill; manner of collecting taxes in villages; relative to paving of side and cross walks; township of Clinton to accept certain streets; establishment of a State meteorological college; supplement to act concerning idiots and lunatics; protecting innocent parties accused of selling impure food or drugs; limiting time for taking writs of error to six months; pension for Mrs. Louisa R. Faller, of Elizabeth, whose stepson was killed at Sea Girt Encampment by premature explosion of gun.

Sixty tradesmen of Elizabeth, N. J., are said to have signed an agreement to open their stores on Sunday in defiance of the mayor's order.

Mr. L. Eaton, the stamped envelope agent at Hartford, Conn., has been removed and Bernard F. Blakeseel, of Connecticut, has been appointed in his place.

The Rev. Alexander Van Wart, the only surviving son of Isaac Van Wart, one of the captors of Major Andre, is dead at Pleasantville, Westchester county, N. Y.

The New York city jury in the Maltby S. Lane will case reported that they could not agree and were discharged. They stood 8 to 4 in favor of the contesting children.

Ex-Gov. James E. English, who was stricken with pneumonia Wednesday at New Haven, Conn., is in a critical condition. He is 78 years of age, and it is feared that he cannot recover.

Advices received at Washington from New Foundland state that the Legislature of that Province will not consent to a renewal of the modus vivendi regarding the issuing of licenses to American fishing vessels on account of the bitter experiences the Province has had in enforcing the bait act of the colony.

Police on Guard at Punxsutawney.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Feb. 28.—The strike situation here has assumed an ugly phase. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Coal Company has been steadily filling the places of the old men until there are now 700 men at work guarded by a force of about 200 police, and the new men stay within the lines all the time for fear of violence from the 1,000 men who are out. It will be necessary for the company to keep these guards as long as the old miners remain in this vicinity, for if a crowd of "blacklegs" should come in contact with the strikers there will be serious trouble.

Tired of the Erie Canal.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Assemblyman Peck will try to-day to bring up his resolution turning the Erie Canal into the hands of the National Government. Mr. Peck says that the Western states receive as much benefit from the canals as the State of New York, and it is nothing more than justice that the National Government should take it in charge.

Bank Wrecker Pell Locked Up.
